As You Like It

By JUDITH ABEARN

The pre-Broadway season at the Shubert Theatre in New Haven begins next week with the opening of the Carson Krimley comedy, "Come On Strong," Carroll Baker and Van Johnson have the leads in this love story which is being produced by Hillary Ekins and Al Goldin.

The show will open Monday, although there will be a special preview performance Saturday night at 8:30.

Carroll Baker had small parts in several Broadway plays, but achieved stardom in movies with "Baby Doll," which also won her an Academy Award nomination.

Van Johnson has just completed two seasons in the London production of "The Music Man." He has starred in 26 motion pictures in the past 20 years.

Settings have been designed by Oliver Smith.

Miss Baker's costumes have been designed by Oleg Cassini.

Coming up in Manchester "My Gamin'" with Shirley MacLaine opens today at the State Theatre. With it is "Hell is for Heroes" with Steve McQueen.

Summer Theatre

Giuseppe Maccioni returns to the Oldfield Summer Theatre in Wallingford in the vehicle that was a sellout there several weeks ago, "Gypsy." The show will be performed through Saturday, instead of the "World of Easy Living."

Harry Cafarella Tops Records

By JUDITH ABEARN

Harry Cafarella, 16-year-old Windham High School junior, brought home a handsome trophy from the New England Archery Tournament in Gardner, Mass., held over the Labor Day weekend. In fact, he brought home two.

Harry took first place in the intermediate senior boys division on Saturday and Sunday, Monday he shot 411 to put him in first place in the same division in the regional meet.

In the regional tournament, he was shooting with some 1,000 archers from throughout the United States, some coming as far as from California to New York.

Manchester resident Larry Dutton did a fine job Monday night in Oval in the Grove's production of the comedy "Send Me No Flowers."

While the play itself is somewhat hackneyed, the story involves a hypochondriac who eavesdrops on a doctor's telephone call and conceals wrongly that he is dying—Dutton, in a supporting role as the "victim's" neighbor, is always poised and smooth with his lines.

Throughout Acts I and II, he has his best scenes as a drunk.

Frank Hinchey as Dr. Montgomery and Charles Dixon as Bert Power also did well in their roles.

State Sen. Maurice A. Donahue said his candidate does not intend to be drawn into a name-calling contest.

Donahue said Kennedy "has no intention of responding to persons at attacks upon himself or upon his family."

He said Kennedy would bring no prepared material and would use only notes he makes himself during debate.

The Kennedy believes voters will be better able to judge which candidate is more knowledgeable on the issues if each were to rely entirely on his own resources," Donahue said.

How to Root Pinworms

Don't blame your doctor when a nagging problem of pinworm infestation persists in your family.

The physician can prescribe an effective worm expellent or give instructions on how to worm infested children and young children into their sleeping garments and provide them with cotton gloves to prevent scratching.

Provide cotton gloves for use at night for adults.

Soak gloves and night clothes in a solution of ammonia water (a cup of household ammonia to five cups of water) for 15 minutes. Dry and make available for use.

Prospect Dim For Accord in Rail Dispute

By JUDITH ABEARN

CHICAGO (AP)—A telegrapher's strike which has shut down the Chicago and North Western Railway, the nation's third-longest railroad and a major Midwest grain hauler, went into its seventh day today and prospects for a quick settlement appeared dim.

Francis A. O'Neill Jr. of the Federal Mediation Board said he would meet today with representatives of the telegraphers' union.

O'Neill met separately for two hours on Tuesday with negotiators for the North Western and the O'Neil Mediator said no quick settlement appears possible in the strike, which has hampered movement of grain and cattle in nine Midwest states.

"Ben W. Heineman, chairman of the North Western, agreed he told newsmen that the strike may continue for weeks and possibly months."

"The railroad will remain closed as long as necessary, even if it means months," Heineman said. "The principle involved here is such that it would stop progress not only on the North Western, but in the whole railroad industry."

More than 1,000 union members went on strike Aug. 30 after efforts by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago failed to produce an agreement.

Some 35,000 workers, members of other railroad unions, honored the telegraphers' picket lines, bringing an end to operations on the North Western's 10,000-mile freight and passenger system.

"The negotiators have been discussing recommendations of a presidential emergency board, which submitted a 10-point program of employee protection in the elimination of jobs considered superfluous by the railroad," O'Neill said.

GOOD PARTNER IS PROBLEMAKER

By Alfred Sheinwold

According to the latest statistics about forty million people play bridge in the United States. Most of them are good citizens and make no trouble for anybody except on legal holidays and when crossing the street. You proud to be their fellow citizen, but I wouldn't want them as my partner in a bridge game. I want a partner who makes trouble.

The difference is clear in this sort of hand. I held the East cards and a good citizen held the West cards. He called himself my partner.

West opened the queen of clubs and continued the suit until South ruffed. Declarer led a diamond to dummy's queen and returned a low trump from dummy. I played the ace of spades, and the queen of spades, and the good citizen dropped the three of spades.

If you've made of the right stuff you should be harrumphing and moaning at this terrible play! If you haven't seen West's mistake don't admit it to anybody. You wouldn't want to be his partner in a good citizen.

South was not missing the K 10-9 of spades and had no choice. His only chance to avoid the loss of a trump trick was to lead out the ace of spades and hope that the king would drop.

The king did drop, and South made the game and rubber.

A good troublermaker in the West seat would drop the nine of spades when South led the ace of spades. This creates the impression that West has a finesse with the doubtless 10-9 of spades.

If South believes this, he will get

Air Force Assembly Line Now Taking Planes Apart

By MURRAY SINCLAIR
 TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—An Air Force production line in reverse is saving the nation's taxpayers more than $200,000,000 a year.

Instead of putting planes together, the line takes them apart—bombers, fighters, trainers, cargo planes, helicopters and even experimental ships.

This is a combination crumple, disassembly, storage and repair line. For every dollar spent on salaries at the installation—the only one in the Air Force—the U.S. Treasury gets back $250.

The men of the 2704th Aircraft Storage and Disposition Group at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base claim the only part of a plane they can't salvage is the wine of the engine.

Obsolete planes from Air Force bases around the world limp back to Tucson. They started coming in shortly after World War II and haven't stopped.

Some are put away for possible use another day, or for sale. They crowd more than 1,000 acres of desert.

More than 200 of them a month are hauled to what the Air Force calls the only hanger of its kind. One thousand feet long and 150 feet wide, much of it was made from B-47 nose dooks from the Douglas Aircraft Co. plant in Tulsa, Okla., which is no longer active. Dismantling and reassembling cost $200,000.

24 Planes at a Time
 Twenty-four of the largest Air Force planes can be on the disassembly line at a time.

The engine comes off first. If usable, it goes to a supply depot. If not the spark plugs and all useable parts are removed.

Out come guns, radar sets, radio cockpit instruments, electric equipment, landing gear components and a dozen other things.

The parts move steadily into their individual areas where they are cleaned, tested and packaged. Some go to a repair shop. Others go into the regular supply channels.

What's left of the cannibalized planes is hauled into the pull-line area. Workers slice wings of years old have been out-clashed by newer aircraft.

"When a plane is obsolete, it's obsolete," Col. Wirt Corrie, commander of the 2704th, declares. "There is no second prize in this business."

This is no Mickey Mouse operation. I don't like the name 'bonyard' or 'graveyard' given our operation here. We are making something out of nothing."

The money saved, he pointed out, releases other money for high priority Air Force projects such as ballistic missiles and the aerospace program.

Corrie said the storage arch now has an inventory of about 2,500 planes awaiting reclamation, sale or storage.

Not all planes are dismantled. Some are sold direct. Others go to the highest bidder.

Some of the planes are given to friendly nations.

By the end of this summer, re-representative of about 23 nations will come to Tucson to pick up at least 50 surplus Air Force C-47 cargo planes. They get the planes for nothing but pay for any modifications.

Iceland picked up four of the big ships in May. Spain's Iberia Airlines also got four. Others getting them are Ethiopia, Taiwan, Nigeria, the Philippines, Israel, Indonesia, Liberia, Guatemala and a number of South American countries.

They will spend several million in modifications.

Labor, Roads Needed

WASHINGTON—A good labor supply, access to markets, and proximity to good highways are the most important factors in industrial plant selection, according to a pilot survey by the American Trucking Associations Foundation.

Cancer Tests Bring Warning

CHICAGO (AP)—A mass test of Ohio women for cancer of the womb yielded a finding and a warning today.

The finding: one of every seven women so examined fell into a high-risk class.

The warning: such women should have more frequent check-ups, preferably twice a year.

The study stemmed from an extraordinary long-term program, launched in 1947, to improve the cure rate for cervical cancer in Lucas County (toledo) Ohio.

During the years 7,783 women were examined—more than two-thirds of all the women over 30 of the total, 26,548 were examined at least twice.

A report on the test was made at the annual meeting of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

The report said women examined for symptoms of uterine cancer and given a smear test could be tagged as either high or low risk. It showed that 11 percent of all women examined more than once were in the high-risk group.

The study noted that there is a high rate of salvage of uterine cancer patients when the disease is detected early and treated promptly. But it also stressed the difficulty of examining 37 million American women.

Then the report pointed out that high-risk women could make it easier to persuade such women to be examined once a year or more often, if necessary.

The study reported to the society was conducted by Dr. Edward L. Burns of Toledo, Dr. E. C. Cleveland, and Dr. J. W. Gosink, research director of the Cancer Cytology Research Fund, Toledo.

Czechs Desert Jobs on Farms

VIENNA—The flight of young people from rural areas to towns and cities has reached such a state in Czechoslovakia that only one in 25 of the collective farmers in the Gattavolov district, for example, is under age 28.

Reporting this, Radio Prague complained that of more than 2,000 students who have graduated from agricultural schools in that district in the past five years, only 200 have taken farm jobs.

In the country as a whole, the UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman pledged $50 million in cash and ocean transportation service on U.S. vessels.

Freeman made the offer at a conference at which various nations also offered pledges of assistance to the world food program, being developed by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization. The food would be used to help feed the world's hungry.

The secretary told the conference that U.S. participation in the program would supplement and not replace American help to the hungry through this country's Food for Peace program.

The U.S. pledge included $40 million worth of food and $10 million in cash and ocean transportation service on U.S. vessels.

Russian Taught To Preschoolers

VIENNA—Russian, a compulsory subject in all Soviet satellite countries, is now going to be taught to Romanian children even before they start school.

Radio Bucharest reports that a new book for 5- to 7-year-olds, "Sandra Is Learning Russian," has been issued to familiarize preschoolers with common Russian words and expressions.

lots of shoes keep up with the Joneses but only 'Number 26' keeps up with the boneses

Our Number 26 shoes for children look like other handsome shoes. But there the resemblance ends. They are unlike other shoes. Number 26 (there are 26 bones in the foot) is designed to hold the foot in good functional position throughout each step. Number 26 fits the feet in motion. Thousands of actual records of foot function reveal that the most effective way to balance a foot is to control it at the heel—at the very beginning of a step. Number 26 is designed to help hold your child's foot in its proper position so that the weight is on the strong outer edge of the foot. Number 26 really hugs the heel—really helps keep it from wobbling and slipping. Notice how ankles seem straighter—straighter even than when bare-foot. (Most normal feet have a tendency to tip inward—that's called pronation.) But Number 26 is designed to help normal feet resist pronation. Number 26 shoes are for normal feet. They are correct, not corrective. Number 26 is pure gold for 3 reasons: 1. The cup-shaped heel hugs and tends to hold the heel bone stable. 2. The inner edge is curved to match the contour of the moving foot. 3. The fore-foot is level so toes can grasp and propel. Let us fit your child to Number 26—the shoes that will give buoyancy to her feet and to her spirit. Boys, girls... in fancy to 8 or 9... $6.50 to $9.50.

your children's feet deserve fine fitting as well as fine shoes

1. precision measuring—child mounts low platform where length and width of feet are measured simultaneously.
2. posture study—during walking and in repose, the child's gait, posture, and foot development are studied by the fitter, and checked by supervisor.
3. use recheck—length, width, heel, arch and ankle fit are checked—each part of shoe must coincide with the exact shape of the moving foot.
4. fitting register—a card history is kept of each fitting and of each shoe you purchase for later comparison.

Traffic Toll Exceeds 500

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents over the long Labor Day weekend killed 501 persons, a record for the holiday and far ahead of the normal number of high-traffic accidents for a similar non-holiday period.

The final count for the 78-hour (three-day) holiday period showed that 501 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents reported from 8 p.m. (local time) last Friday to midnight Monday. The previous record high of 461 was recorded in the 1961 Labor Day weekend.

Last year's Labor Day traffic toll was 386. The National Safety Council said the average number of traffic deaths for a late summer, 72-hour non-holiday weekend last month for a 78-hour non-holiday weekend period showed 236 deaths on the highway.

In addition to traffic deaths there were 23 fatalities in boating accidents, 57 airplanes and 97 deaths in miscellaneous types of accidents for an overall total of 476. 2365 also was a record exceeding the previous total of 664 set in 1961.

The Labor Day traffic toll prompted Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, to say that it shows that not enough is being done to meet the problem caused by increased traffic. He said the deaths are "a waste of human life" and said there are calls for three annual increases in

Mail Hike Backed By Senate Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate committee has agreed tentatively to go along with a House measure increasing first-class and air-mail postage rates by one cent.

After a closed meeting Tuesday, the Senate Post Office Committee announced the tentative approval and a plan to substitute present rate increases for the penny-accopy rate increase the House had voted for second-class mailing rates for periodicals.

Chairman Olin D. Johnson, D-I.C., said the substitute provision calls for three annual increases in WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected to send to the Senate today or Thursday the names of the men who will set up the world's first "space communications corporation."

He has had under consideration a list of suggested incorporators and probably will select nine names from banking and legal fields.

These men already have been sounded out as to their willingness to take part in the historic task of organizing a new kind of corporation to handle the U.S. portion of a network of orbiting relay satellites which eventually will

Washington—When does a motorist renew his driver's license? It depends. Twenty-four states license drivers for two years, 11 for three, four for four years, and three for one year.

Progress At The Center
 The revised sequence in the operation of the new traffic light system at the Center were during the light-traffic days of August, an obvious and measurable improvement over the system first installed.

This week, at least until the first back-to-home September volume of traffic began to hit it, almost as good as the blinker system, in which the lights merely give a warning; and let traffic find its way through.

The new system has not yet had, however, its full test and final judgment, as to whether or not it is something Manchester can live with, has to be reserved.

Meanwhile, however, there remain two obvious minor imperfections within the present system. One of them, which might seem day lead to the worst legal head-on collision in the history of Manchester, comes when the present cycle of lights gives green light both to west-bound traffic seeking to turn down Main St. and to east-bound traffic seeking to read out East Center St. This produces a surprise bit of complete anarchy in what purports to be a control system, and it should be quite obvious that giving two lines of traffic that green light to head straight into each other is much more dangerous than anything that could happen under a cautionary, blinker system.

The other imperfection within the present system is that one which is more likely to create fender-banger and temper than any particular danger. Much of the traffic coming into the intersection from the north doesn't seem to understand the right-of-way situation offered by the directional arrows on the pavement. And even if it did understand that it was supposed to divide itself into two separate streams, according to whether it wanted to head east or south, these two streams seem to do so within the pavement markings as they now exist.

This causes delay and loss of temper. That portion of the sequence which gives two lines of traffic each a green light for the same stretch of pavement, constitutes an alarming traffic danger. Whether the whole system is something that can be lived with can be judged more accurately by the traffic experience we encounter from now on, now that the summer lull is over.

Cuba As A Campaign Issue
 Given a situation like that in Cuba in conjunction with the approach of an American election season, and there is a natural temptation to try to create an election issue by charging whatever national administration is in power with failure to do something drastic enough with regard to the appearance of Communism in this hemisphere.

was one portion of the campaign in which Richard Nixon had himself set a high standard for opponents with irresponsible recklessness and with the advocacy of rash conduct which would be illegal for the United States.

In the end, Candidate Kennedy was following sound, trying to convince voters that he hadn't really intended to sound as loud and reckless as he had sounded.

Not until the fifteenth century did Europeans pit much stock in last names. Most people had no last names, and now and then their father's name (like John John's) or those of their home town or neighborhood (like Thomas of Aquinas).

You can usually change your name without going to court. But a court action to change your name puts the public officially on notice that you have a new one, and it can save you considerable trouble in collecting debts, identifying yourself, obtaining credit, inheriting property, selling your home, buying insurance, and so on.

Some people change their names too often for their own good by using nicknames, middle names, and different ways of spelling their names. It may someday be expensive to prove that John James Smith is the same person as Mark Smith, Jake Smith, J. Smith, or Jake Smith.

You should decide on a good name to use on legal documents, checks, contracts and similar papers. Stay with that name until you change it.

It was, we suppose, his effort to keep from being stigmatized by changing associations, which produced his formal statement on the Cuban situation yesterday.

In that statement he claimed rather full and detailed knowledge of the type of Russian military assistance reaching Castro, classified it as defensive in character, and then went on to make the obvious minimum pledge that "it continues to be the policy of the United States not to support any game which will not be allowed to export its aggressive purposes by force or the threat of force. It will be prevented by whatever means may be necessary from taking action against any part of the Western Hemisphere."

The United States in conjunction with other Hemisphere countries will make sure that, while increased Cuban armaments will be the maximum in the way of statement of what we will do against Castro, it may someday be even as in 1960, nothing under the sun can keep Republicans' operators from seeking to make some use of the Cuban issue. It is to be hoped they develop enough restraint to not consign themselves irrevocably, or to force the nation itself, to any course of conduct which would make us, and not Castro, the aggressor.

Now they are beginning to realize that there is an opportunity for them to prove how big and strong and independent they are. If they do, after this piece of territory, that will demonstrate that they have power and, voice among nations in their own right, that they are no longer in a merely imitative colony of the United States. Because this territorial claim offers them an opportunity to prove themselves, to themselves, and to the outside world, they are actually beginning to think they really want the territories involved.

Kennedy to Confer On Arms to Cubans

are also well-trained in military tactics. Sen. E. L. Bartlett, D-Ala., said the officials expressed confidence that they have accurate information on the moves, aid to Cuba and that this country is able to deal with any move by Castro's regime.

Soviet Arms Given to Cuba Vintage Type

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fidel Castro has tried Nikita Khrushchev apparently is giving Cuba some hand-me-down defensive weapons.

The anti-aircraft missiles which President Kennedy says the Soviet Union has shipped into Cuba apparently are of a vintage like those the United States started using more than 10 years ago and since has discarded.

The Soviet motor torpedo boats which Kennedy says are in Cuban waters are believed to be the newest of the big fleet of Soviet patrol craft, although they may have been fitted out with modified surface night missiles.

Kennedy's statement, giving new details on the current Russian shipments to Cuba, was issued by the White House Tuesday night after the President and top administration officials had been conferred for an hour with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara were slated to attend a joint meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations and Intelligence Committees on the situation today.

Kennedy's announcement appeared to have a multiple purpose. It was intended to tell Castro and the Kremlin to keep hands off the fleet of Soviet submarines and to offset domestic criticism urging more drastic action against Cuba.

Administration officials have reported previously that more than 30 vessels carrying communications gear, electronic equipment and other electronic equipment which is reported to be used in Cuba.

The U.S. Army has found that months of technical training by Soviet advisers in all of our electronic equipment which is reported to be used in Cuba.

The Soviet navy includes several major-elderly type of purpose-built missile submarines. They are reported to be carrying a variety of guided missile torpedoes.

Several torpedo boats carry guided missile torpedoes, "early" type, having a 15-mile range. They are reported to be carrying "early" type of missile torpedoes.

Approximately 200 Soviet military technicians—an increase over previous official U.S. estimates of the number of military specialists arriving from the Soviet Union.

At the same time, Kennedy's statement said the number of Soviet technicians is consistent with the number needed to set up the Russian equipment and train the Cubans how to use it.

The President provided these other details: There is evidence of any organized combat force in Cuba from any Soviet bloc country, of military bases provided to Russia as a violation of the 1952 treaty U.S. has rights at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba, or of offensive ground-to-ground missiles.

Coverty Petitions Filed, Primary Set

A documented primary was announced with filing of petitions on behalf of State Rep. Stephen Loyn and Mrs. Ruth French of Manchester. The primary is scheduled for 9:30 last night.

Mrs. Hilgen reported all 100 signatures on the petitions were acceptable. Only one of the signatures on Mrs. French's petition could not be certified because it did not conform to the voting law.

The primary will be held on Sept. 27. Loyn is seeking his third term as representative to the legislature. His name will follow the caucus-endorsed candidates.

The difference is that my opponent and myself are not "running" for office in the usual manner. We tried and were nearly successful in freezing the tax rate during our "Freeze the Tax" campaign.

Keller of Rt. 44, is serving aboard the nuclear-powered attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise, a unit of the Second Fleet and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) striking force which participated in a special exercise "Rifted III" Aug. 2-20 in the Eastern Atlantic.

Voters Decide Nov. 6 On Community College

(from the AP Wires)

The board of directors last night unanimously voted to ask Manchester voters Nov. 6 in a referendum whether they want the town to establish a five-year vocational community college.

Bolton Baseball Fete Funds Sought

Friction which has been evident throughout the year between Recreation Commissioner Fred Gaal and officials of the junior baseball team was aired at a meeting of the selectmen last night. The discussion ended on an agreeable note with Gaal and baseball program officials adjourning to a meeting in another room at the Community Hall to see if they could come to a decision on an annual banquet for the boys.

First Selectman Charles Robbins said he would try to arrange for a special meeting of the board of finance to obtain a re-appropriation of funds turned in to the town treasury from free paid in by children participating in the recreation program.

Jack Crockett, spokesman for the baseball managers, said the men understood at the beginning of the season that part of the $2.50 fee paid by children would be used to cover expenses of a banquet at the end of the baseball season. The $2.50 figure was set because insurance was first estimated at $2 to $3, but was later obtained for $1 per child, he said. The men were told by Gaal that there was no money in the recreation budget for a banquet. Crockett said one of the men checked the books and found there was a substantial amount in the recreation account a few weeks ago, but since then outstanding bills have been paid reducing the amount.

Selectman Robbins explained that all fees paid this year were turned in to the general fund, as agreed last year by Gaal. In turn, any money needed will be refunded to the recreation department as called for in the budget.

Robbins said that all of Gaal's recreation accounts are in good order and he has followed the accounting methods requested by the board of finance last year. There is no item in the recreation budget for a banquet, Robbins said, adding that the books are open for inspection.

Gaal said that in other years the banquet was financed by contributions taken up at ball games, but this was discontinued this year. Between $150 and $180 was collected at games last year, he said. The total income this year, Gaal said, was $302.20 for 141 boys in the baseball program; 20 in the basketball program and 10 who took part in swimming, basketball and baseball. The $2.50 fee covered participation in all recreation programs.

At the present time, Gaal said there is about $50 in his budget but that there would be enough available from the sale of soda in a vending machine at the hall. He said he felt there would be enough to cover costs of the banquet.

Later in the meeting, selectmen heard letters from Gaal and discussed one in which Gaal said that disappointed with the attitude of those in charge of the baseball program, he plans to turn that phase of the recreation program over to an independent group next year. Selectmen said they would like to talk to Gaal at the next selectmen's meeting on Sept. 17 to discuss next year's plans.

James Galligan, of the state board of fish and game attended the selectmen's meeting to see if there would be opposition to lowering the water level at Bolton Lake to permit property owners to work on their sea walls.

Since there was no one at the meeting to oppose dropping the water level, Galligan said the state will probably start the end of this week lowering the water gradually, drawing about three to four feet. Galligan said the lowered level will probably be held until mid-November.

In other business the selectmen revised supplemental agreements for state aid for roads. The agreements were revised because of the exchange of roads with the state on June 18.

Selectmen disclaimed any liability for an accident Leslie Harlow had at the intersection of Toland Rd. and High Meadow Rd. recently, and refused payment of a bill presented for repairs to Harlow's car.

TPC Sets Hearing
The town planning commission has set Sept. 19 as the date of a public hearing on the proposed Meadow Development off Bolton Center Rd. The subdivision application was submitted by Mrs. Margaret Rich and contains nine lots and a road. The TPC has a policy of holding a public hearing when such a subdivision might affect adjoining property.

Harold Laws of Brady St. was named a member of the TPC advisory committee.

Budget Hearing Tomorrow
The board of finance will hold a public hearing on budget requests for the 1962-63 fiscal year tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Community Hall. Printed copies of budget requests will be available to those attending the hearing.

Paul Toomey of Toomey Lane won two outstanding awards at the Haddam Neck Fair last week, ending with his Devon oxen calves, capturing both first place in showman ship and the championship in the "under three-year-old" class.

R. Kinsland Jones who also exhibited, won a first place showmanship award with his three-year-old Devon, an award for drawing 34 feet with his four-year-old Devon and a fourth place in drawing with his Holsteins in the under 2,800 pound class.

About Town
Manchester Postmaster Alden Bailey reports that counter, letter drops, mail boxes and other equipment will probably be installed in the Bolton Post Office later this week. No manager has been appointed as yet, he said.

An auction will be held at the United Methodist Church Sept. 20. Items for the auction may be left at the barn at Epworth House, next to the church.

The board of education will meet tonight at 8 at the Community Hall.

A meeting of the Bolton Cooperative Kindergarten Association will be held tonight at 8 at the Community Hall.

Food, Medicine Headed for Iran

NEW YORK (AP) — An emergency shipment of 424 pounds of medical supplies was sent by jet Tuesday night to Teheran, Iran, to aid the thousands of persons injured in the violent earthquake that struck the western section of that country Saturday night.

The medical supplies, valued at $50,000, were donated by six major American pharmaceutical firms and flown without cost by Pan American World Airways.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Enough American surplus food to feed 100,000 persons for six weeks has arrived in Iran and more is on the way.

Reporting this Tuesday, the Agency for International Development said that some 17 million pounds of U.S. Food for Peace commodities have arrived in Iran to help earthquake victims.
