Meredith Burned in Effigy U.S. Troops Chase 'Ole Miss' Students

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A be-doviling military force of moved in quickly today to quell a demonstration that broke out in front of the dormitory where the University of Mississippi's Negro student has an apartment.
Between 25 and 30 students gathered in front of Baxter Hall
set fire to an effigy of James H.
Meredith and exploded fireworks.
Armed soldiers scattered the crowd quickly. There were no arrests.
Attendance at the university dropped after the enrollment of Meredith, a 29-year-old Negro from Kosciusko. Many students had returned to their homes after the weekend riots in which two men died.
University absentee J. D. Williams appealed to the students to return. He said he had been informed the Ole Miss campus is now secure, and that parents can

State News Roundup 3 Rembrandt Works Given To Atheneum

HARTFORD (AP)—The Wadsworth Atheneum announced today its receipt as gifts of three Rembrandt paintings, each from a different donor.
The Rembrandts were received during 1961, but the museum said
the announcement was delayed until the gifts had been treated for removal of old varnish and repainting. In one case, to permit reinstating a signature.
The paintings are "Portrait of Isaac," signed and dated 1639, given by John E. Townsey of Newport,
R.I., and New York; "Landscape with a Cottage," dated from about the same period, given by Samuel E. Friedman, Irwin E.
Friedman, and Herman Katz, all of Fairfield, Conn.; and "Portrait of an Artist," dated about 1650 and given by Robert Lehman of New York.

Astronaut Schirra smiles after suiting up today

Holds Total Control Over Sigma 7 Craft

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Walter M.
Schirra Jr. whirled about the earth on his fourth orbit today.
Project Mercury officials at Cape Canaveral gave him a tentative "go for six orbits."
"Hallelujah!" Schirra exclaimed.
By HOWARD BRENDECK
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Performing as if he were right at home in the weightless world of space, astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. completed two orbits of the earth today and described his flight as a "real, real thrill."
He was in complete command of his Sigma 7 spacecraft as he passed over Cape Canaveral at 10:23 a.m. EST at the end of the second orbit and swung into the third. There was all evidence that pilot and spacecraft were in condition to complete the full six-orbit mission.
His exuberant description of the flight came in a discussion with astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., monitoring the flight at the Point Arguello, Calif., tracking station.
"It's hard to describe things up here," Schirra told the man who had pioneered U.S. orbital flight earlier this year.
Schirra said he had a delightful report to make to Glenn:
"I, too, see fireflies." He referred to the luminous particles which Glenn saw outside his spacecraft each time he went through a sunrise. At the end of the first orbit, Schirra also reported seeing the bright particles. He told of them in a talk with astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who was at the Guaymas, Mexico, station.
Carpenter, on his flight last May, also saw the particles and was able to release more by pounding on the side of his capsule. This led scientists to believe that the fireflies—or snowflakes, as Carpenter called them—were pieces of frost breaking off the capsule and being illuminated by the rising sun.
As Schirra zipped above Cape Canaveral to begin his third orbit, he commenced drifting flight for the first time. He shut off all controls and electrical power and allowed the craft to move freely on its roll, pitch and yaw axes.
In this phase, the vehicle rotates slowly, making about one revolution every 30 minutes if control is not re-established by the pilot.
drifting flight, the capsule does not float far off course because it is flying much like a bullet fired
by a rifle.
Purpose of the drifting is to conserve control fuel and electrical power. Just how well Schirra did this will be important to an 18 orbit, 24-hour flight—the next U.S.
main-mission shot set for 1963.
Schirra's flight, it is worth six orbits, would nearly double the time spent by astronauts Glenn and Carpenter earlier this year.
But it still would be far short of the Soviet Union's manned orbital flight time.
Near the completion of the second orbit, Project Mercury Operations Director Walter C. Williams reported that the mission was proceeding very satisfactorily
and he saw no reason why it shouldn't be continued.
Early in the flight, Schirra literally sweated out a problem with his space-vent temperature control system. But as he reported the end of the second orbit he said the problem had diminished to a point where it wasn't worth discussion.
About the end of the second orbit, Schirra still had 90 per cent of his fuel supply remaining and Mercury control reported he was managing it very well. The hydrogen peroxide that is used to fire
small jets located on the capsule

sule's desired position in flight.

20 Killed In Gotham Explosion

NEW YORK (AP)—A boiler room explosion rocked today
at a canteen today and killed at least 20 persons—most of them women
in a New York Telephone Co.
building.
Seventy injured persons were taken to hospitals.
Others were believed trapped
in the rubble.

a gaping hole in the canteen

Most of the employees in the near the northeast tip of Manhattan, were women. About 500 persons were employed there.

As OAS Ministers Meet Dorticos Due at UN For Anti-U.S. Blast

NEW YORK (AP)—An airliner flying Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos here for the United Nations meeting turned back for Havana today, police said at Idlewild Airport.
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.
(AP)—Cuban president Osvaldo Dorticos arrives at a General Assembly today to gather more ammunition for a U.N. policy speech billed as a violent blast against the United States.
Dorticos was expected to hold a round of advisory conferences with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and other Communist bloc delegates before addressing the 108-nation General Assembly Monday.
The coming of Fidel Castro's front man coincided with a meeting of the Organization of American States (OAS) to discuss the threat posed by the Soviet military buildup in Cuba.
The Washington meeting of OAS foreign ministers was called by the United States which has pledged to confer by force if by any interference by Castro in the Latin American continent.

Boy Fatally Injured

NEW YORK (AP)—A six-
year-old boy, Montgomery Gough, was injured fatally today when he was struck by an auto while on his way to school.
Police said the boy was waiting for a school bus near his home
on Silvermine Ave. when a neighbor, Mrs. Agnes Cegan, stopped and asked him if he wanted to ride
to school with her and her daughter.
The boy said yes, police reported, but asked the woman to wait until he got his side.
Police said the boy then ran behind Mrs. Cegan's auto and started into the path of an auto operated by William R. Sullivan, 30, of 161 Westminister St., Hamden.
The boy son of Mr. and Mrs.
William Gough, died in the Norwalk Hospital.

Demonstration

BRIDGEPORT (AP)—A new car had its fender-dented when it collided with two other autos
during a demonstration "go-home" last night.
The car, with only two miles
registered, was driven by Robert D. Phillips Jr., 17, whose father was interested in purchasing a new auto. The auto agency salesman, the boy and his father were uninjured, but four persons in the two other cars received minor injuries.
Police said the new car collided with a second car, went up on a sidewalk and returned to the street
and struck the third car.

UConn Audits Hit

HARTFORD (AP)—State auditors today called for tighter and more uniform fiscal policies at the University of Connecticut.
Auditors Clarence F. Baldwin
and Robert E. Claffey, in an audit of activities for the two-year period ended June 30, 1961, complained that the year-end balance sheets of the university and those provided by state capitol agencies
are too far apart.
The university, they said, uses one accounting procedure and comes up with one figure.
The state comptroller, state treasurer and state auditors following another accounting procedure, arrive at a different figure for the school's balance sheets.
All this is very confusing, the auditors said, when it comes to getting a firm financial picture of UConn operations.
"We propose that the university revise its annual statements so that such accounts and amounts will be more in line with those of the state comptroller," Baldwin
and Claffey said.
The auditors noted that, as a result of this recommendation, the university is making a study of the matter.
The audit report is the least critical made of the University in the past 15 years or so.

Connecticut Politics Also Says Democrats Backed GOP Programs

HARTFORD (AP)—Republican
John Aloop accused the Democrats today of trying to take credit for a number of progressive programs which he said were sponsored by the GOP.
"I am proud that members of my party fought for the programs, the Republican candidate for governor said in a statement intended as a rebuttal to comments made by his rival, Democratic Gov. John N. Dempsey.
Dempsey had challenged Republicans to give specific answers rather than criticism when it came to the question of improving Connecticut's economy or reducing state expenditures.
"It is interesting to see the Governor asking if we would cut, repeal or scrap a number of progressive Republican programs for which the Democrats are trying to take credit," Aloop said today.
"Of course I do not favor cutting these Republican-sponsored programs," he added.
Dempsey, in his comments Monday night, listed several programs passed by the 1961 General Assembly. He said the General Assembly showed by its vote that it considered all these fiscal commitments necessary and wise. "Dempsey noted that Republicans controlled the House, and Democrats
the Senate.
The Democratic governor asked how the Republican critics would cut or abolish the programs.
Aloop, in his statement of rebuttal, mentioned the legislation
for:
1—The $25 million in education
grants to towns. "Our party advocated that this figure be $40 million, and only agreed to the lower amount when it became ap-

S.S. Resumes Sky Tests Radioactivity Level Up In State During Week

HARTFORD (AP)—Levels of radioactivity in Connecticut increased the past week ending Oct.
2. State Health Commissioner Franklin M. Foote reported this noon.
"Radioactive iodine-131 tested in the State Health Department laboratory from composite samples representing all sources that normally market milk in the state reached an average of 106 microcuries per liter, up from 80 mi-crocuries per liter in the week before," Foote said.
These levels are in the low part of the Federal Radiation Protection Commission's Protection guide. As a result, the state laboratory has increased its surveillance activities, he said.
The average iodine-131 content of Connecticut milk for September was 99 microcuries per liter. Range III, highest of the three ranges,
has between 100-1,000 microcuries.
Commissioner Foote stressed that milk under present levels is perfectly safe to drink.
Foote noted that the average daily intake should be averaged for a period of a year in order to determine whether control measures are needed. Samples appear likely to persist in Range
III for several months, he said.
Control measures will be instituted. The type measures will be discussed by the governor's Commission on Fallout at a meeting Thursday.
Airborne radiation levels in the state remained at the lower range of fallout, Dr. Foote said.
NO DANGER TO SCHIRRA
HONOLULU (AP)—The United States resumed atmospheric testing in time for a Pacific density probe. Mercury program man-in-space.
The first shot in the nuclear series was fired at Johnston Island in the Central Pacific yesterday a little more than 24 hours before Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. was scheduled to land in his space capsule near Midway.
"There is no danger, no contamination and no problem with the Project Mercury program," a Joint Task Force 8 official said.
The test zone is far to the south of Schirra's orbital path.
Detonation of an intermediate yield device 700 miles southwest of Hawaii marked the end of the series.

State Cancels Case Against Four Pacifists

NEW LONDON (AP)—The state has dropped its case against four pacifists arrested at a demonstration during the launching of the Polaris submarine at Groton.

State Prosecutor Leo T. McNamara told Judge Joseph F. Denahy in Circuit Court yesterday that after a review of the evidence and further investigation with defense counsel the state "could not prove beyond a reasonable doubt the guilt of the defendants."

The four on trial were the Rev. Ross B. Anderson, 62, Washington, D.C., charged with trespassing, breach of the peace and conspiracy; William Henry, 29, Voluntown, trespassing, resisting arrest and conspiracy; Bradford Lyttle, 24, Voluntown, trespassing, and conspiracy; and Mrs. Marjorie Swann, 41, Voluntown, conspiracy.

They were arrested Aug. 18 last when they were seen at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., builders of the submarine. Weeks attempts to swim into the path of the giant submarine to prevent it from being launched.

Weeks and Werhane completed 30 day sentences Saturday.

Education Board Meeting Tonight

The board of education tonight will decide whether to name Manchester High and Wadsworth Schools as fallout shelters, and will consider an appeal for school bus transportation for a North End child.

The school board meets at 7:30 p.m. in the board room of Bennett Junior High School.

Also on the agenda is a request that the board take immediate action to have special publications secured for pupils during the present semester.

Reports will be given on the 1962 summer school, the teen center, jurisdiction of the old school building, the community college, the recent annual meeting of the Connecticut Association of Boards of Education, and a special seminar in Nebraska which Supt. of Schools William H. Curtis attended.

The board will discuss administrative policies for art, music and physical education departments, assign an extra-curricular post to a teacher and correct an error in pay for another extra-curricular assignment.

The famous South pass, one of the lowest crossings of the Connecticut Divide, is nearly a mile and a half long.

Sheinwold on Bridge

By Alfred Sheinwold

The best therapy for an attack of the jinxes is a day in bed with lots of hot tea, and a good crime story. The bad and the hot drink are up to you, but Dr. Sheinwold will provide the crime.

West opened the queen of clubs and continued the suit until South ruffed. Declarer cashed the ace of spades, led a trump to the king, and then a third trump to the king. He then switched to diamonds.

West ruffed the third diamond and led the ten of clubs to make the suit trick again. South cashed the ace of hearts and gave up the last trick to the queen two.

How many crimes can you spot in this horrible tale? Look for four before you read on.

Begin Series—West began the series of crime by leading the ace of hearts to the trick. He should have led the ten, the next play of the hand.

South committed the main crime by ruffing the trump. He should have led the ace of hearts, and then the king, and then the queen.

West ruffs and returns a club (he should have led the ace of hearts), and leads a trump to the queen. Then the diamonds allow declarer to win the last trick.

West committed the third crime by ruffing the ten of clubs. He can have one trick by discarding a heart and thus avoiding the lead hearts to the ace-queen.

No East should make a crime by playing low at the second trick. East can defeat the contract by stepping up with the ace of hearts and returning a heart, but this is unacceptable unless East peeks at declarer's hand.

Maybe North committed a crime in raising spades. With a partner like South, the right bid is three hearts.

Daily Question—Partner opens with one heart and the next player doubles. You hold Spade-6; Hearts-10 8 5 2; Diamonds-8 6 5; Clubs-A 9 8 5. What do you say?

Answer: Bid at least two hearts; three hearts if you have the nerve. This shows good trumps but an exception for an auto-repairer.

Last year a request by Mason for a repairer's license on the property led to the discovery that such a use was not permitted in business zones under the then existing zoning regulations.

The rules are general in nature, but the lot is zoned for neighborhood use and not general business.

Volker conducted a well-selling business from the lot under a non-conforming use classification.

Residents of the area had no objection to Volker's business but they did raise objections at a public hearing last year to an auto-repairer's license on the lot.

Also to be considered at the hearing next week is a request by Robert and Madeline Dayvoss of South Rd. for a variance to allow an extension of their house to the rear along the existing 24 1/2-foot side yard.

A 10-foot side yard regulation was in effect when the house was built but the regulations now call for a 20-foot side yard.

Kay and Albert Pullo are asking for an exception for a limited auto-repairer's license at Al's Suncoco Service located at Bolton North.

Bloodmobile Visit Set—The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Bolton on Oct. 16 at St. Maurice Church from 1:45 to 6:30 p.m.

The quota for the visit is 75 units. Those wishing to donate blood may call Mrs. Emerson Bosworth of Bayberry Rd. Donors may be 18-years of age or over, but those from 18 to 21 years of age must have parental permission.

Charles Lathrop was re-appointed to a three-year term on the insurance advisory board. Irving Dupure was named special constable for a six-month term.

Banks designated as town depositories are: Savings Bank of Rockville, Savings Bank of Manchester, Manchester Savings and Loan, Peoples Savings Bank of Rockville, Connecticut Bank and Trust.

Selectmen will send invitations to Peter Managoga, Mayor Leo Flaherty of Rockville to attend an area meeting to discuss mutual problems was referred to the town planning commission and the zoning commission for their attention.

Volker Appeal Listed—The zoning board of appeals has listed a public hearing on four cases Oct. 10 at 8 p.m. at the Community Hall.

Charles Volker is asking for permission to use a lot at the corner of Brandy St. and Bolton Center Rd. for a licensed auto repair business. This property is now zoned as "neighborhood business" in which an auto repair business is not permitted.

Ernest Mason is asking for an exception for an auto repairer, but is on the same lot, which is now owned by Volker.

Bolton Philip Dooley Appointed to Zone Board

Selectmen began the new fiscal year last night by making annual appointments to town posts, most of them re-appointments.

A new appointment was that of Philip G. Dooley to the zoning commission.

Dooley will replace Eugene Caplan who declined reappointment.

Dooley, a project engineer at United Aircraft Corp., has previously served on the board of education.

One of his outstanding contributions on that board was his work in revising and updating bus transportation routes.

He is church school superintendent at Bolton Congregational Church and a member of the educational building committee.

Other Appointments—Fred Gall was reappointed park and recreation commissioner for one-year term; Mrs. Donald Telford, welfare director; Howard Skinner, tree warden; Aldo Pease, custodian of the Brandy St. tract; Mrs. William Riley, selectman's clerk; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Skinner, Community Hall custodians; and Mrs. Olive Toomey, archives custodian until a successor is appointed.

Volker Appeal Listed—The zoning board of appeals has listed a public hearing on four cases Oct. 10 at 8 p.m. at the Community Hall.

Charles Volker is asking for permission to use a lot at the corner of Brandy St. and Bolton Center Rd. for a licensed auto repair business. This property is now zoned as "neighborhood business" in which an auto repair business is not permitted.

Ernest Mason is asking for an exception for an auto repairer, but is on the same lot, which is now owned by Volker.

Last year a request by Mason for a repairer's license on the property led to the discovery that such a use was not permitted in business zones under the then existing zoning regulations.

The rules are general in nature, but the lot is zoned for neighborhood use and not general business.

Volker conducted a well-selling business from the lot under a non-conforming use classification.

Residents of the area had no objection to Volker's business but they did raise objections at a public hearing last year to an auto-repairer's license on the lot.

Also to be considered at the hearing next week is a request by Robert and Madeline Dayvoss of South Rd. for a variance to allow an extension of their house to the rear along the existing 24 1/2-foot side yard.

A 10-foot side yard regulation was in effect when the house was built but the regulations now call for a 20-foot side yard.

Kay and Albert Pullo are asking for an exception for a limited auto-repairer's license at Al's Suncoco Service located at Bolton North.

Bloodmobile Visit Set—The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Bolton on Oct. 16 at St. Maurice Church from 1:45 to 6:30 p.m.

The quota for the visit is 75 units. Those wishing to donate blood may call Mrs. Emerson Bosworth of Bayberry Rd. Donors may be 18-years of age or over, but those from 18 to 21 years of age must have parental permission.

He is church school superintendent at Bolton Congregational Church and a member of the educational building committee. He is also assistant treasurer of the church.

Other Appointments—Fred Gall was reappointed park and recreation commissioner for one-year term; Mrs. Donald Telford, welfare director; Howard Skinner, tree warden; Aldo Pease, custodian of the Brandy St. tract; Mrs. William Riley, selectman's clerk; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Skinner, Community Hall custodians; and Mrs. Olive Toomey, archives custodian until a successor is appointed.

Charles Lathrop was re-appointed to a three-year term on the insurance advisory board. Irving Dupure was named special constable for a six-month term.

Banks designated as town depositories are: Savings Bank of Rockville, Savings Bank of Manchester, Manchester Savings and Loan, Peoples Savings Bank of Rockville, Connecticut Bank and Trust.

Selectmen will send invitations to Peter Managoga, Mayor Leo Flaherty of Rockville to attend an area meeting to discuss mutual problems was referred to the town planning commission and the zoning commission for their attention.

A Thought for Today

Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

When Jesus was summarizing the laws of his people, he condensed them into two major commandments. Loving God with the whole self and loving one's neighbor as much as one's self.

When we are asked to love our neighbor, we are asked to love the person who is nearest to us.

When we are asked to love our neighbor, we are asked to love the person who is nearest to us.

When we are asked to love our neighbor, we are asked to love the person who is nearest to us.

When we are asked to love our neighbor, we are asked to love the person who is nearest to us.

When we are asked to love our neighbor, we are asked to love the person who is nearest to us.

When we are asked to love our neighbor, we are asked to love the person who is nearest to us.

When we are asked to love our neighbor, we are asked to love the person who is nearest to us.

When we are asked to love our neighbor, we are asked to love the person who is nearest to us.

The Doctor Says

How the Heat-Sensitive Present Itchy Skin

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D., Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.

A Texas dermatologist now informs us that "winter itch" (pruritus or dermatitis hibernica) now comes in the summer.

What's more, he proves it rather conclusively.

There is how this revolutionary change has come about.

The typical patient spends the major part of his hot, humid days of heat in a refrigerated air-conditioned house, office, plant, theater or automobile.

Running from one air-conditioned place to another, the heat-sensitive person avoids outdoor sports or other activities that involve exposure to heat and humidity.

When the skin surfaces of these heat-sensitive persons begin to itch and chap and then develop redness, erythema, scratch marks (excoriations), and hives (urticaria), they are suffering from winter itch.

A fire which broke out after the blast was quickly extinguished. First word came in a terse fire department announcement at 12:20 p.m.

It said: "A boiler explosion of great magnitude has occurred in the basement. Many persons have been trapped."

A subsequent police report said "many" were injured. At 12:30 p.m. the fire department said fire which followed the explosion was not appreciable but that firemen were busy attempting to rescue injured persons and to get others out of the building.

A second alarm of fire was sounded to get more rescue workers to the scene.

At 12:40 p.m. came another message from the fire department: "Quite a few fatalities and an unaccountable number of injured. Joining in the dash to the site were ambulances and police disaster and emergency units."

Capital Works Okayed by GOP May Be Scuttled by Democrats

The Republican majority of the board of directors approved appropriations of $119,000 for capital improvements last night in their last meeting before they relinquish control of the board to the Democrats.

However, one of the Democrats, Ted Powell, said this morning, "I'm sure that the money will not be spent."

"A little more thought should go into this kind of expenditure. You don't just wrap up a package and spend that kind of money." Items in the list of improvements included improvement of the Municipal Building heating system for $15,000, the electrical system for $4,000, plans for an annex $15,000, and hall of records vault doors, $12,000.

Solution to Firehouse Site Awaits Stakeout of Two Areas

Rather than take a vote which would have failed to overturn the TPC, the Republican majority tabled the action until the November meeting when the Democrats will have assumed power.

General Manager Richard Martin said he was no expert on firehouse sites, but he would take the recommendations of the fire underwriters who set the insurance rates for the town.

He described the parking lot site as "the best piece we've got," and said, "if we don't pick out a site soon, we're not going to build any firehouses."

At the recess in the meeting, the Republicans were unable to secure the support of the three Democrats Francis Mahoney, Ted Powell or William Collins, who wanted more information on the sites.

How to sew up a "hole in your pocket" with a fountain pen

Just sign up for U.S. Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and you'll build a small fortune with money you never even knew you had

The Payroll Savings Plan is probably the easiest way to save ever invented.

All you do is tell your company how much you want to save, and sign your name on a card. Your company does the rest: sets aside from each paycheck the amount you've specified, buys your U.S. Savings Bonds, and delivers them to you—automatically.

You don't see the money you save this way, so you can't spend it. And pretty soon you don't even miss it. But set aside as small an amount as 65¢ a day, and in just a year you'll own a full dozen $25.00 Series E Bonds. That's $300.00 (maturity value) worth of Bonds you'll have paid for with money that might otherwise have just vanished through the hole in your pocket!

Remember, too, every Bond you buy is a share in a stronger America. And Bonds now grow faster than ever to return you $4 for every $3 in only 7 years, 9 months.

Isn't now a good time for you to sign in and see up your savings?

Special Report—1 Vatican Council

EDITOR'S NOTE—The future of Christendom will be deeply influenced by the decisions which will be made at the Vatican Council, which begins meetings next week in Rome—the first in 92 years, the 21st since the days of the apostles. Here, in the first of three articles in an AP religion news writer who will cover the meetings, probe their plans and promise.

BY GEORGE CORNELL, Associated Press Religion Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Prayer changes apparently are in the making for the Roman Catholic Church.

Just what form they will take, and how far they will go, hangs in the air. The council, opening Oct. 11 in Rome—the largest gathering of ecclesiastical authorities in the Church's 2,000-year history—will affect, directly or indirectly, the whole of Christendom.

The aim is a general renovation in the life and operating structure of the Church. Pope John XXIII's favorite word for it is "aggiornamento"—bringing the Church up to date.

"The coming council will effect a real reform in the Church," says the Most Rev. Lorenz Jaeger, archbishop of Paderborn, Germany. "It doesn't imply any changes in basic beliefs, but council planners say it does mean clarification and fuller interpretation of certain doctrines, as well as a reshaping of many policies and practices."

The council is the first in 92 years for the Church and, as Rome counts it, the 21st such concave since the time of the apostles.

Note of the others has had such thorough preparations—an intensive process that has involved about 700 churchmen in various countries serving on a battery of commissions for the past three years.

The approximately 2,800 "successors of the apostles," cardinals, archbishops and abbots, in conjunction with the Pope, constitute the Church's ruling hierarchy.

About 75 or more delegates—servers will be on hand from other denominations, at Rome's invitation, although they will not have a vote they will sit in on general discussion sessions closed to the press.

All told, the council may bring up to 10,000 visiting participants to Rome. It is expected to continue until mid-1963, with recesses for Christmas and Easter.

Keen interest, both among Catholics and members of other churches, has centered on possible steps to foster Christian reunion—a cause strongly espoused by Pope John.

In view of the old, entrenched obstacles, however, there is clearly no intention of attempting re-

Sunday Seminar Speakers

Two leaders of the Episcopal faith in Connecticut will conduct two of the three seminars to be sponsored Sunday afternoon at the Center Congregational Church by the Manchester Council of Churches.

The Rev. C. Freeman Sleeper, Trinity College, will speak and lead discussion on "The End of You and Your World." He is a former lecturer in New Testament Greek at Vanderbilt University and has served as a field worker for the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

He is a member of the Society of Biblical Literature and Kappa Psi, an associate member of the American Schools of Oriental Research.

Morton Nace, general secretary for youth and laymen's work in the Episcopal Diocese of Connecticut, will lead the seminar on "The Priesthood of All Believers."

He is one of the few full-time lay executives in the Episcopal Church.

A third course, "Justification through Grace by Faith," will be under the direction of Dr. Harvey K. McArthur, professor of New Testament at the Hartford Seminary Foundation.

The council committee in charge of the seminars, which will take place Sunday at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m., is headed by the Rev. Clifford O. Simpson, pastor of Center Congregational Church, as chairman.

Assisting him with arrangements are the Rev. George Neitrand, pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Registration for the seminars and a supper to be served at 8 p.m. may be made at the offices of any church in the council. Study reservations will be open through tonight and seminar registration may be made until Sunday afternoon.

According to the committee in charge, the purpose of the seminars is to deepen Christian loyalty by hearing a presentation of a fundamental Christian doctrine, and then discussing that doctrine with fellow Christians of differing confessions.

Keep Beauty Aids Out of Luggage

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
When you're traveling, it's wise to take along a small bag for your grooming aids. This you can take care of your appearance en route without having to disturb your luggage.

Make sure that you have your hair brush as well as your cosmetics, creams, toothbrush, dentifrice and tissues. And you'll be much happier, too, if you don't decide that you can get along with just one comb.

A wardrobe of comb, just as you have at home, will be a great comfort in traveling. It will contribute to the restfulness, health and styling of your hair.

You can brush your hair thoroughly in the washroom of the train or plane, and then further stimulate your scalp by gently tugging the hair with your strong thin-tine comb.

In arranging your hair style, you'll find your retail comb invaluable in lifting the hair to give it height, and tucking under short lengths. Your all-purpose comb, with its fine teeth, is perfect, of course, for part of your pump equipment.

Martin Asks No Lease on Nature Park

General Manager Richard Martin told the board of directors last night he favored a special arrangement, rather than a lease, between the town and the Luis Junior Museum on the use of 53 acres on Oak Grove St. as a nature park.

The museum, through one of its directors, Dr. Frank Horton, asked the directors to lease the town-owned land for 99 years at one dollar a year to the museum.

College Advisory Committee Sets Plans to Inform Public

The junior college advisory committee was directed last night to begin gathering and circulating data on the proposed Manchester community college to help the passage of the issue in the Nov. 8 referendum.

Christie F. McCormick, appointed chairman of the committee, said the group's function is to get as much factual information to the community as possible so that on Nov. 8 people can render a sound judgment on the question.

However, he stressed that it is not the purpose of the committee at this time to exert any pressure.

McCormick outlined four major areas of work for the members. The public needs to know about the need of such a school, the number of students expected the first year of operation, the budget and housing, he said.

Mrs. Jane Sturt was appointed secretary and Matthew Moriarty head of publicity and advertising. The committee members were divided into various groups, including a "speakers bureau" to contact service organizations, a prospective students' unit to advise students to speak on the issue on radio, and a neighborhood meeting unit.

"We're going to have to move into high gear," said McCormick. "We're going to have to start getting this information out this week."

Moriarty discussed advertising possibilities, and said one-minute radio broadcasts and newspaper ads would be a good move. Mrs. Eleanor Crockett, president of the League of Women Voters, said the league will begin circulating about 6,000 flyers on the college next week.

McCormick said that brevity in advertising would be best received. He read two suggested ads for the college.

Several of the 15 members present said they would like to see Mrs. Storrs, 14 Summer St., hold gifts from her former associates of the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association as Mrs. Leon Thorp, president, smiles approvingly.

Andover Social Worker Salary Hiked

The board of education last night voted to raise the salary of the school social worker, Miss Ethel Batchesel, to $1,500. Last year, Miss Batchesel worked a half day each week, at a $800 salary. The board had allocated, in its budget, $1,000 for one full day each week this year, but Rep. Aram Damarjian reported that Miss Batchesel found this sum quite unsatisfactory. The school principal, Mrs. Doris Chamberlain, reported that Miss Batchesel currently has a case load of 16 at Andover school.

There was considerable discussion about the salary, but the board felt Miss Batchesel very well qualified and her services to the school very valuable. The motion to raise the salary was passed with no dissenting votes.

The principal reported that one child in the elementary school will have to be sent to the special class Eham High school. The transportation committee was authorized to secure proper transportation. The superintendent estimated the cost for tuition would probably be between $600 and $800.

The board approved as substitute teachers for this school year Mrs. Paul Donahue, Mrs. Raymond Houle, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. John Parkers, Mrs. Gerald Anderson, all of Andover, Mrs. Myrtle Adams of Boston, and Mrs. Genevieve Guilford of Willimantic.

Town Office Plans Asked

Monday night's town meeting instructed the town office building committee to have concrete plans and suitable alternatives ready for presentation to a town meeting in 4-600 p.m. Reservations will be made by calling Gerald Anderson or the Rev. Willard Thompson.

A special feature of the white elephant booth will be a silent auction. Mrs. Martin Baker would especially like donations of children's toys for this booth and will be glad to pick them up.
