Rubles vs. Dollars

USSR Losing Faith In Trade Warfare

EDITOR'S NOTE — Six years ago Soviet Premier Khrushchev put the United States on notice: "We declare war upon you—in the peaceful field of trade."

tion's trade continues to be with its captive market, the Communist bloc in Europe, but its goal of "burying" the United States as the foremost trading nation depends on the penetration of the vast and swiftly growing Western markets and the developing nations.

By STERLING F. Green WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet trade-and-aid offensive, launched a decade ago to try to sweep new and neutral nations into the Communist camp, is a growing disappointment to the Kremlin.

Soviet progress has been substantial, considering that the Soviets started virtually from scratch. But Washington's concern is less with the trade volume—as an entire bloc the Communist group generates only 5 per cent of world commerce—than with the political and propaganda impact of the Soviet economic warfare.

Comparisons of 1962 trade data now available confirm that the Soviet Union remains a puny commercial rival of the United States in all but a few limited areas of the non-Communist world.

Officials suspect that the Soviet Union gets more political mileage per ruble of foreign aid than the value of goods it exports.

Services Cut Distance for Men on Pass

WASHINGTON (AP) — The armed forces are shortening the leash on servicemen who go on pass.

Two-thirds of the Soviet Union's stamps are sold in the United States. The unidentified Bronx youth purchased 50 of the misprints for $2 on the first day of their issue, Feb. 25, 1968. Several weeks ago he sold them to wholesale stamp dealer Julius Stolow of J.E.H. Stolow, Inc., for $208 each.

The reason: too many men have been trying to cover as much as 1,000 miles on brief leaves. The result: they've been speeding, endangering their lives and the lives of civilian motorists.

Stolow said Sunday the young man "knew right away what he had" when he returned home with the stamps. The misprinted stamps commemorate the U.N.'s housing and community facilities. They are minus the black-imprinted words "housing and community facilities," which should be cornered on the left side, then continued halfway across the top.

Fund at Two-Thirds

The United Fund campaign hit the two-thirds mark today with pledges and contributions now totaling $78,850, 67 per cent of the $115,000 goal.

Events In State

7 Traffic Deaths Weekend's Toll

Fatal accidents in Darien and Trumbull Sunday night raised to seven the number of persons fatally injured in traffic over the weekend in Connecticut.

Yale Teacher Seeks Quiet After Release

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—"I'm working on my book and I hope I'll have a period of quiet after this," says Frederick C. Barghoorn, home from the Soviet Union, where he was jailed as a spy.

Arrested Oct. 31 on the espionage charge, the 52-year-old Yale professor was imprisoned in Moscow until Saturday. Then the Soviet Union, citing the personal concern expressed by President Kennedy, announced it was expelling Barghoorn. He was hustled aboard an airliner and flown to London. A second flight carried him to New York Sunday and a chartered plane brought him to New Haven.

He was taken to the apartment of Elizabeth Barghoorn, 80, his mother. Barghoorn, a bachelor, lives next door.

Werner Voelpert, 52, of Easton, was fatally injured on the Merritt Parkway Sunday night when his car hit another from behind, state police said.

The first vehicle was stopped momentarily because another car parked at the roadside was on the pavement, they said.

In Darien, a couple from New Rochelle, N.Y., were driving east on the Connecticut Turnpike Sunday night when their car suddenly veered off the highway and smashed into an abutment of an overpass.

George Freedman, 63, and his wife Frieda, 57, were fatally injured. Freedman, who state police said apparently fell asleep, died at the hospital early today.

John W. Hudson, 55, of Westport, lost his life Sunday when his auto struck a car operated by Benjamin Crawford, 42, of Norwalk at a Norwalk intersection. Crawford was injured seriously.

On Saturday night, Joseph J. Alos of Bristol, died when his car rammed a bridge abutment on Steven St. in Bristol.

Early Saturday, Frank Racozelli, 26, of New Haven, and Sharon Longo, 23, of Milford, were killed when their car hit a pole in the divider strip of the Connecticut Turnpike at Greenwich. Police said Racozelli was the driver.

Ernest Seagar, 27, of New Haven, was thrown out of the car. He was in satisfactory condition at Grace-New Haven Community Hospital.

At Backus Hospital in Norwich Sunday, Mrs. Ruth Korab, 58, an employee of the Norwich State Hospital, died of injuries received Tuesday when she was hit by a car as she crossed Rt. 12.

Moves Raise Doubt About Red Wisdom

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russians, trying to be tough, have become a cause for worry in a way they never intended. They have created doubts about their judgment, even in their own interests.

In three separate episodes in the past 13 months, they have tried to stiff-arm the United States in ways indicating they didn't think their actions through. In short, they have been erratic.

In two of these cases, by failing to anticipate the possible American reactions, they suffered international embarrassment. In the third, neither the United States nor the Soviet Union came out smelling like a rose.

They put missiles in Cuba, stopped military trucks on the autobahn in Germany, and arrested Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn, a 52-year-old expert on Soviet affairs who has made six trips to Russia.

Barghoorn, back home Sunday put it this way to explain the unexplainable Russian performance in arresting him: the Soviets "will embark on a policy, more or less, feeling their way, even playing it by ear, so to speak."

This is a disturbing realization; for, in all three cases, events could have taken a different turn.

Five Hotels Burn Down

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Fire swept through a block of hotels and rooming houses near the famed Atlantic City Boardwalk today, killing at least three persons and leaving 20 missing.

Earlier police reports had 25 persons unaccounted for but Police Capt. Hubert Bourbon said a check of Atlantic City hospitals and a family of seven that owned the hotel.

Milton Rauer, owner of the Surfside, said 20 of the guests were year-round residents of the hotel and another 10 were there on short vacations from New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

Atlantic City hospital said 22 persons were treated there. "The night watchman smelled the smoke and called me on the switchboard," Rauer said. "I woke up my wife, she grabbed a dress, and then we woke up our three sons and my mother. We all jumped through a back window about 15 feet to the ground."

All the missing had been staying at the Surfside. The search continued for more possible victims of the blaze that destroyed five hotel buildings and a rooming house and damaged an apartment building before it was brought under control.

The building was engulfed in flames in about five minutes, he said.

Mrs. Rauer said 30 guests were registered and all were in the building Sunday night, along with the Rauer family of six, and the night watchman, Philip Johnson.

Six workmen in one of the hotels escaped to safety when the owner of the building heard the fire engines and roused them from sleep. They had been staying at the building while making renovations.

Blood Meant Much To Lawson Family

By PHINEAS FISKE

This is the story of what blood meant to Charlotte and Leonard Lawson. It was told in this reporter's interview with Leonard Lawson as the result of his overpowering desire, which grew from his experience and gratitude, to stimulate more blood donations.

It led to big bugs bite, and she went to sleep.

Lawson woke about 4:30 the next morning. "I was a shell; I had no emotions left, being so difficult to get up and administer to myself."

Perhaps his story, if enough people read it and are moved by it, could be a little help to some of those who have given.

The story really began four years ago when the Lawson family learned that Charlotte had leukemia. They knew from the moment how serious it could be. But they had always been busy together as the neighborhood "mom" and "daddy" and had never thought to each other or to themselves.

"We made our peace," Lawson says, "and decided what ever came would come, and we'd live a normal life until then."

But on Aug. 30, Charlotte was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital with pain in her hip, pains she had tried to dismiss as unimportant.

When Charlotte went to the hospital, neither of them knew, though they perhaps suspected, that this was a leukemia flare-up.

But by the 26th it was evident that something was seriously wrong, and she was transferred to the leukemia ward, particularly excellent Boston hospital.

Lawson went to see her every other day, while his partner filled in for him as her doctor. He was an electrician and motor repair business in Hartford.

"On Thursday, Sept. 5, the Red Cross said she might need a lot of blood. What got me called the church—St. Mary's, where Charlotte was a regular worshiper—and to my husband and me, all our friends for help."

Many responded gladly although they could not give through the Manchester Bloodmobile because it did not schedule stop until Sept. 12, the day of Charlotte's funeral.

"I went to Boston again Friday with Father (the Rev. William Gander). This time I was not permitted to park their cars in the Municipal Building because the Police Chief Jackson has granted permission to do so on registration to park in Center Springs Park and side streets in the vicinity of the Municipal Building."

A parking lot at Lincoln School was used from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. on Wednesday. A snack bar will open at 3 p.m. and a buffet dinner will be served from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.
