Birth Control Under Scrutiny By Catholics

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A leading Roman Catholic progressive said Tuesday night the Vatican Ecumenical Council will redefine the church's position on birth control, but not this year.

Leo Joseph Cardinal Suenens, archbishop of Brussels, said birth control would be reached eventually, as part of the 17th annual scheme—or topic—considered by the council, which will recess this session Dec. 4.

The cardinal is one of four special representatives named by Pope Paul VI to represent him personally at the council sessions. He spoke at a meeting of bishops from Africa which was crowded by prelates and priests from other countries.

Cardinal Suenens gave no indication what action he thought the council might take toward the church's opposition to all methods of birth control except the rhythm method. He agreed the issue is one of the major contemporary problems confronting Catholicism.

Some prelates have said certain aspects of the question of birth control may be discussed even before the council takes up the 17th session concerning the Church in the modern world.

Apparently abandoning hope of settling the dispute by negotiation, Ben Bella ordered troops converging into the mountains east of Algiers and told a news conference: "There will be no discussions with the criminals, no bargaining. They only understand the language of machine guns."

Ben Bella, who had been scheduled to leave today for New York, also announced that 10 persons had been killed in a clash in the coal-rich Colomb-Bechar area of the northwest Sahara which both Morocco and Algeria claim. He

JFK Decision On Wheat Deal Possible Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were signs that President Kennedy may break his silence today on a U.S.-Soviet wheat deal which is rumored in some quarters to be almost signed, sealed and delivered.

One straw in the wind was that the White House abruptly changed the time of today's presidential news conference to 6 p.m. EDT, two hours later than it had been scheduled.

The time change strengthened speculation and reports that the President was preparing to announce his decision on the proposed sale of American wheat to the Soviet Union and other Communist-bloc nations.

But Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said he had "no information about an announcement" and that the time for the news conference had been delayed because "it's more convenient for the President's schedule."

Although the schedule as officially announced was pretty much blank from midmorning until the news conference, Salinger said Kennedy has a lot of appointments. He has appointments here every day that I don't put on the record.

If Kennedy was about to make a decision on a U.S.-Soviet wheat deal, though, a source said he was keeping it close to himself.

State News Roundup

GOP Council Urges Delegate Increase

HARTFORD (AP)—A Republican council subcommittee recommended today that the party increase the number of delegates to its state convention.

Under a formula advanced by the subcommittee the number of delegates would be increased from the present 660 to 962 and possibly more in some years.

The subcommittee headed by George A. Saden of Bridgeport said that the "interests of the small town, the suburban town, and the city are thoroughly explained in an effort to determine a formula of representation that would be fair to all."

At present each town is entitled to two state convention delegates for each representative it is entitled to elect. In addition, there are two delegates from each of the state's 36 senatorial districts.

Under the recommended formula each town would be entitled to two delegates plus an additional delegate for every 1,000 voters over and above the first 1,500.

Each senatorial district would be entitled to a minimum of two delegates, plus one for every 50,000 population over the first 50,000.

The subcommittee said that of the 168 towns in the state, 108 would remain the same and only 21 would have fewer delegates. Every senatorial district, except one (which was not specified) would increase the number of its delegates.

The proposed formula would gain more delegates for many large cities at the state convention.

RIDGEFIELD (AP)—Nanette Valliere, two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Leonora Valliere, drowned at 11 a.m. today in a large pond on property adjacent to her home.

Charles Accocella went to the property with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marks, which is adjacent to the Valliere home, after it was reported that a small child was missing. He was on duty a short time later by Constable Alvaro Cuccoli and together they launched a search.

The policeman said that when they arrived several children, who had been playing with Nanette and an unidentified neighbor, were searching the pond and ultimately found the child's body in about six feet of water about 10 feet from the shore.

The policeman applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation for a half hour but were unable to revive the child. A conditional baptism was administered by the Rt. Rev. James J. D'Alagni, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Breaks 9-Year Silence

Ike Backs Integration Ruling

By JACK BELL and MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH Associated Press Staff Writers GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower today publicly endorsed the matter for the first time, says the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing public school segregation "is morally and legally correct."

He expressed this conviction in an interview with Associated Press reporters at his office on Gettysburg College campus.

As President, Eisenhower repeatedly declined to say whether he thought the court's controversial ruling was right or wrong, good or bad.

For example, at a news conference Sept. 3, 1956, Eisenhower said: "I think it makes no difference whether or not I endorse it (the court decision). The Constitution is as the Supreme Court interprets it, and I must conform to that and do my very best to see that it is carried out in this country."

UN Unit to View Viet Nam Mrs. Nhu Charges USIA Helping Plot

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu of South Viet Nam said today the United States Information Agency is "helping feverishly" a plot to overthrow the South Vietnamese government.

She made the assertion in the first of a series of speaking engagements that will take her across the United States.

She appeared at station WOR-TV to tape an interview before going to an Overseas Press Club luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where pickets awaited her.

Replying to a question on the taped television program by Joseph Newman, New York Herald Tribune reporter, Mrs. Nhu said: "The USA seems to be really working, helping feverishly that plot. How much they have helped I do not know. The people are absolutely fidgety about that plot."

The 38-year-old sister-in-law of South Viet Nam's bachelor President Ngo Dinh Diem was asked by William Haddad, also of the Herald Tribune, about Buddhist monks who cremated themselves in protest against the regime.

Mrs. Nhu said that she had been quoted as referring to such suicides as "barbecues," replied: "Those who burned themselves are real Buddhists, sincere Buddhists, but unfortunately they trusted too much the people who incited them to make those sacrifices."

Asked whether agitation to overthrow the government would succeed, she said: "I can assure you it will not succeed. It will only harm the prestige of your country."

Mrs. Nhu said at the outset of the program to be telecast at 8:30 p.m. EST tonight: "I think that we have been more or less, even unconsciously, victims of that too-effective Communist propaganda network. This tries to present your allies, your friends, as unlovable."

Mrs. Nhu said that "to believe my country is under dictatorialism is absolutely wrong."

She said that South Viet Nam, despite nine years of war against the Communists, with 5,000 casualties a month, had had five elections with universal suffrage.

Some of the pickets outside the hotel described themselves as members of "Youth Against War and Fascism."

In a leaflet, they called the Diem regime "an echo of the savagery of the antipeople's war."

The leaflet said President Kennedy was "frantically looking for a replacement for Diem, someone who will be able to wage the war better."

Mrs. Nhu spent Tuesday in her suite, resting and preparing for her speaking tour.

Not once, as far as reporters could determine, did the first question: "I just say I believe the court participated in that decision. I just say I believe the decision expressed the intentions of our Constitution and therefore is morally and legally correct."

On other matters—the former president said publicly: "Called on President Kennedy to couple any tax cut with a pledge that barring some 'great emergency' declared by Congress—federal spending would be held to a specified level."

Replied "No, I do not," when asked whether he thinks Republicans in Congress should be taking the lead in seeking to cut foreign aid.

The following is the text of the question: While you were president you repeatedly declined to say whether you thought the Supreme Court's decision on school segregation was right or wrong, a good decision or a bad one. Now that you are no longer in office, do you care to express an opinion on that?

Eisenhower: I think there is no question about the legality and the propriety of the decision of May 17, 1954, as I recall. It was a vote of

Cuba Shuns US Aid Bid

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Flora, one of the most deadly to come out of the tropical Atlantic, sped toward the northeast today on a course that could bring gale winds close to Bermuda on Thursday.

With an estimated 3,500 dead in its wake in the Caribbean, the giant storm was racing to its death in the cold waters of the North Atlantic.

A Weather Bureau advisory at noon placed the storm center about 160 miles north-northeast of Turks Island. Earlier today, she had hit thinly populated Bahamian islands.

Flora's center, surrounded by winds up to 100 miles an hour, passed over the island of Mayaguana before dawn, and then picked up speed and swirled into the open Atlantic at 15 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau said Flora would move faster and faster as she pressed toward Northwestern Europe and England for the next few days. But by the time she reaches the North Atlantic, cold air will rob her of tropical character.

Flora left behind a trail of devastation and death. Officials at Haiti, hardest hit, estimated the dead at 3,500, but said the exact figure will never be known.

Many parts of Cuba are still under water. Some of the islands in the southeastern Bahamas—Inagua, Caicos and Grand Turk—were still due for gales.

But the islands, some of which contain U.S. missile tracking equipment, were expected to escape serious damage because of ample warning.

"For all practical purposes," said forecaster Robert McCaslin, "Flora, as a hurricane, is no longer a threat to any land areas."

Havana radio said today the Cuban Red Cross has rejected the hypocritical offer of aid from the United States for the hurricane-ravaged island.

The American Red Cross volunteered to furnish food, clothing and supplies, and Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., suggested that American aid be sent to victims of the storm.

"We reject the hypocritical offer of aid in these moments of disaster caused by nature," the Cuban radio said.

DULLES DEFENDS CIA

NEW YORK (AP)—Allen W. Dulles, former Central Intelligence Agency director, was reported as saying today the nation's spy apparatus is being made "the goat" for American blundering in South Viet Nam.

"Occasionally the CIA has to be made the goat," he was quoted in a copyright story in the New York Journal-American by William McCullum. "It looks like it has to be the goat again. Still—it may be better for the CIA to be tarred in the Vietnamese mess than the President of the United States or the secretary of state," he said.

DYNAMITE CONVICTION

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A second white man arrested during an investigation of Birmingham's racial bombings was convicted today of illegally possessing dynamite. The indictment to sentence was imposed on John Wesley Hall, 35—six months in jail at hard labor and $100 fine. A third man, R. E. Chambliss, 39, faces trial on the same charge later. The judge Tuesday convicted Charles G. Cagle, 22, also of the Birmingham area. Cagle was sentenced to six months in jail at hard labor and fined $100 and costs. Cagle was found guilty of illegal possession of dynamite and aiding and abetting in the possession of dynamite.

Birth Control Under Scrutiny By Catholics

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A leading Roman Catholic progressive said Tuesday night the Vatican Ecumenical Council will redefine the church's position on birth control, but not this year.

Leo Joseph Cardinal Suenens, archbishop of Brussels, said birth control would be reached eventually, as part of the 17th annual scheme—or topic—considered by the council, which will recess this session Dec. 4.

The cardinal is one of four special representatives named by Pope Paul VI to represent him personally at the council sessions. He spoke at a meeting of bishops from Africa which was crowded by prelates and priests from other countries.

Cardinal Suenens gave no indication what action he thought the council might take toward the church's opposition to all methods of birth control except the rhythm method. He agreed the issue is one of the major contemporary problems confronting Catholicism.

Some prelates have said certain aspects of the question of birth control may be discussed even before the council takes up the 17th session concerning the Church in the modern world.

The problem of medical aids for birth control, some informants said, may be touched upon in such earlier topics as the one on marriage and chastity and on the sacraments including matrimony.

Showdown Looms On Berber Revolt

ALGIERS (AP)—A showdown appeared building up today in Algeria's Berber revolt as President Ahmed Ben Bella canceled a trip to the U.N. General Assembly and moved more troops toward the rebel stronghold in the Kabylie Mountains.

Apparently abandoning hope of settling the dispute by negotiation, Ben Bella ordered troops converging into the mountains east of Algiers and told a news conference: "There will be no discussions with the criminals, no bargaining. They only understand the language of machine guns."

Ben Bella, who had been scheduled to leave today for New York, also announced that 10 persons had been killed in a clash in the coal-rich Colomb-Bechar area of the northwest Sahara which both Morocco and Algeria claim. He

JFK Decision On Wheat Deal Possible Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were signs that President Kennedy may break his silence today on a U.S.-Soviet wheat deal which is rumored in some quarters to be almost signed, sealed and delivered.

One straw in the wind was that the White House abruptly changed the time of today's presidential news conference to 6 p.m. EDT, two hours later than it had been scheduled.

The time change strengthened speculation and reports that the President was preparing to announce his decision on the proposed sale of American wheat to the Soviet Union and other Communist-bloc nations.

But Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said he had "no information about an announcement" and that the time for the news conference had been delayed because "it's more convenient for the President's schedule."

Although the schedule as officially announced was pretty much blank from midmorning until the news conference, Salinger said Kennedy has a lot of appointments. He has appointments here every day that I don't put on the record.

If Kennedy was about to make a decision on a U.S.-Soviet wheat deal, though, a source said he was keeping it close to himself.

GOP Council Urges Delegate Increase

HARTFORD (AP)—A Republican council subcommittee recommended today that the party increase the number of delegates to its state conventions.

Under a formula advanced by the subcommittee the number of delegates would be increased from the present 660 to 962 and possibly more in some years.

The subcommittee headed by George A. Saden of Bridgeport said that the "interests of the small town, the suburban town, and the city are thoroughly explained in an effort to determine a formula of representation that would be fair to all."

At present each town is entitled to two state convention delegates for each representative it is entitled to elect. In addition, there are two delegates from each of the state's 36 senatorial districts.

Under the recommended formula each town would be entitled to two delegates plus an additional delegate for every 1,000 voters over and above the first 1,500.

Each senatorial district would be entitled to a minimum of two delegates, plus one for every 50,000 population over the first 50,000.

The subcommittee said that of the 168 towns in the state, 108 would remain the same and only 21 would have fewer delegates.

Every senatorial district, except one (which was not specified) would increase the number of its delegates.

The proposed formula would gain more delegates for many large cities at the state convention.

Girl, 2, Drowns

RIDGEFIELD (AP)—Nanette Valliere, two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Leonard Valliere, drowned at 11 a.m. today in a large pond on property adjacent to her home.

Charles Accocella went to the property with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marks, which is adjacent to the Valliere home, after it was reported that a small child was missing. He was on duty a short time later by Constable Alvaro Cuccoli and together they launched a search.

The policeman said that when they arrived several children, who had been playing with Nanette and an unidentified neighbor, were searching the pond and ultimately found the child's body in about six feet of water about 10 feet from the shore.

The policeman applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation for a half hour but were unable to revive the child. A conditional baptism was administered by the Rt. Rev. James J. D'Alagni, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Ask GOP Aid Negro

HARTFORD (AP)—A Republican State Council subcommittee has urged Democratic organizations in the state's major cities to "falling grievously in the job of helping the Negro advance himself."

The subcommittee suggested in a report yesterday that Republicans move into Negro areas to extend their influence.

Breaks 9-Year Silence

Ike Backs Integration Ruling

By JACK BELL and MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH Associated Press Staff Writers GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower today publicly endorsed the matter for the first time, says the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing public school segregation "is morally and legally correct."

He expressed this conviction in an interview with Associated Press reporters at his office on Gettysburg College campus.

As President, Eisenhower repeatedly declined to say whether he thought the court's controversial ruling was right or wrong, good or bad.

For example, at a news conference Sept. 3, 1956, Eisenhower said: "I think it makes no difference whether or not I endorse it (the court decision). The Constitution is as the Supreme Court interprets it, and I must conform to that and do my very best to see that it is carried out in this country."

Mrs. Nhu Charges USIA Helping Plot

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu of South Viet Nam said today the United States Information Agency is "helping feverishly" a plot to overthrow the South Vietnamese government.

She made the assertion in the first of a series of speaking engagements that will take her across the United States. She appeared at station WOR-TV to tape an interview before going to an Overseas Press Club luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where pickets awaited her.

Replying to a question on the taped television program by Joseph Newman, New York Herald Tribune reporter, Mrs. Nhu said: "The USA seems to be really working, helping feverishly that plot. How much they have helped I do not know. The people are absolutely fidgety about that plot."

The 38-year-old sister-in-law of South Viet Nam's bachelor President Ngo Dinh Diem was asked by William Haddad, also of the Herald Tribune, about Buddhist monks who cremated themselves in protest against the regime.

Mrs. Nhu said at the outset of the program to be telecast at 8:30 p.m. EST tonight: "I think that we have been more or less, even unconsciously, victims of that too-effective Communist propaganda network. This tries to present your allies, your friends, as unlovable."

Mrs. Nhu said that "to believe my country is under dictatorship is absolutely wrong."

She said that South Viet Nam, despite nine years of war against the Communists, with 5,000 casualties a month, had had five elections with universal suffrage.

Some of the pickets outside the hotel described themselves as members of "Youth Against War and Fascism."

In a leaflet, they called the Diem regime "an echo of the savagery of the antipeople's war."

The leaflet said President Kennedy was "frantically looking for a replacement for Diem, someone who will be able to wage the war better."

Mrs. Nhu spent Tuesday in her suite, resting and preparing for her speaking tour.

Not once, as far as reporters could determine, did the first of a series of speaking engagements that will take her across the United States.

Q. As for how it should be done, are you talking about the court order calling for desegregation "with all deliberate speed?"

A. As a matter of fact, that plan looked to me like a very good one because they left it to the locality to make the plan. When you come to arguing about the legalities, where do the responsibilities of the court and of the Congress meet? I don't know. I don't even comment on that particular area.

Q. Your successor has been facing some of the same severe problems that you did in this civil rights field. Given the same set of general circumstances which you faced in having to call out troops in Little Rock, and those which faced President Kennedy in the use of troops in some of the

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Flora, one of the most deadly to come out of the tropical Atlantic, sped toward the northeast today on a course that could bring gale winds close to Bermuda on Thursday.

With an estimated 3,500 dead in its wake in the Caribbean, the giant storm was racing to its death in the cold waters of the North Atlantic.

A Weather Bureau advisory at noon placed the storm center about 160 miles north-northeast of Turks Island. Earlier today, she had hit thinly populated Bahamian islands.

Flora's center, surrounded by winds up to 100 miles an hour, passed over the island of Mayaguana before dawn, and then picked up speed and swirled into the open Atlantic at 15 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau said Flora would move faster and faster as she pressed toward Northwestern Europe and England for the next few days. But by the time she reaches the North Atlantic, cold air will rob her of tropical character.

Flora left behind a trail of devastation and death. Officials at Haiti, hardest hit, estimated the dead at 3,500, but said the exact figure will never be known.

Many parts of Cuba are still under water.

Some of the islands in the southeastern Bahamas—Inagua, Caicos and Grand Turk—were still due for gales.

But the islands, some of which contain U.S. missile tracking equipment, were expected to escape serious damage because of ample warning.

"For all practical purposes," said forecaster Robert McCaslin, "Flora, as a hurricane, is no longer a threat to any land areas."

Havana radio said today the Cuban Red Cross has rejected the hypocritical offer of aid from the United States for the hurricane-ravaged island.

The American Red Cross volunteered Tuesday to furnish work clothes and supplies, and Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., suggested that American aid be sent to victims of the storm.

"We reject the hypocritical offer of aid in these moments of disaster caused by nature," the Cuban radio said.

DULLES DEFENDS CIA

NEW YORK (AP)—Allen W. Dulles, former Central Intelligence Agency director, was reported as saying today the nation's spy apparatus is being made "the goat" for American blundering in South Viet Nam. "Occasionally the CIA has to be made the goat," he was quoted in a copyright story in the New York Journal-American by William McCullum. "It looks like it has to be the goat again. Still—it may be better for the CIA to be tarred in the Vietnamese mess than the President of the United States or the secretary of state," he said.

DYNAMITE CONVICTION

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A second white man arrested during an investigation of Birmingham's racial bombings was convicted today of illegally possessing dynamite. The indictment to sentence was imposed on John Wesley Hall, 35—six months in jail at hard labor and $100 fine. A third man, R. E. Chambliss, 39, faces trial on the same charge later. The judge Tuesday convicted Charles G. Cagle, 22, also of the Birmingham area. Cagle was sentenced to six months in jail at hard labor and fined $100 and costs. Cagle was found guilty of illegal possession of dynamite and aiding and abetting in the possession of dynamite.

Rockville-Vernon Zoners Slate 4 Proposals For Hearing

A public hearing will be held by the Vernon Fire District Zoning Commission on Tuesday at the Public Safety Building. They will hear four applications.

Kenneth B. Parsons, whose request several weeks ago for a restaurant on Rt. 30 at Merline Rd. created considerable objection. A preliminary hearing held by the commission disclosed fear that a traffic hazard would be created for school children.

Proposed site of the restaurant is on the south side of Rt. 30 east of Merline Rd.
Application for an addition to a building occupied by the L & S Plumbing and Heating Co. was made by Louis J. Layman. The building is located on the south side of Rt. 83.

Zigmund and Arline M. Gots have applied for permission to construct a 20 by 50 foot structure on the southeast side of Rt. 83 in Thelville.

Betty Ruth Edwards has requested permission to construct a 27 by 18 foot two-story addition to the former McNulty property at 28 Vernon Circle.

ZBA Hearing Results
Members of the Town Zoning Board of Appeals last week turned the request of Malcolm Barlow for construction of a used car showroom on Rt. 83 over to the planning commission.

The board noted that Barlow owns a large tract of land, and the board feared that use of the whole tract should be discussed with the planning board members.

James Dick, Lockwood Rd., was granted permission to sell his house and lot with insufficient frontage.

The appeal of Howard LaBier to construct a building on Rt. 83 for a used car dealership was granted.

LaBier was formerly associated with Mickey's Motor Sales Inc. on Rt. 83 in Ellington. He will operate a used car sales operation east to the Rockville Glass and Auto Rest Cover Co. Construction has already begun on the building.

Ask BHS Bids
Bids for the addition to the Rockville High School have been invited. Bidding is expected to start Oct. 14 at the City Room in the Memorial Building. Bids will be opened publicly at that time.

Final estimate of the job including architect's fees is $1,200,000. The goal is to have some of the classrooms opened by next fall.

Controversy has been noted on one point of the proposed bids by members of the building committee. That is that two bids will be accepted on the same proposal.

The base bid is for classroom spaces and revisions to the school schedule. An "additive alternate" would be for a new gymnasium, addition to the locker room, some music classrooms and some storage space.

Youth Rally Day
The annual Sunday School Parade of First Lutheran Church in Rockville is scheduled Sunday at 10:30 a.m. The day is designated as Youth Sunday.

Monday school superintendent John Hall has announced that teachers will be introduced and students may visit their children's classroom.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Henry Peterson, chairman of the committee on parish education of the northern Connecticut district of the synod. He is pastor of First Church in Southington.

His address to parents and students will be on "The Balance in the new curriculum between the school and the home." A question period will follow the talk.

During the discussion children will be treated to movies in another room. Refreshments will be served.

Foot League Meets
The Vernon middle-ages football league will meet tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the Legion Hall. All patrons of team members are urged to attend according to the announcement by Shirley Whitehead, secretary of the league.

Vernon news is handled by The Herald's Rockville Bureau, 1 W. Main St., telephone 272-3156 or 418-9777.

Brown Says JFK Leads California

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California said at the White House today his polls show that President Kennedy would carry California at present.

He said the civil rights issue "hasn't been a help to him." Kennedy has acknowledged this.

But Brown said that he has had polls made which show that as of now, Kennedy would take California with the big bundle of electoral votes. The President lost the state in 1960.

Brown said, too, that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona would win fairly decisively over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York in a Republican primary showdown.

The governor said he had talked with presidential assistant Lawrence O'Brien about aiding Democratic Sen. Clair Engle of California. Engle is in a hospital here suffering from a brain tumor.

Brown said California Democrats may decide to run if he is physically up to it, but added the party now is to know soon because it takes a long time to mount a campaign.

He declined any intention to run for pressure on Engle, but said Engle's physical condition is "something we should know at this time."

Brown came to Washington on his way to Argentina where he will be by President Kennedy's representative at the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy.

Word of Mouth

he gave a group of highly educated students in California the other day.

"Think it over," he told them, as he held forth on the subject of the "Word of Mouth" campaign. "In less than a month the New Frontier has offered to pick up the tab for the cost of a front shot to the moon, spot testing nuclear weapons in the air and, finally, ball out the way to make the moon a permanent addition to the library's collection of 'Whodunnits'."

The unique atmosphere of a luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. Edgar Hoover, Jr., in the city of Washington, D.C., was a study in itself. There are few real standards one can impose on purely political oratory. It is almost silly to question the degree to which it might forecast actual policy or performance if the speaker should ever happen to assume real responsibility. One need only look back to the frequently zealous campaign orators of such men as Roosevelt, Eisenhower and Kennedy, and compare it with the things that come out of the mouths of those who are in office to realize this.

But one can analyze political oratory for its potential effectiveness as political oratory, for its potential effectiveness in achieving without final commitment for the speaker, and for its potential effectiveness in achieving without final commitment for the speaker, and for its potential effectiveness in achieving without final commitment for the speaker.

The Doctor Says

BEVERLY STOKES STRIBBLE WHERE LEAST EXPECTED

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Like a stroke of lightning, an unexpected stroke may strike where it is least expected. Although it is more likely to occur in persons who are past 50, some 20,000 in the age group 20 to 40 have severe strokes in this country every year.

Age, therefore, is not the primary cause. Anything that suddenly cuts off the circulation to the brain will cause a stroke and as a result the victim may be paralyzed, speechless or mentally confused depending on what part of the brain is involved.

Thus, if high blood pressure causes one of the small arteries in the brain to rupture, the resulting hemorrhage may cause enough pressure on some area of the brain to obstruct the circulation.

Another cause is the breaking loose of a clot within a large vessel or from the walls of the heart itself and the lodging of the clot in one of the vessels of the brain that is too small to allow it to pass.

A more gradual process is the deposition of calcium or fat in the walls of the brain's arteries. Until recent years the victim of a stroke was considered to be a hopeless case and was allowed to merely vegetate until he died. Several bits of modern medical knowledge have combined to make the outlook much rosier, however.

Autopsy studies have shown that in about 20 per cent of persons who are over 30 there is enough arterial hardening in the brain to make a stroke likely.

Similar studies in persons over 70 have shown that many of them have had strokes without knowing it (involvement of the so-called silent areas of the brain). In others there has been a series of what are now known as little strokes.

A person who has a little stroke doesn't have a paralysis, but instead may undergo a slight change in personality which is only to persons who are close to him. If, for example, he had always been a fastidious dresser he may suddenly become untidy in his appearance.

The trick is to recognize the candidate for a stroke before the stroke occurs. This can now be done by means of a dye that can be introduced into the brain's circulation in the X-ray room so that the pattern of the cerebral arteries can be caught on an X-ray film. The dye is harmless and is being used on an ever widening scale to detect potential weak spots in time to apply preventive measures.

Another group of stroke victims established at autopsy showed no brain hemorrhage or occluded arteries. This led to the discovery that a stroke might result if the occlusion occurred in the arteries of the neck before the stroke. This means not only that much can be done for this large class of victims but that it can be done by doctors who are not brain surgeons and the latter being still relatively rare.

This is a most critical moment for Asia, said one official placed in command of this whole area now is up for grabs.

It seems probable that a long hard struggle is ahead to prevent the whole continent from falling one day under Communist domination.

The most significant development for Asia in the past decade has been the violent quarrel between the Communist parties of the Soviet Union and the Red Chinese. This has produced some startling results.

—There is a prospect now that while the U.S. and British military aid has protected India a border from the Red Chinese threat. Soviet Union and the Red Chinese are actually to protect India's border from the Red Chinese.

While the Red Chinese and her ally, the Soviet Union, have supported 22 Asian states at Moscow, a sulky Pakistan, once called the staunchest foe of Communism in Asia, is drifting with the Chinese.

The split had produced political changes in India, and for Asia probably has had the most significant effect on the continent.

—There are also clear indications that the Chinese and the Soviet Union are being overreached to an extent that can lead to dangerous consequences.

To Indians, the split seems to have become a question as simple as black and white: the Chinese are the enemy and the Soviet Union is the friend. Those who seem to oppose the Red Chinese must be behind the Soviet Union, and the Soviet party and its followers.

Even in Southeast Asia circles closely connected with the United States and the West are not immune to a superabundance of optimism. This seems based on the notion that the Red Chinese have lost the implicit support of the Russian government. But Peking always has had the long view of domination in Asia by slow stages, despite its defiance of nuclear "super powers."

The more cautious element in Southeast Asia makes allowance for the possibility that the Russian show-down crisis in which Moscow may have to stand up and be counted, or a change of leadership either in Peking or Moscow— which could cause the Russians and Chinese to close ranks.

Although the worst situation was diverted by the Cuban missile crisis last October, Red China's attack at that time on India's frontiers was an event of enormous importance. India turned in virtual panic to the United States for military help. It got aid under the U.S.-British Mutual Defense Agreement, and this tended to damage Nehru's standing as the Asian leader of non-alignment.

The Indians are getting arms, ammunition and other supplies from the United States. They are also getting help for their armed forces. They wanted a bit more, but the Indians hinted broadly that they wanted Nike-Zeus ground-to-air missiles for the purpose of protecting the big Indian cities.

The United States did not take the hint. Possibly the reaction in Pakistan, who's been an ally of the United States, and the pressure from the Indians, played a part. The Indians, who claim they have always turned first to the United States, now are looking to Moscow. There is a good chance that Russian ground-to-air missiles eventually will be protecting Indian cities against the Red Chinese.

But U.S. response to Indian appeals already had produced violent reaction in Pakistan. That nation is a member of the Central Treaty Organization (CENTO), with Britain, Turkey and Iran, and of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), with Thailand, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand, Britain, France and the United States.

CENTO may be on its way to becoming little more than a paper arrangement because of Pakistan's bitterness over the U.S.-British aid to India. Pakistan's attitude on SEATO may not be too important one way or the other. But the treaty shows other signs of weakness.

The map may become more evident as the months go by. A meeting of SEATO is tentatively scheduled for Manila in the spring. It will be interesting to see what happens.

Asia Alignments Upset By China-Soviet Split

EDITOR'S NOTE—Reporter William L. Ryan has covered news all over the world, from Moscow to China to Bangkok. He is a specialist in communist affairs and has written many articles on the Communist effort to gain control of the world. He is now in Asia, talking to people across the political spectrum from extreme right to extreme left, and from the top to the bottom of the ladder.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Asia is severely shaken today by its own conflicts and by radical changes in the cold war picture. These changes are a potent yeast in the ferment which is engulfing the whole world, over-pooled, and impatient content.

This is a most critical moment for Asia, said one official placed in command of this whole area now is up for grabs.

Dog No Relative, Must Pay Taxes

CHICAGO (AP)—Danny Boy, pet spaniel of the late Margaret M. Streu, will have to pay a $40 tax because his mistress transferred him in her will.

Miss Streu, a retired telephone operator, set aside $800 for care of the dog, which she had owned for 15 years. The dog was named after her late husband, who was killed in World War II.

The question whether Danny Boy was legally a member of the Streu family and thereby exempt from the state inheritance tax was referred to Atty. Gen. William C. Clark of Illinois.

Clark held that while Danny Boy's blood lines undoubtedly were sound, he was not a relative of the testator. In the eyes of the law, he is a casual legatee and the state is within its rights in putting the bite on Danny Boy.

BYE-POWERED CARRIAGE

The first "horseless carriage" was powered by kites, in 1827, George Peacock, an English schoolmaster, hitched a carriage to two large kites flown in tandem. By steering the lower kite with two cords, he navigated without any other power.

Release Ordered For Prison Lifer

NEW YORK (AP)—Samuel T. Williams, 71, who has served 15 years of a life sentence on a murder conviction, has been ordered released from prison or re-tried promptly.

The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Monday his conviction was obtained by coercion. It added that Williams was "uniquely qualified" as the young crowd, the establishment men's live and recorded folk music and poetry reading, and serve expressive coffee.

A Thought for Today

Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumbling block before the blind. Thou shalt fear the Lord Thy God. (Leviticus 19:14)

There is much more to this commandment than its literal meaning. It applies also to those who cannot hear because of distance, and those who cannot perceive because of ignorance. It includes malicious talk behind a person's back, and taking advantage of someone not acquainted with the true facts or situation.

Rabbi Leon Wind Temple Beth Shalom

Just about the worst thing that can happen in a Latin American country is to judge cynically by the record. It is to have to face the prospect of a free and open election. This is the crucial hurdle for decision makers to face. It is to just the other day, the refusal of the military to permit a free and democratic election which would end the existing democratic regime in Honduras. Argentina has been without Peron for several months now, but the military does not dare risk running a free one. Brazil seems unable to make the legitimate process work. It has not yet agreed to advance which party was to win which election in order to be able to go through with even the formality.

All this serves as a kind of illustration for and explanation of the tension building in the key nation of Venezuela—key because it has come from dictatorship of the right under Jimenez, key because it is the prime target of the dictatorship of the left, as represented by the Venezuelan Communist Party, and key because it prepares to try to change its national administration by normal, free, democratic processes.

It is to hold an election in December; the new president elected then is supposed to take over from President Romulo Betancourt in February.

So far, President Betancourt has been able to hold fast and fairly stable against the violent plotting and violent deeds of the Castro agents, as well as against the calumnies of the Venezuelan and American Arch-conservatives who think Betancourt himself is too radical. So far, the December elections will be held.

But perhaps the key temptation, in Venezuela, may arise after that election, and may present itself to President Betancourt, the father of legitimate democracy in modern Venezuela, for his personal decision. Suppose, in the election, there is nothing better than a marginal victory for the Betancourt party. Suppose Betancourt's own affection for the party's nominee, a Dr. Raul Leon, continues as low as it has been in the past. Suppose the election is followed by a proper amount of public turmoil and unrest. And then suppose that somebody suggests that Betancourt, the democrat, enlist the aid of the Venezuelan military with whom he has always preserved good relations, to stage a little coup in favor of democracy, a coup by which Betancourt himself continues in the post of president until, of course, as always in such matters, a free and democratic election can safely be held. There is perhaps the key, the potential heart-break kind of danger Venezuela could face—the danger that democracy, under attack and stress from both the right and the left, should be betrayed by its own chief exponent, all of course, in the name of democracy.

For contrast, the emergence of Venezuela through these immediate months of political fire and ideological trial, through all the troubles and confusions and uncertainties likely to be possible, into a calm and stable and orderly result could be a beautiful and inspiring thing for the hemisphere to watch. Let's hope it can happen that way.

Fun On The Stump

The exploration of what may be Benazer Goldwater's inner and ultimate convictions may continue; meanwhile there need be no doubt that he intends to continue having himself a gay time with his campaigning.

One may take, as a sort of extreme example of the piping of which he is capable when he is feeling in top fettle and too consumed with some highly conservative audioscope, just one paragraph

Let The Lady Be Welcome

Now that Madame Nhu, the lady of the sharp tongue and the sometimes peculiar and tangled ideas, is in this country, with 40 public appearances lined up inside 30 days, there is some fear she may get somewhere in her obvious effort—which, in the performance she may expect to give from her first appearance in this country, in fact, she wants an investigation of the case of this—against the case of this—American people directly.

With this clever feminine demagogue thus on the loose among us there is the inevitable outcry—specifically it comes from Democratic Congressman Wayne Hayes of Ohio—against the case of this—her into this country in the first place. Congressman Hayes, in fact, wants an investigation of the case of this—against the case of this—American people directly.

So it goes. We have not too much patience with Madame Nhu, but still less with those who would counter her alleged barbarism, her alleged cruelty, her alleged disregard for the truth, by having us forget our own civilization, our own belief in the principle of freedom, even for those with whom we disagree, and our own confidence in the ability of the truth to survive in the marketplace even when the truth may happen to be dull, and its enemies glamorous and exciting.

Let her be welcome, this Madame Nhu, and let her see for ourselves how clever she really is.

Dave McElroy, Dick Anton, Joe Haloran and Eric Emi, together called the Engine-Area, practice for an evening of burlesque harmony scheduled Thursday as part of Manchester's 140th anniversary celebration. They are all members of the Silk City Singers, which will appear in full chorus to back the quartet. (Herald photo by Ottara).

Tuesday Night in Center Park Pipers, Singers Open Anniversary Events

The shrill skirl of the bagpipes will open the official celebration of the 140th anniversary of the founding of Manchester, as the Manchester Pipe Band reels off the first bars of a Highland tune at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 15 in Center Park. The pipers, who will celebrate their 50th year of formal existence in America, will precede a display of authentic Irish step dancing by Manchester students of Miss Margaret Dalley, and the mellow harmony of a much younger group of music makers, the Silk City Singers, organized a little more than a year ago.

Vacancies Exist In Junior Band

The recreation department announces that there are still some vacancies in the Fire and Police Junior Marching Band that meets each Thursday evening at the West Side Recreation Center. The rehearsal begins at 6:15 and finishes at 8, and is under the direction of Herb Kingsbury. This band will march in all town parades, some Bremen's parades, and at the mid-July football game. Uniforms for the band have been furnished by the Fire and Police Junior Athletic Association.

Driver Warned In Center Crash

No injuries but considerable vehicular damage and a written warning was noted in two accidents which occurred here yesterday afternoon and at 7:30 a.m. to day.

Mrs. Martha T. Harrison of 15 Groswood St. early yesterday afternoon while eastbound on Center St. just west of the Center, reportedly took her eyes off the road and drove her car into the rear of a moving van truck, driven by William J. Newton, 42 Box 841, Manchester, who was stopped waiting for a traffic light to change, police said.

Mr. Harrison was issued a written warning for following too closely. The front end of her car was extensively damaged and had to be towed away.

Man Posts Bond In Morals Case

Walter Joseph Topolaki, 26, East Hartford, early today was arrested by Manchester Police and charged with raping a 17-year-old Vermont girl.

Topolaki posted a $1,000 bond and the case will be presented in Circuit Court 12, Manchester on Oct. 28.

Parakeet's Pet Peep

Owners of a pet parakeet painstakingly taught him to say, "My name is Mr. Peepers, what's your name?" And found it was a great success with visitors until the parakeet improvised and said, "My name is Mr. Peepers, what's your peep?"

SINK LINES BARS STAINS

DEAR POLLY — My suggestion is for the girls who use a color hair rinse but dread cleaning the sink afterwards. It's more the stopper from the sink, spread a plastic garment bag in the sink, letting it come up over the sides and around the faucet. Four the rinse into this bag and use a cup as a ladle to dip with. When the rinsing is finished pour the bag, just over the drain hole, with a hot fat comb and the color rinse will run on down the drain. The paper boxes of gauze and cotton always tore apart from use. I took little glass jars and put each item into a jar. Now my shelves are neat, dirt and dust cannot get in the jars and gives them extra strength.

WELFARE PAYMENTS

DEAR POLLY (AP) — Compared to the other states, Connecticut didn't dispense much money in welfare payments in 1968, but the payments themselves were third highest in the nation, the Connecticut Public Welfare Council reported yesterday.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY — If you have broken a glass or bottle in the bathroom and think there may be some minute particles of glass lurking on the floor, darken the room and examine the floor by passing the beam of your flashlight across it. The smallest bit will gleam in the light. Also try this when looking for pins of needles. —MISS D. M.

Town Traditionally Provided Good Schools and Education

"Still sits the schoolhouse by the road. A ragged beggar sunning. Around it still the sunnachs grow. And blackberry vines are running. Within the master's desk is seen, Deep scarred by raps official; The jack-knife's carved initial; The charcoal frescoes on its wall; Its door's worn sill betraying history. The feet that creeping slow to school, Went storming out to play!"

In 1871, when John Greenleaf Whittier wrote the poem, "In School Days," from which these stanzas were taken, Manchester as a town was still in swaddling clothes. It had been incorporated from Orford Parish in 1823—a mere 48 years before.

Yet already the halcyon days of the tiny one-room schoolhouse were for Manchester relegated to the dusty past, with a few nostalgic exceptions. The town was then a bustling metropolis of 4,200.

In fact, by 1871, Manchester was the largest city in New England. Its population of 120,000 was the largest in the country. The town was then a bustling metropolis of 4,200.

Another one-room wooden school was built at an uncertain date during this same period in the Keeney St. section. It stood on a small plot of land as Keeney Annex, the first single-room schoolhouse was erected on a site directly across the road from the Bunker School.

The first school in the Five Mile Tract was authorized in 1745 by a town meeting vote of the Third Society of Hartford and one was immediately established at Hop Brook Village.

The first school in the Five Mile Tract was authorized in 1745 by a town meeting vote of the Third Society of Hartford and one was immediately established at Hop Brook Village.

The Five Mile was originally divided into six school districts. On Thanksgiving Day, 1791, the frame of the Hop Brook School was erected and the claphorns put on; and the following day Captain Daniel Marsh rode out horseback to Burdick and Manchester Green, visiting the people of these sections to come and see the school that grew up overnight.

Prior to the Civil War, school records were practically non-existent. The date of the first Manchester school is uncertain. However, a historical article written at the time of Manchester's Centennial celebration in 1923 states that the Hop Brook School was taken from its site "sometime later" and moved to what is now W. Center St., where it stood until torn down in 1920.

Another one-room wooden school was built at an uncertain date during this same period in the Keeney St. section. It stood on a small plot of land as Keeney Annex, the first single-room schoolhouse was erected on a site directly across the road from the Bunker School.

The first school in the Five Mile Tract was authorized in 1745 by a town meeting vote of the Third Society of Hartford and one was immediately established at Hop Brook Village.

The building on the first floor was divided into two rooms, each about 12 by 15 feet with floors of rived oak; at either end it contained fireplaces. Desks were in the form of "writing benches," continuous slanting board slabs 20 inches wide, that were made fast to the walls.

Probably the first instance of schools used for community purposes in Manchester came here during the school year 1820-21, during the Civil War era with a white frame building that served the Green district until 1921, when the present brick school was built.

DeGaulle '64 Visit Arranged in Talks

another one with Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

Conve de Murville announced the De Gaulle visit after his call on the White House. He said it will take place "some time next year." Both French and American officials stressed that contrary to reports in French papers the general might come in February. No date has been mentioned as yet.

Protocol required that De Gaulle return Kennedy's 1961 Paris visit. The agreement that he would do so next year should be considered an improvement in the rather cool climate of Franco-American relations, some officials here said, and recalled what Kennedy said at a news conference in April: "I think General de Gaulle would be glad to come, or at least aside if would be glad to go to France."

Also, French, William Kuznick, Robert Luce, Richard Brown, John Nelson, Mal Wilson, Lawrence, Fred Lawler, Mrs. John Forester, Nicholas Jackson, Mrs. George Kravus, Archibald Hansen, Keith Merrill, Mrs. Thomas Washburn, Mrs. Albert Bombardier.

Rockville-Vernon Risley Briefs New Board On Problems

terials, architect specifications should be drawn. He said that that meeting should be held carefully, paved with the amount of substance as was removed, and checked for additional repairs at the end of six months.

He suggested a new type of permit that would provide notification of the road work to be done and the road work to be done.

One of these which caused wide annoyance here was what was believed to be an offer to help Vietnam and throw off foreign influence.

Couve de Murville was reported to have told Kennedy and Rusk that France believes Vietnam is exclusively a U.S. responsibility.

De Gaulle, Couve de Murville said, spoke about a final solution of the Vietnam problem under a nationalistic government, neither Communist nor Communist dominated.

Couve de Murville also said a French official in Lyons, France, who was reported to have said this month had also been misinterpreted in Washington. The interpretation here was that De Gaulle indirectly called for the formation of a third force, using the other nations, especially the less developed ones, to follow France's example.

Couve de Murville is understood to have said that De Gaulle was willing to discuss with nations that French aid would have fewer political implications than aid from the United States or the Communist bloc.

PARIS (AP)—The French government indicated today that the air force is being armed with a new type of atomic bomb.

A communication issued after De Gaulle's Cabinet meeting in Paris, the armed forces are being equipped with the atomic bomb, which he said at his disposal.

The subject was mentioned in connection with France's decision to evacuate her last troops from Bizerte this month.

French officials said last April that France would begin in September or October assembly line production of atomic bombs, and superimposed plans to carry them.

Town Opens Bids On Two Projects

Vernon Construction Inc., Wapping, and the Anthony Deen Construction Co., Manchester, are the apparent low bidders on two town water and sewer construction projects.

The bids were opened at the Municipal Building this morning.

The Wapping firm offered to construct a new storm sewer on Parker St. north of E. Middle Tpk., for $18,651.25. The job is to be done from a $12,000 appropriation for miscellaneous storm sewer construction, the bid price is higher than the amount that Town Engineer Walter Pias had allocated for this particular job, however.

Other bidders were: Deen Construction, $10,000; Jarvis Construction, $13,252.50; and Dewey Construction, East Hartford, $14,315.

The job calls for the use of a new type of storm sewer outfall—that is, the piping which carries the collected storm water into an existing brook or stream.

Instead of the usual cast in place and pipe, the job specification calls for a precast frame and pipe, which should do the job of the old style installation at less than half the cost.

Some of the bidders were apparently unfamiliar with this type of installation, and estimated this portion of the work at substantially more than the low bidder—one of the reasons for the price spread between high and low prices.

Deen Construction was one of two bidders on a water main extension on Gardner St. and W. Gardner St. that is part of a Spring St. project authorized in 1951 with a $18,000 budget.

Deen bid $10,845 for the project, while his competitor, Jarvis Construction, bid $15,130. Deen asked $25 per cubic yard of rock, should any have to be removed, and Jarvis asked $20.

There is only $10,500 left of the original appropriation, however, to do the work, although Water Dept. Superintendent Lawrence Wolfson said today he thought additional funds would be available.

LISTENING TO THEMSELVES—ATTENDERS (AP)—The attenders are being used in the English language training courses of the Royal Helms, Navy.

Students receive lessons to the recorder and then copy their errors or pronunciations when the tape is played back for correction by instructors.

Rockville-Vernon Restaurant Bid Gets Approval

The Fire District's planning commission last night gave its approval of plans to build a Howard Johnson Restaurant and motel on Rt. 30 near Martine Rd. The applicant is Kenneth E. Parsons for a permit had been referred to the planners by the zoning commission.

Plans submitted to the commission showed parking area for 125 cars.

At a preliminary hearing held recently, parents of children who attend Vernon Elementary School nearby voiced opposition to the proposal.

Approval was given the plan of the Manchester-Rockville Answering Service for conversion of a structure at Vernon Circle into a business building for office rental. They are also planning construction of a 27 by 16 foot, two-story addition to the monthly property.

A question arose regarding access to the road since traffic conditions in the area are heavy. Members felt that the state traffic department has jurisdiction in the problem.

An application by the Furniture Repair Shop, Rt. 30, Taintorville, Vermont, has been approved to construct a one-story, frame structure, 26 by 50 feet, to be used for storage of furniture. The town planning commission met on Tuesday night to a one-year term. He had been vice president of the board.

In his acceptance speech, the Rev. Mr. Hicks called for the board to overcome the "wall of segregation" in the town, and to bring about the tool of any pressure group.

Negro Heads School Board

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The new president of the St. Louis Board of Education is a Negro, first of his race to hold the position.

The Rev. John J. Hicks, pastor of the Union Memorial Methodist church, was unanimously elected Tuesday night to a one-year term. He had been vice president of the board.

In his acceptance speech, the Rev. Mr. Hicks called for the board to overcome the "wall of segregation" in the town, and to bring about the tool of any pressure group.

Students Pledged To Fraternities

Recent pledges to fraternities for the current year at Trinity College, Hartford, have been announced by Dr. O. W. Lacy, dean of students.

Dr. Lacy said that although he feels college life will be better in the future, he is unable to wait. He said lots in the area will be enlarged to provide for specific tanks.

Moses agreed to have his engineer meet with planning consultant Lincoln to redesign the area.
