No Cause for Fight, Koslov Informs U.S.

The now-recessed East-West conference of foreign ministers.

Vice President Nixon had one more 15-minute private chat with the Communist visitor. "He is a master at being friendly," Nixon reportedly said. "I don't think he is really friendly."

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter gave a similar account of his hour-long meeting with Koslov before flying to his Manchester, Mass. home for a holiday weekend.

He said that there was nothing profitable in the conversation and he had nothing to report to the president.

Herter said:

"The reports he has received from Koslov's nationwide telecast yesterday, Herter said, were not to be taken as a sign of any change in the Soviet position on the Vietnam war. Herter said that he had heard from the Soviet side that the Communist government was not willing to discuss the Vietnam war with the United States. ### Rockville-Vernon 'Selfish Interests' Charged To Zone Change Opponents

Two town officials who are opposing proposed zoning changes which would allow the use of the area for residential and commercial purposes are charging that the changes are being made for "selfish interests."

Charles H. Brown, chairman of the Zoning Commission of the Vernon Fire District, said he did not know in which capacity the officials were signing petitions against the proposed lot and house size increases. But he said he believes an official should make it clear that he is speaking as a private individual if this is the case.

"Anyone who is a contractor and builds roads would definitely profit by having more houses built in the area," Brown said.

"The same would be true, Brown pointed out, if the zoning changes were to allow for the construction of a large acreage convertible to a house lot."

Also, "a surveyor would definitely profit by having more lots in the area," Brown added.

All these people have a financial interest in the thing," Brown said.

The Fourth District Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting at 8 p.m. at the VFW Home, East St., was held to discuss the proposed zoning changes.

A large attendance is expected from the district, which comprises the area from the Vernon Fire District to the Hartford line. Final plans will be made for the Department Convention to be held at the VFW Home, East St., on Sunday, July 7, at 8 p.m.

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Anne Ashworth Parker, 30 Academy St., died at Hartford Hospital last night at 10:30 a.m. after a long illness. She was the widow of the late H. Parker, who died in 1958. She is survived by her husband, H. Parker, and four children: Mrs. M. Parker, Mrs. J. Parker, Mrs. K. Parker, and Mrs. L. Parker.

Fireworks Display At Mt. Nebo Field

Hundreds of Manchester residents have already "hit the road" for the fireworks show which will be held at Mt. Nebo Field on Saturday night, July 6, at 8 p.m.

Other fireworks displays have been held in the area in the past, but this one is expected to be the largest yet. The show will be held at Mt. Nebo Field, which is a beautiful area with a view of the city and the surrounding hills.

The show will be held at 8 p.m. on Saturday night, July 6. The fireworks will be set off by the Wapping Congregational Church and the Wapping Grange.

Way Cleared for District To Relocate Sewer Main

The final deed granting the 8th move the old pipe, which they said, presented a potential hazard to the district for several years would not give the guarantee for the town's residents to be free of the pipe.

The problem was practically assured for the town's residents. The present board of directors, many of whom were familiar with the old pipe, had decided to remove the old pipe and have the town's residents to be free of the pipe.

Castro's Military Hits Foe

After a swing through a super-market, he quipped: "You can find everything in this place with one exception: 'Why don't you have a picture with me?'"

He was all smiles as he posed for pictures with one surprised customer after another, but he didn't buy anything.

"I took everything offered I would not be able to get out of the store," he said.

Directors to Discuss Highland Water Plans

A proposed sanitary sewer and water main for Highland St. will be discussed by the Board of Directors Tuesday at a meeting at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

A public hearing is set on the proposal for July 10.

In full, the proposal includes a 6-inch main for Highland St. a sanitary sewer, and water main. The pump station and water line were first proposed by the town in 1957, and have been recommended in a recent report by the New York City engineering firm of Huck, Seifert and Joiner.

The report called for integration of the Highland system, bought by the town in 1957, with the municipal system.

Mike Higgins Resigns As Manager of Red Sox

Southern Area last year and with the Red Sox this year.

York tied a world's record when he won with the Red Sox when he was named out two homers with the bases full in a single game.

He has ranked among the top few players who have hit three home runs in a single game. They lost their fifth game today they could not be confirmed.

Bill Linton of the Traveler said Higgins told him his future salary would be $25,000 a year, as compared to his present $45,000.

The Globe's Bob Holbrook said Higgins' talk with reporters came after an early morning conference with the manager had with general manager Harris in Baltimore.

Documents which are in the hands of the American League, 9 1/2 games out of first place, were released to Higgins in a row last night at Washington.

The Sox managerial situation started building to a climax on Wednesday when Harris, who had been in Washington, but 24 hours, passed before he met privately with Higgins, while reporters were waiting for an impending firing.

After his playing years with the Tigers and the Red Sox, where he was instrumental in winning the league pennant in 1946, York had coaching and some managerial experience. He is part Indian.

He managed the Griffin Club of the Middle Atlantic League in 1949 and the Youngstown of the Georgia-Alabama League in 1951. He was coach for Memphis in the

Did You Say—10 Cents? The youngster who claimed a dime from firemen to compensate for the cost of a phone call to report a fire was not Steve Shurkus as reported in The Herald.

The alarm was phoned in by Harry Shurkus, Steve's older brother, who borrowed the dime from a younger boy when he found he did not have the right coins for a pay phone.

According to Mrs. Shurkus, mother of the two boys, it was a fourth youngster who received a dime from Assistant Fire Chief Sedrick Straughan and returned it to the boy whose coin paid for the call.

Caught Short When the ice cream vendor's wagon stops down the street these youngsters hot, sometimes summer days, the reaction of most parents is to jump into the broom closet lest the youngsters clean him of all his change.

Consider then the plight of one painting the side of a ladder when that small white truck with the tinkly bell hove in sight.

From nowhere appeared a year-old number one son, palm nut-strewn.

"Money, Daddy, for ice creams?" he beseeched.

The old man was caught. There was no escape. So digging deep, he dropped a couple of coins into the small, wiggling fingers, saying, "Good idea, get your Daddy one, too." He turned back to his paint and the lad legged it up the road.

Father was aware the ice cream wagon moved from donkey to donkey, but he was unconcerned until he was brought up sharp by the piercing scream and subsequent cries of a child, his child, in mortal pain.

He leapt from the ladder, spilling paint, dropping the brush and

The Manchester Evening Herald will not publish tomorrow, Independence Day.

At the joint meeting of the Board of Officers of the City of Manchester last night, Harry Howroyd, chairman of the committee, explained that the Wadhams and May Co. had been the apparent low bidder on the North End junior high school.

The Wadhams and May bid was $1,113,125; the next lowest bid was $1,149,000.

General Manager Richard Martin had supervised the bid opening, said Howroyd.

Howroyd was about to announce the joint meeting, when he turned aside to ask, "Is a bid opening, or a bid letting?"

Architect Victor Frid looked at the list of bid prices and said, "It's a bid letting."

Assuming One of the workers in the Town Clerk's office, which was deluged with dog owners trying to beat the July 1 license deadline, watched as the young couple approached the counter.

"Married or spayed female?" she asked automatically as they halted before her.

The young man looked slightly flustered and then bravely replied, "We want to get married."

"All I want..." Municipal employees are singing a little tune from "My Fair Lady," lyrics by General Manager Richard Martin.

The song is called, "With a Little Extra Push."

It concerns the back door of the municipal building, and tells of how somebody forgot to slam it to prevent the door's air tendency. The door was found ajar one morning.

A memo was sent around to all employees warning them that a "little extra push" was needed on the door. Now employees go out the back door at night singing, "Isn't that lovely?"

Speed Crackdown Due

Lt. Taylor Heads Eastern Traffic Division on Holiday

State Police Lt. Harry Taylor of Stafford Springs barracks and Albert Kimball of Hartford barracks will direct the State's highway safety patrol efforts over the July Fourth weekend.

Lt. Taylor, who resides in Andover, will head the eastern division and Lt. Kimball, the western division. They were temporarily detached from their barracks commands Wednesday by State Police Commissioner Leo J. Mulcahy.

The move was one of the first in the new commissioner's sweeping changes in the State Police Department. Gov. Ribicoff has ordered a crackdown on speeders and drunk drivers in an effort to curb highway accidents which have been on the increase in the past few months.

The move comes just before the year's second major holiday weekend. Mulcahy will take to the highways tomorrow and Saturday for a long weekend. Traffic is expected to be heavy on all state roads.

Lt. Taylor said he did not know how long he would be detached from his barracks command. While he is under special assignment, his barracks is temporarily in command of Det. Sgt. Albert W. Bohman.

Lt. Taylor urged drivers this weekend to stay alert behind the wheel. "Most people who have ever had an accident, or have come close to experiencing one know how important being alert can be," he said.

Barrett Wins Coast Guard Academy Trip

William F. Barrett III, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Barrett, Jr., of 98 Washington St., has been selected to visit the Coast Guard Academy in New London during the academy's activity week, Aug. 5 to 8.

Barrett, who will enter the senior class at Manchester High School this fall, will be sponsored by Flotilla 95 of the Coast Guard Auxiliary in East Hartford.

Barrett was selected after stern competition over 11 other youths hailing from Hartford, Norwich, Fisher's Island, N. Y., and Watch Hill, R. I. The final competition was held in Saybrook.

Barrett is one of a number of candidates selected from the Third Coast Guard District which extends from Maine to New York State. Barrett represents Division 9—the Connecticut Valley and adjacent shore points—in the 12-division district.

The Coast Guard Academy arranges for qualified students to visit the campus each year during the summer, and various auxiliary units around the country sponsor one candidate each.

According to Coast Guard officials, the visit gives both the academy and the interested students the chance to look each other over. The academy sets up formidable scholastic and physical requirements on which to base the selections. Each division names one candidate and an alternate for the activity week trip.

The alternate candidate is James Wall, of Fisher's Island.

Barrett, according to his parents, has shown great interest in the Coast Guard Academy in recent years. He will be among roughly 125 high school students from the United States who will be treated to the academy tour. The academy feeds, houses and otherwise provides for the students while they are there.

Friendship Promoted By Family Series

By J. E. RICHARDS

It's almost as if they were real brothers," says Norman Tokar, the director of "Leave It To Beaver," popular family series on ABC-TV. He was talking about Jerry Mathers, who plays "Beaver," and 14-year-old Tony Dow, who portrays Beaver's older brother, Wally.

"Tony is a younger brother in real life," Norman continued, "but to see him and Jerry off-camera, you'd think he was born to the role of protector, rather than that of the protected youngster. A natural athlete, he has almost perfect muscle coordination. You can explain the rules of almost any game to him and, with short practice, he'll be able to beat the average player his age."

With Jerry, it's just the opposite, but his yet undeveloped skill at sports has worked to the show's advantage. It has fostered a natural attitude of hero worship on the part of Jerry and big-brother guidance on the part of Tony that lend credibility to every scene in which they are together.

Tips From Tony

Even off-camera, Tokar reports, Jerry often consults Tony on many of his problems—for example, scouting. Just out of cub rank, Jerry sought Tony's advice on what merit badges to try for, what to take on hikes, and so on. And a boy's recent experience in such matters can sometimes be a better guide than a parent's faulty memory.

Jerry's interest in scouting is typical of his many schoolboy activities. After a couple of hours in front of the television cameras each morning, followed by the required portion of schoolwork, Jerry is free to return home in mid-afternoon and spend the rest of the day with his neighborhood pals playing baseball, football or engage in some other pastime.

"About the only exception to this routine is Cub Scout night," says Mrs. Mathers. "Jerry has the usual youngster's enthusiasm for scouting and he really looks forward to the meetings of his pack."

Jerry, who would quickly scorn the Fauntleroy clothes and chauffeured limousines once common among child stars, is given only the usual schoolboy allowance which is usually spent as rapidly as any other boy's on such things as kite string and comic books.

Mrs. Mathers sums it up. "Jerry is a normal boy. As the first born in any family, Jerry has problems, but they're the usual ones found in any similar family. His career doesn't have anything to do with them."

Help with Homework
Although his mother is a former schoolteacher, and Jerry's father, Norman Mathers, a counselor in the Van Nuys public school system, Mrs. Mathers says, "We've both resisted the temptation to take over Jerry's teaching, because we feel this would just make it harder on his regular teachers. But I'll admit we do help him once in a while when his homework has him temporarily stumped."

Jerry Mathers was first 'discovered' in 1948 at the age of a year, when a saleslady, waiting on his mother in a department store, thought he would be successful on television. Mrs. Mathers began make the round of TV producers and agencies, and when Ed Wynn wanted a child to appear on his show a year and a half later, Jerry was chosen for the job. Next came assignments in commercial photography for a few years, and then a part in a movie entitled "This Is My Love" when Jerry was five. Further television appearances led to Jerry's discovery by Alfred Hitchcock, who signed him for the role of Shirley MacLaine's son in "The Trouble With Harry."

In the case of Hollywood-born Tony Dow, he was directly in producers' line of vision for twelve years before finally being discovered by one of his neighbors—actor Bill Bryant.

Talents Revealed in Test
Making two unsuccessful pilots gave him valuable experience, in addition to recognition by directors and producers, so that when a talented newcomer was needed for the Beaver series, Tony was called in to try out for the part of Wally and landed the role.

An avid enthusiast of surfboard riding, skin diving, and swimming, as well as other sports, he's succeeded in getting Jerry interested, too. Right now, Tony is giving instructions to Jerry on the art of diving. "An expert in the water," says Tokar, "Tony dives and swims with the grace of a seal. He is patiently starting Jerry on simple dives and later plans to teach him more complicated turns and flips." By now, Jerry has succeeded in overcoming fear of the higher diving platforms and has built up enough confidence to attempt any dive Tony wishes to teach him. Says Jerry: "Tony sure knows some neat tricks. If I get to be half as good as he is, I'll be pretty good." And Tony says proudly: "Jerry is learning—he's going to be one of the best..."

And so it is that the lively world of two young boys unwinding far beyond the scope of the TV camera, provides the clue to the real-life quality transferred to the screen each Thursday, to the delight of Beaver's audience.

Wendell Corey of the "Peck's Bad Girl" series comes of pioneer Colonial stock that includes two U.S. Presidents—John Adams and John Quincy Adams—on his mother's side.

U.S. Highway Deaths Far Under Estimate; Drownings Increase

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic fatalities during the Independence Day weekend were far under the pre-holiday estimate of 350 but the Nation's over-all violent deaths hit a staggering toll.

Drownings took a heavy toll and with traffic and other accident deaths, the total was expected to reach more than 500 when final figures are tabulated. The count was from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Sunday.

Traffic fatalities were less than the 310 reported over last Memorial Day, also a weekend and covering a 54-hour period. They also were expected to exceed the 282 reported in the last 2-day Fourth of July holiday weekend, in 1953.

Both the traffic deaths and drownings over the holiday were higher than the number reported in a recent non-holiday weekend. An Associated Press survey for the 54-hour period, June 20-21 showed 240 traffic fatalities and 70 drownings.

Traffic deaths during the first five months this year averaged 92 a day. Pleasant weather lured millions of motorists to the highways, beaches and resorts. The National Safety Council, which before the holiday had estimated a traffic death toll of 350, said some 45 million cars were on the highways during the weekend, about 5 million more than the normal non-holiday period.

One Auto Fatality In Holiday Period On State Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Connecticut's highways claimed but one life during the July 4th weekend. Two persons died in drownings.

Richard N. Delaney, 22, New Hartford, was the single highway fatality in the 54 hour period between Friday night and midnight yesterday. Delaney lost control of his car early Saturday morning on Route 20 in Granby. The car bounced off a tree and Delaney died instantly. Louis Franco, 17, of New Haven, died in a drowning.

Air Battle Near Matsu

New Crisis Looms In Far East Area

By RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI
Tokyo, July 6 (AP)—The battle between Chinese Communist and Nationalist planes that increased tensions in the Formosa Strait this weekend could be the start of a new Far East crisis.

The Nationalists have been predicting such a flareup for months and recently warned that the Chinese Reds had decided at a military conference to stir things up in this critical part of the world.

It is almost a year since Red shelling of the Nationalist-held offshore islands started the Quemoy troubles.

Although this crisis flared off late last year, the Peiping regime has been making ominous motions in other Far East areas.

On Sunday the aerial battle erupted. It was the biggest in the Formosa area in nine months.

An Air Force spokesman in Formosa gave this account: Four Nationalist pilots flying U.S.-made Sabrejets were on a routine patrol south of the Nationalist-held offshore Matsu Islands when they were jumped by 12 Soviet-made MIG fighters.

Within 13 minutes four MIGs were shot down. A fifth MIG was downed by planes and anti-aircraft fire on the Pailouan (White Dog) Islands 11 miles south of the Matus.

All the Sabrejets returned safely to their northern Formosa base. The Nationalists claim the air

Master, Crew Quit Flaming Belgian Vessel

Cameron, La., July 6 (AP)—The master and crew abandoned the flaming Belgian motorship Anvers early today moments after the vessel was beached.

The Coast Guard said magnesium explosions prevented any attempts to board the ship and fight the fire.

Magnesium ingot, the Coast Guard said, was part of the ship's miscellaneous cargo. The ship's master, Henri Singlet, and the remaining 11 men on the vessel were taken to Cameron, five miles southwest of where the Anvers was beached.

Two lifeboats with 22 crew members, including the master's wife, were towed into Cameron earlier from the vessel.

The 442-foot vessel has a gross tonnage of 5,153. Its cargo consisted of resin, cotton, lumber, iron ore, carbon black, synthetic latex, menhaden fish oil and rice. It was bound for Freeport, Tex., to Lake Charles, La.

The ship was anchored about three miles off shore, before it was abandoned.

Republicans to Push For Civil Rights Law

By JACK BELL
Washington, July 6 (AP)—Republicans are going to keep the heat on in an effort to get Civil Rights legislation passed in this session of Congress, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Il.) said today.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, told an interviewer that a GOP broadside fired at Senate Democrats last week is only the beginning of a campaign to force action on the issue. Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) and others said in Senate speeches that the Democrats are responsible for the lack of action.

"We're going to keep the heat on until we get something done," Dirksen said.

As a part of this effort, he said, Republican members of the Judiciary Committee's Constitutional Rights subcommittee will be on hand or be represented by proxy at any future meetings of the group. Chairman Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.) has complained that Republicans didn't show up for some previous meetings.

With Southern Democrats often boycotting or blocking the sessions, the subcommittee has made only one major decision on Civil Rights measures before it.

This decision was that no bill is clear—if it ever votes one out—will carry a provision giving the attorney general authority to seek injunctions in all Civil Rights cases. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), not a member of the group, said he will appeal this decision to the Senate, if it gets around to considering a measure.

Dirksen said that in order to get action it may be necessary to hold any house-passed Civil Rights bill on the calendar for direct Senate

Rivals Barred In New Regime

Jerusalem, July 6 (AP)—Israel was finding it difficult today to form a new government in the wake of David Ben-Gurion's resignation as prime minister. He quit last night after a 10-day row over sale of Israeli arms to Germany.

President Itzhak Ben-Zvi began preliminary talks with parliamentary factions on the formation of a regime to replace the 15-member coalition government that, as is customary, is staying on as a caretaker government until a new one is formed.

But Ben-Gurion refused to sit with the caretaker government, contending he will have "nothing to do" with the four ministers from the left wing Achduth Avodah and Mapam parties which led opposition to the Israel arms deal with West Germany, and refused to quit the cabinet. Ben-Gurion has no authority to dismiss them.

Consequently, Ben-Gurion's Mapam party proposed that the Israel's next parliamentary elections be advanced from Nov. 17 to Sept. 26 to shorten the critical transition period. Parliament would have to approve any changes in the election laws.

The four ministers caused the 4-year-old government to topple by voting against the sale of 250,000 mortar shells to West Germany. Most of them have already been delivered to the Bonn government.

The Israeli press has been calling the arms sale to West Germany a "mortal wound" to the government. The defense ministry in Bonn said this seemed to be a mistranslation of the German word for mortar shells.

In his letter of resignation to Ben-Zvi, Ben-Gurion accused the rest of the cabinet of collective responsibility for their action. All cabinet members had pledged in 1957 to support cabinet decisions or resign.

Ben-Gurion told newsmen that he would be back in the government. (Continued on Page Seven)

Nuptials Repeated For Photographs

Huntington, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Roland Egan were married May 16, but yesterday they did it all over again.

The original wedding pictures were stolen from the photographer before they could be developed. So the caterer for the wedding offered to foot the bill for a re-take.

The same minister, wedding attendants and guests took part in the second ceremony. This time a special deputy sheriff followed the photographer back to his studio.

Saar Zone Once More In Germany

Saarbruecken, Germany, July 6 (AP)—Saarländers swarmed into conversion centers today to exchange their French francs for German marks. This rich industrial area returned to West German economic control at midnight.

Six hundred conversion centers opened at 10 a.m. local time throughout the state to handle the currency changeover.

The one million residents have five days in which to exchange their French francs for marks. They will receive one mark for every 117 francs turned in.

Some 40 billion francs exchanged by the Saarländers will be handed over to the bank of France—a gift equivalent to $93,300,000. The remainder will be credited in the Bank of France to West Germany.

The final act of the reunion of the German-speaking Saarland with West Germany came at the stroke of midnight. The French customs posts on this state's eastern frontier closed down, and re-opened on the Saar-French border, 40 miles to the west.

This ended the unique situation which required Germans traveling within their own country to undergo French customs controls.

The Saarländers have been citizens of West Germany since Jan. 1, 1957, when the 1,000 square mile territory became the 10th state. The French-German agreement provided for a transition period of a maximum of three years for the complicated changeover.

Sukarno Takes Complete Rule Of Indonesia

Jakarta, Indonesia, July 6 (AP)—President Sukarno took over full executive power and responsibility today and faces the task of pulling this sprawling 3,000-island republic out of its financial and political crisis.

Premier Djundjuna resigned, giving the president a clear field to handpick a new presidential cabinet. Sukarno abolished the 1950 constitution yesterday, dissolved the constituent assembly and reinstated the 1945 constitution.

The 1945 constitution—declaring Indonesia's independence from the Dutch—centralizes power in the president and allows him to rule by decree.

The constituent assembly had been trying for nearly four years to revise the 1950 charter.

Inflation, a financial deficit and an accelerated rebellion plague Indonesia. The president took over sovereignty 10 years after it was transferred from the Netherlands.

Last September the finance ministry announced a whopping deficit of nearly 10 billion rupiahs, nearly double the deficit of the year before, but said it expected this year would be a little better.

Government printing presses have run off billions of the colorful rupiahs, which are officially valued at 14 to the dollar.

None of the chief military figures in the rebellion in Sumatra and Celebes early last year has been arrested.

George Grosz, 66, Dies; Noted Artist
Berlin, July 6 (AP)—George Grosz, 66-year-old noted German-American painter, died of a heart attack in West Berlin today, only a few weeks after returning to his home.

Grosz left Germany in 1932 after his satirical drawings found disfavor with the rising Nazi party. He went to the United States and became an American citizen. But last month he returned to his native Germany.

One reason for his return was that his wife, Eva, has been ill and she wanted to stay with her sister in West Berlin.

Thousands Greet Queen in Chicago

By NEILMAN MORIN
Chicago, July 6 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II stepped ashore in Chicago today amid the thunder of Army artillery, roaring ships' whistles, and the cheers of thousands of spectators massed around Buckingham Fountain Landing.

A cordon of police struggled to hold back other thousands trying to approach the reviewing stand on the dock.

The royal yacht Britannia's barge brought Elizabeth and Prince Philip ashore promptly at 11 a.m. The yacht was moored outside the breakwater.

A 21-gun salute began when the launch started toward shore. In close formation, a flight of jet fighter planes roared low over the scene. Hundreds of small pleasure craft followed the barge.

It looked like an amphibious assault and a string of reminiscent of World War II.

So began the queen's 13-hour day in Chicago.

The queen was wearing a short-sleeved summer dress, a white-gloved left hand, a flowered hat and a string of pearls.

She was smiling and looked greeted after spending all day Sunday on the voyage from Parry Sound, Canada, to Chicago.

U.S. chief of protocol Wiley Buchanan greeted the Queen and Philip officially. The royal couple then passed down a long line of officials, including the ambassadors to the United States from the United Kingdom and six Commonwealth nations.

An honor guard of soldiers, sailors and Marines stood stiffly at attention while the band saluted Elizabeth with "God Save the Queen." It followed with the "Star Spangled Banner."

Prince Philip stood beside Canada's Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker during the playing of the anthems.

Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois and Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago escorted the Queen as she reviewed the guard of honor.

With brows pointed toward shore, 28 U.S. warships—the greatest concentration in Lake Michigan since the War of 1812—lined up in tight formation during the ceremonies. The white-uniformed crews were massed on deck, standing at attention.

Stratton, welcoming the Queen and her husband, said, "We hold a great and deep affection for you personally." He said her visit to Chicago would "strengthen the bonds that tie Britain and the United States together so closely."

The mayor wished the royal couple "a most pleasant and happy stay" in the city.

Replying, the Queen said, "My husband and I are very glad to be here. We have been looking forward to this visit."

Rabbit Also In Rocket, Soviet Says

London, July 6 (AP)—The Soviet Union has launched a space rocket containing two dogs which were returned safely to Earth, Moscow radio said tonight.

The announcement came from Tass, the Soviet News Agency. Moscow said the launching was made July 2.

It described the event as a routine launching of a single stage geophysical ballistic rocket of medium range.

Previously the United States had recovered two monkeys sent into space. One of these died later.

The first animal of note to be projected into space was the Russian dog Laika, which died. Mission of the rocket was to aid scientific research in "the upper layers of the atmosphere," the broadcast added.

It did not immediately say if the rocket was put into orbit around the Earth or stretched farther into space. There was no immediate indication how high the dogs flew.

Moscow said the rocket was equipped with apparatus for studying the ultraviolet portion of the solar spectrum, the structure of the ionosphere and the micro-meteorite stream.

Instruments measuring the speed of air currents at different heights, density, pressure, temperature and composition of the atmosphere also were hoisted aloft, the broadcast said.

The two dogs were identified as Otavazhaya and Zhenchiks—meaning Daring and Sneakish respectively. A rabbit was also aboard, the broadcast said.

For Otavazhaya, it was the third space-diving rocket ascent, said the broadcast.

The total weight of scientific instruments and animals aboard was put by the Russians at 2,000 grams—around 4.09 pounds or more than two tons.

The Moscow Radio account continued: "The launching went without hitch and so did the recovery of animals and instruments. They came down in a separate container."

Working Class Not Interested In Frol Kozlov

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
San Francisco, July 6 (AP)—The Soviet Union's first deputy premier today winds up a stay in California during which he was wined and dined by capitalists and virtually ignored by everybody else. Heading east, he faces in Detroit the first official cold reception of his United States tour.

Since Friday, Frol Kozlovich Kozlov, Premier Nikita Khrushchev's right hand man in the Soviet government, has been hobnobbing with California businessmen and social luminaries. But those whom the Communists might classify as the working class showed practically no interest in his presence.

Almost nobody showed up to watch at any of his scheduled appearances or for his arrivals or departures from his hotels.

At the final event of his tour, arrangements were made for Kozlov and his party to visit the Berkeley Campus of the University of California and its Lawrence Radiation Laboratory and be briefed or such matters as the laboratory's 6-foot long cubicle chamber, largest in the world, which recently began operation as a means of detecting atomic particle tracks.

The Kozlov party was scheduled to take off from Oakland airport in a chartered plane and to arrive in Detroit at shortly after midnight.

Detroit's Mayor Louis J. Mirani has said he would not give official recognition to the Kozlov visit despite a special plea from Secretary of State Christian Herter. The mayor has said Kozlov is not welcome.

However, Michigan Gov. Mennen

Bulletins from the AP Wire

DRYSDALE, WYNN STARTERS
Pittsburgh, July 6 (AP)—Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox today were named as starting pitchers for tomorrow's all-star baseball game at Forbes Field.

Dave Groie, National League publicity director, said Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves probably would be the second National League pitcher. There was no immediate word on the second American League pitcher.
