Bus Company, Union Agree

HARTFORD (AP)—Final settlement of a dispute between the Connecticut Company and its union bus drivers and mechanics was reached at 9 p.m. last night, avoiding both a walkout and submission of the issues to binding arbitration. The settlement, in effect, guarantees the union that traditional handling of work assignments will be continued at least through the life of the present contract, which expires next Sept. 30. The company Saturday morning had offered to submit seven issues to binding arbitration following a suggestion by the union. But when the company proposed specific language as to what the arbitrator would consider, the union balked. Key to the solution last night was assurance by the company that it would not subcontract out complex mechanical repairs, such as transmission rebuilding, to be done outside the union shop. Only three items had actually been contracted out, it was understood, but the union feared the practice might be expanded. The company also agreed to designate union men as "lead men," with a 10-cent-an-hour pay differential, on jobs where only one or two men were at work. The company had previously had a foreman, not a member of the bargaining unit—supervise such jobs, and the union claimed it had attempted to have him perform some work. The agreement recognizes that it is uneconomical to have full-time non-working supervision for such work, but puts the work-and-supervision combination in the hands of a union member.

Area Weather

WINDSOR LOCKS (AP)—More fair dry weather is in prospect with only a few temperature changes very little, the U.S. Weather Bureau says. The only two areas of cloudiness on the weather map hold no promise of rain. Cloudiness along the Middle Atlantic coast is all that is left of the low pressure system which over the weekend traveled from the Mississippi Valley across the Appalachians and coastline. Another low pressure area near Minnesota has begun to form cloudiness. Its course in the next 36 to 48 hours will take it north of Connecticut, although it should bring some cloudiness tomorrow afternoon and night. Temperatures remain about normal for the season.

Highway Deaths

BROOKLYN (AP)—Thomas Snow, 24, of Willimantic, was killed early today State Police said, when his car went out of control on Rt. 6. Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt of Brooklyn, who arrived at the scene to see if she could administer aid, was injured when a car operated by Frank Sanelli struck a felled pole, which in turn struck her. Three people died in weekend highway accidents in the state and a fourth state resident was killed Saturday in a head-on crash in North Kingston, R. I. The third death occurred early yesterday when a car driven by Martin Blevins of DETROIT (AP)—Negotiations in Ford Motor Co. key plant strikes in three states switched from the local level to top-level bargaining today in an effort to speed agreement. Top management and United Auto Workers representatives took over in negotiations at Ford headquarters in Dearborn. The three strikes—at stamping plants in Buffalo, N.Y., and Chicago Heights, Ill., and an aluminum factory at Sheffield, Ala.—were among nine local level walkouts keeping 25,000 employees idle. The string of local strikes has out into Ford passenger car production by a company-estimated 46 per cent and truck production by 34 per cent. Ford has 180,000 hourly employees, at 90 locations. All nine strikes began Friday, seven weeks after Ford and the union reached agreement Sept. 18 on national contract terms. Local agreements supplement the national understanding. A threatened strike at Ford's St. Louis assembly plant was avoided when local-level agreement was reached there Sunday night. UAW Local 325, representing 1,700 workers, had set a strike deadline there of 11 a.m. today.

High Tribunal Rejects Race As Factor in Picking Juries

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court appeared today to take a new position on consideration of race in selection of juries. It declined to review, and thus let stand, a lower court decision in a Louisiana case that purposeful inclusion of Negroes in a list from which grand jurors were drawn violated the constitutional rights of a Negro later convicted of raping a white woman. The high court has held in the past that deliberate exclusion of Negroes from juries is unconstitutional. While the action today came in a brief order, without comment, the court presumably saw as correct the lower court's ruling that deliberate inclusion of Negroes is also unconstitutional. The case involved Woodman J. Collins, Negro of Iowa, La., who was sentenced to execution on conviction of rape of Gladys E. Vatis of Texas City, Tex. Testimony was given that Collins smashed the window of the car of Mrs. Vatis, drove here to a field near Lake Charles, La., and left her in a ditch after the attack. Louisiana's Supreme Court upheld the conviction in February 1962, and the U. S. Supreme court on Oct. 8, 1962, refused to review the trial of Collins. His counsel then began habeas corpus proceedings in lower federal courts and won a ruling by the U. S. Circuit Court in New Orleans that Collins had been denied equal protection of law because of purposeful inclusion of Negroes on the grand jury list. Seven white persons and five Negroes constituted the grand jury in the case. Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremlion of Louisiana appealed to the highest tribunal in the country. The appeal said jury commissioners had intentionally sought to list members of both races "so as to achieve a reasonably representative cross-section of the population of the community."

Gremlion asked in the appeal: "How can a constitutional jury be formed in either a state or federal court if jury commissioners may not intentionally include members of various races in the jury list from which the jurors are to be drawn by lot." The Supreme Court, however, refused to review the case. The tribunal announced its action in a brief order, which gave no reasoning. The effect was to let the lower federal court decision remain standing. In other principal actions today, the high court: —Agreed to rule on constitutionality of the federal law barring Communists from serving as officials of a labor union. The U. S. Circuit Court in San Francisco held that the law violates the constitutional right of freedom of association. The Justice Department appealed. —Ruled 8-1 that an employer violates the National Labor Relations Act by firing an employee engaged in union activities even if the employer believes in

Assembly Meets Tomorrow To Study Reapportionment

HARTFORD (AP)—The Connecticut General Assembly will meet in special session its fourth—tomorrow to hear a brief address by Governor John N. Dempsey and then recess while legislative leaders draft ground rules for court-directed action on reapportionment. The opening day comes a week earlier than the deadline imposed by a three-judge panel for starting work on the job. The early start gives legislators an extra week in which to work. The court panel has given them until Jan. 30 to come up with an acceptable plan. Looking over their shoulders will be a special master to be appointed by the federal judges. He is to draft a "standby" plan which the court would impose if the Assembly fails to keep to the timetable, or to come up with a plan.

LBJ Pushing Budget Curb

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson meets today with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara as he pushes his campaign to keep next year's federal budget under $100 billion. McNamara was invited to be Johnson's guest at the 400-acre LBJ Ranch to discuss Pentagon budgeting that will be crucial to the over-all federal spending plan destined for delivery to Congress in January. Flying west from Washington with McNamara was Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus Vance. McNamara, coming to the Texas hill country without any formal agenda for his talks with Johnson, was to arrive late today. He will be an overnight guest at the ranch where the President has been relaxing since the Nov. 3 election. McNamara will be joined here Tuesday by Secretary of State

Ohm's Law Replaces Pie-Baking Lessons

WASHINGTON (AP)—So, what's new in home economics classes these days? Well, here's a preview: Ohm's law and photometric analysis, among other things—or at least there should be, says Prof. Florence Ehrenkrantz of the University of Minnesota's School of Home Economics. Prof. Ehrenkrantz' concept of home economics is a far cry from the traditional preparation in nutrition, baby-care and family budgets. She believes home ec students "need a background in physics—not a lip service appreciation of the scientific method, but an understanding of the principles of physical science." This, she says, requires foundation work in college algebra and calculus, and "a course in statistics would be advantageous, although not essential." In a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, Prof. Ehrenkrantz made these further points: —A study of mechanics "introduces concepts of force, energy, power, and mechanical efficiency, all having significant cases for various household appliances and relating to physical work in the home." —Understanding of fundamental particles, atomic structure and nuclear reactions is essential in such areas as household equipment, nutrition and food preservation. —Some knowledge of the physics of sound is essential for the home economist interested in the potential use of ultrasounds to clean clothes and dishes. —The principles of heat and thermometry relate to food refrigeration, cooking, and the treatment of textiles. —Need for some understanding of electricity is obvious because of many electrical appliances found in the home. Prof. Ehrenkrantz didn't say so, but with this background at

Bandits Steal Jeweled Book From Armory

NEW YORK (AP)—Two masked bandits invaded the fortress-like Seventh Regiment Armory on Park Avenue Sunday, overpowered the watchman, and fled with the jeweled remembrance book valued at $75,000. The thieves broke into the massive, turreted structure about 5 a.m. by spreading the bars of a sidewalk grating. They jumped the watchman, Jesus Lopez, as he was making his rounds. They gagged and bound him hand and foot. Then the bandits smashed a glass display case to remove the 100-page, 14-by-18-inch volume, ripped the solid gold covers from the Book of Remembrance and escaped the way they entered. The front cover of the book—honoring the regiment's dead of five wars—contains coats-of-arms encrusted with diamonds, rubies, emeralds and sapphires representing four countries: The

Varied Reasons For 'Gas' War

HARTFORD (AP)—While motorists filled their tanks today with unusually low cost fuel, gasoline service station owners and distributors were at odds over "who" or "what" started the latest price war. Gasoline prices were reported as low as 18.9 cents per gallon in some service stations. Most stations reported prices in the 19-22 cents range. The president of the Connecticut Service Station Owners Association blamed the prices on distributors. "It is impossible," said Peter Morrone of Bristol, "for 4,400 operators to materially affect the price structure. The distributors alone have the power to do that." But a Shell Oil Company spokesman said price wars start at the retail level.

Criticism Goes On, Romney Hits Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan Gov. George Romney has criticized Richard M. Nixon for his criticism of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. And to fellow Republicans who have been criticizing defeated GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater and calling for new party leadership, Romney had this to say as barbs continued to ricochet around the GOP: "I think that Sen. Goldwater has demonstrated in the past his concern about the Republican party as a whole and I think it's premature to assume it's going to be necessary to find some way around Sen. Goldwater." Romney, who had declined to endorse Goldwater's candidacy, was a big winner last Tuesday in his bid for re-election as governor—a victory that has stirred some speculation that he might be a future Republican presidential nominee possibility.

He repeated in a WJR radio interview in Detroit Sunday that he took his Goldwater stand because of "basic principle differences" with the Arizona. He said he respected Goldwater as an individual. As for Nixon, Romney said: "When you're trying to do something, you don't begin to say things that will create greater feeling and division. You undertake to include those who are in a position to make a contribution." The Nixon-Rockefeller exchange had stirred things up in the Republican camp last week. Nixon charged that Rockefeller was a "divider" who had backed Goldwater as Nixon had and had gotten "his pound of flesh." Rockefeller fired back that Nixon was a "poor loser" and "peevish" in his remarks. A fellow New York Republican—Sen. Jacob K. Javits—spoke up Sunday night on the Nixon-Rockefeller clash. He told newsmen "I would hope that there would be a full moratorium on all personality clashes." His comments came as an Associated Press survey showed that many influential leaders in the Republican party were looking to the former vice president to take a leading role in rebuilding the GOP. Romney, Rockefeller and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton were also frequently mentioned as prospective leaders of the comeback. Many of those questioned in the AP survey suggested that Goldwater give up control of the party machinery after winning only five Southern states and his home state of Arizona last Tuesday. The man who scored the big win over Goldwater—President Johnson—said today the Republicans have an important and vital role to play in the American system and in the making of national policies. Johnson said he was proud of the work some top Republicans

Many See Nixon New GOP Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many influential Republicans across the country expect Richard M. Nixon to play a leading role in rebuilding the GOP for what most of them think will be a strong 1966 comeback. Nixon, the 1960 presidential nominee and GOP governor of California, was most frequently mentioned as prospective leaders of this comeback in an Associated Press survey. The survey, reaching GOP officials in all sections of the nation, disclosed little enthusiasm for another presidential race by defeated Sen. Barry Goldwater. There were many suggestions that he yield control of the party machinery as the result of the shattering impact of President Johnson's landslide. Nixon, who campaigned actively for Goldwater, was mentioned by Republicans from all sections of the country as a man to be reckoned with in the next four years.

Railroads Show Profit, Stock Raises

NEW YORK (AP)—Things are hummin' on the railroad. Heavily laden trains are carrying factory products, coal, lumber, grain, ore and automobiles to mill, plant and market at a rate unmatched since the prosperous mid-1950s. Wall Street has marked up stock prices to match the recovery of rail earnings from the 15-year low of 1961 and some stocks sell at double their lows of early in the year. Still, pockets of financial misery persist, especially in the East. The Erie-Lackawanna, Reading, Jersey Central and a few other railroads are mired in the red. These are mostly lines burdened with short systems and money-losing passenger operations. Freight is a railroad's bread-and-butter. Over-all railroad earnings are expected by financial analysts and Railway Age, industry weekly, to top $700 million in 1964, hitting an eight-year high. This estimate allows for added payroll expense from prospective wage settlements with union employees. A charge against the current year of $100 million to $150 million could result. Gains through mergers, stepped up sales, major equipment innovations, job elimination, automation, better freight car utilization, and improved maintenance have contributed to the brightened picture. Underlying everything else is swelling freight volume generated by an expanding economy. By the old time yardstick of loadings, freight traffic has climbed to a 6 1/2 year high. But carloadings tell only part of the story. A carload averages 55 tons of freight as against about 50 tons five years ago. This is because

The case is certain to stir a hot national row. One article, headlined "Deal with Traitors" had criticized the sudden release last August on an East German espionage suspect who had been in custody pending charges for 19 months. The second article expressed doubt about the legal basis of the treason case brought by the attorney general against the editors of Der Spiegel in connection with two articles critical of the West German army's combat effectiveness.

"THE WAY I HEARD IT"

by John Gruber

I'm going to talk about a couple of local items of interest today. Local stories are always of interest. In fact, the Brooklyn Eagle once ran on the motto: "A dog fight in Brooklyn is bigger than a war in China, and they had a dandy circulation, too."

The first item is the fact that the Choral Choir of South Methodist Church has set up an LP-compatible stereo recording lab. "Harmony in the Heart," it's privately issued, not a commercial job, and available either at the church offices or through members of the choir.

Side 1 has "O God, Our Help," as the opener, and it sounds tremendous. This is a noble old chorale, and nobody does the choir acquit itself. Recording technique is excellent; there's fine balance among the sections of the choir and between choir and organ. Jack Grove, the choir's director, is organist.

The side goes on through T. Tertius Noble's "Souls of the Righteous," "Come Ye Saints," "Oh Lord Most Holy" (which some of you will know as Cesar Franck's "Pavane Anglaise"), "Poor Wayfarer Strangers and Other Numbers." It's well worthwhile.

Rockville-Vernon Trinity Lutheran Celebrates 100th Anniversary Tuesday

Tomorrow marks the 100th anniversary of the Trinity Lutheran Church, 100 years ago on Nov. 10, 1864. It is the oldest Lutheran church in the state.

The Rev. Dr. David E. Scarer, pastor of the church, is completing a comprehensive history of the church, and in his research has uncovered a colorful background.

Johannes Otto Hanser, who founded the church, spent the early days of his life as a sailor and soldier, traveling throughout the world. In his biography, entitled "Irriharan und Heimfahrt", which Dr. Scarer translated, "Ernst Ways and the Ways to Home," Hanser writes that he received such a rationalistic education from his pastor-father that he was brought up to believe that a religious person was a fanatic.

His biography, Dr. Scarer said, "seems to suggest a comparison between himself (Hanser) and the Fraternal Son of Man." Hanser, at the age of 30, enrolled in the Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, quit two years later to sell tobacco, and then returned to sailing.

In 1858 he returned to the seminary and finished his training. Five years later, Pastor Hanser accepted a call to Zion Church in Boston, now known as the First Lutheran Church, and thus became the first resident pastor of the Missouri Synod (one of two divisions of the Lutheran Church) in New England.

Members of the congregation of the Boston church, Dr. Scarer reports, were against having a Missouri Synod pastor because they had the reputation of being too Lutheran.

Apparently the union of pastor and church were not satisfactory, because in 1861 a schism split out. Pastor Hanser did not speak well of the Germans in Boston, "were against me," he wrote. "I was expelled from Boston to Rockville to establish the first Lutheran congregation in the state. He also established congregations in Norwich and Meriden, Providence, R. I., and Roxbury, Mass.

Pastor Hanser served in Rockville until Dec. 16, 1863. He was succeeded by Carl Græber.

Born in Bavaria, Pastor Hanser bore the burden of a number of personally tragic events. He outlived the first two of his three wives, and buried six of his twelve children. He died Jan. 10, 1910, just 12 days before his anniversary of 50 years in the ministry.

Pastor Græber was called to Meriden in 1869.

Dr. Scarer writes: "The years 1870 to 1871 are shrouded in our present darkness as far as our present research has gone. . . . The only significant reference to this man does not even mention his name."

Through research, Dr. Scarer discovered that the pastor was A. Simon. "But what happened during those years 1870-1871 still remains an historic mystery," Dr. Scarer said.

According to Dr. Scarer, the church continued smoothly until a split arose in 1882 over membership in lodges at the Free Masons and Odd Fellows.

In May, 1882, the united Lutheran congregation held its final service. The church divided then and in 1883 the present church on Prospect St. was built. Formerly, the church was located on E. Main St.

Dr. Scarer noted that despite the unfortunate incident, "Trinity has always been recognized by the Missouri Synod as being the legitimate successor of the works of Pastor Hanser."

Varied Reasons For 'Gas' War

Some oil companies with a surplus of summer weight fuel in their tanks have "dumped" this gas on Hartford area stations because they had the winter weight fuel.

Some oil companies have instituted the "voluntary" allowance to service station operators, allowing them to reduce their prices as much as 7.7 cents per gallon, the difference to be credited to the next delivery in June. The voluntary allowance was at or near zero during the summer but has climbed steadily for the last three weeks.
