

Rocky Shuns 2nd Spot Nixon Weighs Kennedy Test

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) may run a presidential handicap race in New Hampshire.

Associates said today Nixon is putting off for the time being any decision to permit his name to go on that state's March 3 preferential primary ballot. He has until early February to make any such decision.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's withdrawal from contention seems to have left Nixon with prospective primary opponents and with a clear field for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

But some of the Vice President's advisers are studying possibility of entering his name in New Hampshire to give grass root Republicans an opportunity to endorse in advance what appears to be his inevitable choice as their nominee.

If such a move is made, it could be calculated to offset Democratic contention that GOP "bosses" turned Rockefeller down in favor of Nixon without consulting the wishes of the party's rank and file.

Nixon has a whopping write-in vote in New Hampshire in 1956 when unsuccessful efforts were being made to turn him into second place on the ticket headed by President Eisenhower.

With the state's GOP organization solidly behind him, Nixon could be expected to roll up an impressive total, even though he had no opponent to give voter interest that part of balloting, in which convention delegates are chosen.

Kennedy reported on the verge of plunging publicly into the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination, could find himself in the same position on his party's ballot.

Kennedy intends to get into every possible primary. Thus far his only prospective opponent in New Hampshire seems to be Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.). Humphrey's friends would much prefer to take on Kennedy in the April 5 primary in Wisconsin.

Associates said today Rockefeller's withdrawal from contention seems to have left Nixon with prospective primary opponents and with a clear field for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Steel Charges USW Demands Bar Settlement

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—The steel industry said today that union demands for an inflationary settlement have been the block to a Steel-Labor peace pact.

F. Conrad Cooper, speaking for the industry, told President Eisenhower's inquiry board that he would like to see the industry and the union settle on a basis that would eliminate the economic uncertainties arising from a continuation of the dispute and the possibility of resumption of the nationwide strike at the end of the inflationary period, which would impose even more burdensome terms of settlement.

Cooper, executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp. and chief industry negotiator, said that the union now, in the face of an urgent need for settlement that would eliminate the economic uncertainties arising from a continuation of the dispute and the possibility of resumption of the nationwide strike at the end of the inflationary period, which would impose even more burdensome terms of settlement.

"This is the very analysis of the union responsibility and proves beyond question that it is the union's policies and bargaining practices that have been solely responsible for the continuing deadlock."

The management case was laid before a 3-man board headed by University of Pennsylvania Prof. George W. Taylor. The panel is gathering data on the steel labor dispute for a report to be submitted to Eisenhower Jan. 6.

The other side of the coin was up at yesterday's opening session of the hearing, with the union blaming the industry for the state of affairs.

As the hearing proceeded, there were reports that Vice President Richard M. Nixon had been engaged in behind-the-scenes efforts to promote a settlement.

It was learned that Nixon called on the union president David J. McDonald to a private conference at the White House.

U.S. Continues A-Test Ban On Indefinite Daily Basis

Augusta, Ga., Dec. 29 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration proposed to Russia today that the four powers open a summit conference in Paris May 16.

The next move is up to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. The United States press secretary James C. Hagerty said there has been no indication yet whether the new date is acceptable to the Russian leader.

Word of the Allied decision on summit timing was an ill-kept secret in numerous world capitals.

The war-era powers agreed on May 14 a day or two ago but they withheld an actual announcement until they could notify Khrushchev in Moscow.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and President Charles de Gaulle of France.

If Khrushchev agrees to their proposal, the summit probably will get together in Paris a day in advance of the opening of their conference.

The Big Three originally had suggested a convoluted summit conference on April 27. Since the meeting would have coincided with Russia's June 24 Day celebration on May 1, Khrushchev said he was unable to accept the date.

An April 21 meeting was unacceptable to Eisenhower.

President said he was willing to discuss the date with the United States and Canada about that.

Darkest Horse In GOP Ranks On Nixon Slate

Hartford, Dec. 29 (AP)—The darkest horse in Republican national politics is Marvin Chatterbox, self-designated candidate for vice president.

The Chatterbox candidacy came to light in Hartford yesterday when Secretary of State Earl Warren got a letter, written in pencil from North Attleboro, Mass.

Signed by Marvin Chatterbox, it announced that Marvin Chatterbox was a candidate for vice president and that the President should name him as his running mate.

Chatterbox asked Mrs. George W. Taylor to send him the necessary papers to become a candidate for himself and Nixon.

In case the Republicans prove hard to deal with, he asked for an extra set of forms to be sent to him.

Mrs. Taylor wrote back for more information.

West Asks Big 4 Talks For May 16

Augusta, Ga., Dec. 29 (AP)—The United States, Great Britain and France formally proposed to Russia today that the four powers open a summit conference in Paris May 16.

The next move is up to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. The United States press secretary James C. Hagerty said there has been no indication yet whether the new date is acceptable to the Russian leader.

Will Start On Notice To World

By DOUGLAS B. CORWELL
Augusta, Ga., Dec. 29 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration decided today to continue a ban on nuclear weapons tests on an indefinite daily basis, leaving the United States free to resume them at any time.

But President Eisenhower said in a formal statement that there will be no resumption without prior notice to the world.

His press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said he knows of no date for starting up tests. There have been none for 14 days.

The moratorium approach, with a fixed deadline, is being dropped in favor of what Eisenhower called a period of voluntary suspension of tests.

The decision was reached at a top-level conference of 35 administration officials, headed by the Chief Executive.

During the voluntary suspension period, Eisenhower said, the United States will "continue its active program of weapon research, development and laboratory-type experimentation."

"Although we consider ourselves free to resume nuclear weapons testing, we shall not resume nuclear weapons tests without announcing our intention in advance of any resumption," Eisenhower said.

At the moment the United States is operating under a moratorium on tests which lasts until midnight Thursday.

The White House said the moratorium was a definite commitment to the world, but it is distinct from the new "voluntary suspension."

Ante Pavelic Dies; Top War Criminal

Madrid, Dec. 29 (AP)—Dr. Ante Pavelic, quelling political and military during World War II and one of the leading war criminals at the Nuremberg trials, died yesterday in a German hospital here. He was 70.

The death was reported by Madrid newspapers and confirmed by the Municipal Funeral Service, which said it had taken the body to the morgue of San Pedro Cemetery. It declined to say what funeral services would be held.

The hospital refused to give information about the death or its cause but referred calls to Dr. Rudolf Sotnik, who attended Pavelic. The doctor's office said he was away on vacation.

Pavelic was wanted by President Tito's Yugoslav government for his role in the killing of 700,000 Serbs and Jews during his 15 1/2 years in power.

He fled Yugoslavia in May 1945 and hid in Argentina.

He was wounded in an assassination attempt in April 1957 which he blamed on agents of Tito.

A short time later, Argentina agreed to consider a Yugoslav extradition request and Pavelic fled again.

Earlier this month, he was reported working with Paraguayan secret police in interrogating captured Paraguayan invaders. But he denied the charges.

Three Inmates Suspect in 2 Fires at Prison

Hartford, Dec. 29 (AP)—Warden Mark B. Richmond has suspended all privileges for three inmates at the State Prison after two fires occurred within the walls in single days.

The first blaze was discovered in the laundry building about 1:30 p.m. It damaged laundry supplies and equipment. One prisoner who helped firefighters was overpowered by smoke.

White men were cleaning up from the fire, the second one was discovered at 8:15 p.m. in a locked area of the upholstery shop.

Richmond said the second blaze had to have been arson.

The three men under suspicion had to have been arson.

One of the suspects entered the locked area half an hour before the fire, the warden said.

Major Carroll Shaw, the state fire marshal, said the furniture shop fire apparently was touched off by a cigarette contrived delay action device.

A pile of plastic braid used in the upholstery shop had been soaked with lacquer thinner. This was touched off, he said, by a fuse and a box of matches.

Because the fire was put out by the inmates fire crew and members of the Waterbury Volunteer Fire Department in a few minutes, the damage was slight. It could have been much worse, Richmond said.

Nearly were drums of lacquer thinner and shellac, bedding, kindling and about 40 rolls of up cloth.

About 80 men were at work in the shop when the fire broke out.

Richard E. Harmon, 23, Bridgeport, who is doing life to 10 years for robbery with violence, was arrested on charges of arson.

The prison hospital later received his condition satisfactory.

Snow-Sleet-Rain Storm Pelts All of New England States

Along the Atlantic seaboard, heavy snow, sleet and rain pelted New England and New York today while wind-whipped snow hurled up ideas that flooded many coastal communities.

Hundreds of families were stranded from waterfront homes in New England and others were marooned in isolated areas of Greater Boston and Coast Guard and police removed occupants from homes put to use in the streets of some towns.

The storm pelting New England and New York today was reported in several towns.

In Marblehead, Mass., a recently remodeled apartment house began collapsing shortly after two families were evacuated.

Air travel was disrupted and highway traffic also was affected.

At least six deaths in New England, and three in New York state were attributed to the storm.

The storm was expected to continue to tonight and then taper off.

Nineteen deaths due to rough weather were reported in the nation. Included were New York 3, Massachusetts 1, Maine 4, Vermont 1, Kansas 2, Wisconsin 2, Iowa 2, Oregon 4.

Above normal tides were reported along sections of Connecticut's Long Island Sound shorefront in the wake of a heavy rain and sleet storm.

At Greenwich, the tide rose to about 14 feet which was three feet above normal.

At New Rochelle, the tide was about an inch short of flooding, some streets and back yards in the city were flooded.

Hundreds of residents of Nahant and Hough Neck were marooned.

A highway rescue equipment was used to get about 100 people to safety.

2 Killings Spur Bay State Hunt For Crime Unit

Boston, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Massachusetts attorney general today set out to hunt for a crime syndicate active in the state.

Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr. said all law enforcement agencies, including the FBI, will help in the hunt.

His announcement came last night after a meeting in the office of state and local police and district attorneys in Worcester, Worcester and Middlesex Counties.

He called the meeting to discuss two gangland style killings which took place in the past several weeks.

Gaetano De Nicola, 60, Hartford, Conn., was found dead in his car in Framingham last week. There were two bullet holes in his head.

Last month, Joseph De Marzio, 42, Boston, was shot to death and his body found at the edge of the Everett dump.

Both men had records and police said they might have some crime connections.

Neither slaying has been solved. Nor has it been determined where they were killed.

McCormack said investigators have learned De Nicola's car had been seen in Connecticut a few hours before the corpse was discovered.

The attorney general said the conference sought to determine if the De Nicola and De Marzio crimes are connected with organized crime. If there is a crime syndicate, we will take steps to stamp it out, he declared.

So Says Sociologist Rulers, Bosses Smarter Generally—but Read on

By ALTON BLAKESLEE (AP Science Writer)
Chicago, Dec. 29 (AP)—Rulers and bosses are generally smarter—but more mentally damaged—than other people, a sociologist said today.

And the moral behavior of ruling groups tends to be more criminal and sub-normal than that of the ruled.

The sociologist, Walter Lunden of Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa.

Ruling groups contain a larger proportion of the extreme mental types of the general population, he said.

The mentally aberrant personality is endowed with acute intelligence, moral gifts and the mentally sick type of the ruled population, he said.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The greater the power of the ruler, political leader and big executives, the more corrupt and criminal they tend to be, Prof. Lunden said.

But as their power becomes limited, "Criminality of rulers and executives tends to decrease."

Very gradually the West is calling and hoping for new rulers who combine a high moral sense with sound scientific knowledge.

If such leaders don't arise, "society is due for a very stormy period in the years ahead."

Cash Bonus Urged For Birth Control

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—A Yale University professor of economic proposal today that underdeveloped countries pay cash bonuses for married couples who practice birth control.

Prof. Lunden said these viewpoints are borne out by all the evidence concerning ruling groups in Europe, Asia, North and South America.

But he holds out hope for change.

Now, he said, we are passing through the end of a 60-year period of culture in which advances in technology has produced power, violence and crime in high place.

"Very gradually the West is calling and hoping for new rulers who combine a high moral sense with sound scientific knowledge."

If such leaders don't arise, "society is due for a very stormy period in the years ahead."

Dorticos Bids For U.S. Trade

Havana, Dec. 29 (AP)—President Orvaldo Dorticos called again today for better relations between the United States and Cuba to be worked out on the basis of a new trade agreement.

Dorticos said on a TV panel the present poor relations between two nations did not mean they could not be improved.

Dorticos emphasized the Castro regime's stand that Cuban sugar exports to the United States should be regulated by mutual agreement. He labeled the present system of import quotas decided by the U.S. Congress "an intolerable instrument of undue pressure."

The head of Cuba's National Federation of Sugar Workers has warned that the United States should demand that Cuba's sugar quota be limited, their criminality may become equal to or fall below that of the ruled population.

"Not all leaders tend to show higher rates of criminality, but a great majority do," he continued.

U.S. Faces Deficit Woes In International Finance

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson said today the United States faces a worrisome deficit in its international financial dealings next year, despite a slight recovery in the third quarter of recent improvement.

In a major policy speech, he predicted a deficit in the American Finance Act and the American Economics Act.

"We should not interpret short-term increases in our balance of payments position as necessarily indicating that our problems have ended."

The Treasury chief said continuing action is needed to help pay the payments deficit and guard against a weakening of the dollar.

The problem is that more dollars are flowing out of this country through purchases and investments abroad, foreign aid, tourist spending, and other means than are flowing back. The difference is called the balance of payments position. Foreign holders of dollar credits can ask for gold and the deficit balance has brought a reduction in U.S. gold reserves.

Current Post Has Item on Patient Care

Manchester Memorial Hospital's system of progressive patient care is the subject of an article in this week's edition of the Saturday Evening Post, and a Bolton woman's case history is used as an example of the care.

Written by Miss Alice Laka, the article is entitled, "The Patient Gets a Break."

The patient whose case is cited as an example of the type of care received under the new plan is Mrs. Edward Mack, South Rd., Bolton. Mrs. Mack was hospitalized at MMH several days before surgery and spent the time in the self-care unit for ambulatory patients.

Following her operation she was moved to the intensive care unit until she was well enough to be moved to the regular or intermediate care unit.

Her last three days in the hospital she spent back in the self-care unit.

The article tells of MMH's role in pioneering the revolutionary plan, which is based on the patient's degree of illness rather than his financial status.

Three other hospitals, all of them in St. Paul, Minn., are also mentioned in the article. St. John's, St. Luke's and Charles T. Miller Hospitals all have adapted progressive patient care to their own needs.

State Starts Dental Study Of Bedridden

A survey to determine the dental needs of chronically ill home-bound persons in Hartford County will be undertaken by the Connecticut State Department of Health during the next two years.

Dr. Franklin M. Fook, commissioner of health, announced today that $25,000 for the project was allocated to the department by a grant from the National Institutes of Health, Public Health Service.

The survey, which is expected to begin on Jan. 2, will be under the direction of Franklin M. Eriksen, D.D.M., chief, Dental Hygiene Section and Henry Hensberg, M.D., M.P.H., public health instructor of the state department of health.

According to Dr. Fook, this survey is being undertaken to get all facts necessary for planning for needed dental services for chronically ill patients who are unable to visit a dentist's office. The survey will aim to find answers to many human problems involved in bringing dental services to this group.

Bloodmobile Unit Visits Thursday

If you are trying to think up resolutions for the New Year, why not start with resolving to become a blood donor?

And you can start a day early. The bloodmobile will visit the Congregational Church Thursday from 12:45 to 3:45 p.m.

Red Cross Blood program officials say they have very few people who have made an appointment to give a pint of blood Thursday. Members of the telephone committee have worked extra hard to line up donors, knowing that this visit is coming at an inconvenient time for many people right at the holiday season. But blood needs know no holiday.

Call the Red Cross for an appointment, or just show up Thursday and become a walk-in donor.
