

U.S. Copters Ferry Vietnamese in Raid On Viet Cong Rebels

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. helicopter company airlifted Vietnamese troops on a raid Sunday to wipe out a strong Viet Cong Communist force based at Hung My, a village near the southern tip of South Viet Nam. Most of the quarry escaped. Three rebels were captured. A large supply of medicine, 10 pounds of documents and some homemade arms were seized. But the great majority of the village garrison—about 130 guerrilla troops—fled from freshly dug foxholes into the nearby bamboo groves as the fleet of U.S. copters roared down on them. Of the 13 helicopters involved, one was downed and another was hit by parting fire. None of the Americans and Vietnamese aboard was injured. The airborne assault force, moved into the attack in three successive waves, totaled one battalion of Vietnamese infantry and a company of rangers—perhaps 500 men. Only women, children and two old men occupied the village by the time the copter fleet last touched down and three Vietnamese army units, each with American military advisers, closed in. Lt. Col. Robert E. Olson of Dallas, Tex., one of the advisers, commented that "limited as we were in men, machines and communications we just could not close that ring tight enough." Women who emerged from the grass huts, some with naked babies in their arms, gave questioners little info's re: the strength and whereabouts of the guerrillas, and much of what they did say was conflicting. "You can't really blame them," said Maj. David Galtier of Washington, D.C. "If these women talk today, they'll probably die tomorrow." The mission pointed up sharply the problems faced by South Viet Nam and the United States in their efforts to clear the nation of Viet guerrilla force now estimated at 50,000 men—five times the number in the field two years ago. The 13 helicopters took off at dawn Sunday from Saigon and picked up the troops at Ca Mau, 150 miles southwest of that capital. Each helicopter is capable of carrying 12 combat-equipped men. In the three flights to Hung My, each thus carried a total of about three dozen. In the last stages of the run (Continued on Page Five)

Youth Accused In Fatal Stabbing

New Haven (AP)—An 18-year-old Wallingford youth is being held on a murder charge in a fatal stabbing in a boarding house yesterday. The youth, Ismael Nieves, said he stabbed Mrs. Charlotte Monk, 32, in self-defense, according to police. She was dead on arrival at Grace-New Haven Community Hospital with seven stab wounds in the chest. Police said an argument broke out about 9 a.m. in the kitchen of a rooming house owned by Mrs. Monk's sister. They said Nieves told them that the two women started throwing glasses at him, and then Mrs. Monk rushed at him with a kitchen knife. He pulled out a switchblade knife and stabbed her in self-defense, police quoted him as saying.

Over 20 Cars, Truck in Jam On Turnpike

BRIDGEPORT, (AP)—More than 20 vehicles piled up in heavy fog on the Connecticut Turnpike today, injuring at least four persons. State Police estimated that as many as 25 to 28 vehicles were involved in the chain reaction accident on the eastbound and westbound lanes near the Bridgeport-Stamford line. Four persons were admitted to Bridgeport Hospital, but the extent of their injuries was not immediately known. The accident started in the westbound lane, when a car hit the rear of a truck. Other vehicles rolled freely again. State Police said a motorist in the eastbound lane slowed down to see the pileup, and similar rear-end collisions occurred there. By 11:30 a.m. about 90 minutes of the pileups, the lanes of the turnpike were cleared of vehicles in both directions and traffic rolled freely again. All available state troopers from the Westport Barracks were dispatched to the scene at the time of the crashes.

De Gaulle Hits Foes In Algiers

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle said tonight that despite "subversive and criminal" resistance by right-wing opponents, France is moving rapidly toward peace in Algeria. The French president, in a radio-television speech to the nation, declared he "positively hoped" he would attain this goal very soon. He added that France would soon make public in detail her latest proposals to end the more than seven years of savage nationalist insurrection. De Gaulle scoffed at efforts of right-wing European activists, grouped in the clandestine Secret Army Organization, to seize power in France. He recalled previous unsuccessful efforts of the right-wing Europeans in Algeria to undermine the Paris government.

Students Stone U.S. Embassy In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A student mob stoned the U.S. Embassy and ripped down the American flag today, injuring one employee. The action brought a vigorous American protest. The students, believed to be pro-Communist, were protesting because a Dutch plane carrying troops to disputed West New Guinea was allowed to refuel on U.S. soil. The mob action came before reports reached here that the United States had withdrawn permission for Dutch charter planes carrying troops to use U.S. airfields at Anchorage, Alaska; Honolulu and Wake Island. At the Hague, a communique said Premier Jan de Quay of the Netherlands had expressed his deep disappointment and added that he could not understand the U.S. decision. The Indonesian news agency said Foreign Minister Subandrio expressed regret about the attack on the embassy although he added he could "well understand the anger and irritation of the Indonesians." Inquest Starts On Deaths In Hospital Fire

HARTFORD, Feb. 5 (AP)—An inquest on the Dec. 4 fire at Hartford Hospital, which caused 16 deaths, was opened today by Hartford County Coroner Louis W. Mulcahy. It was held for convenience in a conference room at the institution, since many of the witnesses are hospitalized and officials said it was expected to take at least two days. The inquest was closed to the public in accordance with Coroner Schaefer's usual custom. This is a discretionary matter under the law. State Police Commissioner Leo J. Mulcahy was the first witness called into the conference room to testify. In his capacity as state fire marshal, he recently completed an exhaustive investigation of the fire. Reports on both the inquest and the fire marshal's investigation will be given to State Atty. John D. LaBelle, who will make them public in the near future.

Benrus Strike Ends

WATERBURY (AP)—Union workers went back to their jobs today at the Benrus Watch Co. where production of watch cases had been halted by a 3-week strike. The 230 members of Local 1221, United Auto Workers, voted Saturday to end the walkout, which began Jan. 13, by accepting a new 2-year contract. A principal stumbling block in the negotiations was a difference over incorporating a proposed wage increase into the company's incentive wage scales for piece workers. The union membership was strongly against such incorporation, although the negotiating committee initially agreed to the move. Under the next pact, however, a 5-cent-an-hour pay retroactive to Jan. 13 was agreed to.

Cuba Charges OAS Swayed by U.S. Gold

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson told the United Nations today that Cuba is trying to wreck the Alliance for Progress and that large sums of money are being supplied to see that this does not happen. The United States, he said, went to the conference "carrying a bag of gold in one hand and a dagger—a bloody dagger in the other." The efforts of President Kennedy to isolate Cuba from the rest of the western hemisphere, Garcia declared, have "carried economic aggression to its highest point." The Cuban delegate recited a long list of U.S. actions which he said proved not only wide-scale U.S. intervention in the internal affairs of Cuba but also evidence of aggressive plans. He asserted that hundreds of Cuban refugees are being trained in the United States, Guatemala, Panama, Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic and that large sums of money are being supplied by the Central Intelligence Agency to train saboteurs and spies. Garcia again assailed U.S. occupation of the Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba as illegal and declared that the base is being used for anti-Cuban purposes. Castro Blasts Kennedy Ban On Cuba Trade

HAVANNA (AP)—Cheered by a vast throng of Cubans and bolstered by a message from the Kremlin, Fidel Castro brushed off Cuba's impending expulsion from the Inter-American system Sunday night and predicted his kind of revolution would sweep Latin America "like a march of giants." A throng of Cubans, jamming Jose Marti Plaza, roared approval as the bearded prime minister assailed President Kennedy as hypocritical and impudent for banning imports from Cuba. U.S. officials in Washington said the ban, chiefly affecting tobacco, will deprive Castro's regime of $35 million a year. Castro shouted his defiance of the Organization of American States for its 14-1 vote at Punta del Este, Uruguay, last week to oust Cuba from the hemisphere family of nations until it breaks its ties with the Communist bloc. Six nations abstained. The monster crowd cheered each time the prime minister denounced the United States and the 13 Latin American nations which voted against Cuba. Castro's 2-hour, 40-minute speech came on the eve of a debate in the U.N. political committee on a Communist-sponsored resolution charging the United States with aggression against Cuba. FBI Refuses Comment

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The young son of William Allen Taylor has discounted a sensational story that Taylor carried a bomb aboard a National Airlines plane which disappeared into the Gulf of Mexico two years ago. William Allen Taylor Jr., 19, called Robert Vernon Spears' story a fabrication. Spears, serving a sentence in Alcatraz for his role in the slaying of Dr. Edmund A. Barker, radio and television news director for station KRLD in Dallas, Tex. The Dallas Times Herald copied the story. The plane disappeared with 42 persons aboard on Nov. 16, 1959, while en route from Tampa to Dallas. Spears, 67, a naturopath, was on the passenger list for the flight. He had insured his life for $121,000 and was arrested by FBI agents in a Phoenix, Ariz., motel two months after the plane vanished. The FBI has refused to comment on Spears' story. Spears, serving a sentence for stealing the elder Taylor's car, told Barker in a series of interviews that he has asked Taylor, an old friend at Tampa and a former fellow convict, to make a bomb so that he could "take care" of a woman witness against him in a Los Angeles abortion case. Spears said he came to Tampa to discuss the plans. Taylor, he said, told him he wanted to go to Dallas to get a brace for his injured neck and asked to use Spears' airline ticket because he found driving too painful. Spears said he last saw Taylor walking through the door to the airport with the bomb wrapped in a package under his arm. When Taylor's body was interviewed, he said Spears' story contradicts everything Spears had said previously. He said that an investigation had shown Spears carried hypnosis and added that his father could not have carried a bomb aboard the plane unless "he was either hypnotized or drugged." He said his father lacked the mechanical ability to make a bomb. The elder Taylor did not complain of a sore neck the night that the plane took off, his son said. He added that his father had suffered a neck injury four or five years earlier in an automobile accident "but he never had any acute pain, such as Spears describes. He had a brace, which he had all but thrown away. It's still out here in the garage. I don't know why he would have wanted a new one." (Continued on Page Seven)

Jap Reds Hand 3 Protests to Bob Kennedy

TOKYO (AP)—Three Japanese Communist groups delivered protests today for U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. The Japanese Reds, told Kennedy's school was light, obligingly delivered their written protests against "oppression of American Communists" to a minor official of the U.S. Embassy. David Oshorn, U.S. Embassy first secretary, said the protests. "They haven't been translated yet so we don't know exactly what they say." Although Japan's leftists have announced no plans for demonstrations against Kennedy's visit, reports circulated that leftist students were planning a demonstration Thursday at Waseda University, where Kennedy is scheduled to meet student groups. One official of the Kennedy welcoming committee said a special police escort had not been arranged. Kennedy met Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda today and assured him that the future U.S. economic policy under his brother's direction will not neglect Japan. Economic issues that have caused some grumbling in Japan came up in the first official call of the U.S. attorney general's six-day visit to Japan. (Continued on Page Two)

4 Americans Killed With 14 Others in Peru Plane Crash

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Two U.S. scientists and their wives, returning from an Amazon research trip, perished Sunday in the crash of a Peruvian airliner in the mountains of central Peru. All 18 persons aboard the plane were killed. The twin-engine DC3 of the Faucett Airlines came down in a heavy rainstorm shortly after taking off from Lima, 135 miles from the Hualahuilla River. Authorities said the plane had been forced to land by the bad weather. The American victims were identified as Dr. and Mrs. Jerome A. Uram of Newton, Mass., and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Block of New York City. Block and his wife, Margaret, both 50 were protein chemists who co-authored a book on proteins. Dr. Block was attached to the Boyce-Thompson Institute of New York City and was a consultant for the Borden Co. The Blocks resided in Scarsdale, N.Y. Block, who received his degree from Yale, was the author of several books. Uram, 35, was an assistant professor of food toxicology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, specialized in Canadian stocks. (Continued on Page Two)

'Boiler Room Operators' Brokers Next Target In Tax Fraud Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—A prominent Wall Street figure closely associated with the New York Stock Exchange is expected to be the first target of a federal drive against alleged tax evaders in the securities field. Informed sources said Sunday the case involves allegations of criminal tax fraud and would produce a sensation in financial and business circles. If the government adheres to its tentative timetable, it was learned, evidence will be presented to a federal grand jury in New York City this week. A final decision was being delayed pending a special meeting of federal prosecutors later today. Informants said at least a dozen tax fraud cases, including this one, were being developed against brokers, underwriters, stock manipulators, "boiler room operators" and Wall Street lawyers. They said the intensive work in the securities area was similar to past income tax crackdowns which have involved physicians, dentists, morticians, lawyers, small businessmen and even tugboat captains. Some of the investigations have been under way for as long as three years. A large proportion involved Wall Street operations, but several centers in other cities. A number of the pending cases resulted from recent investigations of the American Stock Ex-

Romney, 56, president of American Motors, said Sunday on a television interview program—NBC—Meet the Press—that he will make his decision this week. As for the Democratic party, Romney said he thought it "has been identified too much as a union party and that actually union influence is too great." 'Big Flip' Coming Soon Rahu Swallows Sun, 'Doomsday' Postponed

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Serpent Rahu had his fun but the world-ess as it may be with earthly troubles—was still intact today. "Doomsday weekend" passed without the horrible calamities predicted by Hindu soothsayers that sent millions of frightened Indian and Nepalese believers to prayer meetings. The evil Rahu swallowed the sun as predicted today. But things came back to normal after an eclipse lasting about three minutes. Hindu astrologers had predicted great calamities when six planets—Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Earth—moved into conjunction with each other and the sun and the moon over the weekend. It happens only every century or two. He came down to warn: "I believe that very soon the world will do a 'big flip' when the poles will change places with the equator. And mind you when the 'big flip' comes, 75 per cent of the world's population will be killed."

launched. There were not even any declarations of war, and even any very big admirals in the little war already being fought.

In fact, far from being a week-end of portentous disasters for mankind, it seemed to have passed rather quietly and uneventfully.

But we were the astute ones. We were the ones who had seen the signs of India, we would not give up that quickly or that easily.

They, as well as we, may have made the mistake of looking first for the external event, which in themselves represent no great decisions at all.

The great decisions, the great turns in history, the great blows and the great disasters in the history of civilization come first in the mind and heart of man, and are neither seen nor heard nor known until they have been decided in a state constitutional convention.

For all we know, this weekend may have been the fatal period of time during which some kind of consensus of minds turned right in the direction of the Kennedy endles, and seldom revealing processes of sanity and reason, and veered, or slightly but just enough to the right, to the subsequent action which will be out in the open and which will be the subject of the next news item. It is something less dreary and more excitingly satisfying.

Behind the Stockpiles

There seems little disposition, in any quarter, to quarrel with President Kennedy, that the nation's stockpiling of strategic materials goes beyond the usual amount and values originally projected, or likely to be held reasonable under present-day conditions.

The investigation, that is, the investigation that is finding the government now owns more of certain materials than it needs, for security reasons.

That leaves the question of how this state of affairs came about, and that, of course, is the point of the investigation. That is the area in which the Kennedy administration may, as every new administration tries to do sooner or later, succeed in uncovering facts which discredited the preceding administration. Suppose, for instance, some political cronies of Eisenhower, or of John F. Kennedy, had been in the office, and was able to bring it to pass that the government should buy a lot more of that particular material than it really needs.

There may be some such party dirt working for the investigation in the Kennedy administration is now launching.

But what the investigation is more likely to uncover will probably be along the lines suggested by the Herald Tribune editorial, which says:

"That stockpiling, like the accumulation of armaments, represents certain dangers. If the country is likely to need aluminum, let us say, in case of war, it is better to have it in its inventories, why shouldn't it build up a little faster, or a little higher, if the aluminum market is temporarily depressed. Or why shouldn't it buy more iron than it really needs, if a friendly tin-pot dictator, like the Soviet Union, is accumulating stocks of iron because the world market for tin is weak?"

The investigation, that is, the investigation that is finding the government now owns more of certain materials than it needs, for security reasons.

New Frontier Feud

We suggest that, if those who produce new folk songs for the hit parade find their inspiration running low, they prospect along the New Frontier, up in the Comstock lode, where the miners look into the feud brewing between two of the great and famous political clans of that state.

It will be the McCormack and the Kennedys that will be found feuding there, just as it is, in such a degree, in the case of the Kennedys, there were some compulsion upon both of them to come down, each with his youngest son, to one of the Kennedy mansions.

Suppose, for instance, some political cronies of Eisenhower, or of John F. Kennedy, had been in the office, and was able to bring it to pass that the government should buy a lot more of that particular material than it really needs.

Why awake to a backache?

Money can't buy bedding that is more basically sound than Musco-Pedic and Verto-Rest Mattresses by Holman-Baker. Yet this fine bedding costs mere pennies more than ordinary, production-line mattresses. Orthopedic surgeons outlined the bedding requirement for back ailments. Holman-Baker designed it. Though they would not be so ungenerous, the makers of more expensive mattresses to fit their suggestions... extra firm Musco-Pedic for muscular disorders; ultra-firm Verto-Rest for more ailments. And it is amazing how many folks with normal, healthy backs like this bedding, too. Try it at Watkins tomorrow. Begin sleeping like a king! Costs only $89.50 for each piece.

Rockville-Vernon Rev. Mr. Jaxheimer Named Man of Year

It could name 100 people above Franklin Park site. A proposed project for low-income housing was withdrawn from the Franklin Park site due to strong citizen objection.

The Rev. Mr. Jaxheimer, pastor of First Lutheran Church, made the statement after being named Man of the Year by the Rockville Rotary Club for his bringing to completion the housing for the elderly project in Rockville.

The award was a complete surprise, he said. "It is one of outstanding things that's happened to me," he said, adding most of the credit should go to Mrs. Jaxheimer.

The award, an inscribed plaque coupled with a written statement of his achievement in book form, was presented by Edwin M. Lavitt, member of the nominating committee.

The presentation was made by the Rev. Mr. Jaxheimer at a dinner at the Sherburne Hotel in Hartford. The Rotary Club celebrated its 15th anniversary at the time.

John D. Cannon of Suffield, past district governor and prime mover in establishment of the Rockville club in 1947, was the main speaker. He reminisced on the club's beginnings and reviewed the history of Rotary International.

The Rev. Mr. Jaxheimer is the sixth recipient of the Man of the Year award, started in 1956 when Ralph H. Gibson was chosen for his work in establishing the Vernon Area Chamber of Commerce.

The number of taxable dwellings increased by one to 585 for a total assessment of $2,445,557. The number of barns and sheds decreased from 431 to 393 for a total assessment of $142,277.

While the assessed value of farm machinery decreased from $9,100 last year to $7,750 this year, assessed value of boats went from $2,990 to $4,630.

Other assessments for this year include: House lots, $265,925; land, $101,300; and banks, $4,500; machinery, $47,787; commercial furniture, $6,880; goods of manufacturers, $30,992; and taxable property not previously mentioned, $21,574.

The Republican Town Committee will meet Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall. All members are urged to attend.

The wardens, officers and vestrymen of St. Bernard's Episcopal Church will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the church annex.

Six Directors Tour Sites Proposed for Firehouses

Six town directors, accompanied by Fire Chief W. Clifford Mason and General Manager Richard Martin, made a tour of the various sites for the town's two proposed firehouses Saturday afternoon.

The group visited the McKee St. site, the three sites in question for the Center area firehouse, and four existing firehouses.

Mayor Harold A. Turkington, Democratic Director Francis Mahoney, and Republican Director Eric Anderson did not make the tour.

The board looked at the McKee St. property, about which there is no controversy, and found it a desirable location for one of the new firehouses.

The town is considering three sites for the center area station, one at E. Center and Harrison Sts., one at E. Center and Madison Sts., and a third adjacent to the Municipal Building parking lot, extending to Trotter St.

St. James' School Dedicates Library

A new library, which St. James' School children helped to finance by selling Christmas cards for two years, was dedicated last night at the school.

The Rev. John D. Regan of St. James' parish, principal of the school, blessed the new library, which has about 1,000 books now and has room for a total of 2,000.

The blessing of the library was part of the first parent-teacher meeting of the year. The library is a remodeled classroom in the older section of the school.

Sister Thomas Miriam of the Order of Sisters of Mercy, a Grade 2 teacher, will be librarian. Many of the books were ordered from the Palms Trees with funds from the Christmas card sale and a book fair in June.

At the parent-teacher meeting, further Regan discussed the need for yard mothers and parents later had private consultations with their children's teachers.

Lumber dealer solves knotty problems!

This lumber dealer's customers were complaining about delays when calling about supplies of building materials. Also, out-of-town business was not as good as it should be. When he asked us for help, we sent a Communications Consultant to study the situation.

The Consultant's recommendation: 1) Install a push-button telephone system between the office, mill, storage sheds and other work areas. 2) Install extension phones at strategic locations in the office, sales area and mill. 3) Advertise the firm's phone number in the Yellow Pages in all outlying areas.

Extension phones keep him in touch with customers wherever he is. And, with his phone number listed in outlying directories, former prospects are calling in orders and becoming steady customers. Perhaps one of our Communications Consultants can help your firm cut costs, improve efficiency or build sales during the weeks ahead. Tailoring telephone service to your needs is his specialty; there's no charge for his assistance. Just call our business office. The Southern New England Telephone Company.
