North Enders Object To Extending Lines

About 20 North End residents agreed last night to ask for a meeting of the Eighth District to "see whether the voters would approve of legislative extension by the General Assembly of District boundaries."

They had gathered at the Eighth District Executive District House in response to a letter from Victor Swanson, a former chairman of the Manchester Improvement Association.

Although the association is now defunct, Swanson said, present unrest about Eighth District affairs suggested that some citizens' group was necessary.

Three issues cropped up repeatedly at last night's meeting. Those present were concerned about: 1. Reports that a bill was being prepared for the state legislature asking for an extension of district boundaries.

2. A plan which might extend Eighth District sewer mains to the present extent of the district beyond district boundaries.

3. The still unknown effects of the proposed urban renewal project in the North End.

Some present last night said they were under the impression that the district's extension was John Labelle, was preparing a bill that would extend the district boundaries to Bolton, with the system border running along R Middle Type.

Such an extension was considered by the district's committee at a meeting Nov. 19 as a means of relieving the district's development of Green Manor Park, and Bayer Construction Co. into the district.

Those who gathered last night objected to any extension of district boundaries because of the increased load on the taxpayers, and

South Windsor Guide Issued On Homework

Because many questions have arisen in regard to the homework program in the South Windsor school system, an administrative guide on homework has been compiled.

This guide, which is being distributed to all parents, explains the purpose of the homework program and outlines the guidelines for both teachers and parents.

The guide states that the purpose of homework is to reinforce the material learned in school and to develop the student's ability to learn independently.

It also outlines the guidelines for both teachers and parents, including the amount of homework to be assigned and the importance of communication between them.

Sheinwood on Bridge

By ALBERT HESKEL

A tramp in dummy may represent the best bet in the opening long suit even if you have no long suit of your own. This is the principle of the Sheinwood on Bridge.

The Sheinwood is a variation of the standard opening bid. It is used when the opener has a weak hand with a long suit and a short suit.

The bid is made in the opening position and is usually followed by a response from the partner.

The Sheinwood is a useful tool for the opener in many situations, especially when the hand is not strong enough to open with a standard bid.

United Fund People Set to Launch Drive

Most of the personnel have been appointed to the four divisions of the United Fund of Manchester Inc., scheduled to have its first fund drive fully under way Monday. The personnel solicitation drive will continue through Dec. 12 to raise $100,000 to benefit area pediatric organizations.

The four divisions are: 1. The Division of Child Welfare, headed by Mrs. Robert J. Boyce. 2. The Division of Social Services, headed by Mrs. Robert J. Boyce. 3. The Division of Health Services, headed by Mrs. Robert J. Boyce. 4. The Division of Community Services, headed by Mrs. Robert J. Boyce.

Wraps Taken Off CANEL P&WA Tells of Work On Space Generator

Pratt & Whitney Aircraft and the Atomic Energy Commission opened their 1,100-acre Connecticut Advanced Nuclear Engineering Laboratory at Middletown to the press for the first time yesterday.

The $64 million complex, called CANEL (Connecticut Atomic Nuclear Engineering Laboratory), has been kept under wraps since it was occupied in 1961.

The space generator will operate in much the same fashion as a steam engine, with heat from a nuclear reactor creating a vapor which drives a turbine.

The turbine provides the power to run a generator, whose output is then conditioned to whatever use the satellite components require.

Mariner 2 Probe to Study
Venus' Temperature Profile
By Dr. I. M. LEVITT
Director The Post-Post
Science Center
The Mariner 2 probe will pass within 20,000 miles of Venus in 1963. It will relay back to earth the surface temperature of Venus. It is a scientific milestone.

Standing 80 feet high, this new bulk load-out station at the Central Connecticut Cooperative Farmers Association Inc. plant at 10 Apel Pl. recently went into use.

COOFA SHOWS GAIN

The net purchases of poultry feed to members of the Central Connecticut Cooperative Farmers Association for the year ended Sept. 30, 1962, totaled almost $6,700,000.

He also announced that the COOFA had purchased, for $70,000, a one-story brick building on Milk St. in Willimantic where a new egg marketing service for members will open around the first of the year.

Net patrons savings for the year, for which dividend certificates are being issued, amounted to $63,220.

On Dec. 14, ton rates on grain being shipped from Ohio to Manchester, via the railroad, will drop from $11.50 per ton freight rate on delivery to $9.60.

Other members and guests at the dinner included: Sol Baron, president of the cooperative, of Ellington; Joseph G. Hite, state commissioner of agriculture; Manchester Mayor Francis Mahoney; Mayor John Wrasna of Willimantic; Frederick Naselli, president of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce; Robert Brock, executive vice president of the chamber; State's Atty. John D. LaBelle, counsel for the cooperative; Police Chief James M. Reardon; and Francis Limerick, fire chief of Manchester's Eighth District.

Miller and Ginter were in charge of arrangements for the annual dinner-meeting.

'Day in Court'

Judges Have Ideas
On the Younger Set

Edgar Allan Jones Jr. and William Gwinn, judges on ABC-TV's "Day in Court," have some very definite thoughts on the younger set.

When not teaching or practicing law, or appearing before the TV cameras, Jones, who is a professor of law at UCLA, spends his time with his wife and 10 children at their home in Santa Monica, Calif. "Family standards of self-reliance, mutual respect and love are bulwarks against juvenile delinquency," according to Edgar Allan Jones whose children's ages range from 10 months to 15 1/2 years old.

One method used by the Joneses to teach the youngsters self-reliance and logical thinking is dinner-time conversations.

"We propose a problem and the children try to solve it," Jones explains. "We find that they come up with pretty good solutions through commonsense."

Respect for authority also is taught within the Jones family.

"We use a 'sir and M'am' system in our family," Jones says. "The kids sir and m'am us and we sir and M'am them. Of course, they still call us mom and dad but, in response to a request, I expect them to say, 'Yes, sir.'"

The youngsters are required to knock on a door before coming in, not to break into conversations, and to show respect for their elders. "Some people may call it old-fashioned," says Jones, "but we think it's just plain old common sense."

"It is my feeling," he says, "that juvenile delinquency at its base is a problem of unrequited love. With ten children, we ran into the problem of giving each enough tender loving care."

One Jones solution is an arrangement whereby the kids take turns staying up for an extra hour at night. "We try to gear activity during the hour to the needs of the child. It's just a simple way by which parents can put the focus on one child."

There is also a definite program under way in the Jones headquarters to train the youngsters to use their powers of observation.

"We hold weekly panel discussions at home," Jones says, "and I serve as the moderator."

"The plan works this way: The children pick their own subjects for discussion and come to the weekly sessions prepared to voice their opinions, which they document from their reading of the daily newspaper. Because it would not be fair to have the younger children participating in the same sessions with the older ones, the younger group tackle the nursery problems.

"It is really amazing...the things the children come up with," Jones notes.

The ABC-TV magistrate contends that his desire for a large family probably stems from the fact that he was an only child himself.

"Helen and I are very happy with our big family, although some of our friends think we have more of a household than any two parents can manage."

At any rate, the Edgar Allan Joneses may well be America's first family to offer an all-brother-and-sister, trained-from-the-cradle jury. If so, the box will be packed with responsible jurymen.

William Gwinn, who holds B.A. and M.A. degrees and a teacher's credential—all from Stanford University where he majored in speech and drama, developed some pretty strong ideas about teenagers after hearing domestic relations and juvenile court cases on the TV bench.

"The juvenile cases on 'Day in Court', and all the others on the program, are taken from actual court records. A man just can't hear these cases without having definite views on the subject. And as the father of two teen-age boys, the subject becomes even more important to me," says Gwinn.

"A car should be given to a

William Gwinn and Edgar Allan Jones

teen-ager as a reward for good family AND community citizenship; no sooner and for no other reason. I believe there is a definite parallel between school grades and car ownership and parents should not unthinkingly gift their children with cars or the keys to their cars until their school grades are commensurate with their ability. It's only good sense. If a student is making C grades because he has a car—and that certainly would be a contributing factor—the keys should be taken away from him," Gwinn continued on.

"On the other hand, when a youngster demonstrates a definite proclivity to good grades and citizenship, I feel that the department of motor vehicles as well as parents should have a voice in the decision of whether or not a youngster should be permitted to drive and at what age. My oldest son was given a car of his own when he was 17 1/2. By that time he had proved to me that he was a considerate and responsible citizen. And if I lose that confidence in him, at any time, he loses that car.

"My experience in distributing TV justice in juvenile court has certainly made all of the Gwinn's more aware of safe driving

Savings of $92.19 a year and more!

The major cost of home heating, of course, is the cost of the fuel or energy used, and here in Connecticut fuel oil is far cheaper than any of the other automatic fuels. A recent survey by a responsible national magazine indicated that the homeowner will pay up to 10% of his take home pay for maintenance, and heating costs. With the cost of living continually going up, it becomes more important now than ever to control major home operating costs. Savings, on fuel alone, in the Hartford area amount to almost $100 a year using Timken Silent Automatic Oil Heat. Important money that can well be diverted to other purposes by the wise home owner.

Hollywood on TV

By ESKINE JOHNSON
Hollywood Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—In story (the Owen Wister classic) and in movies (five including one which brought stardom to Gary Cooper) and in song, ever since 1902, "The Virginian" was a strong silent man of the West. But in James Drury, the Virginian of the electronic age, television turned up the Sphinx of them all. Author Wister's story made famous the line, "When you say that pardner, smile."

Even when you smile, pardner, James Drury won't talk. What he refuses to talk about is the business of no one, as Drury figures, but the new television series put him in the spotlight as fair game for nosy fan magazine editors. It's the code of eastern editors that no western actor can shroud a marriage in mystery. According to those who snoop and tell in the Hollywood jungle, James Drury has a wife named Cristall Orton, one-time actress and mother of his two sons from whom he's separated. Jim's mother denies any separation.

What James Drury says is absolutely nothing except "nope." He won't tell anybody anything. Since I've never worried about notices on my desk, I'll leave his marital status out of this and reveal that the problems of straightening out the television show is more important to all concerned. When "The Virginian" was announced, NBC made a big thing about the show's regular cast headed by Drury, a sort of short Clint Walker even at 6-foot-1. The first 13 shows, however, are so dominated by guest stars and "special" guest stars that the regular cast has been brooding.

So has the sponsor who flashed all sorts of red lights. Now the review series has a new producer, Roy Huggins who guided the early "Maverick" films. There will be guest stars in future shows, but not to the exclusion of Drury & Co.

How television can take "The Virginian" and wind up in trouble is a mystery. The novel was a hit and so were all the film versions. The first, in 1914, made Dustin Farnum a star and established Cecil B. DeMille as a director. William S. Hart and Kenneth Harlan then played the role in two silent remakes followed by the 1928 "talkie" starring Cooper. In 1946, Joel McCrea starred in a wide-screen version. A New Yorker, James D'AMICO studied acting there, and came to Hollywood in 1954. Thirteen bit roles later he was working as an auto mechanic waiting for a good role to appear.

TV Notebook

By DICK KLEINER
NEA

There are advantages to being overweight. Consider Honey Sanders, who has made a good career despite being a heavy woman. "I don't mind being fat," she says. "And I keep asking my husband and my children if they mind, and they say no. I guess if I was offered a part on the condition that I lose 50 pounds, I would, but otherwise no."

Honey Sanders

"Actually, it's an advantage. I'm a character woman now. When I go to auditions, there isn't as much competition as there is in the other categories."

And so she makes a good living (which she hardly needs, since she comes from a wealthy family) on television and on the Broadway and summer stage. You've seen her often on The Edge of Night, Armstrong Circle Theater and many other shows. Her only regret is that she is primarily a singer, but they seldom give heavy women good songs, only comedy songs. "The only chance I have to sing straight," she says, "is at home."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Kennedy gets reports two Taft-Hartley law boards he named strikes by East Coast employes and Lockheed workers.

In another development to a major, labor chiefs of the five operations on the nation's gathered here for a meeting to determine their next fighting worker layoff by the carriers.

Of the three disputes strike by the 60,000 appears to be the most serious. The workers ended strike after the admiral Oct. 8 obtained an 800-ton ship under the Taft-Hartley provisions.

The emergency board this case is expected to recommend the White House that is a tight deadlock.

But the clerk started their scam and had headlines on us."

Pravda Reacts; Hits Free Trend in Arts

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda, the Communist party paper, pressed a broad-scale attack today on liberal tendencies in literature, art and music.

The party organ echoed Premier Khrushchev's criticism last week of abstract art and included music and literature.

"The pseudo innovators in painting and music, under the pretext of artistic search and allegedly faring avant-gardism, deviated from the traditions of realistic art and betray these traditions," the paper said.

"The pseudo innovators unthinkingly run after Western fashion, engage in pitiable imitation of the corrupt formalist art of the bourgeois world which in its nature is deeply alien to the world outlook of Soviet man."

The paper restated the policy on art and literature that has prevailed in Russia for most of the Soviet period.

"The cohesion of all talented active forces of literature and art on the basis of the principles of Socialist realism, on the great ideas of communism, is the first task of creative unions," it said.

Pravda called on the youth leagues, the people, the party, the press, radio and television to support that policy.

President Awaiting Labor Strife Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy gets reports today from two Taft-Hartley labor emergency boards he named in stopping strikes by East Coast dock employees and Lockheed aerospace workers.

In another development related to a major labor controversy, the nation's railroads gathered here for a huddle to determine their next legal step in fighting worker layoffs threatened by the carriers.

Of the three disputes a renewed strike by the 60,000 dock workers appears to be the most imminent. The workers ended a 10-day strike over the administration on Oct. 6 obtained an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley emergency provisions.

The emergency board studying this case is expected to report to the White House that there still is a tight deadlock between the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association and ship-owners and stevedore firms.

The next step will be a vote on the employers' last settlement offer, rejected by the union. A worker turnaround of the offer, which officials say they expect, will mean a real threat of a pier strike on Atlantic and Gulf coasts on Dec. 23 when the 60-day injunction runs out.

The Lockheed labor dispute is in an earlier stage of development. Kennedy invoked the Taft-Hartley provisions in this case last Wednesday after a walkout that had started earlier that day. On Thursday, the striking Inter-

Russian JD's Having a Ball On the Kolkhoz

By GEORGE SYVETSEN
MOSCOW (AP)—Life down on the collective farms has been the same since Soviet courts started sentencing juvenile delinquents out of the big cities to work with the peasants.

Exasperated kolkhozniks—collective farmers—are telling authorities to quit sending problems—they have enough of their own.

The country folk's case against the government's program for "re-educating" young delinquents who won't work was presented in Kiev newspaper Pravda of Ukraine.

"This is re-educating" the newspaper demanded in an article exposing the hijinks of the Soviet detand kids among their country cousins.

Valentin Donakoy, chairman of the Makostoy state farm near Donetsk, said he and his farmers got a shipment of Western jeans.

"The worst of it is the drunkenness," he told an interviewer, "especially on paydays—then they drink for three or four days. They don't go out to work until they drink up everything."

Donakoy and his assistants decided to quit selling vodka at the state farm store. That same evening, all the special settlers were drunk as usual.

"It turned out the special settlers had hung one on with cheap eau de cologne," he explained. "The storekeeper couldn't keep up with the demand. He fulfilled his plan for the sale of eau de cologne for the next 10 years."

Another state farm leader ruefully said: "The village people are saying: 'If the city folks don't know how to bring them up, then what are we supposed to do?'"

A district quiet village district. But the cities started cleaning out their scum and dumping all the hoodlums on us.

France Shuns U.S. Plan for Bloc N-Force

PARIS (AP)—French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, whose government wants to make France an independent nuclear power, poured cold water today on the idea of an integrated European nuclear force.

Couve de Murville, addressed legislators in a running debate of the Western European Union, convened to discuss European defense and the possibility of such an integrated nuclear force under command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The United States, which is opposed to such national nuclear arms development programs as France is undertaking, has suggested that a European force integrated with NATO be formed as an alternative.

The WEU assembly in made up of representatives of parliament from France, West Germany, Britain, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The assembly's defense committee has prepared a report urging creation of a NATO nuclear force which, in the words of President Kennedy at Ottawa in 1961, would be "multilateral in ownership and control."

With an eye on existing British and French nuclear armament, it is suggesting that a NATO force should include all Western European nuclear forces and "a sub-

Pilot Wrote About Peril At Idlewild

WASHINGTON (AP)—A magazine article by a pilot killed in the airliner crash Friday at New York's Idlewild Airport deplores what he called the narrow safety margin for landings there.

Eastern Air Lines Capt. Edward J. Bechtold, referred particularly to runway 4, the runway which he missed when he crashed in it.

Killed with Bechtold in that crash were 24 other persons among the 51 aboard the DC7B.

Bechtold's article, written several weeks ago for Aviation magazine, will not appear until the January issue, out Dec. 26.

Bechtold urged that the Federal Aviation Agency install the new Instrument Landing System scheduled for Idlewild on the southeast runway, No. 12, instead of northwest No. 31, as planned.

"From the pilot viewpoint an ILS on the SE runway is almost mandatory to beat the law of averages," Bechtold wrote.

"No crystal ball is needed for this."

Leaders Smooth Way For Talk on Kashmir

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today there will be no restrictions or preconditions in the forthcoming talks between India and Pakistan on Kashmir.

Answering questions in Parliament, Nehru denied there was any contradiction between his Nov. 30 statement on the subject and his clarification Dec. 1 after seeing British Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys.

The prime minister said both the Indian and Pakistani representatives will have complete freedom to express their opinions.

—President Mohammed Ayub Khan's government is requesting India to set a date for talks on Kashmir by Dec. 9 at the latest, Pakistani papers said today.

In London, Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys said on his return from India and Pakistan today he is confident there is nothing to rumors that Pakistan is about to sign a nonaggression pact with China, and, although that rumor has not been denied, he is absolutely confident there is nothing in it.

"I feel that this rumor of a nonaggression pact between Pakistan and China has been very unfortunate," Sandys, who had talks with government leaders in both India and Pakistan, said he tried to help them toward discussion of the difficulties between them.

"I think the opportunity for a settlement of this very difficult dispute about Kashmir is better than it ever has been," he said.

"It has been improved because of the external danger. It makes nonsense of defense against China to wasting one's forces guarding against one's near neighbors." Sandys said it was not for him to say if India would accept the Communist Chinese terms for a cease-fire in their border dispute.

"I don't think they have, in fact accepted the terms as yet. At the moment the Indian government is trying to get some clarification of what the Chinese proposal really means."

He said the Indian people are more wholly united today than ever before.

"After the Chinese attack upon them, they are unanimously determined never again to rely for their safety and freedom on good faith in China. With the help

Peking Jeers As Tito, Nikita Schedule Talk

MOSCOW (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia, a Communist with strong nationalist overtones, headed today for Moscow talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev accompanied by the tumbas and jibes of the Peking radio.

The Tito party, including his wife Jovanka, left Budapest by special train at midnight after a brief but ceremonious stay in the Hungarian capital.

Tito's trip was billed as a vacation. It was not known if he would visit other cities before setting down with Kremlin leaders for a discussion that is sure to include the rift in Moscow-Peking relations and its meaning for world Communist unity.

As Tito's expedition got under way, the Peking radio blasted the "Tito group" and "its notorious supra-bloc policy" as "traitors of the proletarian revolution and dogs of U.S. imperialism."

Tito and Khrushchev last met in New York in 1960 at meetings of the U.N. General Assembly. The two leaders last met in the Soviet Union in 1958, in an upward climb in relations between the two countries since the sharp break during the Stalin era.

Tito probably will discuss economic problems with his Soviet hosts. Yugoslavia has been undergoing a difficult period, with food shortages as one problem. The United States agreed last week to help providing 1.2 million tons of wheat.

Thant Challenges West

BALTIMORE (AP)—U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations says Western leaders have not responded to a change in the political climate of the Soviet Union.

"Western leaders saw the world as a battlefield between two antagonistic systems, militantly expressing the principles of good and evil," Thant said Sunday.

Thant, in his first speech since being elected permanent secretary-general, spoke to 1,000 persons at Johns Hopkins University.

Thant said Soviet policy has become much more flexible since Stalin's death, but the Western nations, at least in part, have refused to recognize this change.

State News Roundup

A tenement house fire in Ansonia and two traffic accidents claimed four lives in Connecticut over the weekend.

The victims of the fire Sunday morning were Arthur Ehemann, 60, of Derby and Mrs. Ida Thomas, 58, who police said shared an apartment in the building at 54 Tremont St.

Twenty-three survivors were left homeless by the blaze. Fire Marshal Herbert A. Smith said the fire was apparently touched off by a defective oil burner in a kitchen range.

The old stucco structure was soon to be torn down to make way for a redevelopment project.

Killed Sunday night in North Haven was 27-year-old George F. Moran, of North Haven, whose car failed to negotiate a curve on Maple Ave. and struck a tree. His wife, Janet, 23, was hospitalized in serious condition.

An Ellington girl, 16-year-old Vera Lee, was fatally injured Saturday night in a smash-up on Rt. 83 in Ellington.

Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by James Lakso of Rockville, which collided with another car driven by 16-year-old Dale Sherman, also of Rockville.

White House News Control Said Ranging from N-Tests to Ballet

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first of a series of three analyses on government information policies.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The shades are down, and have been for quite a while, on information the government is willing to make public. At this time they're not all the way down. They go down sharply in times of overseas crisis.

They did in both world wars, in the Korean War, when the American U2 plane was shot down over the Soviet Union in 1960, at the time of the disastrous Cuban invasion of 1961, and more recently in the Cuban tension of 1962.

The Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have all been involved—when there was crisis and when there wasn't any.

President Kennedy's administration got sharp news media criticism during the October-November Cuban affair. It began easing up on those particular restrictions when the heat died down.

Then late last week Rep. John E. Moss of California, a member of Kennedy's own Democratic party and chairman of the House subcommittee on information, hit at the President and his advisers for management of the news.

He cited examples of news re-

Smithwick Faces Tests

HARTFORD (AP)—A factory watchman portrayed by fire officials as an arsonist, with a conclusion, faces psychiatric tests to see if he is able to stand trial.

He is Francis Smithwick, a 28-year-old bachelor who, until his arrest last Wednesday, lived with his parents in a three-story brick building at the AMCO Manufacturing Co. in East Windsor.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Carroll Shaw says Smithwick has admitted setting more than 30 fires, including the $1 million blaze that destroyed Scots Department Store in East Windsor on Thanksgiving Day.

Smithwick was arrested in connection with a minor fire at AMCO last Monday night which he admitted he had set, Shaw said.

During the interrogation, Smithwick began to admit to other fires, Shaw said, including the blaze at the Rockville Professional Building in March 1960 that did $200,000 damage.

How ever, Smithwick steadfastly maintained he was careful not to endanger any lives, according to the marshal's office.

Smithwick's bond was raised from $5,000 to $25,000 after he was rearrested Saturday and charged with touching off a fire Nov. 25 at a building in East Windsor previously occupied by Balch's Appliance and Hardware Store.

Other counts of arson will be lodged against Smithwick as the investigation of his activities continues, Shaw indicated.

The psychiatric tests were ordered by State's Attorney John D. LaBelle.

TROOPS RING QUARTERS ALGERIES (AP)—About 200 soldiers, backed by armored cars, surrounded government headquarters for several hours today, but there was no other sign of any crisis. By mid-afternoon the number of troops had been somewhat reduced. The city was calm.

BOMBERS LEAVING WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians have begun taking their ILS bombers out of Cuba, the Defense Department announced today. Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester announced that the first of a reported 20 or more Soviet jet bombers are in the process of being withdrawn. Photographs taken by U.S. patrol planes indicate that the Russian ship Okhotsk was moving off the northern coast of Cuba on Saturday with three bomber fuselages visible on its deck. Sylvester told a news conference.

U.S. DENIES CLAIM RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—A member of Parliament charged today the United States has built secret missile and rocket bases in northern Pakistan near the Khyber Pass. "We don't know what is going on there because even the highest of our services officers are not permitted to enter," declared Malik Wali Khan, a tribal representative. A U.S. spokesman denied the claim as absolutely without foundation.

COURT ACCEPTS CASE WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to rule on whether Henry Winston, former organizational secretary for the Communist party, may sue the government for $1 million damage. Winston contended he suffered total blindness because of delay and negligence in the diagnosis and removal of a brain tumor while he was a prisoner in the Federal penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind.
