What Toy for What Age?

AP NEWSFEATURES
The toy you give with joy and love... may cause frustration, tears, even injury... unless you choose to suit the child's stage of mental development.

Dr. Emma Schreyer, professor emerita of child development at Teachers College, Columbia University.
"Play is the serious business of childhood," says the doctor who heads the Toy Guidance Council's advisory committee.

The right toys at the right age level are a child's tools of learning and play a major role in his development.
The first requisite for playing Santa Claus is to be young enough to play with his own toys.

Toys for Infants
A baby puts everything in its mouth. Toys should be safe to suck, easily cleaned and without loose parts that might be swallowed. He is developing his sense of touch, likes to feel different textures.

One to Two
The toddler has gained control over his hands and fingers. He enjoys nuts of blocks, simple toys that he can stack, pull apart, push and pull, float.

Two to Four
This age group has gained proficiency in using muscles. The 2-year-old will build a block tower and places pegs expertly in holes.

Four to Six
Interest in playing together begins. Simple games are popular. Kitchen equipment, furniture and miniature tools have great appeal.

Six to Eight
Boys show a tendency to play with other boys; girls with girls. Dramatic and imitative play are popular.

When the child has learned to walk, toys on wheels or rollers stimulate further muscular development. Shortly before the second birthday children develop a joy in rhythmic sounds. They like toy musical instruments and picture books with bright pictures.

Children tend to adopt more specific interests. They tackle advanced craft and construction toys.

Kimberley Mine May Be Reopened
Cape Town—The fabulous De Beers diamond mine in Kimberley, which yielded 14,500,000 carats of gems before closing in 1914, may be reopened soon, according to Union of South Africa Government reports.

It was with this mine that Cecil Rhodes formed the De Beers Mining Co. in 1880 and eventually gained control of all the diamond mines in Kimberley.

Court May Get Ballot Wrangle In Cook County

publishers are ruling out of their own tally ballots they deem invalid for improper markings or other reasons.

The recount of paper ballots in 906 of the county's 9,199 precincts is being made at the request of Adamowski, in what is called a discovery proceeding.

Whatever it shows, the figures can't be changed in the official canvass of the county. That must be left to a recount, Adamowski plans a suit for a recount.

"We are confident," he said, "that we will be able to prove that I was elected state's attorney and Vice President Nixon carried Illinois."

The Nixon Recount Committee thus far has not made clear whether it will sue for a recount on behalf of the Vice President.

The next major step will be a meeting next week of the Illinois Electoral Board.

Gov. William G. Stratton, chairman of the Republican dominated board, said it may withhold the state's 27 electoral votes if it receives substantial evidence of fraud.

Sidney Holzman, chairman of the Chicago Board, said poll judges will be called in for questioning in instances where there are large discrepancies between precinct and recount figures.

The Justice Department said in Washington that it is investigating complaints of voting irregularities in Texas and Illinois, especially in Cook County.

Smugglers' Selection
The United States-Mexican border has always been a favorite of smugglers because it is sparsely populated and about as big as possible from the seat of government of both countries, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

A meeting of the Manchester Golden Age Club, scheduled for tomorrow, has been postponed until Dec. 15 at 2 p.m. until renovations are completed at the East Side Recreation Center.

Our Lady of Hope Mothers Circle will meet tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Andrew Spiron, 281 Hackmatack St. Co-sponsors will be Mrs. Steven Sullivan and Mrs. Joseph Trudeau.

A Christmas party for adult Girl Scout leaders will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Leaders from the south neighborhood with Mrs. Joseph Belliveau in charge have made all arrangements for the party. Each person is requested to bring a handmade gift.

Manchester Emblem Club will meet tonight at 7 o'clock at the K of C Home for a business meeting. Officers will be elected at an annual meeting of the Youth Group of St. John's Polish National Catholic Church tonight at 7 o'clock at the church hall. The Christmas meeting will be followed by a rehearsal of the harmonica band under the direction of Joseph Batast.

An adult information hour will be held at Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church tomorrow at 6:30, followed by a Missionary Crusade meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Here we come a vassailing...

Caroling for the fun of it are the Round Table Singers from Manchester High School who last night delighted crowds at the Parade with an impromptu songfest. The singers had just entertained the Lions Club at a meeting held in a Parlane's restaurant, and were waiting for the bus to return to the high school.

Their exuberance hadn't worked itself out, so when somebody began humming the rest of them took up the song in an instant. Crowds gathered from the stores, and the bus delayed to let the youngsters sing. A couple of the boys draped their tunica jackets around the girls, since none of them had thought to bring warm coats. Walking backward is David Almond, who sometimes leads his fellow students. (Herald photo by Piro)

Basilio Learns to Live in Boxer's Inquiry

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—Carmel Basilio, boxer from the boxing ring to face a Senatorial prize fight inquiry, John Bonomi, special counsel to the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, said he planned to question the former lightweight champion about possible relations with James Norris and Frankie Carbo.

Both names have been mentioned frequently in the subcommittee's hunt for an underworld link on boxing. Norris was co-owner of the International Boxing Club, dissolved by court order after the game of Carbo in 1956. Carbo is a gangster figure presently in prison for undercover match-making and managing.

In addition to Basilio, the Senate unit hoped to hear from Jack Kearns, the colorful manager-promoter who handled Jack Dempsey for more than a decade. Kearns is $137,000 from Norris Enterprises for going to activity among other managers.

Before getting into the Bonomi matter, Basilio, 40, former New York boxer Herman (Hymie the Milk) Walker, admitted that he has been in contact with Carbo when he began testifying.

Yesterday, he said Carbo understood the International Boxing Club. Basilio, former IBC matchmaker, as Carbo's man and made it safe for Williams' fighters to appear on IBC cards.

Controlled appearances showed Bonomi produced testimony before a New York Grand Jury in 1958 in which Williams agreed with an interrogator that Carbo practically controlled match-making in Madison Square Gardens. The IBC ran Garden boxing shows.

Williams also said that Carbo's recommendation, he acquired the contract of Johnny Bratton, who later captured one version of the welterweight title.

Norris and an associate, Truman Gibson, were present with Williams in Madison Square Gardens in 1950, Williams said—and the IBC was not to be broken up by the former manager.

Williams' manager, Herman (Hymie the Milk) Walker, admitted that he has been in contact with Carbo when he began testifying.

Free Football's Five Greatest Games

Professional football's five greatest games, up to last Sunday, in the opinion of Sport magazine, were listed in recent issue. The choices were all good and except for one, the 1923 battle between the Chicago Cardinals and cross-town rivals, the Bears, is a game that is now well known.

Long Struggle For Expansion Seemingly Reached

St. Louis, Dec. 7 (AP)—Despite last minute snags, the American League's six-week struggle to complete its expansion program for 1961 was expected to reach fulfillment today with a new team in Los Angeles.

Walter O'Malley, the National League's leader in the bitter territorial battle with the American League, ended his opposition to another team in Los Angeles with a surprise proposal yesterday.

The owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers agreed to this franchise holders—Bob Reynolds and actor Gene Autry—to operate his territory just as long as they meet certain conditions. All of the conditions were acceptable.

St. Louis, Dec. 7 (AP)—The disagreement reolved by a round robin plan in which the 500-seat Wrigley field will be the new team, which will be known as the "Los Angeles Angels" and will play in the National League.
