Rutledge J. Smith has tried to carry to radio his campaign for improvement of Manchester's Burnham St. Smith, who lives at 411 Burnham, said he requested radio station WINF to play the song, "Forty Miles of Bad Road," in protest of Burnham St. conditions.

However, the radio campaign was short-lived. A WINF spokesman said "Forty Miles of Bad Road" is a rock 'n roll number and WINF just doesn't play them.

The spokesman said, however, that WINF will accept requests to play classical numbers.

Smith has told Town Directors at many meetings that three years have gone by and no meaningful improvements have been made in the endless road—one of the oldest in town. He was told by General Manager Richard Martin last week that major reconstruction could begin next spring after a better drainage system is installed.

Smith's answer: It's been "next spring each year for three years."

Man on the Go
Coventry Rotary Club played host to a traveling Rotarian this week, and he was a fellow in a hurry.

The club had as its guest speaker Prof. Fitch Cheney of Storrs, chairman of the Department of Mathematics at the University of Hartford who, up to the time of his Coventry visit, was well on his way to attaining a goal of visiting 50 Rotary Clubs in 44 days.

Prof. Cheney, past president of the Willimantic Rotary Club, plans to tour 31 states, all east of the Mississippi. Up to this week he had covered 7,600 miles and attended Rotary meetings as far south as Paterson, La., as far north as Quebec, and as far west as New Ulm, Minn.

Although he plans to accomplish his feat in 44 days, his actual visitation days number only 28. The other time is spent in driving from one Rotary to another.

He conceived the idea as a means of building bridges of friendship and goodwill between the Willimantic Rotary Club and the others he has visited and will visit.

Rotary International Headquarters assisted him in his visits by helping map a timetable. During his Western swing, he visited international headquarters at Evanston, Ill.

Before accepting his present position at the University of Hartford, Prof. Cheney retired as head of the Departments of Mathematics and Astronomy at the University of Connecticut. He retired from that post after 28 years.

Complications
The two construction projects going on at Manchester Memorial Hospital have complicated the entrance routes for patients and visitors, but especially for emergency patients.

Many of them are unaware that Armory St. has been changed to a 2-way street, to provide a direct access to the new emergency unit in the north wing of the new addition.

Also, many of them are unaware until too late, that the driveway from Haynes St. to the rear of the hospital has been blocked by the construction of the new medical records addition.

As a result, Mrs. Lois Dunham, purchaser, has been receiving emergency patients in her new office, which was formerly occupied by the old emergency room.

After several bleeding and otherwise incapacitated persons showed up at her office door, one of her friends kidded her, saying, "Don't just stand there, treat them, treat them!"

"Uh-huh," she declined, "although I've got enough free samples of aspirin to make a dent (in the need), but not enough bandages."

Chivalry Isn't Dead
A Garden St. mother recently loaded the car with youngsters and took them off to Globe Hollow for a day of swimming.

While driving up Main St. on her return, she realized she had a flat tire. There was a vacant parking stall near Oak St., so she pulled into it.

On the corner stood a big, strong Irishman, who, hands on hips, was giving the situation the once-over. The woman expected some wise crack would be offered, so she decided to get in the first words.

"Wanna fix it?" she said kiddingly.

"Have you a spare?" the man asked.

"Sure," she replied.

"Now, if you want to work in 86-degree weather jacking the car and changing tires,

When he was through, he stepped back on the curb and gave his hands a brushing, and the woman offered to pay him for his work.

"Does that mean you're going to start World War III?"

"No," he answered. "That's a big demonstration."

The story hours under the magic umbrella on Thursday mornings at Center Park have been very successful so far this summer. Miss Marion Jesseman reports that between 55 and 60 children show up for the stories.

Due to the ages of the children—5 to 10 years—and the availability of a drinking fountain, Miss Jesseman refers to the group as "A fluid attendance."

Parade Rest

The lieutenant at the Manchester Nike base phoned The Herald the other day to say that a Canadian Army colonel was going to visit the base today. In honor of his coming, said the lieutenant, there would be a "slight demonstration."

"Oh?" queried the reporter.

"Does that mean you're going to start World War III?"

"No," he answered. "That's a big demonstration."

Blazed Cattle Trail
Charles Goodnight blazed the first trail through New Mexico in 1856. He became one of the greatest ranch owners in the west.

After leaving the accident, Gauthier said, the two youths stole a 1951 station wagon owned by J. Angelo Fredro of Bolton and drove it back to East Hartford where they abandoned it at Maple and Handel Rds.

Sometimes during their escapade, Dobson went to Hartford Hospital where he was treated for a nose injury and discharged. He is being held at Colchester barracks while Gauthier continues his investigation.

Youths Steal Two Autos, Demolish One

State Police are holding one youth and searching for another as the result of an incident early this morning involving two stolen cars, one of which was wrecked.

State Policeman Thomas Gauthier described the case this way: He was called at 1:18 this morning to investigate an accident at Clark Hill Rd. and Rt. 85 in Bolton. His investigation showed that the car had allegedly been stolen by Larry Dobson, 19 of East Hartford and another youth still being sought.

Gauthier said they took the car, owned by J. Lawrence Dettenborn of Glastonbury, from where it was parked in front of the Maple Restaurant at 114 Main St., East Hartford. They drove through Manchester and up Rt. 85 in Bolton. Apparently they were going too fast to make the curve at Clark Rd. and Rt. 85. The car left the road and was demolished.

Dobson was injured in the crash, but it is not known if his unidentified companion was hurt.

After leaving the accident, Gauthier said, the two youths stole a 1951 station wagon owned by J. Angelo Fredro of Bolton and drove it back to East Hartford where they abandoned it at Maple and Handel Rds.

Sometimes during their escapade, Dobson went to Hartford Hospital where he was treated for a nose injury and discharged. He is being held at Colchester barracks while Gauthier continues his investigation.

Red Premier Ready to Fly To U.S. 'When Time Is Ripe'

ment on Nixon's visit to Poland on his way home from the Soviet Union. Noting that the earlier model 707 Nixon is traveling in cannot make the flight nonstop from Moscow to the United States, Khrushchev said:

"I understand the reason Mr. Nixon decided to make some stops on his way home was because he didn't want to show that his plane could not make the trip nonstop."

"There has even been talk that the Vice President intended to make some stops on the way in order to cover up his traces, so to speak."

Khrushchev was escorted through the Nixon plane by the chief pilot, Lt. Col. Robert Wray of Worcester, Mass. Wray answered dozens of questions raised by the premier.

As he sat eating salted peanuts at a table in the plane, Khrushchev said he wanted to tell a little secret about a new military plane the Soviet Union is building.

Khrushchev said it was faster than the IL18 and could land on dirt landing strips. The IL18 is a big 4-engine turboprop used mainly to carry freight and passengers inside the Soviet Union. It has cruising speed of 405 miles an hour and a range of about 3,000 miles.

"I'll tell you a little secret," Khrushchev added. "That plane can be used for landing paratroops."

The premier said a demonstration of the new military plane was put on for him yesterday. The plane can carry a self-propelled gun and a light tank, he added.

"In general, we are building very few bombers now," the premier told his American hosts.

At one stage, Khrushchev commented on Nixon's visit to Poland on his way home from the Soviet Union. Noting that the earlier model 707 Nixon is traveling in cannot make the flight nonstop from Moscow to the United States, Khrushchev said:

Canadian Colonel Tours Nike Site

Col. Norman Wilson Smith, chief of combat development branch of the Canadian Army, toured the Manchester Nike site this morning.

He first toured the administration building, troop barracks, and fire control area, then proceeded to the launching area. Here he observed the missile assembly technique, examining one of the missile sections, and watching as the men put on a simulated firing demonstration.

Box Score for Bendix

By HOPE LAWDER RITCHIE
If you kept a personal, earned run chart on the life of William Bendix, the strikes, bases on balls, home runs all would average out to an up winning percentage.

As a kid, one of his first jobs was bat boy for the Giants which led him into a year of semi-pro ball, and a desire to be a professional. Born in poverty, on Third Avenue in New York "Not the Third Avenue we know today" he stated. The other day from his suite in an elegant mid-Manhattan hotel, "but the Third Avenue of tenements, under the El, where down-to-earth people earned wages the hard way, fell in love, had lots of children, dreamed and laughed through frustrations, got drunk on Saturday nights and went to church on Sundays.

"I'm typed as a typical poor city Joe—every bit as frustrated as he is comical. That's fine because that's the kind of guy I am. When my ambitions to be a top baseball player flopped ("good field—no hit"), I married the girl next door and ran a grocery store. Although I had no idea one day I'd be identified with "The Life of Riley" TV series, we lived the life of Riley until 1936 when along came the depression and away went the store. I'd always loved amateur theatricals, and now I got side-tracked into the theater via a one night stand as a singing waiter. Believe me, it was only one night. Another flop. Then I landed with the New Jersey Federal Theatre project, and stayed three years.

Broadway producer Cheryl Crawford signed me up for six plays. I thought I'd made the minor league. But no, all six failed. Of course, I got lots of experience in summer stock up and down the East coast, but it was pretty frustrating. I was still in the cellar."

At Last a Hit

Plenty of white space has been filled in the press and periodicals with the saga of William Bendix after the Theatre Guild produced William Saroyan's "Time of Your Life," in which, he played the role of Krupp, a policeman. He received rave notices and a year later was signed by MGM. He was out of the cellar and into the big time as a long list of movie credits piled up. One of his favorite pictures was "The Babe Ruth Story." He was honored by Ralph Edwards on "This Is Your Life."

He has played in many TV specials and was in New York, after a summer stock engagement in "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," to line up his role as a desperado in the only live entertainment special on network TV in August. (Sunday, Aug. 16, 10-11 p.m. EDT over NBC network) "The Ransom of Red Chief," an O'Henry classic. "If O'Henry were alive today," admitted Bendix, "I'd like him to write specials for me. I'm the kind of character he wrote about. Perhaps he'd even write me a Broadway show. I'm looking for one. That writer knew kids, all-right. In "Red Ransom," Teddy Rooney (whose father Mickey hit the high score at the age of 5 as I made it at the age of 25) plays an ornery freckle-faced boy who befriends me and my partner (Hans Conried) until we wish we'd never got involved with the little monster." He chuckled. "I understand that type of kid, all-right."

"As a matter of fact, 47 years ago I played as an extra—an ornery kid—at the studio in Brooklyn where we are rehearsing... the old Vitagraph Movie studio.

Just Ordinary Guy

"I like doing specials and am not going under contract in the future—only do what I want to do, movies, theater and TV. But look here," he looked at me (his wide blue eyes suggesting forlornly that he couldn't understand why a reporter would waste time asking him anything), "I'm dull copy for you. I'm just a plain ordinary guy. I'm married to the same wife, Teresa. I love her, my two daughters, adore my one grandchild, don't like to talk theater talk all the time, like to eat, have a modest home in California, and am crazy about baseball."

The broad-shouldered, 2-fisted "ordinary guy," so adept at fumbling in his roles on stage, is a crackjack golfer, no slouch at poker. As an actor he may be all thumbs, but off stage he is all green thumbs. An avid gardener, he spends many hours nursing his plants and flowers—that is, when he's not watching the Los Angeles Dodgers in the ball park.

The down-to-earth William Bendix, off, as well as on, stage, is a pro in every sense of the word. When he is up at bat, count up a homer. His team will coast into an easy win.

Producer, Writer For Gobel Show

Fred DeCordova, one of television's foremost production talents, has been assigned to produce and direct "The George Gobel Show," which will be presented on alternate Sundays (10-10:30 p.m., EDT) on the CBS Television Network starting in October. Top comedy writer Ed Simmons has signed to head a 4-man writing team for the show, the other members of which will be announced shortly.

The Gobel show will alternate in the same time period with "The Jack Benny Program," which enters its tenth season this fall.

TV Actor Teaches

To fill spare hours between TV acting assignments, Timmy Everett teaches modern jazz dancing at the June Taylor School of Dance. Although a talented dancer, Everett has never danced in any of his television or Broadway appearances.

Ives Halts Bidding on Highways

Hartford, Aug. 3 (AP)—Connecticut today stopped bids on its mammoth $522-million highway program pending assurance federal reimbursement will be forthcoming.

The action by Highway Commissioner Howard S. Ives affects highway projects in every part of the state. This includes four interstate projects and all federally assisted primary and secondary road projects.

The 4-year highway program was approved by the Democratic controlled General Assembly this year.

The big projects affected are Interstate Route 84 from Danbury through Waterbury to Hartford; Interstate 91 from New Haven through Hartford to the Massachusetts line; and the circumferential route around Hartford.

Also affected is a proposed extension of the Interstate Route 95 from the Connecticut Turnpike at Waterford to the Rhode Island state line.

Ives said the department would go ahead with planning and engineering for the project, however.

A Highway Department spokesman said bids had been received so far for only a portion of the circumferential route around Hartford (Interstate 84).

This portion was the Morgan Street Interchange, the spokesman said, and the apparent low bid was $5 million. Awarding of a contract will be suspended for the time being, the spokesman said.

The highway commissioner's action will not affect scheduled public hearings on the proposed projects, the spokesman said. This means that a hearing next week on Interstate Route 91 will be held as planned.

Ives said he made his ruling because of the "uncertainty" of the availability of federal aid highway funds.

The Highway Department, he said, is postponing award, receipt and advertisement of any more bids on projects.

The highway commissioner's action will not affect scheduled public hearings on the proposed projects, the spokesman said. This means that a hearing next week on Interstate Route 91 will be held as planned.

Ives said his action was prompted by congressional rejection of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1958.

The president's proposal ran into what is considered a virtual dead end in the House Ways and Means Committee last week.

Ives said his action affects all highway projects pending approval.

Rockefeller's Son To Marry Ex-Maid

Kristiansand, Norway, Aug. 3 (AP)—Steven Rockefeller and a former maid in his wealthy family's home plan a late summer wedding in a small Lutheran church in Norway.

Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said they were delighted at their son's engagement to 21-year-old Anne Marie Rasmussen, pretty blonde daughter of a prosperous Kristiansand grocer.

"She is a wonderful girl," the Governor said.

Announcing their engagement yesterday, the young couple did not set a wedding date. But a friend of the Rasmussen family said it would probably be Aug. 22.

It will be performed by the Rev. Olav Gaaustad in the Lutheran Church at nearby Soegne. The pastor is an old friend of the Rasmussens. The Rockefellers are Baptists.

The governor has indicated he and his wife will come to Scandinavia for the wedding. "I can't imagine that I would not participate in the wedding of any of my children," he told newsmen Saturday.

Steven, 23, and the third of his parents' five children, first met Anne Marie when she came to the United States in 1955 to learn English and worked for a time as a maid in his home. She left the Rockefeller employ in 1957 to work in a New York department store and then worked for an insurance firm in New York.

After serving an Army hitch, young Rockefeller flew to Oslo July 10 and met Anne Marie. They came on to her home by motorcycle, and the romance rumors have been booming ever since.

The girl's father, Kristian Rasmussen, appeared with the couple at a news conference yesterday and said:

"If our daughter will be happy this way, we will not stop her."

Radiant Anne Marie, wearing a charcoal gray frock with rose polka dots, showed reporters her modest-sized engagement ring—a diamond surrounded by smaller diamonds and set in platinum.

Steven said forms were sent off Saturday for the publishing of the marriage banns, which in Norway must be done three weeks before the wedding. But this period may be reduced by the Department of Justice if the applicant shows cause.

Young Rockefeller, a graduate of Princeton University, said he will return to New York in September and enter one of his family's businesses.

"This will change my life completely," Anne Marie said. "Everything will become different for me, but what I have brought with me from the home of my childhood will always remain with me. I will remain the one I am."

She said she and Steven would live in an apartment in New York but that they haven't found one yet. Anne Marie added that she wants to keep house herself.

Steven said he will stay with the Rasmussens until the wedding and added he would like to get around Anne Marie, he added. "I was sure lucky catching this one."

Senate Judiciary Votes To Consider Rights Bill

Washington, Aug. 3 (AP)—By a 5-5 vote the Senate Judiciary Committee today overrode southern opposition today and took a Civil Rights bill up for consideration.

Earlier, a subcommittee of the judiciary group lined up 2-1 in an incomplete vote, in favor of shelving a proposed constitutional amendment designed to annul the Supreme Court's desegregation decision.

The full committee overrode objections from Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) and other southern opponents. They had blocked attempts at two previous meetings to get the legislation up for action.

The bill called up, previously approved by a 4-3 vote in subcommittee, is limited to extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission and to requiring the preservation of voting records for use in investigations by the attorney general into alleged denial of voting rights. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told newsmen after the meeting that he believes it now will be possible to get a civil rights bill out of the committee.

"This was the roughest hurdle to clear," he said.

Eisenhower to Visit Soviet, Khrushchev Here This Fall

Most Favor Decision to Swap Visits

Washington, Aug. 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower's decision to exchange visits with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev drew generally favorable—some highly enthusiastic—reaction today from members of Congress.

But approval was not unanimous. Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) protested that "It looks like we're again being taken in by the Russians."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, however, applauded the President's decision. He told the Senate:

"I believe that this is a type of exchange which could do much for the whole world."

"I have always believed in the Open Curtain through which people can pass freely and exchange ideas," Johnson said. "I believe it should be encouraged at every level so that we can know the truth about each other."

Johnson said he had been briefed by a White House aide before Eisenhower's announcement and he related his own views to the President at that time.

The Senate Republican leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said the exchange of visits, if successful, could "enshrine the President the boldest and most determined peacemaker in many generations."

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said he knows "of no better way to impress Mr. Khrushchev than to let him see for himself our unity."

Allies Applaud Ike's Decision To See Nikita

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Geneva, Aug. 3 (AP)—The chief western Allies today acclaimed President Eisenhower's decision to exchange visits with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev as a step toward advancing East-West prospects of peace.

Diplomats said the most immediate result of the Big Two agreement for top-level talks would be to put the Berlin crisis on ice.

They also foresaw the possibility that some new approach to a Big Four summit conference may be opened up.

They were particularly cheered by Eisenhower's determination to maintain a steady front on the Cold War issues by conferring with the government leaders of France, Britain and West Germany in advance of Khrushchev's visit to Washington.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter issued a statement saying:

"I welcome this move and hope it will be helpful in advancing better relations between our two countries."

Associates of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said he welcomed the President's agreement to meet Khrushchev. Diplomats said the British government hopes the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks will open the way to a Big Four summit session.

French authorities were slower to react than the British. Officials in Paris said they thought the talks would be useful. They added that they saw no harm to the western position in respect to Russia in

State Geophysicist Killed, 2 Survive Crash on Glacier

Juneau, Alaska, Aug. 3 (AP)—A single smoke flare, saved for use at just the right moment, brought rescue yesterday to two men marooned seven nights and days high on the barren face of an Alaskan glacier.

The flare was sighted by a helicopter pilot participating in a week-long sea and air search over the mountains and through the valleys and inlets of rugged Glacier Bay National Monument.

Although the two were saved, the body of the third man remained with the wreckage of a helicopter in which they crashed last Sunday at the 5,800-foot Gilman Glacier.

Dead was Robert Baldwin of Ridgefield, Conn., a geophysicist for the Newmont Exploration Co. Ltd., of New York City. Another

Crowds Hail Nixon On Visit to Poland

Warsaw, Aug. 3 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon met for more than three hours today with Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka and Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz. Crowds continued to cheer him at every turn.

About 5,000 enthusiastic Poles gathered to watch Nixon place a red, white and blue tinted rose wreath at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in a solemn ceremony honoring Poland's war dead. Many in the crowd cheered him with cries of "Live 100 years," a traditional cheer in Poland.

An excited Polish worker shouting "Give America" booted through police lines and grabbed Nixon in a fierce bear hug, almost knocking him down.

Polish security agents pried Nixon loose and pushed the man roughly aside. Nixon was startled momentarily but quickly regained his composure. The Vice President's aides said the man meant no harm and that he wanted to hoist Nixon on the shoulders of the crowd.

Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki, author of a plan for a European atom-free zone which the United States has rejected, sat in on Nixon's meeting with top Polish leaders.

"Neexon, Neexon," cried many spectators as the Vice President drove through the city in a black automobile flying the American flag and the red and white Polish banner.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press officer, reported that the calls on Poland's President Alexander Zawadzki at Belvedere Palace this morning and on Parliament Speaker Casimir Wycieczek were "very friendly in every respect."

He declined to disclose what subjects were discussed. Nixon's call on Gomulka stretched out through lunch time. The two men discussed international problems so intently they decided they might as well continue. Gomulka arranged to have luncheon served in the Council of Ministers Building.

During the ceremony at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier one of Nixon's well wishers handed the Vice President his five year old daughter to hold. Nixon held the girl in his arms, turned to the crowd around him and called out as they applauded:

"We must all work for a better life for our children."

The crowd was small in comparison to the quarter of a million Poles who greeted Nixon on arrival yesterday. But it-outdied even that great throng in vociferousness and enthusiasm.

After placing a wreath on the exhumed tomb and reviewing an honor guard, Nixon suddenly moved toward the thousands of spectators applauding and cheering him. As the crowd gave cries of "mic zywie" (nee-edge zhi-zhi-veh), or "long life" one man broke through crying "Neexon."

He bore down like a fullback coming off right guard and clasped Nixon around his middle, almost weeping. Police and Nixon's aides went quickly to his side and people in the crowd set up the chant "stolat," meaning "may you live 100 years."

Soviet Refuses To Help Curb Laos Rebellion

Geneva, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Soviet Union has rejected a British plea to intervene in a new Communist rebellion in the Southeast Asian kingdom of Laos.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd discussed the new outbreak of violence in what was formerly French Indochina with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko yesterday.

Official sources said Lloyd told Gromyko that Britain is gravely concerned over the situation and that Communist North Viet Nam, aiding the rebels with men and arms.

Is NATO Effective?

In the decade of its existence, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has developed into a symbol of western unity and the chief military instrument of the defensive alliance.

Yet how effective is NATO today as the sword and shield of western Europe? How much actual power stands behind the symbol? Could NATO fight a conventional war, and what punch could it contribute to an all-out, nuclear conflict?

AP newsfeatures writer Bem Price, who writes frequently on military affairs, has just returned from an extensive tour of NATO installations, asked hard-hitting questions.

His findings are wrapped up in an authoritative 4-part series giving the facts on NATO's achievements—and dangerous weaknesses.

The first story deals with the overall picture of NATO's fighting power. Subsequent articles discuss the defensive and offensive potential and the measure of unified command achieved to date. The series starts tomorrow in The

Red Leader Due in U.S. By Sept. 15

Washington, Aug. 3 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will exchange visits this fall—thus taking into a new phase of diplomacy the East-West differences on which world peace hangs.

Khrushchev's visit here—a historic first by a top leader of Russian communism—will be in September. Eisenhower will go to Moscow later in the year. Exact dates for the visits have not yet been fixed.

(In Warsaw, Vice President Richard M. Nixon said he understood Khrushchev would go to the United States about Sept. 15).

Almost identical announcements of the plans were made here and in Moscow—the differences apparently only those of translation. Winding up on the peace theme, the final paragraph, in the text released by Moscow, said:

"Both governments express the hope that the forthcoming visits will promote the establishment of better understanding between the United States and the USSR and will further the cause of peace."

Eisenhower called a special news conference to make the announcement here. Exchanges at this meeting with reporters developed also:

1. Before meeting with Khrushchev here, Eisenhower will go to Europe later this month to confer with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

2. Exchanges on the question of Khrushchev-Eisenhower visits have been going on for some time; were initiated well before Vice President Richard M. Nixon went to Russia.

Eisenhower said he told Nixon on the day the Vice President left for Russia that negotiations in written form were in progress looking toward an exchange of visits, but that there was no prohibition on him to discussing the matter once the subject was opened up.

3. Telling of his plans to go to Europe to confer with the heads of state of Great Britain, France and West Germany, Eisenhower said coordination between the Allied powers has been good.

Awaits Public Opinion Polls Rockefeller to Decide On Candidacy Nov. 1

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Aug. 3 (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will decide by Nov. 1, on the basis of public opinion polls, whether he will seek the 1960 republican presidential nomination.

The governor, who is teetering on the brink of an announcement, has told friends that he would be a candidate only if he had conclusive evidence that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is not likely to win against the Democratic nominee.

Rockefeller takes no stock in polls which point to the election of a Democrat as president.

But he apparently is unwilling to challenge Nixon unless the Vice President unaccountably slips in the polls to a point where they indicate one of several Democratic opponents could defeat him.

Some of his strategists have told the New York governor that his timing is too late. They say the reaction to Nixon's Russian visit will be a rise in the Vice President's poll popularity at the time Rockefeller plans his decision.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan told a morning news conference he did not consider himself a presidential candidate at this time. Local financial problems, which he termed transitory, demand his full attention, the governor said.

Asserting the key issues in the presidential race next year will be leadership in economics and peace, Williams said he had no personal choice at the moment to lead the Democratic ticket.

At the same time, he said he felt Rockefeller would be a more difficult Republican choice to beat than Vice President Richard M. Nixon. But, he added, any liberal Democrat would defeat Rockefeller.

But the governor insists adamantly he will make no decision until fall.

Rockefeller clearly is the star so far of the 51st annual governor's conference, opening today.
