Report He'll Quit Denied by Lodge

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge today termed "totally untrue" a Washington report that he was resigning within 30 days.

"There is no truth at all in that," Lodge said through a spokesman.

Lodge repeatedly has denied similar reports in the past. On one recent occasion he said "I am not resigning but I don't plan to stay here the rest of my life, either."

The New York Times had reported that Lodge had asked to be relieved within 30 days for reasons of health. The White House in Washington said President Johnson had received no letter of resignation.

The Columbia Broadcasting System reported from Saigon that Lodge said the report he had submitted his resignation was "totally untrue."

The American Broadcasting Co. said Lodge, talking Sunday night in Saigon with ABC correspondent Charles P. Arnot, denied published reports that he was returning to the United States before the Republican National Convention. Lodge made no mention in the taped interview about resigning, an ABC spokesman said.

Lodge, 51, won New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary on write-in votes and now has 48 delegates who say they will vote for him on the first ballot at the Republican National Convention opening in San Francisco July 13.

Lodge's son, George Cabot Lodge, reported Sunday that he had informed the ambassador on Friday that the draft Lodge movement was supporting Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, who entered the GOP presidential race that day.

"My father sent me a telegram saying he was delighted by the decision to support Scranton. He said, 'Please tell Gov. Scranton how happy I am,'" the younger Lodge reported.

The AP survey of the 1,238 delegates already chosen showed that first ballot lineup based on primary election commitments, instructions, pledges and stated preference:

Goldwater 619
Nelson A. Rockefeller 127
Scranton 113
Henry Cabot Lodge 46
Margaret Chase Smith 15
Richard M. Nixon 13
Favorable sons 25
Uncommitted 212

Scranton and Pennsylvania State Chairman Craig C. Truax claim that only 50 of Goldwater's votes are from legally bound delegates. "There is a certain slippage of feeling for Goldwater," Scranton said.

Replies to a spot check of delegates following Scranton's announcement showed no headlong rush away from Goldwater, however.

He lost one delegate in Georgia who now claims to be uncommitted. One Goldwater supporter in Pennsylvania said he is now backing Scranton.

Balanced against this, Goldwater picked up support from 14 previously uncommitted delegates—two in Missouri, three in Florida, eight in Kentucky and one in West Virginia.

There also were a few shifts from previously uncommitted delegates to Scranton's banner, notably four in North Dakota.

Goldwater backers across the nation contended the senator's delegates would stand fast.

Typical was Jack Toews of Seattle, who said of the Washington delegation: "We will have 32 absolutely solid and probably all 4, they still have to come back and live in this state."

Court Backs Man Who Pleaded 5th

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that the Constitution's Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination applies in state as well as federal proceedings.

Ruling on the petition of a Connecticut man convicted of gambling charges, the high court stated:

"We hold that the (Constitution's) 14th Amendment guaranteed the petitioner the protection of the 5th Amendment's privilege of self-incrimination."

Justice William J. Brennan, delivering the court's majority opinion, declared that, under applicable federal standards, the Connecticut Supreme Court of Errors erred in holding that the petitioner's claim of privilege against self-incrimination was not properly invoked.

The Supreme Court's vote was 5-4.

A dissenting opinion, by Justice Byron R. White, in which Justice Potter Stewart joined, declared that "the 5th Amendment safeguards an important complex of values, but it is difficult for me to perceive how these values are served by the court's holding."

The contempt conviction against William Malloy of Windsor resulted from a gambling raid and subsequent events in Hartford in 1959 and early 60's.

The case dated back to 1959 when Malloy was arrested by Hartford police. He pleaded guilty to pool-selling, a misdemeanor, and was sentenced to one year in jail and fined $500.

His sentence was suspended after 90 days and he was placed on probation for two years.

Some 16 months after he first pleaded, Malloy was ordered to testify before a referee appointed by the Superior Court of Hartford County in a gambling investigation. He was asked a number of questions relating to his own arrest and conviction, and refused to answer any of them on grounds that they might have incriminated him.

The Superior Court judged him to be in contempt and committed him to prison until he was willing to answer the questions. This action was sustained by the Connecticut Supreme Court of Errors, which held that the fifth amendment's privilege against self-incrimination could not be used by a witness in a state proceeding and that the 14th amendment extended no privilege to him.

State GOP Gains Look of Harmony

HARTFORD (AP)—Connecticut Republicans set out today to translate their new unity into results at the polls.

The GOP has gone into its weekend internal strife that threatened to sap the strength needed for the fall election campaigns.

But, out of the lively convention came settlements of the party's major controversies and something new for the state GOP, these days—an apparent spirit of harmony.

These things were accomplished at the convention: John Lodge of Westport, former governor and former ambassador to Spain, was nominated to run for the U.S. Senate.

A. Searle Pinney was re-elected party chairman by the State Central Committee, taking the wind out of the sails of an opposing faction led by Edwin H. May Jr.

A dispute over delegates to the national convention was resolved of the apparent satisfaction of the conservative and liberal wings of the party. U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater will get four Connecticut votes and the others 12 are expected to go to Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

It was Scranton who gave the convention a big time aura and made it front page news throughout the nation.

After announcing for the GOP presidential nomination in Baltimore Friday, he flew to Hartford Saturday.

He vigorously attacked Goldwater, blaming the front runner for "havoc that has spread across the national landscape."

"The Republican party wonders how it will make clear to the American people," Scranton said, "that it does not oppose social security, the United Nations, human rights and a sane nuclear policy."

$54 Million Expense For West War Game

WASHINGTON (AP)—Re-ent Army-Air Force war games in the Far West cost $54 million and were the most costly since World War II, it was learned today.

The Associated Press was told this was the price tag on Desert Strike, a two-week mock war in which some 100,000 Army troops and Air Force units duelled over Nevada, California, Arizona and Nevada last month.

The Defense Department said it originally had calculated the exercise would cost $60.1 million, but that various economies had sliced about $6 million from that estimate.

By comparison, "Exercise Big Lift" last fall cost $20 million. In this operation, the 16,000 men of an armored division were flown 5,000 miles from Texas to Germany and returned after maneuvers near the Iron Curtain.

The Pentagon said "the major contributing factor to the cost of joint exercise Desert Strike was the commercial transportation of the armored units and their heavy equipment to and from the exercise area."

Two armored divisions—the 1st and 2nd—were moved by train from Ft. Hood, Tex., to the three-state battleground. Armored divisions have about 3,750 vehicles, including 364 tanks and 880 personnel carriers.

Also involved in Desert Strike were an armored brigade of the California National Guard and a tank battalion from Ft. Campbell, Ky., in Air Force planes, the 5th Mechanized Infantry Division came from Colorado and various smaller Army and Air Force units were drawn from as far away as the East Coast.

The cost of moving Army forces by commercial means, where this was done, was estimated at $27.9 million.

Asked why Desert Strike was considered worth the outlay of funds, the Pentagon cited these reasons, among others:

"It is the first time since World War II that we have been able to get two armored divisions into an exercise maneuver area in the United States where they could operate as freely as required for proper armor field training."

"The exercise also gave us a chance to simulate realistically the employment of tactical

Radishes Grow to Music Dig Beatles, Opera Star

By FRANCIS STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—Radishes dig to Beatle music around the house day after day.

Beatles or not, though, he finally conceded his daughter had proved something with her experiment.

Here is what she did: She planted four large trays with radish seeds last December and kept the trays near a sunny window inside the house. They all grew in the same type soil and got the same amount of water and sunshine.

However, when the plants had grown about three quarters of an inch above the soil, Lynn started playing music to three of the trays.

Each in turn would be placed on the living room floor in front of the phonograph loudspeaker and get 45 minutes daily of Beatles, Pons or Dvorak's "New World Symphony." The fourth tray of radishes got no music.

Barry Delegate Votes Nearing Magic Total

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater is expected to corral 56 delegate votes in Texas Tuesday and, by current count, push past the magic total needed to win the Republican presidential nomination.

But not all of this first ballot strength is irrevocably bound to the Arizona senator, and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania will be hoptoching the country this week, trying to pick off some of the delegates now in the senator's column.

Since Scranton launched his drive for the nomination last Friday, however, he has gained little more than a score of votes—and only one of the delegates who lined up behind the governor was for Goldwater earlier.

The senator's total meanwhile ballooned to 619 by Associated Press tally. He needs 685 for nomination and is favored to win all of the 56 votes to be designated in Texas and most if not all of the 14 to be assigned

Man Powerhouse In 'Pedipulator'

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A group of engineers is working on a project which will enable a man to uproot a huge tree, step over a parked car and tote a heavy telephone pole up the side of a steep cliff.

All this and more is predicted for the man of the near future by those assigned to the Army project at the General Electric Co.'s advanced technology laboratories.

In its simplest sense, said Ralph S. Mosher, the plan consists of encasing a man in a 17-foot-high metal skeleton which he can manipulate through his own arm, leg and body movements.

Court Asks Equality by Population

HARTFORD (AP)—Both Houses of Connecticut's General Assembly apparently will have to be reapportioned according to districts of nearly equal population.

This appeared almost certain to top state legal experts today as a result of the high court ruling in an Alabama case.

Atty. General Harold M. Mulvey said that it would appear to him that the decision would mean that both the State Senate and House of Representatives must be revamped on a population basis.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court declared today the legislative apportionment system of New York State is unconstitutional.

Chief Justice Earl Warren delivered the opinion which referred to the court's decision earlier in the day in three cases from Alabama.

Warren repeated in the New York case that the Constitution's equal protection clause requires that seats in both houses of the legislature must be apportioned substantially on a population basis.

He then stated: "Neither house of the New York Legislature, under the state constitutional formulas and the implementing statutory provisions, is presently or when reapportioned on the basis of 1960 census figures, will be apportioned sufficiently on a population basis to be constitutionally sustainable."

Warren said in his 21-page opinion that the Supreme Court had examined state formulas in a minute fashion "in order to point out that, as a result of following these provisions, the weight of the votes of those living in populous areas is necessarily substantially diluted in effect."

Warren asserted, "New York's constitutional formulas relating to legislative apportionment demonstrably include a built-in bias against voters living in the state's more populous counties."

He added that "the legislative representation accorded to the urban and suburban areas becomes proportionately less as the population of those areas increases."

The New York State ruling was given on a challenge of the state's apportionment formulas by radio station WJCA of New York City, its president, R.

Freeway riders noticed heavy traffic on certain bus passengers, indicating an increase in car pools. VOTE KEY TITLE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted today to retain in the civil rights bill the key title barring discrimination in hotels and motels, restaurants, amusement centers and gasoline stations. It beat down 63 to 23 an amendment by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., to eliminate the entire public accommodations title. With this test, the Senate now is on record by strong margins in favor of retaining all three titles which break new ground in federal civil rights legislation. Last week it defeated 44-33 an attempt to knock out the equal employment opportunity title, and 69-35 an amendment to kill the title authorizing costs of federal funds in programs where discrimination is prohibited. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, leading contender for the GOP presidential nomination, voted for Byrd's amendment.

You don't have much of a chance if you aren't equipped with some kind of look. You don't have much of a chance if you belong to a state which is usually in the bag for one party or the other. You don't have much of a chance if you are a clergyman. In fact, you can practically guarantee that almost any boy born in this country doesn't have the slightest kind of chance of ever becoming President of his country.

This is all according to the testimony of a West Coast professor in politics who has made a special study of the subject. We have, if we must concede to be that unimaginative and realistic, no particular quarrel with his findings. But we think we can extend them. Here are some more odds an American boy has a possible chance of overcoming: Being born in such log cabin poverty he can't afford to go to school.

Being born to such obvious wealth and aristocracy, with automatic enrollment in the Gold Coast section of Harvard, that he can never be expected to understand the problems of the common man. Being too much of an intellectual, like a college professor or president. Being a member of certain religious denominations, like Quaker, or Catholic. Being so crippled physically that he can't even stand on his own feet without help.

The "absolute bars" we have cited are, of course, insuperable obstacles which have been hurdled, some of them many times, by various American boys on their way to the Presidency. And as we note the list of obstacles which have been overcome, we begin to doubt again, after all, that there are any real total obstacles in the way of any American boy.

From Generation To Generation
How drastic and major a revision in the world's way of life and thought there will have to be for men and nations to learn to live in peace can be illustrated by something now going on over in West Germany.

It is not happening because the politicians and statesmen involved are of some particular kind and nature. It is not happening because the men involved are villainous or unscrupulous. It happens just because they are human beings doing what the present context of history demands of them.

Shocking Tactic
An American sportsman who read about the handy technique of Russian transfer fishermen had better examine their own consciences before drawing any righteous conclusions. When the transfer men do, according to the UN Food and Agricultural Organization, a lower lights into the North Pacific to attract mackerel-pike, jolt them with an electric shock and suck them up in hoses at a rate as high as seven tons in nine minutes. Horrors.

A Thought for Today
Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches
Faith is a commodity, it is difficult to acquire if in proportion to our needs. When we need it most during times of great stress, it rarely seems adequate. Somehow we expect that the supply should be there in spite of the fact that we have done little to collect it for future use.

Senate-Confident Rights Will Pass
As the Senate convenes today, 250 amendments stand eligible for consideration. The bulk of them probably will not be put to the test. On a television program Sunday, May 17, after we pass the bill to talk about the continuing problems that beset us, how we implement this law on the state and local and federal level, and how we back it up by community action and community support," he said.

Staged Car Collisions

The big car-tire car collisions staged by the State Police on a dragstrip at East Haddam won't change any of the laws of physics. It has been under-standed and accepted that when two objects are made of the same basic materials and design, the larger has definite advantage.

Any American Boy

It seems to us that there are blights and disappointments, dishonors and blank walls enough in American life these days, without having somebody reach out for the discovery that, for the average American boy, the chance to grow up to be President is almost nonexistent.

Lodge Denies He'll Resign In 30 Days

Lodge now has 419 delegates pledged to him for direct ballot support, according to an Associated Press survey. He is expected to win 50 more in Tuesday, which would push him past the 450 total needed for the nomination. Seranton has 113 delegates.
Asked about the New York Times story, White House press secretary George F. Ready said Sunday night that Lodge's post "is a presidential appointment and the President has received no such communication."
Lodge, the 1960 Republican candidate for vice president, had denied repeatedly he planned to leave his Saigon post.
Despite his refusal to discuss politics, Lodge's supporters entered him in several presidential primaries. After winning New Hampshire's 14 votes, he was eliminated from his native Massachusetts and one each from Alaska and Ohio.
Lodge was named to the Saigon post last June 27 by President John F. Kennedy. In 1962, Kennedy had captured Lodge's U.S. Senate seat and in 1960 Lodge was the GOP vice presidential candidate against the victorious Democratic team of Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.
Lodge looks over the Viet Nam in the midst of the struggle by the South Vietnamese to retain their independence in the face of increasing Communist aggression.
He said he "has no intention of running for vice president, the most useful thing I can do for the United States is my work here in Viet Nam."
"On Feb. 25, he said: 'I am a diplomat and cannot talk politics.'
Following his New Hampshire victory, Lodge told newsmen on March 11: "I do not intend to resign."
After Lodge was defeated by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the Oregon primary May 18, he told newsmen: "I'm excluded by government regulations from engaging in any kind of political activity as all of you know very well."
His supporters threw their support in California's June 2 primary to Rockefeller, but Goldwater scored a narrow victory and captured the state's 56 GOP convention votes.

Man Powerhouse In 'Pedipulator'

The human-mechanical man, to be known as a "pedipulator," is in its third stage.
Mother, one of the developers, said the device will have one distinct advantage over a mechanical man or robot since it will have the benefit of a human brain to guide its movements.
When the contraption is completed, Moshier said, a man will be able to run at high speeds for protracted lengths of time and stride effortlessly through deep mud.
Within eight months the developers expect to have ready a two-legged platform of the same height as the pedipulator to test how easily a man can balance himself in the steel cocoon of a plant.
The machine will amplify the power of a normal man's arms and legs, allowing him to perform feats of strength and endurance that defy the imagination.
"The man inside lifts a log as though he were stepping over a fallen log," Moshier said, "but movement will be amplified 20 times over a parked car."
"For example, if not completely impossible, to construct such a machine that would be versatile enough by itself to make it a tin pole, and the machine will way through sand, mud, strewn rocks, swampy or forest—and to Mother said basic concepts of do this without knowing what the pedipulator have been proven while in a pair of mechanical hands he developed six years ago for remote handling using the best capabilities of each — the man's brain and nervous system and the machine's great strength—then things that a machine can do it too."
