Yale Student at Hospital To Study Administration

Manchester Memorial Hospital has an administrative resident in training. Warren C. Kessler, a student from the University of Connecticut School of Public Health, will take part in projects assigned to him by the hospital's administrator...

Kessler has a bachelor of arts degree in psychology from Wesleyan University and is preparing for a master's in hospital administration. He is a former resident of Portland, Maine.

Kessler gave three reasons for choosing AMH. He said he came primarily to work under the hospital's nationally known administrator, Edward J. Thomas. "Having once studied under them, you're treated with these men for the rest of your life," he said.

Kessler said that other reasons for his choice are the hospital's program of progressive patient care and its new program of data processing. Both of these programs are innovative for a traditional hospital technique.

Kessler is married and he and his wife, Donna, will live in Manchester during his one-year residency.

Dr. Fialkoff Will Train In Pathology at Hospital

Manchester Memorial Hospital will have a resident doctor training in pathology for the first time since the position was approved several years ago. Dr. Ruben Fialkoff, 41, who is in this country because he has not graduated from a U.S. college, will be training here since it is often hard for a doctor to leave an area and return to establish a practice.

Dr. Fialkoff, a Cuban physician, is required by the medical rules to serve an internship and residency even though he was formerly assistant medical officer at University Hospital, Havana. Dr. Fialkoff was also assistant at the National Hospital, Havana.

Dr. Fialkoff spent 14 months seeking permission to leave his country before the Cuban government saw fit to grant it. He then barely succeeded in bringing his immediate family with him. He still remains reticent in openly discussing the Cuban situation, to protect relatives who still remain.

The AMA officially certified two-year program for a resident pathologist, including training in autopsy and tissue pathology. In addition, Dr. Fialkoff's training will include blood bank procedures, blood analysis, and clinical pathology. The training will take place under the direction of the hospital's chief pathologist, Dr. Frederick P. Becker.

Dr. Fialkoff, in describing his difficulties in extracting himself from Cuba in 1962, relates the warning of his father, which he did heed. Dr. Fialkoff said his father, who has fled three countries as a political exile, warned him to leave Cuba in 1960 that though he was leaving with nothing, he was leaving with his family intact. "He warned me that if I did not leave quickly I would eventually have to leave with nothing, but I did not heed his warning."

MALLOY BITES DANBURY (AP) - Private funeral services were held today for Harry Burton Malloy, founder and chairman of the controversial Federal Savings and Loan Association. Malloy, who was also retired vice president of the latter organization, died Sunday at the Glen Hill Convalescent Center. He was 69.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Today Philadelphia Inquirer today named William Keisling, administrative assistant to Gov. William Scranton, as the author of the controversial letter attacking Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The letter, written by William Keisling, the governor's administrative assistant, approved by Attorney General Walter E. Alexander, and signed in his name by Gretchen Zeller, the receptionist in the governor's office at Harrisburg.

The letter, which the governor had ordered his staff to write to Sen. Thurendus Morton of Kentucky, convention chairman, "asking him to resign his seat on the floor of the Commonwealth convention to make room for the Republican nominee."

Scranton, Goldwater's chief rival for the GOP nomination, charged the Arizona senator's forces with trying to undermine and compromise delegates.

Police Arrests

Comrad R. Johannes, 57, of 180 Birch St., was charged last night with speeding on Center St. He is to appear in court July 27.

Ronald B. Rockefeller, 18, of East Hartford, was cited last night for making unnecessary noise with a motor vehicle. Rockefeller is taking his training in a program worked out by himself, Thomas, and Yale's official program director John D. Thompson.

Kessler has worked at Manchester Memorial previously on total information survey project in the nursing department. Along with three other Yale students, he made a 1963-64 review of all of the department's activities. This project was planned as a learning experience as well as a preparation of material for the new data processing system.

Kessler said that other reasons for his choice are the hospital's program of progressive patient care and its new program of data processing. Both of these programs are innovative for a traditional hospital technique.

Kessler is married and he and his wife, Donna, will live in Manchester during his one-year residency.

Patrons Honored On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew B. Paton of 150 Center St. were guests of honor Sunday at a party observing their 50th wedding anniversary. The observance was held at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Beecher, at 134 Porter St., and was attended by many relatives and friends from the Manchester area.

Mr. and Mrs. Paton were married on July 15, 1914, by the Rev. Manning B. Bennett at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Mrs. Paton is the former Miss Lena M. Engel of Manchester. Her sister, Mrs. Christiana M. Bray, who was maid of honor, and John McCann, who served as best man, were both present at the celebration.

Until his retirement, Mr. Paton was employed by Cheney Bros. The couple have another daughter, Miss Marjorie C. Paton of Manchester.

U.S. to Boost Viet Force By 600; New Total 16,000

WASHINGTON (AP) - Reversing a setback started last year, the United States will increase its military manpower in South Vietnam by about 600 men during the next few months.

Nearly half of this figure will be additional Special Forces, made available to provide more U.S. advisers working in the field with South Viet Nam's regular army and to establish more special forces training units near the border between South Viet Nam and the demilitarized zone.

The additions will raise the total of U.S. Special Forces in Viet Nam to about 1,600, and the total U.S. strength there to about 16,000 men.

Last fall, before a series of changes in the South Viet Nam government and a step-up in Viet Cong attacks, the United States had sent out a total of 14,800 men assigned were pulled back. The new contingents will replace part of that total.

It was understood the decision to send the additional men was reached before the assignment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff as ambassador to South Viet Nam and the elevation of Gen. William Westmoreland to head the U.S. military command there.

No figures were available on the extent of North Vietnamese infiltration into South Viet Nam.

Robert McNamara, State Department press officer, said there is a continuing influx of small groups of guerrillas and Communist-made military equipment.

McNamara said he could not confirm reports of other large-scale infiltrations and that the increased flow of military supplies into the area. There have been reports of guerrillas based on prisoner information, that about 200 North Viet Nam soldiers have moved into the south.

McNamara said that equipment sent to the Viet Cong, Czechoslovakia and Communist China has been found in the northern mountains of South Viet Nam.

Winsted Manager Demands Review

WINSTED (AP) - Town Manager Jack S. Brannum today officially "demanded" a public hearing by the selectmen on their intention to oust him from his $6,500 a year job.

At the same time, he opposed Atty. General D. B. Harford said it now appears Police Chief John Packard has set a date for the hearing. The hearing is to be held on the 14th of the month.

The selectmen on July 6 approved a resolution of intent to remove the manager from his position. The vote was 5-2. Selectman Arthur Lorenson, in his resolution, listed a number of reasons for the action, of which more than a half dozen concerned alleged problems of the police department.

The selectmen, who received notification today, must now set a date for the manager's public hearing.

Atty. Shea, in a hard-hitting letter to the seven-member non-partisan board, said "the assault upon the professional reputation of the manager is even more obviously unwarranted in the light of the best of our knowledge of his record."

Noting that there are seven reasons for the action, of which more than a half dozen concerned alleged problems of the police department, he said that the police chief is scheduled to appear before the board on the 14th of the month.

Atty. Shea wrote: "It could be alleged in an affidavit that the police chief is scheduled to appear before the board on the 14th of the month."

Two decisions differed. Where Justice Latham had seen only the hardship involved in making small children shift from the school across the street to one 12 traffic crossings away, Justice Margrett indicated some hardship, but considered it more than balanced by school board evidence that was planning and getting something more than racial balance in its proposed transfers. Pairing the two schools in question would reduce one school's pupil load per teacher from 38.8 to 26.6, thus getting rid of some serious present overcrowding, and would also be accompanied by increased provision of textbooks and teaching aids. So Justice Margrett held that even pupils who were being inconvenienced would receive some benefits in a better education. And he held that, so long as such benefits were present, the transfer ordered could not be held invalid just because it also was seeking something in the realm of racial balance in the schools.

Perhaps it was the argument which made the difference. Perhaps it was the identity of the judge which, in each case, made the difference. But what has happened is that the same school board policy has been held, inside of four days, by judges of equal rank in the same court, to be legal and illegal. What happens next? Both decisions will, of course, be appealed, to some higher court on which another set of human beings, considering all arguments and evidence, will decide which human being in the lower court was right.

Quite conceivably, within both the letter and the spirit of the law, but not within the troubled understanding of parents, both lower court judges may find to have ruled correctly in their individual cases.

So add that to the troubles and perplexities of our time. Sometimes you can't even find out, not even from the courts themselves, what the law is.

What happened down on Long Island, to make this measurement possible, should not happen anywhere. And, if the statute of limitations intervened, the rural mailman responsible, now an aged invalid, would be prosecuted and punished.

Why, in a platform which renounced and denounced almost everything that the Republican leadership had done since the war, should there be any equality for white people, too? Why should the document be made to include, by last minute amendment, some crazy plank about extremists which, if it was really aimed at anybody, was aimed directly at the authors of the document itself?

Inside Report

by Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

SAN FRANCISCO — As the unspoken wish of the 1964 Republican National Convention, the white backlash is articulated occasionally in soft whispers — as when Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio conferred privately with Gov. William Scranton here last week.

Scranton was amazed over Rhodes' decision to withdraw as Ohio's favorite son candidate, delivering the bulk of his big delegation into the hands of Sen. Barry Goldwater. Rhodes spent much of the last six months privately denouncing the "outrageous impact" of Ohio Republican candidates of Goldwater as Presidential nominees.

Jim Rhodes, bluff and genial, gave Scranton a blunt answer in their hotel room. Rhodes said he had become convinced that the white backlash in industrial communities like Cleveland and Youngstown would put the Republican ticket to victory in his state.

Rhodes is by no means the only battle-hardened Republican who believes this. We reported from the Republican National Committee meeting in Denver a year ago that the Republican party was well on its way to becoming the white backlash party.

Scranton said the proposed amendments became necessary to strengthen what was already a strong platform. He said he did not think the 1,300 delegates at the convention would be able to do the job with which to do it's, cross T's, add sentences, and delete words.

Indeed, the presence of the white backlash tactic was felt all last week as the Platform Committee drafted the weaker Republican civil rights plank in memory. A minority of the committee was heartened. The minority included Rep. Clark MacGregor of Minnesota, a moderate conservative but a strong supporter of civil rights and of Scranton.

Thus, when Scranton asked for suggestions in a midnight session of the son of God coming into their own. Romans 8:19-21. Having seen the glory of God and His creation, our thoughts then turn with the Fascist to ask: "What is man that art mindful of him, and the son of man that thou dost care for him? For thou has made him but little lower than God and crowned him with glory and honor?"

Our third resolution should be to open our eyes to the divine capacities of men. "I need the same checkbook," the owner said. "I don't know the badge isn't phony?" the FBI man asked. He took out his credentials. When FBI men take out their credentials you can almost hear the national anthem play.

Who is the best check forger left in town? Tiger was asked. "The Earl Cohen or Irving Michel?" Tiger asked. "I don't know those people," Tiger said. "For me to be around those people is known as consorting. I don't do that anymore. But if you think those two guys can fill Charley Weiner's pen with ink, you're crazy."

Charley Weiner comes from Brooklyn and everybody who knows him says that if you give him enough checkbooks he could balance the national debt. Tiger always was riled in that league. Maybe better. He and his pen once put on a first performance any check forger ever dreamed of.

Some time ago, Tiger made a command performance in a restaurant up to meet a man from the FBI. And one from local law enforcement, regarding a crime. The interview was held in the restaurant because the lawmen could not catch Tiger at home and only after severe threats did Tiger show up at the restaurant.

him, Sibal defended the Committee, the Ku Klux Klan, and the John Birch Society. He said that "these groups do not share in the traditions or beliefs of American democracy or of the Republican party here last week."

South Windsor Citizen School Needs Report Presented to Superintendent

The board of education last night turned over to the citizens committee report on kindergarten and junior high to the superintendent of schools.

In turning over the report, chairman of the board D. P. Cavanaugh asked a "staff memorandum to the board to verify the facts behind the report."

Cavanaugh said he agreed with the major portions of the report and that the board should vote on a policy.

W. L. Booth, chairman of the citizens committee, stated that with the opening of the Ed Perry Elementary School in the fall of 1965, there should be the civil rights and modern arts amendments.

But she stressed afterward that she could vote for Scranton today.

Scranton today to vote for Mr. Scranton unless the delegation as a whole changes its mind. I will follow the lead of the delegates of the state convention back home."

Scranton said she cast her votes against the proposed amendments because she considered them "a phony attempt to strengthen what was already a strong platform."

Psychiatrists Find Reyes Legally Sane

The names of the crime and charges against him. Dr. Swain also reported that Reyes was under internal stress and was remorseful over "John's" death.

Dr. Swain said, "He wanted to kill himself." An electroencephalogram was administered to Reyes Monday by Dr. Donnelly at the Institute of Living in Hartford.

Dr. Donnelly said that the procedure, which measures electrical emissions from areas of the brain, indicated that an abnormality existed in one area. The abnormality is related to impulsive, uncontrollable and irritable acts by the individual.

Reyes' case comes to trial, two proceedings must be completed. The findings of a coroner's inquest, made by an inquest conducted by Atty. Herbert Hanbury, Toland County coroner.

The committee's procedure is to evaluate each teacher's additional education on the basis of the courses they take. All courses are supposed to be "clearly related" to the committee's policy; the subcommittee says they don't.

Annual reports on summer school enrollment and the reports of the athletic director and the director of adult education will be submitted. Three of the board's standing committees, building, educational policy and personnel, will submit reports.

The board will have no regular meetings during the remainder of the summer but will attend to business as it accumulates.

UConn Budget Request

STORRS (AP) — President Homer D. Babbidge Jr. asked the Board of Trustees to authorize a request of $40 million to operate budget for 1965-67.

This is an increase of some $12.5 million, or 45.7 per cent over the budget for the two-year period ending June 30, 1964.

Dr. Babbidge said most of the new budgetary requests are "to improve the quality of what the university is now doing and to keep up with rising enrollment."

He explained the budget includes money to reduce faculty shortages, library improvements and the start of a graduate fellowship program.

University trustees will study the proposals before submitting a budget request to Gov. Dempsey, who will make recommendations to the next General Assembly.

Wrecking Ordinance Needed

That Middletown needs a new ordinance governing the employment of wreckers is one conclusion that is almost inescapable following the charges and counter-charges that have been leveled during the past week.

While some of the charges have been directed at the Police Department, in the main, it is believed that the Police Department is the innocent victim of a situation that has been building up ever since the time of the wrecking company that was getting the lion's share of the business, some 40 per cent.

The wreckers say that the police have assisted one wrecking firm in its efforts to revoke the order by which it was to get business, and police are ready to cite chapter and verse of the events which they maintain prove that the rotation system has been faithfully followed.

In our view, the system that has been used is responsible for the greatest share of the imbalance and not the police.

Actually, the so-called rotation system only goes into effect if a customer does not specify a desire for a certain garage. The leading wrecker has secured agreements from many garages that he should do their towing. Last week he does in fact get more business. He is often first at the scene and prevails upon customers to use him.

In our view, a new rotation system should be set up, fairly distributed, and the view and prohibits by ordinance the award of various wrecker as an accident scene, and the squabbling for customers that goes on as a result of the system. We believe that a hospital, or trying to regain their composure after an accident.

Whatever new rules are established it should be made clear that the primary duty of the Police Department is to protect the public and the peaceful relationships of the wreckers. If cars are traffic hazards, they should be removed, and the wrecker who is the most efficient, or trying to regain their composure after an accident.

A Thought for Today

"The whole creation is in tip-tilt to see the wonderful sight of the son of God coming into their own." Romans 8:19-21.

Having seen the glory of God and His creation, our thoughts then turn with the Fascist to ask: "What is man that art mindful of him, and the son of man that thou dost care for him? For thou has made him but little lower than God and crowned him with glory and honor?"

Who is the best check forger left in town? Tiger was asked. "The Earl Cohen or Irving Michel?" Tiger asked. "I don't know those people," Tiger said. "For me to be around those people is known as consorting. I don't do that anymore. But if you think those two guys can fill Charley Weiner's pen with ink, you're crazy."

Charley Weiner comes from Brooklyn and everybody who knows him says that if you give him enough checkbooks he could balance the national debt. Tiger always was riled in that league. Maybe better. He and his pen once put on a first performance any check forger ever dreamed of.

JABBERWOCK AT BAY?

A Thought for Today

"The whole creation is in tip-tilt to see the wonderful sight of the son of God coming into their own." Romans 8:19-21.

Having seen the glory of God and His creation, our thoughts then turn with the Fascist to ask: "What is man that art mindful of him, and the son of man that thou dost care for him? For thou has made him but little lower than God and crowned him with glory and honor?"

Our third resolution should be to open our eyes to the divine capacities of men. "I need the same checkbook," the owner said. "I don't know the badge isn't phony?" the FBI man asked. He took out his credentials. When FBI men take out their credentials you can almost hear the national anthem play.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ex-... for a crab feast." Hardy said, tent to which defense contractors provide parties, gifts and other special activities for their employees at government agencies will be studied at a public hearing next week.

Rep. Porter Hardy, D-Va., said the House Armed Services subcommittee for special investigations will start hearings Tuesday, looking into expenses charged under cost-plus and other types of government contracts.

One case to be looked into involves "the flying of a plane load of crabs across the country

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government spent less during the fiscal year which ended June 30 than the $98.3 billion dollars which was the last official estimate. Budget Director Kermit Gordon informed President Johnson. He didn't tell newsmen how much less.

To a question, he said it "might be a good assumption" that the budget deficit also will be smaller than the last estimate, which was $8.8 billion.

Final figures are being compiled, he said, and may be ready for announcement by the end of the week. Johnson told a news conference last week he expected the final figures to provide "some good news."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is planning a series of meetings with educators to discuss school integration and means of carrying out the 1964 Civil Rights Act. He said Johnson will urge broader compliance with the Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation decree.

At other meetings, Keppel said, Johnson will urge that state universities do more to help solve state problems, and will suggest that universities in general put more effort into dealing with urban problems.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—One of the last avenues of escape from Communist Cuba—fishing boats—may be sealed off by a new regulation requiring guards to accompany fishermen, a newly arrived aide said today.

The refugee, Gilberto Hernandez, 23, said he and seven companions fled in a fishing boat shortly before the decree became effective.

Since Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime fortified Cuba's coast late in May, fishing boats have been almost the only ones making it here.

Police Arrests

James A. Ferris, 42, East Hartford, was picked up yesterday morning on warrant from Circuit Court 12 charging him with non support.

Ferris was arrested by East Hartford police and taken to the Manchester station where he posted a bond of $100. His court date is July 27.

Lawrence E. Humanson, 22, of 1077 Main St., was charged last night with breach of peace in a domestic problem. Humanson is free under bond of $100 and is to answer the charge in court July 27.

School Units Submit Plan To Integrate

By ED MOURIKER JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Two school boards have submitted plans to a federal judge to desegregate first grade classrooms in the fall, signaling the end of Mississippi's holdout as the last state without school integration below the college level.

A third board was expected to join the school systems of Jackson and Biloxi today in telling U.S. District Judge Sidney Miles how it would obey his desegregation orders.

"We have our plan in hand," said John T. Logan Jr., superintendent of rural Leake County. "We are all set."

Leake County is the birthplace of former rural Leake County, who twice physically blocked Negro James H. Meredith from enrolling at the University of Mississippi in 1962.

When Meredith finally arrived on the Ole Miss campus at Oxford to register, a turmoil erupted. Two persons were killed and several hundred were injured.

Judge Miles, 56, a native Mississippian, had given the school boards of Jackson, Biloxi and Leake County until today to submit plans for desegregation.

The Jackson and Biloxi boards filed their plans a day early. They were identical. All pupils entering the first grade shall be admitted to the various schools without regard to race, giving primary consideration to the choice of the pupil or his parent or legal guardian, a resolution of the Jackson School Board said.

Attorneys for the Negro parents who filed the integration suit at Jackson declined comment. However, an informed source said an attack on the plan "for not being enough" could be expected.

Another Mississippi city, Clarksville in the heavily Negro populated Delta region, is under federal court orders to submit a desegregation plan within 30 days.

The Mississippi Legislature has been in special session for four weeks in an attempt to devise a system of state aid to private schools to offset the desegregation public school desegregation.

The House and Senate each have passed their own programs and have been unable to get together on the issue.

Gov. Carroll Garrison, presiding officer of the Senate, and House Speaker Walter Sillers met at length Tuesday, after hearing her testimony Tuesday.

The 22-man jury renders its decisions to a Criminal Court judge today.

Miss Del Fava, a university secretary, had been booked by police on an anti-weapon law charge after admitting she plunged the switchblade knife into a man who attacked her near her Forest Hills home at 1:30 a.m. July 5.

The alleged assailant was arrested at a hospital where he had gone for treatment of wounds in the back and side.

Miss Del Fava was not charged with the actual wounding, which the district attorney's office decided was justifiable self-defense. Had she used a penknife, whose blade does not spring open at the flick of a switch, she would have violated the state's anti-weapon law.

Dist. Atty. Frank D. O'Connor said his office had asked that Miss Del Fava be held in custody until the grand jury, which ordinarily does not convene itself with misdemeanor cases.

She wanted to get an expression of feeling from the community on this case and the grand jury represents the community," O'Connor said.

He said Miss Del Fava was a victim of a legal technicality since the ban on switchblades aimed primarily at hoodlums.

Before testifying, Miss Del Fava told newsmen: "It's an unpleasant thing to have to stab someone, but I think I did the right thing."

"I would do it again to defend my honor and my life."

"I think every woman should carry something to protect herself in this city."

Jury Expected to Absolve Girl Who Used Switchblade

Several newspapers said the Queens grand jury, whose proceedings are secret, refused to indict Arlene Del Fava, 27, after hearing her testimony Tuesday.

Automated Banking Sought To Beat the Flood of Checks

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—Many of the nation's leading bankers are in New York this week to tackle the problem of one kind of flood control. That's the handling of personal checks, which have nearly doubled in number in the last 10 years.

Standardization has pretty well licked today's problem. You probably know it as that funny looking printing at the bottom of your checks.

But will more automation be needed to keep tomorrow's flood from engulfing the banks? That's what more than 1,000 bank executives—some from 24 other countries—are debating at the American Bankers Association's national automation conference.

Even bankers are impressed by the figures. When standardization efforts started in 1964, this nation's banks had 6 million checking accounts and what they then thought was quite a paper mountain of eight billion checks a year.

Today they have 68 million accounts and an annual check turnover of 15 billion. About 90 per cent of all bills are given the way. Before this decade is over Americans may well be writing 25 billion checks a year.

The ABA estimates that 700 companies have developed data processing systems, mostly to handle checks. To this some banks have added computers in the last four years to run based on savings, instant credit and mortgage accounts.

But on the standardization problem almost all of the 14,000 banks, acting through the ABA, turned to industry experts, such as engineers, computer scientists, printers and government officials. They used the facilities of the American Standardization Association to work out automated check handling.

They developed two technical tools: magnetic ink character recognition—MICR—and the odd-shaped numbers at the bottom of your check known as EIB.

This is how it works: The EIB system uses the basic digits of zero to nine, plus four special control symbols for the bank's application. When the bank prints your personal check, special ink imprints your account number on the bank draft in these digits and symbols.

When your check is cashed, it passes under electronic sensing equipment. An electric charge magnetizes the ink, the check is automatically read for the account number, the amount of money involved, and the bank on which it is drawn. Where banks have computers available, these then sort, list, and post the checks at the rate of thousands a minute.

Standardization involved moving the signature line up and away from the account number, putting the EIB account numbers in the same spot on all checks, and developing a fast check outside ink that isn't magnetized until it passes under the electronic sensing device. Printers learned to work with tolerances as low as ten-thousandths of an inch, instead of the old one-sixth of an inch. An obscure dot on each bill, when the number of an inch will cause a check to be rejected in the printing.

The EIB numbering system has spread to such things as credit cards, invoices, travelers' checks, even office records. There is talk of adopting a global standard for worldwide banking.

But this week the bankers are talking even farther into the future. At the meeting they are hearing of the wonders to come—the day when their customers would have their pay automatically deposited in the bank by the employer, and withdrawn automatically when they need it.

That could whip away at what bankers see as an ever-growing mountain of personal checks, billions and ever more billions of them.

STAR SPANGLED HISTORY OF U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

How they've served America and Americans for 23 years

May 1, 1941—The President buys the first Series E Savings Bond. Thousands of Americans follow his lead.

1943—Everybody's buying Bonds and promoting them. By the end of the year, Americans own $16 billion worth.

1945—War ends. Production turns to consumer goods. Savers cash Bonds for things they want—and then keep right on saving.

1948—The "New Look" is in, but U. S. Savings Bonds are an established style. E Bond holdings now top $32 billion.

1952—Fighting continues in Korea. Bonds help defend freedom again. Series H Bond introduced as companion to Series E Bond.

1957—Cars sport fins, Sputnik orbits. Braves win world series, savings in E and H Bonds top the $41 billion mark.

1960—July 4, the U. S. flag adds its 50th star. Bond-buying Americans hitch their wagons to all 50 of them.

May 1, 1964—The Savings Bond program is 23 years old. Americans now own over $47 billion in Bonds—a record.

Smith-McCarthy

The marriage of Miss Rosalie Ann McCarthy of Manchester to David L. Smith of East Hartford was solemnized July 4 at the Church of the Assumption.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. McCarthy, 84 Deerfield Dr. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Smith of East Hartford.

The Rev. James McDonnell of St. Paul's Church, New Haven, an uncle of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony. First given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of organza, designed with scalloped neckline, elbow-length sleeves and chapel train. Her bouffant veil of French illusion was attached to a cluster of orange blossoms, and she carried an orchid marker with streamers in a white, Frayer book.

Miss Ariene McGinn of Manchester was maid of honor. Miss Joanna Gosselin of Windsor Locks was bridesmaid. Miss Ann McCarthy of Manchester, a sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The bridal attendant's full-length gowns of organza were styled alike with scooped necklines, elbow-length sleeves and Watteau back panels, and they wore floral tiaras and face veils in colors matching their gowns.

The honor attendant wore blue and carried a crescent bouquet of blue daisies. The bridesmaids wore yellow and carried matching daisies, and the junior bridesmaid wore pink and carried matching daisies.

Marriage Rate Of GIs in Japan At 30 Per Week

TOKYO (AP)—American military men in Japan are still marrying Japanese girls at an average of 30 a week.

During the peak years of 1956 and 1957, GI weddings with Japanese girls were estimated to run at 100 weekly.

This year the U.S. consulate-general in Tokyo registered a total of 799 marriages up to July 9.

Only three out of every 50 are civilian marriages, a U.S. consular official said. The rest are between American military men and Japanese women.

Noncommissioned officers in their last 300 account for a large number of grooms, he noted.

The others are the occasional marriage between Americans living here, between American civilians and Japanese or other nationalities, and between Nisei who come over to find a Japanese bride.

Figures on divorces or on abandonment of Japanese wives by American GIs returning to the United States are not available.

The American community in Japan comprises 14,000 civilians and 100,000 military men and their dependents. Of these about 45,000 are in uniform.

The Doctor Says

WILD ANIMALS FASCINATE CHILDREN—AND BITE THEM

Children are fascinated by animals. But whether in a zoo, a national park or in the woods it must be remembered that animals are wild and may suddenly bite. I emphasize this because often bears and other animals appear to be very friendly.

When traveling in a national park, however, the only safe procedure is to keep car windows closed, stay a safe distance from all wild animals and don't attempt to feed them or pet any animal.

Even if the animal is not rabid the bite may result in a nasty infection unless prompt steps are taken to clean the wound. The most important first aid is thorough cleansing with soap and water.

Whichever DAMPNESS is a problem

will guard your home and valuables better!

What you should know about Dehumidifiers...

No. 1 ENEMY IS DAMPNESS!
A dehumidifier should remove moisture from your home to insure the maximum amount of protection against rust, mold, and other damage.

AIR MOVEMENT OVER COILS—ONE MEASURE OF PERFORMANCE.
To be efficient, the air in the area to be dehumidified must pass over the evaporator coils. Amama has 34 1/2 feet of evaporator coils! An air control shroud insures all air passing over the coils and avoids air leaks of moisture-laden air back into the room!

WATER DISPOSAL MUST BE QUICK, EASY AND SURE!
Amama gives you a choice of three ways to remove condensate... 1) a standard hose connection for direct-to-drain. 2) set unit directly over the drain. 3) big condensate pan that holds more than 2 gallons of water.

AUTOMATIC OPERATION IS BEST!
Amama Humidistat Control automatically watches the humidity for you. Turns on and off as needed to maintain pre-selected humidity with a control ranging from 20% to 80% humidity.

OVERFLOW CONTROL!
Amama overflow control switch automatically shuts unit off when condensate pan is full. Eliminates frequent checking of container.

AMAMA GIVES BIG CAPACITY! / SEE Amama FIRST

Most Exciting Game of Year--Berra, All the Guys Were Keyed Up--Mantle Yankees Within Two Points of Points of Baltimore

CLUTCHER—Yankee third baseman Clete Boyer makes diving catch to left off bat of Oriole pinch hitter Bob Powell to stave off ninth inning rally. The spectacular, clutch play by Boyer killed chances of Orioles overcoming Yankee lead. (AP Photo/Fox).

NEW YORK (AP)—This had to be the most exciting game of the year. I don't ever remember being as nervous as I was in the eighth. "All the guys were keyed up for this one."

This was Yogi Berra's reaction after taking time to set his nerves—following Tuesday night's 4-3 squeaker over Baltimore that moved the New York Yankees to within two points of the first place Oriole. That ninth inning left even staid Yankees, who are supposed to be accustomed to such things, gasping with excitement.

"One game is no more important than the next," said Clete Boyer, who contributed a fielding gem in that dramatic inning. "But it was a must game for both teams. It could turn out to be the most important game of the year."

"I don't remember a game I don't want to win as much as this one," said Mickey Mantle, who scored the winning run in the eighth. "All the guys were keyed up for this one."

All Downing, the young Yankee lefty, carried a one-run edge into the ninth. He fanned (Yogi Berra) but walked (Jerry Adair) and hit (Boog Powell) to load the bases. A low fly to 40 feet from the plate sailed left over the head of the catcher, charged in and made a spectacular sliding catch, grabbing the ball inches above the ground. Two were out.

But Downing walked Jackie Brandt. Luis Aparicio beat out an infield roller and the bases were filled. Downing worked over around him in the dugout. "It didn't hurt a bit," he laughed as he recounted the play. "I was more embarrassed than anything else. Luckily the ball placed off the back of my head. A couple of inches more and I would have been knocked out."

What scared the guys was that it swayed my gun and had to cough it up. When the run popped out of my mouth, they thought it was my teeth."

Mickey was still laughing as he thought Hank Bauer, the Orioles' manager and former Yankee teammate, would be spreading the word to the press. "I caught a glimpse of Bauer sliding catch, grabbing the ball to the plate struck Mickey Downing. The league approved, so did North End manager and the Manchester Improvement Association. Approval, too, came from the general manager's office. Downing's light was given to go ahead and set up lights at the league's expense.

All that that needed was help and equipment necessary to install the lights and professional lines to hook up the lighting unit.

With funds at a minimum, free help and use of equipment was asked. The response was overwhelming. Heavy equipment was offered. Don Berger, operator and professional line man from the club, and telephone companies interested responded.

The rest is now history.

Several Big Years

The lighting unit was installed, and the game was played several fine seasons and a North End people were no longer orphans in being left out of the sports picture.

With the North End League baseball, alumni League baseball, and the Manchester League, the local first baseman has nine doubles, two triples and two home runs in his first 56 hits. The St. Louis Cardinals are leading the league with 107.

Moriarty's best three players with better than .400 batting averages in Hartford Twilight League play, Mike Gordon, a leading slugger, Gene Johnson at .404 and Wally Wilder at .387.

The latter is a former UConn baseball and basketball standout and a former St. Louis Cardinals player. Moriarty's second baseman, Tony Lema, is a former St. Louis Cardinals player and a former St. Louis Cardinals player.

Perranoski No Longer Stopper in Dodger Bullpen Dike-Plugger Loses Touch

NEW YORK (AP)—Ron Perranoski, the dike-plugger of the year in 1963, apparently has run out of gas.

One victory shy of the 500 mark and one from a state championship Los Angeles Dodger, Perranoski was hit hard by a two-run pinch-hit single by Bob Skinner that capped a four-run ninth inning uprising and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory.

And once again, Perranoski, who last year at this time was standing in the Dodger bullpen, was hit hard by a two-run pinch-hit single by Bob Skinner that capped a four-run ninth inning uprising and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory.

One-Run Decisions Going Against Birds

NEW YORK (AP)—The trouble with the Baltimore Orioles is they can't win those one-run ball games.

The trouble is only three days old but it's beginning to feel like the perennial money. They dropped a 4-3 decision to New York Tuesday night in the second of a vital three-game set and saw their American League lead evaporate.

The Orioles suddenly have lost their touch in games that are decided by one-run margins. They were rolling off 21 victories in their first 20 games.

They were beaten twice by Detroit — each time by a 1-0 score. They were beaten by the Yankees Tuesday night. They were beaten by the Yankees Tuesday night. They were beaten by the Yankees Tuesday night.

THE Herad Angle

By EARL YOST Sports Editor

Times Have Changed

Shortly after World War II, with hundreds of young men returning from the service, interest in softball was reaching a high fever pitch. While the Twilight Baseball League held forth at the West Side Oval, North End residents and sports-minded people felt they were being left out and wanted something to help occupy their leisure hours.

Not far from the parents of children who didn't want their children out after dark.

The idea was presented to the parents of children who didn't want their children out after dark.

Barry First Ballot Winner, 883-24 N.Y. Rep. William Miller Is Vice Presidential Choice

Regarded as Hard-Hitting Campaigner SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—New York Rep. William E. Miller is Barry Goldwater's choice for vice president on the 1964 Republican ticket, it was announced today.

Goldwater's press aide Ed Nellor said the selection of Miller would be presented at the Republican state chairman's meeting this morning by William E. Knowland, California GOP leader.

The choice of Miller, who has been chairman of the Republican National Committee, is expected to be speedily ratified by the Republican National Convention. The convention delegates customarily follow a lead by the winner of the presidential nominee.

Goldwater, who won the presidential nomination Wednesday night, talked with Knowland by telephone early this morning. Presumably the Arizona senator nailed down at that time the decision to have Miller, who is known as a tough political fighter and an advocate of private enterprises.

Previously it had been known informally that Miller was Goldwater's favorite for the No. 2 spot. It was understood that a number of GOP newspapers in general described the choice of the Arizona senator as a victory for the forces of reaction and a threat to world peace.

Miller, of all, predictably, was the Communist press. "Pravda, the organ of the Soviet Communist Party, said Goldwater was running on the "most reactionary, bellicose and adventurist pre-election platform in American history."

Government officials retrained from public comment, but newspapers in general described the choice of the Arizona senator as a victory for the forces of reaction and a threat to world peace.

State Chairman A. Searle Finney, who seconded Sen. Poinsett's nomination, said that he will vote for Miller. "It is a tremendous tribute to a very courageous man," he said.

Barry Politicking Barry's Staff Has Unique Stamp

By GEOFFREY GOULD SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Barry Morris Goldwater has his own ideas about presidential campaigning—and almost everything he does is unique.

More than a year ago he said, "I've never done anything to get the nomination, and yet all of a sudden everyone is writing me on it."

But an aide said, "However, he has no overwhelming desire to be president. If he thought there was another conservative who could do the job he'd be glad to have him do it."

Goldwater is no apolitical underdog. He delivers some of his toughest campaign attacks in a near-monotone. But sometimes he is eloquent.

Unity Call By Scranton Follows Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Republicans, many bemoaning today behind the victorious conservative banner of Sen. Barry Goldwater for a unified assault on President Johnson's Democrats.

The Arizona sweep to the party's leadership Wednesday night when his relentless bandwagon rolled over moderate and liberal forces for a shouting, rather than a shouting, rather than a shouting, rather than a shouting.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who had been the last hope of the "stop-Goldwater" forces, made the first move toward unity, urging the party to "emphasize its unity."

The "final months" of a bitter struggle for the party's presidential nomination came to a screaming end in the vast Cow Palace when the roll call of states reached South Carolina.

The Southern state gave Goldwater 56, the grandson of a Jewish peddler, its 18 ballots and put him over the 685 needed for the big prize.

At the end of the first ballot the vote stood this way: Goldwater 56, Scranton 24, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York 14 and others 4.

Scranton, his own drive crushed in the stampede, then motioned that the nomination be made unanimous—a gesture received with innumerable approval. But as of the 1,200 delegates votes held out—47 remaining for Scranton, three for Rockefeller and five for New York abstaining.

The new GOP presidential nominee is an Episcopalian. He still holds an interest in Jewish peddling, as he did in Arizona.

The senator demonstrated iron control of the party and the convention in contrast to four

Defeat Shadows Scranton Future

By RICHARD L. GRAVER SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The cloud of defeat that enveloped William Warren Scranton as the Republican presidential nominee also cast a long shadow across his political future.

Scranton is known as a public career of any current office holder with the election record of the slim, affable Pennsylvania governor.

But at the same time there are those who once mused upon the possibility of a "Scranton Revolution" in the White House.
