Hartford, Aug. 25 (AP)—Lights burned far after midnight in the third floor detective division at State Police headquarters today as the Hartford bribery investigation swung into high gear. State Police Commissioner Leo J. Mulcahy took personal charge as a parade of witnesses were brought in for questioning. Investigators were still at work when the commissioner retired in a room at the Hartford Troop for a few hours of sleep. This morning Commissioner Mulcahy prepared to meet with state Atty. Gen. D. LaBelle for a discussion of the night's developments. Ten of his best investigators, including some high-ranking officers from various parts of the state, were drafted by Commissioner Mulcahy to launch the investigation, stemming from alleged "protection" payoffs made to two Hartford policemen.

OAS Drops Hopes For Cuban Accord

San Jose, Costa Rica, Aug. 25 (AP)—Latin American Foreign ministers today abandoned hopes of serving as peacemakers between Fidel Castro and the United States. There were growing indications that Cuba would take a walk as the Organization of American States (OAS) meeting of foreign ministers began drafting a resolution condemning foreign meddling in the hemisphere's affairs, and particularly Communist meddling in the western hemisphere. Castro rushed a special envoy here with a message to the Cuban delegation after hurrying defiance at the OAS in a speech yesterday and pledging friendship with Russia and Red China. Diplomats of other Latin American nations said the board of prime minister had pulled the rug from under the efforts to get him to accept the good offices of neighbor nations in settling his bitter battle with the United States. Castro's remarks were generally taken to mean that the Cuban delegation would walk out of the conference but Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa was expected to deliver a sharp attack on the United States before making his exit. Roa promised a reply today to the charge by U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter that Cuba has become Communist's headquarter in the Americas with the aim to overthrow every other government in the hemisphere by force. Herter yesterday called on the ministers to "vigorously condemn Soviet and other Communist inter-

State Workers Ask Pay Raises Hartford, Aug. 25 (AP)—An eight-point legislative program, including an across-the-board weekly wage increase of $10 a week will be sought in the 1961 General Assembly, leaders of Council 16, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, announced today. The AFL-CIO state employees organization will call for the support of the Connecticut State Labor Council at its bi-annual legislative, political and educational convention being held at the Statler Hilton next week. The other seven points of the proposed program of benefits for state employees were as follows: Freezing the present temporary $180 per year cost-of-living bonus. A state-financed insurance package covering hospitalization, surgical and medical benefits, and life insurance. Time and a half pay, or time off, for all hours over the regular work week. Allow state employees to come under the state labor relations act, and be given use of the state board of mediation and arbitration. Smith, 32, of Litchfield. He was Bristol correspondent for the Waterbury Republican in 1955-56, and an Associated Press editor in Buffalo and Albany, N.Y., from 1956 to April 1960. Sadlak, who held the post of congressman-at-large for six terms before losing to Col. Frank Kowalski in 1958, also announced the opening of his campaign headquarters at 47-18 High St. here. Kowalski has been renominated by the Democrats for a second term.

Foreign Aid Bill Passed By Senate

Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Senate has passed a $3,989,054,000 Foreign Aid bill to help friendly nations, while barring aid to countries which help Cuba or the Dominican Republic. The measure which now goes to a Senate conference would give President Eisenhower almost all of the money he asked for the Foreign Aid program. The Senate restored all of the cuts made by the House except $200 million for military aid. It also added an extra $100 million to deal with unforeseeable crises such as the Congo situation. Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy and his running mate, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, led 39 other Senate Democrats in backing the President's requests. Twenty-six Republicans voted for the measure. Seven Republicans and 19 Democrats ignored Eisenhower's plea and voted against the bill, bringing the tally to 67-26. Eisenhower originally had asked $4,175,000,000 for foreign aid. But in earlier legislation authorizing the program, Congress limited spending for the next year to $4,086,300,000. The appropriation last year was $3,600,000,000. By voice vote, the Senate adopted amendments to: Deny Foreign Aid funds to any country which provides either arms or economic help to Cuba's Fidel Castro regime; deny aid to any country which supplies arms to any Latin American country being subjected to economic or diplomatic sanctions by the Organization of American States—the target of this limitation was the Dominican Republic; limit U.S. aid to no more than 90 per cent of the total cost of the entire program in any country. The $1,800,000 provided by the Senate for military assistance is 500 million above what Congress voted last year. In addition, the bill includes 675 million in defense support funds. This is 75 million above the House figure. The defense support funds are limited to 12 countries which maintain larger armed forces than their economies can sustain with- out economic aid.

Pageantry Signals Start of Olympics

Rome, Aug. 25 (AP)—Cannons boomed, thousands of doves circled in the Roman sky, the Olympic Hymn was sung and the giant torch—one that will burn day and night until the games end—was lit as the biggest and most costly Olympic games were officially proclaimed open today by President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy. The United States and the Soviet Union, the two giants of world sports, were hailed by two world leaders at opposite worlds of ideology. . . . Pope John XXIII and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Pope John told some thousands of cheering spectators, including 4,000 athletes—about half of the competitors from 85 nations vying in 18 sports—May the best man win. The pontiff, speaking in St. Peter's Square, declared his "very strong desire that the contests of these days will benefit you all, and that from them, all without exception will be able to gain some advantage." Khrushchev, in a message to the athletes from the Kremlin, declared that the games "increase friendship and mutual understanding among the peoples and then strengthen the peace of the world."

Parents Drown Within Sight Of 4 Children

Eastford, Conn., Aug. 25 (AP)—Four children, aged 2 to 9, watched helplessly as a happy family outing turned into tragedy. Their parents drowned in Hall's Pond, a quiet swimming area in Northeastern Connecticut. The victims were James Baker, 32, a crane operator, and his wife, Alice, 28, of West Willington. State Police said Mrs. Baker, who was unable to swim, fell from an inner tube in which she was paddling a short distance off shore. Her husband, a good swimmer, jumped into the water and swam to rescue her. But Mrs. Baker apparently panicked and drew her husband down beneath the water with her, police said. The accident occurred in late afternoon. Sobbing and hysterical, the children managed to attract the attention of two brothers driving home from work in Hartford, Gerald Guay, 30, and his brother, Milton, 26, of Chaplin. Milton returned with the youngsters to the scene of the accident while the other brother obtained a boat at a nearby house. Within a few minutes the two bodies were recovered from the water. They were about 25 feet off shore.

Hillbilly Label Not Indignity

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 25 (AP)—Judge Justin Ruark revoked Lowell Moore's divorce yesterday and ruled it is not an intolerant indignity to be called a hillbilly. It's a compliment, said the judge, who has lived all of his 59 years in the Ozark Mountains. An Ozark hillbilly is an individual who has learned the real luxury of doing without the entangling complications of "things" which the dependent and over-pressed city dweller is required to consider as necessities, he said. "The hillbilly is not familiar with new models, soles or office politics but he does have the time and surroundings conducive to sober reflection and honest thought and an opportunity to get closer to his God." Moore lives on an Ozark farm about 35 miles south of Springfield. A circuit judge granted him a divorce from Mrs. Minnie Moore on grounds she was bossy and domineering.

Powers, Wife Get Privacy For Meeting

Moscow, Aug. 25 (AP)—Barbara Powers had a final secret meeting yesterday with her husband, Francis Gary Powers, her lawyers disclosed today. The young couple were left completely alone behind the closed door of his prison cell for more than an hour. It was the first privacy they had had since before he left Turkey for his May Day U2 flight over the Soviet Union, which touched off an explosive situation internationally and led him to a 10-year sentence for espionage. "Barbara is much brighter now than we've seen her for some time," said Attorney Frank Rogers of Roanoke, Va. Rogers and lawyer Alexander Parker of Richmond, Va., also told Mrs. Powers today she would get satisfactory receipts for Barbara's mercy petition to Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev when it was delivered today. Consequently, they said, they took it away with them and mailed it from a postal box in a downtown hotel. The two lawyers had gone to Brezhnev's office to deliver a

Kennedy Talk To Virginians Omits Religion

Alexandria, Va., Aug. 25 (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy made his first campaign sortie into a Southern state last night and ignored both the racial and religious issues. His Virginia audience included a few Negroes. Instead, he challenged the Republican effort to picture his rival, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, as a man of needed leadership and experience. It wasn't a long trip Kennedy made—just across the Potomac River from Washington, into a Republican Congressional district in a state that went Republican in both the 1962 and 1966 presidential elections. And Kennedy advised Virginians to vote Republican again—if they are satisfied with the way things are going in the world and want to stand still. But there is a feisty nation faces great challenges, Kennedy said. "When I say to you this country will move and the Democratic party will lead it." The Democratic presidential nominee expects to dip deeper into Dixie later on. He may go then into the issues of Civil Rights and his Roman Catholic Religion. These are of particular concern to the racially conscious, largely Protestant South. Last night was the second time this week that Kennedy had adopted the strategy of attacking Nixon. In Des Moines, Iowa, Sunday, the Senator said the American farmer had encountered decline and disaster under a Republican administration in whose leadership Nixon

Way Paved To Adjourn Next Week

Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—The House Rules Committee gave a go-ahead signal today for a compromise on minimum wage legislation. By vote of 8-3, it cleared the way for Senate and House conferees to work out differences between the bills passed by the two branches. The Senate bill would hike the minimum wage from $1.00 to $1.25 hourly and extend coverage to about four million more workers. The House bill would provide for $1.15 an hour and coverage for another one million employees. The Senate measure was backed by Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominees. It was opposed by the Eisenhower administration. There were indications that the compromise, already informally worked out, would keep the wage rate at $1.15 and extend coverage to around three million extra workers. The Rules Committee action was in keeping with a reported agreement by Democratic leaders not to press for housing and school aid bills, in exchange for clearance of the wage measure. The Rules Committee has refused to clear the housing and school bills and threatened to tie up the wage bill as well if sponsors of the other measures insisted on trying to get them cleared.

Bulletins from the AP Wires

COST OF LIVING UP Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—Living costs rose one-fifth of one per cent in the month ending July 1960, the fifth straight month. The Labor Department living cost index rose to 126.6 per cent of the 1947-49 base. The July increase, while it raised the figure to a new record, was the smallest June-July rise since 1954. HOPE FOR DOWNY RELEASE Hong Kong, Aug. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Dowry said today Chinese Communist authorities in Peking told her that her son John may eventually be released from his life sentence for good behavior. The New England schoolteacher told a news conference, however, she was given no indication when the clemency might come. The implication was that it could be many years away. Dowry, now 30, is serving a life sentence in a Peking jail on charges of espionage. PROTEST FUEL IMPORTS Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—House members from the six New England states today protested to President Eisenhower a recent order reducing imports of residual fuel oil to the eastern half of the country. Rep. Thomas J. Lane (D-Mass.) made public a letter to Eisenhower signed by the congressmen, both Democrats and Republicans. The letter said: "As members of the New England congressional delegation, we take this means of expressing our strong opposition to the reduced oil import quotas for our region, that was recommended by the U.S. Department of the Interior, and implemented by a presidential order."

Catholicism Grows As Campaign Issue

By JAMES MARLOW AP News Analyst Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—Bit by bit the country is seeing the Roman Catholicism of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, being made a campaign issue by mail and from pulpits. This anti-Catholic drive has been spreading rapidly in the South—particularly in Texas and the Carolinas. And one top Democrat told reporters Kennedy's religion may be a greater issue in the Middle West than the farm problem. Nonpartisan observers also report that the campaign is growing. Bruce L. Felkner, executive director of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, said yesterday. "The circulation of rabidly anti-Catholic material already is many times greater than we have ever seen it. We think at this point there is a substantial danger the campaign in 1960 will be dirtier on the religious issue than it was in 1928." In that year Roman Catholic Alfred E. Smith was defeated for the presidency by Herbert Hoover after a campaign in which the religious issue was a big one. Kennedy's advisers are acutely aware of what is happening and are concerned. Yesterday his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, told reporters the Democratic organization will create a special section—with branches in every state—to deal with the religious problem.

Bolton School Board to Propose Kindergarten This Year

John Harris, chairman of the Board of Education, has called a special meeting of the Board for tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the school to discuss kindergarten facilities for the coming school year.

At the Aug. 8 meeting of the Board, members agreed that there is a definite need for kindergarten facilities in the school system. At this time Dr. Elizabeth Alton and Edward Thomas, Board members, were appointed to investigate properties that might be available for use as a kindergarten.

Harris urges parents of future kindergarten children and all those interested in establishing such facilities to attend this important meeting.

The Board will also hold a discussion on the milk contract for the lunch program.

The new water tank for the elementary school had the appearance of a railroad tank car when it arrived yesterday on a trailer truck. The tank, which has the capacity of 2000 gallons, is 24 ft. long, 6 ft. in diameter, and weighs over a ton.

The contract for installing the new tank and making other improvements to the system at the school, has been awarded to the Anna Engineering Co. of Albany, N. Y. The company, the lowest bidder on the project, submitted a price of $10,000.

The contract requires the firm to drain and remove the existing tank and install the new tank and do all the required cementing and waterproofing. They are to install a 100 lb. compressor and do all necessary piping to the existing water system at the school.

C. A. Reynolds of Bolton was the only other bidder on the project. He submitted a price of $14,445.

Booster Night Stated

The Grange will hold a "Booster Night" program at their meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Community Hall. This is an open meeting to encourage new members. Slides supplied by members of the organization will also be shown.

Serving on the refreshment committee will be Mrs. Donald Tedford, Misses Grace and Mary Tedford, and Mrs. Charles Woodin.

The Town Planning Commission (TPC) approved the widening of School Rd. from the intersection of Hebron Rd. to the home of Edward Verrelli at their meeting last evening.

A petition to widen this portion of the road had been presented to the Board of Selectmen on Aug. 15 by residents in the area. The Selectmen had turned the item over to the TPC for their consideration.

The commission also discussed at length the subdivision regulations with Dr. Alton and the planning director for the Massachusetts Department of Commerce. Kellogg will make necessary additions and corrections to the regulations and report back at the Sept. 27 meeting of the TPC.

The widening of School Rd. will be on Aug. 31 at 7 p.m. at the Euclid Repeal property on Camp Street. The project will cover a proposed subdivision there. Following the widening of School Rd. at the Community Hall to continue the meeting.

Sheinwold on Bridge

LIVE DANGEROUSLY TO PLAY IT SAFE

By Alfred Sheinwold

Sometimes the safest place to put your head is right inside the lion's mouth. Ask any lion. Since I just used my last lion, I'll prove it with a bridge hand.

West opens the jack of spades, and you win with the queen. You need the ace of diamonds and West discards the deuce of hearts. You were expecting to win two spades, two hearts and five diamonds. You would even have time to set up a club trick. But the bad diamond break upsets all your plans.

You can play the hand timidly by continuing the diamonds East gets his diamond trick and returns a spade to dummy's ace.

Now you can take eight tricks: Two spades, two hearts and four diamonds. Whenever you lead a club you can run nine tricks with the rest of his spades.

Tackle Clubs

The way to make the hand is to tackle the clubs early. When you discover the bad diamond break at the second trick, lead a club at once.

If you lead a low club, West must play low. Dummy's queen wins, and you now give up a diamond to East. Whether East returns a spade or a club, you can run nine tricks.

When you start the clubs, your best play is actually the king, rather than a low club. If you lead a spade against a five-card club suit in the West hand, you can run nine tricks with the rest of his spades.

The main thing, however, is to lead a club. This bold play looks dangerous but in actuality you only chance for safety.

Daily Question

Partner opens 3 NT (14 or 18 points), and the next play is:

1. ♠ 10 9 7 6 5 4 3 2
2. ♣ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
3. ♠ 10 9 7 6 5 4 3 2
4. ♣ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

What do you play?

Answer: Bid 3 NT. You have 9 points and a five-card suit of spades, so the combined count will be 25 to 27 points and there should be a fine play for game. If partner is a weak player, raise to 2 NT and let him stop below game if he has a bare 16 point.

GOP Cautious On Endorsing Library Wing

The Republican Town Committee last night looked cautiously on a request to endorse an addition to the Mary Cheney Library in the State election Nov. 7.

GOP Town Chairman John F. Shea Jr. said the proposal should be looked into before we get on the bandwagon. An endorsement is expected from Democrats.

Shea's comment followed remarks of Republican Clifford Varnet, a former Town Building Committee member, that "there might be an awful lot of space being wasted there now" by cataloging and storing Varnet's limited collection. He said the library could be more efficient. He mentioned "stacks and stacks" of very old magazines "covered with dust," and auditorium space being used for storage.

The request for endorsement, submitted by William E. Buckley, Library Board chairman, was referred to the committee's platform unit. Plans have been made for the Democratic Town Committee to place a platform unit for inclusion in its regular report. Expansion of the library is expected to cost $300,000. The library's Drake Fund could provide $100,000, according to Buckley.

The Board of directors, controlled by Democrats, is expected to put the latest plan before voters in the election. Voters rejected a similar proposal for $250,000 in 1958, but the latest plan has over 700 signatures and would provide more space, the library's Board says.

The board had long urged more seating areas for books to accommodate a population which has grown by 16,000 persons since the Mary Cheney library was built in 1937. Students working on assignments have had to cover "cracks" and would provide more space, the library Board says.

Bloodmobile Visit At MMH Tuesday

Blood donations dropped in June and July in Manchester. In June 95 pints were collected, and in July only 89. This was one of the reasons why the total collection of blood for the first six months was below the quota.

While the quota was 975 pints, the number donated was 888.

The next visit of the bloodmobile is Tuesday from 10:45 a.m. to 6:45 p.m. at the emergency entrance of Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Go Home

We can take, and we think the country can take, the collapse of the Democratic effort to enact significant social and economic legislation in the last session of Congress. In fact, we will promise, for our part, not to taunt the Democrats and their standard-bearer, Senator Kennedy, for their failure to enact in this session those platform promises which are supposed to be so sacred between the Democrats and their voters.

And we will climax everything by giving a good Republican cheer if, as may now prove possible, both sides join in adjourning and going home. Senators who prefer campaign speeches to what might be called campaign legislation.

And even as far as party records are concerned, we would prefer to honor the record of the Republican party rather than the record of the Democratic party. In a normal case, rather than special cases, they might manage to put on for the benefit of people about to go to the polls.

In any case, the special show seems to have collapsed, and it would seem that neither Senator Kennedy nor Vice President Nixon is going to mine much political gold out of this tail-end session. Let us go home, and leave them free to campaign.

Ambassador's Appraisal
Thanks to the tough, hard-hitting role Henry Cabot Lodge has played at the United Nations, no one will accuse him of soft-headed idealism in his appraisal of that institution on the conclusion of his own seven and a half years of service there.

He thinks the United Nations is "the most advanced and sophisticated job the U.N. has ever undertaken."
Lodge thinks the Congo operation "the most advanced and sophisticated job the U.N. has ever undertaken."

Lodge concedes the existence of bloc voting, but does not think it will increase.
American success in winning votes in the United Nations will depend upon how well our policies "correspond to the general aspirations of mankind."

Connecticut Yankee

By A. H. O.

Distinguished eligibles were not exactly snapping at the opportunity to fill in for Charles Rowley in the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Second District. The United Nations ambassador to the United States at least in the department of appraisal of what the United Nations means to us and to the world.

Mystery Revealed
The mystery of who was hiding for the privilege of being the candidate of transporting some 250 African students to this country has been revealed, by State Department admission, and it ain't the Vice President Hugh Scott, one of Vice President Nixon's campaign managers, originally named for the job.

It wasn't the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation, a charitable fund which Senator Kennedy has set up as trustee, which was trying to sneak the privilege of paying away from the State Department and it also agreed to pick up the tab only after the State Department had consistently refused to do so; it also should receive no publicity for its act.

By State Department admission, it changed its own mind. Kennedy did not want to pay the transportation costs only after the Kennedy Foundation had already entered the picture, and it changed its mind only after urgent representations by James Shepley, a Time-Life man, who is currently attached to the Nixon campaign staff. When he told the State Department that the Kennedy Foundation was involved, Senator Kennedy, for their failure to enact in this session those platform promises which are supposed to be so sacred between the Democrats and their voters.

And we will climax everything by giving a good Republican cheer if, as may now prove possible, both sides join in adjourning and going home. Senators who prefer campaign speeches to what might be called campaign legislation.

Thoms Addresses Canadians Today

Edward J. Thoms, administrator of the Manchester Memorial Hospital, will address the Canadian Public Health Association in Ottawa, Canada, today.

He spoke on progressive patient care at MMH and how it cuts costs of hospitalization.
Last year, he spoke on the system of care before a meeting of the Canadian Public Health Association in Halifax.

The committee on hospital insurance is made up of senior officers of various hospital insurance programs in Canada. Dr. E. H. Lansing, principal medical officer in the Health Insurance Department of the National Health and Welfare Bureau in Ottawa.

Quizzical Expressions
All the world's a stage, and much of the time presents the same kind of performance almost everywhere. The other day, we sympathized with Manchester police, in their efforts to get with senseless juvenile behavior, and with Manchester parents, in their efforts to try and guess what their own children might be up to. Perhaps, we thought, parents ought to be a little more sure, and rely less on optimistic guesswork.

Today, we note that the police down in the town of Clark, N. J., have had the sad duty of approaching some of the most prominent and well-to-do parents of that community with the information that 13 of their children, aged 12 to 15, have for their past eight months been operating a "theft for kicks" ring. Altogether, they could be booked for 60 crimes, including stealing from individuals, charities, and merchants. They had manufactured quite a crime wave, and it was probably something of a surprise to the police force in Clark when it found so much trouble could be traced to so few and so young.

But the surprise of the police was nothing as to the surprise of the parents. "When the police questioned their parents," says the New York Times account, "they were met with quizzical expressions and disbelief."
Manchester police, and parents, and police and parents in many another community will understand the experience and the feelings involved.

There is only one thing nobody has—the answer to the question why.

FRENCH EAT MOST POWL

A Thought for Today

Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

You Cannot Save Yourself
"For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed that of the Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven."
The Pharisees lived the most exemplary lives of any group living in their day. They were scrupulously honest in their dealings. They held the highest of moral standards and they kept without fail. And to the letter all the laws required of them by their religion. And yet Jesus called them hypocrites and whited sepulchers full of dead men's bones. What he meant was that they may have been all right on the outside but they were all wrong on the inside. And so with us today. The man who thinks all his good works will get him in good standing with God and will win for him a place in heaven is only fooling himself. Unless his righteousness is greater than that of the scribes and the Pharisees — and none of us come

Diagnosis of Home

Paris, Aug. 25 (AP)—Senegal's Premier Mandoul Dia flew home to West Africa today after talks with President Charles De Gaulle that apparently failed to heal the rift splitting the Mali Federation of Senegal and the former French Sudan.
"My first concern is the consolidation of the independence of Senegal and the former French Sudan," Dia told reporters as he boarded a plane for Dakar Wednesday night.

Foreign Aid Bill Passed By Senate

Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—Senate House conferees on the Social Security bill were reported today to have knocked out a Senate provision that would permit men to get retirement payments at age 62 on a reduced scale.
Another Senate provision which would raise to $1,800 the amount still get Social Security retirement benefits has been considerably watered down, it was understood.

Powers, Wife Get Privacy For Meeting

short, handwritten letter from Barbara saying the Soviet president to arrange a reduction of the sentence.

They said the presidential office staff stated that they return with it tomorrow, adding that Brennan would be notified then that Barbara would see him.

The lawyers replied that they were booked to leave for home early in the morning and therefore this would be impossible. The situation finally became a contract that the two just left and trusted to the Soviet mails.

Added her Barbara felt in the face of this. Powers said she "is not too satisfied or surprised" and is confident the letter will be received and that Soviet authorities will give us the conveyance of a reply.

Yesterday's meeting was the third the young couple have had in Moscow. The arrangement came as a complete surprise to the 24-year-old Georgia brunette, who had given up hope of seeing her husband again for a long time. Powers was wearing the same dark suit he had on during the trial and Barbara learned he will wear civilian clothes while in prison instead of a prison uniform.

That is why he asked her to buy tiny clothes for him and why she has spent the last two days rushing around shopping.

Yesterday morning she had bought him a fur hat so she took it with her on her surprise visit. It did not fit so today she exchanged it and also brought him a hat, a parka and work clothes.

Barbara's physician, Dr. James Hough of Middleville, Ga., contributed his electric razor and a transformer. From the U.S. Embassy commissary she got canned goods, preserves, jars of catsup, pickles, nuts, candies and other luxuries.

She also got dozens of paperbacked novels.

The interpreter, known to Barbara only as Irene, promised to deliver all this.

The prison director told Barbara nothing she could deliver now would be counted against the quota of eight kilograms (17 1/2 pounds) he is allowed to receive monthly while serving his sentence.

Barbara said the prison officials were "very kind and considerate."

She said her husband told her that his cell was much larger than the one he had while in military confinement awaiting trial. He said he had a large window.

"We could talk freely," she said. "We were entirely alone for over an hour."

The prisoners did not describe the kind of work he will be doing, but judging from his request for clothing it will be out of doors.

Barbara said she told her husband she was leaving tomorrow and he accepted this news calmly. Barbara already had a Soviet passport, Premier Nikita Khrushchev's vacationing in Malta, to grant her an interview.

Unless a meeting is arranged with Khrushchev or Brezhnev, she will leave Moscow tomorrow for Paris. Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Monica Hough of Middleville, Ga., and her sister, James Hough, she also took with her a few days in the French capital with a brother of the Houghs, Powers' mother and father. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va., arrived here in New York last night.

Barbara today wrote a second letter to Khrushchev expressing her regret that she had to leave without seeing him. If there are no further developments, the letter will be delivered tomorrow.

The 23-year-old Georgia brunette spent most of the morning shopping at the U.S. Embassy commissary and local stores for things her husband asked for. Her interior guide had promised to deliver them.

Barbara's plans in the United States are uncertain.

"We are going right home to Middleville," said her mother.

News Tidbits

Culled from AP Wires

American archeological expedition finds 4,500-year-old Egyptian temple at Bahariya city of Bahariya, Jordan, with sacrificial animals' blood still staining white limestone altar. Jordan Antiquities Director, Dr. Awad Daniyal, announced the discovery. Pope John XXIII returns to his summer palace at Assisi, Italy, after huge audience in which he received athletes of Olympic games last night in St. Peter's Square.

And I hope Barbara will get a job. She isn't just all around working and it will make the time pass a little faster."

Barbara was formerly a civil service secretary.

In Washington, U.S. officials said today Moscow has promised an answer soon to repeated requests that an American embassy official be allowed to talk with Powers.

However, expectations were that the Soviets for their own purposes, would still agree now to their personal or official clemency plea for Powers.

Chances for winning freedom for Powers, under a 10-year sentence he served, were regarded as likely to be better later on after the fulfillment over his case outside. He has been in Soviet custody since his plane went down deep inside Russia last May 3.

The Soviet response to Washington's requests for official access to Powers and the results of an interview, if one is granted, will help determine what move the United States will make next in his behalf.

1. The Soviet government does not want to turn him loose quickly after having staged a campaign to help determine what move the United States will make next in his behalf.

2. If quickly released, Powers might change his story as soon as he reaches free soil and damage the Soviet propaganda buildup.

3. Soviet officials may still want to question Powers from time to time.

Cold War Temporarily Called Off in Eternal City Solemn Splendor at Olympics

Rome, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Games of the XVII Olympiad opened today in solemn splendor—the biggest and the most costly ever held. The cold war temporarily called off in the Eternal City as nearly 8,000 athletes from 85 nations gathered in friendly rivalry, the eve in 18 sports.

Discussions point to a close and dramatic struggle between Soviet Russia and the United States for unofficial team honors with the issue probably hanging in doubt up to the closing day, Sept. 16. The United States won the 1952 Olympic crown at Melbourne, the United States has a chance to upset the Russians here.

More than 100,000 tickets were sold for the opening ceremonies in the sparkling White Oval Stadium that is the center of a $32,000,000 athletic plant unrivaled in the world. So uninvited was the entry list that only 4,000 athletes participated in the colorful parade—but even this exceeded the 3,859 who competed at Melbourne.

The big United States team marched smartly in uniforms of olive and white with the stars carrying red handbags to complete the national colors. Russia came in white with little sign of the famous Communist red.

The combined East and West German team—favored to finish third behind the two big rivals—was blue.

The torch lighted the Games and the torch was carried by the American Olympic torchbearer, Fred Goetz, a 25-year-old athlete from Pennsylvania. N. J. added "I never have seen a guy like Rafer Johnson. He is always master of himself. He never loses his head when he has something to say, and it usually means something."

First Negro Ever Allowed to Carry Stars and Stripes Rafer Johnson Official Flag-Bearer

Rome, Aug. 25 (AP)—When the crown of America's sports talent marched into Olympic Stadium today, the imposing figure of Rafer Johnson, a Negro, carried the stars and stripes of the United States.

Johnson, a 25-year-old athlete from Pennsylvania, N. J., added "I never have seen a guy like Rafer Johnson. He is always master of himself. He never loses his head when he has something to say, and it usually means something."
