Ingy Drops Champion Seven Times Mystery Right, Atomic Weapon

New York, July 27 (AP)—Ingemar Johansson's mystery right hand turned out to be an atomic weapon... an explosive force that propelled him to the world's heavyweight championship.

It was a right hand bomb that burst against the jaw of the 5-11 American smasher after the third round had started and the power-packed right smashed Patterson's face like a sledge hammer.

In the past several weeks, both Manchester parties had disappointing turnouts at outings that had been well-publicized.

Don't U Turn There has been an increasingly number of drivers violating the No U-Turn on Main St. recently. And not all of them are strangers to town unfamiliar with our driving rules. We saw three violations within 10 minutes recently while strolling up the street. Our patience gave out after the third violation and we pointed to the sign as we passed one car that had just pulled into a stall after swinging across the street. The driver scowled and said, "I forgot."

Now, parking spaces aren't at such a premium in the main business district that motorists have to violate the law in order to beat another driver into a stall. Pity the poor driver who is going north on Main St., sees a parking spot and slows down to pull into it. Suddenly a car darts in front of him while making a sweeping swing from the southbound lane and sneaks into that empty stall. Not very courteous? Down right violations!

It would be wise for motorists to put more thinking into their driving. The next violator answering in court the charge of making a U-Turn in a No-U-Turn zone could be you.

You'd be surprised how many policemen heard Read Along.

$298,662 and No Dimes General Manager Richard Martin and the Board of Directors have been alerted to an impending emergency appropriation for the Manchester Fire Department. The appropriation will cover the cost of expenses incurred at a fire Monday at 527 E. Middle Tpke. A roof on a 2-family house caught fire when sparks from the chimney landed on the combustible shingles. Three trucks answered two separate alarms for the fire, and firemen extinguished the blaze within minutes of their arrival.

Officials of the fire department began gathering information for their records. "Who put in the alarm?" asked Assistant Chief Fredrick Straughan. The word was passed into the crowd surrounding the firemen. In a minute, Steve Shurkus, about 13, of 26 Jensen St., made his way to Straughan.

"I put in the alarm. I was the one who telephoned. Do I get my dime back?" he asked. Straughan reached into his pocket without hesitation and brought out a dime.

"Here. The Fire Department has no money to cover phone calls in its $298,662 budget for 1959-60."

Fire Mr. Dad, Sir Once a Navy man, always a Navy man. The other day the matches ran low in the newsroom. Reporters and editors began snatching the county editor, spotted a good supply of matches in the possession of the pipe-smoking business reporter.

"You got a match?" asked the county editor. "You'll have to requisition it through proper channels," replied the business reporter. So the county editor, an ex deck swabber, applied himself to his typewriter and wrote a Navy-type requisition. The business reporter, also an ex deck swabber, handed over a match.

When the county editor had used same, he again applied himself to his typewriter. This time he wrote a requisition for a replacement of a worn out match, claiming it to be defective. The business reporter, who besides having once swabbed decks had also run a supply store, sneered at the requisition, saying it was undated, unsigned, undated, and a few other uns. The county editor then turned to his typewriter (it was still at least two hours from deadline) and turned out this polished piece: Commander-in-Chief County Sector U.S. Navy

Made by Drop Dead Three youngsters in Coventry staged and presented an original 1-act play with the thrilling title, "Foul Play in the Enchanted Forest," which had to do with dragons and knights and what-all. The play, short, but unique, somehow didn't compare with the "commercial" put on between acts.

The stars of the play also starred in the "commercial." It went something like this: "Do you get that rundown feeling when you cross a street in front of a car? If you do, get Lost. Lost is the cereal that doesn't snap, crackle or pop. It just lies there in the bowl looking at you and sopping up milk. So if you're feeling run down, ask your mother to get Lost." Madison Avenue reaches the country.

Robins, Sing 4-D The trend in education is toward homogeneous grouping in the classroom. Educators feel a child has a greater sense of accomplishment if he does well among his peers, in contrast to the brilliant child who easily exceeds the work of all the other children, or the slow child who never comes up to the level of the quick ones.

Having agreed that homogeneous grouping pays off, the educators have had some difficulty in deciding what shall be the basis of the grouping. What about the child who excels in English, but does poor work in math? What about the child who can do beautiful work in math and English, but doesn't know how to tie his shoes? What about the child who does moderately good class work but prefers to play with much younger children because he can't throw a ball or run so well as his contemporaries?

The principal of one elementary school was working on the problem one hot evening. He had mapped out most of the upper classes, but had a difficult time with the first grade, because there was so little evidence to base any grouping on. After a long evening of shuffling cards around, he came up with two more or less homogeneously grouped first grades.

"Weehauken!" he exclaimed, showing back the table. "Happy to be finished with the job, he raced for the shower, pulling his shirt off.

"You know what, honey?" he called to his wife. "Next year we're going to arrange them by shoe sizes."

Razz Berries The Manchester motorist noticed the fruit and vegetable stand as he drove along a Bolton road. At the extreme end of the stand was a sign reading "Berries!" In the middle of the stand was a second sign. It read "Berries" and there was another arrow. Then he saw the third sign at the very end of the building. It read, "No Berries."

"Kinda builds you up and then lets you down with a thud," he remarked to his wife as he drove away berryless. A Non.

Miss Ladabouche Wins Art Award The De Wolf Art Guild held a potluck luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Douglas Roberts in Vernon. In spite of the inclement weather, 18 members were present.

The boys were decorated with bows of pink roses grown and arranged by Mrs. Roberts. After the luncheon Mrs. Elmer Rice, president of the Guild, conducted the annual meeting at which time she announced that the Guild was giving an award in art for $150 to Miss Barbara Ladabouche, 865 E. Middle Tpke., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ladabouche. Barbara is a graduate of the Class of 1959 of Manchester High School. She will enter the Hartford Art School in the fall.

Mrs. Jay Rand, nominating chairman, presented the following slate of officers for a term of two years: Mrs. Edward Gimalonski, second vice president; Mrs. Walter Satch, recording secretary; Mrs. Bernard Schubert, assistant treasurer.

A meeting will be held for the board members and committee chairmen at the home of Mrs. William Griswold, program chairman, on July 8, 11 a.m. to make further plans for the programs for the coming year.

100 Still Facing Tax Lien Threat Collector of Revenue Paul Cervini said today about 100 real estate tax bills are still due on the 1957 grand list.

Cervini warned that if the payments are not in his office by 5 p.m. Tuesday, the property of the 100 taxpayers will be listed as required by State law. He warned also that the payments must actually be in his office at that time, and not in the mails.

About 120 notices warning of the liens went out last June 15. The taxes involved are those due last July 1. Cervini also repeated his request that taxpayers send back their bills when they make payments by mail. Mailing the bills facilitates the work of his office and makes it easier to avoid errors.

"Dog Days" Sales Set by Chamber A "Dog Days" sales promotion will be held by the retail member stores of the Chamber of Commerce July 30, 31 and Aug 1.

The sale is scheduled to coincide with the Pratt and Whitney vacation schedule of the first two weeks in August and will allow the merchants to have a July clearance at the same time giving them an opportunity to introduce their fall lines, the chamber said.

As part of the observance of "Dog Days," a helicopter will drop leaflets and 250 certificates worth $1 each on the town July 27 or 28 between 5:30 and 6 p.m.

A telephone quiz with cash prizes will be conducted by radio station WINF to publicize the sales promotion.

The Donna Reed Show:

A Winding Road to Success

By J. E. REYNOLDS
Last fall, when pretty Donna Reed took the plunge into television, her competition included Milton Berle.
Friends warned her, "Uncle Miltie will slay you in the ratings." So now Berle has vacated his Wednesday night spot, and Donna's simple family series rolls along, getting more popular every week, according to the poll-takers.
"We knew" it would take a while to build an audience," Donna explained recently. "We were like a new family on the block. We had to be known and accepted."
Donna's entry into television had been planned for quite a while. She and husband Tony Owen, who produces "The Donna Reed Show," had been eyeing TV properties for two years, but none had the right appeal.

"We were bombarded with ideas from every typewriter in Hollywood," she noted. "I could have played a lady race track tout. Someone suggested a show about an elevator operator in the Empire State Building with a new episode on every floor. There was even one about a lady bullfighter."
The basic idea for the show finally arose one day when a Screen Gems executive was visiting Owen in his office. On Owen's desk was a picture of Donna with their children. Looking at the photo, the man from Screen Gems said, "Why doesn't Donna just play herself?"
Carl Betz was cast as her TV husband, a pediatrician, and the juvenile roles were handed to Paul Petersen (a gifted youngster who had scored in the Cary Grant-Sophia Loren movie, "Houseboat," and Shelley Fabares (an ex-Mouseketeer and the niece of Nanette Fabray).

So, by a fortunate coincidence, Donna escaped roles akin to race track touts and bullfighters and was appropriately cast as the charming doctor's wife she portrays in "The Donna Reed Show," (Wednesdays, 9:00 p.m.; ABC-TV.)
Life of a Doctor's Wife
Since she acquired the role, Donna has done some thorough research on the experience of being the wife of a physician. She discovered that "Being a mother and married to a doctor has more complications than a case of mumps. Doctors' wives live in a complete world of their own. They must have great tolerance and be expected to do the unexpected as an everyday norm."
"A doctor can't close the door the moment he leaves his office. He's actually on call 24 hours—at least mentally. And this makes it really tough on the little woman, who likes a little attention herself once in a while."

As it turned out, the role of doctor's wife was a perfect choice for Donna—her obvious understanding of the role has made it easy for her to project the tolerance, sympathy and humor needed for the part.

Recalling the first episode, and the hopes and plans accompanying it when the show premiered last fall, Donna said, "We went on the air in September—and nothing really happened. People seemed to like the show, but the ratings indicated there weren't enough of them."
Donna and Tony were a little discouraged after the show's first weeks, a situation that wasn't helped when Donna was bitten by a flu bug. But the ratings started climbing, the reviews got better, and the sponsor confided to Donna that the slide-rule boys had figured out that the show couldn't help but be a hit.

Series Renewed
By spring, the series had been renewed for next season, when it will have an earlier and better time slot, and "The Donna Reed Show" had been selected as the year's outstanding program by the American Mothers Committee. And Donna, herself, was nominated for an "Emmy."

What looked like a short-lived flop had turned into a roaring success. Although Donna and Tony didn't go around saying "I told you so," they knew that their original estimate had been correct. A family show, trying for warmth and humor rather than sock laughs, had to have time to "catch on."
"Fortunately," said Donna, "we were blessed with a wonderfully understanding sponsor." And, fortunately, too, Donna's experiences as a film actress had helped her acquire a practical philosophy about careers in general which helped her to weather successfully the usual storms of a TV series' "first season."

Donna's advice:
1. Take your time. "Don't be in such a hurry that you find yourself unschooled and unprepared for opportunities when they finally come your way."
2. Investigate. "All that glitters is not success. Move cautiously, ask for experts opinions, give yourself a think-it-over time. A moment of thought today may save you years of rebuilding later."

3. Stick to your values, and your own judgments of right and wrong. Don't live by someone else's code, including this one, if you don't agree with it wholeheartedly.
When we spoke to Donna and Tony, they were about to go on vacation. It would be, they admitted, a far different holiday than the one they had last year just before the show started.
"Then, we were plagued by all sorts of worries and doubts," explained Donna. "I hate to fail at anything, and with the prospect of my first TV show coming up, I was a bundle of nerves."
Now, Donna will relax and bask in the warm sunshine. She knows that nothing succeeds like success.

Death Count 19 In Butane Fire

Meldrim, Ga., June 29 (AP)—An Associated Press check of all hospitals and funeral homes in the area today fixed at 17 the number of dead in the freak butane gas explosion on a freight train yesterday. An earlier report said 19 were dead.

Meldrim, Ga., June 29 (AP)—Rescue teams renewed dragging operations in the Ogeechee River today searching for more victims of a freak butane gas explosion that already apparently has claimed 19 lives. Many others were burned, at least 10 critically.

The blast occurred yesterday afternoon when two railroad tank cars spewed flaming gas on some 175 foot-seekers in a recreation area beneath a 30-foot trestle which the Seaboard Air Line train was crossing.

No one could say whether all bodies had been recovered, but Coroner Harold M. Smith said reports that dozens were unaccounted for were greatly overdrawn.

Smith said at the time he had accounted for 17 dead.

Since then two children died of burns in a Savannah hospital. They were listed as Wayne Smith, 3, and Terry Lane, 9. Their addresses were not known.

A complete casualty list was not available but 14 dead have

Ribicoff Says West Primary Up to Kennedy

Hartford, June 29 (AP)—Governor Ribicoff said today it would be "presumptuous" for him to tell U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy to stay out of a California Democratic primary.

The Connecticut Chief Executive returned to his desk this morning after a 10-day industry hunt for the cooking and heating fuel.

The railroad said the explosion of one butane tanker set off a second loaded with 10,000 gallons of the cooking and heating fuel. Two trainmen were injured in the blast and the pileup of freight cars near the end of the long train.

The blast turned the Ogeechee River bank into blackened ruins several hundred yards from the trestle. It caught some of the victims in the water, others on the bank. Children seized by the flames floundered in the river or ran screaming from the spot.

A second but lesser explosion occurred when rescuers reached the scene near the East Georgia town about 15 miles northwest of Savannah.

Most of the 124 cars in the Seaboard Air Line freight train had cleared the 30-foot high trestle before the crash at 4:30 p.m. (EDT). None fell in the water, but one butane gas tank on the bank and another on the trestle were burned through the night. Some of the box cars were teleported, and flat cars dangled from a 70-foot long trestle at the end of the 250-foot long span.

First reports said the journal on one of the cars apparently broke and tumbled several box cars and two butane gas tanks onto the river bank. Some observers thought the trestle gave way.

Sparks caused by the wreck may have ignited the gas, turning the

'Sheltered' Honeymoon

Miami, Fla., June 29 (AP)—A couple to wed Sunday will spend a "sheltered" honeymoon in an underground bomb shelter for the greater glory of Civil Defense and shelter-manufacturers.

Then they'll have a more orthodox wedding trip at the expense of bomb shelter manufacturers who induced them to spend their first two weeks together 10 feet below North Miami.

Kelley Geiger, 25, a University of Miami Russian major, and Nancy Bellmyre, 23, a dance band singer, plan to climb down through the hatch of the 6-by-14 foot steel and concrete shelter after their wedding and reception.

The comforts of home below will include beds, a variety of canned food, powdered milk, drink-flavoring tablets, checkers and cards.

Excise Tax Extension Awaits House Action

Bill Would Continue Hike for Korea War

Washington, June 29 (AP)—The House today passed the $3 million corporation-excise tax extension bill and sent it to the Senate for approval before the deadline at midnight Tuesday.

Washington, June 29 (AP)—Congress acts today on a compromise corporation-excise tax extension bill to avert a $3 billion drop in tax revenues for the next year.

The House acts first and the Senate must follow quickly if present tax rates are to be continued beyond tomorrow midnight.

It was the sixth time that Congress has been called on to continue increased tax rates voted initially in 1951 to finance the Korean fighting.

The bill extends for another year the Korean wartime 52 per cent income tax rate on corporation profits. It postpones a scheduled drop to 47 per cent.

It also continues for a year Korean excise, or sales, tax rates on automobiles, auto parts and accessories, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer.

The compromise of Senate-House differences the bill was not popular with Senators who voted last week to add other tax features. These were either killed out of the bill entirely or watered down to token size by a Senate-House conference committee.

Knocked out were Senate-passed provisions for repeal of the 4 per cent stock dividend credit allowed stockholders on dividend income over $50, and authority for payment of $142 million of additional welfare grants to the states.

Retained in sharply modified form were Senate provisions affecting the 10 per cent taxes on communications and passenger tickets.

But working against a deadline little more than 24 hours off, Congress had almost no time in which to haggle over revising the bill.

Failure to extend the rates would mean a tax loss to the government of an estimated $2,138,000,000 a year. Even the loss entailed by short delay could have serious effect on the administration's 1960 budget. The corporation tax rates could be made retroactive, but the excise taxes could not because they are imposed on purchases.

The compromise provides for repeal of the 10 per cent tax on local phone calls effective June 30, 1960, unless Congress later decides otherwise. The Senate voted outright repeal of the tax on all telephone, telegraph and cable messages, with a revenue loss of $735 million.

Cost of repealing the tax on local phone charges, if permitted to take effect next year, would be $430 million.

The bill also provides for reducing the tax on rail bus and airplane tickets from 10 per cent to 5 per cent, also not effective until June 30, 1960, and again provided Congress does not vote to postpone it further.

The Senate voted outright repeal of the passenger transportation tax. Cost of the contingent out aft. next year would be about $125 million as against $285 million for outright repeal of the tax. Because of the phony and transportation taxes are deferred until June 30, 1960, they will have no revenue effect on the administration's budget for the 1960 fiscal year starting on Wednesday.

The administration's new air defense proposals get an indirect

Congress Told Act Now, Avoid More Inflation

Washington, June 29 (AP)—A cabinet committee has reported to President Eisenhower that Congress must take three immediate steps to control inflation.

The committee, headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon and made up mostly of cabinet members, said in its first report that the country's economy is at a "critical juncture." Congress, it said, must take three minimum steps promptly:

1. "Make it clear that the federal government intends to use all appropriate means to protect the buying power of the dollar and recognize 'reasonable price stability' as an explicit goal of federal economic policy."
2. Balance the budget by refraining from going beyond the expenditures provided in the President's budget, both this year and in 1960 to come; and reduce the national debt.
3. Remove the interest ceiling on government bonds. Otherwise the Treasury will have to issue short term bonds "equivalent to money." There is very little difference between this and "just cranking up the printing press and rolling out greenbacks," the report said.

U.S. Court Voids Ban On 'Lady Chatterley'

Washington, June 29 (AP)—The Supreme Court today struck down the New York state movie censorship law as unconstitutional.

The ruling set aside a ban on the film "Lady Chatterley's Lover."

All nine Justices agreed in holding that the ban on "Lady Chatterley's Lover" was improper.

However, four Justices said the court moved too swiftly in striking down the New York law. They were Justices Harlan, Whitaker, Clark and Frankfurter.

Justice Stewart delivered the court's main opinion.

Speaking of the New York law, Stewart said:

"What New York has done is to prevent the exhibition of a motion picture because that picture advocates an idea—that adultery under certain circumstances may be proper behavior. Yet the First Amendment's basic guarantee is of freedom to advocate ideas. The state quite simply has thus struck at the very heart of constitutionally protected liberties."

The movie is based on a novel by D. H. Lawrence, first published in 1928. The story concerns the intimacies between a high-born Englishwoman and a caretaker on her husband's estate.

Documents Air Red-Nazi Pact To Split World

Washington, June 29 (AP)—During the Nazi-Soviet pact in the early days of World War II, Russia and Germany reached the stage of discussing how they would carve up a large part of the world.

In once-secret documents made public over the weekend by the State Department, Russia was pictured as interested in acquiring territory in Finland, Sweden, Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan and the Far East.

No definite agreement was reached between the two totalitarian countries in staking out territory, but each government was thoroughly understood the interests and the desires of the other," the papers say.

Even as these talks were going on in 1940, other reports said Adolf Hitler's staff was preparing plans to invade Russia. He did so in June 1941. Premier Joseph Stalin was said to be unwilling to go to war against Germany as long as Hitler's military might was unimpaired. The Nazi invasion forced Laurence A. Steinhardt, then U.S. ambassador to Moscow, advised President Franklin D. Roosevelt on Nov. 19, 1940, about negotiations in Berlin between the Germans and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. Steinhardt said he got the information from a highly reliable source who told Molotov told the Nazis "that the Soviet government understood that

Long Will Seek Divorce, Push Political Purge

Winnfield, La., June 29 (AP)—Gov. Earl Long, refreshed after a weekend at his beloved "peach farm," heads across state to Corning today to place himself under a team of psychiatrists.

Long is also extending his political purge, divorcing his wife, planning a special session of the legislature and starting his campaign for re-election.

"I'm going to get a divorce just as fast as I can," he said of the wife, who twice committed him to a psychiatric hospital. Mrs. Long has since left the state.

Long plans to remain at Covington until Friday night. Then he will go to Baton Rouge for the first time since his commitment to Southeast Louisiana State (Mental) Hospital at Mandeville on June 18.

The 63-year-old governor duplicated his plans yesterday in a 15-minute news conference on the back porch of the simple, frame farm house that his estranged wife, Blanche, calls "Earl's Shack."

The conference appeared to have been called by the governor, who must have seen the 12 to 15 newsmen gathered about 50 yards from his house. Police officers, who were allowed there except when they were talking to members of the governor's official party.

The governor, clad in pajamas and a bathrobe, did most of the talking. Only about two or three questions were asked before the governor's advisors and psychiatrist, Dr. Paul Priddy, of the conference had lasted long enough.

How to Beat the Heat

With the temperature near the 90-degree mark in Pittsburgh, little Raymond Wong decided the best way to cool off was to remove all his clothes and sit on the doorstep of his home. He obviously was pleased with the results. His sister, Cindy, was quite haughty and more modest. She didn't care for Raymond's idea. (AP Photofax.)

Eisenhower Signs Higher Airport Aid

Washington, June 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed a 4-year, $200 million extension of a compromise 2-year extension of federal aid for airport development, providing for more spending than he recommended.

The House earlier voted for a 4-year $297 million extension and the Senate a 4-year $465 million bill. Eisenhower had proposed a $353 million year.

The bill contains language barring the use of federal funds for terminal facilities bars, commercial shops, cocktail lounges and similar additions unless the program administrator holds they are essential.

There had been some prediction that Eisenhower would veto the bill despite Congress tailoring it more to his liking.

In signing it, the President issued a statement noting that he had strongly recommended that federal money be used exclusively for airport developments which

NEA Demands Massive U.S. Education Aid

By G. K. HODENFIELD
St. L.P. Education Writer

The National Education Assn. today renewed its demand for a massive program of federal aid to education. The group said it is "a tragedy for the under-educated, a menace to the society, and an incongruity in the world's richest nation."

A statement issued by the Education Policies Commission of the NEA and the American Association of School Administrators said ignorance and poverty go hand in hand. This is a national problem, it said, because ignorance and poverty cannot be quarantined.

It said Americans are spending just over $10.5 billion annually to operate public schools. Quality

U.S. Charges Meddling Reds Protest Election Plans for West Berlin

Berlin, June 29 (AP)—West Germany pushed ahead today with plans for a presidential election in isolated Berlin despite Soviet warnings such a move will be viewed as a provocation.

Officials from the U.S. State Department said German officials said they would look on the election 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain with "great apprehension." But there was no expectation of any real trouble when the electoral college meets Wednesday.

The U.S. State Department brushed aside Russian notes to the western Big Three protesting the holding of the election in West Berlin. Officials in Washington termed the notes a new effort to meddle in Germany's internal affairs.

The British Foreign Office took the same view and said consultations with the United States and France were being held on the terms of a reply rejecting the Soviet protest.

The Soviet note to the United States said Russia considered holding the election in Berlin "a new attempt to use the current abnormal situation in the city in order to inflame even more the situation in Germany."

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the decision to hold the election in Berlin "merely represents a continuation of a tradition begun with the presidential election in Berlin in July 1954." The 1954 election was held in Berlin without red protest.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko declared in Moscow that holding the election in Berlin was another example of an effort to create tension.

Russia and East Germany insist West Berlin is a part of East Germany. The State Department holds that the Red-ruled city is "held in trust by the principal allied

Hawaiian Democrats Forecast Victory in First State Elections

Honolulu, June 29 (AP)—Democrats jubilantly claimed today their heavy vote in Hawaii's primary augurs victory for them in the islands' first state elections next month.

They contended that the big Democratic vote was the forerunner of a sweep that would send three of their kind to Congress and elect a Democratic governor and state legislature.

Republicans were quick to answer that GOP candidates ran unopposed in the nominating primary Saturday while Democrats engaged in vote-drawing contests. They said the Democratic outpouring was expected.

Some GOP leaders nevertheless conceded that the party would be the underdog in the Aloha state's first election July 28.

Both parties turned to campaigning in the wake of the primary and a simultaneous statewide plebiscite which saw Hawaiians vote approval of statehood by a whopping 17 to 1 margin.

The 132,938 "yes" votes so dwarfed the 7,856 "no" votes against statehood that it exceeded even the most optimistic predictions.

Ben-Gurion May Resign Israeli Cabinet Weighs West Reich Arms Deal

Jerusalem, June 29 (AP)—Israel's coalition cabinet decided today whether to approve an arms deal with West Germany unanimously or the resignation of Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion.

The Tel Aviv newspaper Maariv quoted Ben-Gurion as saying the sale was necessary for Israel's defense. But the report did not indicate whether Israel would receive arms in exchange or whether the currency realized would be used for arms purchases elsewhere.

Ben-Gurion said Egypt, leader of Arab opposition to Israel, would soon receive Soviet MIG-19 bombers, superior to Israel's bombers.

Opposition to the arms sale was generally based on the question of whether Israel should do business with Germany, less than two decades after the Nazi extermination of millions of Jews.

Ben-Gurion resigned in 1951 and in 1957 was re-appointed each time. His most recent resignation resulted from the opposition of the Achduth Avodah party to sending an arms purchasing team to West Germany.
