

Guided Rocket Delivers Mail

Jacksonville, Fla., June 8 (P)—The Navy today made the first successful delivery of U.S. mail by a guided missile. The missile was fired from a submarine at sea to the Navy's auxiliary air station at Mayport, Fla., at the mouth of the St. John's River near Jacksonville.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced the successful delivery of a half-hourly conference, an hour and a half after a Navy Regulus I was brought in to Mayport.

The distance traveled by the missile was not disclosed. The Navy would say only that the 8-foot missile was fired from international waters off the coast—meaning more than three miles out.

200 Fly to West Germany U.S. Moves A-Bombers From Bases in France

Paris, June 8 (P)—About 200 fighter-bombers may be removed from their bases in France to West Germany, informed sources at Gen. Lauris Norstad's Supreme Allied Headquarters in Europe said today.

These planes have atomic missions which they cannot perform effectively because France so far has not come to an agreement with the United States on stockpiling nuclear bombs on French soil.

A Defense Department spokesman in Washington yesterday denied that a decision had been made to withdraw the fighter-bombers from bases in Washington. A French newspaper had said such a decision was made.

Norstad's SHAPE headquarters here refused to comment on the report that a decision already had been made to shift the nine American squadrons involved. But it said measures to make the planes effective were being considered. A statement said:

"Agreements have not been reached with the government of France governing all aspects of the operation and training of NATO aircraft based on French territory. Pending the completion of such comprehensive arrangements, consideration is of course being given to measures which will insure the effectiveness of Allied air units

Taxpayers Also Help Munitions Lobby Linked To Defense Costs Boost

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, June 8 (P)—Heads of two potent House committees share President Eisenhower's concern about what has been called the munitions lobby, but they doubt that a congressional probe would solve anything.

They agreed today lobbying activities have had the result of forcing defense costs higher, but they pretty well agreed also that the average citizen himself unwittingly is a strong force behind the drives.

These views came from Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) of the Senate Preparedness Committee and Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) of a House Armed Services Investigating subcommittee.

But they and other Congress members who were interviewed had differing ideas on what constitutes a munitions lobby. If any. The composite is a nebulous and far-reaching thing.

There of course are sales representatives trying to peddle their firms' products to the government and, to do that, seeking congressional appropriations to provide the money. Some push newly developed planes, or missiles, or guns as the best, and most necessary weapons of defense.

Hebert referred to advertising as one of the stronger ways the lobby works. He and Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) criticized some firms' hiring of high-ranking military officers as they retire. Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) referred to executives from business and industry who hold temporary but important posts in the Pentagon.

But Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), Senate majority leader and head of a Senate Preparedness Investigating subcommittee, discounted the idea of a munitions lobby as such.

"I don't know any who deserve that label," Johnson said. "They have not tried to lobby me." He saw no need for an investigation, and was joined in that view by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), a former secretary of the Air Force and a sharp critic of Eisenhower administration defense policies.

'Deadliest Spy' Soon to Leave British Prison

London, June 8 (P)—In just a few more weeks the gates of prison will probably swing open for the man they call the deadliest spy in history. Klaus Fuchs will walk out to freedom after serving nine years for betraying western atomic secrets to Soviet Russia—secrets that probably enabled the Russians to produce an atomic bomb five years sooner than they could have otherwise.

Home Secretary Richard A. Butler probably will tell the House of Commons this week what happens next to the 47-year-old German-born scientist.

As a double model convict, Fuchs is believed to have earned the maximum remission of one third of the 14-year sentence passed on him at London's Old Bailey in March, 1950.

This would make him due for release early next month. He could be deported. Although Fuchs acquired British citizenship in 1942, he lost it after being sentenced.

But demands have been raised in press and parliament that Fuchs should be prevented from going to live in the Communist East for fear that he may pass over more secrets or use his scientific skill and learning to the Reds' advantage.

For seven years Fuchs worked with British nuclear scientists. Part of the time he was on the British team that worked with American nuclear scientists during World War II. He had access to top-secret nuclear centers in Britain and the United States.

Car Insurance Rates Cut for Safe Drivers

Hartford, June 8 (P)—The Travelers Insurance Company's experimenter with lower rates on automobile insurance for safe drivers was to begin today in Nebraska.

The company announced May 22 that it wanted to inaugurate such a system in Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, and Michigan, and was submitting details to insurance commissioners in those states.

Nebraska is the first to approve. If the plan is successful, the company plans to use it elsewhere. Travelers is one of the biggest firms in the automobile insurance business.

Under the plan, details of which were made public yesterday when Nebraska's acceptance was announced, drivers who have had no accidents or moving vehicle violations during the past five years will get a 30 per cent discount from the standard rate.

Those who can attest to having had a clean record for three years will get a 20 per cent discount. But those who frequently violate traffic laws or have accidents will pay more, the company said.

A driver who has had only one accident or moving traffic violation during the past three years will pay the standard rate that he pays now. Those with two such counts against them, though, will pay 25 per cent more than the standard rate, and those with three counts against their record will pay 30 per cent more.

Rather than refuse to insure such drivers, a spokesman said, Travelers prefers to seek the rate-setting field. Travelers was a member of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, an agency that sets rates for more than 200 companies.

When it chose to try the experiment in the Midwestern states, Travelers withdrew from this organization.

Nikita May Delay Tour Reds Seen Pushing To Summit Accord

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Geneva, June 8 (P)—The Big Four conference went into its fifth week today amid signs that Russia would press the western powers for quick agreement on a summit conference.

Foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France met with Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko at his headquarters here in late afternoon after holding a strategy session among themselves.

They were reported gloomy about prospects for a Berlin agreement after a weekend declaration by Soviet Premier Khrushchev that he would not accept any arrangement which would "perpetuate the occupation regime in West Berlin."

Trapped in Car By Safety Belt, Boy, 18, Killed

Thompson, June 8 (P)—A sports car careened wildly out of control here early today bringing death to 18-year-old Thomas Rothwell Jr., 180 Bolles St., Putnam.

State Police said a safety belt proved a "trap" for the boy. Injured and taken to Day Kimball Hospital at nearby Putnam was Paul A. Porter Jr., 18, of 19 Providence St., Thompson. A hospital spokesman said Porter had internal injuries.

State Police said the car started to make a right turn on Route 193 shortly after 12:30 a.m. and skidded off the road. It struck two huge boulders and then flew through the air, dipping off a public utility pole with its underside.

The car landed upside down on the highway with young Rothwell trapped inside by his safety belt. Porter, who did not wear a safety belt, was tossed from the car as it whirled through the air.

Asks Raise In National Debt Limit

Washington, June 8 (P)—President Eisenhower asked permission today to pay higher interest on savings bonds and other long-term government obligations and to borrow more money than present law allows.

Eisenhower said the Treasury plan, if Congress permits it, to raise the rate on savings bonds from 3 1/2 per cent to 3 3/4 per cent.

Wiping out of the limit on Treasury bonds which run five years or more to maturity, he said, would give greater flexibility to federal financing. The present limit is 4 1/2 per cent. There is no ceiling on bonds of less than 8-years maturity.

At the same time, Eisenhower proposed that Congress hike the permanent national debt ceiling from the current $283 billion to $288 billion and boost the temporary limit from $288 billion to $295 billion.

In a special message to Congress, the President said these steps are necessary for successful management of the public debt, now at a record $286 billion.

The immediate reaction to Eisenhower's proposals on Capitol Hill was mixed.

Rep. Clarence E. Kilburn of New York, ranking Republican on the House Banking Committee, said Eisenhower was right, because "if we're going to get the money we need we've got to raise interest rates."

"When this Congress shows evidence of trying to keep a sound dollar by cutting spending programs, you'll find confidence in government bonds coming back and interest rates coming down," Kilburn added.

Rep. Wright Patman (D-Tex.), an influential monetary spokesman for House Democrats and vice chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, said there is no excuse for higher interest rates except to give the bankers and big-money lenders a larger share of the national income.

While driving home from a concert recently, a friend of mine suggested that the orchestra might have played better had they no conductor at all.

All of which reminded me of what the man who was the stick is really doing up there.

Back in the old days, and I mean really long ago, the conductor served merely as a time-keeper, a kind of human stop watch or metronome. As music became more involved it was found that if the conductor could give a cue or two, in addition to his conventional beat, things would go better. Later it became apparent that if the conductor could also excite the players in some passages and quiet them in others, all would be better still. And so it went on and on until today the conductor has become the brain, the conscience of the orchestra.

To those who think the orchestra could play as well without a conductor, let them recall the action of a ship without its captain, a country without its leader, a team without its coach, or an automobile which, when the road is smooth and straight, will

'Deadliest Spy' Soon to Leave British Prison

American and British scientists generally agree that the knowledge acquired during the time of the spy probably be of little use to the Russians after all these years.

But fears have been expressed that his brilliant brain could be put to service in Communist laboratories. It has also been argued that Fuchs' presence behind the Iron Curtain could prove a powerful propaganda filip for the Soviet bloc.

Reports appearing out of Washington in northern England ago Fuchs has expressed a desire to go and live in East Germany with his 15-year-old father, Prof. Paul Fuchs of Leipzig University.

If he really wants to go there is some doubt that British authorities could prevent him.

Other reports, however, say Fuchs has now shed his Communist convictions and wants to return to his native Britain. But it is certain the British would never allow him to return to his native land.

In Leipzig, Prof. Fuchs devoted his life to the study of atomic energy and it is possible he would revert to his original un-biased state.

Taxpayers Also Help Munitions Lobby Linked To Defense Costs Boost

The men formally registered with Congress as lobbyists aren't always the really effective ones.

"The cleverest lobby is the social lobby," Cannon said. "The fellows who do the job operate out of the cocktail bars, the golf clubs and the social gatherings."

"It is a wide network and it is very secret," Cannon commented referring to the unregistered lobbyists.

"The best remedy," Cannon said, "lies with the voters. They must send representatives here who will stand up against pressure. We would like to spend the money we do if it were not for the lobbyists and the munitions makers. They thrive on wars and the threat of wars. If we do not stop them, they will go on."

"Unwittingly," Herbst said, "the voters are helping the big lobby groups. They read newspaper advertisements of how good this or that missile or weapon is, they see television programs and they are convinced by the product of one company or another. They are in the middle, listening to the pitch and then they write letters to their Congressmen, who in turn listen to the voters."

"The voters set in good faith after all it's their money that's being spent—and the Congressmen act in good faith," Herbst added. "But too often it's high-pressure salesmanship and baby-industryism that's the whole thing in motion."

Orioles Climb to Second in Standings Wilhelm Assured of All-Star Berth

New York, June 8 (AP)—The Orioles climbed to second place in the American League today. Hoyt Wilhelm will be the starting pitcher for the American League in the All-Star game at Pittsburgh, July 7. Old Case has any other ideas, he had better forget them. Wilhelm has every body on his side, except the poor catcher who will have to dive for those daring knucklers.

Just to be on the safe side, the players and managers had better vote Gus Triandis to the team as the first string catcher. He lets one get away now and then but as he says himself, "I can take it if Wilhelm can."

ORIOLES 3, A'S 0—Wilhelm and Triandis teamed up on Kansas City Sunday to batter Baltimore in second place. The surprising Orioles are only one game behind the league-leading Chicago White Sox.

While Hoyt's knuckler was fluttering past the A's for a 3.0 seventh hit about, Triandis' 13th home run was a sure thing.

Batting—Bill Brown, Braves—Collected four hits, in 8.5 victory over Dodgers, including two singles in eighth-inning rally in seventh inning.

Fielding—Hoyt Wilhelm, Orioles—Was his sixth straight without loss with seven-hit shutout over Kansas City 3-0, dropping his career run average to 0.99.

run with Al Pizarro on base providing the insurance. Wilhelm's error run averages figured all the way down to thirds of an inning. The surprising Orioles are only one game behind the league-leading Chicago White Sox.

WHITE SOX 3, RED SOX 4—Chicago's lead was shaved while the Sox were starting 0-999. Every move and then somebody gets as far as third base against the man who was let out by the New York (now San Francisco) Giants, Lou Cardinals and Cleveland Indians.

Getting back to Wilhelm, the former Giant relief man certainly is the talk of the year. It was his third shutout and his fifth straight complete game. The easy-going gent from North Carolina has struck eight of 10 starts. Nobody had scored more than four runs in any game against the 35-year-old triangler.

He scored more than four runs in any game against the 35-year-old triangler.

INDIANS 3, YANKEES 5—The largest crowd of the season, 39,823, gathered at Cleveland where the Indians divided a pair with the New York Yankees. Herb Score beat Don Larsen in the first game.

through Friend gave up only four hits in eight innings and struck out 10 Cubs.

GIANTS 5, REDS 3—San Francisco whipped Cincinnati 5-3 behind Jack Sanford, the first game, only to slip back in the race by losing the second 7-1 to Orlando Peña's four-hitter.

PHILS 11-4, CARDS 9-2—There was a wild Sunday in St. Louis with the Cardinals leading the Phillies 11-4 in the eighth inning of a 4-2 first game victory over Pittsburgh. It was Henry again in the second game when Singleton walked two men in the eighth inning. The southpaw retired Bill Vernon on a fly ball and Elton marched in to mop up the rest of the way to complete a 1-0 three-hit shutout.

BRAYVES 8, DODGERS 5—Milwaukee's Braves snugged 5-1 of their slump, scoring eight runs in the seventh inning to rout their most persistent competitor, Detroit.

Ted Has No Idea of Quitting Williams Confident He'll Shake Slump

Chicago, June 8 (AP)—Ted Williams, Boston's splendid splinter, isn't hitting his weight, but bury those rumors that he might quit baseball before the season is over.

Williams, who never has had a slump longer than a few days, said today he has no intention of quitting baseball. "I'm not going to quit," he said. "I'm going to keep hitting until I can't hit any more."

Williams, who has hit .344 in his career, said today he has no intention of quitting baseball. "I'm not going to quit," he said. "I'm going to keep hitting until I can't hit any more."

U.S. Court Supports U.S. Refusal of Passport For Red China Trips

The U.S. Court of Appeals today upheld the right of the State Department to deny passports to Americans to travel to Red China and other areas it regards as potential trouble spots.

The ruling was handed down in the case of newsmen William Worley Jr., who was refused a passport to travel to Red China and other areas it regards as potential trouble spots.

Worley visited Red China in 1956 and Hungary in 1957, and was denied renewal of his passport when he refused to agree to abide by restrictions against traveling to those countries again.

He brought suit for the passport. The case was argued before Chief Judge E. Barrett Fitzgerald and Judge William J. Maguire, with a foreign government attorney in support of the State Department's position.

The court's decision was a 2-1 ruling. Chief Judge Fitzgerald dissented, saying that the State Department's policy was an unconstitutional restriction on the right of free travel.

Paris A-Stocks Ban Held Blow to NATO

London, June 9 (AP)—France was highly critical of the Paris A-Stocks ban, which was held a blow to NATO.

The ban on atomic stocks in France was seen as a setback for NATO, which had been working to establish a common defense policy.

France's move was criticized by NATO members, who argued that it would undermine the alliance's goal of collective security.

The ban was seen as a sign of France's growing independence from NATO, particularly in the area of nuclear weapons.

Pilot Rescued From Raft Off Montauk Point

Westhampton Beach, N. Y., June 9 (AP)—A pilot who parachuted from his crippled jet fighter over the Atlantic last night was found floating on a life raft today, apparently uninjured.

The pilot was identified as Lt. Edward E. Parsons Jr., 25 of Payneville, attached to a fighter-escort squadron stationed at Suffolk County AFB here.

He was rescued from the raft by a Coast Guard helicopter shortly before 8 a.m., base authorities reported.

Parsons had bailed out of his plane 300 feet over the Atlantic coast about seven hours earlier.

Parsons, helicopter and Coast Guard vessels took part in the search. The life raft was spotted because the pilot had let out his smoke signal.

Union Ends Walkout at Rubber Co.

Canton, Ohio, June 9 (AP)—The United Rubber Workers and the B. F. Goodrich Co. today reached agreement to end a 64-day-old strike of 14,000 Goodrich workers in eight cities.

The agreement, subject to ratification by local unions, followed an all-night negotiating session here.

In Akron the union said the Goodrich workers will begin returning to their jobs immediately, but that they will not accept ratification until at least a week.

West Fears Colapse of Parley at Geneva

Geneva, June 9 (AP)—Soviet Russia and the western powers failed again today to make any progress toward an accord on Berlin. An American spokesman said "it is anyone's guess how much longer" the 4-power conference will continue.

The western foreign ministers were reported deeply concerned that the conference, now in its fifth week, may collapse in full without an agreement either on Berlin or a summit meeting.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville in particular feared a breakdown.
