Although Lodge is considered a serious contender for the nomination, he has not officially entered the race with the other announced candidates.

Zeller, a delegate in this year's June 4 and 5th state convention and leader of the Eastern Connecticut Republican Association, said that many "influential people" had contacted him and urged that he get behind Lodge and pull the strings together.

He stated that when former Governor Lodge "let the state be left a surplus of over $17 million and I think he managed affairs of the state in a most efficient manner."

"I feel that he would bring the state back to a common sense administration," he added.

"We had our past differences but I still think he is the one who would lead the party to victory," Zeller declared. This was in apparent reference to the fact that Zeller forced Lodge's resignation as leader of the party after supporting Lodge for a nomination in 1950.

The breach in the ranks ousted Zeller's close friend and ally—William H. Brennan of Stamford and GOP national committeeman.

Dope Center Opposed
STAMFORD (AP)—Opposition to a proposed narcotics addiction center in Stamford was yesterday the subject of a hearing before the Connecticut State Narcotics Advisory Council.

Charles W. Robbins, expressing concern over the establishment of the proposed center, said the state should immediately represent the State Mental Health Commission, and Dr. Joyce Yonson of Stamford.

They stated that there would be no dependence on narcotics in the service center, which would be a $27,000 federal grant.

Robbins said his concern was based on the possibility that the clinic could prove to be an attraction for addicts from other areas, some of whom may establish residence in the area to become addicts for treatment.

This is especially true, he said, because of Stamford's proximity to New York, which reportedly has the highest percentage of addicts of any city in the country.

The hearing is one of several to be held in various parts of the state. The next will be held in New Haven.

River Cresting
WINDSOR LOCKS (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau issued this statement today for the Connecticut River in Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Connecticut:

The Connecticut River is falling along its entire length north of Connecticut. It is now cresting at Hartford and will crest at Middletown late tonight. Lowland flooding along the Connecticut River will continue for the next couple of days.

The Hartford stage at 10 a.m. was 20 1/2 feet and will fall slowly to 18 1/2 feet by Wednesday morning. The Middletown stage at 8 a.m. was 12 1/2 feet and will crest late tonight near 13 1/2 feet then begin to fall slowly.

A postal employee with the Hartford office of the Connecticut River was discovered opening mail containing contributions to local organizations.

Judge T. Emmet Clark, presiding at today's session of the District Court, also ruled that a 20-year-old Thompsonville youth be held in custody of the attorney general for observation and study.

Richard Patrick Long was presented in court today on a $100,000 bail bond. The attorney general's office is reviewing the case and will announce any final decision by the court.

The U.S. Labor Department had been trying to obtain the records since that time. Local 210 has that most of its members in the "Teachers Union," which won a certification election at Manning, Maxwell & Moore, Inc. of Stratford in February.

The labor department is investigating the local activities in the last three years. The union reported contributions of $35,000 in 1959, but at the end of the year, only $24 was left.

Student Sues Doc
WATERBURY (AP)—A college student, Walter R. Shredler, 25, sued after the veterinarian Dr. Robert River today and received a dog that had been trapped on a leash of concrete all night.

The dog, part collie and part retriever, was standing in about six inches of water that flowed over the top of a concrete wall about 40 feet from shore near the Washington Ave. bridge.

The animal's plight attracted a crowd to the scene Friday night, but no one could think of a way to rescue the animal.

Shredler said he could hear the animal whining all night in his home at nearby Railroad Hill Ave. This morning he put on a pair of shorts and boots and went into the water to retrieve the dog.

It was not known how the dog got into his predicament. The dog had a collar but no tag or identification.

Shredler took the dog home with him and it was returned to the Waterbury Branch of the University of Connecticut.

Charter Oak Kin Hunted
HARTFORD (AP)—Gov. John Dempsey launched a search today for 30 certified descendants of the famed Charter Oak, that blew up in 1676, to mark the 250th anniversary of the granting of the Connecticut charter by King Charles II.

In 1697, when Sir Edmund Andros came to Hartford to take back the charter, it was stolen right out from under his nose, and legend has it was hidden in the oak.

When the oak sank down in 1808, it was mourned extravagantly by its admirers and was made such ceremonial objects as the state seal and the highest decorations of descendants of the Charter Oak have certified pedigrees and should not be too difficult to locate.

Mail Handler Sentenced
HARTFORD (AP)—A Hartford Post Office mail handler was sentenced to one year in prison today on a charge of tampering with the mail.

John E. Beach, 34, of 129 Cleveland Ave., was sentenced on one count of six counts. The other five were nolle.

Beach's term is to be suspended after 90 days and he is to be placed on probation for two years. The maximum penalty for tampering with the mail calls for a $2,000 fine and five years imprisonment or both.

A postal employee with the Hartford office of the Connecticut River was discovered opening mail containing contributions to local organizations.

Caught in Blind Alley
ANSONIA (AP)—An Ansonia motorist was arrested today after leading state police on a 27-minute, bullet-punctuated chase from Seymour to Ansonia.

David Norman, 25, 64 Jovett St. was charged with reckless driving, operating a motor vehicle while the right to operate is under suspension, failure to obey officer's signals and failure to drive with tail lights on.

State Trooper Michael Bechico, traveling on Route 8 in Seymour at 1:30 a.m., said he observed Norman's car moving along the road without the tail lights and noticed the driver to pull over.

Instead, said the State Trooper, Norman took off at a high rate of speed, traveling at from 85 to 90 miles an hour.

In Ansonia, Patrolman Alexander Patonovitch fired several shots at the car's tires when, he said, Norman failed to stop.

Moments later, Norman drove into a blind alley off Central St., where he was caught. Police said he told them he had borrowed the car earlier in the evening.

Norman was held on bond of $250.

Union Records Found
HARTFORD (AP)—The long-sought financial records of Local 810, International Jewelry Workers Union in Stratford, turned up in U.S. District Court yesterday.

Charges Dismissed
PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Judge Francis J. McCabe yesterday in family court dismissed malicious mischief charges brought against four West Hartford High School students.

The students had been accused of damaging several rooms of a hotel, while celebrating their hockey team's victory in a game in the New England championship tournament last month.

Paul Borden, assistant city solicitor, recommended the case be dropped against the boys, whose ages are 16 and 17, because of insufficient evidence.

He said the same evidence would have to be presented which had been ruled unsatisfactory in district court Thursday, when five supporters of the team over 18 years of age were found guilty of malicious mischief at the Crown Hotel can identify them as participating in the damage.

Borden said he had no point in conducting a trial in family court.

The youths had been accused of damaging rooms on the fifth and sixth floors of the hotel.

FOUND DEAD IN CAR
COLCHESTER (AP)—Vincent D'Elia, 21, Middletown, was found dead in his car yesterday after it overturned off Route 16 and smashed into a rock ledge. The cause of death was a heart attack, state police said.

Hearing Tonight On Martin Budget
TAXPAYERS will have an opportunity of speaking up on the general manager's budget proposal tonight at Waddell School auditorium.

The public hearing of the board of directors on the budget will begin at 8 o'clock and will be held in the board room of the City Hall.

The budget for 1962 is $11,100,000, a 4.5 percent increase over the 1961 budget of $10,620,000.

The board of directors has until May 7 to adopt a budget and fix a tax rate.

The appropriation can be made which is greater than the department's recommendation, which ever is larger, would be an additional public hearing.

Nixon Called Non-Resident Interlopers Carpet Bagger
By Rogers

When the chips are down and taxpayers are down not only for the horse owner but today for every taxpayer in town. The Herald came through with a forceful editorial "Freeze The Tax-Rate."

Recently a coat of me of almost $500 Dr. Moran and I spotlighted the financial threat of a new tax-rate which is causing a suspension of schools at no cost to the city.

Last night, as you will see elsewhere in The Herald, Mr. Curtis, superintendent of schools, at no cost to the city, "wave the flag" rally in the High School auditorium in an attempt to have the PTA make tonight's hearing on the Martin budget at Waddell school in an effort to have the board of directors believe the whole town is for the board's budget, which the Herald has by inference declared a "hoax" or at least a most disturbing budget.

Mr. Curtis, a non-resident of Manchester, drawing a salary of $16,000 and expenses would disregard all warnings of hard times ahead and bid the taxpayers to spend as if we were in the lush times of the country's history.

The big controversial high tax factor in Mr. Curtis' budget is his advocacy of 25 pupils per room while the Catholic or parochial schools across the country and the Catholic high school in Manchester use a variety of 40 pupils a room, causing Manchester's school budget to be $250,000 more than it would be if the Catholic school were not here.

Even Town Manager Martin has now capitulated to the pressure to spend $18,000 a year for a town development commission to bring new industry into town when that moment have before the tax-rate of seven towns in this area with the same available skilled workers, the same shipping advantages, the same atmospheric conditions (important in the manufacture of certain textiles), the same educational facilities, the same all church religious facilities, the same or in some instances greater area of potential factory sites than Manchester already carries.

East Hartford is the lowest with a tax-rate of 25-mills. I hear the explanation—"East Hartford has the revenue from the Great Pratt and Whitney plant."

I ask every member of the PTA who attended last night's budget tax rally if a local self-sufficiency market offers you the same quality, name brand, foods at a much lower price than the same self-sufficiency which you patronize?

Every dollar spent in an attempt to attract new industry to Manchester under present tax conditions goes down the drain.

Do I believe statements issued at City Hall? I did until a woman phoned—"Mr. Rogers, don't be hoodwinked by what you hear from City Hall. Get the brochure which sold town bonds in the amount of $1,400,000, dated March 21, 1957. I have before me that brochure and I quote therefrom: "The world famous Fuller Brush company has purchased in Manchester for a modern manufacturing plant-expansion and relocation program."

Herald readers, the author of that statement, citing the Fuller Brush plant as one of the town's assets to be weighed as collateral for the proposed bond issue back in 1957 deliberately inserted a false statement in that brochure and had an individual, obtained a bank loan with such a glaring misrepresentation he could, under Connecticut law, be prosecuted for obtaining money under false pretenses. Do you blame me for going to Waddell school tonight determined to separate the wheat from the chaff or in other words the "lies from the truth?" Hard words but not criminal as is that Fuller Brush citation with not one cent of wood of the new Fuller Brush plant in Manchester.

Truthfully, the Fuller Brush company pays in taxes in Manchester $186,022. I pay almost that much on my automobile.

In the bridge toll fight, in the electric light rate fight, in the present tax-rate fight I have spent almost $1,000. I don't use the toll free bridge.

My electric light bill and my town tax bill mean nothing to me.

I have not been laying the ground work for political office.

No longer are the critics of town government costs in this fight long before I dig into every bill and broken-down departmental costs called "crackpots," "malcontents," "nitwits," "public enemy number one."

No longer are businessmen ridiculing the determination of a few to keep taxes in check, who can't pay their bills, including tax-bills, and brother when the mailman leaves at your door or in your store or in your office a tax-bill which causes you to feel discomfort or how you are going to pay the tax and avoid a lien—then my friends you are in a bad way and it is a bad mannered way to live.

I am not a politician who has schematically earned the right to higher education: "I'm sorry, Father! The ever-mounting cost of living has wiped out my savings for your college career. You'll have to get a job."

You, or many of you, and if not you, your children, a few years back, ignored my warning as to what lay ahead. You can ignore it now. But what a life to awaken every morning wondering where the money is coming from and as of today you have felt the impact of automation and the world economy market which will stop up your income tax payments to a degree many of you will not be able to take.

School People Talk to PTAs About Budget

Dr. Walsh announces the change of location of his office for the practice of Oral Surgery—from 450 Woodbridge St. to the new Professional Building at 357 East Center St. The new office will be open Thursday, April 5th.

Rev. Camp to Talk To Waddell PTA
The Rev. Russell W. Camp, pastor of the Waddell School PTA, will speak on "What's Your Attitude?" at a meeting of the Waddell School PTA Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

A native of Glastonbury, the Rev. Mr. Camp was chaplain of the Waterford State Prison for nine years.

Selections will be played by the school orchestra, and refreshments will be served by Mrs. Margaret Margolis and committee.

Dr. Walsh announces the change of location of his office for the practice of Oral Surgery—from 450 Woodbridge St. to the new Professional Building at 357 East Center St. The new office will be open Thursday, April 5th.

YWCA Chooses New Director Of Playschool

Mrs. Glenn C. Cornish, 70 Harlan St., has been appointed by the town committee of the Manchester YWCA as director for the playschool for the 1962-63 term.

Children who will be four years old by January 1963 will be accepted as students in the playschool. Registrations are now being taken and may be made by calling the YWCA office or Mrs. Cornish. A playschool brochure will be mailed upon request.

Warned, I Held In Two Accidents
Police arrested a Rockville man 20 years of age, charged with a Massachusetts man following investigation of two accidents which occurred yesterday afternoon on a road near the town of Rockville.

Paul Mengo, 72, of 222 E. Main St., Rockville, was charged at 1:30 p.m. with failure to grant the right of way and was held in custody to appear in Circuit Court 12, Manchester, April 23.

Police warned Mengo drove his car out of Wells St. after stopping at a red light and turning left. The left rear of a southbound Main St. vehicle operated by Albert G. Montano, 58, of 255 McKee St., Mengo told police he did not see the other car.

Arthur Jarvis, 28, of 505 Adams St., was given a warning for failure to give a stop sign and a police investigation of a 5:30 p.m. accident on New State St. in which Jarvis reportedly pulled out of a stop sign and struck a car driven by Richard H. Wemmler, 19, of 70 Buckland St., who found a dent in the rear of her car. She told police that the car had been parked at the rear of the Municipal Building from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Patrolman Robert Langley said he was investigating.

Dr. Walsh announces the change of location of his office for the practice of Oral Surgery—from 450 Woodbridge St. to the new Professional Building at 357 East Center St. The new office will be open Thursday, April 5th.

Connecticut Yankee

By A. H. O.

One might think and hope that Connecticut, having been the state which invented and bequeathed to the nation the system by which one house of a legislature should represent population, while the other should represent property, would be proud to have its name attached to a system which would represent population and property equally.

Perhaps, if our Christian pacifists, and more men of scientific bent, could get somewhere with that "notion" and the violence it does to the Christian religion it would be a good idea to have an easier way forward into our foreign policy thinking and debating.

Relieve

Back in 1960, our advance radar stations up in the Arctic mountains were the first to detect the rising of the moon for the approach of a fleet of enemy bombers, and sent off an alert which was the signal for our Air Command to be on the alert.
