Both Sides of Wall

World's Reds Note May Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A police fight with snake-dancers in Tokyo and an ear-cracking propaganda battle between batteries of loud-speakers over Berlin's wall marked the celebration of May Day.

The traditional speeches, rallies and parades were held in Moscow's Red Square, Peiping's Heavenly Peace Square and elsewhere. Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro presided over a mammoth parade of workers in straw hats—symbol of the Cuban peasant—in Havana.

In Tokyo, 200,000 Japanese massed in Hibi Park for a demonstration that put less stress on anti-American themes than in recent years. But 50 persons were injured when about 3,000 left-wing students, shouting "Stop the nuclear tests," stopped traffic with a snake dance and clashed with police.

The first day of May was selected as international labor day by the international socialist congress of 1889 and is observed in most industrial nations except the United States and Canada.

It was observed on both sides of Berlin's wall. About 700,000 West Berliners gathered within 300 yards of the wall to hear Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's personal envoy to the city. West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt and West German Minister Heinrich Lübke.

A battery of 42 Communist loudspeakers mounted on trucks tried to drown out Clay and the other speakers. They were answered by 20 truck-mounted loudspeakers from the Western side. Clay, making a farewell appearance on his mission to Berlin, was cheered when he declared the United States will live up to its commitments in the city.

In East Berlin, about 4,000 soldiers in goosestep paraded with military vehicles and rockets past a reviewing stand.

U.S. Will Alert Scientists on 3 Sky N-Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will give the world's scientists about four days' notice before firing three missile-borne nuclear test devices over the Pacific in June or July.

The Pentagon said Monday advance word of the three blasts will be given so that geophysicists and other scientists can make measurements of interest to the scientific community.

Atmospheric effects of the high-altitude blasts could include auroral displays resembling the northern lights over the South Seas and interference with Pacific radio communications over a wide area.

A similar temporary effects followed a 1955 blast over Johnston Island. It produced a spectacular auroral display above Samoa, about 2,000 miles south of the test site, and interfered temporarily with high-frequency radio communications over an area extending 2,000 miles.

Distortion of the earth's magnetic field by atomic particles from the test explosion was blamed for the side effects.

The Pentagon spokesman said two of the high-altitude blasts in the Johnston Island area will be

Coroner Clears Teen Driver of Woman's Death

BRIDGEPORT (AP)—A Stamford teen-age autoist was absolved from blame today by the coroner in the death of a woman pedestrian there April 13.

The driver of the car, Napoleon P. Jordanopoulos, 18, was proceeding about 15 to 20 m.p.h. north on Summer St. according to the finding of Coroner Isadore L. Kotler, when the vehicle struck Jean Haas, 35, of 140 Hoyt St. She died the following day in Stamford Hospital from head and multiple internal injuries.

Kotler said weather conditions were misty and visibility was poor at the time Mrs. Haas was struck about 8:15 p.m. as she was crossing Summer St. near the intersection with Bridge St.

The evidence at the hearing did not show any criminal conduct on the part of the autoist, Kotler declared in releasing Jordanopoulos.

Blamed in Fatalities

NEW HAVEN (AP)—William Babnick of New Haven was held criminally responsible by Coroner James J. Corrigan yesterday for a traffic accident on the Post Road in Milford March 2 that took two lives.

The coroner said Babnick was intoxicated when his car struck and fatally injured Robert Piteo, 21, of West Haven, and Robert Jahn, 33, of Milford as they were walking along the roadside.

Police Hunt Suspect

HARTFORD (AP)—An all-points State Police bulletin was out today for Peter Smeriglio, 48, New Haven, wanted in connection with an armed and safe robbery at a Berlin Turkiye restaurant in Newington.

Two men were arrested yesterday when state and Newington police found the Aunt Jemima pancake kitchen had been broken into and a safe containing $3,000 had been removed.

Joseph Alfano, 44, was the man who dropped the other two, at the restaurant and was waiting in a car to pick them up, police said.

Smeriglio, believed to have been one of the two who made the break, escaped.

Alfano and Smeriglio are being held under $12,000 bond on

Phone Co., PUC Set Size of Toll Rate Cut

Reductions On In-State Calls Near

HARTFORD (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission and Southern New England Telephone Company have reached agreement on a formula for reducing phone toll rates within the state boundaries.

The move is expected to save Connecticut residents an estimated $770,000 a year.

Details of the plan were not available today, but company officials confirmed that an agreement has been reached after several sessions with PUC staff and commissioners.

Toll calls over some toll routes will be reduced five cents, it is understood, but it was not immediately known which routes will be affected.

Monthly charges for residential phones situated relatively far from central switching offices will also be reduced.

The move was initiated early in March when the Federal Communications Commission ordered a change in the Bell System's division of within-state and out-of-state costs and revenues.

Earlier this month the FCC said it was "aware that intrastate message toll rates in most instances are higher than interstate (and state lines) for comparable distances."

The federal body hinted broadly that state commissions should take advantage of the change in

Kennedy, AMA Hold to Stands

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and the high command of the American Medical Association met today on the issue of medical care for the aged and made no headway whatsoever toward an agreement or compromise.

The only agreement was that there was disagreement, and this was emphasized both by the head of the organization of doctors, Dr. Leonard W. Larson, and Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff.

A seven-man delegation of top officials of the AMA spent something less than an hour with Kennedy.

Larson said afterward that various medical and health problems were brought up, some by them, some by the chief executive.

But what reporters wanted to know was what happened on medical care for the aged.

BTW BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy signed into law today a bill providing federal aid toward expansion of educational television stations all over the country.

The measure authorizes appropriations of $25 million over a five-year period beginning July 1 for construction of educational television facilities. The federal aid will be matched by educational institutions and nonprofit groups. The bill represented a compromise between a Senate measure authorizing a $51-million program and a House authorization of $25 million.

KENNEDY DUE AT YALE

NEW HAVEN (AP)—President Kennedy will make a major speech when he receives an honorary degree June 11 from Yale University, the New Haven Register said today. The newspaper said the president will speak from the same platform on which he receives the degree—a break in tradition for the university. Normally, recipients of honorary degrees do not speak at the ceremonies.

2 GI'S RECOVERED

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) Two U.S. Army soldiers captured April 8 by Communist guerrillas were recovered today by South Vietnamese government forces, "fired but otherwise in good health," U.S. officials reported. The two men, Sgt. I.C. Francis, Quinn, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Sgt. George E. Groom, of St. Joseph, Mo., were rescued near the coastal town of Da Nang, about 300 miles north of Saigon. The spot where they were rescued was not far from the site of the engagements in which the Viet Cong captured them and killed two other American soldiers.

Fallout Facts

EDITOR'S NOTE—As the fallout from last fall's series of Soviet tests enters its heaviest period of descent around the globe, the United States begins its response in the Pacific. In this column we discuss development polluting the world's atmosphere, or are the hazards of testing often exaggerated? This is the first of three articles.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—The controversy over radioactive fallout from nuclear tests is boiling again.

It finds many intelligent citizens confused and puzzled, especially over the disagreements among scientists.

A few say test fallout doesn't hurt humans at all.

Many experts say there possibly are probably some effects but so small they can never be measured.

Another says the fallout from the new U.S. test series alone might cause 300,000 persons to die early. He quickly adds a vital qualification—that this would happen during the next 2,000 years. This would average to 150 a year among the billions of humans who would be born in 2,000 years.

Other scientists put the toll from cumulative fallout far higher.

Well, the citizen may ask, who's right? Why don't scientists agree? Don't they know?

Frankly, they don't know, for sure.

They can only make highly educated guesses based on indirect evidence. The fallout controversy is highly colored by emotional, humanitarian, military and political considerations.

To some observers, it is a side issue to the real problem: How can the world avoid nuclear war? Does testing make war more or less likely?

The fallout issue cannot be neat-

Council Sends 20 Louisiana Negroes West

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Some 20 Louisiana Negroes were en route to Los Angeles today, the first large group to take advantage of the segregationist Citizens Council's offer of free one-way transportation.

Their train, dubbed "Freedom Train West" by New Orleans Council director J. Edgar Hoover, was scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Another group of Negroes is en route by bus to New York. It is scheduled to arrive at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The group heading for Los Angeles includes Peola Denham's family of 13 from Baton Rouge, La. The children range from 11 years to nine months.

"I don't have any promise of work but I expect things to be better in Los Angeles," Denham said.

Asked why he chose Los Angeles, Denham replied: "It's a lot warmer in California and I've got lots of kids."

Four others said they hoped to find jobs in Los Angeles. They identified themselves as Robert Terrio, 24; Washington Holley Jr., 19; Charley White, 22; and Fred Spooner, 22.

A woman with three children, bound for Oakland, Calif., declined to give her name to newsmen.

Singelmann saw the group off after depositing a check for $811 with ticket seller John Keritz. Singelmann gave each Negro $5 for expenses but gave Denham $100 "because he has such a big family."

Coast Guard Heeds Elephant Race Call

By JOE LEWIS
FULLERTON, Calif. (AP)—Nestled on 282 acres of what were orange groves three years ago, Orange County State College has 2,000 students, no football team, no ivy and very little tradition.

Because it's just a roller coaster ride or so away from Disneyland, the new college is known by rival schools as Disneyland Tech or Mickey Mouse College.

But all that will change on May 11—when the new college acquires an unusual academic distinction. It will be the host of what is termed the world's first intercollegiate elephant race.

Because of expenses and other problems, race sponsors say, elephant racing is still an obscure activity—compared to such traditional collegiate activities as passy ridding, punch-mouth stuffing or goldfish swallowing.

The stalwart men of the U.S. Coast-Guard Academy at New London, Conn., in the first and only acceptance so far—not only chose to the occasion, they promised to assist their entry to the race via Coast Guard plane. They gave statistics, too: Female age 19. Frisky but in top shape.

A spokesman for the academy when this added assurance of good faith: "We're working on a parachute big enough for her." He laughingly rejected a suggestion that the entry—Whitey—might be a pink elephant.

The spokesman said there was no elephant on the Coast Guard

Who Remembers the May Day Basket?

In June one can pull petals off a daisy to learn if she is loved, but on May Day finding a May basket stung on the door is assurance without doubt, that Mrs. James Cunningham of 153 Branford St. is still a favorite of someone. In a more romantic day, hanging May baskets was a charming, secret way of saying "I like you." (Herald photo by O'Hara).

Ike's Ex-Aide Sees 4 Straight Deficits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's budget director told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce today that the Kennedy administration's policies, "unless abruptly changed, are likely to produce four consecutive deficits."

Maurice H. Stans, now president of Western Bancorporation, San Francisco, said businessmen must take an active personal interest in politics if they are concerned over "near-concatary taxes" and budget policies which "are an open invitation to a crisis for the dollar."

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., predicted the fiscal 1963 budget, for which President Kennedy forecast a scant surplus, will show "another deficit of $4 to $5 billion."

Both speeches were prepared for the Chamber's 60th annual meeting here.

Byrd told the 4,000 businessmen delegates: "If such a deficit should develop next year, the three-year deficit would total $12 billion or more. This would be reminiscent of the huge deficits of 1932-33."

Both Stans and Byrd called for

Use Influence To Aid Public, Lawyers Urged

HARTFORD (AP)—Lawyers were admonished by Superior Court Judge Thomas E. Troland today to use their influence wherever possible regarding the selection of judges and public officials.

He spoke in the Hartford County building at one of the several Law Day ceremonies about the state sponsored by the American Bar Association and the State Bar Association of Connecticut.

Other superior court and court of common pleas judges now sitting in Hartford spoke on the bench behind Judge Troland as he spoke to a courtroom crowded with attorneys, jurors, court personnel and other spectators.

"Laws are made by men," Judge Troland said. "The judges interpret the laws and the judges are men."

"It leads to this. There are districts in this State where ap-

Baldwin Urges Judges Use Zeal, Care, Justice

HARTFORD (AP)—Chief Justice Raymond E. Baldwin today expressed his gratitude for the privilege of living in a free society under laws of our own choosing.

"While we express our thanks for the blessing of freedom, we should also recognize fully the individual responsibility of every citizen to observe the laws under which we live and to assist in every way the duly constituted authorities charged with their administration and enforcement.

"If we claim the benefit of freedom under law, but shirk our duty with respect to its observance and enforcement, liberty can degenerate to license and license to anarchy."

"We may protect our freedom from foreign foes abroad and at the same time fall into grave danger of losing it at home by our indifference and disrespect.

"Indifference to the law and disrespect for authority have assumed dangerous proportions. This is manifested in the increase not only of misdemeanors but also of crimes of violence."

Chief Justice Baldwin said the state's judges and prosecuting officers should continue "with ever increasing zeal and care to administer justice, so that our people will always respect their courts as the bulwarks of their freedom and feel secure in their homes, their properties and all their lawful affairs."

usually has 300,000 mice living in a grand mouse hole, exposing them to radiation, thus converting them with other mice. It costs half a cent per week to feed each mouse. The total budget in these genetic studies runs about $500,000 a year.

This is but one of scores of experiments and studies that are being conducted to assess human effects from radiation.

Human volunteers cannot be used. Just one impracticality is that such experiments would take several 20-year generations, or longer to detect any effects. Even then, there could be doubts whether the effects truly came from fallout amounts of radiation, or from other causes.

But scientists do have some guidelines to help the citizen get some perspective in the fallout argument.

First, they are not talking about the very heavy, immediate kind of fallout which would come if bombs blew up cities. That rain of radiation could be quickly deadly, without shelter.

The concern is with tests which show radioactive atoms being blown into the air to settle down slowly. They disperse widely. Some last for many years. They get into people, especially human bodies have always been unavoidably a bit radioactive, since life began.

This is caused by natural or background radiation. It comes from radioactive carbon in the air and in food, and radioactive potassium in food. Atoms of uranium, thorium and radium in the ground, in rocks, in bricks and concrete buildings, are always absorbing some radiation at you.

About 1,000 neutrons a year permeate the average human at sea level—and 3,000 per minute if you live at mid-high altitudes.

All this natural radiation gives

Guests included George Anderson, chapter advisor and Erland Johnson, master of Manchester Lodge of Masons.

Herald's Young Dean of Correspondents

By CINDY FRANTZEL

"Tougher than springtime" is the Herald's Boston correspondent, Miss Susan Pendleton. Her 22nd birthday today, Miss Pendleton believes to be the oldest birthday of any of the other correspondents in the country.

It isn't the first time The Herald has claimed the dean of correspondents. Mrs. Alice W. Bielewicz, 70, has gained national fame as the oldest active correspondent in the country, retiring in 1954 at the age of 68 after a three-decade association with The Herald.

Since then, Miss Susan has been dean of The Herald's correspondents. When she was asked how long she had been writing for the paper, she replied, "Since goodness knows when," (according to a story in The Herald's 75th anniversary issue in 1907).

The struts her column mainly for fun and because she likes to keep the people posted on town life.

She has done this despite circumstances that would have caused anyone not so young in spirit to fail. A year ago as she was following her usual custom of walking to the post office to make her daily newspaper, she slipped on ice and fell.

Speculated on the ground, waiting for the doctor's arrival she declared, "If it breaks my leg, I'll be a walker, although her trip was limited now to going out to the mailbox rather than walking to the newspaper office, she slipped on ice and fell.

During the seven months she spent in a convalescent home in Manchester, she kept her column going, using letters by visitors or mail to her.

Miss Susan's column has a wide scope. She keeps correspondents posted, not only on affairs within the town but through a large daily newspaper, she is able also to tell them news of former headlines.

In other ways her column has been a boon to the town. Many people recognize Miss Susan as the dean of correspondents. Frequently she will provide an article, based on reports into old letters, that tells of fascinating incidents in Hebron's past.

When Hebron celebrated its 200th anniversary in 1953, Miss Pendleton turned out means of advance copy covering the history of Hebron and other local characters, such as the Rev. Benjamin Peasey and the Rev. Samuel Peters, and wrote The Hebron's double-page spread for the anniversary. Her niece also wrote children's books, and several are available in the library in Hebron.

Several years ago, Miss Pendleton wrote a short story, "His Last Word." It was awarded second prize in a contest and published in McCurry's Magazine.

Caldwell Praises Guidance Setup At Junior Highs

The guidance programs of Bennington Junior High School are making a "uniquely positive contribution" to junior high pupils, says William E. Caldwell, a state guidance counselor at Bennington Junior High.

"This far in the 1961-62 school year, more students and parents have been affected by the junior high school guidance program than ever before," says Caldwell, who is also assistant principal at Bennington Junior High.

"Each of over 750 eighth graders in Manchester has been involved in one or more conferences this spring," he says. "In addition, over 40 per cent of these parents have accepted our invitation and met with a counselor to discuss this information."

Caldwell points out that the guidance program at the junior high level is expanding to include achievement, intelligence and attitude tests, as well as individual analysis before entering high school.

Board Moves to Clear Assistant Manager Path

By GERALD A. RYAN

Almost three months after the creation of a position of assistant general manager, the board of directors has taken steps to provide for future appointments to the post.

The board of directors has now under review a resolution which would make an appointment to the office of an assistant manager, but such an appointment would be limited to the position of assistant manager.

When the directors decided in February to hire an assistant manager, they instructed the manager to hire the new official, subject to the board's approval. It is that board, in order to provide a wider choice of candidates for the position, that has now taken these steps.

The resolution provides that the board may, at any time, make an appointment to the position of assistant manager, but that such an appointment shall be limited to the position of assistant manager.

The resolution also provides that the board may, at any time, make an appointment to the position of assistant manager, but that such an appointment shall be limited to the position of assistant manager.

Both Sides of Wall World's Reds Note May Day

Both sides of the Wall in Berlin noted the anniversary of the Russian Revolution today.

On the West side, there were also demonstrations, but they were much smaller and less organized. The West German government did not sponsor the events.

The demonstrations in both cities were a reminder of the division of the city and the Cold War tensions of the time.
