Russians Reject Plan For Financing of UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union today rejected a compromise formula put forward by Secretary-General U Thant in the hope of avoiding a U.S.-Soviet confrontation on U.N. financing.

Word of the Soviet decision came shortly after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk for a luncheon discussion of this and other problems before the U.N. General Assembly opening Tuesday.

Thant proposed to the four big powers last week that they agree to postpone all important matters until after the first of the year so that there would be no occasion to question the voting rights of the Soviet Union. The United States and others contend that the Soviets cannot vote because of their back debts.

"In connection with reports published in the American press to the effect that important matters on the agenda of the U.N. General Assembly should be postponed for a long period or indefinitely, the Soviet delegation deems it necessary to state that it categorically opposes such views. The Soviet delegation believes that the General Assembly should start and continue its work in accordance with normal procedures and that all important matters should be deliberated in the usual manner."

The Soviet delegation issued a statement this morning saying: "In connection with reports published in the American press to the effect that important matters on the agenda of the U.N. General Assembly should be postponed for a long period or indefinitely, the Soviet delegation deems it necessary to state that it categorically opposes such views. The Soviet delegation believes that the General Assembly should start and continue its work in accordance with normal procedures and that all important matters should be deliberated in the usual manner."

Shortly before the Rusk-Gromyko luncheon session at Rusk's hotel suite, Thant met separately with the American secretary of state and the Soviet ambassador to the United Nations, Nikolai T. Fedorenko.

The foreign minister of the United Arab Republic, Mahmoud Riad, called on Rusk to express his concern over the prospective showdown.

Mahmoud told newsmen after seeing Rusk that the United Arab Republic sees the financial fight as an important political issue. While the United Nations "needs the money to be effective," he said, it would be weakened without collecting funds if certain powers are deprived of their vote.

The U.A.R. envoy was expressing views similar to many of the smaller, neutralist nations at the United Nations on the prospect of applying the U.N. charter's Article 19.

Under that article, the Soviets stand to lose their vote in the General Assembly because they have fallen more than two years behind in their dues. The Kremlin has refused to pay more than $52 million for U.N. peace-keeping operations in the Congo and the Middle East.

Dempsey Names Group to Study Teen Drinking

HARTFORD (AP) — Gov. John Dempsey announced today appointment of an inter-departmental committee to coordinate studies of the problems of teen-age drinking.

The coordinating group was first suggested at a meeting of state officials with Trinity College spokesman following demonstrations when use of liquor on the campus was banned recently.

John P. Lukens, coordinator of the State Commission on Youth Services, will be asked to serve as convener and executive secretary of the group, which the governor said is hoped to "eliminate duplication" and come up with specific proposals for educational techniques.

Others on the interdepartmental body will be Health Commissioner Franklin M. Foote; Arthur M. Lewis, head of the Teen-Age Liquor Law Coordinating Committee; and Ernest A. Shepherd, Chief of the Division of Alcoholism of the State Department of Mental Health.

Other departments will be invited to participate, including the State Safety Commission and the State Department of Education. But the governor stressed that the interdepartmental group is to study not merely teen-age drinking and driving problems, but "all the educational efforts in this field."

He said he hopes the study will "review what has been done and determine what needs to be done."

Sir Winston 90, In Sound Health

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill climbed out of bed on his 90th birthday today, creaky of limb but sound of health.

"He's very well," said Sir Winston's doctor and long personal friend, Lord Moran, "and I can tell you something else — he still enjoys his daily cigar."

Lord Moran, who has added that Britain's wartime leader still enjoys his daily brandy.

Sir Winston began his birthday celebration by leaving his bed shortly before noon. Assisted by a male nurse — for he is very feeble — he dressed slowly and went downstairs at his London home in Hyde Park Gate to be greeted by his secretaries, servants and plainclothes detectives.

Earlier, Lady Churchill, 79, Sir Winston's Darling Clementine, greeted him with a birthday kiss and the light breakfast which her husband always enjoys with the newspapers.

After receiving the good wishes of his staff, Sir Winston faced the messages and gifts that poured in from all over the world. A message from Queen Elizabeth II, sent with a bouquet, was given to him first.

There were thousands more including messages from President Johnson and ex-Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman.

Britain's Post Office Department estimated Sir Winston would receive a minimum of 60,000 greetings before the end of the day.

Not all bore formal addresses. On the outside of one envelope was a painting of two human fingers — making the V for Victory sign beneath a small black hat.

"We delivered it to his house," said a postman, "for whoever else in the world could it be meant for?"

A heavy cake with the words "Happy Birthday" in white lettering offset by gold satin ribbon, was wheeled into the Churchill residence this morning.

"What's Sir Winston doing?" a secretary said in response to a question from one of the reporters outside his home. "Why he's trying to spend the day quietly looking forward to this evening."

That meant a birthday dinner with members of the family. Oysters led the menu. The table centerpiece was the huge iced cake, two feet in diameter and decorated with a big golden rose and these words on a scroll:

"In war — Resolution; In defeat — Defiance; In victory — Magnanimity; In peace — Goodwill."

Hundreds of well-wishers crowded outside Churchill's home near Hyde Park to sing "Happy Birthday, Sir Winston" and "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The frail old man was helped to the window by his wife and a nurse.

He was wearing one of his

They Were Red

LONDON (AP) — For years Maurice Hect itched for his wife to dye her hair red. Two weeks ago she did, and Maurice itched worse than ever.

"She looked gorgeous," said Maurice, "but the next morning I was covered in a mass of blotches. I felt like a flea's nest, the itching was terrible."

A doctor found Maurice, 42, was allergic to the hair dye. His wife agreed she must go back to being a brunette.

"There'll be no more hair dye for Pearl," said Hect. "Just the thought of it makes me see red."

Death Toll On Highway Sets Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents on the nation's streets and highways killed a record 550 persons during the four-day Thanksgiving holiday.

The figure topped last year's Thanksgiving mark of 543 deaths which had been the record since annual counts for the holiday began in 1958.

Driving on most of the country's roads and highways was endangered as rain and snow pelted the northern half of the continent Sunday. Hazardous driving warnings were issued for many states by the Weather Bureau.

The pace of fatal accidents increased somewhat in the waning hours of the holiday, as weary motorists hurried to return to their homes. The death toll was boosted by many multiple death accidents, including one in which eight persons were killed Thanksgiving Day in South Carolina.

Traffic deaths were reported at a quick pace Thanksgiving Day but the death rate appeared to be running about normal on Friday and Saturday. The surge of reported deaths picked up again early Sunday evening.

Plane Still Missing Search Party Finds Wreckage of Auto

BOZRAH (AP) — State Police abandoned a search today for a missing small plane when wreckage, sighted in a ravine, turned out to be that of a car.

Originally it was thought that the blue and white wreckage, sighted yesterday by a Civil Air Patrol pilot, might have been the remains of a private plane that vanished Saturday near four Rhode Island men aboard.

But when it was established today that the wreckage turned out to be a car, State police stopped the search.

A helicopter scouting over the hilly and wooded area today saw the wreckage of what it was. The CAP pilot was taken over the area again today in the helicopter, and verified that it was the same spot he passed over Sunday at dusk when he saw the blue and white wreckage.

State police said the search for the Cessna, missing on a flight from the airport at North Philadelphia, Pa., to Hills Grove Airport in Warwick, R.I., was now in the hands of the CAP and the Coast Guard Air-Sea Rescue.

Last night, when it was believed that the wreckage might be that of the plane, about 50 men formed a search party and combed the Bear Hill area in the Fitchville section of town into the morning hours.

Searchers in the helicopter sighted blue and white wreckage today, at the site mentioned by the CAP pilot, but saw that it was parts of a car.

State Police said they would transport the CAP pilot who sighted the wreckage Sunday over the debris seen today. If the pilot verifies that the location was the same as that he passed over Sunday, State Police will turn the search back to the CAP and air-sea rescue.

About 50 men formed a search party and combed the Bear Hill area in the Fitchville section of town into the morning hours.

Bozrah, just west of Norwich, is some 20 miles from the Rhode Island line.

Search headquarters were set up at the farm of Arthur Ingves of Bear Hill Road under the command of State Police Lt. Wilfred Bellefleur.

Authorities said those aboard the plane, all from Rhode Island, were Eugene Simonsau, 35, of Cranston, the pilot, and Ralph H. Worrall, 42, Edward Underhill, 47, and Edward M. Balkun, 46, all of Warwick.

White House Denies Hoover to Be Ousted

NEW YORK (AP) — Newsweek magazine said today that President Johnson has decided to replace J. Edgar Hoover as chief of the FBI.

The White House promptly denied it.

George E. Reedy, presidential press secretary, said: "The President never heard of such a plot and never heard of such an idea."

A spokesman said there would be no comment from the FBI.

The magazine said Hoover "has become a figure of controversy — not merely to longtime critics but among old admirers who wonder whether he has forgotten the motto on his desk."

The motto, inscribed on a small brass plaque: "Two feet on the ground are worth one in the mouth."

Hoover held one of his rare news conferences Nov. 18, in which he told women reporters that civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. is "the most notorious liar in the country." He also denounced the Warren Commission for its criticism of the FBI's role in the events preceding President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Newsweek said: "One such disenchanted fan (of Hoover's) is Lyndon B. Johnson, who had decided by last week that he must find a new chief of the FBI. It was a tough decision."

"Even tougher perhaps is the task of finding a worthy replacement... someone as irreplicable as Hoover, and preferably a federal judge, preferably a federal judge. The search is on."

The magazine noted that Johnson signed an executive order last May in which, "the public interest," he waived the compulsory retirement that would take effect on Hoover's 70th birthday next Jan. 1.

The President also had assured the FBI boss he could stay in his job "as long as I am in the White House."

But Newsweek also observed that Johnson, in a news confer-

AMA President Rallies Doctors Against Medicare

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The president of the American Medical Association took a grim look at the new congressional odds on passage of medicare today, and called on the nation's doctors to rally against it.

"The possibility that a federal health care program financed from increased Social Security taxes will be rejected is considerably less than it was a few weeks ago," said Dr. Donovan F. Ward.

"But even as I am not going to promote any ill-founded optimism, neither am I carelessly going to spread gloom and doom in this chamber," he told the AMA's legislative body, the House of Delegates.

"Congress doesn't convene for a month. The new congressmen have yet to pack their bags and buy their tickets for Washington," Donovan said.

"But their votes on this and other issues are already being

Refugees, Crew Killed In Fiery Congo Crash

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — A chartered Belgian DC4 crashed on the runway of Stanleyville airport Sunday night, killing the crew and all but seven of the refugees it was bringing to safety, reports to Leopoldville said.

A message reaching Leopoldville this morning said the plane "got fire on taking off." It was not clear whether this meant that the plane had been hit by rebel fighters who still infest the region around the airport at Stanleyville.

An employe of the charter company, Belgian International Air Services, said the DC4 had a crew of three Belgians. It was not known how many passengers were aboard.

An investigating team was flying to Stanleyville this morning.

Most of the plane's passengers were reported to be Congolese refugees from the former rebel capital. One of the injured survivors was reported to be Belgian Col. V. Lilegeois, a commander of the Congolese government's anti-rebel drive.

In the last few days, several planes have been unable to land in Stanleyville because of rebel ground fire. Belgians who returned from Stanleyville Sunday night said the region between the airport and the center of the city about two miles away was heavily infiltrated by rebel snipers.

Beyond the airport, the rebels are in almost full control. The airport is guarded by Congolese soldiers who took over when Belgian paratroopers were withdrawn Sunday after rescuing 1,700 foreigners from the rebels.

With the departure of the Belgian paratroopers, 500 to 1,000 whites still in the rebel-held areas of the northern Congo.

Refugees said the Peking-backed rebels were intent on killing all whites to vent their anger over the paratrooper action in Stanleyville and Paulis last week.

The confirmed death toll of the crash was not known Sunday. It included three American missionaries. Many were slaughtered only minutes before the Belgians arrived.

At least 500 and possibly as many as 1,000 whites are still in rebel areas. A group of several hundred is at Bunia in the north. Many missionaries and

Worshippers' Views Differ Over First English Mass

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I never knew until today the meaning of prayers I've been using ever since I was a little girl," said a St. Paul, Minn., woman after witnessing the use of English in a Roman Catholic Mass.

A middle-aged San Francisco woman, after going through the same experience, commented wryly: "This new Mass is like doing Shakespeare in modern English."

These were typical of the differing viewpoints expressed by some of the nation's 45 million Roman Catholics after attending masses Sunday in which English was used for the first time instead of Latin in about half the service.

A cross-country spot check brought mostly favorable reactions.

Most of the English is prescribed for use in the people's responses to the chanting of the priest — "The new Mass is very meaningful."

The San Francisco woman, who declined to give her name, preferred the full Latin usage, saying, "I'm a converted Catholic and we feel strongly about the old things."

The changes — including in many churches the optional practice of having the priest face his congregation instead of having his back to them — marked in large measure the end of an era that began 400 years ago. It was then that the Council of Trent established basic norms for the Latin Mass that became outdated Sunday.

"With the introduction of the vernacular," said the Rev. Ralph Gorman, editor of the Catholic Magazine, the Sign, "the people can participate intelligently... instead of murmuring a mumbo-jumbo of Latin, as incomprehensible to them as Hindustani."

A New York City parishioner speculated it will "cut down on daydreaming." Mary Gibbons, who attends St. Catherine of Siena church, added somewhat sternly, "It's going to force Catholics to do what they have been supposed to do all along — follow and participate in the Mass."

Dissenting was Daisy Nieland of Perth Amboy, N.J. "I'm a traditionalist," she said, "and I

LABBS MARCH TO UN

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 300 Labbs marched silently for more than a mile to the United Nations today protesting what they felt was religious and cultural discrimination against 3 million Jews in the Soviet Union. Traffic was cleared from their route as the clergymen marched slowly, four abreast, from a point near the Soviet Union's U.N. Mission headquarters to United Nations Plaza. The Labbs wore business suits and carried a large sign calling on the new rulers of the Soviet Union to "restore religious and cultural rights to 3,000,000 Jews."

His sister-in-law, Princess Margaret, according to the royal announcements Sunday will visit Uganda next March accompanied by her husband, Lord Snowdon.

Many Exiles Have Fled Two Homes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Many persons in Miami's exile colony of 100,000 might be called double refugees — first from China, then Cuba.

More than a thousand Chinese who fled to Cuba after Communist rule took over China 15 years ago packed up and moved a second time with the advent of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Red regime, says Ramon G. Chiong, 65, president of Cuba's Chinese colony for 12 years, came here with Chinese Embassy personnel in 1960 when Nationalist China and Communist Cuba severed relations.

Chiong, whose Havana super-market was taken over by the Castro regime, says more than 2,000 Chinese have left Cuba since 1960. There are 2,000 Chinese here, he says.

Those remaining in Cuba, Chiong says, sometimes run into difficulties that he attributed partly to a new Chinese Communist colony.

"Many Chinese — more than 20 — are in prison," he said in an interview. "Usually there is no charge, but they are known to be anti-Communists. Ninety-five per cent of the old Chinese in Cuba are anti-Communist. Besides those in prison, others have been sent to concentration camps."

"Many others must report to the Communist Chinese Embassy every week to be kept on a list," he said. "The idea is to try to make Communists out of them."

Chiong said those reports came from Chinese in Cuba with whom he maintains contact.

"They would be happy if Castro would expel them from the country, for that would mean freedom," he continued. "There is no freedom in Cuba and now there is no transportation out of Cuba."

Chiong estimated the number of technicians from Red China who fled to Cuba at between 200 and 300. Some 800 Chinese refugees from Cuba have come to the United States, he said.

Chiong said some have made it to Formosa.

Chiong here with his wife and two sons, had left his Canton home for Cuba in 1947. "We are going back to Cuba, if the Communists fall there," he said.

RAIL TALKS RENEWED
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz meets today with the railroad and three shop craft unions in talks aimed at averting a strike that could stop 50 per cent of the nation's rail traffic.

A strike was called for last Monday but was postponed pending the mediation effort. The talks are centered on wage increases and improved holiday and vacation provisions.

Canada, What's Ahead - Part I Whole Country Upset, Divided Over Future

EDITOR'S NOTE - What is likely to call for a new Canada? That is a question that has troubled the minds of many Canadians in the United States. It is the search for an answer, and the search for a way to deal with the various crises which Canada is experiencing.

OTTAWA (AP) - When you journey across Canada today you find a country engrossed in self-examination. Its 19 million people are divided and disturbed over the future.

You find bitterness, name-calling, threats and sometimes violence. There are debates, seminars, editorials, floods of letters to newspapers and private discussions everywhere.

What is Canada? They ask. What does France mean to Canada? Should Canada revise its constitution to give the provinces more power? Should it retain the traditional ties with the British crown be loosened, or broken?

Some of these problems are seen. Others are hidden. Canadians, irritated, tired, and perplexed over the years.

One, obvious, is the proximity to the United States - a giant, a power, a nation in population, closely tied to Canada as an ally, deeply involved in the ownership of the country's industry and exporting U.S. culture in massive quantities to compete with Canada's own brand.

Canadians have a fierce national pride and they are trying hard to create a distinctive national image. Many have genuine fears that both their independence and their national personality may be snuffed out by what is intended as a friendly hug.

Columbia New Form For Masses Starts Here

The Roman Catholic Diocese of Columbia is beginning a new form of Masses for the first time in the history of the diocese.

This was the first day of the new Masses, the first Sunday of Advent, as set by the Second Council of Vatican.

The priest faced the congregation and a lay commentator directed the singing of hymns and recitation of the prayer book.

Prayer cards were distributed, but they were in some ways different from the traditional ones.

Commentators at the Masses included Nicholas Lanzetta, Andrew Gasper, Philip Pepin and Joseph and Sally Ferrigno, pastor of land and buildings on the south side of Old Willamette Rd.

The Masses felt that the changes were not merely a change in form, but a change in substance.

Most participants at the Masses felt that the changes were not merely a change in form, but a change in substance.

Rockville-Vernon School Aide Hiring Topic for Teachers

The Vernon Education Association (VEA), which represents almost all of the 200 teachers in town, will meet Wednesday to discuss methods used in hiring administrators.

The meeting follows the selection of Edward B. Manker, former board of education member and board chairman last year, as assistant principal of Vernon Junior High School.

"We are not opposed to the appointment of Mr. Manker," Kelly said, "but we are interested in the policy and method used in hiring administrators."

Manker, a former principal, teacher, and school superintendent, is primarily a family responsibility. He resigned from the board of education in October.

Bolton New Conservation Panel Holds Its First Session

An organizational meeting of the newly created conservation district was held Friday evening. First Selectman Richard Morra, who called the meeting, suggested that one of the first concerns of the commission would be acquisition of land for a town recreation area to include swimming facilities.

Members agreed that it was important to work with the planning commission and also with the zoning board. Planning, which was meeting in another room, supplied the conservation commission with town plans and other literature.

The commission tentatively set the fourth Thursday of the month as its meeting date, once it is organized. Members suggested that a state representative or member of the Connecticut conservation commission meet with them soon.

Cooper Leaves Hometown. At the planning commission meeting the resignation of Raymond Morra as clerk was accepted. Cooper resigned because of business pressures and will be replaced by Mrs. Harriet Hilton, who is also public building commissioner clerk.

The commission worked on subdivision regulation revisions. Church Group Meets. Discussion Group I of St. Maurice Church will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Raymond Myette.

Crude Bomb Damages Home In Alabama

"It had the smell of dynamite," he said. "We hope we found some fragments that will help determine the explosive used."

Brown said the force of the blast indicated that the bomb was made of dynamite, several sticks were used.

The Montgomery branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People immediately protested the bombing and urged a full-scale investigation.

Brown said his investigation indicated no reason for the night assault on Sperry home.

"I have found no earthly reason why anybody would want to do anything to this man," Brown said. "He just can't understand why it would happen."

Since it can't freeze, the Volkswagen engine cannot. Even at temperatures below zero, it is safe and sound.

The VW has no radiator problems for an exceptionally long life.

It has no radiator.

Viz: It never needs anti-freeze. It never needs anything else to keep its radiator hose to cook and leak and possibly lose expensive anti-freeze.

When drivers line up for anti-freeze etc. on the first bitter winter day, the VW owner is spared the annoyance.

Not to mention the expense.

The Volkswagen has an equal advantage in hot weather.

Air cannot boil any more than it can freeze.

Neither can the VW.
