

Reds Outflank Defense Lines

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru announced the fall to the Chinese Communists of Bomdila, 25 miles from the plains of Assam.

His announcement followed by only a matter of hours news from the Defense Ministry that Indian defense positions on the Se Pass had been overrun and that fighting had moved 32 air miles to the southeast, into the outskirts of Bomdila, in fighting on the western end of the long border front.

The Indian army had planned to place its next defense line behind Se Pass at Bomdila, but the surprise Chinese sweep around the northeast end of the defenses brought the attackers Sunday night to Bomdila.

The spokesman said Bomdila is now threatened.

Indian troops from Se Pass, caught between two Chinese forces, are now trying to fight their way back to a link with the Indians around Bomdila.

Prime Minister Nehru had announced earlier the fall of the vital Himalayan Se Pass to a prong of a massive Red Chinese offensive probing toward the densely populated plains of Assam.

The Chinese outflanked Indian troops on 12,700-foot-high Se Pass, forcing them to withdraw, Nehru told Parliament.

The loss of the pass came as the Chinese Communists, attacking in waves, pressed their renewed offensive at both ends of the 1,500-mile frontier stretching from Burma to Kashmir.

At the eastern end of the battle line, the Chinese posed a separate threat to the Assam plains in an advance of 12 miles from the key defense post of Wang, which they captured Friday. Wang lies some 300 miles east of Se Pass.

In Ladakh, at the northwest end of the disputed border, the Chinese have taken an outpost guarding a vital Indian airfield at Chushul and fighting is continuing in the area, Nehru said.

His announcement of the new reverses came after a speech Sunday night in which he said the Chinese offensive is threatening Indian independence. He said other countries are now beginning to realize that this is not a border dispute but "a naked, crude and shameless aggression."

A Peking broadcast quoted Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai as saying U.S. arms aid to India will enlarge the conflict "to the detriment of the Chinese and Indian people and of the Afro-Asian peoples." About $5 million worth of badly needed infantry weapons have been flown to India by the United States.

Blue Cross Plans Teleprinter Net

HARTFORD (AP)—Connecticut Blue Cross today announced plans for a major operational step forward—a communications system to electronically link 35 member hospitals within seconds.

The move, a two-way network using an advanced IBM (International Business Machines Corp.) computer setup, is the first of its type to be ordered by any Blue Cross plan in the nation.

The new system will completely automate handling of hospital admissions covering its 1,250,000 members.

J. F. Dublinsky, general manager of Connecticut Blue Cross, said he expects completion of the new system by late next year.

The two-way communications network will be centered around an IBM 110 "master" computer at Blue Cross headquarters in New Haven. It, in turn, will be keyed into teleprinters in each of the member hospitals. Information cut to tapes will be automatically transmitted to New Haven.

The state Blue Cross, one of 79 such non-profit hospitalization insurance plans across the country (plus four in Canada), is a big factor in the billing handled by most hospitals. As a result, the planning for this technological step has been carefully coordinated with the Connecticut Hospital Association.

Blue Cross has already gotten into computers for record-keeping and analysis purposes, installing an earlier IBM machine in 1960. However, Blue Cross claims manager Arthur Jones explained today, "this takes days to process instead of seconds now."

Suspect in Custody

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Connecticut authorities planned to take custody today of a man and woman accused in the slaying of a Westport, Conn., woman and the kidnap-rape of her 14-year-old daughter.

The FBI said the pair had indicated they would waive extradition proceedings.

Harlie Miller, 31-year-old handyman, and his common-law wife, Rosalia Miller, 24, were held in jail here. Miller is charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder, kidnaping and rape, and the woman with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution and kidnaping, the FBI said. Both are Negroes.

Sheriff Joe C. Mullis arrested the pair Friday in Soperton, Ga., about 60 miles southwest of here, at the home of Miller's mother. He said they denied the charges.

Miller is accused in the strangulation death of Mrs. Label Sillan, a 50-year-old Westport civic and social leader. She was found dead at her home last Monday by her husband, Pierre Sillan, a fashion designer.

Her attacker had fled, forcing the Sillans' daughter, Gail, to accompany him. She later escaped.

Miller Seeks To Remain as Head of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William E. Miller of New York said today he wants to stay on the job as Republican national chairman in an effort to elect a GOP president in 1964.

Miller said he has surveyed and found good the Nov. 6 election results in which the Republicans made some significant gains in important governorships, picked up a net of two seats in the House and lost four in the Senate.

The outcome has prompted some suggestions that the party needs a full-time, paid chairman who would direct a professional organization drive for the presidential campaign.

When Miller took office he said that if he found that he didn't have time for both the chairmanship and his duties as a member of the House, he would quit one of the jobs. He serves in the chairmanship without pay.

Miller said in an interview he believes he has demonstrated in the nearly two years he has held the party post that he has not stunted his work there or in Congress. He added that, as of now, he hopes to continue in the dual role. Few doubted that he would be challenged in that decision.

In a move to cash in on what he said were significant GOP gains in the big cities, Miller called four regional party chairmen into a conference today to map plans for supporting Republican candidates in 1963 municipal and local elections.

The four are L. Judson Biorhouse of New York, Ray C. Morse of Ohio, Wirt A. Yeger Jr. of Mississippi and John S. Wood of Wyoming.

Miller, who once said the Republicans might have to look under a rock for their 1964 presidential nominee if they didn't make some substantial gains in Congress, shrugged off the virtual stalemate there.

Instead, he said in a statement Sunday that "our inroads in the traditionally Democratic-dominated big cities in the North and in the formerly one-party South-

Party of De Gaulle Victor in Election

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle today emerged from the first round of the National Assembly elections with new and resounding victory over France's old line political parties.

The Gaullist Union for a New Republic (UNR), with a one-plan platform of unwavering loyalty to De Gaulle, displaced the Communists as France's strongest political party.

The UNR won 50 of the 104 seats decided Sunday and led in 134 of the 389 districts of metropolitan France where runoff will be held next Sunday. The party's share of the popular vote nearly doubled, from 17.5 per cent in 1958 to 31.9 per cent.

Storms, Disasters, Leave 144 Dead or Lost at Sea

Loss Rises To Millions In Shipping

A casualty roll of world sea disasters edged upward today, with 144 persons listed as dead or missing in a series of mishaps that started last week. Trouble in the Atlantic and the Pacific, the North Sea and the Mediterranean ran shipping losses into millions of dollars.

Nearly 100 seafarers were rescued from vessels sunk, battered or disabled by howling weekend storms. High waves pounded the coasts of Puerto Rico and Cuba, causing death, injury, and property damage.

The entire 28-man crew of the Japanese gasoline tanker Munakata Maru was presumed killed in a blazing inferno following a collision Sunday with another tanker in a narrow fog-shrouded channel of Tokyo Bay.

Thirty-two bodies had been recovered.

The fire was believed touched off by a barge's funnel sparks dropping on high-octane gasoline leaking from the damaged 1,972-ton Munakata Maru. She carried 900,000 gallons of gasoline.

Three crewmen on two barges caught in the flames also were lost.

The 47 persons aboard the 21,000-ton Norwegian tanker Thorald Brovig, the other ship in the collision, were rescued. Ten suffered minor injuries.

The ships crashed and locked 200 yards from shore in Kawasaki Canal 13 miles from Tokyo.

The fire erupted minutes after the crash as a small barge passed nearby. Most of the Japanese seamen were trapped on board their tanker.

Elsewhere at sea:

The 11 crewmen of the fishing scalloper Midnight Star, out of New Bedford, Mass., were unaccounted for after a storm at sea Wednesday. The vessel failed to return to port when due Saturday.

Twelve Spanish fishermen vanished without trace Sunday after charging that their 130-ton vessel, Do Jesus, sprang a leak in a storm eight miles off San Sebastian. With a sea and air hunt fruitless, Spanish naval authorities considered the 12 drowned.

Japan's Maritime Safety Agency reported two Japanese fishing boats with 26 crewmen were missing between their home port and Okinawa. It said they were be-

That's What It Took to Make the Pictures
For a good picture of Manchester, Winter allowed a 7-hour exposure of the town from noon yesterday until 7 o'clock last night. About one and a half inches of snow were used in the process. The sun took a hand in the creative process this morning, and in a 6-hour development under direct rays, deleted the snow from roads and sidewalks, but left it on tree branches and the tops of phone poles. Using America's most expensive equipment, Herald photographers reproduced the achievement, Reginald Pinto filming the field, and Joseph Sateris, the picket fence.

Jasper McLevy Dies, Steadfast Socialist

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—Jasper McLevy, 84, former Socialist mayor of Bridgeport, died today at his home here.

He had been ill for two years. McLevy suffered a stroke in October 1960, and had been in failing health since. He served as mayor for 24 years.

In a career that spanned 35 years, he had run for governor, U.S. senator, legislator and alderman—and when he fell ill in 1960 he was running for Congress.

He never won statewide office although he polled a surprising number of votes for governor in 1938. He often ran simply to keep the party franchise alive in the state.

But in the City of Bridgeport, McLevy won 12 consecutive terms for mayor—and was one of the few Socialists to hold mayoralty in an American city of this size—150,000 during those years.

When Democrat Samuel J. Tedesco defeated McLevy in 1957 it looked as though he was down for keep. But he was up and running again in 1960. Tedesco defeated him again.

Even when McLevy was beaten for statewide office, he sometimes acquired enough votes that it influenced the outcome for the other candidate.

And in 1968, he had the balance of power in the state senate when three Socialist senators were elected. They used that balance to get what McLevy wanted for his Bridgeport administration.

McLevy ran for mayor eight times before he was elected in 1933. Yet he won thumping victories after he got into office.

In 1947, when only 600 persons were registered as Socialists, McLevy won 20,000 votes.

McLevy prided himself on having reduced the city's indebtedness, on installing a civil service system, on keeping expenditures and taxes down, and on opening to the public all meetings of committees and legislative bodies.

He became the leader of the "right wing" Socialists in 1936 after he broke away from the Socialist party of the United States when some of its leaders urged a "united front" with the Communist party and other radical groups.

A roofer by trade, McLevy was back on the roofs the day after he was first elected mayor. He had been forced to leave school at the age of 14.

At his peak, McLevy had a deep-lined, Lincolnian face, flashing eyes and a deep, intense voice. He always wore a blue serge suit, white shirt and dark tie.

But in recent years his voice began to quaver. The sturdy hands began to tremble. The eyes looked tired.

Yet the old love for politics was still there.

McLevy was married twice—to Mary Flynn, who died in 1915 after three years of marriage; and, in 1929, to Vida Stearns. She survived. They had no children.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday in the Henry E. Bishop & Son Funeral Home, with the Rev. Frederick J. Ainsup, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment will be in Park Cemetery, Bridgeport.

Survivors, in addition to his widow, include three sisters, Mrs. Fred Jennings of Fairfield, Mrs. Mabel McLevy and Mrs. Ward Parkieton, both of Bridgeport; and a brother, George, of Bridgeport.

Release Sought Of Cuba Attache Charged in Plot

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cuban delegation readied a formal protest to the United Nations today seeking the release of an attaché, one of three men charged in an alleged Cuban sabotage plot.

An FBI spokesman said the arrested trio was believed planning to blow up oil refineries in New Jersey, set off incendiary bombs and smoke-devices in New York's major department stores and throw hand grenades into crowds of Christmas shoppers here.

"It was a question of moving in before they had a chance to use their equipment," said John Malone, agent in charge of the New York FBI office. He referred to a cache of explosives and incendiary devices which the FBI confiscated.

The FBI also disclosed, in making the arrests Friday night and Saturday, that 10 others were being trained here in the art of sabotage. All 10 have been subpoenaed by a federal grand jury.

One of the three arrested, Roberto Santesteban Casanova, 27, is an attaché at the Cuban U.N. mission. He arrived here Oct. 3 on a plane bringing Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos to New York for a U.N. session.

The FBI said Santesteban had applied for diplomatic immunity but the State Department had not.

Cuba Says U.S. Bases Must Go

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A resolution calling for new disarmament negotiations and a progress report by mid-April was expected to win overwhelming approval in the United Nations today.

Another resolution recommending that nuclear weapons be barred from Latin America faced an uncertain future because of Cuban demands that it apply to U.S. bases in the Caribbean.

The General Assembly's 110-nation main political committee scheduled morning and afternoon meetings in an effort to reach a vote today on the two proposals.

The first resolution, sponsored by 31 countries, calls on the 18-nation disarmament committee to resume its negotiations in Geneva "constructively and in a spirit of constructive compromise, until agreement has been reached" on general and complete disarmament with effective controls.

The proposal asks the disarmament committee to report to the assembly on its progress not later than the second week of April. The committee, which recessed Sept. 8 to allow for the U.N. debate, is scheduled to meet again Nov. 26.

Strong UN Vote Seen For Pursuing N-Ban

The second resolution recommends that the countries of Latin America agree to dispose of any nuclear weapons or nuclear delivery vehicles which may be on their territory and not to manufacture, receive, store or test such devices. It calls for verification procedures.

Bolivia, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador, sponsoring the proposal, were expected to confer on their future course in view of the Cuban-U.S. disagreement. There was speculation that they might withhold the resolution from a vote for the time being.

Cuban chief delegate Carlos M. Lechuga told the committee Friday the idea of making Latin America a demilitarized zone.

Jazz Concert First One Set In White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cool culture comes to the White House today.

A jazz concert—the first ever held in the stately old executive mansion—will be presented by a young sextet that wants President Kennedy to keep on sending U.S. jazzmen abroad in the cultural exchange program.

The jazz session is the fifth of a series of Concerts for Youth sponsored by Mrs. Kennedy.

Sons and daughters of ambassadors and chiefs of diplomatic missions here will join the children of Cabinet officials for the late afternoon concert in the East Ballroom.

Leader of the sextet is Paul Winter, 23, a saxophone player from Altoona, Pa. A 20-year-old Korean pianist, Ton Il Han, will be featured.

Winter and his buddies, college students from Chicago area universities, won an international jazz festival award in 1961. As a result they were sent on a tour of Latin America last winter.

They were the first student jazz group sent abroad under a student exchange program and the enthusiasm with which they were received started them.

In fact, says Winter, the six were so impressed with the effect their music had in South America that they decided to pursue other careers for the moment to devote themselves to cultural exchange music projects.

Miss Ambrose Wins In Violin Contest

A South Coventry man whose 16-year-old daughter yesterday tied for fifth place in an international violin competition in Poland said today that she was "astounded" that she had placed so highly.

Penny Ambrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Ambrose of Waterfront Park, South Coventry, tied with a Soviet violinist for fifth place in the Henryk Wieniawski violin competition in Poznan, Poland.

One of two American musicians to win honors in the competition, Miss Ambrose is also the youngest participant. Thirty-six violinists from eight countries have competed since the competition opened Nov. 4.

The Associated Press said today that Charles Fregier, 27, a violin instructor at the University of Iowa, won the violin competition.

"THE WAY I HEARD IT"

As I reviewed in my last review of the Hartford Symphony, I propose to discuss Charlie Ives in this week's column. In case you are not familiar with the name, I should mention that Ives was born in Danbury, in 1874, and died in New York in 1954. Currently he is enjoying some sort of revival in musical circles.

It is not surprising that in the United States he is fashionable among musical dilettantes who probably consider themselves cognoscenti. I have had a number of requests to play some of his music at the concert and don't know anything about Mr. Ives, but I have been told that he was a very peculiar character. He was a very peculiar character. He was a very peculiar character.

Mr. Bakewell asked the question in print, but few of his readers have had the opportunity to reply in the same medium. For then I take up the challenge. The answer is simple: I don't know.

I don't know that, and Mr. Bakewell's notes on the program did little to help matters. I met Mr. Ives on several occasions many years ago, and I never knew what he was or what he was serious, or whether he was a New Englander or not being a New Englander by birth.

My own opinion of Mr. Ives is that he was an extremely clever craftsman, but I think he was also a very peculiar character.

MOBROW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev told the Soviet people today his planners will continue to put primary emphasis on heavy industry and presumably armaments rather than consumer goods.

But he also said fresh efforts will be made to put more food and other consumer goods in the shops.

Addressing a special meeting of the Communist party Central Committee, he asserted that both segments of the economy—heavy industry (which supplies the armaments industry) and consumer goods production—must be stepped up through more effective work by local Communist party organizations.

Washington (AP) — Jasper McLevy, a Democratic incumbent who was seeking a fifth term, was taken to Albuquerque Tuesday evening for services Wednesday morning at the Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic church.

Chaves Dies at 74

The veteran New Mexico Democrat died unexpectedly early Sunday in Georgetown University Hospital.

His successor will be named by Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, New Mexico's outgoing Republican chief executive, who leaves office Jan. 3. It is considered a prime prospect for the Senate race which runs until the general election in 1964.

If the post goes to Mechem or a fellow Republican, he will be the first GOP senator from New Mexico in a generation. The line up of the new Senate had 42 Democrats and 32 Republicans.

Speculation on the Senate appointment also included: Dr. Jack C. Redman, Albuquerque, the Republican who ran a close race against Rep. Joseph H. Montoya, D-N.M.; Robert O. Anderson, Roswell oil man who has been a major contributor to the Republican party in the state; and John Burnam, Socorro, one of Mechem's close advisers.

Mechem said at Albuquerque that the death of Chaves was a tragedy and that he would not discuss the possibility of a successor for some time.

Chaves entered the hospital on Nov. 7, the day after the general election. He had a virus infection and a high fever he is believed to have contracted while campaigning in New Mexico for Jack Campbell, who defeated Mechem in the gubernatorial race.

Doctors said the illness, coming after 18 months of treatment for cancer of the neck, led to the heart attack. Chaves had planned to leave the hospital Sunday to recuperate at home.

Chaves was chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee and a member of the Appropriations Committee. One of the quietest members of the Senate, he seldom raised his voice in argument.

For years he had championed development of Western resources. He had a strong interest in Puerto Rico, which he wanted admitted as a state. His efforts in 1946 to set up a permanent fair employment practices commission were unsuccessful.

The body of Chaves will be flown today to Santa Fe, where it will lie in state to the New Mexico Senate chamber. It will

Rockville-Vernon Yule Parade Formation Set By Chamber

He moved to Manchester from East Hartford in 1955.

Democrat John Castiglano, 81, Crestwood Dr., was named secretary of the board. A real estate broker was appointed to the ZBA in 1959.

He replaces Republican Daniel Hair as secretary. Hair's term on the board ran out this year. The predominantly Democratic board of directors named Democrat James Hulloran to replace him.

His explanation in 1911 of technical relationships in the energy field was first in a series of analyses that won him a Nobel Prize in 1922. In 1938 he expounded his theory of nuclear reaction that explained experiments by other physicists on the interaction of the neutron and the nucleus of the atom.

Shubert died at 83 in Boston.

A family spokesman said the value of the Shubert holdings, including real estate housing movie theaters, is several hundred million dollars. But the business is sold, the spokesman said, that even the Shuberts can't pinpoint an exact figure.

A porter who had been instructed to wake him found Shubert's body in his private compartment on the Atlantic Coast Line's West Coast Champion.

U.S. Assails EEC Levy on Farm Products

wheat, feed grains, rice and poultry—major U.S. exports to that area—are being given preference over American and other outside suppliers through imposition of import levies.

Steps being taken by the Common Market, Freeman said, "are going to be the largest single factor in determining whether the agricultural systems of the world are mindful of the need for international harmony or whether agriculture retreats into a shell of isolationism."

The United States, he said, has a policy of promoting liberal world trade. Furthermore, he said it believes the balance of the non-Communist world should follow a similar policy.

"The Congress and the American public find it difficult," he said, "to understand why the United States should maintain liberal access for a wide range of competitive imports if our own agricultural exports are restricted in foreign markets."

"It is essential," he added, "that U.S. negotiators obtain adequate assurances that access to export markets for our agricultural products is maintained."

Freeman told the Europeans a trade expansion act passed by the last Congress directs the President to take "all appropriate and feasible steps" to eliminate unjustifiable import restrictions on U.S. farm products.

"Such steps may include," he said, "retaliatory action, if necessary, against imports from the country in question."

There has been speculation that if Common Market policies are not eased, the first U.S. action might be against imports of Rhineland wine.

Freeman said the United States, contrary to the understandings of some abroad, maintains liberal policies on imports and competition.

was "very acceptable to Cuba." But he said Puerto Rico and the Panama Canal Zone, both U.S. military strongholds, should be included and all big-power military bases in Latin America should be done away with, especially the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo, Cuba.

U.S. delegate Arthur H. Dean said the United States was sympathetic toward the resolution. He declared that the Cuban recommendations were unacceptable to the rest of Latin America and to the United States.

Brazil originally proposed the resolution in an effort to give Cuba a face-saving way of accepting international verification that Cuban missile bases on Cuban territory have been dismantled.

Dear friends,
It has long been the custom in this country to set aside one day as a day of Thanksgiving.

We are reminded of a quote by Jeremy Taylor, an English Bishop, who lived during the 17th century. "The personal blessings we enjoy, blessings of immunity, safeguard, liberty and integrity, deserve the thanksgiving of a whole life."

May God grant that all of us have reason for thanksgiving for a long time to come.

Sincerely,

Kashmir More Important? India and Pakistan are currently sharing a situation which suggests that they might benefit greatly from a study of history.

This present situation has been sharply defined by the Chinese Communist attacks on India.

The situation itself includes the following facts: India is seeking arms from outside nations, particularly from the United States.

Since we were not born there, the nature of this grand jury seems to be that of a grand jury in Mississippi.

But if it had been born there—inside the customs and traditions and thought patterns of Mississippi—our chances of escaping from that view of the trouble which has been naturally and inevitably grand jury might have been very different.

These would be the broad, general outlines of the situation in which India and Pakistan now find themselves.

A little required reading in history ought to be in order for them both.

One would call to the attention of Pakistan, which thinks it is fun to have India in trouble, and which might take advantage of the trouble to take Kashmir for itself, the facts which came upon the nations of Poland and Hungary soon after, in 1938, they joined Adolf Hitler at the table as he carved up Czechoslovakia.

One would call to the attention of India the one-time military and policy folly of Chiang Kai-shek, who sent his best troops into Manchuria in an effort to control that disputed and borderline province, and thus exposed all of China itself to ultimate Communist conquest.

But the one big lesson from history is plain. Both India and Pakistan are free nations. If they want to remain separate nations, and free, they had better stop offering Communist China the invitation of a divider between themselves. Do they choose to live? Or do they choose to die for dear old Kashmir?

Sharing "U.S. To Sell Peace Atom Bombs In Shift Of Policy" was one of the brighter headlines of the international season.

This was one of those little things standing between a perfect playmate relationship between Jonathan and Pierre. So long as Jonathan had nuclear toys and Pierre didn't, and so long as Jonathan pretended that he couldn't even let Pierre play with one of his nuclear toys because what was made in his oh, so very secret—so long as there was this silly little boy showing off on the one side and this silly little boy envious on the other, there wasn't very much pleasure in other play associations either.

Neither one got much of a kick out of sliding down the other's wine cellar door: it was even hard to get interested in being a witness to the eternal relationship between Jonathan and Pierre. So long as Jonathan looked straight into Jonathan's eyes and got, direct, Jonathan's refusal to let him play with any of his nuclear toys. After each such rebuff, Pierre would go off in the Bakers Desert, and pretend to be disinterested in play by himself for the rest of time, and even manage to set off a nuclear toy or two made for himself. But Jonathan at dreary winter, one last touch of nuclear toys, and always Pierre came sliding back to resume his envious watch.

Then at last, just the other day, Jonathan surprised Pierre by addressing him directly and asking the him, point blank, if he wanted a nuclear submarine to play with. Pierre was so surprised, at first, even being asked, that he hardly knew how to act. It had even begun to seem part of the game, that he should pretend to be having as much fun by himself as he could possibly have playing with Jonathan's toys. Pierre even began to realize, wonder, perhaps, whether he really wanted any of Jonathan's nuclear toys after all. But then, obviously, he realized that even small boy playmate politeness called for some pretense of a cheerful, grateful acceptance. It looks as if Pierre is going to agree to take one of Jonathan's submarines to play with, and to exercise credit in this game.

Hal Boyle Service Station Bingo Popular in Britain

NEW YORK (AP)—Hal Boyle, a columnist might never know if he didn't open mail. You have two chances in a million of finding a pearl in the average. A survey found that the average U.S. male 'privatizes' space four times as long looking at a girl's figure as he does her face. An upstate drive-in gives away free dog food on Friday nights. The bingo craze has spread to service stations in Britain. Motorists are given a numbered card when they stop for gas. The first customer to get a card matching one on display in the station wins a prize.

British Intervene

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain has intervened in a United States Supreme Court case concerning the seizure of U.S. military equipment in Cuba. The British government has agreed to supply some nuclear missile bases in Pierre's back yard. Some day there aren't going to be any under-privileged kids anywhere, and the whole world is going to be just like one big peaceful happy neighborhood, like an old-fashioned neighborhood. Fourth of July when everybody on the globe had at least 50 free inch salutes.

WHY YOU CAN'T READ MOST PRESCRIPTIONS

Contrary to general belief, physicians do not write prescriptions in Latin, or purposely obscure by the patient. The chief reason you cannot readily read them is because the names of the drugs are unfamiliar.

There are more than 4,000 different medicines in our prescription laboratory and many of their names are almost similar. We know how to spell each one and their uses and medicines. Of course if we ever have the slightest doubt we immediately check with the physician before dispensing.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people trust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Green Shadows

After dusk, the accumulation thickened and the wind swirled round. But during most of the day the flakes came slanting quietly from the north, and traced on leaves and fields a pattern which reflected each tree standing in the way of their fall.

The fact was that, for many hours of the daytime fall, snow was not reaching the ground to the south of a tree trunk or a shrub. But the flakes were accumulating in more picturesque, you could think, if that was your fancy, that the tree trunks and branches were casting green shadows on the white snow. Or that somebody had painted green reflections on the snow, or some artistic with handfulls of green dust.

The effect was that this surprise fall of November created the same kind of shadow which sometimes

I Believe: IN COUNTING MY BLESSINGS

That's what Thanksgiving means to me... It is the day when family and friends sit down together to give thanks for all the good things that have happened to us during the past year. We have good health. We have made remarkable strides in the war against disease. Grateful thanks to the dedicated men and women who have made this progress possible. We have an abundance of food. A blessing the Pilgrims recognized and we've always enjoyed. We have a national day of Thanksgiving. Perhaps this is our most important blessing. It may well be that because we have set aside a day for "Giving Thanks" that the rest of our blessings have been given to us. And may all the personal blessings, that you and your family can count, add to the pleasure and happiness of your holiday.

Herb Adderly in New Hero In Packers' Great Cast

It's not Jim Taylor, Bart Starr or Paul Hornung who greens the hero tag today in Green Bay. A young defensive back named Herb Adderly has played Mr. Clutch for the second time this year to keep the Packers' championship hopes from slipping into their crucial Thanksgiving Day clash with the Detroit Lions.

Adderly broke the backs of the Packers' championship hopes Tuesday and shrugged off a close call with the "rookie" Green Bay, who were on a straight 1962 victory, and 18th in complete domination over the Michigan State grade, who chose the Packers' No. 1 draft choice two years ago, joined four other lights from Green Bay specialists, in other National Football League victories.

Yale, which had been undefeated, lost to Princeton 14-10. The Bulldogs' offense was stifled by the Tigers' defense, which held them to a field goal.
