Kennedy Telecast To Scan Two Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy reviews his first two years in the White House tonight in an unusual hour-long television interview. The program, called "After Two Years—A Conversation with the President," will be carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System and American Broadcasting Co. television networks at 8:30 p.m. EST and the National Broadcasting Co. television network at 9:30 p.m. Kennedy returned to the White House Saturday from an overnight stay in New York. After attending church Sunday morning, he sat down with television newsmen E. Lawrence of ABC and George Herman of CBS to tape the interview. It began an active week for Kennedy. He meets with the National Security Council executive committee today and also hears a report from Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's ministerial council in Paris.

Rusk, who returned Sunday night, is expected to tell Kennedy the United States has a major task on its hands to persuade its NATO allies to contribute more conventional forces to the defense of Europe. Kennedy met with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Sunday to discuss both the NATO matter, which McNamara attended, and the secretary's talks in London on the controversial Skybolt missile situation. Also present were Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell Gilpatric and McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's top adviser on national security affairs. The Skybolt problem is certain to spill over into the talks between Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Nassau in the Bahamas Wednesday and Thursday. (Continued on Page Twelve)

State News Roundup

Two Hold Up Bank Flee with $10,000

BRISTOL (AP)—Two men held up a branch of the Bristol Savings Bank and fled with about $10,000 in cash. The holdup occurred at the Bristol Shopping Plaza on Route 6 about 10 a.m. State police reported that both of the bandits were white. The bandits fled the holdup scene in a blue station wagon. Road blocks were set up in the police effort to apprehend the pair. One of the bandits was described as armed. No one was reported injured in the holdup. The bandits were in the bank for about ten minutes. They handed a teller a shopping bag and ordered her to fill it with money. There were seven employees and four customers in the bank at the time. Witnesses said the two bandits, both described as between 24 and 26 years old, lounged in the lobby for about 10 minutes before they staged the holdup. Then one of the bandits went to a teller's window, while the other remained near the entrance. Police converged on the scene after someone set off an automatic alarm system in the bank. The bank is the Farmington Avenue branch of the Bristol Savings Bank. Police would not disclose immediately the identities of the teller held up or of some of the witnesses.

Supreme Court Refuses Case On Blue Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—Over a sharp dissent from Justice Douglas, the Supreme Court dismissed today a challenge of the constitutionality of Kentucky's Sunday closing law. But in another case touching on the religion vs. state powers issue, the high court agreed to rule on the question of whether the rights of a member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church were violated when she was denied unemployment compensation after refusing to work on Saturdays. This case comes from South Carolina. And, in an action of major importance in an era when many manufacturing plants are moved because of tax inducements or other reasons, the high court declined to review and thus let stand a lower court ruling that employees have no vested right to jobs when a plant is moved from one state to another. The actions were the highlights of the Supreme Court's last opinion day before a Christmas-New Year's recess. It will next hand down opinions on Jan. 7. Kentucky's blue law differs from the no-work-on-Sunday laws in other states in that it contains a clause reading as follows: "Persons who are members of a religious society which observes as a Sabbath any other day in each week than Sunday shall be liable (to a penalty) if they observe as a Sabbath one day in each seven." The law does not mention by name any particular religious group. The Supreme Court majority, presumably in an 8-1 division, dismissed the case in the law with a simple order saying "no substantial federal question was presented." But Justice Douglas filed a dissent saying the case is the law about observing a Sabbath other than Sunday plainly made it "an aid to all organized religions."

Skybolt to Dominate Bahamas Conference

That Old Familiar Feeling President Kennedy, who has something of a reputation as a football player, takes a passing grip on a gift football given him today at the White House during a visit of Penn State team. Macmillan Feels Sure Of Accord LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan left today for talks in the Bahamas with President Kennedy, expressing confidence that "we will find a way through our difficulties" over the Skybolt missile. "At this moment after Cuba," Macmillan told newsmen, "we have to try to make a reassessment of the position between East and West. Can the position be turned to our advantage? Is there a chance of getting ahead with some of these questions—nuclear tests, disarmament and other matters?" "As for Skybolt," his prepared statement said, "I have no doubt we shall find a way through our difficulties." Macmillan said that in spite of difficulties, he and Kennedy intend to meet "in the spirit of our last meeting." Skybolt has loomed as a major issue between the two allies because Kennedy's government may cancel the missile. The British count on to keep them a nuclear power. "Of the situation between East and West, Macmillan said: "If there is to be a period of pause, or a thaw, we must not misuse it." He said the troubles in Asia, particularly between Red China and India, have raised a whole new set of problems. "Our chief purpose is to talk over what has happened since our last meeting," Macmillan said. Fresh from a Paris conference with French President Charles de Gaulle at which "close agreement" on defense views was announced, Macmillan is to meet with U.S. officials who plainly favor the development of national nuclear deterrents. While Britain and France have pressed forward with their nuclear programs, the United States has urged a multi-nation type force under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and a buildup in the non-nuclear side of the European military forces. The controversy over the U.S.-developed Skybolt missile, which looms as the major subject of the Bahamas talks, may bring this debate to a peak. The United States says it may scrap the air-launched missile because of its high cost.

'Look' Claims Deal Made on Ole Miss

NEW YORK (AP)—Mississippi's Gov. Ross Barnett—despite public vows—has made a secret deal with U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to enroll Negro's James H. Meredith at the University of Mississippi, an article in the current issue of Look magazine says. The article says Barnett conferred by telephone with Kennedy through the four days preceding the Sept. 30 riot at the university and proposed a plan that would allow Meredith to enter Ole Miss. Reached by telephone for comment on the article, Barnett said: "I haven't seen it. I don't know anything about it, and I have no comment." The article said the primary aim of the governor's tactics was "to allow Barnett to be over-whelmed by the federalists' crying 'never' for the segregationists' benefit." Look reported: The plan called for Barnett and U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to stand at the university's gates, backed up by unarmored state patrolmen. Kennedy was to have Chief U.S. Marshal James McShane and 25 to 30 marshals bring Meredith to the gate. "Barnett would refuse to let Meredith in. At this point, McShane would draw his gun, and the other marshals would slap their hands on their holsters. Barnett would look to the big crowd. If only one man drew his gun, Barnett felt that he could not back down. So Kennedy reluctantly agreed to have all the marshals draw their guns. Under federal guns, Ross Barnett could surrender to prevent bloodshed." The article said that on Sept. 30, while Meredith was en route by plane to Memphis, from where he would be escorted to the Oxford, Miss., campus, Barnett telephoned the attorney general and suggested a new plan. The next morning, according to the plan, Barnett "would walk at the university gate backed by a

Nervous Bandit Flier

HARTFORD (AP)—The nervous bandit of Route 15, who got away with $100 in two holdups early Saturday, drew a blank when he tried again today. Roy Franzoso, 24, Nickel St., Madison, Maine, had stopped his tractor-trailer, with the motor idling, on the shoulder of the westbound lanes near the Simmons Rd. overpass, East Hartford. It was about 4:35 a.m. Suddenly the bandit appeared and began banging against the glass in the window of the passenger side of the truck with the butt of a revolver. The glass cracked but failed to break. The bandit seized the butt with both hands and with hands and body shaking, pointed the weapon at the truck driver. Franzoso slipped the truck into gear and sped away, leaving the bandit standing beside the highway still pointing the gun in his direction. The truck driver stopped at the Charter Oak Bridge, and called East Hartford Police, who in turn notified the Hartford State Police station. Trooper Clifford O. Herrick was at the scene within minutes but the bandit had fled. Footprints indicated the bandit had gone into the woods and then returned to the highway. The truck driver said the bandit was about five feet six inches, weighing from 140 to 145 pounds, wearing a hooded grey sweat shirt. A man fitting this same description

Explorer XVI Put into Orbit; Relay Crippled

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new U.S. satellite whirled in orbit a few hundred miles above the earth today while Explorer 16—still flashing signals—marks millions of miles from earth toward eternal orbit around the sun. But a third satellite, Relay, which was to take the place of the now silent Telstar, wasn't performing properly. The new satellite, dubbed Explorer XVI, sped aloft Sunday from the Wallops Island, Va., test station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Space agency officials said it reached orbit at 10:30 a.m. Sunday. The satellite was launched by a Thor-Delta rocket. Relay, which was to be launched by a Thor-Delta rocket, was launched Sunday at 10:30 a.m. but failed to reach orbit. Space agency officials said it reached orbit at 10:30 a.m. Sunday. Rusk Says NATO Needs Persuasion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk reports to President Kennedy today that America's Atlantic allies need more time, patience and persuasion to comply with the U.S. request that they contribute more to Europe's defense. This was the impression Rusk apparently brought Sunday night from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Paris meeting where U.S. proposals were reportedly greeted with something less than warmth. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara arrived back in the capital earlier Sunday and submitted his report to the President. The U.S. delegation, headed by Rusk, McNamara, and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, went to Paris determined to persuade the 16-nation defense organization that it must make greater commitments on NATO's "total effort" front. The U.S. argument got a chilly reception, reports from Paris indicated. Although the communists expressed agreement that it was necessary "to increase the effectiveness of conventional forces," it also instructed NATO's permanent council "to review proposals in order to secure a closer alignment between NATO military requirements and national force plans." This wording, sources explained, was a compromise. While the communists paid lip service to the U.S. request by accepting the necessity to increase conventional forces, it also adopted the opposing position championed by Peter Thorneycroft, Britain's defense secretary, who was reported as having told the conference that NATO has to live with what the member countries can place at its disposal. Rusk talking briefly to reporters on his arrival in Washington, said U.S. thinking remained unchanged and that the manpower "target is still 30 divisions." (Continued on Page Nineteen)

Trial of Reds Expected to Go To Jury Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The trial of the American Communist party is expected to go to the jury today. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff said the case probably would go to the jury after the closing statements by attorneys. The party is charged with failing to register with the Justice Department as an agent of the Soviet Union. Both the Justice Department and attorneys for the party acknowledge the facts of the case developed in brief testimony last week in U.S. District Court. The jury will decide what the facts mean—whether the party actually fulfilled the requirements of the law. Before recessing last Thursday, Holtzoff denied a motion by defense attorneys to dismiss the charges. (Continued on Page Nine)

"THE WAY I HEARD IT"

by John Gruber

We had a good sized orchestra when we played the other night and we had a good sized audience, too. But there are vacancies in both. I must admit there were far more vacancies in the hall than there are in the orchestra. Further, I expect it would be easier to fill the orchestra completely than to fill the hall to capacity. Of course you know that space-man John Glenn played a far-out trumpet in New Concord, Ohio; that fact has been well publicized. Likewise, Pierre Salinger has been well publicized for his piano playing proclivities. Did you know, however, that Earl Warren is a clarinetist? Well, it's a fact. Lewisohn Thompson, our U.S.S.R. ambassador, plays violin, too. There are numbers of others on the political scene who are amateur musicians. Walter Ford, congressman from Missouri, is a pianist. One that I know of, Farley Bryant, governor of Florida, is an organ player. Maybe you think Archie Moore is, too; he plays trumpet. I recall that one of the members of the Harten (Gibbe) family (Harten Gibbe) claims or rather has been handling the ball. Ed Rudolph, speed-reading champion of the United States, is more at home in a dance band than he is in an orchestra. Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Eddie Matthews of the Milwaukee Braves play guitar. With Smith carries a console piano in his miniature bus as he makes the rounds of the woman's professional golf tour in Africa. But he is an interesting player. Mrs. Jackie Jensen, who was an Olympic diver, claims she learned to control her breathing by playing piano. Paraglean (Northwestern coach) and Joe Lapchick (St. John's basketball coach) play piano. While Oklahoma's football coach, Bud Wilkinson, plays the organ. Maybe I'd better provide.

I think I've given enough examples to prove my point that music is an acceptable activity for the top people in all lines of endeavor. For heaven's sake get the picture.

'Messiah' Gets Usual Good Performance

The tenth annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" offered a slight change from the usual manner in which it has been presented in the past. Donald Richter acted as narrator of the entire score of the recitative passages with which the work abounds, passages normally delivered in a semi-choral fashion.

Another difference was the lack of string accompaniment to which we have become accustomed in that past year. The small attendance failed to cover expenses, so the orchestra was omitted. This time, all accompaniments being played by William K. Gable at the organ console.

Some things remained unchanged, of course. As usual, A. Albert Pearson was the director, and the presentation was offered in the high school auditorium. Most of the choruses were the same as those selected in the past, and Roger Loucks heard here an occasional, was featured as soloist.

The other soloists were new to the choir and included Neilsen Lyman, soprano, Jocelyn Jarrett, contralto, and Warren Tapkin, tenor. I particularly enjoyed Jarrett's singing of "Come unto Him," which she sang with a group of soloists who have acquired a fine understanding of the real thing, no matter how often you have spent for your equipment. She sang with a confidence and assurance that is not often heard in amateur presentations of this type.

Incidentally she was not alone, for she was accompanied by the other soloists, who were also of the real thing, no matter how often you have spent for your equipment. She sang with a confidence and assurance that is not often heard in amateur presentations of this type.

Richard Gustafson

Center Congregational Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Joanne Gustafson to Clyde C. Richard Jr., both of Manchester, Saturday afternoon.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Gustafson, 47 Princeton St., the phalanx of state troopers, who would be backed by sheriffs, who would be backed by citizens and students.

"Meredit should arrive with a large army force," the article went on. "The governor would read a proclamation barring him from Ole Miss. Then, Kennedy's men should draw their guns. Barnett would, he said, step aside."

The attorney general was accused, said the article, and warned that "unless Barnett co-operated and helped maintain law and order while Meredit went on campus, the President would go on television and tell the country that Barnett had broken his word. To prove it, the President would tell all about the behind-scenes dickering."

The article continued: "This had a devastating effect. The governor's residence seemed to melt away. Again and again, Barnett asked that the President say nothing on television that would reveal the nature of the secret police calls."

Meanwhile, "a group of Mississippi leaders had been secretly planning to form a wall of armed bodies that would not yield until knocked down and trampled by federal troops," the article said, adding:

"Many were segregationists prepared to go to jail. Many were ready to fight with fists, rocks and clubs. Some refused to stand until shot down. Others planned to defy orders of their leaders and conceal pistols on their persons."

Look credits Thomas Watkins, 33, Mississippi corporation lawyer, with helping to avert a "massacre" at the university.

"Watkins successfully pleaded with Barnett for restraint while some other advisers were urging the governor to encourage resistance against federal forces as the state began at Oxford," the magazine said.

Teens Integrated

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Three Negroes are members of the basketball team at the predominantly white Atlanta high school and will be eligible for varsity competition next season.

The integration of athletic programs at Grady and Brown high schools occurred quietly and with little reaction from team members and students.

Only one school has objected to the Negro boys, school officials said. Decatur High canceled a game with Grady.

Atlanta city schools began integrating classrooms last year. No other public grade schools in Georgia have lowered racial bars.

Police Receive 2 Theft Complaints

A red and black Packard valued at $19, and four hubcaps valued at $40, were reported stolen in separate theft complaints received by police.

Bill Allen of 60 Oxford St. told police that his jacket was taken sometime Saturday afternoon from the Town Center on School St. Jack Warnock of 1087 Main St. reported the theft of hubcaps from his car, which had been parked in the First National Stores parking lot off Main St. between 5 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. yesterday. Police are investigating both cases.

Claims Mistreatment

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — James H. Meredith is based on the University of Mississippi campus today for the final two days of classes before Christmas holidays after his arrest at his home town as a traffic charge.

Meredit, 29, the Negro who broke racial bars at the university, said police officers 100 miles south of here—mistreated him.

J. H. Harvey, police chief of the town where Meredith was born, denied the charge.

Two Kosciusko police officers arrested Meredith on Saturday night and charged him with failing to yield at an intersection. Meredith was alone at the time.

When Meredith returned to the university campus, he said he had been detained by police at Kosciusko for nearly an hour. "You might say that I was mistreated by police officers," he said.

An orbit varying from 60 to 73 miles above earth and its "telemetry and experiments appear to be operating satisfactorily."

Main mission of Explorer XVI is to find out more about what meteoroids—tiny bits of solid matter that whiz through space—do to space vehicles and solar cells.

Mariner 2, which took a 42-minute electronic look at Venus Friday, was still faithfully reporting Sunday as it headed into orbit around the sun. The U.S. space craft journeyed 109 days through space to their contact with Venus.

Mariner 3 passed within 21,300 miles of Venus Friday. It was 250,000 miles beyond Earth's 37 million miles from earth Sunday.

Attempts to get the partially equipped Explorer XVI to report Saturday failed and officials said further efforts would be postponed indefinitely.

Relay has enough power to operate its telemetry equipment, but not enough for its main function—receiving and transmitting communications. Scientists expect Explorer XVI's solar cells eventually will build up enough power to enable it to operate as planned.

The meteoroids which Explorer XVI was sent to examine are the remnants of exploded planets which revolve around the sun.

These minute bits of space material can hit a satellite with velocities of 7 to 10 miles per second.

The satellite, measuring 24 inches in diameter and 74 inches in length, is built around the motor housing of the fourth stage of the Scout rocket that carried it aloft.

Skating Report

Good ice skating weather on the weekend found more than 1,000 skaters and spectators at Center Springs Annex and Charter Oak Park each day.

Rockville/Vernon 2 Uninjured As Car Flips

Only minor scratches and bruises were reported to police Sunday by two men after a car in which they were riding, ran up an embankment off Rt. 30, west of Vernon Center Heights, tumbled back and came to rest in its roof in the roadway.

Driver was Paul L. Nagy, 21, of 37 South St., who was accompanied by Gerald L. Flückiger, 25, of Cedar Swamp Rd., Toland.

Police said the car was extensively damaged and the driver was still being investigated.

A charge of failure to drive in the proper lane was lodged against Alan B. Menzel, 18, of Center Springs Park from 6:30 until 8 p.m.

When skating at any park department maintained area is permitted a red flag will be shown.

Rockville/Vernon Town Serviceman Completes School

A Rockville Marine has completed training in a service school, the corps announced today, and a Navyman from Rockville has been promoted.

Marine Pfc. Richard H. Burnett, 21, of 115 Hill Rd., graduated from the 10-day Army School at Fort Belvoir, Ill., and was promoted to sergeant.

Laughton Dies, Cancer Victim

American citizen with him in 1960, took the death very hard.

Laughton's brother said "She has been with him every day and it all for almost a year."

High spots of a career that Laughton had lived as a character actor for 30 years.

New Ideas Replace Old In Treating Mental Ills

Americans are mentally ill in mild to severe degree.

One survey indicates four out of five city dwellers have some symptoms of emotional disturbance.

These are a few of the elements of a hearing change of attitude regarding mental illness.

The change is sweeping through state mental hospitals.

Psychiatrists are marking the way. Many turn to drugs, to focus on the patient's behavior.

But millions become upset, seeing the world slightly out of focus.

Other millions break down completely, retreating into some private world, with severe illness.

There is the slight cause of mental illness, authorities agree.

"None of us is always perfectly healthy mentally," Dr. Menninger says.

"Each of us has emotional quirks and problems. We can only approach mental health, and then we run against it soon as we aren't quite as mentally healthy as we were, and may again become."

Where once there was a prevailing sense of hopelessness concerning mental illness, now there is a feeling of optimism.

There are solid foundations for optimism.
