WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential commission called today for an unprecedented national assault on the three greatest killers of Americans—heart disease, cancer and cerebral strokes.

Among its major recommendations is creation of a national network of 500 new treatment and other centers.

The blue-ribbon group urged immediate implementation of its "realistic battle plan," saying nearly $3 billion in federal funds over five years would be needed as a start.

A spokesman said considerable additional funds and other aid from states and cities also would be required.

The 25 physicians, editors, businessmen and others said in their report to President Johnson that immediate results could be expected. Up to several hundred thousand lives a year are "now needlessly sacrificed" because available knowledge is not properly utilized, they said.

The commission was appointed last March by Johnson—victim of a heart attack in 1955—to recommend steps to reduce the incidence of the three diseases from which he said two-thirds of all Americans now living would suffer or die unless something is done about it.

Collectively, these "three deadly enemies of mankind" kill more than a million Americans a year and take a $20-billion annual economic toll in lost productivity and lost taxes due to premature disability and death, the report said.

The commission also said it strongly endorses the conclusions and recommendations of the Surgeon General's Advisory Committee on Smoking and

Public Barred Today Security Council Flare Up Expected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Thombe arrives Saturday to tell the council of massacre and mutilation by the Congolese rebels and to accuse several African states of aiding the Communist-led rebellion.

A number of African governments have denounced Thombe for using white mercenaries against the rebels and have accused him of seeking Western intervention to bolster his government. His appearance before the council was expected to bring protests and denunciations reminiscent of the storm in Cairo several months ago.

One nationalist suspected of sparking the violent riots that broke up a council meeting on the Congo in 1961 and injured 18 guards was reported to have threatened a similar disturbance when the new debate gets under way.

A bolstered force of guards and armed plainclothes officials was expected to watch all entrances to the council chamber.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Smoldering differences inside the African bloc at the United Nations were expected to flare up today when the Security Council launches debate on the Congo.

The first sparks may fly when the council gives the floor to Liberia and Nigeria. Both defended the United States and Belgium against charges by other African nations that the American-Belgian rescue mission to Stanleyville was a flagrant act of interference in the Congo.

A blowup was considered certain when Congo Premier Moise

Baker Hearing Delayed Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rules Committee delays a public hearing today while its members debated whether to pursue new leads in the political-explosive Bobby Baker case.

Hugh Alexander, counsel of the committee, told newsmen the senators were going over "everything that is pending" in an effort to reach a decision on the investigation's future course.

A hearing scheduled for this morning to take testimony from the bank records of Baker and a witness who accused him of engineering a political payoff to a government contract was postponed until 2 p.m.

Alexander also disclosed that Comptroller of the Currency James Saxon had been called for questioning at the afternoon hearing about the granting of a fiduciary charter to the Redwood National Bank of San Rafael, Calif., last year.

The committee was told Tuesday that the charter application was approved shortly after the bank's organizers retained Wayne L. Bromley, Washington lobbyist friend of Baker, for $5,000.

Alexander said another witness would be Fred Black Jr., an associate of Baker in the vending machine business, who was convicted earlier this year of income tax evasion. Black is appealing his conviction.

Russia Cuts Arms Budget, Calls on Others to Follow

MOSCOW (AP)—President Alexei N. Kosygin announced today a cut of 500 million rubles—$555 million—in the Soviet Union's military budget for 1965 and called on other major powers to follow suit.

Kosygin told the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's rubber stamp parliament, that the Soviet cut and an expected reduction of military spending in the United States "constitute a definite positive step toward reducing international tension."

He said the Soviet Union attaches great importance to the further reduction of the military budgets of the big nations.

The new Soviet premier said the military budget next year will total 12 billion rubles, or 12.9 per cent of all government expenditures, as against 14.6 per cent in 1964.

The military budget in 1964 totaled 13.3 billion rubles and was 600 million rubles less than 1963. Western officials contend that much Soviet defense spending is disguised under nonmilitary items in the budget, and some Western military analysts believe total military spending this year is well over twice the budgeted figure.

The official value of the Soviet ruble is $1.11.

Kosygin spoke at the opening of the first Supreme Soviet session since the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev on Oct. 14. Acting on a motion by Leonid I. Brezhnev, Khrushchev's successor as first secretary of the Soviet Communist party, the parliament approved Khrushchev's replacement as premier by Kosygin.

Although still a member of the Supreme Soviet, Khrushchev did not appear for the session. Neither did his son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, former editor of the government newspaper Izvestia, who also is still a member of the parliament.

Kosygin reaffirmed Soviet devotion to Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence and said: "We are in favor of the development of relations with the United States. There have been some developments in that field, although they have not been great."

But he denounced the "aggression of the Americans and the Belgians in the Congo" and repeated Soviet pledges "to render the necessary assistance" to Communist North Vietnam and Cuba. "If the aggressors dare to raise their hands against them," he said, "we will not be slow to retaliate."

He made no pledge of assistance to the Congolese rebels, however.

No Freedom For Guiana

WASHINGTON (AP)—The British government reportedly has no intention of granting independence to strife-torn British Guiana until the contending Negro and East Indian communities have demonstrated an ability to live together in peace.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson stated his government's views to U.S. officials with whom he has conferred here in the last two days. Presumably he made the explanation directly to President Johnson.

There has been some U.S. government apprehension that the Prime Minister's speech, which also mentioned the East Indian and a Marxist, might carry the country in this week's election, then gain independence, and force new ties with the Fidel Castro government of Cuba.

Some officials here expressed fear that British Guiana was in danger of becoming a Cuba-like center of Communist activity on the shore of the South American continent.

Re zoning of Senate Given Added Stress

HARTFORD (AP)—Two Senate redistricting plans are being given special emphasis as a special bipartisan legislative subcommittee works toward a Friday deadline on a reapportionment proposal.

Friday is the day Republican and Democratic leaders are scheduled to resume their rounds of top-level talks on reapportionment.

Senate Majority Leader Louis I. Glushko said the Senate plans receiving the most attention in committee include one that would create a 30-seat Senate and one that would retain the present 36-seat chamber.

The General Assembly, now in special session, has been given until Jan. 20 to reapportion the House, redistrict the Senate and summon a constitutional convention, expected to complete its work by Friday.

The General Assembly, now in special session, has been given until Jan. 20 to reapportion the House, redistrict the Senate and summon a constitutional convention, expected to complete its work by Friday.

Should the Assembly fail to meet the deadline, a three-judge court said it would accept the standby plan of the computer expert it has appointed to draw up a new House seat.

Republicans are favoring a Senate of 31 seats and are opposed to having at-large elections in towns with more than

Taft Calls for Reorganization Barry Feels GOP Battle Is Tearing Party Apart

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater is ready to tell a Republican summit conference today he thinks the struggle over GOP leadership is tearing the beaten party apart.

That was the word from a source close to the defeated Republican presidential nominee as Goldwater prepared to talk politics with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Precise arrangements for the New York conference were closely held. There was no word as to exactly when or where the meeting would be held. An Eisenhower aide said the three would meet in the afternoon, but that details had not been worked out.

"There is no agenda," said party chairman. He trusted Dean Burch. He is here to attend at least part of the discussions that will bring together the three men who have carried the Republican colors in the last four presidential elections.

"This is a very informal conference," Burch said.

The embattled party chairman, hand-picked by Goldwater, said he does not expect the Arizona senator will specifically ask Eisenhower and Nixon to back Barry's continued service as GOP chairman.

The Republican National Committee meets in Chicago Jan. 22-23 to decide whether Burch will retain his post.

Quebec Judge Fines Union $1 Million

QUEBEC (AP)—A Quebec court judge ordered the Canadian branch of the United Steelworkers of America today to pay $1,747,642 in damages to the Gaspé Copper Mines, Ltd., because of violent seven-month strike at Murdochville, Que., in 1967.

The court charged that the strike—branded as illegal—was fomented, financed and properly managed by the union's U.S. headquarters and its agents.

The decision was made in favor of the company in a $10-page judgment by Justice Antoine Lacourciere of Quebec Superior Court.

The company had sought $5.8 million damages from the union, saying it was responsible for loss of profits and for damages to the company's plant and equipment.

Lacourciere also ordered the union to pay a 5 per cent interest on the $1,747,642 from Dec. 31, 1967.

The union had taken the position that the company had provoked the strike by its attitude during the union's organizing of the miners, particularly by the dismissal of Leo Gagne, president of the Murdochville local.

Judge Lacourciere said that during the strike, which involved 800 workers, violence took the place of law.

"Those principally responsible are not the workers of Murdochville, but those who directed them, that is the representatives

Hearing Tomorrow For Mississippians

(AP) — "I have no authority to take Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and Deputy Cecil Price over," Patterson said, only thing the law says is that attorneys today on the eve of a hearing for them and 18 other white men charged in connection with the killing of three civil rights workers.

The 21 were arrested last week in a sweeping FBI raid. Nineteen were charged with violating the rights of Michael Schwerner, Andrew Goodman and James Chaney, who disappeared in Neshoba County five months ago while working on a civil rights project.

Two other men were charged with criminal knowledge of the slayings. The FBI identified at least eight of the 21 as Ku Klux Klansmen.

The last of the 21 was released on $5,000 bond Tuesday at Shreveport, La. He is Horace Doyle Burnett, 25, of Cullen, La., who was arrested in Bogalusa, La. He moved from Bogalusa to Philadelphia for a hearing with Johnson and felt certain the district attorney would call on his office for assistance.

Rainey also said the FBI had offered to pay him "more than they'll ever make" to become an informer. The FBI denied the charge.

In his speech to the sheriff's association, Patterson labeled Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr. a "charlatan and fraud" for his attacks on FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

He branded King "immoral, ruthless, a very smart and astute character dedicated to carry out his mission of hate, discord and distrust."

Taft Calls for Reorganization

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "We can't get along just organizing the party for a presidential campaign every four years," Taft said.

Burch, fighting for his job, said Monday he plans to raise his case to the 132 committee members with a letter spelling out his ideas on the issues facing the party, including leadership.

He said he expects to send out his position statement Thursday.

The GOP chairman has declared both he and Goldwater can endorse a policy statement made last week by the 18 Republican governors and gubernatorial candidates. They urged the National Committee to "adopt leadership which clearly represents a broad view of Republicanism and practices a policy of inclusion, rather than exclusion."

Some governors, including Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, George Romney of Michigan and Warren E. Hearnes of Ohio, did not fit that prescription for party leadership.

Burch insisted he never followed a policy of exclusion in guiding the National Committee.

Burch got praise Tuesday from Sen. Thurston B. Morton, himself a former national chairman, for presenting a financial surplus at the end of the campaign.

But Morton, who heads the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee, conceded there hasn't been enough money for some of the Republicans' campaigning, and that he attempted to raise funds independently.

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — With African taking over an increasing number of jobs in this African republic, Europeans have steadily become more insecure.

Many drive to their offices in the morning, wondering whether they will be replaced before the day is over.

The changeover and political troubles have created a climate of uncertainty which is costing the country a lot of money. The Europeans have their pensions and other compensations paid out in cash.

Nyerere was nearly toppled by a military coup in January and there are rumors of further political troubles. The government recently claimed it had discovered documents selling a U.S.-backed plot to invade Tanzania. The United States said the documents were forgeries.

Nyerere has been seeking aid abroad.

The Republic of Zambia, formerly Northern Rhodesia, has just achieved independence and has issued its first postage stamps.

The 3 pence shows Dr. K. D. Karumba, president of Zambia, looking up at the Eastern Cataracts of the mighty Victoria Falls. The 6 pence depicts the College of Further Education, symbolizing the country's desire to provide an education for all the people. The 1 shilling 3 pence postage stamp features an clasping her hands in traditional greeting.

Zambia is the ninth African dependency of Britain to emerge as an independent sovereign state. The position of Northern Rhodesia was settled by the prime minister of Northern Rhodesia and the prime minister of Zambia in May 1964.

The British connection with Zambia dates back to 1890, when Cecil Rhodes' British South Africa Company laid the foundations of the country at the end of the 19th Century. The educational and medical work of the missionaries contributed much to the advancement of the populace.

Canada has issued a new 8-cent stamp commemorating the royal visit of Queen Elizabeth II to Charlottetown and Quebec. As announced by the Canadian postal authorities was the issuance of an 8-cent stamp in blue of the same design as its regular 7-cent. # South Windsor Hearing Set Tonight On School Addition

A public hearing will be held tonight to acquire townspace with the facts behind the need for an additional five to six classrooms at South Windsor High School and the need for an additional fire station in town.

"The public building commission will hold the hearing in the high school cafeteria at 8 p.m. Members of the board of education, town council and fire department will participate in the hearing."

The public hearing is one of the necessary steps before it is presented for referendum.

Tentative plans for the addition to the high school were presented to the board of education last June. A more comprehensive plan was presented to the board of education last night.

The proposed addition would accommodate 400 pupils. Principal of the high school Fred J. Carullo presented five suggestions to the board of education to obtain a $100,000 bond issue from the proposed addition.

Besides 20 new classrooms the finished high school would have a combination teaching amphitheater and band chorus practice room, increased gymnasium area, increased library space, increased laboratory space, additional stations in the language laboratory, increased typing area.

The combination teaching amphitheater could hold three or four classes for film presentations and lectures on a raised level teaching area. In the proposed plan the teaching space would have movable seating for 100 students.

It was recommended at the June board of education meeting that the seating be tiered so that the audience would have a clear view of the stage and a standing chorus of 100.

It was suggested at that time the gym addition should be placed on the second floor of the present gymnasium so that with the addition of a folding door this area might be used for additional spectator seating and an additional teaching area.

A special locker space would be required along the north wall of the present locker space. This would be used for a field house and changing area for outdoor sports.

There are presently 24 listening-room seats in the language laboratory. It was suggested that this be increased to 22. This area could be used for make-up work and oral exams.

It was noted the CEB is preparing oral exams to be administered to freshmen on the college level in some foreign languages.

A larger typing area with a capacity of at least 60 students was proposed to the board of education. This could be accomplished by removing an existing wall or by building a new one in the addition with an existing partition in a double-sized teaching area. This would provide for large group typing instruction.

In presenting his report last night, Carullo stressed an improved percentage of utilization of the high school and flexibility of the additional space pattern.

He said under the present pattern of student enrollment there are often eight or nine students enrolled in the fourth year of a subject as a foreign language, science or math.

These eight or nine students and their teacher must be assigned a classroom. The only type of space now available in the normal classroom which seats between 25 and 30 students.

Carullo said the situation represents very poor space use and therefore there is provision for small classes in the addition.

On the second floor of the new addition, it is planned to have the space for two classrooms divisible into thirds with folding partitions so that the space may be used for three small classes, one small class, and one large class, or for one large class.

A pair of classrooms with a movable partition between them is also planned.

It was suggested that one room be designed as an audio-visual learning activities room. The room is to be rectangular in shape, but not much larger than its width. It would be an "acoustical tunnel effect."

The room would occupy about the space of three double-sized classrooms. But would be large enough to house groups of students up to 100. The room is also divisible into three small areas, two of which would accommodate 40 students and one which accommodate 70 students, again in provision of flexibility in learning situations.

In presenting his recommendations for increasing the gymnasium space, Carullo said state law requires that every student receive a minimum of one hour of physical education per week. A minimum of three teaching spaces would be required to fulfill this requirement.

It is noted that in addition, there are youngsters in the school with minor physical handicaps. These are students who are underdeveloped or have weight problems, or for which makes it impossible for them to participate in the normal physical education program.

The added room would be known as the "Adaptive Room" which would house certain deviate students for specific needs of these individuals.

The present drafting room is too small and lacks sufficient

South Windsor Hearing Set Tonight On School Addition

A public hearing will be held tonight to acquire townspace with the facts behind the need for an additional five to six classrooms at South Windsor High School and the need for an additional fire station in town.

"The public building commission will hold the hearing in the high school cafeteria at 8 p.m. Members of the board of education, town council and fire department will participate in the hearing."

The public hearing is one of the necessary steps before it is presented for referendum.

Tentative plans for the addition to the high school were presented to the board of education last June. A more comprehensive plan was presented to the board of education last night.

The proposed addition would accommodate 400 pupils. Principal of the high school Fred J. Carullo presented five suggestions to the board of education to obtain a $100,000 bond issue from the proposed addition.

Besides 20 new classrooms the finished high school would have a combination teaching amphitheater and band chorus practice room, increased gymnasium area, increased library space, increased laboratory space, additional stations in the language laboratory, increased typing area.

The combination teaching amphitheater could hold three or four classes for film presentations and lectures on a raised level teaching area. In the proposed plan the teaching space would have movable seating for 100 students.

It was recommended at the June board of education meeting that the seating be tiered so that the audience would have a clear view of the stage and a standing chorus of 100.

It was suggested at that time the gym addition should be placed on the second floor of the present gymnasium so that with the addition of a folding door this area might be used for additional spectator seating and an additional teaching area.

A special locker space would be required along the north wall of the present locker space. This would be used for a field house and changing area for outdoor sports.

There are presently 24 listening-room seats in the language laboratory. It was suggested that this be increased to 22. This area could be used for make-up work and oral exams.

It was noted the CEB is preparing oral exams to be administered to freshmen on the college level in some foreign languages.

A larger typing area with a capacity of at least 60 students was proposed to the board of education. This could be accomplished by removing an existing wall or by building a new one in the addition with an existing partition in a double-sized teaching area. This would provide for large group typing instruction.

In presenting his report last night, Carullo stressed an improved percentage of utilization of the high school and flexibility of the additional space pattern.

He said under the present pattern of student enrollment there are often eight or nine students enrolled in the fourth year of a subject as a foreign language, science or math.

These eight or nine students and their teacher must be assigned a classroom. The only type of space now available in the normal classroom which seats between 25 and 30 students.

Carullo said the situation represents very poor space use and therefore there is provision for small classes in the addition.

On the second floor of the new addition, it is planned to have the space for two classrooms divisible into thirds with folding partitions so that the space may be used for three small classes, one small class, and one large class, or for one large class.

A pair of classrooms with a movable partition between them is also planned.

It was suggested that one room be designed as an audio-visual learning activities room. The room is to be rectangular in shape, but not much larger than its width. It would be an "acoustical tunnel effect."

The room would occupy about the space of three double-sized classrooms. But would be large enough to house groups of students up to 100. The room is also divisible into three small areas, two of which would accommodate 40 students and one which accommodate 70 students, again in provision of flexibility in learning situations.

In presenting his recommendations for increasing the gymnasium space, Carullo said state law requires that every student receive a minimum of one hour of physical education per week. A minimum of three teaching spaces would be required to fulfill this requirement.

It is noted that in addition, there are youngsters in the school with minor physical handicaps. These are students who are underdeveloped or have weight problems, or for which makes it impossible for them to participate in the normal physical education program.

The added room would be known as the "Adaptive Room" which would house certain deviate students for specific needs of these individuals.

The present drafting room is too small and lacks sufficient

Don't Give Dad Short End Of Gift Stick on Dec. 25

By ALBEN KNOODY (NRA)

If the Christmas buying habits of slightly less than 2½ million teenage girls are a criterion, most American males (especially dad) will get the short end of the gift stick.

This sad fact was uncovered in a survey made by a leading teen-age magazine shortly after Christmas last year.

Only mom and the current beau were swamped. From reports it's a wonder they didn't get box-opening fatigue.

Fortunately the girls tried to keep a semblance of peace in U. S. family. When they did, the survey shows, they spent slightly more than $7 for favored gifts of shirts and ties, socks, after-shave lotion, pajamas, athletic sweaters, wallets, handkerchiefs, gloves and records for dad. The boy friend raised a gift costing more than $10, with sweaters and jewelry the leading items.

Not to spoil this holiday's unwrapping ritual, these two categories will hold their position as popular gift choices. Remember, then to smile and act surprised as you try them on.

Berkeley Students Cheer Faculty Vote

By CLAUDE V. BURGESS BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California Faculty's Academic Senate has adopted a resolution that will bring peace in the prolonged student-administration battle over political activities.

Leaders of the Free Speech Movement — the group which staged four massive sit-in demonstrations, one resulting in 81 arrests — proclaimed victory immediately after the vote Tuesday night.

They called off their strike until Dec. 18, when the university's Board of Regents meet in Los Angeles to consider the Academic Senate's five-point proposal. Regents must accept the resolution before it is effective.

Rebel students Tuesday night celebrated the Senate's vote and the 32nd birthday of Mario Savio, leader of the dissident group.

University President Clark Kerr, a member of the Board of Regents and one of the main targets of the movement's attack, declined immediate comment on the 1,200-member faculty group's resolution, which went further in meeting student demands than a proposal approved by the administration on Monday.

Savio, Manhattan-born philosophy student, said free speech members now would concentrate on trying to get charges against those arrested at the Dec. 23 demonstration dropped. Savio termed the Senate's action "magnificent."

A crowd of about 2,000 students, waiting outside Wheeler Hall, erupted with wild screaming when the Senate's vote was announced.

The Free Speech Movement steering committee issued a statement praising faculty members for their stand.

Only 939 Academic Senate members attended Tuesday's session, but all voted. Proponents won out, 524 to 115.

Prof. Joseph V. Gubarino, chairman of the Senate's freedom committee, termed the vote "an experiment in freedom."

The resolution would, in effect, give the faculty — rather than the administration — final authority over disciplining students who violate university regulations.

Included in the proposal were these points:

- That there shall be no university disciplinary action against students or organizations for activities prior to Tuesday in connection with political activities.
- That time, place and manner of conducting political activity on-campus shall be subject to reasonable regulation to prevent interference with normal functions on the university; that regulations now in effect shall remain in effect until after a report of the Committee on Academic Freedom (Current regulations provide university discipline for off-campus law convictions resulting from activities started on-campus).
- That content of speech or advocacy should not be restricted by the university and off-campus student political activities shall not be subject to university regulations.
- Future disciplinary measures for political activities shall be determined by a committee appointed by the Berkeley division of the Academic Senate.
- A pledge by all members of the university community to back faculty efforts to return the school to its normal function.

The tempestuous political dispute — which turned the campus into a slogan-spattered battleground for more than two months — erupted in mid-September with a routine bulletin. The announcement said that long-standing university regulations on socio-political activities would be enforced.

The Free Speech Movement made up of several campus groups — emerged and demanded there be no university restrictions governing use of campus facilities to plan off-campus political action — including recruitment and fund-raising for civil rights causes.

Mass demonstrations began. Regents last month liberalized their regulations to allow on-campus planning of off-campus action — provided the action was legal.

Rebel students were not satisfied. When the administration announced it would pursue severe disciplinary action against Savio and three other students, the Dec. 23 demonstration was staged.

Those arrested included 300 students, 25 teaching assistants, researchers and university employees and 128 persons not connected with the university. The Alameda County district attorney's office has said it has been unable to identify all the 135 non-students.

A mass arraignment for 768 of those arrested is set for Dec. 14. They are charged with trespassing, failure to disperse and resisting arrest.

MADRID (AP) — Four close collaborators of ex-dictator Juan Peron returned to Madrid today in much the same fashion as Peron returned from Brazil last week.

The four flew from Madrid to New York en route to Buenos Aires, but said Braniff Airlines informed them in New York they could not continue until the Argentine government was consulted.

"As we lacked travel visas, we could not remain in New York any longer and we were ordered to return to Madrid," said Alberto Huarte, an official of the Justicialist (Peronist) party.

With him were Augusto Vandor, secretary general of the metalurgical union in Argentina; Andrew Framil, secretary general of the Argentine Peasants Union; and Carlos Lecano, secretary general of the Justicialist party.

The four men came to Madrid Oct. 20 to pressure Peron into returning to Argentina. They accompanied him on his abortive flight to South America and returned with him. Argentine authorities had said they would be arrested if they arrived in Buenos Aires.

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — A student was killed and three others were injured Tuesday night when police fired on a crowd demonstrating against the arrest of student leaders.

Pakistan radio said police opened fire as the crowd attempted to violate orders prohibiting processions and public meetings. Other reports said the mob attacked a group of policemen, injuring some of them.

The students have been on strike for nine days, demanding the release of arrested students. Authorities closed all schools in Karachi on Monday.

MOSCOW (AP) — The lowly onion has become a shortage item in the Soviet Union, a Soviet farm economist complained today.

The lament came from Y. Palladin, an agronomist-economist, writing in the newspaper Soviet Russia.

Palladin said Soviet farmers have quit raising onions because it is unprofitable. About 75 per cent of the nation's onions are now being raised on private plots, he added.

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Eighteen blanket-wrapped Cuban fishermen and 15 shivering Japanese instructors arrived here Tuesday aboard a handsome Cuban fishing ship. The boat has no heating system.

The 387-ton, white-painted Aquila, built in Japan in 1962, berthed to unload 60 tons of frozen crayfish tails. The tails will be flown to France as Christmas delicacies.

"She is a nice boat," Japanese Capt. Gotchi Mikimi said. "The only fault with her — no heat."

The ship's agents loaned the crew several oil heaters.

Man Booked In Slaying Of His Twin

TEMPLE CITY, Calif. (AP) — A wealthy Phoenix, Ariz., man was booked on suspicion of murder early today in the fatal shooting of his twin brother, Timothy Nicholson, 22, told sheriff's homicide detectives he accidentally shot his brother, Todd F. Nicholson, with a .22-caliber rifle Monday night in the brothers' $400,000 apartment house in this Los Angeles suburb.

Arcadia Methodist Hospital. The death was listed as accidental until officers learned the rifle had been fired twice and that, according to them, Timothy's story of the incident was not clear.

As officers questioned the suspect, his mother, Roberta Nicholson of 22 Cajon, Calif., arrived at the sheriff's station. The brothers flew here from Phoenix in their private plane last week, officers said. Each inherited $500,000 from their father when they were 18 and were co-owners of the Sun Investment & Developing Corp., officers said.

London's Revolving Restaurant

By PATRICK MASSEY Associated Press Writer LONDON (AP) — Dwarling London's ancient landmarks is a brand new tower that ranks as Britain's highest building. Official name of this giant is the Post Office Tower (POT for short) which owes its existence to the fact that the British couldn't dig up the roads fast enough for all the telephone lines they need.

Standing on a site in quiet Bloomsbury, the tower thrusts up 620 feet. The building is only 560 feet high but atop this is a lattice-type structure containing a radar scanner for checking weather hundreds of miles away. Most novel feature from the tourist's point of view is a revolving restaurant built into the tower at a height just above 500 feet.

Turning at the rate of three revolutions per hour, it will give the diner a drifting panorama. Tourist apart, the principal purpose of the structure is to beam microwaves across the country. The Post Office runs the telephone service in this country and also has responsibility for television transmission facilities. Lately it found itself in need of more voice and vision channels than could satisfactorily be provided by landlines.

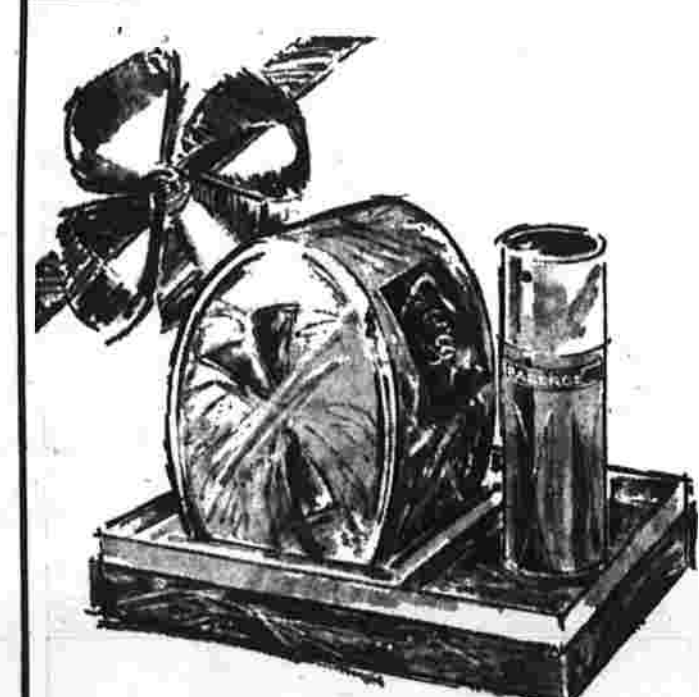

The tower's microwaves will be able to carry 15,000 telephone calls and 40 television channels simultaneously. Such a height was necessary because microwaves travel in a straight line. The transmitting point, therefore, has to be up above the top of the Thames Valley in which London stands. Also it had to be higher than any other London building to avoid interference.

The signals from London will be picked up and relayed around the country by a projected network of some 38 similar, though lower, structures. The tower should be open for tourist visits by the summer of 1965. Though the highest building in Britain, it is less than half the height of the Empire State Building and less than two-thirds that of the Eiffel Tower.

Besides the restaurant there are viewing galleries both open and behind glass. Two elevators, the most that could be squeezed into the slender structure, will rocket up and down at 1,000 feet per minute.

By the time work is all through, total bill for the Ministry of Works is expected to top $7 million.

One construction headache has been to insure that the building is so rigid that it will not tilt more than half a degree in even the fiercest wind. Any more wobble would blur the transmission.

Even the most expensive watch can't keep time as precisely as Accutron. That's because all the mechanical parts that make a conventional watch fast or slow have been left out of it. The Accutron movement is electronic. It's powered by a battery that keeps a tiny tuning fork vibrating 360 times a second, and it comes with the first guarantee of accuracy ever given. (You might like to know that the U.S. uses Accutron movements in satellites and issued them to all X-15 pilots.) You can't give a man a more perfect gift of time.

Insecurity Still Nags Henry Fonda

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Here I've been in this town 30 years and hell, I'm just as insecure as the day I arrived." Henry Fonda smiled ruefully. The fact that he was celebrating three decades as a movie star didn't faze him. "I sure doesn't seem that long," he bears his 59 years fantastically well. His figure remains spare, his face like that of a country boy who has been in the city a few years. His years of success have been unable to erase the nag of impending failure. Within the space of 30 years he has had star billing in 87 movies and eight plays and a television series, and never being without work for more than three months. Still, he worries. Fonda first came to Hollywood in 1934 at the behest of Walter Wagner, who had spotted him in "New Faces" on Broadway. "Wagner brought me out and put me up at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel," the actor said. "I remember listening in astonishment as Leland Hayward talked Wagner into paying me $1,000 a week. I had been telling Leland that I was a stage actor and didn't want anything to do with pictures."

But a thousand dollars a week! I had just left a summer theater date in New York where I was getting $35 a week. I was convinced."

After signing with Warner, Fonda returned to New York to appear in "Farmer Takes a Wife." Fox borrowed him for the film version the following year and he became an instant star. His film career has had two interruptions, once leaving his wartime Navy service, again starting in 1948 when he returned to the stage. The lure was inescapable — the part of his lifetime in "Mister Roberts" and he remained for a "Point of No Return" and "Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

"I get my kicks on the stage, but it was a mistake to stay away from films so long," he commented. "I was gone nearly seven years, and memories are pretty short out here."

"Producers can get out of the habit of thinking about you, and there is the chance that the public will forget, too. Except for having the film version of 'Mister Roberts' to do, I might never have made it back."

$6 for Congressman

'65 Prospects Business Expansion Is Seen, Length of Boom Uncertain

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business promises to start next year with a rush of expansion. But how long this will keep up is in doubt. And two clues to this being watched now are tightening profit margins and the current uncertainty in the money markets.

Profits soared in the first half of 1964 and then held about steady during the summer months. A renewed forward surge in the final months is hoped for but the costs of strikes and other production slowdowns are yet to be tallied. Perhaps more important is the tightening of profit margins this year after a marked wide in the previous two years.

rate executives to order another round of expansion.

This year's outlay of about $4.4 billion is 14 per cent higher than the year before. Government estimates now put capital spending in the first half of 1965 at around 8 per cent higher than this year.

Even though the rate of growth will be less, the extra dollars will help keep the general economy on the upgrade. Whether businessmen go through with these intentions depends on how business looks a few months from now.

Profits as well as sales volume will be a factor. Profits have been rising rapidly since 1960. But government estimates put this year's third quarter annual rate at 5.8 billion before taxes. Just about what it had been in the second quarter of 1964.

And the urge to expand depends on marked degree on the prospects for comparable profit yields. The margin of profits to sales contracted sharply in the final years of the 1950s and that did much to stem the flow of corporate funds into new plants and equipment.

The margin has expanded in the last few years and this has done much to persuade corpo-

Meter 'Cowboys' On New Roundup

BOSTON (AP) — Vandal-proof parking meters have proved no deterrent to Boston's mechanized cowboys who have learned to lasso a meter from a moving car and rip it out of the sidewalk.

Traffic Commissioner Thomas F. Carly told City Council members that the meter cowboys are saying it may be a month or two before the course of interest rates is clear. And business spending plans may be determined on the basis of financing them — and on the prospects of getting a profit return deemed worthwhile.

Final Rehearsal For Gemini Shot

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The final rehearsal launching the Gemini man-in-space program was scheduled here today.

A Titan 2 rocket was to blast off between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. EST to propel an unmanned Gemini spacecraft on a blading 16,000-mile-a-hour suborbital flight.

The capsule is to streak to an altitude of 106 miles and then dash back through the atmosphere to a parachute landing in the Atlantic Ocean 2,150 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy. Recovery is planned.

If the rocket and spacecraft perform satisfactorily, astronauts Virgil J. Grissom and John W. Young are to take an orbital ride in the next Gemini capsule, hopefully within three months.

Just Like Whooping Crane Office Party Not Extinct But It's Not Increasing

NEW YORK (AP) — The office Christmas party today is in about the same plight as the whooping crane. It isn't extinct — but it's in danger of becoming so.

Many young people aged 25 to 30 have never seen a real old-fashioned office Christmas party. "What were they really like?" they ask curiously about this time of year. "Were they really as wild as the old-timers say they were?"

Some, or all, of the following events might happen:

Somebody fulfilled the dream of a lifetime and put gin in the office water cooler.

At least 15 employees went up to the boss and told him what they really thought of him — and the boss made a mental note to start off the New Year by giving 15 merit decreases in pay.

In attempts to break up one fat night, four more would start.

Six middle-aged married men suffered ankle sprains chasing the girls from the steno-graphic pool from desk-top to desk-top.

By 10 p.m. — the party was supposed to end by 7 o'clock — the place looked like it had been hit by a hurricane, and the office boy was sent out for four more bottles.

By midnight, the boss was wearing mistletoe in his hair, had his arm around the partner, and was promoting him to executive assistant.

At least five husbands didn't get home until Christmas morning.

Events in Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department says labor troubles during October caused the greatest loss of man-days of work — 6.54 million — since November 1955.

The month also saw 824,000 workers idled by strikes — the largest number in five years.

The government attributed almost three-fourths of the month's idleness to the strike against General Motors, which began in late September and continued through October and, on a reduced scale, into November.

The November 1963 idleness was due primarily to a steel strike.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven House members who are Navy or Marine Corps reserves are starting their annual two-week active duty training in Europe, accompanied by 31 congressional staff members who are in the same unit.

Clarke May Buy Old Beth Sholom

The old Temple Beth Sholom, at Myrtle and Linden Sts., will be sold to insurance man Edgar Clarke, for $35,000, if the town zoning board of appeals, on Dec. 21, approves a variance request to convert the building to office use and without the required off-street parking.

The Temple, built in 1940, has been vacant for almost a year. The congregation, in January, moved into its new building at 400 E. Middle Tpk., and the old Temple has been for sale ever since.

Clarke, who proposes to convert the building into office space, would bring along the tenants he now has at his former residence at 175 E. Center St. They include the American Red Cross, Cancer Society and Homemakers Service.

53% Prefer Trains

HONN — For long trips, 53 per cent of the people interviewed in a West German survey said they prefer train travel. Twenty-eight per cent voted for planes, 15 per cent for automobiles and 2 per cent for buses. Two per cent were undecided.

765 Prospects

Many industries are counting on sales totals continuing to mount. But many are finding that it's taking more sales dollars these days to produce profit than it did a few months back. That is because production and distribution costs continue to rise, while in most cases it's been next to impossible to raise prices.

And the urge to expand depends on marked degree on the prospects for comparable profit yields. The margin of profits to sales contracted sharply in the final years of the 1950s and that did much to stem the flow of corporate funds into new plants and equipment.

Government Forces Win In Viet Nam

(Continued from Page One) Deaths from other war-related causes are listed as 85. Nearly 1,000 Americans have been wounded. Two missing and 100 are detained by the Communists.

About a dozen Americans have been wounded. Two missing and 100 are detained by the Communists. The toll of dead and wounded among Vietnamese units headed by Communist forces has not yet been announced, but is expected to be high.

The An Lao Valley was the scene of a hard, three-day action. One U.S. soldier was killed, another was missing and two were wounded at the end of the fierce fighting in the valley 300 miles northeast of Saigon. More than 50 Vietnamese government soldiers were believed killed.

The Communists suffered at least 30 dead but captured two 4.2-inch mortars—the largest in general use in Viet Nam—and 300 rounds of ammunition. They also destroyed or damaged five armored amphibious personnel carriers.

A Vietnamese division commander said American air power saved the day. "Except for the helicopters, we were in the districts headquarters would have been lost," he declared.

Lacourriere said the strike was fomented, organized, sustained, directed and controlled by the union's U.S. headquarters and its agents. He said the union was guilty of violation of the labor relations law.

Hearing of the suit lasted two days. About 800 witnesses were heard.

Russia Cuts Arms Budget, Calls on Others to Follow

(Continued from Page One) He also called in general terms for cooperation among Communist countries but made no specific reference to Communist China.

Kosygin's reference to a cut in the American defense budget was believed by informed observers to refer to something that Secretary of State Dean Rusk told Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at the United Nations last week.

Kosygin said the United States had notified the Soviet Union that it will reduce military spending in 1965 of five per cent, which began next July 1. The American budget for that period is scheduled to be put before Congress next month.

Connecticut Company to Try Frequent 10-Cent Local Run

The Connecticut Company plans to increase the frequency and cut the price of its Main St. run in Manchester on a trial basis to see if improved service will attract more riders.

Under the plan, buses plying Main St. from the terminus to Depot Square between 10 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. will visit each scheduled stop every 15 minutes instead of every half hour, as is now the case.

The cost of a cross-town ride will be cut to 10 cents. It is now 25 cents for adults and 20 cents for children.

The improved service plan would be instituted for a 30-day trial period. It requires approval of the Public Utilities Commission before it can be put into effect, however. The commission has not yet considered the proposal.

Under the plan, buses would continue on week days and on Saturdays and Sundays.

East Side Rec Center Open With Curtailed Program

The town's East Side recreation center was open last night with a curtailed program in the wake of a pay dispute between part-time town employees and the town.

The supervisors were getting less this year than they had last year, they said. The town's pay scale is being held up while park and recreation chief Horace Murphy checks out the time sheets submitted by part-time recreation workers.

300 Dogs Offered to President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has been offered some 300 dogs since Her, one of the two beagle puppies there, died recently after swallowing a bone.

That the White House has declined the offer, and a spokesman said today it cannot keep the female beagle, Nebraska, was sending to help ease the vacancy Her left.

Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, said she had called E. D. Hollister in Runnville, Neb., to explain the White House policy and "the understood perfectly."

White House aides planned to meet the beagle when it arrived here today, see that it was exercised, fed and checked over by a veterinarian before being sent back.

Him and Her, brother and sister beagle puppies, were the dogs of each of the President's 17-year-old daughter, but the President's affection for them was plain. The dogs figured in the famous ear-pulling incident by the President.

Him is doing fine, playing more with Elanco, another White House dog, "and the President has gone out of his way to give attention to Him," Mrs. Carpenter said.

Elanco is a snow white collie given the President by a child last year.

ColC Delays Its View on College Site

A Chamber of Commerce unit reviewing a town plan to buy a NIKS middle site off Keeney St. will make no recommendations until it has more information on available financial aid.

A state commission is currently preparing a report on the distribution of funds in aid to institutions of higher learning. The NIKS site has been proposed as a permanent home for Manchester's Community College, which now shares quarters with the Manchester High School.

The Chamber unit, a subcommittee, has reviewed cost figures for revamping the site to meet the college's needs.

Before making a final recommendation, the subcommittee wants to review the state's final plan for distributing available aid funds. The commission, which was due to report tomorrow, has asked for a 90-day extension.

The committee has met with college dean Frederick Lowe and school superintendent William Curtis, and last week toured the Nike site off Keeney St.

The site could be available to the town at no cost if it is to be used for educational purposes. The cost of renovations would be borne by the town, with whatever state or Federal aid becomes available.

St. Bridget's School — Construction Got an Early Start

When the Rev. John J. Delaney, pastor of St. Bridget's Church announced last January that it would be a few years before the planned parish school could be built and staffed, he did not reckon with the great parish support since shown for this badly needed facility.

Yesterday, before the end of the year in which the $250,000 fund drive began, groundbreaking ceremonies started construction of the new 6th, 7th, and 8th grade school. It and an adjoining convent will rise in coming months from the rear of the church's present parking lot at Main and Woodland Sts.

The architects, J. Gerald Phelan Associates of Bridgeport, have planned the two-level school in contemporary style. Designed to accommodate 200 students, its underpinnings will consist of steel and concrete. Off-white brick will cover most of the exterior and will blend with the color of the nearby church.

To give the school what they call "a little community atmosphere," the architects say they will use the wood of tobacco sheds for some sections of the exterior. Hardwood floors, aluminum windows, a laminated wood auditorium, and electric heating complete some of the school's design features.

Besides six classrooms, there will be an auditorium-gymnasium, a library, a science laboratory, administrative and clerical office, and a cafeteria with kitchen facilities.

The air-conditioned auditorium will accommodate 700 persons and is intended to be used not only for school functions, but also for social, meetings, community projects, and even Mass.

Designed to blend as a unit with the school, the adjoining convent will house the six Sisters of Mercy who will staff the school.

The convent will have six bedrooms, a chapel, two parlors, a community room, a kitchen, a refectory, a laundry, and a bathroom.

The Rev. Dennis R. Husey of St. Bridget's says that both buildings, planned for completion by September 1965, will take up only one-fourth of the existing parking space.

However, until the completion of the buildings, construction equipment will block most of the parking area and Father Husey warned that Sunday parking will be a problem in the coming year.

Police Arrests

Andrew A. Wuskell, 22, of West Hartford, was served a Circuit Court 12 warrant yesterday, charging him with indecent exposure. He was arrested by Det. Sgt. Joseph Sartor and Det. John Krizler at the University of Connecticut, where he is a student.

Police say Wuskell exposed himself to two teen-age girls Nov. 24 on Lenox St.

Wuskell posted a $500 bond for court appearance Dec. 21.

Apartment for Hilliard St. On ZBA Agenda for Dec. 21

A request for a special exception to construct a pair of seven unit apartments at 588 Hilliard St., in Residence Zone A, will be heard before the zoning board of appeals Dec. 21.

The apartments are being proposed by Raymond R. Demalo for a tract owned by A. E. Truck Leasing Corp. The firm was denied a zone change by the town planning commission earlier this year but would have allowed the storage of refuse collection trucks at the site.

The proposed apartments, according to a plan submitted to the appeals board, would be a single-story high and would be built facing a drive running south from Hilliard St. toward the front of the property.

Atty. John F. Shea, Jr., representing the applicant, says that the proposed apartments would provide a "buffer" between residential land to the east and an industrial site to the west. The Purdy-Ferris Corp. is to the west of the tract.

Other requests to make multiple dwellings, have been submitted by three other applicants.

Josephine M. Diminico is asking a variance to construct a four-family apartment to the rear of 39 Bridge St., in Business Zone II.

Elsworth Miller is asking a special exception to convert a single-family home at 27 Hollister St., in Residence Zone A, to a two-family dwelling.

And the owners of a combination store and apartment at 361 Center St., in Business Zone II, are asking to make a two-unit apartment building from a single second-story apartment building.

Business and office requests have been submitted by three applicants.

Report Delayed On Education

The Governor's Commission on Higher Education which was scheduled to present a master educational plan for the state tomorrow, has asked for an extension of 90 days. The extension, according to the commission, was necessitated by the commission's desire to present to the Bureau of Higher and Adult Education of the state department of education, and last month that it was likely the commission's report would recommend state financial aid for the operation of community colleges.

The commission, he said, is backed by the governor and financed by the legislature.

The postponement means that the report will not come to the attention of the legislature before the end of February. Mrs. Katherine Bourne, chairman of Manchester's board of education, is a member of the commission.

The mine owners originally offered only 2.5 per cent more pay.

Bolton Education Board Will View 'Tele-Lecturer' Showing

The board of education will see a demonstration of the "tele-lecturer" at its meeting Monday at 8 p. m. in the library of the junior-senior high school. A representative from the telephone company will give the demonstration.

The tele-lecturer consists of a telephone, a microphone and a speaker. It is used to "bring the outside world into the classroom." Examples given at last month's board meeting were to have a class talk with an astronomer, a state commissioner or a selectman.

Superintendent Philip Liguori explained at that time that the tele-lecturer could be installed immediately on a two-month trial basis. The board turned down his proposal, suggesting that if the lecturer were tried at all, it be tried at the end of the school year. In the event that it was approved, the money for it could then be included in the 1965-66 budget.

There is no provision in this year's budget, and the board indicated that to try the lecturer and then remove it, especially if it were successful, would not be good policy.

Also on the agenda is a "policy" discussion and possible adoption with respect to the mechanics of handling revenue and payroll. This item was tabled at the last board meeting so that the superintendent could discuss his proposed policies with the town treasurer.

Mrs. Shirley Riley, town treasurer, has been invited to attend the meeting. Selections are expected to attend with her.

Liguori termed the policies "a matter of mechanics" when asked about them recently. The policies as requested at would be in two forms: Repair of the damaged areas, and replacement of the entire walk.

The school enumeration report will be presented to the board. The board will also receive the first quarterly budget report of the fiscal year, showing expenditures in all budget categories as requested by the board at its October meeting.

Chair Robes Asked

Kath Greenleaf, school music teacher, has asked parents of children in kindergarten through Grade 3 to make simple choir robes for their children for the Christmas concert to be held Dec. 22 at 8 p. m. in the high school gym. The robes will be made from a circular piece of white material and hang to the waist. Greenleaf also requested that the robes be lent to the school for future programs. He asked that the robes be brought in by the end of next week.

School Buys Piano

A "school up-rit" piano was purchased recently for the junior-senior high school. It will be heard publicly for the first time during the Christmas concert, when teachers Mrs. Elizabeth Wright and Miss Mary Ann Aronson accompany the piano.

Used Clothing Bought

Junior Girl Scout Troop 666 is collecting good used warm clothing for infants and small children up to seven years old. At tomorrow's troop meeting the scouts will sort and pack books and clothes for needy children for Christmas.

Mrs. Richard Danielson and Mrs. Alfred Laneri, co-leaders, will pick up any items too large or bulky to be brought to school.

Permit slips for attending the troop Christmas party Dec. 17 at the Community Hall will be sent home tomorrow and are to be returned Dec. 17. On this day, town mothers will meet at the school at 3:30 to drive the girls to the Community Hall. Feeder-Road will be accompanied by the above mentioned actual market.

Frosh' Day At Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's freshman orientation day today for some 70 new House Democrats as they receive advice and shake the hands of the President.

A long day, it starts bright and early with a discourse by Kenneth R. Harding, deputy House sergeant at arms, on the machinery of Congress and jobs are made.

In less than a month, the newcomers will be sworn in for the first session of the 88th Congress and quickly will be enmeshed in the job of legislating for the nation.

Following Harding is Lawrence F. O'Brien, the White House congressional liaison man, whose job it is to impress upon the Democrats on Capitol Hill what the man in the White House would like them to do.

Then comes lunch and speeches by the entire Democratic House leadership: Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, Majority Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma, and the whip, Mike Boggs of Louisiana.

Also Rep. Michael J. Kirwan of Ohio, who heads the congressional committee that provides funds and other assistance for Democrats running for Congress.

Experienced senior Democrats officiate at briefing classes in the afternoon, answering freshmen's questions.

Finally, comes the big moment: trooping over to the White House to meet President Johnson, onetime Texas congressman and the Vice President-elect, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

FEWEST CARS IN ALASKA

Smith Girls Submit Bid For Hippo

NEW YORK (AP) — "What in the world are they going to do with it?" the city's public works commissioner said when he discovered that three Smith College girls had entered a bid of $600 for a surplus 4,000-pound hippopotamus.

"A 10-year-old hippopotamus is selling to loss around $100," Commissioner Roger J. Brown said Tuesday after the bid was opened.

He said the girls must prove they can take care of Betsy, described as less than friendly. A good idea, he said, would be to donate the animal to a zoo.

At the college at Northampton, Mass., the girls said that they entered the bid "out of pity" for the unwanted hippo.

Brown said that if the girls didn't look too kindly on the idea by Nancy Horner, 20, of Worcester, Mass.; Ann Longfellow, 19, of Weymouth, Mass.; and Ellen Emerson, 19, of Concord, Mass.

"The college is not prepared to handle a hippopotamus on campus, the spokesman declared in a neat understatement.

Betsy, the subject of the fuss, rested in Brooklyn's Prospect Park Zoo. The head keeper Dave R. Ellis said: "She was as soon as you see her at you."

The girls shuddered a bit when told of the hippo's demeanor. But Miss Longfellow said bravely: "We wanted a hippopotamus and if this is what a hippopotamus is like, we'll take what comes."

There's something else the Smith girls must know about. The hippo is not coming; they'll have to go get her.

"They will have to take her as where she is," the commissioner declared. "We don't deliver."

Court to Decide If Mill Closing Was Unfair Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court expects to take up today a case in which a union contends that a South Carolina textile firm engaged in an unfair labor practice by closing a mill after the workers voted to join the union.

An unusual aspect of the case is that a U.S. senator, North Carolina Democrat Sam J. Ervin Jr., is to argue in behalf of the Darlington Manufacturing Co.

The Textile Workers of America appealed the case after the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond, Va., upheld the company's right to close its Darlington, S.C., plant.

The union's appeal said that "the employer deliberately set out to obliterate the Darlington plant as an object lesson to the thousands of workers employed in other Southern mills and to the communities in which those mills were located."

The Darlington plant was shut in 1962 after its employees, in a close vote, chose the Textile Workers Union as bargaining representative.

The National Labor Relations Board ruled the firm closed the plant to avoid dealing with the union. Darlington denied this. But the board ordered employee reimbursement for back pay until rehired at the Darlington plant, or until placed on a preferential hiring list at other plants owned

Rockville-Vernon CofC Participation Is Low, Report on Meetings Finds

Lack of cooperation and participation on the part of most Rockville and Vernon merchants was the concern of the board of directors of the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce in its monthly meeting yesterday.

A report by James Murray, a director, regarding participation in three meetings held for Vernon merchants revealed that no one from the Vernon Circle Shopping Center attended, and that merchants from Wells Village attended only one of the meetings.

Murray noted that only merchants from the Tri-City Shopping Center were interested in chamber activities or merchant promotions.

He added that one result from the lack of enthusiasm resulted in a noticeable lack of Christmas promotion in the Vernon Circle area.

William Keller, chairman of the Rockville Merchants Division, also noted a lack of enthusiasm. He reported that only eight members participated in a meeting recently during which Christmas store hours were set.

A lengthy discussion followed as a number of suggestions were presented. No action was taken, but directors indicated that the problem will be given a great deal more thought.

Former chamber president Robert Garabedian reported that the annual Chamber banquet, usually held in February or March, may be held in May. He added that the committee considering the event suggested that instead of a banquet, a dinner-dance be held.

Directors generally agreed with the proposal, and the tentative date of May 8 was set.

Garabedian also reported on the decision recently by a committee considering an outdoor auditorium. The committee, after investigating possible use of an auditorium, decided that for the time the program should be shelved. The committee has disbanded.

Director Ralph Gibson, reporting on the relocation of the chamber office, said he has been given several possible locations by the Rockville Redevelopment Agency. The chamber office is presently in the redevelopment area, and the building will eventually be torn down.

Gibson said he would not release the locations offered, since he has not had the opportunity to investigate the sites. He said that some of the locations were for the "dead center" of town, and that the preferred sites were on Park, Elm and W. Main Sts.

Director Edward Moriarty reported on the chamber's redevelopment committee and said that discussions with developer

Jagan Loses Some Power In Election

Coalition government from his party and the United Force.

Burnham, 41, a massively built Negro lawyer, has his chief strength among the Negro population. Jagan's strength is among the colony's East Indians, who outnumber the Negroes 2 to 1. Tervortum and classes between the two races during the past year have taken 167 lives and caused $1.3 million in property loss.

Jagan's failure to retain the legislative majority he won in the election on a new system of proportional representation devised by the British to drive him from office.

With returns nearly complete from Monday's national election, Marjod, Premier Cheddi Jagan had the most votes, but he failed to win the majority necessary to retain control of the National Assembly.

Returns representing 91 per cent of the vote gave Jagan's People's Progressive party 102,222 votes, opposition leader Forbes Burnham's People's National Congress 87,000 and Industrialist Peter Dagnair's United Force 20,849.

On this basis, Jagan's party will get 24 seats, Burnham's 22, and Dagnair's 6 or 7. The opposition parties thus could outvote Jagan's forces.

Gov. Sir Richard Lugs is expected to call on Burnham, a pro-Western Socialist, to form a end to British rule uncertain.

Committee Heads Named by Legion

Committee chairman for the year were appointed by Cmdr. Henry Wierschick at the December meeting of the American Legion.

They are: Nominating committee, Francis E. Minor and Earl Peterson, past commander; Boy Scouts, Francis Leary; auditing, Leo Falino and Robert Peterson, past commanders; Fourth of July fireworks, Earl Peterson, past commander; collections, Herman Wagner, past commander; Robert Wagner, past commander; Kenneth Teomas and Robert Mongell, past commanders.

The Legion voted to purchase a film to increase the interest among Manchester students to participate in the annual American Legion Oratorical Contest. The film will be controlled by the chairman of this committee, Lawrence Leonard, vice principal of Manchester High School.

The past will also sponsor a program in conjunction with the Ladies Auxiliary. John Cervino and Mrs. Wilber Little, chairman of the Child Welfare committee, will be in charge of the program to see that every Manchester child is remembered on Christmas.

U.S. Share Shrinks

GENEVA — Swiss imports from the United States have averaged $200,000,000 over the past six years, a Government report indicates. The U.S. share of Switzerland's total imports dropped from 14 per cent in 1957 to under 10 per cent in 1962.

Still Some Ways to Tell Sexes Apart

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell the sexes apart? They have become more and more alike, as the result of the modern cult of togetherness, the campaign for equal rights, and the present passion for conformity.

Recently I listed some remaining differences between the sexes that would enable a close student of the subject to tell one from the other. Since then a number of readers have sent in suggestions on other ways that the sexes are differentiated — although no one knows how long this will hold true.

Here are a few you may find helpful:

If it complains bitterly about the sex while winning in a poker game, it is a man. If it hums to itself when it is 20 cents ahead in a gun runny game, it is a woman.

If it takes exercises to take off pounds, it is a middle-aged male. If it is a middle-aged female, it is a woman.

If it likes to burn steaks in the backyard until they turn to charcoal, it is a husband. If it has to clean up the mess afterward, it is a wife.

Does it hold an umbrella over itself? Put it down as a lady. Does it hold an umbrella over the one it is with? Mark him as a gentleman.

If it hates to remove its hat in the theater, it is feminine. If it hates to remove its hat in a crowded elevator, it is masculine.

When you see it help an old lady across the street, you can be sure it is a Boy Scout. When it rings your doorbell and asks how many boxes of cookies do you want, it is a Girl Scout.

If it frets about losing its hair, it is a woman. If it frets about losing its hair, it is a man.

Does it look grimace and turn away? Indubitably, it is a man. Does it look, then, automatically into his scalp after taking a shower, it is a young male. If it looks into his scalp after taking a shower, it is a woman.

By these signs you can usually tell a man from a woman.

On the other hand, if it wears tuxedo pants, it may be either a young lady or a bull fighter. And if it wears an amethyst ring, it could be either a young lady or a visiting Scotman.

Sometimes you just can't be sure. The gender of the sexes is getting more mysterious every year.

Once a person has taken possession of a new TV set there sometimes arises the question of where to place it for maximum effect.

The first consideration, of course, is to locate the set where it can be viewed comfortably by all in the family. ### 'Lolita' Lyon Wins Divorce

Brazilian President Caught in Middle

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — President Humberto Castelo Branco is caught in the middle of a name-calling fight between one of his top Cabinet members and Gov. Carlos Lacerda, a key figure in the revolution that brought him to power.

Also caught in the feud is the American mining combine, the Hanna Co.

Lacerda, governor of Guanabara State — Rio de Janeiro City — claims the economic planning minister, Roberto Campos served as a consultant for Hanna and that a new mining policy of the government is completely beneficial to the firm and detrimental to other mining companies and the Brazilian national interests.

On a television program, Campos denied Lacerda's accusations and claimed the government is attempting to divide the nation.

The dispute arose over Hanna's request to build a private port for iron ore exports near Rio de Janeiro where the state-owned steel company had planned to build its port. The government is reported agreeing in principle to the Hanna proposition.

Campos' connection with the American firm comes from a firm called Consultec which he said Fancher was so intent on securing that she was "all ways alone."

The entire proceeding took less than 10 minutes.

She charged Fancher, her husband for less than a year, with extreme cruelty causing great mental suffering.

"He would retire to his den and read for hours," the young actress told Judge Orlando R. Rhodes. "When I went in to see him, he told me to leave."

She said Fancher was so intent on securing that he even forbade her to telephone her mother.

Mrs. Lyon, who rose to fame as the 14-year-old nymphomaniac in "Lolita," married Fancher Dec. 22, 1963. They separated last Sept. 22.

The actress' sister, Maria Merriman described Fancher as "hostile, belligerent, egotistic, rude and unpleasant."

Still Some Ways to Tell Sexes Apart

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell the sexes apart? They have become more and more alike, as the result of the modern cult of togetherness, the campaign for equal rights, and the present passion for conformity.

Recently I listed some remaining differences between the sexes that would enable a close student of the subject to tell one from the other. Since then a number of readers have sent in suggestions on other ways that the sexes are differentiated — although no one knows how long this will hold true.

Here are a few you may find helpful:

If it complains bitterly about the sex while winning in a poker game, it is a man. If it hums to itself when it is 20 cents ahead in a gun runny game, it is a woman.

If it takes exercises to take off pounds, it is a middle-aged male. If it is a middle-aged female, it is a woman.

If it likes to burn steaks in the backyard until they turn to charcoal, it is a husband. If it has to clean up the mess afterward, it is a wife.

Does it hold an umbrella over itself? Put it down as a lady. Does it hold an umbrella over the one it is with? Mark him as a gentleman.

If it hates to remove its hat in the theater, it is feminine. If it hates to remove its hat in a crowded elevator, it is masculine.

When you see it help an old lady across the street, you can be sure it is a Boy Scout. When it rings your doorbell and asks how many boxes of cookies do you want, it is a Girl Scout.

If it frets about losing its hair, it is a woman. If it frets about losing its hair, it is a man.

Does it look grimace and turn away? Indubitably, it is a man. Does it look, then, automatically into his scalp after taking a shower, it is a young male. If it looks into his scalp after taking a shower, it is a woman.

By these signs you can usually tell a man from a woman.

On the other hand, if it wears tuxedo pants, it may be either a young lady or a bull fighter. And if it wears an amethyst ring, it could be either a young lady or a visiting Scotman.

Sometimes you just can't be sure. The gender of the sexes is getting more mysterious every year.

Can Plane Bombers Be Stopped at Last?

By DON GALEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The scene is a commercial airport. An airplane check-in counter, agents weigh and ticket passengers' bags, then place them on a conveyor belt. It is a routine procedure, performed thousands of times a day.

At one point, however, away from the crowded terminal, a large, heavy-walled chamber squats over the belt. As each piece of luggage enters the chamber, a revolving door closes around it briefly, then opens on the other side for the luggage to continue on its way to waiting trucks and to the airplane on the field.

Suddenly, a muffled explosion rocks the chamber. The chamber is scoured, its interior a mess. Repairs will be costly, have been proved harmless to luggage or its contents, including watches, radios and electric razors, they also set off false alarms.

According to the Chronology Corp., the manufacturer, there have been at least 15 incidents involving bombs and airplanes around the world since 1948, killing 238 persons.

The FAA, however, puts the figure at 191 deaths in 17 known bombings since the first one occurred in 1932.

Whatever the true number, which can never be known, there were also — by FBI count — 700 bomb hoaxes in the less than three years between September 1957, and March 1960. One airline executive estimates the cost of each false bomb report at about $10,000.

This, says Chronology, is just what it would cost for one of its explosion chambers. For $40 million, it says, every baggage conveyor belt of every airport in every airport in America could be protected.

Again, the FAA has its own figure, contending that a single installation of the chamber would run to at least a quarter of a million dollars, and it has refused to underwrite the cost of a prototype chamber.

While unimpressed at present with this particular device, the FAA is interested in any idea that might reduce the possibility of aircraft sabotage. Other methods studied or under consideration include:

1. Radioactive Seeding. The theory is that a Geiger counter-type instrument, scanning luggage, would detect a bomb through telltale clicks caused by radioactive particles added to the explosive at the time of its manufacture. (Later, it was believed that primer caps alone need be seeded.)
2. The trouble was that a serious health hazard would be presented to people making or using explosives. Also, there is about a 10 year supply of dynamite on the shelf, and millions of primer caps are imported every year. And there would be the problem of radium-dial watches.
3. In any event, a determined bomber could make his own point would choose the path of least resistance — away from the plane. There has actually been one case of an airplane landing safely after a suicide bomber blew himself out of the lavatory.

But this was at a low altitude. The question is whether a large plane, pressurized at a high altitude, could continue to fly with a hole in its side.

Vernon

Town Fiscally Okay, But Practices Hit

Vernon's accountants have given a general approval to the town's fiscal condition for 1963-64. However, the firm, Letts and Keller, also made several pointed criticisms regarding some practices.

In their yearly report, filed yesterday with town clerk Henry F. Butler, the firm noted that "certain collections received by a former tax collector during the fiscal year 1963-64 have never been posted to taxpayers accounts in the several tax rate books." The accountants urge that "appropriate entries should be prepared without further delay."

Several entries in their report indicate that a few recommendations have been made annually for several years without any action being taken.

"Condition of records and general conduct of office was reasonably well kept," the report noted. The report indicated that the town's general fund increased last year. Cash balance on June 30, the end of the fiscal year, totaled $224,307.61, a cash surplus for the town.

The auditors noted that because of the surplus the general fund increased from $183,213.47 to $224,307.61, "the equivalent to nearly two million on the grand list."

The report noted that the tax rate last year was 38 mills, and initial appropriations included: Board of education, $2,021,516 and cost of running the rest of the government, $1,038,874 for a total initial cost of $3,060,390.

Added to the initial costs were added appropriations approved either by the Vernon board of finance or by electors at special

City of Rockville for reimbursement for highway maintenance costs at June 1964. The amount of $40,300 is being paid subsequent to the close of the year and charged to the appropriation account provided in the 1964-65 budget.

The city operates its own highway department, supported in part by town reimbursement. This item has provided a controversy between town and city officials and is expected to become a political highlight in the coming consolidation election.

"Cash discounts offered by suppliers were taken in payment of bills," the report noted. However, there were several instances where discounts were forfeited due to the expiration of the discount period. The auditors urged that whenever discounts are offered for the prompt payment of bills, that such invoices be processed in time, if all other factors warrant the payment of the bill.

The auditors also recommended "installation of a machine process for the recording of budgetary expenditures; that all town departments utilize manifold receipts in the collection of monies so that the department maintains a copy of the transaction; that the journal in the selectmen's office be revised to allow collection of monies, as detailed; a better record collection; payroll preparation at the selectmen's office be revised, and the use of invoices or bills submitted by the town employees be discontinued until duplicate copies of invoices are obtained."

The report suggested that the town's tax collector be increased from $65,000 to at least $80,000, and that bonds also be increased for the building inspector, selectmen's clerk, chimney inspector, school superintendent. Also, coverage should be provided for part-time personnel working in the tax collector's office and for the road foreman inspector.

"We have previously commented on the many insurance policies written for the town," the report indicated.

The auditors recommend that an insurance coverage be established to administer to the town's insurance requirements, and that coverage be combined in fewer policies.

"As of June 30," the report stated, "more than 80 individual policies written by various agents" were in effect.

The auditors noted that consolidation will become effective July 1, and it is apparent that many of the suggestions and recommendations listed which are appropriate and applicable to the fiscal year under review, cannot from a practical standpoint be adopted and placed into effect."

They added, however, that several suggestions be considered and made part of the accounting practices and operating procedure followed in the conduct of town affairs.

The auditors recommended that a detailed record of town-owned property, both real and personal, should be compiled and kept up to date, and a vigorous tax collection policy be inaugurated in order to keep delinquent tax accounts at a minimum.

"In this respect," the auditors said, "an additional clerk should be provided to the tax collector's office to cope with the increased tasks confronting that office."

The report also stated, "During the year, investments from the (town) funds were made in U.S. Treasury Bills which amounted to interest of $31,284, sum considerably greater than whatever from this source. The report added that the funds were in good condition. Collections from building permits and licenses totaled $10,600, as compared to $17,876.16 for the previous fiscal year.

Club Hears Sing By Round Table

About 180 members of the Manchester Women's Club attended a tasting supper and program last night at Fellowship Hall of Second Congregational Church, Mrs. N. A. Pitcher, Mrs. Stanley Juros were co-chairmen of the event.

The Round Table Singers of Manchester High School sang after the supper. Robert Vane directed the group. Their program included "Adoramus Te, Christe," by Palestrina; "O Divine Redeemer," by Gounod; "From Heaven to Earth I Came," by Bach; "Song of Gail," by Chajes; "Mary Had a Baby," a Spiritual; "Glory to God in the Highest," by Pergolesi; "Twas the Night Before Christmas," by Moore and Diller; and two original compositions by Mrs. Roberta Peck Vane: "When I Was But a Little Child," and "Christmas Eve."

The singers were presented with a gift of money, which they in turn donated to the Daniel Manbeck Fund. Members of the Women's Club donated money for patients at Norwich State Hospital.

The tables in the hall were decorated with evergreens, Christmas ornaments and red candles.

Six years ago we had an idea that Manchester and surrounding towns needed a convalescent hospital to care for the increasing needs of its citizens. After that need was fulfilled, it soon became apparent that our success would mean an addition in the not too distant future. So, to accommodate even more people—we decided to expand our facilities.

Our expansion is now completed!

A new wing for Crestfield Convalescent Hospital will open this week. Designed by Architect Arnold Lawrence, it will add twenty-six beds to the original sixty-five. Completely functional, all patient rooms are oversized with ample space around the bed. All rooms are on the outside wall and tastefully decorated. There is a communications and paging system for each bedside station to the nurses' station. Each room is equipped for television and telephone. Also incorporated into our expansion, is an enlarged Nurses Station and Physical Therapy Department. A nine hundred foot area off the therapy room will allow for the showing of movies and other activities.

The activity program is under the capable direction of Mrs. Ruth Converse.

The building is owned by Messrs. Abner N. Adler, Leon Dobkin, Francis P. DellaFera, and Drs. A. Elmer Diskan and Eugene M. Davis. The Louis E. Schoolnik Construction Company was the builder of this building.

NEWLY ENLARGED NURSES STATION

Students Easy Dupes For Political Causes

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A teenage boy brandishing a stick or burning stones is no reason to suspect a communist. Multiply him by thousands, abandon him and his brethren to unscrupulous and opportunistic leaders, and he can bring down governments.

Student mobs, student riots, student demonstrations—these are convenient catchall terms. There are students and student demonstrations, and there are student demonstrators.

In the wave of student violence in Asia, Africa and Latin America, the participants' ages ranged from preteens to overripe maturity. In the main, they are not just kids on a rampage, but an explosive political force.

How many of the outbursts are spontaneous? How many are provoked by legitimate student leaders? What impels students to violence? Stormy student participation in politics is an old European custom, transplanted as a heritage of colonial times to Asia, Africa and most of the Western Hemisphere.

This tradition has not taken root extensively in the United States, probably because in a nation blessed with more freedom and opportunity than the Old World ever knew, students had less time for or interest in politics.

But the fever is contagious. There are occasional offshoots of it in the United States, such as the current incidents at the University of California at Berkeley.

The Old World idea—strong in Latin America and prevalent in much of the rest of the world—is that the grounds of the university are sacrosanct, beyond government authority and are indeed practically autonomous.

The tradition is almost superstitiously respected in much of Latin America. Often superstitious "student leaders" have led free on campus to plot against a government. The fever spreads from university to high schools and even to preteen kids. Politics may mean nothing to them but rioting presents opportunities to let off steam against elders.

In the prewar era, when the world was not so compressed a package, the university was the training ground for future leaders through exposure to problems of political and social justice. The tradition persists, but today it is an explosive agent in a time of intense global contest. The student—member of the elite—becomes a potential future leader—becomes a prime target of opportunities of right or left intent on power.

Since education is usually expensive, the students for the most part come from well-to-do families, and their politics often is largely a matter of rebellion against their elders.

In the intellectual violence

Students from five greater Boston colleges took part in a sympathy march yesterday, supporting the student side of the free-speech controversy at University of California. The head of the 2000-student parade is shown passing the statue of John Harvard on the Harvard campus. (AP Photofax.)

told me he believed the rich always would support the rich, and since Americans were rich, there was little hope that U.S. aid would bring reforms.

All over the world, in countries whose development has been slow, there are impatience, anger, deep cynicism among students about the virtues and advantages of American-type democracy.

"Why do we do what we do?" a young man in South Viet Nam once asked me. "Look around you and see. What do we have to lose?"

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A Minute-man intercontinental ballistic missile malfunctioned shortly after launch early today and had to be destroyed by its range safety officer, an Air Force spokesman reported.

Destruction of the missile touched off scattered brush fires over an area of 100 acres. There were no injuries and no damage to launch facilities, the spokesman said.

Schedule Tests On Separation Of Twin Girls

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Tests are to be made to learn if day-old, identical twin girls, joined from collar bone to navel, can be separated.

They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Webster Jr. of Bay City, where Dr. H. C. Matthews delivered the infants. His neighbor, Dr. Fred Matthews, a pediatrician, accompanied them in an ambulance to Texas Children's Hospital in Houston.

As the ambulance entered Houston, it collided with a car driven by Herbert Cowell, 22. The doctor and babies were unhurt. Cowell was injured.

Dr. Matthews said there was some connection between the twins' livers.

All rooms are equipped with sink and toilet facilities and feature built-in wardrobes and dressers. The rooms are painted in pastel shades and are furnished with high-low beds, for easier operation. ### People In the News

LYNDA BIRD JOHNSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—That's not an engagement ring in the third finger of Lynda Bird Johnson's left hand.

In response to questions, the press office of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson said Tuesday the 20-year-old daughter of President Johnson wears a heavy signet-type ring on her right hand. When she shakes hands frequently, the ring hurts her fingers and she switches it to her left hand.

U STANT
NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary-General U Thant is suffering from a small vertigo attack and will be kept in a New York hospital for another week to 10 days.

A medical bulletin Tuesday night reported the 52-year-old U Thant had a heavy signet-type ring on her right hand. When she shakes hands frequently, the ring hurts her fingers and she switches it to her left hand.

RONNIE RAE
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The claim by Ronnie Rae, 25-year-old singer, that actor Steve Cochran is her father, was refuted Tuesday night by police.

Deputy Det. Atty. Paul Eastman said no complaint was issued against the actor. Detectives found Miss Rae went to Cochran's home to audition for a musical he was producing, was told her singing was bad and then flew into a rage. Police concluded she thrust her head against a stone fireplace, resulting in her injuries.

KING ADULTADEJ
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—More than 1000 persons attended a royal garden party Tuesday night to celebrate King Bhumibol's 37th birthday.

The party was held on the palace grounds. The guest list included the royal family, cabinet ministers, the diplomatic corps ranking military officers and prominent businessmen.

The king was born in the United States and educated in Switzerland and Dr. Eugene M. Davis.
