Rocky Says Nixon's Hopes 'Pretty Good'

Washington, June 8 (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller breakfasted with President Eisenhower and talked some politics with him today, but gave no indication he had changed his mind on any political issues.

Talking with reporters at the White House, the New York governor said the chances are "pretty good" that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will get the Republican presidential nomination.

2. Reaffirmed his own willingness to accept a draft for the top place on the ticket, but again rejected with emphasis proposals that he accept the vice presidential nomination on a Nixon ticket.

Rockefeller said he and Eisenhower discussed "politics, interna-

Naugatuck, June 8 (AP)—A one-day strike of 120 maintenance workers at the Naugatuck Chemical Co. ended today when they returned to their jobs.

The strike started late Monday, and none of the workers showed up yesterday.

With the resumption of operations, negotiators for management and Local 218, United Rubber Workers, went into an executive session.

Management said the walkout erupted over the suspension of an employee for failure to follow instructions. The employee has been reinstated.

$10,000 Fine

New Haven, June 8 (AP)—James O. McCue Jr., former president of the Stamford Rolling Mills Co., today was fined $10,000 and sentenced to four months in prison for making false statements about his income tax liability.

McCue also was directed to pay the cost of prosecution—$5,314.50.

McCue was convicted in U.S. District Court May 7 on two counts of making false statements. Defense Counsel George Lowman indicated the case would be appealed.

Judge Robert P. Anderson fined McCue $5,000 and sentenced him to one year on each count. The sentences were to run concurrently and be suspended after four months.

Anderson also put McCue on probation for a year after he leaves prison.

The judge commented that he intended the sentence as a public example on the seriousness of income tax violations.

McCue, who lives in Stamford, was charged with making false sworn statements to an internal revenue agent about his personal and corporate income tax liability for the years 1947 through 1961.

The statements concerned travel expenses, fuel oil bills and water drilling expenses.

McCue was continued on $1,000 bond pending appeal.

Aetna to Expand

Hartford, June 8 (AP)—The Aetna Life Insurance Co. has reached an agreement to acquire a controlling interest in the Excelsior Life Insurance Co. of Toronto, Canada.

Announcement of the transaction was made jointly by Henry S. Beers, president of Aetna Life, and A. Bruce Matthews, president of Excelsior Life.

Moving toward greater development of business in Canada, Aetna Life intends to purchase immediately 55 per cent and is negotiating to purchase the remaining 45 per cent of the outstanding stock of the Canadian company. The total outlay will be approximately $54 million.

The move affiliates one of Canada's large life insurance companies with one of the largest insurance organizations in the United States.

Beers stated that there will be no changes in the personnel, man-

Nixon Tops Brown In California Test

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Primary results from coast to coast offered evidence today of the popularity of Vice President Richard M. Nixon in California and the weakening of Tammany Hall in New York.

Nixon polled more votes on the Republican ballot in yesterday's California primary than Gov. Edmund G. Brown did on the Democratic ticket. A pension promoter out deeply into Brown's total.

Tammany leader Carmine DeSapio suffered a major setback when reform Democrats captured some of his followers in New York City.

The California and New York primaries came during a busy day of voting. Montana, Idaho, South Dakota, and Mississippi also had primaries yesterday.

In California, Brown running as a favorite son candidate, won control of the state's 51-vote delegation to the Democratic national convention. But pension promoter George H. McLain received 30 per cent of the Democratic total.

The combined vote of Brown and McLain was greater than the total piled up by Nixon. But the Democratic margin was not as great as the party's 3 to 2 majority in the state.

With 17,678 of the state's 28,783 precincts reporting, Nixon had 688,073 Republican votes. Brown had 627,584 Democratic votes and McLain 291,180.

McLain described his showing as a protest against Brown by "the little people." The Governor, however, said he was well satisfied with the results.

Republican leaders hailed Nixon's total, which added 70 votes to his cause at the Republican national convention in July. The leaders said the results indicated a Nixon landslide in California in November.

The governor's victory for his state of party regulars intensified interest in how the big California bloc will be split — as appears inevitable — at the Los Angeles convention.

Nixon's pulling power among the state's Republicans seemed to indicate little success for a last-minute plea by supporters of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller that GOP voters give the vice president the silent treatment by not voting.

William Brinton, San Francisco attorney and chairman of the "Citizens for Rockefeller Committee," said he made a check of San Francisco precincts and concluded the silent vote for Rockefeller was the largest since 1952.

Squeeze Move May Cut Field For Democrats

Washington, June 8 (AP)—A pincer movement aimed at squeezing Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) and Adlai E. Stevenson out of the Democratic presidential nomination race was under way today.

Supporters of Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) worked independently to chop what support they could away from their two rivals.

Johnson's strategists said some Symington delegates had made overtures to them. Kennedy's camp claimed some success in wooing Stevenson backers, including endorsement of Kennedy by three men who have been close advisers of Stevenson in his 1952 and 1956 presidential campaigns.

Outside of Symington's supporters, there was a general consensus that Kennedy and Johnson, the Senate's Democratic leader, have come close to making it a 2-man affair with the odds pointing to one.

School Marriage Ban

Cupid Flunks Test In Michigan Court

Lansing, Mich., June 8 (AP)—June—traditional month for romance and marriage—is busting out all over. Meanwhile, cupid has flunked a test in the Michigan Supreme Court.

The court, in a 4-4 split yesterday, refused to upset a ruling of the school board at Mesick, Mich., that bans married high school students from extra-curricular activities.

The ban is two years old and the two students against whom it was directed have since graduated.

Mesick, a rural community of 359 residents in the northern part of Michigan's Lower Peninsula, was split, just as the high court was yesterday, when the action was approved by the Wexford County Circuit Court.

Married students need all the extra time available to provide a proper family life," the board ruled in passing its 1958 ban.

Husbands Ronald Cochrane and David Shively were barred from playing for the Mesick High School football team. They weren't allowed to play in the school band nor could they escort their wives to a dance or other school affairs.

Cochrane and Shively married their high school sweethearts with parental consent during the 1958 summer vacation. The youths had just turned 18 and planned to play football and basketball during their upcoming senior year.

The ruling forced both to sit on the sidelines.

The board said it issued its ruling to discourage drop-outs from school. The same summer Cochrane and Shively wed, 12 other students married, only three returning to school in the fall.

Student marriages have "a possible bad influence" on other students and place the couples "in a possible position of idolization," the board said.

The board was seeking to preserve high school education in this community," said Justice Thomas Kavanagh in voting to uphold the ban.

Justice Harry Kelly, who dissented, described the board action as "arbitrary and unreasonable."

Bomarc Blaze Sparks Jersey Fallout Scare

McGuire Air Force Base, N.J., June 8 (AP)—A needle-nosed Bomarc missile, battle-ready with an atomic warhead in its concrete launching pen, caught fire yesterday touching off a radiation scare.

The missile was badly damaged and some radiation seeped out of its nuclear tip.

First reports were that there was a threat of heavy radiation in the remote pinelands around the base just to the east of here.

The Air Force later said, however, that the radioactivity—and a slight amount at that—was contained.

Violence Breaks Out At Two Picket Lines

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Violence broke out on picket lines today as a strike against the United Aircraft Corp. spread to seven of the company's plants.

Police said strikers clashed in Windsor Locks when pickets attempted to bar a truck from entering the Hamilton Standard Division plant there.

Strikers reportedly attacked policemen attempting to clear a path for the truck. Police used their clubs to quell the disturbance.

At North Haven earlier today, strikers smashed two windshields on autos of non-strikers, and three policemen were injured slightly when they were struck by a non-union worker's auto.

Some 30,000 production workers, members of two unions, were affected by the strike. The company employs about 57,000 in the state, including three other company plants not affected by the strike.

The walkouts began yesterday at the Sikorsky Helicopter Division plants in Stratford and Bridgeport. They spread today to Pratt and Whitney Plant in North Haven, East Hartford and Manchester and Hamilton Standard plants in Windsor Locks, and Broad Brook.

Some pickets were arrested on breach of peace charges in Stratford and North Haven.

Workers are represented by the United Auto Workers (UAW), union at the Sikorsky plants and at the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Division plant in North Haven. The International Association of Machinists (IAM), represents workers at Pratt and Whitney in East Hartford and Manchester and at Hamilton Standard in Windsor Locks and Broad Brook.

The Pratt and Whitney plants make aircraft engines for some of the nation's first line military planes, including the B52, the KC135 tanker and several Sentry aircraft such as the F100 and the F101. They also make jet engines for the Boeing 707.

The Hamilton Standard plants make fuel control equipment for jet engines, pressure control equipment and jet engine starters.

The strikes were scheduled to begin June 13, but were set off earlier by wildcat walkouts in Stratford and Bridgeport, even before unconnected with the contract dispute.

These walkouts were then sanctioned by the UAW.

Union officials said that the earlier strikes at the other plants were called to honor a so-called unity clause in the union contract.

Heavy picket lines were set up at the struck plants.

In some places the pickets jeered non-union workers who crossed their lines to get to their jobs. Automobiles driven by the non-strikers had to inch their way through company gates.

It was one of these cars that struck three policemen in North Haven, knocking one of them down and injuring all three slightly. The driver was charged with reckless driving and failing to heed an officer's signal.

State Police Commissioner Leo J. Mulcahy ordered three troopers to assist North Haven police at the North Haven plant. The request for help came from the local police chief.

Wages are not the primary issue in the contract dispute, union officials said.

They said the chief demands include full arbitration of disputes, stronger job security, the right to investigate grievances on company grounds during working hours, a union shop, and automatic pay raises instead of merit increases.

5c Hour Pay Increase Urged for Rail Workers

Washington, June 8 (AP)—A presidential emergency board today recommended a 5-cent hourly wage increase for 650,000 railroad workers who have threatened strikes against almost every American railroad.

The wage rise should take effect July 1, the board advised President Eisenhower. It recommended also that the parties negotiate a "number of improvements" in the railroad industry's health and welfare program.

The latter benefits, the board said, should take the place of a further general wage increase when contracts with 11 railway labor organizations expire early next year.

The 650,000 railroad employees involved in the board's recommendation are those known as non-operating workers—the clerks, maintenance men and others not directly engaged in operating trains.

The unions representing them had demanded a wage increase of 25 cents an hour.

Railroad management countered by proposing a 10-cent wage out.

Unions Strike 7 UAC Plants

To E. Ricciuti announced today that he will also join any negotiation which will be held by the union.

The sudden strike action came after lengthy contract sessions for each UAC division extending back to late last year. Both management and the UAW and IAM have stood fast on their positions.

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff told newsman that it was his "hope" that both sides will seriously try to reconcile their differences and come to an agreement. No vote will be taken.

Ribicoff said that State Police would be sent to the aid of local police only if requested to do so by the communities involved.

The Governor declined to comment when asked if he might intervene in the strike.

He said that neither side had asked him to step into the dispute.

The widest walkouts at the Sikorsky plant were touched off by what the union called management's refusal to accept a 10 percent raise for workers, and holding out the time cards of the company's employees in the note-writing incident.

All the struck plants have large backlogs of government orders.

Despite the walkouts, the company said some production was continuing.

At Sikorsky in Stratford, general manager Lee Johnson said that 200 production employees had entered the plant plus a large number of engineering and office employees.

And a spokesman said that all North Haven 174 of the 438 hourly machinist employees on the third shift went on the job.

The machinist union spokesman said the strikes would be more effective later in the day when more employees receive word of the union call for a walkout. Some of them already were working when the call went out.

The unaffected plants are in Southington, Meriden and in Middletown, where the company has its Connecticut Aircraft Nuclear Energy Laboratory (CANEL).

The workers at these plants started 2-year contracts last December. The terms of the contracts are the same the company has offered the workers in the seven struck plants.

The workers at the Manchester plant did not leave in volume immediately although both the union and the company said the strike was underway there. The workers went out for lunch and did not return.

Pickets came to the plant from East Hartford.

The P&WA management announced today it would keep the East Hartford and Manchester plants open. A statement said: "All incoming employees on all shifts in East Hartford who normally park in the north parking lot or north parking annex should park in the south parking lot, or the airport ramp. Access to these parking areas is made from Main St., Silver Lane, Whitney Ave., or Brewer St."

Meanwhile, a State Labor Department official announced that the negotiations talks were continuing. Scheduled today were sessions with UAW officials from the North Haven plant and IAM negotiators, along with representatives of the state board of mediation and arbitration and state and federal mediators.

They are also scheduled on Hamilton Standard Thursday and on Sikorsky on Friday. Sessions dealing with the P&WA East Hartford and Manchester plants did not produce any results Monday.

will follow if the cameras are placed in use.

The two arrested employees, both of the engineering department of the company, are said by Bigley to have been operating motion picture cameras in the booths, making a record for the company of its picketing activities. The TV camera operate automatically and are recorded in a closed circuit room within the factory.

Bigley said Theodore I. Kookoff, representing the union, made the complaint today. The charge was based on section 51-105 of the Connecticut General Statutes.

Earlier, a statement said that the plant was arrested after it was found filming a mirror into one of the television cameras.

Police said, however, that the strike was arrested because the mirror was also binding motorists long lines, a traffic hazard.

The arrested man was Michael Chodan, 37, at the plant.

Chodan stood opposite the main gate of the plant, with a 3-foot long mirror and used it to reflect sunlight into the camera. He was charged with breach of the peace and was released under $100 bond.

During the three arrests before police and pickets the union spokesman, reflected the sun's rays into the lenses of the cameras, thereby washing out the film.

Those operating the mirrors stayed on the outside of the picket lines in order to keep a steady reflection against the cameras. One mirror holder used the sun's rays when a newspaper photographer attempted to photograph one of the pickets.

Neglect Absent In Pohl Death

County Coroner Louis W. Schaefer said today that the death of Edward C. Pohl, 66, of 256 School St., April 30, from injuries sustained in an accident, was not caused by the criminal act, omission or carelessness of any other person.

Pohl was injured on April 11 when his car struck the rear of a truck belonging to Charles Palauka, 160 Slater St., that was parked on the side of Toland Ave., near N. Main St.

At the time of the accident, Pohl told police that his car struck a stone that was on the road. However, according to Schaefer, no stone was found at the scene.

The accident occurred at mid-afternoon, and both Pohl and his wife, Anne, 67, were rushed to the Chodan Hospital, apparently only suffering from facial cuts.

After his wife was discharged, Pohl remained in the hospital, apparently well on the morning of April 30, and died.

His death had been officially reported as a traffic fatality in the State court of highway death.

Conferees Fail To End Strike At Atlas Bases

San Diego, Calif., June 8 (AP)—Negotiations were deadlocked today in the crippling strike against the vital Atlas missile program, as Atlas-makers of Atlas-canceled all union membership clauses while vowing to continue economic benefits of its labor contract.

C. Z. Lindsay, chief negotiator for the International Association of Machinists, contended that the moral of workers "is still high despite company's action which in effect removes many of their rights and privileges."

A 3-hour mediation session ended with no progress—and no new time set.

In a statement which a union official called "radical," Convair officials said that the company does not intend to accept any plan which would be tantamount to a strike. The company, meanwhile, laid off hundreds of other workers in affected rocket plants here and bases at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Warren Air Force Base, Wyo., Vandenberg AFB, Calif., Orford AFB, Neb., and Edwards AFB, Calif.

High officials in Washington yesterday ruled that striking machinists cannot set up picket lines inside Cape Canaveral. Earlier both union and local Air Force commanders had agreed to let the union picket only the contractor involved—a plan which could have kept to a minimum any disruption of missile test launchings.

Conferees Fail To End Strike At Atlas Bases

San Diego, Calif., June 8 (AP)—Negotiations were deadlocked today in the crippling strike against the vital Atlas missile program, as Atlas-makers of Atlas-canceled all union membership clauses while vowing to continue economic benefits of its labor contract.

C. Z. Lindsay, chief negotiator for the International Association of Machinists, contended that the moral of workers "is still high despite company's action which in effect removes many of their rights and privileges."

A 3-hour mediation session ended with no progress—and no new time set.

In a statement which a union official called "radical," Convair officials said that the company does not intend to accept any plan which would be tantamount to a strike. The company, meanwhile, laid off hundreds of other workers in affected rocket plants here and bases at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Warren Air Force Base, Wyo., Vandenberg AFB, Calif., Orford AFB, Neb., and Edwards AFB, Calif.

High officials in Washington yesterday ruled that striking machinists cannot set up picket lines inside Cape Canaveral. Earlier both union and local Air Force commanders had agreed to let the union picket only the contractor involved—a plan which could have kept to a minimum any disruption of missile test launchings.

Rockefeller refused to accept second place on the ticket.

"I think, frankly, that the voters vote for the president, not the vice president," Rockefeller replied.

He said he would resign any possible position because he wanted no part of the Republican nomination that he might be making himself available for the vice presidential nomination.

Rockefeller said he was not a candidate yesterday and I am not today.

"Do you consider yourself any more a candidate for the Republican nomination than you were yesterday?" Rockefeller asked.

Rockefeller said he was not a candidate yesterday and I am not today.

"As for the vice presidential nomination, Rockefeller said Eisenhower respected his declaration that he would not take the vice presidency, and never mentioned the name."

"Do you think a Republican president will be elected in the fall?" a reporter asked.

Rockefeller said he was optimistic.

"The governor said his decision to refuse the No. 2 position was based on his belief that he could be more useful as governor of New York than in a standby position in Washington."

He said he was not even sure he would attend the GOP convention, but did hope to do so.

A reporter asked Rockefeller: "Would you like to use this forum to announce your support of Vice President Nixon?"

Rockefeller paused, then remarked: "Well, I hadn't planned to." He smiled again and dropped the subject.

Eisenhower and Rockefeller spent an hour and a quarter over the breakfast, table in the small dining room of the White House.

Neglect Absent In Pohl Death

County Coroner Louis W. Schaefer said today that the death of Edward C. Pohl, 66, of 256 School St., April 30, from injuries sustained in an accident, was not caused by the criminal act, omission or carelessness of any other person.

Pohl was injured on April 11 when his car struck the rear of a truck belonging to Charles Palauka, 160 Slater St., that was parked on the side of Toland Ave., near N. Main St.

At the time of the accident, Pohl told police that his car struck a stone that was on the road. However, according to Schaefer, no stone was found at the scene.

The accident occurred at mid-afternoon, and both Pohl and his wife, Anne, 67, were rushed to the Chodan Hospital, apparently only suffering from facial cuts.

After his wife was discharged, Pohl remained in the hospital, apparently well on the morning of April 30, and died.

His death had been officially reported as a traffic fatality in the State court of highway death.

3,000 Attend Outdoor Fest

About 3,000 persons attended the Outdoor Music Festival at Memorial Field last night. They heard the massed choirs from Manchester High School, the high school band and orchestra, the Barnard Junior High School orchestra, and 200 elementary school musicians sing and play for an hour.

$1,000 of this will be reserved for a fund to pay for a sound shell in the high school auditorium. Next year, another outdoor festival will be held to raise the rest of the money, he said. Directing the show were Victor G. Albert-Fearson, Robert Johns and Louis Beason. The best crowd pleasers were the choral, a solo played by the massed orchestra, and the Snow White fantasy played by the orchestra. Almost all optical glass used in the United States was imported from Germany before World War I. $1,500 had been raised about 1917.

Probe Stepped Up After Latest Fire

Questioning of arson suspects was intensified today after a 2-car garage and workshop on Longview Ave., Ellington, was destroyed by fire about 9:30 last night. Another apparent arson attempt in a model home in Vernon on Saturday was reported today by Vernon Police. It has been added to a lengthening list of fires investigators say have been deliberately set. Carlton Buckmaster, 18, owner of the Ellington property, suffered from shock, his doctor said, as he rushed to the hospital after the fire. The house was apparently broken into Friday after 10 p.m. the same night the American Mill was destroyed by fire. State Police said this afternoon they are still hunting a suspect picked up near the Ellington fire last night by Rockville Fire Chief John F. Ash. The unidentified suspect was questioned late into the night, police said. They said others are also being questioned, but no charges have yet been made. Complaints from townspeople prompted First Selectman George E. Riley to contact the National Board of Fire Underwriters Arson Squad in New York today to see if they could assist in the probe. The squad is already working with State Police Capt. Samuel Rome and the detectives assigned to the probe. Riley called the squad for a full time watchman at the Town Hall, and advised residents to be on their own property closely. He urged townspeople to give police any information they might have on the suspicious fire. Insurance companies have reportedly requesting local industries to increase the night watch on their plants.

Water Co. Must Reduce Size of Hike It Seeks

Before final action by the Public Utilities Commission (PUC), the Manchester Water Co. will have to revise its proposed water rate increases to lower levels. The extent of the downward revision is still undetermined, but PUC officials and private utility analysts have indicated several items from the company's estimated rate base already, and more chopping is expected. Cuts in the rate base of the company plant, were discussed today at the PUC hearing on the water company's application for rate relief. The company is seeking roughly $40,000 additional annual revenue to allow completion of a new well water system to replace the present reservoir treatment. Cuts in Order. Representatives of Green Manor Construction Co. Inc. and PUC accounting and legal supervisors began a cross examination of water company officials today, determined that minor cuts here and there would be sufficient to bring the rate structure in line with the PUC's goal. Public hearings began May 10, and continued for two days before adjournment to today for cross examination. Cuts made so far in the rate base change the estimated return to the company from nearly 14 percent to about 7 percent. The calculations are so far on paper, but indicate a probable drop in the proposed overall rate structure. Company President William F. Proulx said the company has already committed itself to the extent of about $14,000 for improvements so far. Another $150,000 will be needed, he said. The company's estimate before the hearings began was for about $225,000. Opposition to the rate increase has been lodged by both Green Manor and the Eighth District Board of Directors.

Wood Gets Go Ahead For 38 House Lots

Builder Frank Wood was given a go-ahead last night to begin developing a 38-lot portion of his 181-lot Wood Farm subdivision (Darting Farm). The Board of Directors signed a map giving approval to the position and ending several years of delays and legal entanglements over Wood's plans to develop the rural tract off Keeney St. and sell the lots in it. Director Theodore Powell moved for approval after town planning engineer Edward Rybczyk said that the storm drains Wood had installed at his own expense would help serve an overall land drainage area beyond the Wood Farm boundary. The pipes would be larger than the size needed for only the Wood land. Any future developer to the south would also be required to put in larger pipes, Rybczyk said, to complement the overall drainage plan. The approved plan would split costs more equitably among developers than one discussed two weeks ago under which Wood would have had to drain most of the area alone. The approved plan calls for a 54 inch pipe inside the subdivision and a 27-inch one on the outskirts to drain a Keeney St. contour area into Polly Brook. The Wood matter was one of 38 on last night's voluminous agenda. A. Authorized Martin to continue negotiations with the Hartford Electric Light Company for purchase of Union Pond. The only negative vote came from Director Gilbert Barzani who said he "has no value" in the proposal. Sewers Rejected. 5. Rejected the proposal to put sewers in Willow Pl. and Richard Rd., on which a hearing was held several weeks ago. "We shouldn't install something people don't want," Hutchinson said. 6. Approved assessments payable July 5 for a Highland St. sanitary sewer. 7. Tabled, pending further information, the fixing of public hearing dates on putting sewers and sidewalks in Norwood St. and Farm Dr. 8. Received a 20-signature petition from Leroy Aspinwall, 44 Woodbridge St., calling for relief from flooding conditions caused by a storm drain abutting White Brook. Aspinwall noted that a new drain was one of those offered in the referendum last month, but didn't the signers "felt sure it would not be accepted by the voters." It wasn't. 9. Heard support from Sherwood Robb for a proposal to put a water main in Wyllys St. 10. Heard Winston H. Simon, 64 Erie St., tell that water pressure is low on Keeney St. California Rain. Annual rainfall in California ranges from 110 inches in the redwood belt in the northwest corner of the state to two inches or less in the desert valley reaches of the southwest. 1. Appointed Atty. John Fletcher, of 76 Irving St., as the Charter Revision Commission by unanimous vote. He was nominated by Republican Director, Thomas Bailey. 2. Set for 8 p.m. a claim brought against the town by Mario F. Luis.

Town Moves to Buy Properties for Parking

Town Directors last night moved toward acquiring property off Main St. for other parking. They authorized General Manager Richard Martin and the town counsel to proceed with steps toward acquiring the Barzani and McNeil properties on Birch St. and three properties in the Oak St. area. Negotiations would precede any condemnation, according to Mayor Eugene T. Kelly. Appraised value of the parcels is $117,000 with about $20,000 added on for contingencies, he said. The town parking fund of some $185,000—made up of revenue from parking meters—would bear the cost part by cash and part by borrowing. A tax loss to the town on the five properties, if the plan goes through, would be about $2,000 a year, Kelly said. The directors' vote last night was unanimous. Directors Francis Mahoney and Alice Lamoreau urged speedy action in the plan to get more parking space in the town's chief business district. Former Director Jacob Miller, a Town Parking Authority, representative, spoke for the plan. Another part of it—raising the parking meter fee from 10 cents to a nickel—was not discussed by the Board last night in these stages. But in public comment at the start of the meeting in the Municipal Building, Charles Morrison, 12 Constance Dr., opposed "making a profit" with the meters while Saul Levine, a Main St. business shop owner, said his customers would not mind paying a nickel and that nickel or dime meters are the rule in other towns. But in public comment at the start of the meeting in the Municipal Building, Charles Morrison, 12 Constance Dr., opposed "making a profit" with the meters while Saul Levine, a Main St. business shop owner, said his customers would not mind paying a nickel and that nickel or dime meters are the rule in other towns.

Parking Limit Appeal Studied

The town council will find out what avenue of appeal is open to persons opposing a no-parking ban on the east side of Main St. from the Center to W. Middle Tpke. Mayor Eugene T. Kelly gave this assurance at a Directors' meeting last night to Mrs. Dolores Trotter, 459 Main St., a property owner. He said the Board of Directors, as a court of appeals, would be "reluctant" to overrule the chief of police (the town traffic authority) and the State Traffic Commissioner, which ordered the ban, but he would have the town council find out what the appeal machinery is. Merchants along the State highway claim the ban has cut sharply into their trade. State officials declared it after a study of accident records.

Edwin H. May Elected to Head State GOP for Two More Years

Hartford, June 8 (AP)—Edwin H. May, a leader in picking up the pieces of Connecticut's Republican party after its defeat in the state election last year, has been elected to head the party for another two years.

The State Central Committee unanimously elected him to his first full term yesterday at the conclusion of the Republican state convention.

May was Congress from the First District until the Democrats grabbed all six Connecticut seats in the House of Representatives in the November 1958 election. He became the party's state chairman on an interim basis when Clarence F. Baldwin resigned a month after the election.

Other officers elected by the state central committee were Anna M. Swiatkowski, New Britain, vice chairman; Viola Amberg, Waterbury, secretary; John Byrne, West Hartford, treasurer; and Douglas Thompson, West Hartford, assistant treasurer.

May has been on the move constantly, visiting party groups throughout the state to urge them into a stronger whole, since the reins were put in his hands.

That the party has taken on a new look was shown by the platform adopted by convention delegates yesterday. A number of planks departed considerably from the conservatism that has been a hallmark of Connecticut Republicans.

One recommended a whitening down of the size of the State House of Representatives to a membership of 169 — one member from each town in the state.

The representative-per-town ratio is now governed by population and the total in the House is 279.

Another 15 members are expected to swell this number at the next session because that many towns have grown enough since the 1960 census to raise a second member apiece.

Another plank declared the party to be in favor of spending $46 million for increased assistance to state programs. Most has this $46 million, would be for greater aid to education.

There was a plank that urged "improvement of the probate system," but this was a compromise. A stronger plank was originally suggested. The first version called for making the probate courts part of the state judicial system. There are now 123 inde-

St. James' Church To Confirm 168

One hundred and sixty-eight children in St. James' Parish and 18 adults will be confirmed Sunday in the church at 9:30 p.m. by the Most Rev. Henry J. O'Brien, archbishop of Hartford.

Of the children to be confirmed, 89 are boys, 79 are girls. Preparation for the reception of the sacrament has been made in classes at St. James' School, both for those who attend the school and for those who receive instruction on Saturdays and Sundays.

Girl Scout Notes

Girl Scouts from Troop 20, under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Wilkins and Miss Priscilla Hill, left by car last Friday for Cheshire, Mass.

After camping Friday night in Cheshire, they followed the Appalachian trail which ascends Mt. Greylock. They stayed at a camping site on the Mt. Greylock Reservation Saturday night and continued their hike down the mountain on Sunday. Those who made the trip were Joan Kelsey, Lydia Jankie, Jeanne Rich, Alja Cook, Sue Fetham and Erna Jackie.

Hebron Town Adopts 57 1/2 Mill Tax

About 150 Hebron people attended the annual budget meeting Monday evening at the elementary school auditorium and adopted the Finance Board's recommended budget of $265,900.

In the budget, $60,000 is allocated for general government; $120,000 for education; and $185,900 as Hebron's share of the Regional District's budget.

A tax rate of 67 1/2 mills was adopted, as recommended by the Board of Finance. This is a 2 1/2 mill increase over the present rate, and is among the highest in the state, although Andover and Marlborough have still higher rates.

Payment of town property taxes in two installments was approved. The first payment is July 1, and the second Jan. 1, 1961. Taxes of not more than $60, and all motor vehicle taxes are to be taken care of in one payment on July 1. Voters overwhelmingly turned down the motion to adopt the State Building Code.

Fire District Meeting

The Amston Lake Fire District will meet Saturday in the firehouse at 8 p.m. to elect one commissioner and a secretary and a collector, and to lay a tax for the current year.

The present fire commissioners are Arthur F. Beard, Frederick Rowley and Charles E. Barnes. K. J. Berglund is secretary.

Church School day will be observed by the Gilead Congregational Church on Sunday at the morning service at 11:15. Young people of the church school will take part in the service, with the theme, "Along the Way with God." An orchestra in which friends and members will take part will be composed of Greta Ellis, Mary Ann and John Foote, William Raymond, Douglas Branch, James Kocychka, James Derby, John M. Bell and Dr. J. Good Brown, organ pastor. Bell is choir master.

Bachelor Party Held for Tomkiel

Manchester's bachelor party was held last night at the home of the bride's father, Stanley K. Nygren.

More than 200 attended a stag party in Tomkiel's honor at Piano's Restaurant in Bolton.

Head beef was the piece of resistance, but Tomkiel was the chief target for some friendly lampooning from his many friends in town government, political life, and the files. He is treasurer of Manchester Lodge of Elks.

There were many speeches, all of which were paid to him by Chief Circuit Judge Jay E.

Nixon Tops Brown In California Test

Feller was running 14 to 15 per cent. But Thomas F. Pike of Los Angeles, who headed Nixon's campaign committee declared, "Once again Richard M. Nixon has demonstrated his popularity with the rank and file voters of California."

"We interpret the size of the test against the Stevenson-Kennedy-Johnson-Symington slate and a sure harbinger of a Dick Nixon victory in California in November," Pike said.

Brown predicted California would go Democratic by close to the million votes in the fall. "I am well satisfied with the election returns," he said.

Aside from the presidential polling, voters named party candidates in 30 congressional districts. In the top-interest race, Alphonzo K. Bell of Beverly Hills, a former GOP state chairman, claimed the Republican nomination over Murray Chotiner, once Nixon's campaign director, to succeed retiring Republican Rep. Donald L. Jackson.

In New York, Desaiop denied the results were a challenge to his leadership. As head of Tammany Hall, he leads the party in New York City's Borough of Manhattan. He also serves as national committee member.

The primary fights were "local contests," Desaiop said.

But an insurgent leader, Francis W. H. Adams, called on Desaiop to resign as committee man.

Another leader, former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, said he hoped Desaiop would resign and avoid future battles.

The key fight, William Pitts Ryan of the insurgent defense, Rep. Ludwig Teller in his bid for renomination. Teller, however, will run in November as a candidate of the Liberal party.

The Tammany leader faced the other trouble.

Teller, rejecting a unity plea, announced he would run in the November election as a Liberal in the 20th congressional district on Manhattan's west side.

And, in Harlem, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell asked a threat to support a Republican candidate for president this year and a union candidate for mayor of New York next year if the Wagner administration does not make concessions to Powell's Negro constituents.

The newly formed political team candidates for mayor of New York, President Hubert H. Jack, both Negroes, turned back a challenge to organization control in Harlem.

The Lehman insurgent group was not involved. Powell said the victory was the best of his demands for concessions.

Powell long has charged that the Wagner city administration was short-changing Negro Democrats on patronage.

In addition to Lehman and Adams, leaders of the insurgent Democrats are Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, widow of the President, and Thomas K. Finletter, former Air Force secretary.

The clash stems back to the 1958 Air Force secretary.

There, Finletter lost the party nomination for U.S. senator in Desaiop's candidate, Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan.

Hogan lost the election.

In Montana, Rep. Lee Metcalf won the U.S. Senate seat for the Democratic nomination to the Senate.

The incumbent, Sen. James E. Murray, is retiring.

With 747 of 1,080 precincts reporting, Metcalf had 51,003 votes; Murray had 48,000.

Former Gov. John Bonner had 23,107; Rep. Larry Anderson 18,046; and John W. Mahan 17,245.

Former Rep. Orvin H. Fiere won the Senate contest for the Republican nomination.

In Idaho, Rep. Gerald Priest won an easy victory in his try for Democratic renomination. She easily defeated Leslie McCarthy.

UConn Confab Set For 4-H Leaders

Young men and women, most of them in their teens, who direct and guide younger 4-H Club members in club activities, have been invited to a 4-day conference and training session at the University of Connecticut, July 8 to 11.

The invitation came today from Maurice L. Hill, State 4-H Club leader at the University. There are about 450 older club members who have taken on leadership responsibilities in clubs around the state.

Among the speakers will be Dorothy Emerson, assistant State 4-H leader in Maryland; Mylo Donnelly, federal extension service, Washington; Don Makson, director of student activities, Springfield College; and Albert Zimmer, head of the Department of Education, Sta. Quahanna University.

Under the leadership of the boys and girls, they are teaching and the proper use of teaching aids are two of the several topics to be discussed.

Mergers Seen Transport Aid

Hartford, June 8 (AP)—Some merging of airlines, greater cooperation between independent truckers and railroads, and more diversification in type of transport offered by railroads were some of the solutions to America's transportation problems proposed at a conference at the Slater-Hilton here today.

Three leaders in the air, truck and railroad industries discussed the country's transportation problems at the Southern New England Transportation Conference sponsored by the Transportation Association of America in cooperation with 34 Connecticut organizations and institutions.

Conference Chairman William P. Gwynn, president of the United Aircraft Corp., said: "I believe transportation should remain under private management. Government operation of transport both here and abroad has been inefficient and expensive. Gwynn said.

Some of the 12 domestic trunk airlines will have to combine and order to give the public the kind of service that will be demanded and in order to avoid destructive competition," declared C. W. Jacob.

Trackmen Win CCL Track and Field Crown

Ken Smith Sets Mark In Victory

Ken Smith, having finished second in the 100-yard dash at the CCL track and field meet last night at the University of Connecticut, won the 100-yard dash in the CCL track and field meet last night at the University of Connecticut, winning the 100-yard dash in 15.8 seconds.

The victory was the first of the season for the victory-starved Finest team. The loss knocked the Trojans out of a dead-end for second place. The winners, Paul Urano managed two of the looser seven base knockers.

Four costly errors, two during Hamilton Standard's game-winning rally in the sixth, enabled the Windsor Locks team to edge Morley last night. The CCL track and field meet was held at the Hartford Twilight League.

First Place Finishers: Captain Hal Bennett, John Salcius, Ken Smith, Bill Viot, Bob Goehring and Fred Kozlenko were the individual winners. The Indians while their relay quartet of Greg King, Vito Bennett, and Art...

Seelert and Lenczyk Tie in One-Day Event

Baltimore Orioles' baseball fans are constantly gleaning over their "Kiddie Korps" pitching staff which has them leading the American League at the moment. But Manchester Country Club golf enthusiasts are more than pleased with their "Caddy Corp" of young links stars who have been grabbing headlines quite consistently this spring.

Coming back at No. 11 but added three bogies on the back nine for his one over par finish. Other Manchester Country Club scores in the field of 98 players included Art Brickley 40-37-77, Roger Frank 39-40-72, Stan Hillinski 39-41-80, High Hamilton 38-42-80.
