It's unfortunate, but true, that the personal traits and general outlook of an investor can becloud an issue to the point of overshadowing the facts involved. A novice speculator is apt to ignore warning signals. A timid soul may pass up a justified risk. A conformist is likely to buy what the crowd is buying. A highly competitive person may allow his ego to rule. One way to prevent personal attitudes from influencing your investment decisions, is to seek professional guidance.  Out of the corner of our New England eye, however, we keep noticing certain inviting and per-haps stimulating contrasts.
 We direct such a side glance, to-day, to reports which tell of an unprecedented tide of orders, from some of the nation's railroads, for new freight cars of various de-signs. Some of them are designed to carry bigger loads. Others are designed to carry fragile cargo more safely. But they add up to a big business boom, temporarily at least, for the freight car makers.

in welding together the economies of the continental nations. In this Gaullist Europe, England has no place. Not that De Gaulle has a low opinion of England. He paid high tribute to England's historical accomplishments in his recent news conference—but the tribute was largely overlooked while the headlines went to his arguments against British entry into the Common Market. In De Gaulle's view, England would challenge France's pre-eminence in the "Europe of states." And, above all, England is really not European. It is, with the Commonwealth, still another world. No doubt it is a world in the process of breaking up but Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had the opportunity and the time—in 15 moths of negotiation in Brus-sels—to hitch England to Europe. longer delay to all traffic enter-ing the intersection. Do you remember driving through this intersection under non-signalized conditions? To re-frash your memory, it was neces-sary to "take the bull by the horns" and charge into the mid-dle of the intersection, hoping to escape unaccahed. By comparison, this one remaining conflict seems to be of little consequence. With this in mind you might re-analyze the reasons for the installation of this traffic signal. The prime pur-pose was to permit vehicles from all directions to pass through this intersection with a minimum of conflict, rather than to permit un-imited access to Main St., the 'Downtown Merchants' Parking . Lot." Lot." Lot." Isn't it a shame that the peo-ple who layed out the streets at the Center (200 years ago??) didn't foresee the coming of the automobile and line the streets up a little bettar to make a more ef-ficient intersection? Should we hold them responsible for all of the accidents prior to the sig-slization?

It is hoped that you will consider the consequences of your own constructive criticiam more closely in the future, before as-signing responsibility for hypo-thetical accidents, caused by driv-ers who might be incapable of sensing this conflict, which is com-mon to most intersections. Sincaraly

Teacher's Day Dear Concerned Taxpayer and Mother: As a concerned teacher, tax-payer and mother I found your arithmetic appalling! I have worked an 8 hour day in business and been much better paid and much less tired. But I like teach-ing. Must I accept lower pay and whatever seasonal jobs are left in the summer to do k? If my shary scale is really resentatives. We have many things of which to be ashamed in our civilization (so-called). Here are cruel and un-necessary recommendations which should be defeated. Yours truly, Margaret H. Rich If my subary scale is really equivalent to a much higher in-come due to my vacation and sick leave benefits, why didn't I realize it before? How many teachers better all 16 stok days that are al-lotted them? I don't! Right now I have some daily papers to be corrected, the grades to be registered for fair report by be registered for fair report eard marking, new material to be studied and some standardized tests which will soon be adminis-tered and graded by me-all to do this "vacation." The plan book, which each Manchester teacher must prepare a week in advance took me hast Friday's extra 1% hours to prepare.

My day sweages 9% hours. Add ½ hour daily for organizing, preparing musc, are and physical education classes. These must be taught once weekly during the time allotted to the "special" teachers except when they are there. Gone are the days of teaching only the "3 R's". Even the President advocates that the school teach "physical fitness." Bulletin board and display case material must be arranged and changed periofically. CL&P Hits Charge

BERLIN (AP) - Sherman I Knapp, president of Connecticut Light Power, says a charge that CLAP overcharged its customers by nearly $15 million over a five year span is "propaganda." The charge was made in Wash ington yesterday by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Asso-ciation. It named CL&P as one of 28 commercial electric utility companies which it said over-charged their customers by $1,-267,439,000 from Jan. 1, 1956 through 1960. The association said it used a f per cent rate of return on invest-ment as its standard of a fair profit. Income in excess of 6 per cent was designated as overcharges. The association called on the federal government and state legislatures to demand that the companies return to their cus-tomers all profits in excess of 6 per cent.

Knapp said the association "has been propagandizing for the na-tionalization of the electric power industry and this latest propagan-da release is aimed at that objec-live."

TOOELE, Utah (AP)-Two Sa TOOELE, Utah (AP)-Two Salt Lake City girls were battered with a hammer and buried alive under desert bruah Wednesday. Officers say a 19-year-old part-time dish-washer has admitted the crime. The girls, Carol Annette Clayton and Drinda Jane Atnes, both 18, were rescued after a companion. Tony Robertson, 19, ran and walked 14 miles to the nearest telephone and got help. The girls were hospitalized and both were in critical condition.

Sheriff Faye Gillette said Rex Hintze of Sait Lake City admitted beating the girls after his car became stuck on a muddy road near the Great Salt Lake and the girls started walking toward home. He was booked on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.
