3,000 Feared Dead Few Survivors Of Andes Slide

By THEODORE A. EDIGER
Lima, Peru, Jan. 12 (AP)—Rescue planes flew into the Andes Valley of Huaylas 200 miles north of Lima today, where 3,000 to 4,000 persons are feared dead under an avalanche of ice, snow, rock and mud. The disaster virtually wiped out two villages and 14 settlements in eight minutes. Before darkness last night, 50 bodies had been recovered. A doctor back from the stricken area said rescuers would have little to do but recover the dead—“There are no injured.”

Only two planes were able to fly yesterday into Caraz, about 20 miles north of the disaster area, before dense fog and bad weather set in. But this morning, planes began a shuttle to carry in doctors, nurses, medicines, food and clothing for victims of Wednesday's tragedy. Because of the danger of new slides, the area was declared an emergency zone. The exact number of dead may never be known. Roberto Thornthike, chairman of Peru's Red Cross, said first estimates put the missing at 3,000. Most of these presumably are dead. Fomento, Peru's development ministry, said the dead may reach 3,000. Other officials' figures were higher. U.S. Ambassador James Loeb, who flew over the death valley at 17,000 feet yesterday, reported estimates of 4,000 missing and presumed dead. He said there had been some panic among the few survivors. “It was one of the strangest disasters since there were practically no survivors,” he said. “Everybody was killed.” Fomento warned of danger of new avalanches in the Andean valley between the White and Black ranges. Only about 80 of the 500 inhabitants of the village of Raanra-

Mother Blamed For Auto Death Of Her Child, 2

Hartford, Jan. 12 (AP)—Coroner Louis W. Schaefer today held Mrs. Mary A. Smith, 200 Taylor Rd., Hazardville, criminally responsible for the death of her son, Barry, two, in an accident. The child was fatally injured Dec. 10 when the car in which he was riding, driven by the mother, hit a tree on the north side of Kroyssig Rd., East Windsor. Mrs. Smith took both hands off the steering wheel, the coroner said, when she reached for her son, who had fallen asleep on the front seat and fallen to the side. In another report, Coroner Schaefer held Charles Malino, 33 King St., Bristol, criminally responsible for the death of Mrs. Grace Middleton, 77, of Rockville Ave., Plainville. A car Malino was driving struck Mrs. Middleton on East Middletown Plainville last Dec. 12. She died shortly afterwards in New Britain General Hospital.

15th for Kowalski
Seymour, Jan. 12 (AP)—U.S. Rep. Frank Kowalski has been given the backing of the Democratic town committee in his candidacy for the party's nomination as U.S. senator this year. An announced candidate, Kowalski may be opposed by former Governor Abraham Ribicoff, who has said he might accept a draft. Ribicoff is now in President Kennedy's cabinet.

The town committee became the 15th such group to endorse Kowalski. Last year State and National Democratic Chairman John A. Bailey asked the committee to withhold such backing for several months.

Bus Driver Sets Example

Crossett, Ark., Jan. 12 (AP)—A Negro woman and her small granddaughter are enjoying this community's belated—but bountiful—hospitality after spending two days and nights aboard a stranded transcontinental bus. The passengers, Mrs. Mae Lee Johnson, 55, Bourbon, Miss., and Gwendolyn Faye, a smiling child of almost three who wears pig-tails, were kept warm and comfortable on the bus because the white driver ignored a chance to take lodging at a hotel and kept the heating system going. The Continental Trailways bus stopped here during a snowstorm Tuesday and C. C. Barlow, Texarkana, Ark., the driver, received orders not to go on because of hazardous highways. The white passengers went to hotels, but the only Negro hotel in town told Barlow that it had no room. “I guess you'll have to stay on the bus,” he told Mrs. Johnson and Gwendolyn. They were en route to Los Angeles for a visit with Mrs. Johnson's daughter, Mrs. Minnie Bell Williams. Barlow folded down two seats for the passengers and they spent two nights aboard the bus. He cat-napped in a front seat. Temperatures outside dropped to three degrees above zero. The bus station cafe was closed two months ago to avoid integration. So Barlow helped Mrs. Johnson and Gwendolyn to a nearby

Negro cafe for some meals. Other meals were eaten from a lunch they had brought. Thursday the bus door opened and Julian Haas, manager of Radio Station WAGH, stepped aboard. He talked with Mrs. Johnson and Barlow and went back to the station. He broadcast the story at 2 p.m. “As soon as I was off the air the phone calls started,” he said. “There were calls from Negro families who said they would put them up. A white hotel owner called and said to send them over. There was a room regardless of their color. “A white woman called and said they could use her son's room because he was away at school.” By the time Haas got back to the bus station, dozens of people, white and Negro—were clustered around the bus. They carried food, clothing and invitations for lodging. Mrs. Johnson and Gwendolyn went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson, Negroes (no relation), to spend the night. Townsfolk brought enough food for a banquet. Barlow went to stay with a Baptist minister. “That bus driver really deserves the credit,” Haas said. He didn't have to stay on that bus. There were rooms in white hotels.” The bus was expected to leave Crossett today.

Central Congo Plans Gizenga Censure Vote

Leopoldville, The Congo, Jan. 12 (AP)—A formal censure motion against Lumumbist Antoine Gizenga was introduced in the Congolese parliament today, charging him with deserting his official functions in Leopoldville and defying the parliament. He holds rank as deputy premier in the Leopoldville Central government. In Stanleyville, Gizenga is reportedly censure with his longtime army supporter, Gen. Victor Lundula. Reliable reports said Lundula's troops have arrested four of Gizenga's top lieutenants. Today's tough parliamentary move was backed by 44 members of the lower house of deputies. A majority of those attending. The number included many of Gizenga's one-time supporters. The motion is expected to come to a vote Monday—by parliamentary rules a delay of 48 hours must pass between the motion's introduction and a vote on the motion of this importance. Diplomats judge Gizenga is now seriously isolated, having lost almost all of the black influence he could once claim as heir to the late Patrice Lumumba. The leftist deputy premier, in a sudden change of heart, agreed to the political coalition in Stanleyville after losing a test of his power there. Stanleyville police, who have been his main military arm, yesterday reportedly defied his order to arrest Congolese Gen. Victor Lundula and members of a U.N. commission investigating the massacre of 15 Italian airmen last November.

This appeared a crucial blow to the Communist-backed deputy premier who tried to ride to power on the political coalition of the slain Patrice Lumumba. After challenging the Leopoldville government to come and get the political coalition, he returned to Stanleyville that he would return to the capital willingly. Gizenga did not specify a date for his arrival. But the president of the lower house of parliament

Dempsey Aims Review Unit in State Welfare

Hartford, Jan. 11 (AP)—Governor Dempsey today announced creation of a “case review unit” within the State Welfare Department to check operations of the interest of efficiency and economy. The unit will be headed by Robert F. Richardson, a department employee since 1950. He has analyzed the department's operations and his staff will be augmented by six more people as soon as possible. The new unit basically will conduct a spot check of case records in district offices to assure that those put on relief are financially eligible and that welfare checks are correct in line with individual needs. The action comes as the legislature's appropriations committee has begun a study of the agency which spends more than $100 million annually. It will recommend roughly one-fourth of the state's general fund budget. The legislative group wants to know whether the agency should continue to operate under an “open end budget” which enabled it to above the appropriations. The agency during the first five months of this fiscal year has exceeded appropriations by some $2 million. Specifically, the unit will look into such matters as: All factors of eligibility, expenditure of all sources, correctness of assistance payments and validity of determining need. Periodic reports will be made by the unit to Welfare Commissioner Bernard Shapiro so that

Gov. DiSalle to Try For Second Term

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 12 (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced today he has changed his mind about quitting and will be a candidate for a second term. President Kennedy attended a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Columbus last Saturday night, honoring the 54th birthday anniversary of the governor. At that time neither the President nor the governor made any mention of DiSalle's future plans. (Continued on Page Three)

“What you do when it's over is, you come out with a consensus,” New York Republican Governor Nelson Rockefeller is telling Connecticut's four announced GOP gubernatorial contenders. Not Just to Be President Rockefeller Willing to Serve Only in Interests of Freedom

By JUDITH AHEARN
(Herald Staff Reporter)
New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, already a strong possibility for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964, limited his comments last night before a Republican fund raising dinner in Hartford to praise of politics in general and Republican politics in particular. But he opened up both before and after the dinner, during interviews with the press, to admit he is willing to serve as president and to outline some of his ideas on national and international problems. Questioned on whether he is now a contender for the 1964 GOP nomination, Rockefeller said he is concentrating on being re-elected this fall as governor of New York. “To tell you frankly, if I had a chance to be president, I would be glad to serve wherever I could,” he said, adding later that he didn't want to be president just for the sake of being president. What the country needs, he said, is a more rapid rate of economic expansion, which should be provided by a framework that encourages individual initiative, rather than by close government controls. Such a framework would “give security to those investing their funds.” The expanded number of industries and their expanded incomes would in turn provide a higher amount of taxes for the government, he said. During a TV interview, which was a live telecast of the CBS program “At the Source,” Rockefeller said “political structures larger than the nation state” are needed to provide an economic and political bond for free people. Such a framework would be a force for good in the Cold War, he said. The United Nations does not meet such needs, he said. Although he termed President Kennedy's State of the Union message “a very eloquent address,” he said it ought to have included a statement of how Americans can meet the threats facing them in the world today. Areas of action which he thought the present national administration has not dealt with effectively, he said, are civil rights, tax distribution and the common market.

The great need today, he said, was to “think beyond national borders” and to create “political structures larger than the nation state.” In reference to the campaign in New York City Mayor Robert Wagner would run against him, adding that “if he gets the word, he will be glad to run.” Rockefeller said he would be pleased to improve the 500,000-vote plurality by which he won the governorship in 1958. News Tidbits President Kennedy should be judged on his performance in national office as a politician and not as a Catholic, Catholic Free Press says in editorial. Navy temporarily cuts minimum enlistment period for new recruits from four to three years, Washington reports. Alexei Adzhubel, son-in-law of Soviet Premier Khrushchev and editor of Ivestia, arrived in Caracas en route to Cuba for two-week seminar on Journalism. Tibetan guerrilla fighters attack Chinese in new flareup of resistance and have inflicted heavy losses, statesman in dispatch from Katmandu, Nepal, reports. New York City's one-day-old strike of 8,000 electricians forces laying off of nearly 4,000 other construction workers. Trustees of bankrupt New Haven Railroad file petition with U.S. District Court in New Haven for authority to abandon portion of line between Olneyville and Pascoag, R. I. Former President Eisenhower during 30-city closed circuit telecast as part of program to kick off 1962 Republican Campaign. Public schools in Berkshire County town of Lenox, closed because of outbreak of flu. Tattooing would be unlawful in Rhode Island except by licensed physician under bill introduced in legislature by State Department of Health. Twelve Vietnamese soldiers killed in three separate road ambushes on main highway within 20 miles of Saigon, government sources at Saigon, South Viet Nam, say. Composer Ferde Grofe, who says he likes excitement of being married, plans to re-wed same woman for third time in 10 years without a divorce. Unarmed United Nations jet accidentally flies into Communist North Korea but returns safely, U.N. Command at Panmunjom says.

Rockefeller was questioned about how he thought his personal life would affect his political chances—in apparent reference to his recent announcement that he and Mrs. Rockefeller have separated and plan a divorce. The governor said he hoped and expected New York voters would make up their minds on the basis of what he has done since he took office in 1959. He told both the newsmen at a late afternoon press conference and the audience at the dinner that the Connecticut GOP gubernatorial race this year reminded him of the gubernatorial race in New York in 1958, when five men sought the nomination. A hotly contested nomination is “exciting,” “stimulating,” he said, and brings out voters. A newsmen asked him which of the four announced candidates—Edwin May Jr., John Alopp, John Lupton and Newman Marsilius—he thought was “in a parallel position to your own,” which drew a laugh from both the governor and other newsmen. Rockefeller dodged the question, saying he had not been here long enough. Rockefeller said the move apparently under way in Democratic circles in Connecticut to give the nomination for senator to Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham Ribicoff is indicative of weakness on the part of the Democrats. “I would think that they would need him in view of the way things were shaping up in the Republican Party,” he said. A pointman at Ribicoff was also taken by GOP State Chairman A. Searle Pinsky. In a speech at the dinner, Pinsky said Ribicoff is using the Democratic party to satisfy his own ambitions. May Win Cut Tariff Authority

By JACK BELL
Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—President Kennedy appears likely to win approval of fewer than half of the wide-ranging domestic and foreign programs he has handed to an election-conscious Congress. A salvo of applause for Kennedy's State of the Union reference to the Berlin problem “We are prepared to talk, when appropriate, and to fight, if necessary”—signaled general 2-party agreement on foreign policy objectives in the Cold War. There was bipartisan approval, too—mixed with some Republican skepticism—for Kennedy's pledge to submit a balanced budget next week. But these displays of unity did not dispel signs that many of the President's major proposals will be trampled under amid congressional pulling and hauling. Not all of the news was bad for Kennedy, however. He and his leaders could look toward the likely enactment of a program—in a form yet to be determined—to give the executive authority to negotiate lower tariffs with the European Common Market. Kennedy could expect tax law revisions, closing of some loopholes and extension of excise levies. He was assured of an increase in the $500 billion debt limit, for which he has yet to make a formal request. He might get a postal rate increase. He could believe that when the shouting is over he would be left with at least restricted authority to buy $100 million in U.N. bonds and to start the ball rolling on a special, 3-year $5 billion fund for the All-India Progress Program in Latin America. But bipartisan reaction marked for future casualty lists his request for a 10% cut in the defense authority. Standby power to lower taxes and to launch a public works program. Congressmen, concerned about unemployment, might act on man-

Jakarta, Indonesia, Jan. 12 (AP)—President Sukarno at the last minute today called off the formal presentation of a luxury helicopter given him by President Kennedy. Sukarno's press secretary told newsmen a few minutes before the ceremony was to start that it had been canceled “because it is not in the spirit of our work.” The military-green aircraft was already on the lawn of Sukarno's Merdeka Palace, a military band had assembled and some diplomats had arrived.

It has not been heard from since, the source said.

Labor, Management Agree Kennedy Urged to Aid All Idled by Automation

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—Leading industrialists and labor union leaders have jointly advised President Kennedy that, while modernizing American industry means cutting jobs, the government and employers must take care of workers made idle. The report—the first one filed by Kennedy's 21-man Labor-Management Advisory Committee—called for a “course of action which will encourage essential progress in the fields of science and technological change, while meeting at the same time the social consequences such change creates.” The recommendation, representing a remarkable meeting of the minds in a normally contentious group, were received by Kennedy at the White House yesterday in an hour-long conference with his advisers. Praising the report, Kennedy said: “We must take advantage of every opportunity for technological development. “But we cannot disregard the human values involved. We must recognize both sides of this problem.” The automation report, originally drafted by President Clark M. Ferguson of the University of California, one of the public members of the group, called for a whole series of measures by the government and employers to ease the plight of workers and their families hard hit by automation. Nobody quarreled with the need for making industry steadily more efficient. Instead, it was urged that this process continue in order to improve economic growth and the U.S. position in world markets. Many of the methods suggested to ease the human burden of automation quite closely resembled proposals Kennedy is urging on the newly convened Congress—such as power to reduce taxes in times of high unemployment, to train displaced workers in new skills and to pay costs of idled workers to relocate into other areas. It was suggested, as Kennedy has again recommended to Congress, that the government step into a field previously reserved to

The avalanche struck on a mountain slope of the Cordillera Blanca Range looking down on the town of Chimbote. Many of the bodies recovered were mutilated beyond identification and were buried in a common grave. The avalanche was born on the highest peak, 22,000-foot Mt. Huascarán, and peels below melting in the summer sun, broke away and collected tons upon tons of rock and snow as they rolled down into canyon.

The avalanche grew steadily as it roared into the valley below to overwhelm the unsuspecting Indians just sitting down to eat their evening meal.

Shocked survivors from Rancharica—the Indian name means "hill of snow"—said the avalanche began with a "hellish" explosion of that of a dynamite explosion.

"If looked like every one in Rancharica had been dived by the ice, rocks and mud," said Dr. Leoberto Guzman, another survivor.

Today all registrars of voters in the state are holding enrollment sessions and the fellow who calls himself an independent voter will have done well to heed the call. This was his chance to right an injustice—the one who has inflicted on himself by failing to register with a political party and depriving himself of a part of his basic right to self government.

But the independent voter will be barred from expressing his opinion on who those delegates shall be. Only registered Republicans may vote in Republican caucuses and primaries; only registered Democrats, in Democratic caucuses and primaries; and like wise for any splinter party.

Board Names Five to Draft Housing Code

A committee of five town officials was appointed by the board of directors last night to prepare a draft of a proposed housing code for the town after studying existing housing codes of other areas.

Those named to the committee are Town Health Director Dr. Nicholas Marbiolo, Building Inspector Thomas Monahan, Police Chief James Reardon, Town Fire Chief W. Clifford Mason and Town Planning Engineer Edward Rybczyk.

The directors asked that the committee review regulations on various housing codes before reporting back to the board with the draft.

Acting General Manager Arthur J. LeClaire said a housing code is needed by the town to supplement the building code "if we want community improvement."

Rybczyk told the board that the proposed code would differ from the building code through regulations pertaining directly to home facilities. For example, he said, one housing code he has studied requires that rooming houses provide window screens.

While that particular regulation may be found unnecessary in Manchester, he said, others would insure safe, sanitary and decent housing.

Rybczyk said a town housing code is "necessary with redevelopment." It would help insure approval of federal housing projects and help guarantee aid grants, he said.

He said he has studied the codes used by New York City, New Haven and New London to learn possible regulations for a Manchester code. He said he will review these codes with the committee.

Conway Appointed To Building Unit

Frank J. Conway, a Pratt and Whitney engineer, was appointed last night by the board of directors to fill the unexpired term of John W. Mortimer on the building committee.

Conway, 267 Hackmatack St., is a registered professional engineer who has worked in heating, ventilating and air conditioning at PWA's plant engineering department for 10 years. A Republican, his term will run until November 1963.

Director Francis P. DellaFera suggested Conway for the post, and the directors, unanimously voted the appointment.

Conway received a mechanical engineering degree from Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken, N. J., and has done graduate work at the South Windsor extension of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Mortimer's resignation from the committee was accepted last night by the directors. He had asked to resign because he has accepted a post with General Electric in Schenectady, N. Y. He had served as the committee's secretary.

While that particular regulation is necessary with redevelopment, he said, others would include safe, sanitary and decent housing.

Rybcyk said a town housing code is a necessary and important step. It would help insure proper housing conditions and help guarantee aid grants, he said.

Penney, Central To Merge

By ROGER LANE AP Business News Writer New York, Jan. 13 (AP)—The high school merger went up today for merging the giant Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads.

Carrying an "economic necessity" label, the plan dramatized the financial crisis that threatens the nation's railroads.

It is now considered futile to try to unionize the railroads. The industry is now a "cash and carry" business, according to the plan.

The railway brotherhoods fear the elimination of jobs, one of the main points by which the merging companies would lose money.

Latest published figures showed the Central nearly $10 million in the red — although the figure may have improved in the year in the black.

John E. Kusik, Chesapeake & Ohio senior vice president, said he would support the merger.
