Mrs. Miller Remains Cool At Reception

On Town Committee of New Britain and the Crest Club members received the reception. Thomas J. Mankill Jr., state congressional candidate and other members of the Republican Club in New Britain, were also in the reception line.

The Hon. John Lodge introduced Mrs. Miller after the formal reception, and she spoke briefly, first in Polish and then in English, expressing her joy at being able to visit the city. She then called upon her mother-in-law, the former Mary Nowak, to more fully express her thoughts in Polish.

Mrs. Miller's father was born in Galicia, formerly a part of Austria and now in Poland. She said that she was fond of many of the native Polish dishes, especially "peroga."

The guest of honor attended the event wearing a black and white dress with a black and white patterned jacket. She was accompanied by a four-strand necklace of crystals and black shoes with red and blue trim. Her favorite color, she said, was "blue and green," and lately she has been wearing pink, "when she felt the need of being perked up."

Mrs. Mary Karen Miller, a 50-year-old lady who ministered to Mrs. Miller's needs, said she was glad to see Mrs. Miller and to be able to help her. She said she had "enjoyed every minute of the campaign" and that she had left the speechmaking to Mankill and Ned.

Libby Miller, 30, was not with her family as she stayed in New York to attend the Young Republican luncheon. The Millers' two younger children, William E. Miller Jr., five, and Stephanie, two and one-half, did not accompany their parents to Connecticut.

After her visit to New Britain, Mrs. Miller, her mother and daughter, left to meet William Miller at a rally in Saybrook.

Mrs. Miller said they had been in New England for one week and she hoped that they will be able to come again and enjoy the sights and scenery of the area. She said they had to stop over on this tour.

Miller Explains GOP's Position

"Would there be American boys being killed in Viet Nam today had we retained the blockade of Cuba until the Russians had withdrawn all missiles?"

"And would there be American boys being killed in Viet Nam today if we had opposed the formation of an ineffective government in Laos which has now become a Communist puppet?"

Mrs. Miller's appeal brought some applause and a loud cry of "Town with Barry Goldwater."

Mrs. Miller continued that only thing she has kept the peace in the past is a firm foreign policy, something which President Eisenhower when we inherited the Korean War in South Viet Nam.

Bubble Gum Poll

Manchester youngsters are conducting their own poll of the presidential candidates with the purchase of "Goldwater" and "Johnson" bubble gum cigars.

If the results of the poll are any criterion, President Johnson will carry Manchester by a better than 3 to 1, say two Manchester store owners selling the gum.

It will never be known until Barry Goldwater is elected president of the United States. Barry Goldwater understands the nature of communism.

Returning to his profession of "retired" to the record straight on Goldwater's stands, Miller asserted that Goldwater "never said we must give our commanders control over atom bombs."

"He has said only that the NATO commander should have the authority to use tactical nuclear weapons such as those a soldier could carry on his back, and only if he was ordered to do so," he said.

"The fact that he has said this might not be time to call up Lyndon Johnson on the phone traveling 100 miles an hour down a Texas highway, to get permission."

And, in an effort to underline his point, Miller said, "That's all we say and that's all we ever said."

Ringed by party officials and newsmen, Miller left the platform after his brief talk to shake a few hands.

In the hotel he was ushered to the gold hued ball room, packed with about 1,000 party guests, where he repeated much of his talk outdoors but added more apt in light of the Republican composition of his audience.

While he had asserted to the more mixed crowd in the park that the GOP candidates had "never called the Democrats a war party," he said to the indoor audience:

"The Democrats say that Lyndon Johnson is a leader from a party which has led this country into war four times in this century."

He also repeated charges delivered in Stamford in the "War on Poverty" was a "true hoax" because it does so little to help the poor.

"One billion dollars cannot solve the problems of one black in New York City," he said.

He said that the measure passed by the Senate has passed is an undue burden because it is matched by an increase of 10 per cent in the Social Security tax.

"You know what the next step will be," he asked. "Next they will want to broaden the coverage, and they will have to raise the taxes on the top 20 per cent of a man's income to do it." With such a tax, he said, private medical insurance would be impossible and the United States would be on its way to "socialized medicine."

"Barry Goldwater's vote against Medicare was a crime against the people," he said.

When it comes to the House of Representatives," he said.

Miller was introduced at the luncheon by former Mayor Thomas Mankill of New Britain, and by James C. Franks, Jr., of West Hartford. Attending were a half dozen members of Manchester's Republican Town Committee, including Chairman Robert P. Anderson, Fera Assistant Town Chairman Mrs. Harlan Thibault, and district leader Wilber Little.

The luncheon Miller conducted a brief press conference for television cameras and newsmen in a small, fourth-floor suite of the Statler, before rejoining his traveling entourage on its way to an afternoon meeting in Waterbury.

He wound up his day at the North Haven Country Club, where he was being honored for his visit this week in New England.

"I'm delighted," he said.

Police Charge Car Owner Hired Pair to Smash It

James Albert Martin, 25, of Meriden, an unemployed car owner, who has been living at 100 Main St., yesterday was charged with conspiracy and making a false complaint to police concerning a reported car theft Tuesday after which police destroyed the vehicle and damaged beyond repair in a $1,000 accident.

Martin has posted a $1,000 bond and the case has been set down for appearance in Circuit Court, 12, Manchester, Sept. 28.

The charges were placed after an extensive police investigation by Det. Sgt. Joseph Barter and Det. John Krieger.

Martin has said only that the NATO commander should have the authority to use tactical nuclear weapons such as those a soldier could carry on his back, and only if he was ordered to do so, he said.

Angeli Injured By Falling Tree

Joseph Angeli, 86, of 118 Glenwood St., was admitted to Manchester Memorial Hospital this morning with head injuries after he was struck down by a branch of a falling tree in his yard.

Angeli had been in the hospital for several days. He was admitted to intermediate care at the hospital in Fairfield.

The accident occurred about 9:40 a.m. as a workman was cutting down a large elm tree at the rear of an E. Center St. home opposite 10 Porter St.

A branch from the falling tree snapped off on a wooden bench house and struck Angeli in the head, knocking him down. He hit his head on an asphalt driveway. He was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

About Town

The Women's Auxiliary of Holy Christian Democratic party today began plotting strategy for a showdown with the Communist Party at nationwide municipal elections this fall.

The Salvation Army will sponsor a series of weekly meetings at the Salvation Army, 17, on Reservoir Rd. that night ending in the first, second and past two halted vehicles on Reservoir Rd. on his way home that night.

In her statement, Mrs. Darwin said today that "Perhaps you (the women) were not vacationing in Connecticut and (or) visiting friends in the Rockville area and did not consider yourselves as having been in the general area of Reservoir Rd. that night."

She asked that the women write to Box 89 in Andover.

Mrs. Darwin declined to give further information for her appeal for information.

Church School On New Plan

St. Mary's Episcopal Church School will place its long-awaited Duplicate Session Plan into effect this week.

The new plan, which grew out of the need for more room and services and more space for classes, will find Session 1 attending Church while Session 2 attends class, and Session 3 attending Church on Thursday, every 10 days.

The new plan will be implemented by the school board on Monday morning.

The nursery and kindergarten departments will be unaffected by the plan and will have one session only, from 8:45 to 10:30 a.m.

The Adult Education Program will be expanded, with an Adult Discussion Group meeting in the Guild Room at each session, and an Adult Bible Class meeting in the Church Room at each session.

The Discussion Group will study "A Journey Into Faith," and the Bible Class will study "Supper of the Bread."

Car Hits Pole, 4 Guide Posts

Mrs. Collins P. Perry of 37 S. Main St. was injured early this morning as she was reportedly blinded by headlights of an oncoming car on Church St. just west of Spruce St. and struck a pole and four guide posts.

No police action was taken in the accident, since the car was properly parked during the night-time hours.

Food Crisis Grips India

By CONRAD FINE. BANGALORE, India (AP) — Chatter Singh thought for a moment that he was in a voice heavy with worry, he delivered his opinion.

"It's the worst in my memory," he said. "I have had stomachs. Two meals now are one."

Thus the 70-year-old villager, knowing nothing of politics or economics, described the food crisis sweeping India.

Even here in the Punjab, the relatively well-off agricultural section of northwest India, things seldom are more than half full after meals. Things are much worse in other areas.

American aid program in India, which has pumped in about $5 billion since 1945, has helped avert disaster. Wheat shipments from the Midwest, soon to total 60,000 tons a month, are the difference between life and death for hundreds of thousands.

Few deaths have been attributed officially to starvation. There has been no repetition of the Bengal famine of 1945 when millions died.

But the eight members of Chatter Singh's family, including his wife and five children, are at a stretch on boiled barley broth. American wheat has gone to harder hit areas and there have been no vegetables.

"My grandchildren don't have enough to eat," he says sadly. "In India this is an admission that the government is not doing its job."

Chatter Singh's wife, bent and feeble under her estimated 75 years, said there was nothing left on many days and that when the sun goes down her stomach is growling empty.

"It's all decided by God," Chatter Singh says. As for the government, "Things are bound to be better for they are making an honest attempt."

Neither Singh nor his neighbors would eat any of their many cows and buffaloes that range across the countryside, stripping up everything in their path. They won't even eat an egg to gain much needed protein.

"God would be very angry," he said. "I would rather die than let my wife eat anything."

Coup Rumor Grips Saigon

By WILLIAM L. RYAN, AP Special Correspondent. South Viet Nam's — and Southeast Asia's — future may now depend upon who has more patience: The Chinese and North Vietnamese Communists or the Americans.

High U.S. officials speak of the possibility of negotiation to end the frustrating, expensive war, with a big "if" — if the Communists will leave their neighbors alone. There seems little prospect of that.

But if this talk is taken in the light of the fact that the U.S. is wearing thin, the result can be a considerably stepped-up push to end the conflict to a conference table.

Ho Chi Minh North Vietnamese Communists already have displayed much patience. They are waiting for the U.S. to blink first. They would like to see the U.S. attempt to take over all Indo-China, and they are waiting for the U.S. to blink first.

High U.S. officials speak of the possibility of negotiation to end the frustrating, expensive war, with a big "if" — if the Communists will leave their neighbors alone. There seems little prospect of that.

But if this talk is taken in the light of the fact that the U.S. is wearing thin, the result can be a considerably stepped-up push to end the conflict to a conference table.

Ho Chi Minh North Vietnamese Communists already have displayed much patience. They are waiting for the U.S. to blink first. They would like to see the U.S. attempt to take over all Indo-China, and they are waiting for the U.S. to blink first.

South Viet Nam's — and Southeast Asia's — future may now depend upon who has more patience: The Chinese and North Vietnamese Communists or the Americans.

Assembly at East Catholic Welcomes Freshman Class

By JIM WHITESIDES The eagle, we believe that we at East Catholic are close to God." Father Shaw reminded the students that, nations, as people, are measured by what they believe in. To be the best school, he said, East Catholic students must not only say they are the best but make sure that they are at work being the best, according to their school's symbol and to their God. With this the students who returned from a summer in some 900 parts and three classes to find a new fourth class, returned to their classrooms 1,200 parts of a whole, in silence, as is their custom.

Miss Peterson Feted at Parties

Miss Cherie Peterson has been feted at several miscellaneous showers recently. She is the daughter of Mrs. Viola Peterson of 27 Turnbull Rd. Mrs. John Hartl, mother of Miss Peterson's fiancé, and Mrs. Peter King of Westport, sister of the bride-elect, were co-hostesses at a shower given at the Hartl home on Taylor Rd., Talcottville. The room was decorated with green and gold butterflies, the feature colors of the bridal attendants' gowns. Attending were 25 friends and relatives of the Hartl family. Miss Diana Peterson, sister of the bride-elect, Miss Holly Mitchell, her cousin, and Mrs. Lee Wilkins entertained at the Peterson home, with 25 in attendance. The room was decorated with white wedding bells and streamers. Co-workers at Manchester Memorial Hospital feted Miss Peterson at the home of the co-hostesses, Miss Noreen Warner and Miss Jean Simons, 183 N. Elm St. The bride-elect was seated under an umbrella of green and yellow to open her gifts. Miss Peterson will wed Michael Hartl on Sept. 19.

Smith Leaving School System

Harry F. Smith, director of Camp Kennedy, has assured the Mayor's Advisory Committee that he will continue to direct the camp's operation, despite his resignation from the Manchester School System.

Smith, on Aug. 21, submitted his resignation as a teacher of the mentally retarded. Monday night, the board of education, at the recommendation of Superintendent William Curtis, is expected to accept the resignation.

Smith, who has been teaching in Manchester since 1948, would give no reason for his move, but said that he had been considering it since last April. He also said that he will remain in the teaching field, and that he will continue to live in Manchester.

The success of Camp Kennedy has been attributed to the "fine management of the project" by all who visited the Globe Hollow site during the summer, and Smith, along with the staff, friends and volunteers of the camp, will be honored on Thursday night, when the Army-Navy Club holds a roast beef dinner "in appreciation."

Smith revealed on Sept. 3, that he is already "knee deep in plans for the 1965 operations of Camp Kennedy."

Keith's Showing Veitch Paintings

An exhibition of original paintings by Helen Hayes Veitch of Bolton will be shown at the G.E. Keith Furniture Store on Main St. for one month, starting next Thursday.

The showing will include approximately 25 oils, water colors, pastels and sketches, many of which have won prizes in Manchester Fine Art Association exhibits.

Mrs. Veitch, a Manchester native, has had one-woman exhibits in Bolton and Coventry, and many of her pictures have been shown locally at several locations.

Church School To Open Sunday

The Church School of Center Congregational Church - United Church of Christ will open Sunday for the fall-winter semester with regular sessions at 9:15 and 11 a.m., for all children, three years old through junior high school.

A meeting for all parents of new junior high school students will be held Tuesday night at 7 in Woodruff Hall. The Tuesday evening Junior High Program will begin Sept. 22 at 6:30 p.m.

Alexander F. Mannella of 114 N. Lakewood Circle, general superintendent of Hamilton Standard Propeller at Windsor Locks and top man in the entire United Aircraft Corporation, seniority-wise, last night was honored by fellow employees, friends and associates (many retired), marking his 40th year with the firm. Some 300 attended a testimonial dinner held in Mannella's honor at Schaub's Restaurant on Rt. 5 in East Windsor.

Alexander F. Mannella

Mannella, who completed his four decades tenure yesterday, was presented with a color television and other gifts at the dinner. Earlier in the day, flowers and cards were received by him at his office desk at Hamilton Standard.

Pictures of last night's testimonial will be put in an album which will be given to Mannella as a remembrance of the occasion. Joseph Basso, assistant superintendent at Hamilton Standard, was master of ceremonies at the event which was also attended by Mrs. Mannella.

Mannella's career dates back to 1924 and the days of Standard Steel Propeller Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., one of two firms that merged in 1929 to form Hamilton Standard.

Mannella was the man who, on May 20, 1927, inspected the props on the "Spirit of St. Louis" before the historical Atlantic Ocean flight by Charles Augustus Lindbergh from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, N.Y., to Le Bourget Airport near Paris, France.

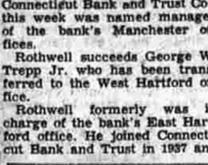

A native of Pittsburgh, Mannella learned his trade as a machinist at Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., where he worked for three years before joining Hamilton Standard.

In the earlier days, Mannella once said that some 14 men put in 60 days of work to fill an order for eight propellers. Time and methods have changed and increased the quality and output with highly specialized machinery, he has said.

BANK CHANGES

Richard C. Rothwell of South Windsor, vice president of the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., this week was named manager of the bank's Manchester offices.

Rothwell succeeds George W. Trepp Jr. who has been transferred to the West Hartford office. Rothwell formerly was in charge of the bank's East Hartford office. He joined Connecticut Bank and Trust in 1957 and in 1946 was appointed assistant treasurer. He advanced to assistant vice president in 1955 and vice president in 1962.

Trepp, who joined the bank in 1926 and had been manager of the Manchester offices since 1961, succeeds John Taylor at the West Hartford office. Taylor is being transferred to the branch administration department at the banking firm's main office, effective the first of the year.

The three management changes were reported this week. All three are vice presidents of the bank.

APARTMENTS READY

A new apartment complex called Marilyn Courts will be ready for occupancy on Oct. 15 at Olcott and S. Adams Sts. It was reported this week by a spokesman for the new housing unit.

Architect Arnold Lawrence of Manchester designed the apartments which are being

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—The unwelcome mail at Carolyn Jones' front door said "Go Away," but it was a smiling Carolyn, dressed in a beige blouse and long beige hostess skirt, who opened the door. Both the beige and the smile will soon disappear forever — or as long as Carolyn's public image is the unsmiling, black widow look of Morticia, the lady of The Addams Family, the new ABC-TV series which will premiere Friday. Carolyn is the star of one of this season's two comedies about the average monsters next door. And the thought of dressing in slinky black, giving plant food to poison oaks and poison ivy, and raising a son who has a piggy bank that is a live pig and uses real bats when he plays baseball delights her.

"I have always loved Charles Addams' cartoons. I guess I'm a snob really. It's a type of humor which is commercial, and yet elite."

On Halloween, White In order to keep up her public image, Carolyn plans to be seen in public only in black, except maybe on Halloween, when she will wear all white. And this is playing havoc with her wardrobe.

"I love black, but I thought I had an overabundance of it. So this year I went overboard on beige clothes. My designer

NBC Special Projects will explore the revolution under way in small-town America in a full-hour color television program, "Small Town," with stage and screen star Fredric March as narrator on- and-off-camera. The program will be presented Friday 10-11 p.m.

Eugene S. Jones is producer and director of the TV special, which has been filmed in five small towns during a 10-week period of location shooting.

"The program is designed as a thoughtful, dramatic view of the life and death of small-town America in the 1960s," Jones said. "Our small towns are disappearing hand-over-fist. Many are becoming ghost towns because, for one thing, farming has gone into great combines often run from the cities. With our ever-changing industrial patterns, one-industry towns are becoming no-industry towns. Another thing happening is that small towns are being overrun by sprawling metropolitan growth, losing their identity in the process."

"We want to pause to take a look at the small town before it is gone, as some people predict. The small town and its people as part of America's grass-roots cultural heritage. We want to show how the small town is managing to exist today and, in some cases, how it is falling. We want to come to know the people and, most importantly, the influences that are working upon them."

The five towns Jones and his TV camera crew have visited in their survey are Cimarron, Kan.; Brandenton, Fla.; Bossier City, La.; Greenville, Maine; and Hellier, Ky.

As outlined by Jones, the program opens at dawn in Cimarron, where Fredric March joined the crew on-location, and closes at sunset on the great plains outside that town. In terms of people, he said, the program deals with farmers and ranchers in Kansas, woodmen in Maine, miners in Kentucky, businessmen in Louisiana, and retired folk in Florida.

"In 1950," Jones said, "30 per cent of all Americans lived on farms. Today seven per cent live on farms. In the last five years, 1,000,000 persons left the farms each year."

And, he added: "The decline of small-town America is a part of changing times. The very technology that has given us a fuller, richer, more abundant life in the 1960s is destroying the older way of life. Automation wipes out the need for manpower, and where there is no need for manpower there is no need for towns. Consequently, the towns die."

TV Follows The Ganges

A full-hour NBC News color special, "Ganges—Sacred River," portraying India's Ganges River and life along its 1,560-mile course, will be presented Tuesday from 10-11 p.m.

The Hazam unit's TV cameras will trace the Ganges, considered sacred by the Hindus, from its source in the Himalayas. "To get to the source area," Hazam said, "the crew had to travel three days by car, one day by jeep, and then walk two days to cover the last 18 miles in the Gan-

Herald Editor On TV Panel

Alan H. Olmstead, of The Manchester Herald, will be a regular panelist on "Starring the Editors," premiering tonight at 7 on Channel 30. The half-hour program will survey current events. Others appearing tonight are Herbert Brucker of the Hartford Courant; Richard C. Garvey, of the Springfield Daily News; and Richard J. Murphy, of the Holyoke Transcript-Telegram.

Bing Crosby will be host of an ABC special to kick off the new season tomorrow from 9 to 10 p.m. Among those appearing are Inger Stevens, Walter Brennan, David Janssen, Lawrence Welk, Mickey Rooney and Carolyn Jones.

'Miss America' at 10

The 44th annual "Miss America Pageant" will be broadcast live from Convention Hall in Atlantic City, N.J., tonight from 10 to midnight for the eighth consecutive year on CBS.

A glamorous array of lovely and talented young women will parade across the nation's television screens in the climax of the annual search for the "ideal American girl." The broadcast is the grand finale of four days of competition for scholarships and national fame by 50 girls representing all the states. The ceremonies will culminate in the selection of Miss America 1965 and her crowning by this year's titleholder, Donna Lee Axum of Eldorado, Ark.

Theme of this 44th "Miss America Pageant" will be "Happy Birthday, Garden State," commemorating the 300th birthday of New Jersey, the home state of the Miss America competition since its inception.

For his 10th consecutive year, Bert Parks will serve as on-stage master of ceremonies. Bea Myerson will provide commentary.

The use of humor in politics is examined on CBS-TV's "Politics in a Funny Business" Wednesday from 8-8:30 p.m. The wit of six presidents, Hoover through Johnson, will be presented.

Republican vice-presidential candidate William E. Miller will be interviewed on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press" tomorrow from 6-6:30 p.m.

Sometimes The Robot Will Flirt

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Robert Cummings is a television star of considerable distinction. He has survived, with no visible scars, involvement in three situations comedy series and has now embarked on his fourth. He is one of a select group of actors who permits the inclusion of his birth year (1910) in his official biography — and whose extraordinarily youthful appearance permits him to be cast as a youthful, acceptable bachelor.

Cummings, this season, appears as a bachelor psychiatrist who accidentally becomes the uncomfortable custodian of a gorgeous robot named Rhoda whose plastic exterior and computer-innards were made for space experiments. The CBS series is called "My Living Doll," and the actor seems fascinated more by the problem facing his co-star, Julie Newmar, than by his own part.

ABC Corners War Market with 6 Shows

Theodore Bikel and Pierre Jalbert in 'Combat'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The American Broadcasting Company seems to be staking a claim on military life. This season it will have six shows, three of them comedies, involving uniforms.

"Combat" will be back with its mud-stained heroes continuing their grim battle across France from the beachheads toward the Rhine. This year they will get some air support from "12 O'Clock High," a new series about a bomber group.

"McHale's Navy," still fighting the funny war in the Pacific, this year is joined by a sister show, "Broadside," about a bunch of lady sailors. Then there is "No Time for Sergeants," adapted from the army-life movie that gave Andy Griffith his big push — and, interestingly, Griffith's competition this season.

CBS has two new entries. One is a documentary series, "The Great War," a study of the 1914-18 conflict. The other is a child of Andy Griffith's comedy series called "Gomer Pyle — U.S.M.C.," with Jim Nabors playing a country-style Marine recruit.

Comedy wars are rarely dangerous in televisionland, but they are not exactly a barrel of fun for the performers.

On one of the hottest days of the summer, Nabors and company were on location in a wild canyon beyond Beverly Hills filming an episode about a training maneuver. For more than an hour in the broiling sun Nabors had been working on one scene in which he had to carry a husky actor around a bend and then — with his burden still slung over a shoulder — go through a lengthy dialogue. The problem was that Nabors was so winded by the time he reached the microphone he could scarcely gasp.

"I carried him all day yesterday, too," the actor moaned, mopping a sweaty brow and fanning himself with his helmet liner. "Last night I was so plumb tuckered out I fell asleep at the dinner table — in a restaurant."

"I keep asking the director if he's sure he isn't really getting me ready for service in Viet Nam."

Nabors said that so far he has suffered only a skinned elbow, but added that maneuvers, even fake ones, are not without real peril. The actors' real enemy is more dangerous than blank bullets and small explosive charges. The canyon is full of poison oak.

New York School Boycott Cuts Attendance Heavily

NEW YORK (AP) — A boycott today cut heavily into attendance at schools involved in a program of using buses to racially balance enrollments.

The Board of Education's initial figures for opening day showed absenteeism ranging from 18 per cent at a predominantly Negro school to 27 per cent at a predominantly white one.

Picketing and absenteeism affected several other schools not directly involved in the program of integration of the nation's largest public school system.

But many other parents sent their children to school — some under protest, others with a willingness to give the program a try.

Exact attendance figures for the million-pupil school system were not available during the first hours after the opening bells rang.

The boycott, to last two days, was called jointly by the Parents and Taxpayers Coordinating Council and the Joint Council for Better Education. It was opposed by school administrators and many civic organizations.

The busing program involved eight schools in Brooklyn and Queens — but white parents with picket signs appeared outside some schools elsewhere in the city.

Miriam Greenauer, marching outside a Bronx elementary school where her 8-year-old son is assigned, explained: "We are far-sighted in this situation. Eventually our school will be involved. So we are protesting now before it happens."

By law, New York's 850 schools are not segregated. But because pupils in lower grades normally are assigned to schools in their neighborhoods, 165 elementary and junior high schools have enrollments of 85 per cent or more Negro and Puerto Rican children.

Protesting this unplanned segregation, civil rights forces twice boycotted schools last winter. The Board of Education subsequently announced its busing plan, with the current boycott a reaction to it.

For this year the board chose four predominantly white schools and paired them with four predominantly Negro or Puerto Rican schools.

Events In State Violent Deaths Mar Weekend

HARTFORD (AP) — The deaths of two boys who were hit by a car as they walked along Route 1 in Groton last night brought to four the number killed on Connecticut highways during the weekend. In addition, two youngsters were drowned and a Bristol high school student killed himself while cleaning a shotgun.

The Groton accident took the lives of Richard McCurtain and Alexander Elburg, two of West Haven, both of Groton. Police said they were about 14 or 15 years old.

Robert L. Starkweather, 27, of Groton, identified by police as the operator of the car, was charged with negligent homicide, drunken driving, evading responsibility, reckless driving and gross misconduct with a motor vehicle. He was held in lieu of $15,000 bond.

In other accidents: Simone DeRochefort four of Stamford, fell off a sailboat in Long Island Sound off Stratford and Alexander Elburg, two of West Haven, toppled into five feet of water in a North Haven pond Saturday.

On Saturday night, Robert McLoughlin, 59, and his son, James, 23, of Boston, were killed when their car crossed the center strip of the Wilbur Cross Highway in Manchester and struck two cars.

Roger Dubay, a senior at Central High in Bristol, died Saturday after a shotgun he was cleaning discharged in his face.

See Premier Pressing War Against Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States welcomed today the quick collapse of the antigovernment military uprising in South Viet Nam and officials said Premier Nguyen Khanh should now be able to get on rapidly with plans to press the war against Communist guerrillas.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk summed up official reaction here, saying "I am pleased that the trouble is over and that the government can now get on with its main tasks."

No one here could say for certain whether Khanh's shaky hold on leadership had been strengthened or weakened by the Sunday coup, but Rusk obviously hoped that Khanh's success in his latest struggle for power would reinforce his position.

Officials said Khanh faces two urgent tasks in the immediate future. One is to launch a military, political and economic offensive against Red Viet Cong. The other is to set up within the next two months a provisional government charged with responsibility for giving South Viet Nam a new constitutional order.

Rusk signaled the belief that the crisis is eased by leaving Washington on a speaking tour to Detroit, a long-scheduled date that the accident, events in Saigon had shifted to tentative status. He spoke briefly with newsmen at the airport.

While Rusk was in Detroit, the State Department announced that on his return he would have a news conference. Rusk evidently wanted an opportunity to discuss U.S.-Vietnamese policy and answer questions raised by the short-lived uprising.

Rusk had his last news conference last Thursday. His normal pattern has been to have a full-scale, on the record meeting with reporters once a week. Powerful and assistant U.S. support for the premier evidently played a key role in keeping him in office. U.S. officials in Saigon are understood to have made the American position clear to South Viet Nam's contending leaders well before his public announcement in Washington.

The attempted coup came so suddenly that it caught American policy makers, including Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, by surprise. Startled officials hastened to their departments Sunday morning to find out what was happening.

Nothing like this had been foreshadowed during a Friday review of the Vietnamese situation which Taylor held with President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and other authorities. Taylor Monday through last Thursday, Johnson, Rusk, McNamara and other officials held an unannounced emergency meeting at the White House Sunday on the newest Saigon crisis.

This was followed by a statement expressing the hope that "consultations among the"

Vessel Hits Bay Bridge; Second Burns

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — The Norfolk-bound freighter Henriette ran aground late Sunday night when her master apparently ordered a turn to avoid the Chesapeake Bay bridge-tunnel.

The Coast Guard at Portsmouth said it received a call that the freighter was headed for the bridge-tunnel. A cutter was ordered out, but another call a few minutes later said the ship had stopped.

The Coast Guard reported that the master of the ship said that he needed no assistance. The Coast Guard said there was no apparent damage to the ship or any injury to the personnel aboard.

T. Parker Host, agent at Hampton Roads for the Henriette, said there were about 40 men aboard.

Host said that the Henriette left New York Saturday night and was headed for drydocking at the Norfolk Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co.

The vessel went aground in rough weather with limited visibility.

'Dora' Heading Away from N.E.

WINDSOR LOCKS (AP) — Tropical storm Dora is moving northeastward and will remain well to the south and east of New England with only fringe effects in the form of rain and occasional gustiness in eastern sections this afternoon.

At Bristol Field the edge of the cloudiness associated with the storm can be observed west of the Connecticut Valley. Weather conditions were quite varied over the Nutmeg State this afternoon with partly cloudy skies in western sections and mostly cloudy skies in the east.

The rain that is now falling in eastern Connecticut will gradually end during the afternoon.

Helpless Ship Riding Hurricane Rescued Merchant Seamen Awaiting Word of Captain

NEW YORK (AP) — The Coast Guard cutter Cherokee radioed today that despite storm-tossed seas it will try to remove nine men from the disabled freighter Globe Explorer, and resume towing the vessel to land.

The cutter, standing by the American freighter about 300 miles southeast of New York, rescued the four crewmen and five Coast Guardsmen aboard were in no immediate danger.

The message said the fire that forced the crew to abandon ship Friday had not affected the seaworthiness of the hull.

The Coast Guard in New York said the Cherokee has been ordered to head for the Delaware Bay area to run behind tropical storm Dora, although Long Island is the closest land.

The Coast Guard cutter Owaseo, which took 33 crewmen to New London, Conn., headed back to join the Cherokee, which reported 18-foot seas and a 35-knot wind.

Shipper Carl Jurgensen of Neptune, N.J., and the other three crew members on board had taken to lifeboats with the others Friday, but went back aboard Saturday when the Cherokee began towing the ship to port.

Five Coast Guardsmen from the cutter Cherokee were aboard the freighter with Jurgensen and his skeleton crew.

The nine were suddenly left to shift for themselves last night when Cherokee, faced with mounting seas and rising winds from Hurricane Ethel, parted the towing cable.

"The Cherokee is standing by and there doesn't seem to be too much danger for the nine men," a Coast Guard officer said. The Cherokee is waiting for seas to calm or else try to get the men aboard the cutter.

The two ships were about 350 miles east southeast of New York and headed for Delaware Bay when they separated.

At New London, the 33 men who were brought in aboard the cutter Owaseo spoke of Captain Jurgensen as "a good sailor." They noted that he had ordered

State Dems Leading GOP Edge 44,860

HARTFORD (AP) — As of Aug. 31, there were 44,860 more voters registered as Democrats in Connecticut than as Republicans.

Republicans held the lead in vote registration over Democrats in 1959. But the next year the Democrats moved ahead and they have piled up their lead a bit by bit since.

The figures, released Saturday by Ella Grasso, Secretary of State, do not reflect the

Fault in Cable Cuts Out Power

Crews from the Hartford Electric Light Co. were scheduled to begin at 1 a.m. tomorrow to replace a section of faulty cable which caused a 3 1/2 hour power failure in a central section of Manchester this morning.

The blackout covered an area of one tenth of a square mile bounded, by Main, Bissell, E. Center and Harrison Sts. It began about 5:30 a.m. and, for most of the area, ended shortly after 9 a.m.

It was traced to a failure in an underground cable in front of St. James' School. Power was rerouted along other cables.

Among the HELCO customers affected in the outage were a number of business places along the east side of Main St. and the south side of E. Center. Because it was without power, The Herald reduced the size of today's paper, editing selectively and cutting out some regular features. They will be published in tomorrow's edition.

Language Change

HARTFORD (AP) — Five of the seven sacraments of the Roman Catholic Church will be generally administered in English throughout the Archdiocese in Hartford, starting today.

The sacraments are those of baptism, confirmation, matrimony, penance and extreme unction.

The sacraments of holy eucharist (communion) during Mass and holy orders will continue to be in Latin.

The use of English for the five sacraments is according to an announcement by the Roman Catholic bishops of America, giving the effective date today.

In Connecticut, a few churches have already started to use English in the sacraments. The most Rev. Henry J. O'Brien, D. C., archbishop of Hartford, gave permission for its use as soon as English rituals were obtainable.

There will be exceptions to the use of English in administering the five sacraments.

G.I. Braves Bullets To Rescue Refugee

BERLIN (AP) — A German immigrant now in the U.S. Army braved East German bullets Sunday to help a wounded refugee escape over the Berlin wall.

Spec. 4 Hans Puhl, 22, was the hero of a 40-minute battle at dawn during which West Berlin police and East German Communist guards fired dozens of shots at each other. No one was killed, but it was the longest fight since the wall was put up three years ago.

Lying in the middle of the fray, on the Communist side of the wall, was Michael Meyer, 21, from the East German town of Frederdorf. Communist bullets brought him down as he tried to scramble over the wall to West Berlin.

Communist guards then tried to drag him away, but Puhl — covered by Western police — marched to the wall and ordered the East German back.

At a news conference, Puhl said he was riding along the Western side of the wall — in the Kreuzberg District — on a routine patrol with a West Berlin policeman and arrived at the scene just after Meyer had been shot.

The American dashed to the second story of a nearby apartment house for a view of the other side of the wall.

He spotted the young man on the ground.

"Two East German guards were pulling on him," he said. "I pointed my rifle at them and told them to let him go."

"When they did not let him go, I threw a tear gas grenade across the wall in the hope that they would stop bothering the refugee and they did."

Puhl then ran back to the wall, gave his rifle to a West Berlin policeman and pulled out his pistol.

"Two West Berliners boosted me up," he continued, "so that I could see across the wall and I called to the refugee not to move and that we were going to cut the wire (on top of the wall)."

When Puhl peered over the wall, the Communists opened fire, hitting the upper edge of the wall and showering him with concrete fragments.

West Berlin police returned the fire from windows of the apartment house. Two East Germans succeeded in reaching Meyer again. One began pulling the refugee, and the other pointed a pistol at Puhl.

"The American pulled his own pistol from the holster, aimed at the East German and said in German, 'Two East German guards

Third Ecumenical Meeting Now Under Way at Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI opened the third and possibly decisive session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council today, calling on bishops of the Roman Catholic Church to define their place in Church government with regard to the pontiff. He pledged anew to help the search for Christian unity.

Symbolizing the sharing of papal-episcopal power, the Pope celebrated a special Mass with 24 prelates on the altar of St. Peter's.

Then in an address to the 2,500 council fathers from around the globe, the Pope:

—Declared that the papal-bishop issue was the most important task of the council.

—Said this council must complete the concept of papal-episcopal sharing left unfinished by the last council.

—Stressed that sharing authority with bishops in governing the church meant no lessening of papal primacy.

—Told the bishops that the problems and dangers of modern life demanded a greater need for centralized leadership of the Church.

—Promised to do all possible to bring Catholics and other Christians together.

Pope Paul called the task of defining papal-bishop authority the "weightiest and most delicate" mission of the council. The issue has important implications for Christian unity.

Voting will take place early in the session on one schema, or council topic, concerning the nature of the Church and one on the duties of bishops. They spell out a new emphasis on papal-episcopal cooperation in the government of the Church.

Celebrated Masses are rare. The fact that Pope Paul chose one to start the session that will decide the authority issue — called collegiality — was deemed significant. He has indicated in the past that he favors a wider role for bishops.

In celebration all participants say the prayers for the consecration of the communion host, which is the heart of the Mass. Each receives a piece of the consecrated wafer and each takes a sip of the consecrated wine from the chalice.

But even in this consecration the primacy of the Pope is

Cardinal Called Out of Danger After Collapse

ROME (AP) — James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles collapsed today during the ceremonial reopening of the Vatican Ecumenical Council in St. Peter's Basilica.

Doctors said a combination of fatigue and the heat of the basilica, filled with 2,500 council fathers and several thousand spectators, caused him to lose consciousness.

The cardinal was wheeled on a stretcher to a first aid station, then driven by ambulance to the Blue Sisters Clinic on Rome's Cellan Hill. Electrocardiograms taken there showed his heart function was normal, doctors said.

The Cardinal's secretaries telephoned Los Angeles to inform the archdiocese what had happened and to reassure the chancery office there that the cardinal was in no danger.

Doctors said he would stay in the hospital several days to rest and undergo blood and other tests.

A few moments before the cardinal collapsed, the Rev. Cullinan, theology professor at the Universities of Basle and Paris and a non-Catholic observer to the council, fainted and had to be helped from the
