Records Made Public: MERIDEN (AP)—Records of properties taken for removal purposes by the Meriden Development Agency will become public information as the result of a successful court challenge by the Meriden Journal.

The information on acquisition and appraisal of properties will be released to the public in three states under terms of a settlement reached by the agency and the newspaper yesterday.

The Journal claims it has won the first test case of its kind brought under Connecticut's so-called right to know law.

The law, in part, defines what records of public agencies are available to the public—and sets limits on the amount of records a public body may use in its activities.

The Meriden Record Co., publisher of the Journal, and Curtis H. White, vice president and general manager of the company, brought complaints against the agency.

Cyprus Students Fight with Police At U.S. Embassy

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Thousands of Greek students, denouncing the United States on the Cyprus issue, clashed with police in front of the U.S. Embassy here today.

A crowd of students estimated to number 4,000 marched through the streets of downtown Athens to the embassy buildings and burst paper and feathers—a symbol of Turkey—on the embassy walls.

A cartoon of President Johnson wearing a red fez was hoisted up by students who screamed "America keep your hands off Cyprus!"

American murderers, and Yankes back to Texas."

Greek police had thrown a cordon around the embassy building and clashes erupted when they waded into the students to break up the demonstration.

They also marched to the British embassy and then to the office of Prime Minister George Papandreu with signs saying "NATO out of Cyprus."

There was no violence.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said that the Greek government had asked for the state visit to be cancelled.

Tape-Recorded Interviews To Cover Career of JFK

By JOSEPH E. MOHRLAY: WASHINGTON (AP)—A possible assassination attempt was made on the banks of Boston's Charles River.

Some of them—for reasons of national security—were avoided in public where personal files are discussed—may not be made public during the lifetime of the person involved.

The interviews will be conducted in four phases.

In the first round, which got under way last week, the interviewees Friday, about 200 officials, were called to the Kennedy Library.

The attorney general talked into the night and continued today, recording his memories of his assassination.

Helping him, by acting as an interviewer, was author and former Ambassador John Bartlow Martin.

In the end the tape-recorded interviews—some of which will be filmed—will be deposited in the Kennedy Library to be built in Cambridge, Mass.

Rubber Game with Plainville Next Rockville Scores In Basketball Tournament

Complete domination of the backboards was the key last night as Rockville High successfully hurdled its first obstacle — Branford High — in its bid for the Tournament crown. Coach John Canavari's five, however, had to come behind in the second round, losing 40-38 to Plainville High in a game which was a crowd of 200.

Co-champions with Woodrow Wilson High, Branford, lost to the regular season bump up against league rival Plainville High in a game which was a crowd of 200.

During the 1963-64 championship season, Plainville tackled the worst defeat of its career, a 72-56 loss to Rockville High. However, in a return meeting at Rockville, the Rams overcame their previous defeat to again secure matters.

One of the "big" men for Rockville, Branford's defense were unable to stop the out-of-control guard who pumped in 26 points and captured the game with a buzzer shot. But, Puts missed a buzzer shot, so that was the end of the game.

Head Coach Niederwieser was the winner's most consistent performer. Along with his teammates, Niederwieser was a key player in the victory. He scored 17 points and made 10 out of 17 free throws.

Defending Class C Champions Woodbury Upsets Elington, 59-53

By HOWIE HOLCOMB
Midnight final came after a year's delay—for the Ellington High School basketball team last night. Last season, apparently playing under a lucky star, the Purple Knights went all the way and captured the State Class C championship.

Their bid to make it two straight was ended last night when they lost to Woodbury, 59-53, at Plainville before about 900 fans.

Woodbury thus advances to the second round of the tournament, meeting with South Windsor Monday night at 8:45 at Manchester High. The Purple Knights were ranked 19th among the 28 Class C tournament teams.

Little Jack Wright was the star for Woodbury. He scored 18 points and made 10 out of 17 free throws. Wright also had 10 rebounds and 5 assists.

Celtics Minus Leader Still Show the Way

NEW YORK (AP)—So the Celtics still don't have a lake-champion leader. They're still winning and hold a 2 1/2 game Eastern Division lead over Cincinnati.

The defending National Basketball Association champions are on a roll. They have won 10 of their last 11 games, including a 137-112 victory over the Pistons.

The Celtics' lead is now 2 1/2 games over the Pistons. They have a record of 21-10 in the Eastern Division.

Finley Ends Dispute And Agrees to Lease

John Mather Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will confer the second degree Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. All officers are reminded of the rehearsal to be held at 7, before the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Platt and family, 122 Baldwin Rd., have been visiting their sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. M. Jessup, Dade City, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Perrett, Sarasota, both in Florida. The Platts also plan to visit Tarpon Springs and St. Petersburg.

Cadet Ralph H. Cowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Cowell, 88 Buckingham St., recently was promoted to "cadet sergeant" for performing his duties in an excellent manner at Wentworth Military Academy, Lexington, Mo. He has been given the duties of Range NCO on the Brigade Staff.

The Rotary Club will meet Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Manchester Country Club. Youth Government Day will be observed. The elected officials will be the speakers in spite of the fact that, due to the storm on the originally appointed day, Feb. 19, they were unable to act or serve in the office which they were elected. The new date has not yet been set.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gill of Tuckerton, N.J., and their two children are weekend guests of Mrs. Gill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Skoneski of 43 Edward St.

Business Bodies

IN NEW OFFICES LaBonne-Silverstein Associates Inc., insurance agency, formerly at 153 Main St., has moved to 185 Main St. into Manchester's most modern styled and air-conditioned business offices.

The expanded quarters, from 1,500 square feet to 2,200 square feet of office space, provides cubicle offices for the firm's road salesmen, a larger clerical area, modern conference room, and three private executive offices.

George T. LaBonne Jr., president of the insurance firm, has an office of contemporary design, with modern furniture in a backdrop of harvest colors. An P.M. system has been installed in the conference room and kitchenette area. The company's interior decor features green tweed wall-to-wall carpeting, augmented by vinyl Colony Gold and off-white walls, and a peccan paneling, throughout the main office and reception room areas.

An early American motif prevails in the front reception room with American eagle designed wallpaper. In the conference room and kitchenette area the papered walls display state seals. A vacado green drapes and peccan paneling complete the decor.

The insurance firm has numerous sound-proof rooms, one being LaBonne's private office. An P.M. music system has been installed in the ceiling in each room. There is also a private intercom system.

LaBonne-Silverstein started into insurance activities in 1956 with just four people, including LaBonne and Lee M. Silverstein (head of the firm's affiliate in Sarasota, Fla.), in 300 feet of floor space at 808 Main St.

In 1957, the business moved to 153 Main St. with 600 square feet of office space and later added additional floor area in the same building.

Today, the firm has Connecticut offices in West Hartford and East Hartford, and employs 19 staff members. Two suites of offices in the new building are being sub-leased to local attorneys.

An open house is planned for a date to be announced in the near future.

DIRECTOR OF SALES James P. Hagarty, an East Hartford native, has been named director of sales of the Newton Co. at 55 Elm St. It was announced this week by R. N. Nicola, president.

A graduate of the University of Connecticut School of Business Administration, Hagarty will direct the national sales organization of the Newton Power Pulse Control.

In the Feb. 6, 1964 issue of the Iron Age Magazine publication, Newton's remote-control overhead cranes of the Power Pulse Control systems were explained in a full-page feature story.

The publication pointed out that "the traveling overhead crane has found an ideal mate in detached, remote control. With this method, one man equipped with a portable transmitter operates the crane from the plant floor."

JOB PROSPECTS Career opportunities in today's specialized industrial economy were reviewed Wednesday at the 11th annual "Expectations Conference" held at the University of Hartford.

Students and guests from the Greater Hartford-Manchester business community were welcomed by Chancellor Vincent Brown Coffin and Dr. Gordon B. Cross, business dean.

The yearly event, which surveys job prospects and current economic patterns in Central Connecticut, was held at Hudson Hall under the sponsorship of Epsilon Alpha Zeta, honorary UoffH business fraternity, and the School of Business Administration.

The program covered fields of accounting, marketing and management, and featured speakers from General Electric Co., Plainville; Boston & Maine Railroad; Fafnir Bearing Co. of New Britain; and the Aetna Life Affiliated Companies.

GETS ROGERS POST Richard C. Berry of Danielson has been named technical director of Rogers Corporation of Rogers and Manchester.

The former manager of product development, Berry is a graduate of MIT where he received a bachelor degree in chemical engineering and a master's degree in chemical engineering.

Berry joined Rogers in 1949 as a development engineer and moved up through the Research and Development department, becoming manager of product development in 1959.

In his new post, Berry will have wider responsibilities over all of the firm's research and development activities in the areas of both consumer and industrial products.

BRIEFS Robert B. Munson of Munson's Advertising, Bolton (Rt. 6) and the Manchester Shopping Parkade was a recent guest speaker at the Cos Cob Rotary Club luncheon held at the Cham Box Restaurant in Cos Cob. He spoke on the art of candy manufacturing, and showed colored movies of his own candy-making operation in Bolton.

Julian Gross, president of the Julian Gross & Associates, Inc., Hartford, advertising agency, has named Mrs. Beverly Hensley of West Hartford as vice president and account executive for the firm. The agency handles the Savings Bank of Manchester account.

Joseph W. Harrington of 47 Stephen St., a driver education expert, was one of 32 such educators from five Eastern states who participated in discussions of new techniques being used with the behind-the-wheel classroom trainer developed at the Aetna Life Companies in Hartford.

Sam Crispino, new owner of the Bursack Supermarket at 469 Hartford Rd., Tuesday will have a grand opening day for his newly acquired business, after a two-week remodeling.

NEW PRODUCTS: That striking hat you see on a woman may wind up as the base for a telephone. It's the kind of thing turned out at Telephone Center, New York City, which specializes in antique and odd designs for telephone bases. You can even get one in pink. Also, a pillow that can't pack down, lump or sag, it's claimed, is now being offered by B. F.

George T. LaBonne Jr., president of LaBonne-Silverstein Associates Inc., Insurance Agency, at 185 Main St., looks over account folder in expanded clerical office area of Manchester's newest and most modern business offices, while employee Mrs. Ann Fuller of the casualty department and Mrs. Lucette Wuschner of the auto department accounts look over clerical reports. Past Presidents Feted by Omar Past presidents of Omar Shrine Club were honored last night at Manchester Country Club.

Nine of the ten living past presidents attended, and were numbered among the 49 Nobles and friends at the meeting.

Club President Harold E. Turkington recalled the history of the club, the part each of the honored guests had played, and introduced each past president who spoke briefly. A moment of silence was observed in the memory of two deceased past presidents, Frank Gray (1954) and Walter Joyner, the first president of the club who served in 1949-50, and as chairman of the organizing committee in 1947-48.

Past presidents are Arthur Holmes (1963), Walter R. Ferguson (1962), Marvin Baker (1961), York Strangfield (1960), Elmar Lorentzen (1959), Joseph Prentice (1958), Les Bolton (who served twice, in 1957 and 1955), Stanley Baldwin (1954), Edward Saari (1953), and Harold Barnsley (1951-52). Each will receive a lapel pin suitably inscribed.

It was announced that the 1965 Spring Ceremonial of Sphinx Temple will be held in Manchester, with Omar the host club. Entertainment was provided.

Bids Sought By Town on Water Main

The town is advertising for bids for the installation of a new water main relief trunkline, from Manchester High School to Manchester Memorial Hospital.

The project is expected to benefit both the high school and the hospital by supplying more water pressure for ordinary daily use, as well as increased service for fire protection.

Water pressure on the second floor of the hospital has been a worry for some time to hospital and fire department officials, and the improved water main is expected to correct the problem.

Payment for the project will come from a $37,000 appropriation from the Water Department Capital Improvement Reserve Fund, and was unanimously approved last September by the board of directors.

The project will start on E. Middle Tpke., in front of the high school, will run southerly along the west driveway of the school to UoffH, then easterly along Perrett Pl. to Summit St., south along Summit St. to Flower St., west along Flower St. to Main St., north on Main St. to Haynes St., and west on Haynes St. to Memorial St.

The water main will be a 12-inch pipe from the high school to Summit and Flower Sts., a 10-inch pipe to Main and Haynes Sts., and an 8-inch pipe on Haynes St.

Specifications call for labor only; the town water department is to furnish all of the materials.

The contractor is required to make all pavement repairs upon completion of the project.

Excavations and pavement repairs on Main St., which is under the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, are to comply with state regulations; other street work must comply with town regulations.

The contractor will be required to protect concrete from being damaged, to replace it at no added cost to the town.

Any disturbed lawn areas are to be replaced with four inches of loam seeded, and with grass re-established.

The contractor is required to conduct his operations so that minimum inconvenience is experienced by pedestrian or vehicular traffic.

When working in the vicinity of the high school, he is required to so conduct the work, that the arrival and departure of school personnel, students and school buses will not be delayed or hindered in any way.

If the contractor's operation encroaches on private property, he will be required to get permission first, from the property owner.

Bids for the project will be opened at 11 a.m. on March 11, in the hearing room of the Municipal Building.

NEW YORK (NEA) —
Trips-threat Carol Lawrence — dancer, singer, actress — says that her dancing background helps her acting.

"To be a dancer," she says, "you must learn muscle control and be able to stand pain. I can do that. On Wagon Train, when I played a Chinese woman, I had to hobble on feet which had supposedly been bound. It was very painful. I'm sure only a girl who had been a dancer could have done it."

Carol says she has fallen and hurt herself several times while dancing. She's sprained her ankle and almost broken a kneecap.

"That's good," she says. "It taught me to be fearless."
And fearlessness has paid off for Carol, especially in her new night club act. She sings, dances and cavorts atop an eight-foot ladder, which is rolled on casters by two dancers. At one point, it whirls around while Carol poses prettily atop and sings and does an arabesque or two.

"Bob," she says, referring to husband Robert Goulet, "got on my ladder once. He went up a few rungs and then got off. That's it," he said. He couldn't do an act on a ladder."

Brinkley Tours The Capital

A rare, David Brinkley-type view of the nation's capital and its most important citizens will be provided in "Our Man in Washington," an NBC special, Tuesday from 10-11 p.m.

Zeroing in on the pomp and circumstance of "high society foreign policy," Brinkley will serve as a tour guide to the behind-the-scenes life of one of the world's most important cities. It also happens to be the municipality Brinkley has come to know best in his two decades as an NBC News' correspondent. He has scored widely on "The Huntley-Brinkley Report," half-hour Monday-through-Friday series, and on many special telecasts.

As a point of departure, "Our Man in Washington" will chronicle the preparation for the state visit of Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia last fall. Along the way, it will illuminate the amount of energy and money generally spent on the serious business of impressing foreign dignitaries.

Among the colorful scenes on the program, with appropriate wry-and-ginger commentary by Brinkley, will be a typical Washington cocktail party, the organization of a band to lead a state parade, and various and sundry salutes considered necessary to protocol.

In a less formal vein, there will be typical scenes of Washington society in action, examples of the fine art of party crashing, and the phenomenon of "conspicuous consumption" that has valuable points on the scale of status in the social whirl of the capital city.

In the characteristic mode of David Brinkley specials, those appearing in interviews on the program will be personalities caught in unique surroundings.

For example, Chief Justice Earl Warren expresses his opinions while sitting on the poop deck of the yacht Sequoia, contentedly puffing on a cigar as the craft cruises on the Potomac.

Also included in the report are the late President John F. Kennedy; his widow, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Angier Biddle Duke, Chief of Protocol; Stewart Udall, Secretary of the Interior; Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy; and G. Mennen Williams, Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs.

The Change Of Guards In Britain

The changing character of British society and the challenges facing its leaders in that nation's retreat from world empire will be explored in a full-hour NBC program, "Britain: The Changing Guard," tomorrow from 10-11 p.m.

Joseph C. Harach, NBC News' senior correspondent in Europe, will be the narrator.

"Britain: The Changing Guard" will chronicle the revolutionary changes occurring in Great Britain's class structure. The story will be told through two members of Parliament, each representing a different extreme in British society.

One is William Winter Hamilton, a Labor Party member of the House of Commons from West Fyfe, a coalmining district. The other is Robert Alexander Lindsay (Lord Balmilly). He is a Conservative member of Commons for Hertford and the son of a hereditary peer of the realm.

Among others to be interviewed on the program will be the headmaster of Sunningdale, a typical prep school; Dr. Robert Birley, headmaster of Eton, Britain's most famous private school; and Professor Asa Briggs, chancellor of the University of Sussex, one of the new universities hoping to challenge the academic supremacy of Oxford and Cambridge.

The program will include exclusive color scenes of a fox hunt in Gloucester, a teaching session at Oxford, a dinner party at one of the stately homes in Britain, the inside of an exclusive London club, an expensive hat shop where a young English gentleman is fitted for a bowler, and the offices of a management consultant who interviews two job candidates — one a graduate of a less exclusive school.

"Whether or not she becomes a member of the European Common Market," says producer George Vioas, "Britain faces serious challenges. Politically and socially, there are rumbles of discontent at home. Economically, she must compete with Europe and the United States. Technologically, she is in a race with America and the Soviet Union. These changes spell change, and could greatly alter the country's basic patterns. What these changes are at present and what they're liable to be in the future is the theme of 'Britain: The Changing Guard.'"

Daytime Shows Designed For Distracted Housewife

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — If ever there was a misrepresented segment of the vast television audience, it is the women who turn on their sets during the daytime hours.

They have been repeatedly pictured as a lazy, slacked-jawed group, loitering in front of their sets, suffering deliciously over the problems of the soap opera families or watching other people play games. Dishes are supposed to be stacking up in the sink, beds go unmade and poor, hard-working dad is lucky if he gets cold cuts and potato salad for dinner.

The truth is that daytime serials and panel or game shows are admirably designed and used for auxiliary occupations. While football or baseball-watching demands the (usually male) viewer's total attention, it is easy and pleasant to sew, darn, knit, hook rugs, paint china, wash dishes, even make beds while following the progress of "You Don't Say" or the involvements of "As the World Turns." They require, at the most, only an occasional glance at the television screen.

There will soon be another birth-and-a-death-in-the-big-Goodson-Todman family of panel shows. The eight programs, spread around all three networks, will be joined by a ninth, "Get the Message," on ABC March 30. But NBC's "Missing Links" departs at the end of March.

The network once again will shuffle its daytime schedule and put the new show into an 11 a.m. spot. "Seven Keys," an audience participation show, will be dropped, on the eve of its third birthday.

"Get the Message" will use celebrity-audience participant teams to guess words on the basis of clues.

The Legacy Of Thresher Presented

A complete pictorial record of the search for the sunken atomic submarine Thresher and the lessons learned from the disaster are highlights of "CBS Reports: The Legacy of the Thresher," Wednesday from 7:30-8:30 p.m.

The broadcast shows how the tragic accident revealed our real lack of knowledge about the oceans around us and how it spurred scientific exploration of the unplumbed ocean depths.

The nuclear-attack sub Thresher, with 129 aboard, made a dive to its classified test depth on April 10, 1963, in approximately 8,400 feet of water 254 miles E.N.E. of Boston. It never surfaced again. The Thresher thereafter became the object of one of the most difficult and extensive naval searches in history. The search ended four months later when evidence obtained by the bathyscaphe Trieste proved that the final resting place of the sub had been found.

While the fate of the Thresher is now known beyond a shadow of doubt, the study of the circumstances of the first major casualty of our nuclear Navy is still progressing. At the same time, great strides are being made in perfecting techniques for deep underwater search and submarine safety.

Immediately after the disaster, "CBS Reports" asked naval authorities for permission to report the hunt for the sub. Permission was granted and camera crews were able to record the entire history of the search. Thus, "CBS Reports: The Legacy of the Thresher" traces the underwater quest step by step and illustrates how all available scientific and naval facilities were marshaled in the effort.

Remarkable films of the ocean floor 8,400 feet down are included in the broadcast. The

In 'Andy Griffith' Cast, Jim Nabors Gets a Show

By RUTH E. THOMPSON
Meet a real, honest-to-goodness, genuine overnight success: Jim Nabors.

A protégé of Andy Griffith, Jim—who'd had no previous acting experience—was written into the CBS "Andy Griffith Show" last year as the minor character of gas station attendant Gomer Pyle in eight episodes. This year he has 24 episodes.

And next year? The jackpot: "The Jim Nabors Show" bows in September, Saturday evenings at 9:30 p.m. on CBS. And Gomer's horizons, away from the gas station... the Marines being the next stop.

"I just stood there gawking. I couldn't believe it," was Jim's reaction when he found out what Andy was plotting on Nabors' behalf. "He said they were planning a spin-off—a juicy script with a big part for Jim that could be used as a pilot and which, if sold, would be the nucleus of Jim's own series. (Spin-offs are a handy way to save 60,000 or more dollars—the price of a pilot.)

Since the network liked, and sponsors bought, its star billing for Jim.

There's something about the 30-year-old Alabamian that magnifies success. It seems to have been pursuing him, instead of the other way around.

After graduation from the University of Alabama he tackled his degree in business administration. "I took the first job that wanted me—typist at the UN... and that's the only time I ever used my business training."

He turned down a more promising job at an advertising agency because it "didn't seem like me" and drove off to Chattanooga... landed a job at television station WRGR becoming both film director and a daily TV personality.

But then the wanderlust hit him. He wanted to live in California. The NBC station in Los Angeles did give him a job. In the warehouse. But bang-bang he rose again to Assistant Film Editor.

At the same time he was scouting over evenings to the remarkable nightclub "The Horn" in Santa Monica which showcases talented amateurs and fledgling professionals. Carol Burnett honed her talents there.

And after about half a year of visiting, so did Jim Nabors. Coaxed to the spotlight one night he did some hillbilly songs, talked a little, and caught the attention of Bill Dana, then a writer for Steve Allen.

Bill started writing Jim Nabors into the Allen show (then on ABC) and it became such a regular thing that, says Jim, "I took the plunge, quit my daytime job, only to have that particular Allen series canceled a week later.

"However, I got a one-week booking up in San Francisco at 'The Purple Onion,' was renewed for three months with billing after that first week.

"What did I do?" Sang a mixture of hillbilly, opera and show tunes.

"Yes, opera, or at least all that I know, and all of which I owe to Richard Fredericks now of the San Francisco Opera, who was at 'The Horn' when I was and who taught me."

After that "it was back to Hollywood. No real job, so for the fun of it he went back to 'The Horn' where Griffith and a theatrical agent discovered him for themselves and snapped him up.

"So there I was on the set with these real pros like Andy and Don Knotts and you know how I felt? Scared. But they knew I hadn't acted before and everyone of them did all sorts of things to make me feel at ease. And this year, when we did the spin-off, well, by then he was smooth as silk in his role.

"I do think people misunderstand Gomer, though. You see, he's not dumb. He's just inexperienced socially and thinks the human race is a wonderful thing."

"They've got something in common. Though Jim Nabors has all his social graces, he obviously agrees the human race is a wonderful thing."

The Legacy

films were taken with special Navy underwater cameras from inside the bathyscaphs Trieste as it searched the bottom for a clue to the missing sub.

In special interviews with leading oceanographers, naval personnel and men who have spent their lives at sea, "CBS Reports" tells why the ocean depths are considered to be a dangerous and as yet unbreached frontier, as forbidding as the moon itself. The broadcast tells why it is said that mankind's survival and progress may hinge on cracking the secrets still locked in the world beneath the ocean surface.

Additionally, the broadcast points out why experts consider that the accident of the Threshold sinking may help in the creation of a safer underwater fleet.

34 Seamen Lucky Rescuers Nearby

HALIFAX, N. S. (AP)—Thirty-four survivors of the broken Greek tanker Amphialos arrived in Halifax early today aboard a Canadian warship after a dramatic rescue from the stormy North Atlantic.

Two members of the 38-man Greek crew perished after the 15,800-ton tanker split in two under the battering of gale winds and 20-foot waves off the Nova Scotia coast Saturday. Five of the survivors were taken to a hospital on stretchers.

Capt. Stamatis Polemis, the Amphialos' skipper, said he and his men hung for hours to a rail of the stern section until they were picked up Sunday afternoon by the Canadian destroyer escort Athabaskan. A 300-foot bow section of the 680-foot ship floated away and sank.

King Failing, Clots Blamed

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Ailing King Paul of Greece suffered a serious setback today and his doctors reported tonight that his general condition is worsening.

The third medical bulletin of the day said blood clots afflicting the king after his stomach operation of two weeks ago "show a slight improvement under the influence of treatment."

But the bulletin added: "The worsening of the condition of His Majesty the King, provoked by the clots, is continuing."

The bulletin, signed by the king's three regular doctors, added that the monarch's temperature was normal, "with a slight quickening of the heart beat."

Asked to confirm the number of men aboard his ship, Polemis said briskly, "We had 38. Now we have 34."

The rescue followed a chance observation by a Canadian air force plane during a training mission.

Men Ride 'Shotgun' For Florida Railway

EDITOR'S NOTE — Last month, four freight trains of the Florida East Coast Railway were derailed by dynamite. Now the line, operating despite a strike, sends armed guards ahead of the trains. Two were accompanied by an Associated Press writer.

By BERNARD GAVER
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — James Alley got into the rail car, slipped a bone-handled 38-caliber Smith & Wesson from his holster and placed it on the seat.

His partner, Wilkes Dorriety, put a mahogany-handled pistol alongside Alley's.

Alley shifted the vehicle gear into drive and began another tour "riding shotgun for the railroad."

Alley and Dorriety are among the men who ride the Florida East Coast Railway tracks ahead of freight trains, which were derailed by dynamite four times last month. They are like infantry scouts, or the shotgun guards who rode the stage coaches of the old West.

Since the first dynamiting, Feb. 9, the two men concentrate on detecting signs of dynamite. "Watch the rails," Alley said. "And if you see a wire on it, hang on."

The sole beneficiary of her deathbed will, John Rees, notified the late author's lawyer, Bernard I. Snieron of Laconia, N.H., Sunday that he is giving up his claim.

Snieron said Rees' action might result in an agreement to reinstate the terms of an earlier will.

McAlister Autopsy Scheduled

WILTON (AP)—Richard McAlister and Edward McNally were afraid that a resident state trooper was going to find out what happened to McAlister's father.

That was why the two decided to flee to Texas. The police said this weekend.

McAlister, 18, and McNally, 17, are accused of shooting Wilton High School senior John Shinnery Feb. 23 to get a car for the trip.

State police said they admitted that slaying and the slaying last August 29 of Edwin McAlister, a U. S. Navy veteran who had survived the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor.

William Quaintance, the trooper, did have his suspicions, but Quaintance said this weekend he had nothing solid to base them on.

Nevertheless, last September, a few days after McAlister had reported his father's disappearance, state police searched cellars, woods and wells, on the chance there might be a body.

Authorities finally found the remains Saturday in a shallow grave in a wooded section of West Redding. The approximate location had been pointed out by McAlister and McNally, state police said.

Edwin McAlister, 46, of Weston, Conn., served 28 years as a chief boatwain's mate before retiring to become a butcher in a Norwalk Market. (AP Photofax.)

Metalious Estate Set for Children

LACONIA, N.H. (AP)—The estate of "Payton Place" author Grace Metalious—estimated at up to $1 million—apparently will go to her three children.

The sole beneficiary of her deathbed will, John Rees, notified the late author's lawyer, Bernard I. Snieron of Laconia, N.H., Sunday that he is giving up his claim.

Snieron said Rees' action might result in an agreement to reinstate the terms of an earlier will.

Events In State

Dempsey Against Special Session

HARTFORD (AP)—A special General Assembly session on redistricting "would be a waste of time and taxpayers' money," Governor Dempsey said today, unless the Republicans are willing to revamp both Houses of the state legislature and the state's congressional districts.

He added he is ready to call a special session "whenever I am given an indication that the Republican party is ready to make a sincere effort to give the public proper representation in its government."

The governor and the Democrats want to reapportion the State Senate and the House on a population basis in line with a federal court decision.

The Republicans want only to revamp the Senate where they are in a minority.

The governor's comments came after he received a letter from GOP leaders, delivered at the capitol this morning, which called for a special session and set forth the party's plans for redistricting.

The letter—signed by GOP State Chairman A. Searle Pinney, House Speaker J. Tyler Patterson, one House Majority Leader Louis Padula and Senate Minority Leader Peter P. Mariani—said that any special session of the General Assembly should take these steps:

—Create six congressional districts of approximately equal population to replace the present five districts and one at-large seat.

—Set up state senatorial districts "of substantially equal population."

The letter urged, however, that no General Assembly action be taken for reapportioning the House.

"The people of Connecticut understand," the GOP said, "that the state House of Representatives is constituted exclusively as our state constitution provides for representation by the state's basic society on population. This creates the same kind of balanced, two-house system under which the U.S. Senate and House function."

A federal court ruled last month that both houses of the state legislature are unconstitutionally constituted. The GOP now plans to appeal this decision to the U.S. Supreme Court and said that, until the high tribunal acts, "it would clearly be a derelict to the people of Connecticut to attempt any House reapportionment in a special legislative session."

Asserting that both parties are agreed to the need for reapportioning Senatorial and Congressional districts, the Republicans declared, "we see no reason why the composition of such districts cannot be speedily determined if all concerned work on the problem in good faith."

Cancer Kills Mrs. Wagner, Mayor's Wife

NEW YORK (AP)—Susan Wagner, wife of Mayor Robert F. Wagner, died today.

Mrs. Wagner, 54, had been ailing about 10 months. Earlier today her doctor reported her critically ill with lung cancer.

She died at the mayoral home, Gracie Mansion.

Deputy Mayor Edward F. Cannagh Jr. and City Council President Paul R. Screvane, who were with the mayor at Gracie Mansion, ordered the city's flags to be flown at half staff for a mourning period of 30 days.

The Wagners have two sons, Robert Jr., a junior at Harvard; and Duncan, a student at a prep school. Both are at home now.

Plane Struck Peak East of Nevada Lake

TAHOE VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Air searchers found the wreckage today of a four-engine plane that crashed into a Sierra peak, east of Lake Tahoe, killing all 85 persons aboard.

A doctor, taken by helicopter to the remote scene at the 8,800-foot level of a snowy mountain, confirmed there were no survivors.

The Paradise Airlines Constellation vanished in a snowstorm Sunday while carrying 81 passengers and a crew of five to Nevada's casinos and ski resorts on a flight from San Jose, Calif.

An airline official at Tahoe Airport, destination of the flight, said the plane hit the peak with such force that wreckage was scattered over a large area.

The pilot, caught in a snowstorm while nearing the airport, had radioed he was "holding" but the airline spokesman said: "I would say he was on his way to Reno when he hit."

Plans were made to send in helicopters to remove the bodies.

Lt. Col. Alexander S. Sherry, deputy commander of the Western Air Rescue Center, Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., told an airport news conference the wreckage was spotted just west of the hamlet of Genoa, Nev.

Just before the conference, a helicopter pilot told The Associated Press the wreckage was found 200 feet below the top of a rugged peak among those which rise up to 10,000 feet or more in the ski and gambling playground around Lake Tahoe.

The mountain where California's biggest air tragedy occurred is named Genoa Peak.

The spotting helicopter was one of 17 which flew out today over the rugged wilderness scene near the site of the 1960 Squaw Valley winter Olympics.

A ground party in snow tractors headed for the wreckage. It was reported to be midway between Zephyr Cove and Genoa east of the glittering 25-by-12 mile lake.

The Constellation wreckage was first seen by Capt. Leroy

Hotel Owner Pleads Fifth

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward Levinson, Las Vegas hotel and gambling casino operator, pleaded his Fifth Amendment privilege in the Bobby Baker probe today, protesting that federal agents have tapped his telephone and had invaded the hearing room to subpoena him.

Levinson, object of a widespread search by the committee showed up at the office of the Senate Rules Committee early today and volunteered to testify.

Service of the summons in a Senate building, purportedly by an Internal Revenue Service agent, drew stinging criticism from Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., presiding at the hearing.

"I would say that I deplore the action of the federal government or any agency thereof, in taking advantage of a witness who has appeared voluntarily or under subpoena" to serve the

British Plane Hits Mountain, 83 Die

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Victims of a British airliner crash were to be recovered from an Alpine ravine today and brought to this winter resort for an attempt at identification.

Helicopters took Austrian rescue teams to the charred wreckage of the four-engine Bristol Britannia between two peaks Sunday after a U.S. Air Force search plane spotted the blackened tail fin sticking out of the snow.

Austrian officials said the airliner, trying to land through fog at Innsbruck Airport, slammed into 8,800-foot Mt. Gamslahner Spitz southeast of the resort where the 1964 Winter Olympics were held.

The big turboprop plane, its fuel tanks still nearly half full, apparently struck the mountain at full speed and exploded. Debris and bodies were strewn over a 2,000-yard area in the gully between Gamslahner and Glungezer peaks.

The 75 passengers included 73 Britons bound for a skiing holiday, an Austrian and a Canadian. The airline, International Eagle, said there were 18 married couples aboard and at least five children. The plane carried a crew of eight.

"It is horrible," said an Alpine rescue service member. "Arms, legs and heads are strewn about in the debris. I don't see how we could ever identify the victims."

Tape-recorded messages between the pilot, Capt. E. Williams, 40, and the Innsbruck control tower roused suspicions that the plane's altimeters were defective. Williams gave his altitude as 10,000 feet, which would have been well above the peaks.

"Even 100 feet more altitude would have been enough for the plane to clear the mountain tops and escape the disaster," said Dr. Eduard Obrist, deputy security director of Tyrol Province.

Dr. Leopold Koehler of the Austrian Civil Aviation Office said Williams, described as one of Eagle's veteran pilots, was given a detailed weather report and told that airport visibility was above international safety limits.

"Apparently the pilot was prepared to land because he did not inform the control tower of any

Scranton Says He'd Refuse Nod for Vice Presidency

EDITOR'S NOTE — For months, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton has figured in speculation about the Republican presidential nomination.

How does he feel about it now that the convention is only four and a half months away? He gives his views in this exclusive interview.

By JACK BELL
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton said today that after giving the matter the "deep thought" suggested by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, he hopes to avoid contesting for the Republican presidential nomination.

Moreover, Scranton said in an Associated Press interview, he would decline to vice president if it were offered to him by his party. He had not previously made such a flat statement.

Scranton, by his state's constitution to a single term as governor ending in January 1967, is regarded as a likely compromise choice for first place in this year's national ticket by Republicans seeking a party moderate with appeal to big city voters to oppose President Johnson.

Following is the text of Scranton's answers.

GOP Challenging Order To Reapportion Assembly

NEW HAVEN (AP)—The state Republican organization was primed today to challenge the authority of the U.S. District Court to order reapportionment of the General Assembly.

The court ruled Feb. 10 that both the House and Senate must be reapportioned.

In doing so, the three-judge panel agreed with the principal contention of a suit filed with the backing of the League of Women Voters—that many residents of the state are seriously under-represented at the legislature.

Both chambers must be revised, the court said, in such way as to make each member of the House represent approximately the same number of people as each other House member and each member of the Senate the same as each other senator.

When the decision was announced, the court invited all interested parties to submit proposals for achieving these ends, setting today as the deadline.

$100,000 REWARD — The Association of American Railroads today offered a $100,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of dynamiters who wrecked a Florida East Coast Railway train on Feb. 28. The offer was disclosed in telegrams the association sent to President Johnson and Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida. Daniel P. Loomis, association president, said the organization's board of directors authorized the reward. The telegrams praised Johnson for ordering the FBI to investigate the dynamite attacks on the strike-bound Florida line, and criticized the savagery of the attacks. The Feb. 28 explosion was the fifth in less than three weeks. Both the striking nonoperating unions and the rail management have condemned the dynamitings.

Shelve Shelters

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Armed Services subcommittee voted 4 to 1 today to shelve the administration's $199.6-million fallout shelter program. Chairman Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said he and Sens. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio and Glenn Beall, R-Mo., voted to defer action.

In a brief reading for filing today, the GOP said the district court exceeded its authority in its decision.

"The court is doing something alien to its basic nature," the brief said, "involving matters over which a completely separate and distinct branch of government has been granted exclusive jurisdiction."

Redistricting and reapportionment, the brief said, "involve legislative and executive power, not judicial."

Furthermore, the brief said, the Republican party might injure its chances on appeal if it joined other participants in the case in offering reapportionment proposals.

MacArthur In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur flew here from New York today and was immediately taken to Walter Reed Hospital for "observation of abdominal complaints." The five-star general walked off the military airplane and entered a limousine for the trip to the hospital. His military plane had landed at Washington National Airport. A hospital spokesman said he had no further details immediately on the general's condition.
