Clark After New Record, Expect Crowd of 250,000

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Scot Jimmy Clark, world road racing champion, will charge across the starting line of the 48th Indianapolis 500-mile auto race Saturday, determined to break a string of American victories going back to Howard Wilson in 1918.

His effort may bring out the biggest paying crowd ever drawn by an American sporting event, upwards of 250,000. Italian Dario Resta, in a French Peugeot, was the last foreign winner in 1916 before World War I closed the old 1/2-mile racing oval for two years.

Clark finished qualifying records in a new British-American Hybrid car, a dagger-slim green Lotus built by Colin Chapman in London and powered by a new Ford special racing engine mounted over the back wheels.

It's a much improved version of the car in which Clark finished a close second to Parnelli Jones last year.

Face in Scoreboard Brings Protest Note

NEW YORK (AP) — There were 5,649 fans in Forbes Field, but Philadelphia Manager Gene Mauch noticed a face in the score board.

So he protested. National League headquarters now has a rather delicate decision to make.

Her's what happened Thursday night as the Phillies lost to Pittsburgh 6-4 and dropped into second place behind the San Francisco Giants.

Mauch protested at the Philadelphia office of the National League, claiming that he spotted a face in the left field scoreboard.

Knowing full well that faces in scoreboards often steal signs, Mauch said this face had no business being in the scoreboard.

The Pirates, relief specialist admitted he was in the scoreboard.

"I went there just before the first inning," he said. And, said Mauch, he had reason for being in the scoreboard.

While the Phillies and Giants were watching back onto the stands, the Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati played with another team winning. It scores in a 2-1 tie, called because of curfew after 11 p.m., and will be replayed.

ANNUAL REPORT

Donald R. Ross of Newington and A. C. Ryder of West Granby have been named to directorships at Colonial Board Co. at 615 Parker St. during the 51st annual stockholders meeting recently. All current directors were renamed to the board also.

Ross, assistant treasurer of the company, has been with the firm since 1952 and is a 1950 graduate of the University of Connecticut with a B.B. degree in accounting.

Ryder is a second vice president of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Hartford and is a 1931 graduate of the University of New Hampshire. The firm reported net profit earnings for 1963 amounted to $99,811 as compared to $152,749 for the year 1962. Last year's earnings per share, after preferred dividends of $39,377, amounted to 40 cents per share compared to $1.17 per share in 1962.

Consolidated sales of all companies, including Norfolk subsidiary, showed a 1963 increase of 2.5 per cent.

A regular quarterly preferred dividend of 37.5 cents per share was declared payable on June 15 to stockholders of record today (May 29), the board announced.

Robert P. Fuller, in his president's message to stockholders, stated that the ratio of current assets to current liabilities improved from approximately 1 to 1 in 1962 to 1.1 in 1963 which means that the corporation grew stronger in its ability to handle a growing business volume.

Board sales increased at Lydall & Foulds division and remained competitively priced. Cost control efforts improved operations satisfactorily, and a present survey is being done to determine the means and feasibility of increasing this division's productivity, Fuller said.

Regarding shoeboard products involving the Colonial plant here and the Shufbre plant in Covington, Tenn., early 1964 shoe production may be weak but all indications point to substantial strengthening as the year goes on, he added.

A thermally activated reinforcement material, so strong as to obviate the need for a steel backing, will be introduced in June. This material will simplify shoe construction and the product is now being nationally advertised under Therm-X.

In 1963, the gasoline output increased to 1.4 million gallons, Carey reported this week. (Herald photo by Oflara.)

TV Notebook

By JOAN CROSBY
NEW YORK (NEA)—Julie Harris, one of the towering talents of today's theater, was propped up in bed determined to go on with a scheduled meeting, but worried that she might have something contagious.

Fragile Julie, who was suffering from a mild virus, managed to be a dedicated performer who is still considerate of those around her. Unlike some actors, who expect the world handed to them, she is amazed at the degree of consideration returned to her.

Julie has just made her filmed television debut last night in "The Robbins Ring," for the Kraft Suspense Theater. Julie couldn't get over the thoughtful treatment which the entire crew showed during the filming of the show.

Caring for Detail
"They take such care for the smallest details," she said in her distinctive voice, deep and strong, yet whisper-soft. "It's so amazing to me because I'm from the theater where people can take all the time they need to prepare a show and still, either from sloppiness or lack of caring, mistakes are made. But in filmed television, where they are pressed for time, every little thing is important."

With Julie the play is very much the thing. She liked the script of Suspense Theater, although she says she is not offered as many television scripts as people might suppose.

"I am so identified with the stage, aren't I?" she asks.

She imagines she would be interested in appearing on filmed television more often. (All her appearances on Hall of Fame have been on tape, which means they are performed as live shows.) She will work any time, any place. Unlike too many performers, with her, money is not all.

Ophelia in the Park
As soon as she recovered from her virus she began rehearsals as Ophelia for the New York Shakespeare Festival production of Hamlet. This will be performed in New York's Central Park, where the audience doesn't have to pay, and the actors work for minimum salaries.

"It really is so exciting to think about it," she smiled.

"The audiences in the park are so attentive, so rapt by what they are hearing. I have never acted there before, but I have seen many productions. I have been longing to play Ophelia—I haven't since school."

"This is really a labor of love for everyone connected with the production. And yet," she added, "I'm being paid $200 a week. It seems to me to be a very good salary."

The story of the Apostle Paul, filmed in the footsteps of his missionary journeys, will be presented Sunday on NBC-TV from 1-2 p.m.

Those TV Breaks, Relief Just Ahead?

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that the Emmy Awards and the inter-network guerrilla warfare is over, there is time to consider what may be the start of something big for viewers.

The National Association of Broadcasters has made the first tentative step toward the reduction—or at least control—of those long minutes between the end of one program and the beginning of the next.

This period—sometimes 10 or 11 minutes—usually is crammed with bits and pieces, often highly profitable, that the industry calls "clutter."

Our hero rides off into the sunset several minutes before the official end of the show. Then we are treated to a scene designed to lure us to next week's episode, followed by a long, long listing of the cast, producer, director, associate producer, assistant director, cameraman, assistant cameraman, and everybody even remotely connected with the program.

Then come the final commercials, immediately followed by two or three station-break sales pitches and the inevitable station identification. Then comes theme music and the living room viewer sees a teaser scene from the oncoming show designed to keep him from switching the dial.

Viewers have grumbled about clutter for years, just as they have been complaining for years about loud commercials. Nothing much happened, however, until some of the advertising agencies which buy television time also started to complain about "excessive non-program interruptions."

They thought all the between shows action watered down the effectiveness of the commercials.

Anyway, the NAB's television code review board decided to study the situation—and also the loud commercials situation.

It appears that the NAB review board is thinking about giving us more program time by counting those credit listings for "technical and physical services" as part of the limited commercial time now reserved for sponsors.

It may be that before long we will be completely in the dark as to the name of our hero's tailor, the airline which provided transportation for the game show contestants, and the furrier who loaned the guest star her chinchilla stole. Well, we just can't have everything.

Ike's Return to Normandy Televised on Eve of D-Day

"D-Day Plus 20 Years: Eisenhower Returns to Normandy," will be broadcast as a special 90-minute presentation of "CBS Reports" next Friday from 8:30-10 p.m.

The special report—in preparation for more than a year—is being broadcast on the eve of the anniversary of the Allied invasion of Normandy, that began early on the morning of June 6, 1944.

CBS News Correspondent Walter Cronkite, who covered the Normandy beachhead as a war correspondent, accompanied Eisenhower to actual invasion locations.

"CBS Reports, D-Day Plus 20 Years: Eisenhower Returns to Normandy" presents the supreme commander of the greatest wartime armada in history, General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, on a commemorative pilgrimage to the invasion beaches and other World War II sites in France and England.

Former President Eisenhower gives his personal recollections of D-Day and France's liberation, with reflections on the meaning of World War II today.

Coming two decades after that epic June in World War II, the broadcast detailing Eisenhower's journey is intended as one soldier's tribute to the Allied dead of many lands who fell on D-Day and during the momentous months of battle that finally led to Nazi surrender and Allied victory in Europe.

During the filming of this "CBS Reports" broadcast, Eisenhower revisited the Omaha and Utah beaches as well as other locales where American, British, French and Canadian forces landed. He also returned to the great embarkation point in Portsmouth, England, from which a large part of the invasion fleet was launched, and the actual headquarters locations where he met with his SHAPE staff to make the "go" decision that sent 3,000,000 men into battle across the English Channel.

MUSIC MAN'S SUMMER STINT

Meredith Willson, composer of more than 400 songs and playwright of hit Broadway musicals, will produce and star in three hour-long musical specials this summer. Appearing with him will be Rini, his Russian-born wife and concert partner, plus such notable singers as France's Caterina Valente and Italy's Sergio Franchi. The specials will be broadcast over CBS-TV on June 4, June 30 and July 28, with a repeat of one of them on August 31.

Defensive Bridge On Channel 24

"Bridge," a series of 16 basic lessons covering aspects of defensive play from leads to finesses to no trump, will begin Tuesday at 9 p.m. on Channel 24.

Taught by Jean Cox who has a sense of humor and a flair for making her point hit home, the lessons are, in her own words, "for bridge players who have played maybe for years, but have been guessing."

The first lessons consider proper leads when the play is in suits. In future lessons, Mrs. Cox demonstrates how to take tricks when the contract is in suits, the variety of finesses, proper trump management and how to utilize "otherwise useless trump," and successful no trump play.

In 'McHale Navy' Role Mr. Ballantine Forgotten

By GINETTA LOWRY. NEW YORK (AP)—"It's not, but it's also sort of sad," said the tall, lanky fellow with thinning hair. "After 25 years as the Amazing Ballantine suddenly I'm Lester Gruber. And he per cent of the people don't even remember a little fellow on the Ed Sullivan Show."

Over the years, Ballantine built a popular and highly profitable syndicate not appearing in his own right. He turned into minor disasters—rabbits refused to emerge from their holes, the wrong card always popped out of the pack.

"I read for the Gruber role," he recalled. "I was just one of about 40 guys looking for the part. They called me four days later to tell me I had it."

But to Ballantine the most incredible fact is that few of the "McHale's Navy" fans ever connect him with the magician most of them have certainly seen at some time over the past years.

Bishop Faces NBC Back on His Terms

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "They ought to give me an Emmy," says Joey Bishop with a rueful smile, "for the most canceled show in television."

The usually grim-panned Bishop can afford a smile, having braved his third cancellation in three years. He'll be back for a fourth season following network dealing as complicated as a Perry Mason script.

Earlier this year, Bishop was notified that NBC wasn't going to renew his half-hour comedy show.

"Naturally I was disappointed," he said, "because I thought we had hit a pretty good stride. I thought the premise of having me a television comedian was valid, the cast worked well together, and the guest stars were important and well-integrated into the plots."

NBC still wanted Bishop—but as emcee of an hour variety show. Bishop was willing, but he balked at signing for only 13 shows.

"I knew I couldn't assemble the best kind of staff unless I had a guarantee of 26 shows," he said. "The networks often make a decision about dropping a show after four or five have been on the air. You might not be able to hit your stride with a variety show, until you've done 10 or more. By that time it would be too late."

Bishop held firm. So did NBC. CBS was making overtures for the half-hour comedy or an hour variety show for the 1965-66 season. But Bishop saw the difficulty of reassembling the cast a year hence.

Bishop resigned himself to hitting the saloon circuit once more, and signed for four weeks in Las Vegas beginning in August.

On a Friday at 3, NBC made its final decision: 18 weeks of the variety hour or nothing. Bishop took nothing. At 3:30 CBS called and wanted the half-hour comedy for 18 weeks the coming season. Nix, said Bishop it's got to be 26.

"I'm going out to play golf," he told his agents. "Don't try to call me unless the answer is yes." The answer came at his home at 6: Yes.

The show is slotted vs. the last half-hour of powerful "Bonanza," which makes Bishop suspect NBC engineered the whole thing. But he's willing to take his chances: "I think the show is better at 9:30 instead of the earlier spot we had; we're aimed more at adults than kids."

NYC Negroes Terrorize Riders on Subway, Ferry

NEW YORK (AP) — A band of teen-aged Negro marauders, raiding subway trains and a ferry boat, brought terror to normally quiet sections of Brooklyn and lower Manhattan over the weekend. Early Sunday 20 youths stormed aboard a subway train en route from Coney Island in Brooklyn and terrorized and robbed passengers. One passenger, Howard Weiner, 16, was struck in the face with a bottle and robbed of his wrist watch and $3. Another, Nick Phillippe, 54, was cut about the face and eyes. A third, Harvey Vine, 28, was punched and kicked. Phillippe's trousers were ripped off and $7 taken from his wallet. The youths, many of them reeking with alcohol, left the train at Kings Highway, Brooklyn, after smashing windows and light bulbs. They ran to the street, smashed the window of a beauty parlor and stole about $90 from the cash register. Residents of the district, which is predominantly white, reacted with anger and a street clash was narrowly averted. About 40 persons poured out of homes and a bar and began "passing remarks," said detective Raymond Sheerin. Sheerin continued: "They wanted to do something. It was like they were trying to say to us, 'Let us have them for a little while' or something to that effect." Sheerin was among officers in 11 cars which sped to the area. Twelve of the youths were arrested. Less than two hours earlier, two men and two youths cowed the motorman aboard a subway train near Prospect Park in Brooklyn. They threatened the motorman with a meat cleaver. Police said the four got off at Prospect Park, boarded another train, and threatened passengers with the cleaver. One passenger Clifford Renaus, 24, pulled the emergency cord as the train rolled into a station. He ran from the car and called police from the cashier's booth. Police got there in time to grab the four. Sunday night, five Negro teenagers attacked a white youth on a train in lower Manhattan. (See Page Two)

Lodge Senate Bid Seen This Week

HARTFORD (AP) — Former Gov. John Davis Lodge of Westport is slated to announce his availability for the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator this week. It was reported that the former governor and former U.S. Ambassador to Spain after a series of weekend conferences has decided to do battle with Democratic U.S. Senator Thomas J. Dodd, if the party wants him to run. He is expected to announce his position with a strong emphasis on unity in the party later this week and then start meeting with delegates prior to the GOP statet convention, which opens at the Bushnell Memorial June 12. GOP State Chairman A. Searle Pinney, who has announced if not crossed the finish line in his race for re-election is expected to back Lodge. Lodge made a bid for the Senate nomination two years ago but lost to former Rep. Congressman Horace Seely-Brown of Pomfret. Seely-Brown was defeated in the election by Democratic Senator Abraham A. Ribicoff.

Banker, Wife Victims; Nine Died in 1963

NEW FAIRFIELD (AP) — A banker and his wife were among the victims as automobile accidents claimed six lives during the Memorial Day weekend in Connecticut. Four persons, including Louis Tanzella and his wife, both 47, were killed yesterday in a head-on collision on Rt. 30 in New Fairfield. Tanzella was manager of the New Fairfield Branch of the Connecticut National Bank. State police said his car was rammed by a car driven by Gary Hanlon, 18, of Southbury. Hanlon was also killed in the accident. Tanzella swerved his 1964 sedan far to the right in an effort to avoid Hanlon's car after it had swerved into the wrong lane of the two lane highway, state police said. The cars came together at the base of an embankment. Bernice Abbanato, 30, of Stamford, who was riding with the Tansellas, died in Danbury Hospital today. Mr. and Mrs. William Guido of Danbury, also in the Tanzella car, were less seriously hurt, but both were admitted to Danbury Hospital. Also admitted was Raymond Bresson, 17, of Newtown, who was riding with Hanlon. In Middletown, a head-on collision claimed the life of 23-year-old Francine Massell of Middletown. Miss Massell was riding in a car driven by Nicholas Casco, 24, of Rocky Hill. The car was struck by a vehicle driven by John Preston, 20, of Meriden, police said. Both Casco and Preston were hospitalized after the crash, which occurred late last night on Rt. 6A. Police said Preston's car was in the wrong lane. The weekend's first fatality occurred in East Hartford Friday night. Joseph L. Bouchard, 46, was (See Page Eight)

Windup Explosive In California Race

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. Alan Cranston in a wholesale Democratic contest for the U.S. Senate nomination. The primary, which started out as a ho-hum affair, is expected to bring out 65 per cent of the 7,522,774 registered voters. The total includes 4,022,302 Democrats, 2,895,448 Republicans. The feverish tempo of the closing weeks matched the infighting over who is going to control the two parties in the state. Rockefeller, who flew to New York just in time for the birth of a son Saturday, returns for a 12-hour series of airport rallies at 14 cities. Goldwater flew to Washington for the graduation of his daughter Peggy, 19, from Mt. Vernon Junior College and to deliver the commencement address. He is due back tonight for an election-eve rally in Los Angeles. (See Page Eleven)

Debate Heads For Climax Over Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate enters today what most of its members expect will be the climactic month of the historic 1964 civil rights debate. Today's session, the 67th on the House-passed civil rights bill, was expected to be low-key, however, because senators are straggling back to the Capitol after a three-day Memorial Day recess. Starting Tuesday Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has promised sessions opening three hours earlier than usual in a drive to step up the pace of the debate. Mansfield has said he hopes the Senate can vote on cloture, the debate-limiting procedure, by June 10. This would mean filing of a cloture petition a week from today. A vote must come on the second day after the petition is filed. If the two-thirds vote needed to invoke cloture and half the Southern talkhounds is available, the bill is expected to be passed soon afterward. The Southerners fighting the measure concede there are ample votes to put it through once debate has been choked off. Under cloture each senator is limited to one hour of speech time on all issues. However, he could offer any number of amendments. More than 240 now have been introduced. Cloture has been invoked by the Senate only five times in its history, never on civil rights. Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen agrees that the time (See Page Eleven)

Laos Regime Totters As Asia Talks Begin

HONOLULU (AP) — Top U.S. strategists opened secret talks on Communist-plagued Southeast Asia today as the shaky coalition government of Laos appeared to be falling apart. The virtual pullout of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao from a patched-up coalition with Laoan neutrals and rightists deepened the crisis atmosphere surrounding the talks. Just about every key American official concerned with Southeast Asia was present for the two-day conference behind closed doors at Pacific Command headquarters overlooking Pearl Harbor. The final decision maker—President Johnson—waited in Washington for recommendations that could lead to military pressures against Communist (See Page Seven)

Students Ejected

MADISON (AP) — More than 250 college students were routed out of Hammonasset State Park by state police and park officials yesterday. Police said the students were cutting up on the bench and in the park. The authorities said they would not obey park rangers and patrolmen. One youth, Douglas Johnson, 20, of Bristol, was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct for defying an officer's orders. He was released under $500 pending appearance in Clinton Circuit Court June 23.

Hospital Bars Tests

NEW HAVEN (AP) — The Grace-New Haven Hospital has notified local police departments that it will no longer take blood samples for use in drunk driving cases. Robert Lawton, the hospital's administrator, said in a letter to the departments that the practice was causing doctors to spend too much time in court testifying on the results of the tests. The time spent in court, Lawton said, interfered significantly and intolerably with our doctors' responsibilities to hospital patients. "The possibility of waiting in court for cases to be called and the potential for lengthy interrogation and cross examination are the major reasons for our action," Lawton said. The hospital has participated in the testing program since the state law requiring chemical tests in drunken driving cases went into effect on Jan. 1. A driver who refuses to take the test risks suspension of his license. If he agrees to take a test he can take a blood test or a breath test. The blood samples are sent to hospitals or laboratories for testing. The hospital has tested about 40 persons since the program went into effect.

Smash Show By Mulcahy Under Way

EAST HADDAM (AP) — The crowd tensed for the big crash at the East Haddam Dragway today. A small foreign car—a Renault Dauphine—was parked on the strip. An electronically controlled American car—a much bigger Ford—headed for the foreign auto at about 30 miles an hour. But it missed. The Ford kept going down the track as the crowd cheered. It left the track and grazed a fence in front of an empty grandstand. A crewman jumped aboard the American car as it slowed, and stopped it. The second crash attempt was more successful. The cars were being crashed as part of State Police Commissioner Leo J. Mulcahy's program aimed at showing which cars are safer—the big ones or the foreign and domestic compacts that weigh less than 3,000 pounds. For the second crash, a Buick was aimed at the Renault. Again the car came down the runway, guided by a crewman in a convertible alongside. The big car hit the small car, smashing the front of the waiting vehicle. The hood of the big car flew up, but it was (See Page Eight)

Johnson's 'New Deal' 'The Great Society'

EDITOR'S NOTE — TEN Harry S. Truman with the Fair Deal and John F. Kennedy with the New Frontier. Some Johnson aides say privately, the concept of "the great society," as the President has expressed it is more typical of his view of the role of government than anything he has done as chief executive. However, they emphasize the concrete aspects of the concept — rebuilt cities, flourishing schools, conservation programs and the elimination of poverty — rather than the abstractions which have embellished Johnson's speeches on the subject. "They argue that throughout his political life, Johnson has been intrigued by the notion of revitalizing the economy of entire regions through rural electrification, power projects, reforestation, job retraining and the like. Johnson first talked in detail about "the great society" in his May 22 commencement address at the University of Michigan. In that speech, he urged his youthful audience to join in helping to rebuild cities, preserve the countryside and promote ed-

Court Bars Loyalty Oath

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court struck down today two Washington State laws requiring that all state employees take loyalty oaths. Justice Byron R. White, delivering the court's decision, said the laws were "unconstitutionally vague." Justice Tom C. Clark wrote a dissenting opinion, in which Justice John M. Harlan joined. The court's vote thus was 7-2. About 64 persons employed by the University of Washington in teaching and nonteaching jobs had challenged validity of the state laws. They appealed from a decision by a special three-judge U.S. District Court in Seattle, Wash., that upheld the state requirement. One law, enacted in 1955, requires state employees to swear they are not subversive persons, as defined in the law. The other law, enacted in 1951, requires that another oath be taken by teachers. White's majority opinion said the university employees con-

The mother, Barbara White, 28, and her four young children perished in the fire. The father, Charles, 26, died eight hours later in Columbus Hospital. The children were Mark, 4; Kevin, 3; Scott, 2, and 6-month-old Charles Jr. The cause of the fire was not determined, but the arson squad was called to investigate. Fire officials said the fire broke out while all of the members of the family apparently were asleep. They said White, after attempting to save two of the boys, staggered 100 yards to a nearby fire house to sound the alarm. Authorities at the hospital said White suffered burns over 75 per cent of his body. TYPHOID OUTBREAK ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — A typhoid outbreak in this city of 126,000 struck another 37 persons today after officials had voiced hope the epidemic was leveling off. A total of 227 persons is in hospitals — 127 of them confirmed typhoid cases and the others suspected victims. City health officials said the epidemic appeared to have sprung from a super-market meat slicer. But a Town Council meeting heard a suggestion that it may have been attributable to what one official called a deterioration of hygiene in the city's public lavatories because of the recent withdrawal of attendants. Health officials said they would investigate. Fears the outbreak had spread to the British navy were quieted. Schools have closed and social life is suspended in Aberdeen. One woman has died of typhoid thus far. KENNEDY BABY LOST BOSTON (AP) — Mrs. Edward M.
