Eisenhower Will Visit 9 Countries Overseas

the general area as Pakistan, Afghanistan and Iran.

Replying to another question, Eisenhower said he expects to do most of his traveling in his big new jet liner.

Asked whether he might go part of the way by ship, he made no direct reply.

A reporter reminded Eisenhower that his doctors advised him last week that whenever possible he should get away to a warm climate because of his chronic bronchitis.

Asked whether he has any plans to seek out such a climate for a few days of rest during his trip abroad, Eisenhower replied with a smile that the climate actually is cool in many of the places he will visit.

He did speak of Karachi and New Delhi as having warm weather.

Eisenhower went on to say that at any point during the 13-day tour he will have to take some sort of break.

Those details, he added, will be worked out later.

Eisenhower also said he hopes to get away sometime this month for a brief vacation in this country.

He said that on the brief vacation he feels he will be able to go any where he likes, and to do one of his favorite recreation spots.

As for Mrs. Eisenhower, the White House said yesterday there are plans for her to accompany the President to Paris for the western summit conference.

Eisenhower said today he believes Mrs. Eisenhower will accompany him on the remaining days of the tour abroad. Such a trip, he said, would be a little longer than Mrs. Eisenhower.

Apparently with his son John and possibly his brother Fred, Eisenhower will be accompanied by several members of the President's staff, an Army major, a White House delivery man.

Firm Forms New Division

A new corporation has been formed in Manchester to supply Turbo Projects, Inc., with the special equipment needed in manufacturing products to meet the problems encountered in outer space research.

The union president and his team returned to Finnegan's office yesterday. It will operate in the same building at 218 Hartford St. as the parent company which is located in Manchester.

Turbo Projects, Manchester's first "space-age" industry, manufactures high quality components used in the field of missiles, rockets and jet engines. Much of the equipment, especially that used in welding special metals, is of unique design.

The new corporation, Francis Layden, president of Turbo Projects, said, will be concerned with engineering, while the parent company will be the fabricator.

Layden explained that the special metals used in missile nose cones must be welded in a perfect vacuum or they become "contaminated." The local firm's engineers have designed a vacuum box with instruments which will create the perfect vacuum.

Layden added that if "contaminated" metals are used in the nose cones, they will burst into flame when reentering the earth's atmosphere.

Special Furnaces In addition, special furnaces are being created here which will produce a 7,000-degree

The Regional 8 Board of Education has finally recognized the RHAM High School Education Assn.

In granting this recognition, the Board in no way relinquishes its legal authority and responsibility for the school. It is the policy of the Board that this action shall in any way interfere with the authority-invested in the administration of the RHAM High School by the Board of Education." The motion was passed unanimously.

Meetings were scheduled for the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, at 8 p.m. in the city court room in the Town Hall. Members will be reminded by postcard of meetings a few days in advance.

Seymour E. Lavitt was elected vice-chairman and Ernest Kins was elected treasurer. Roberts Rules of Order were adopted for general conduct of the meetings.

The next meeting of the Commission will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 10. Chairman John Williams said he will expect progress reports from the three sub-committees at that time. The committee is exploring what can be done to attract industry, what it needs, and how to sell what it has.

Some Newcomers In Players' Cast

The Manchester Community Players will present Samuel Taylor's 3-act comedy of love and laughter, "The Happy Time," Friday and Saturday at the Whittier Auditorium. The play is a glimpse into the home of the delightful French-Canadian Bonardis, whose family loyalty and harmony resolve even their most challenging cases into a happy time.

The cast includes several newcomers to the Community Players: Mrs. Lois Thomas of Bolton; Deana Langton and Kevin Moriarty, both former members of the Recreation Department-sponsored Children's Little Theater; and two active members of Manchester, High School's Sock and Buskin dramatic group, Kevin Reardon and Michael Morrill. Other roles are played by Mrs. Nancy Russell.

Man Has 'Fly Power'

London—If humans just had wings they could fly, according to Dr. D. R. Wilkie of University College. He says his research indicates that the power needed for a man to fly—using his own muscles—is about four tenths of one horsepower. A 175-pound man, Dr. Wilkie learned, can generate that much power for 8 to 10 minutes while rowing, bicycling, or climbing. It's now looking for a suitably engineered flying device that can be used to test his theory.

Directors to Get Costs Of Treatment at Mills

Estimates of what it would cost to install and operate industrial waste treatment units at Lydell and Colonial Brook paper companies will be obtained for the Board of Directors by General Manager Richard Martin.

The value of having such units installed was discussed at the Directors' meeting last night.

The estimates would permit Directors to compare conflicting proposals put forth by the firms and by Martin. The two companies want the town to study the possibility of putting the waste into a municipal sewer system. Martin has recommended the installation of treatment units at the mills.

A study showing that secondary treatment units would cost close to $100,000 to install and between $7,000 and $10,000 a year to maintain at the mills was made by the firms last summer.

This was recalled today by Robert Fuller, general manager of Lydell & Young.

Fuller called again for a definitive engineering study on having the industrial wastes which the mills now eject into Lydell Brook handled by either the Eighth District or town sewer plant.

He said too many conclusions appear to have been drawn on the basis of such a study.

Fuller added that secondary treatment at the mills would be a large non-productive capital investment—units at close to $100,000 with a $7,000 to $10,000 yearly operating cost—that would:

1. Make the firms the only ones in Connecticut to have such an installation.
2. Put the firms in a bad competitive position, because of the expense.
3. Will not guarantee the elimination of the odor of the industrial wastes cause in Lydell Brook, a problem which North Enders complain.

Studying Lydell & Young is continuing to study the possibility of adjusting manufacturing processes to stop "surges" of waste-bearing effluent through the clarifier, but this and other steps amount to "band-aid" in comparison to what is needed to stop the entire odor problem, he said.

"Practical" and economically feasible step, he said, would be piping mill waste water into the Lydell & Young sewer system, bypassing a portion of the brook in which wastes stagnate and cause odor.

Lydell & Young first proposed this step at a meeting of the Manchester Taxpayers' League last week, adding that a definitive study on having the municipal plants take the wastes should be made first.

The company would bear the full $20,000 to $10,000 cost of the step, officials said then.

Fuller added today that the piping project could be completed before next summer, if given the go-ahead.

No Decision Made

No decisions on any of these proposals have yet been taken by the Board of Directors. But in a report to that body, Martin indicated that the step of having the wastes piped below Rogers Pond and into the town sewer system would be a place for wastes to accumulate and decay might cause an increase in wastes further down the brook.

He also said the cost of providing possible treatment units at the municipal sewer plant to handle the firm's wastes—plus a possible trunk sewer line to transport them—would be prohibitive.

He said it would be unreasonable to ask the property owners in the Eighth District or the sanitary sewer users of the Town Sewer Department to pay any part of the cost of additional sewers or sewage treatment units to handle the industrial wastes.

If the town wanted to spend any money, he said, it would be better spent on treatment units at the mill, not in connection with a municipal system.

He added, "If the town were to participate financially in such an operation, it should be prepared to do so likewise for the positive position, because of the expense.

The references to financial aid from the town stem from a statement from Lydell & Young that the town should make it emphatically known that the solution to this problem (odor) does not lie within the province of the Lydell & Young Paper Co. and Colonial Brook Paper Co.

Some Problem Worsening

The firms also pointed out then that the odor problem has become worse as more and more water is drained off the Lydell Brook by the Lydell & Young Paper Co. and Colonial Brook Paper Co. owner cannot divert water from a stream to the harm of a downstream riparian owner.

The two paper companies are using the same principal ownership as the Manchester Water Co. A spokesman for the latter said today that the water company has the presumptive rights to use all water off its watershed for the purpose of serving its utility district. Downstream property owners waived any riparian rights to the water in deeds signed over to the water company in 1889, the spokesman said.

Main St. Paved, Crews Move to Charter Oak St.

Paving crews finished paving Manchester's Main St. this morning after less than 30 hours work beginning Monday.

Workers did not stop there, but kept on going on Charter Oak St. Plans call for surfacing Charter Oak as far as Spruce St.

Beyond that, paving will continue on Oak St. from Spruce to Autumn St. and on Autumn St. from Oak to School St.

As the paving work was completed on Main St., Police Chief James M. Reardon, town traffic authority, noted that parking was restricted on successive sections of Main St. a time during operations.

Main St. has been given a surface coat of a finely screened asphalt mixture from Russell St. to South Terminal.

Things stalls will be painted on the new surface after the paving has been allowed sufficient curing time, Chief Reardon said. The painting will also depend on the weather.

The number of new stalls will be 19 less than before paving. There were 12 illegal stalls on the street, according to a report submitted by the town parking authority.

Parallel parking on the west side of Main St. will probably not be instituted until more off-street parking can be gained. The parking authority hopes to acquire additional off-street parking lots in the near future.

The current paving operations are being supervised by Frank Kapla Inc. of Hartford.

50-50 Club 10 Years Old

The 50-50 club of St. Mary's Episcopal Church will observe its tenth anniversary Friday with a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. in the church basement.

The guest speaker, the Rev. John J. Squire, suffragan bishop of Connecticut, will discuss "The Marriage of Prayer and Prayer."

The dinner will follow Evening Prayer to be read by Elmer L. Oles, a licensed lay leader, and president of 50-50 Club, at 8:45 p.m. in the Memorial Chapel of the Nativity.

Many former 50-50 Club members will return as guests of honor for the birthday event. Colored slides of 50-50 meetings, shows and social events will be shown in the upper parish hall by Russell Clifford. An informal reception in the Guild Room will conclude the program.

Officers in charge of the program are Mr. and Mrs. O. S. L. president, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Tammant, vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dieterle, secretaries, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rolleston, treasurers.

Comprising the food committee are Mrs. Betty P. Carmody of East Hartford. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at about $100 by police.

Have Diapers—Will Travel

Hartford, Nov. 4 (AP)—When 2½-year-old Sally Ann Kovnich took an unattended hike, she went prepared.

When she turned up at a Hartford grocery, she was carrying a satchel, containing four diapers and a pair of rubber pants. A policeman couldn't get Sally Ann to tell him where she lived.

Police suspected her hike was unattended because Sally Ann's diapers were put on the wrong feet, apparently by Sally Ann.

Juvenile Division officers started a house-to-house search for Sally Ann's parents. Two hours later the little girl's baby sister appeared.

She told police that Sally Ann had climbed up on a chair, unscrewed a door, and stolen away from her home at 85 Hampton St.

Democrats Now Rule Most Appointed Units

The Democratic party today has for the first time in Manchester history, majorities on more appointive town boards than Republicans.

The Board of Directors is a 14-member board. Democrats have 12 on the board, and Republicans have two.

The Board of Tax Review, added to the Town Development Commission and Board of Tax Review, a roster which had already included the Advisory Park and Recreation Commission and the Building Committee under Democratic control.

The Democrats left the Republican party with majorities on only the Town Planning Commission, Zoning Board of Appeals, and Housing Authority among the town boards which are appointed by the Directors.

Of the 14 appointments last night, nine went to Democrats and five to Republicans.

The Board of Directors fell to Democrats in the first round of the 1958 election. Since then, the party has been filling up expiring terms and vacancies on appointive boards in an effort to create Democratic majorities and also to keep in service some outstanding Republican.

Outstanding Republicans reappointed last night were Ernest Harvatta to the Town Planning Commission; Mrs. Catherine Prutman to the Library Board; and Mrs. Dorothy Jacobson to the Regional Planning Authority.

However, Henry Rockwell, Republican and vice chairman of the Town Development Commission, was dropped and William F. Lang, 50 Plymouth Lane, a Democrat, was appointed in his place. Possible reappointment of Rockwell had been mentioned in the past but his name was not even placed in nomination last night by the Republican Directors.

In most cases the three GOP minority Directors nominated and voted for the Republicans whose terms were expiring although the six Democratic Directors voted them down.

Democratic named last night besides Lang were John Dörner, 258 Porter St., appointed to the Advisory Park and Recreation Commission to succeed Republican Thomas Kelley, who resigned last week; Raymond T. Quinn, reappointed to the Advisory Board of Health (R. 2 D. 1); Building Committee (R. 2 D. 1); and the following boards are even in representation:

Library Board (R. 3 D. 3); Advisory Board of Health (2 R. 2 D. 1); Capital Region Planning Authority (1 R. 1 D. 1).

Before the 1958 election, Republicans had dominated most appointive boards for years.

In addition to any vacancies, the next rash of appointments becomes due in November 1960, after the next town election. The party in power then will have to face a state law due to take effect before then limiting representation by one party on town boards to 2 out of 3 on a 3-member group; 3 out of 4 on a 4-member group; and similarly, 4 out of 5 out of 6; 5 out of 7; 5 out of 8; 6 out of 9; and no more than two-thirds membership on any body over 9.

A driver's foot slipped off the brake pedal yesterday and his car was hit as it rolled into Main St., police reported.

Driver John J. Roy, 27 of South Windsor, had stopped in a driveway near Army St. to allow Main St. traffic to pass when his foot slipped and the accident occurred.

No injury was reported and no arrest was made.

Roy's car was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Betty P. Carmody of East Hartford. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at about $100 by police.

Judge Hints Jail Terms For Gamblers

Hartford, Nov. 4 (AP)—A Superior Court jury swiftly convicted two Hartford men on charges of pooling yesterday, and the judge hinted that he would impose jail sentences.

The decision and the suggestion touched off four quick pleas of guilty or no contest from other men charged in a county-wide gambling raid Sept. 11.

Twenty persons were arrested in the raid, charged by State and local police. About 20 cases remain to be disposed of, some were scheduled to come up today.

The jury deliberated one hour and then convicted Robert Blain, 35, and James E. Larkin, 36, on charges of pooling. Judge Charles H. Hines sentenced Blain to 30 days in jail and Larkin to 60 days. They may be sentenced to 90 days and 180 days respectively.

They face maximum terms of two years.

Then, during the last hour of court, four accused gamblers entered pleas of guilty or no contest. Charles A. Tolano, 45, of Hartford, pleaded no contest and was sentenced to 30 days in jail on a charge of pooling. Sentencing was delayed one week.

Peter Morris, 30, of South Windsor, pleaded guilty to a similar charge, was convicted, and also given a week to straighten out his affairs.

The other men pleaded guilty to charges of betting on a horse race. John Mangano, 34, of Hartford, was fined $50, the maximum, and William Butler, 40, also of Hartford, was fined $25.

Lynch Case May Dwindle

Poplarville, Miss., Nov. 4 (AP)—The April lynching of Mack Charles Parker apparently will go uninvolved in the current Pearl River County grand jury investigation.

Speculation and street corner talk in this small southeastern Mississippi farming community indicates the grand jury did not consider the lynching, did not read the FBI 278-page report of its investigation and will not return any indictments in the grand jury report to circuit court.

Federal action still could be taken in the lynching of the 28-year-old Negro truckdriver as a result of the month-long FBI investigation. But no indication of federal intervention in the case has been observed.

The 18-member grand jury recessed yesterday afternoon after one and one-half days of investigation of crime and conditions in the county. No FBI agents were subpoenaed.

Because Mississippi law requires every juror to be able to read and write, it is almost certain the 18 jurors has knowledge of the lynching through news accounts. The law also requires the grand jury to investigate all matters coming to the knowledge of the members.

In such a close knit area as Poplarville and Pearl River County, it is virtually certain that every member of the grand jury knew the story of the band of hooded men who stormed the county jail, lynched Parker and dumped his body into the Pearl River.

The lynching took place two days before Parker was scheduled to stand trial on charges of raping a 24-year-old pregnant white woman.

Anti-U.S. Riots In Canal Zone Leave 82 Hurt

Army cadets plan to march in a Panamanian flag day parade in the capital today.

The target of yesterday's outbreaks—touched off by Panamanian Nationalists—was the unusual hold the United States has over the Canal Zone. The United States has granted control of the zone in part to Panama after it helped the Panamanians win their independence from Colombia. In recent years Panamanian Nationalists have been demanding that their government establish its sovereignty over the zone.

While there was no evidence of government participation in the demonstrations yesterday the government frequently has complained that Panamanian employees of the Canal Zone are not treated as well as U.S. employees and also that Panama should be paid more for the canal.

U. S. Ambassador Julian Harbo filed a strong protest against the desecration of the American flag and the damage to U.S. property. There was no immediate comment from the Panamanian government.

The demonstrations in Panama City began with a peaceful "show of the flag" in the Canal Zone led by two Nationalist leaders, Fernando Castillero Pimentel and former Foreign Minister Aquilino Boyd. They made a quiet motor tour of the zone, carrying small flags and posing for photographers.

Later a group of youths carrying a large Panamanian flag tried to enter the Canal Zone. They were stopped by police and another youth, a large group of rock-throwing demonstrators pushed the police detail.

The police and some finally drove the crowd of about 200 back with tear gas and fire hoses. Meanwhile, other youths were being taken to the hospital.

Another crowd hurried toward the information service offices seven blocks away. Large numbers of stone-throwing youths were smashed in downtown Panama City.

The attempt on the Canal Zone boundary continued until late afternoon with the mob throwing rocks and making roared noises. At the lines of police, firemen, and members of the National Guard, Panama's army.

When there was no hint in the border incidents five truckloads of troops in battle gear moved into positions at various intersections. The soldiers rounded up demonstrators who had infiltrated into the Canal Zone and drove them out at bayonet point. U.S. officials said the incidents hurt at least six automobiles in the zone.

Tic Tac Dough Put On TV Rigged List

It is not certain he (O'Rourke) was honest, Doreen said. "I am positive of it... just can't believe he would be dishonest."

A television quiz show sponsor disputed today any suggestion that his company had a hand in rigging the program.

Denial of complicity in TV quiz fixing was registered with congressional investigators by Martin Ravson, an official of the Revlon Co. during the period when Revlon was advertising sponsor of the now defunct show.

Olivar Levels Blast At Football Officials

New Haven, Nov. 4 (AP)—Coach Jordan Olivar is angry about the officiating in the Dartmouth-Yale Ivy League football game last Saturday. Olivar did not mention any names yesterday, but he claimed that two "irresponsible decisions" by the officials were costly to the Yale.

Dartmouth won 13-8, defeating Yale in a perfect record on an 11-5 game.

"It's not our grapes," said Olivar, who usually keeps his hurt feelings to himself, but he vented to sportswriters at a luncheon.

The officiating mistakes of course were terrible.

"These are the same mistakes which I have seen in other games," Olivar said. "I'm not a sportsman, but I'm a coach. I know what I know."

Midway in the second period, Olivar's perfect record on an 11-5 game was broken when he was hit on the head by a Yale player. Olivar was hit on the head by a Yale player who was running with the ball. Olivar was hit on the head by a Yale player who was running with the ball.

California Basts Deliberate Injury

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP)—The University of California is studying its charges of deliberate roughness by USC All-American candidate Mike McKeever.

University President Clark Kerr and Chancellor Glen Seaborg, in a formal statement last night, charged the 212-pound lineman with purposely injuring Cal half-back Steve Bates in Saturday's game here.

They said they had viewed films of the game carefully with USC officials and took appropriate action.

After returning to Los Angeles, they said, they formed a committee and then issued a formal apology.

"This is a serious incident in the game, we feel we have been avoided to the extent we are responsible, we sincerely wish to apologize to the player who was injured and to the fans who were watching the game. We will insist that our team play good, clean football. The coaches are instructed to see that this policy is followed."

USC Coach Don Clark and McKeever deliberately struck and tackled Bates with his elbow in the fourth quarter of the game. Bates suffered a broken cheekbone and a broken nose. He had to be taken to a hospital.

Cannon's TD Romp Earns Week Honor

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—For his dazzling, 89-yard touchdown run in the final 10 minutes that brought Louisiana State a 10-7 victory over Mississippi, All-American Billy Cannon today was chosen the Associated Press' "Back of the Week."

The 21-year-old senior from Baton Rouge had won fame for many other exciting exploits on the gridiron but for sheer drama last Saturday night's feat has to rate tops in his glorious career.

It came in the game of the year, Michigan State vs. LSU. Cannon scored a 89-yard touchdown run in the final 10 minutes that brought Louisiana State a 10-7 victory over Mississippi.

Celtics Off Fast In Young Season, Trounce St. Louis

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—The Boston Celtics, who have been the national champions, are off to another hot start in the young NBA season with a 14-1 record.

Boston, which began the 1957-58 season with 14 straight victories, remained unbeaten in five games after defeating the Hawks last night at St. Louis, 105-88.

49ers Rise with Red Hickey, Coach Injects Life into Club

New York—(NEA)—A couple of days ago the notion was prevalent that Frankie Albert coached the San Francisco 49ers and Howard (Red) Hickey was his offensive coach.

BOWLING WITH BILLY by Billy Welu

Breaking well, the book ball is beautiful in a way that is devastating when it hits the pins.

"After you have mastered some of the basic fundamentals of the delivery, you'll find it as possible as developing a 'hook' wouldn't be as effective as it is on occasion if it isn't been for an accident to the right hand. It forced me to perfect a grip all my own. I have the middle finger of my bowling ball drilled for finger while the ring finger is drilled with a groove. The hole are drilled very close to each other with almost no bridge. The middle finger overlaps the ring finger so that those two fingers are virtually employed as one big finger. This allows me to obtain a minimum of exertion.

A hook is a turning ball, faster and with more revolutions than any other delivery. It definitely is a working ball. It is a ball that is in a position at that would be approximately 10 o'clock on a clock dial. The base of the V formed by the thumb and index finger points directly toward the pins.

The thumb, of course, is released first. The remaining fingers and the ring finger give the lifting action. The ball spins on a split, it toward what we hope is the 1-3 pocket.

Most hook ball bowlers stand from eight to 12 inches in front of the right side of the approach.
