Woody Woodbury Supper Club Emcee Makes It Big in TV

By CHARLES J. LEAVY The name Woody Woodbury may sound like a character out of Walt Disney but it's not. As we approached the Little Theatre...

Although we arrived about ten minutes after the show began, the head waiter quietly led us into the control room. There looking directly on the stage and surrounded by five separate images, we were sharply brought back to our senses...

It was at the Bahama Hotel in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where we first saw him about five years ago. At that time we enjoyed his performance so well that we recall saying that he would go far.

When Johnny Carson, the former emcee of "Who Do You Trust?" accepted the "Tonight Show" spot, ABC was left with a popular show without a master of ceremonies.

The next day Mr. Feddersen phoned me and asked if I would be interested in taking over the job. Woody told us later, "Realizing the opportunity that was being offered me, I made my decision to accept on the spot."

Back stage after the show, it was interesting to note how the friendliness and joviality of the show on camera was carried on after the show was over. Woody was consoling the losing contestant and joking with the winner almost as if they were old friends.

During the interview in Johnny Carson's old dressing room and office above the theatre, we found that this friendliness was so natural and part of Woody that after a few minutes of conversation with him, we felt that we were old friends.

When we complimented him on his affability, Woody laughed and said, "Taking over the reins of 'Who Do You Trust?' presents a fine challenge for me and should be fun in the process. Personally, my ultimate goal is to be decent and funny and respectful with everybody. In the long run it would appear to me the contestants, studio and viewing audiences deserve the best I can give them."

Although Woody spoke knowingly about the current comedians on the scene today, he made it clear that, "I don't consider myself basically a comedian. I'm an entertainer."

Mentioning Bob Hope, Jackie Gleason and Red Skelton as his idea of the foremost comedians of the day, we asked Woody about the comedians of tomorrow.

Leaning back in his swivel chair and still smiling, Woody said, "They'll be arriving steadily as they have in the past. Some will be in the right place at the right time and make it big. Others just equally facile and talented just won't make it at all. They say 'talent will out.' It's probably the rule rather than the exception, but like any other creative situation, it's not iron-clad."

"With vaudeville presently in a nearly extinct form, I would strongly urge, advise and recommend nightclubs as the place to make the start. Of course, the clubs will be small, the pay low, but the experience will give an entertainer great insight to the behavior patterns of large groups of people. It's a great training ground for a future in television. Remember, Red Skelton, Bob Hope and Danny Thomas are just a few of the top comedians who began with clubs."

Woody's own supper club career began as a result of a "coming out" party for him. It was back in 1947 in Jacksonville, Fla., when Woodbury, who served during World War II as a Marine pilot and instructor, was being given a "getting out" party at which he accompanied the "singers" on the piano. The owner of the club where the party was held, im-success and has been a top-rated supper club entertainer and recording star ever since, except for two years in Korea as a jet fighter pilot with 108 missions to his credit. It was in Korea that Woody, a major, and John Glenn, later to become the famed astronaut, became close friends as members of the same combat group attached to the Marine Aviation Guard.

Following his success in Jacksonville, Woody signed for a two-week engagement at the renowned Clover Club in Miami where he remained three years to perform before 870 audiences.

Though his home base has been the Chart Room in the Bahama Hotel in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he has entertained capacity crowds for five years, Woody has traveled through the country appearing at numerous comedy concerts. He completed a record-breaking engagement at Mister Kelly's in Chicago, was awarded two Gold Records for his series of comedy albums and appeared in the movie "Safe at Home" with Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris and William Frawley.

We enjoyed the interview so much that we were reluctant to leave. However, we were so impressed with him that we were sure his new opportunity was only the beginning for him, and that we would be seeing a lot more of him from now on.

Attorney Sam Benedict (Edmond O'Brien) tries to salvage a crumbling, 20-year marriage that has been undermined by a buxom blonde in the "Sam Benedict" episode, "The Bird of Warning," on NBC-TV Saturday, Nov. 17 (7:30-8:30 p.m. EST).

Wary of hearing Joey's excuses for neglecting to take his regular medical checkup, Ellie Barnes (Abby Dalton) cooks up an elaborate plot to make Joey think he is pretty sick in the episode, "Joey Takes a Physical," on "The New Joey Bishop Show" color series Saturday, Nov. 17 (NBC-TV, 8:30 p.m. EST).

She graduated from Glendale High School in January 1947, where she played the lead in most of the dramatic productions. Terry also appeared in several dramas at the Pasadena Playhouse. Later she interrupted her career briefly to take courses in drama at UCLA.

Terry got her first break in pictures at age 10 when a neighbor placed her picture in a Hollywood casting directory. This led to a role in "Maryland" but her scene ended on the cutting room floor. Later she appeared in "Gaslight," "The Howards of Virginia," and "My Gal Sal."

During the adolescent years, Terry worked in radio and posed for magazine covers. The cover pictures led to a contract at Eagle-Lion Studios where she was known as Jan Ford. Then her contract was acquired by Columbia Pictures. She played the feminine lead opposite Glenn Ford in "The Return of October" and was loaned to Argosy for "Mighty Joe Young."

Terry has frequently used her ingenuity in pursuit of a choice part. She obtained her role in "Come Back Little Sheba"—which won her an Oscar nomination—by persistence in seeking an interview with the casting director.

She was in La Jolla when she heard Ella Kazan was preparing "Man on a Tightrope." Terry, hopped into a rented plane, piloted it to Hollywood, and, dispensing with makeup or a change of clothes, rushed in to see Kazan, who thought she looked like a "female Marion Brand." Terry got the part.

For "King of the Khyber Rifles," Terry developed an English accent within 24 hours by visiting all her English friends. Then she tried out the accent on director Henry King. Knowing his avid interest in flying and being a licensed pilot herself, Terry shrewdly mixed airplane talk with her interview. She landed the role opposite the late Tyrone Power.

Terry has starred on TV in "Climax," "Checkmate" and "The Red Skelton Show."

Reds Outflank Defense Lines

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru announced the fall to the Chinese Communists of Bomdila, 25 miles from the plains of Assam. His announcement followed by only a matter of hours news from the Defense Ministry that Indian defense positions on the Se Pass had been overrun and that fighting had moved 32 air miles to the southeast, into the outskirts of Bomdila, in fighting on the western end of the long border front. The Indian army had planned to place its next defense line behind Se Pass at Bomdila, but the surprise Chinese sweep around the northeast end of the defenses brought the attackers Sunday night to Bomdila. The spokesman said Bomdila is now threatened. Indian troops from Se Pass, caught between two Chinese forces, are now trying to fight their way back to a link with the Indians around Bomdila. Prime Minister Nehru had announced earlier the fall of the vital Himalayan Se Pass to a prong of a massive Red Chinese offensive probing toward the densely populated plains of Assam. The Chinese outflanked Indian troops on 12,700-foot-high Se Pass, forcing them to withdraw, Nehru told Parliament.

The loss of the pass came as the Chinese Communists, attacking in waves, pressed their renewed offensive at both ends of the 1,500-mile frontier stretching from Burma to Kashmir. At the eastern end of the battle line, the Chinese posed a separate threat to the Assam plains in an advance of 12 miles from the key defense post of Walong, which they captured Friday. Walong lies some 300 miles east of Se Pass. In Ladakh, at the northwest end of the disputed border, the Chinese have taken an outpost guarding a vital Indian airfield at Chushul and fighting is continuing in the area, Nehru said. His announcement of the new reverses came after a speech Sunday night in which he said the Chinese offensive is threatening Indian independence. He said other countries are now beginning to realize that this is not a border dispute but "a naked, crude and shameless aggression." A Peking broadcast quoted Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai as saying U.S. arms aid to India will enlarge the conflict "to the detriment of the Chinese and Indian people and of the Afro-Asian peoples." About $5 million worth of badly needed infantry weapons have been flown to India by the United States. (Continued on Page Five)

Blue Cross Plans Teleprinter Net

HARTFORD (AP)—Connecticut Blue Cross today announced plans for a major operational step forward—a communications system to electronically link 35 member hospitals within seconds. The move, a two-way network using an advanced IBM (International Business Machines Corp.) computer setup, is the first of its type to be ordered by any Blue Cross plan in the nation. The new system will completely automate handling of hospital admissions covering its 1,250,000 members. J. F. Dublinsky, general manager of Connecticut Blue Cross, said he expects completion of the new system by late next year. The two-way communications network will be centered around an IBM 110 "master" computer at Blue Cross headquarters in New Haven. It, in turn, will be keyed into teleprinters in each of the member hospitals. Information cut to tapes will be automatically transmitted to New Haven. The state Blue Cross, one of 79 such non-profit, hospitalization insurance plans across the country (plus four in Canada), is a big factor in the billing handled by most hospitals. As a result, the planning for this technological step has been carefully coordinated with the Connecticut Hospital Association. Blue Cross has already gotten into computers for record-keeping and analysis purposes, installing an earlier IBM machine in 1960. However, Blue Cross claims manager Arthur Jones explained today, "this takes days to process instead of seconds now."

Suspect in Custody

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Connecticut authorities planned to take custody today of a man and woman accused in the slaying of a Westport, Conn., woman and the kidnap-rap of her 14-year-old daughter. The FBI said the pair had indicated they would waive extradition proceedings. Harlan Miller, 31-year-old handyman, and his common-law wife, Rosanna Miller, 24, were held in jail here. Miller is charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder, kidnaping and rape, and the woman with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution and kidnaping, the FBI said. Both are Negroes. Sheriff Joe C. Mullis arrested the pair Friday in Soperton, Ga., about 60 miles southwest of here, at the home of Miller's mother. He said they denied the charges. Miller is accused in the strangulation death of Mrs. Label Sillan, a 50-year-old Westport civic and social leader. She was found dead at her home last Monday by her husband, Pierre Sillan, a fashion designer. Her attacker had fled, forcing the Sillans' daughter, Gail, to accompany him. She later escaped. Miller Seeks To Remain as Head of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William E. Miller of New York said today he wants to stay on the job as Republican national chairman in an effort to elect a GOP president in 1964. Miller said he has surveyed and found good the Nov. 6 election results in which the Republicans made some significant gains in important governorships, picked up a net of two seats in the House and lost four in the Senate. The outcome has prompted some suggestions that the party needs a full-time, paid chairman who would direct a professional organization drive for the presidential campaign. When Miller took office he said that if he found that he didn't have time for both the chairmanship and his duties as a member of the House, he would quit one of the jobs. He serves in the chairmanship without pay. Miller said in an interview he believes he has demonstrated in the nearly two years he has held the party post that he has not stinted his work there or in Congress. He added that, as of now, he hopes to continue in the dual role. Few doubted that he would be challenged in that decision. In a move to cash in on what he said were significant GOP gains in the big cities, Miller called four regional party chairmen into a conference today to map plans for supporting Republican candidates in 1964 municipal and local elections. The four are L. Judson Biorhouse of New York, Ray C. Morse of Ohio, Wirt A. Yoger Jr. of Mississippi and John S. Wood of Wyoming. Miller, who once said the Republicans might have to look under a rock for their 1964 presidential nominee if they didn't make some substantial gains in Congress, shrugged off the virtual stalemate there. Instead, he said in a statement Sunday that "our inroads in the traditionally Democratic-dominated big cities in the North and in the formerly one-party South"

Storms, Disasters, Leave 144 Dead or Lost at Sea

Loss Rises To Millions In Shipping

A casualty roll of world sea disasters edged upward today, with 144 persons listed as dead or missing in a series of mishaps that started last week. Trouble in the Atlantic and the Pacific, the North Sea and the Mediterranean ran shipping losses into millions of dollars. Nearly 100 seafarers were rescued from vessels sunk, battered or disabled by howling weekend storms. High waves pounded the coasts of Puerto Rico and Cuba, causing death, injury, and property damage. The entire 28-man crew of the Japanese gasoline tanker Munakata Maru was presumed killed in a blazing inferno following a collision Sunday with another tanker in a narrow fog-shrouded channel of Tokyo Bay. Thirty-two bodies had been recovered. The fire was believed touched off by a barge's funnel sparks dropping on high-octane gasoline leaking from the damaged 1,972-ton Munakata Maru. She carried 900,000 gallons of gasoline. Three crewmen on two barges caught in the flames also were lost. The 47 persons aboard the 21,000-ton Norwegian tanker Tharald Brovig, the other ship in the collision, were rescued. Ten suffered minor injuries. The ships crashed and locked 200 yards from shore in Kawasaki Canal 12 miles from Tokyo. The fire erupted minutes after the crash as a small barge passed nearby. Most of the Japanese seamen were trapped on board their tanker. Elsewhere at sea: The 11 crewmen of the fishing scalloper Midnight Star, out of New Bedford, Mass., were unaccounted for after a storm at sea Wednesday. The vessel failed to return to port when due Saturday. Twelve Spanish fishermen vanished without trace Sunday after charging that their 150-ton vessel, Do Jesus, sprang a leak in a storm eight miles off San Sebastian. With a sea and air hunt fruitless, Spanish naval authorities considered the 12 drowned. Japan's Maritime Safety Agency reported two Japanese fishing boats with 26 crewmen were missing between their home port and Okinawa. It said they were be-

That's What It Took to Make the Pictures
For a good picture of Manchester, Winter allowed a 7-hour exposure of the town from noon yesterday until 7 o'clock last night. About one and a half inches of snow were used in the process to produce these negatives of the town. The sun took a hand in the creative process this morning, and in a 6-hour development under direct rays, deleted the snow from roads and sidewalks, but left it on tree branches and the tops of phone poles. Using America's newest and more expensive equipment, Herald photographers reproduced the achievement, Reginald Pinto filming the field, and Joseph Sateris, the picket fence.

Jasper McLevy Dies, Steadfast Socialist

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—Jasper McLevy, 84, former Socialist mayor of Bridgeport, died today at his home here. He had been ill for two years. McLevy suffered a stroke in October 1960, and had been in failing health since. He served as mayor for 24 years. In a career that spanned 35 years, he had run for governor, U.S. senator, legislator and alderman—and when he fell ill in 1960 he was running for Congress. He never won statewide office although he polled a surprising number of votes for governor in 1938. He often ran simply to keep the party franchise alive in the state. But in the City of Bridgeport, McLevy won 12 consecutive terms for mayor—and was one of the few Socialists to hold mayorship in an American city of this size—150,000 during those years. When Democrat Samuel J. Tedesco defeated McLevy in 1957 it looked as though he was down for keep. But he was up and running again in 1960. Tedesco defeated him again. Even when McLevy was beaten for statewide office, he sometimes acquired enough votes that it influenced the outcome for the other candidate. And in 1958, he had the balance of power in the state senate when three Socialist senators were elected. They used that balance to get what McLevy wanted for his Bridgeport administration. McLevy ran for mayor eight times before he was elected in 1933. Yet he won thumping victories after he got into office. In 1947, when only 600 persons were registered as Socialists, McLevy won 20,000 votes. McLevy prided himself on having reduced the city's indebtedness, on installing a civil service system, on keeping expenditures and taxes down, and on opening to the public all meetings of committees and legislative bodies. He became the leader of the "right wing" Socialists in 1936 after he broke away from the Socialist party of the United States when some of its leaders urged a "united front" with the Communist party and other radical groups. A roofer by trade, McLevy was back on the roofs the day after he was first elected mayor. He had been forced to leave school at the age of 14. At his peak, McLevy had a deep-lined, Lincoln-like face, flashing eyes and a deep, intense voice. He always wore a blue serge suit, white shirt and dark tie.

But in recent years his voice began to quaver. The sturdy hands began to tremble. The eyes looked tired. Yet the old love for politics was still there. McLevy was married twice—to Mary Flynn, who died in 1915 after three years of marriage; and, in 1929, to Vida Stearns. She survived. They had no children. Funeral services will be held Wednesday in the Henry E. Bishop & Son Funeral Home, with the Rev. Frederick J. Aisup, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Park Cemetery, Bridgeport. Survivors, in addition to his widow, include three sisters, Mrs. Fred Jennings of Fairfield, Mrs. Mabel McLevy and Mrs. Ward Parkieton, both of Bridgeport; and a brother, George, of Bridgeport. Party of De Gaulle Victor in Election

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle today emerged from the first round of the National Assembly elections with new and resounding victory over France's old line political parties. The Gaullist Union for a New Republic (UNR), the party's one-plan platform of unwavering loyalty to De Gaulle, displaced the Communists as France's strongest political party. The UNR won 50 of the 104 seats decided Sunday and led in 134 of the 389 districts of metropolitan France where runoff will be held next Sunday. The party's share of the popular vote nearly doubled, from 17.5 per cent in 1958 to 31.9 per cent. Although Interior Minister Rog-

Jazz Concert First One Set In White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cool culture comes to the White House today. A jazz concert—the first ever held in the stately old executive mansion—will be presented by a young sextet that wants President Kennedy to keep on sending U.S. jazzmen abroad in the cultural exchange program. The jazz session is the fifth of a series of Concerts for Youth sponsored by Mrs. Kennedy. Sons and daughters of ambassadors and chiefs of diplomatic missions here will join the children of Cabinet officials for the late afternoon concert in the East Ballroom. Leader of the sextet is Paul Winter, 23, a saxophone player from Altoona, Pa. A 20-year-old Korean pianist, Tom Il Han, will be featured. Winter and his buddies, college students from Chicago area universities, won an international jazz festival award in 1961. As a result they were sent on a tour of Latin America last winter. They were the first student jazz group sent abroad under a student exchange program and the enthusiasm with which they were received startled them. In fact, says Winter, the six were so impressed with the effect their music had in South America that they decided to put aside other careers for the moment to devote themselves to cultural exchange music projects. Release Sought Of Cuban Attache Charged in Plot

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cuban delegation readied a formal protest to the United Nations today seeking the release of an attaché, one of three men charged in an alleged Cuban sabotage plot. An FBI spokesman said the arrested trio was believed planning to blow up oil refineries in New Jersey, set off incendiary bombs and smoke-devices in New York's major department stores and throw hand grenades into crowds of Christmas shoppers here. "It was a question of moving in before they had a chance to use their equipment," said John Malone, agent in charge of the New York FBI office. He referred to a cache of explosives and incendiary devices which the FBI confiscated. The FBI also disclosed, in making the arrests Friday night and Saturday, that 10 others were being trained here in the art of sabotage. All 10 have been subpoenaed by a federal grand jury. One of the three arrested, Roberto Santesteban Casanova, 27, is an attaché at the Cuban U.N. mission. He arrived here Oct. 8 on a plane bringing Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos to New York for a U.N. session. The FBI said Santesteban had applied for diplomatic immunity but the State Department had not. (Continued on Page Twenty-three)

Miss Ambrose Wins In Violin Contest

A South Coventry man whose 16-year-old daughter yesterday tied for fifth place in an international violin competition in Poland said today that she was "astounded" that she had placed so highly. Penny Ambrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Ambrose of Waterfront Park, South Coventry, tied with a Soviet violinist for fifth place in the Henryk Wieniawski violin competition in Poznan, Poland. One of two American musicians to win honors in the competition, Miss Ambrose is also the youngest participant. Thirty-six violinists from eight countries have competed since the competition opened Nov. 4. The Associated Press said today that Charles Fregier, 27, a violin instructor at the University of Iowa, won the violin competition. (Continued on Page Ten)

Cuba Says U.S. Bases Must Go

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The second resolution recommends that the countries of Latin America agree to dispose of any nuclear weapons or nuclear delivery vehicles which may be on their territory and not to manufacture, receive, store or test such devices. It calls for verification procedures. Bolivia, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador, sponsoring the proposal, were expected to confer on their future course in view of the Cuban-U.S. disagreement. There was speculation that they might withhold the resolution from a vote for the time being. The Cuban chief delegate Carlos M. Lechuga told the committee Friday the idea of making Latin America a denuclearized zone. (Continued on Page Six)

Strong UN Vote Seen For Pursuing N-Ban

A resolution calling for new disarmament negotiations and a progress report by mid-April was expected to win overwhelming approval in the United Nations today. Another resolution recommending that nuclear weapons be barred from Latin America faced an uncertain future because of Cuban demands that it apply to U.S. bases in the Caribbean. The General Assembly's 110-nation main political committee scheduled morning and afternoon meetings in an effort to reach a vote today on the two proposals. The first resolution, sponsored by 31 countries, calls on the 18-nation disarmament committee to resume its negotiations in Geneva "expeditiously and in a spirit of constructive compromise, until agreement has been reached" on general and complete disarmament with effective controls. The proposal asks the disarmament committee to report to the assembly on its progress not later than the second week of April. The committee, which recessed Sept. 8 to allow for the U.N. debate, is scheduled to meet again Nov. 26. (Continued on Page Six)

U.S. Assails EEC Levy on Farm Products

PARIS (AP)—The United States told Western European trade officials today that their restrictive farm import trade policies threaten the unity and strength of the West. It warned that Washington has the power to take retaliatory measures. The American view was outlined in a talk prepared by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman for delivery to the agricultural committee of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development. His membership is made up of Western European countries, Canada and the United States. Freeman's talk had been approved by President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. "Not only maintenance of trade but the continued unity and strength of the Western world is at stake," Freeman told the meeting. He said the United States was concerned particularly about farm policies being developed by the European Common Market (composed of France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg). Great Britain may become a member soon. (Continued on Page Six)
