

Pilot's Wife Plans Plea To Nikita

Moscow, Aug. 22 (AP)—Barbara Powers decided today to appeal directly to Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for clemency for her husband, convicted U2 Pilot Francis Gary Powers.

"She had decided it would take too long to await the outcome of her appeal to President Leonid Brezhnev," said Attorney Frank W. Rogers of Roanoke, Va.

The 25-year-old brunette wife of the young American flier sentenced to 10 years' detention for espionage against the Soviet Union earlier had said reporters she would await the outcome of this formal appeal before trying to see Khrushchev.

The Soviet Premier is vacationing in Tallin on the Black Sea, and just how she intended to go about seeing him was in doubt.

It is known that the pilot's father, Oliver W. Powers, also intends to press ahead with efforts to see Khrushchev, but his attempt did not appear to be coordinated with that of his daughter-in-law. They also were reported to have disagreed on the wording of an appeal.

There was no indication of the points in dispute, but lawyers who accompanied the family to Moscow for Powers' espionage trial last week said the wife and his parents had not been able to agree on the wording of the mercy petition they had planned to submit to Brezhnev today.

The lawyers said there was a possibility two petitions would be submitted — one from Barbara, and one from the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va.

The American pilot was sentenced Friday to 3 years in prison and 7 more of additional confinement, presumably in a labor camp.

Dia Establishing Senegalese Nation

Dakar, Senegal, Aug. 22 (AP)—Mamadou Dia, who proclaimed his West African state of Senegal independent of the Mali Federation, today was busy setting up the machinery needed to run his infant nation.

His rival, Sudanese Premier Modibo Keita, who had been kept under guard by Senegalese soldiers since Dia split the Federation in Senegal and Sudan Saturday, last night was allowed to board a train for Bamako, the Sudanese capital.

Senegal and the neighboring French Sudan formed the Mali Federation in January 1959. It won independence from France last June but remained in the French community.

Senegal immediately whether Keita would go ahead with the reorganization of his home state or whether he would like to launch a move to rebuild the federation.

Dia was busy creating new ministers, a customs service and a treasury for Senegal. He also asked foreign governments for recognition of Senegal as an independent nation.

Municipal councilors throughout Senegal met and expressed confidence in Dia. Representatives of all religious communities—Roman Catholic, Moslem and Protestant—issued statements backing the Senegalese Premier. He also had the support of the bulk of the 7,000-man police force and army, most of whom are Senegalese.

The Senegal Assembly met briefly today, ratified Dia's declaration of independence from the Federation and constituted itself a national assembly rather than a state legislature.

Although Dakar was completely calm, there were reports Dia's forces had arrested some 30 Senegalese in the city. Keita, however, said he had a strong central Mali government with himself at the head.

Keita's train meanwhile crossed the border into Sudan without incident. Reports from Bamako, the Sudanese capital, said it too was calm.

Keita's dismissal of Dia from his job as vice premier of the Mali Federation last Friday (touched off the split). Keita, premier of Mali, was trying to strengthen his hold on the government.

Missing Aircraft Proves to Be Model

Woodbury, Aug. 22 (AP)—State Police searched through the night in dense woods after a couple reported that a plane might have crashed. The craft turned out today to have been a model plane.

State Police said, Robert E. Baker, of Washington Rd., Woodbury, called them this morning after hearing of the search.

Baker said he had lost control of a radio-controlled model plane in Middlebury yesterday while flying it near Lake Quassabaug. The craft had a four-foot wing span.

The model craft fit the description of the single-engine plane Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Depelak of Tule Rd., Woodbury, reported they saw in apparent trouble. They told police they feared the craft might have crashed.

The victims were Harold and Claude Byars, 15 and 12, respectively. They were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Byars of Waterbury.

They and an older brother, Albert Jr., were fishing from the bank, police said. Harold and Claude walked out into the water and went under suddenly when the bottom went down sharply.

Albert, not knowing how to swim, could not reach them. He ran a quarter of a mile for a life guard at Lakewood Park.

Dogs Normal After Flight Around Earth

Moscow, Aug. 22 (AP)—The two Soviet space dogs are reported to be in "excellent" health and pressure normal after their pioneer flight around the earth 18 times within 24 hours.

The dogs—Belka (squirrel) and Strelka (arrow) and Belka, who was in a special container catapulted from their space ship when it had "come down to a low height," Pravda said.

The Soviet Communist Party newspaper said the 4½-ton space ship, which carried a cargo of mice, flies and plants, made a smooth landing "undamaged and whole" in a meadow of a collective farm somewhere in the Soviet Union on Saturday. Presumably the landing was made with the aid of parachutes, but Pravda gave no details. The ship had been launched Friday.

One Soviet scientist, Prof. D. V. Martynov, said that the satellite orbit in "basket" could carry both a man and large variety of scientific instruments. Other scientists hailed the recovery of the ship as another big step toward sending a man into space.

The journey covered 700,000 kilometers (434,700 miles) in an orbit 198.5 miles above the earth. The Russians said the landings were made within seven miles of the target spot.

The Strelka and Belka leaped from their cabin after its hatch was opened and "barked joyously and fawned on the people," Pravda said. The dogs in a few hours ate a good meal, with a preference for nut paste over sausage, the paper reported.

Their companions on the epic flight were reportedly equally lively on returning, the mice nibbling on biscuits, the flies "keeping flying around" the flask in which they traveled.

"One of the plants that was on board the ship continued to blossom," the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

TV cameras inside the space capsule recorded the actions of the dogs during the flight. Astronomer Nikolai Barabashov said they showed the phenomenon of "weightlessness in space, caused no grave disturbance of physical function."

Pravda gave this account of the TV record of the flight:

"At the moment of its start the dogs looked with alarm and bewilderment to the bottom of Coventry, R. I., Aug. 22 (AP)—A Connecticut gunman who recently completed a manslaughter parole today disarmed two Coventry, Rhode Island policemen while boasting "I'm John Dillinger" and then fled in their cruiser after firing several shots from their police revolvers.

The ex-convict, identified as John Martin Hewitt of Central Village Conn., was surrounded later by scores of state and local police after the cruiser was found in a residential area.

Two troopers seized him. They said they found him crouching behind a stone wall with the two police guns at his fingertips.

Coventry patrolmen Lucius Danahy and Richard Berthel said they had seen Hewitt's car proceeding erratically in early morning.

Dag Policy Gets Vote Of Council

Leopoldville, The Congo, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Congolese government today withdrew the demands it has been trying to impose on the United Nations Congo operation.

In a sharp reversal of its previous position, the government announced it "sees no reason to press its demands" in view of the latest Security Council meeting on The Congo.

The Security Council, in effect, reaffirmed the policy pursued by the U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. Hammarskjold has been under fire by the Congolese who accused him of "blackmail, treason and plotting."

Today, in a statement which stunned neutrals in the Congolese capital, a Congolese government spokesman told newsmen:

"The government is satisfied that Belgian troops will be withdrawn. The government expects that the atmosphere is good."

Among the demands made by Premier Patrice Lumumba were withdrawal of all White United Nations troops from The Congo, a supply of planes by the U.N. to transport Congolese soldiers to deal with political dissension in the interior and the appointment of an African-Asian committee to advise Hammarskjold.

Lumumba had threatened that unless the Security Council bowed to his demands he would appeal for aid to another power. It has been made more or less clear that the other power would be the Soviet Union, which has been sending more ground daily in this troubled African nation.

The government's position was communicated to newsmen by Serge Michel, a leftwing expatriate Frenchman of Russian origin who has been acting as Lumumba's chief press aide.

Michel's statement followed a 3-hour meeting of Lumumba and the silver-haired Soviet Ambassador in the Congo, M. D. Yakovlev.

Last night The U.N. Security Council overwhelmingly endorsed Dag Hammarskjold's direction of

Party Favors St. Onge for Bowles' Post

Middletown, Aug. 22 (AP)—Judge William St. Onge of Putnam is expected to be chosen tonight to step into Chester Bowles' shoes as Democratic candidate for Congress man from Connecticut's Second District.

The Second District Members of the Democratic State Central Committee met here tonight to pick a successor to Bowles, who resigned his renomination to campaign for Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Bowles, winding up his first term, said he felt his activities for Kennedy would not permit him sufficient time to campaign for Congress. He said he wanted to be free to accept a federal post if Kennedy should be elected president.

Bowles, former ambassador to India and Kennedy's foreign policy adviser, has been mentioned as a possible secretary of state under Kennedy.

Democrats Praise Kennedy on Farms

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 22 (AP)—Midwest Democrats hailed today a bold pledge of their presidential nominee John F. Kennedy to raise farm prices and incomes and to ease the nation's farm surplus headache.

The Massachusetts senator made this promise — which he said was the strongest ever given farmers by any party in history — before a cheering farm rally yesterday attended by farmers and party leaders from the country's agricultural heartland.

Kennedy was backed up by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, his running mate. The political team made its first public appearance of the campaign.

He went all out to impress upon the traditionally Republican farm voters that the party would not go back on its commitments — an act they charged to the Republican administration.

These included Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Stuart Symington of Missouri, Bate a Kefauver of Tennessee and Henry M. Jackson of Washington. Jackson is Democratic national chairman.

"Backing up his party's platform, Kennedy said that he would take positive action beginning next January to raise farm income to full parity and to preserve the family type farm as a way of life.

"I pledge every effort of mind and heart to do it," he said.

Kennedy did not translate his farm income promise to dollars and cents. But party farm leaders said this could mean at least a 25 per cent increase, or more than three billion dollars, in farmers' annual income.

In a further move to swing midland farmers to his cause, he promised to name a midwesterner with a farm background as his secretary of agriculture.

Kennedy did not spell out in detail the farm program he would set up, explaining this would be done as the campaign progressed.

But he did say it would be accomplished through a positive policy of management of farm surplus that would emphasize better diets for the low income at home and more American food for the undernourished abroad.

He said stricter farm production and marketing controls than presently used might be required. This met with approval of most of the farmers who earlier in the rally had told a party panel they were willing to accept more rigid restrictions to gain better incomes.

A move to stronger controls would change the direction of Eisenhower administration farm policies designed to get the government out of the business of controlling farm production and prices.

Rivals End Weekend Of Political Activity

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Two-chamber session was slated at the cleanup session of Congress today with both presidential contenders on hand after a weekend that saw political activity in many quarters.

Back from a trip to the midwest in quest of farm belt support were Sens. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, and Lyndon B. Johnson, his running mate.

President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, issued his thoughts in depth on Communism and stayed in town over the weekend for meetings with strategists and campaign workers.

His running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, remained on duty as ambassador to the United Nations, a post he leaves Sept. 2 to enter the political campaign.

At the week of marking time for lack of a working majority, the House faced a bill to permit Radio-TV debates between major party presidential candidates. The Senate continued debate on medical care for the aged.

Accusing Republicans of disinterest in farmers, Kennedy said he would like positive action to raise farm income to full parity and preserve the family-type farm.

"I pledge every effort of mind and heart to do it," the Massachusetts Senator told a rally of farmers from 15 states at Des Moines, Iowa.

"For nearly eight years farmers have been on the outside looking in. They have been seated at the second table eating bread and thin gravy," Johnson told the gathering.

Agriculture Secretary Benson, target of attacks from both Democrats and Republicans, described himself as "more or less a scapegoat for farm ills."

He blamed problems on failure of the Democratic Congress to pass the program he has advocated. Benson told a television panel he is convinced that Republicans, under Nixon, will move in the direction of greater freedom for farmers and less government regulation and control and regimentation.

The Democratic farm conference was downgraded by Republican National Chairman Thurston B. Morton who termed it "a transparent political gimmick."

"Sen. Kennedy is no friend of the American farmer," the Kentucky senator said in a statement.

"His voting record shows he has flipped and flopped on the issue and is without a basic philosophy of sympathy for the farmer."

A public political reconciliation between former President Harry S. Truman and Kennedy took place at Independence, Mo., Saturday. It was there that the 76-year-old Truman had questioned Kennedy's maturity and experience prior to the Democratic convention.

After a 35-minute private meeting at the Truman library, Truman said "We have accomplished enough to win the war." Kennedy told newsmen he was delighted that Truman would support him in the campaign.

Truman said he had agreed to take part and work wherever Kennedy wants him. The only firm date so far, he said, is a Labor Day speech at Marion, Ind.

Truman had rejected Kennedy as a man too young and inexperienced and refused to attend the convention in Los Angeles.

Asked why he now thought Kennedy is ready, Truman said the convention had picked a candidate, that is he is going to support him, and that is all there is to it.

On the Southern front, Sens. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) and Strom Thurmond (D-SC) continue to

Deadlock End Seen Imminent In School Aid

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—A House Rules Committee deadlock on a school aid bill may be broken this week, clearing the way for action later on medical aid and minimum wage legislation.

If the stalemate continues, Democratic Congressional leaders are toying with the idea of adjourning the post-convention session of Congress and blaming Republicans for the lack of results. Republicans and Southern Democrats on the rules committee have combined to block school aid and some other bills.

On the other hand Republicans say that the Democrats, with their heavy majorities in both houses, are responsible for what is or is not done.

Separate school bills have passed the Senate and the House but can't get to a compromise committee without rules committee approval. The committee has refused clearance by a 7-5 vote, with four Republicans and three Southern Democrats providing the opposition and five Democrats favoring the bill.

Two of the seven who opposed clearance are Reps. James W. Trimble (D-Ark.) and B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn.). Among other things, they are opposed to an anti-segregation provision written into the house bill but not included in the Senate version.

The provision would bar federal
