Help for New Haven Line May Be Coming from HHFA

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official of the House Transportation Committee today said he believes funds could be made available under the Mass Transportation Act for an experiment looking toward the mass transit solution of the New Haven Railroad.

John Kohl, deputy administrator for Transportation, said that while no application for such aid has been received from the Connecticut Transportation Authority, "it the CTA would seem to be eligible for assistance in efforts to maintain and organize a permanent solution of commuter service" by the New Haven.

Such an approach was suggested Thursday by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., following a meeting of New York and New England officials on possible avenues to save the New Haven passenger and commuter services.

The recovery climaxed two days of secret calls and night-time rendezvous in the Florida beach resort.

College Grid Hero Taking Comments in Stride

Namath Confident of Ability

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — "I'm gonna try like hell." Joe Namath's steel gray eyes flash fire when he is reminded of the derivative remarks of football veterans over his fantastic 1400-yard performance and the suggestion that he could prove the game's biggest bust.

Even more bitter words came from Namath's "hurry team" members on the New York Jets of the American League—quarterback Dick Wood, Mike Taliaferro and Pete Lijewski.

"You don't play four years under Coach Bryant (Paul Bear Bryant, the Alabama coach) without paying the price. You give every guy you have or you don't play."

Namath admitted that he was concerned by the rumor raised in pro football over his incredible three-year contract and bonus.

"I can't blame some of the fellows for being skeptical and over-earnest, but they should understand the circumstances."

"I know they're leaving for good. But I'm not scared. I don't run."

Gilmer Named Coach With Detroit Eleven

DETROIT (AP)—Harry Cowhoy has named Gilmer, one-time Alabama forward, as the new coach of the Detroit Lions of the National Football League.

The Lions reportedly received the approval of the Vikings before they made their tender to Gilmer. They were said to have talked together beforehand and the Vikings gave the Lions a go-ahead in their offer.

Gilmer, lured away from the Minnesota Vikings where he was a top aide to coach Norm Van Brock, has coached at the college level for 10 years.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bob Odell, the new head football coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, where he was an All-American back in 1945, was named today as the coach of the team.

Trinity Loses Heartbreaker

Bradley Faces Yale, Tigers Big Favorite

How do you beat a basketball team that has an All American, the star of the championship Olympic team and "the greatest college basketball player in the United States"?

Walt has been done four times this season—most recently by nationally ranked Michigan and Princeton.

But though Princeton has been beaten, one has yet been able to contain Bill Bradley, a Trinity (N.C.) senior.

Bradley's dream was also, incidentally, a Rhode Islander, who went to Yale to go up against Bradley, a time in his own right, and the rest of the Princeton team tonight at Dillon Gym.

Ellen coach Joe Vancian isn't making any predictions about the outcome of the game, but he has no reservations about Bradley.

"The greatest college basketball player in the United States," Vancian calls him. "He's got to be. He can do everything. His attitude is perfect."

When Trinity surged back to the top of the standings, the charge was led by Bradley, who scored 24 points in the first half and 22 in the second.

Trinity hit from the floor with five seconds left in the game.

Bradley's loss was its third straight in the Tri-State League.

Water Table Low Despite Rainfall

HARTFORD (AP)—It took more than a wet December to make up for last year's drought.

The U.S. Department of the Interior reported Friday that ground water in Connecticut was still at very low levels.

The amount of water in the state's rivers and streams was reported below average for December except in eastern Connecticut, where base streamflow was higher than average.

Expect Act Will Renew Aid from U.S.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Vietnamese armed forces agreed today to end their three weeks of military rule and restore governmental authority to the civilians.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the agreement did not represent "everything we think ideal" but considered enough to make it possible for the United States to deal with the new government.

Expect Act Will Renew Aid from U.S.

Restoration of the council, with legislative powers, has been sought by American authorities.

Expect Act Will Renew Aid from U.S.

Renewed talks on threatened American aid for the fight against the Communists, suspended since Dec. 20, were expected as soon as terms of the communique are placed in effect.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, commander in chief of the armed forces, signed the communique with Suu, Premier Tran Van Huong and two deputy prime ministers.

The civilian government will be charged with "organizing a national assembly, probably with a direct vote in the countryside," the communique said.

It added that the seven members of the High National Council arrested in the purge will be released immediately.

It did not mention whether other politicians and students arrested in the same purge would be released.

The action appeared to have ended a long period of the present, South Viet Nam's three-week-old political crisis.

The communique ended with a call for national unity among Viet Nam's political leaders.

The communique followed a meeting that extended through most of Friday night at a seaside resort involving Huong.

25-Cent Locker Kept Gems Safe

NEW YORK (AP)—The priceless Star of India sapphire and eight other precious gems were kept safe for 26 hours in a Miami bus terminal locker for almost a month.

This amazing twist to the $40,000 theft of 24 jewels from the American Museum of Natural History here Oct. 30 came to light with a climactic break in the bizarre case Friday.

The gems were flown here from Miami, along with Allan Dale Kuhn, 26, one of the three Florida beach boys accused of executing the robbery.

Kuhn had led New York detectives to the famed sapphire and other gems, which were touched with mystery and intrigue. He apparently was bargaining for leniency for himself and his two companions, Jack

Congressional Wives Receive Much Advice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wives of Democratic newcomers to Congress are being counseled on how to get along in Washington. The advice—from the Democratic National Committee's women's division—ranges from protocol to how to get a baby sitter.

Most of the wives said they considered getting baby sitters their most pressing problem. They were given a listing of university and commercial agencies where they can get help.

After the first of two briefing sessions for the wives of new senators and House members was held Friday Mrs. Charles Farnsley from Kentucky laughingly reported the best advice she got was "I don't have to go to everything."

Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, a veteran of the Capitol scene, came around to offer assurance as a lunchtime speaker. But, the wife of the vice president-elect had to admit she shares the freshman wives' "unawareness" as she looks to the new job ahead of her.

It has "a different perspective, a different focus—things we've grown accustomed to and feel sure of are different. The whole scope is larger," she said.

Humphrey was a senator for 16 years. Mrs. Humphrey said she hopes in six months "to feel as comfortable in the new job as you will."

She told the wives to begin right now to campaign for 1966. Campaigning in off-years is a must, she advised.

Getting lost in the capital city seems to be a universal problem of the new wives. Mrs. Humphrey told them not to worry: "Everybody gets lost in Washington—husbands got lost, too."

She warned they would have trouble getting places on time, especially if they try to drive and search for parking. Mrs. Humphrey urged the

Alaska Folk Nonchalant About Cold

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—"There's one thing in the country to have outdoor ice hockey in July." Guess this "Frozen North" business has something to it after all.

With nonchalance of Alaskans toward cold weather, residents here are viewing the month-long stretch of subzero temperatures with more interest than malice.

Only twice through December did the alcohol thermometers—mercury freezes at -40—climb to above zero, then only for a few hours. Several times temperatures dipped to 80 below. For weeks at a time the temperature has stayed below -50.

And in Tok, 206 miles south of here, reports came that sled dogs died when the temperature dropped to 75 below.

The 16,000 Fairbanks residents have a joke: "I'd go downtown, but I can't find it. The joke is almost truth. The cold traps the usual byproducts of combustion—oil and car exhaust—into a dense ice fog that blankets the town and airport."

The fog is so thick that tail and head lights are invisible at more than five feet. Driving is hazardous and flying, for smaller planes that can't takeoff on instruments, impossible.

For the Alaska railroad, the cold brings other problems.

Chiffon Appears Frequently In Day and Night Fashions

By RHEA STEWART (Special Herald Reporter) NEW YORK—One fashion editor covering the Press Week of the New York Couture Group showed up wearing pants, the kind that Paris offered last season—tailored pants in ivory brocade wool with a matching jacket.

She seems a little out of step, for the styles of spring 1965, being shown on the runway at the opposite pole of fashion. They are excessively feminine. An editor who has lived in England thinks it part of the British fashion influence, which we are seeing so much chiffon.

The typical Englishwoman's gamut of fashion runs from tweed to chiffon, nothing much in between. The Englishman who dressed for dinner in the jungle probably sat down with an English lady floating in chiffon.

We shall even wear chiffon in the daytime, as a blouse to match a suit lining, and there may even be a little scarf floating somewhere around the throat. Branel is one of the designers who softens a tailored suit with a chiffon blouse.

But it is in the evening that chiffon really comes into its own, and Gode showed one foot-length gown with a waterfall back that takes a girl a day and a half to drape. The draping encircles bust and waist artfully, then crosses to the back and falls in panels to the floor. Another chiffon gown Gode proudly declared is "the only straight chiffon skirt in existence."

U.S., Britain Try to Stem Rush on Gold

LONDON (AP)—The British and U.S. treasuries have made counter-moves against speculators scrambling for gold and putting pressure on the staggering pound sterling.

Financial circles here said today the vast world-wide gamble in gold appeared to be filling out under pressure from London and Washington. The U.S. treasury warned that speculators were liable to burn their fingers.

The gold rush put new strains on the Atlantic alliance, as some financial writers blamed President Charles de Gaulle's government for not correcting misconceptions about French plans to switch $100 million in American dollars into gold.

Market operators reported that the London gold market Friday had its heaviest dealings since the peak of the Cuban missile crisis in October 1962.

The Paris gold market, too, had to cope with a wild scramble of private hoarders. Turnover was up 300 per cent on the average day's dealings.

The heavy and sustained private demand pushed the London price of gold up by 4 cents to

Dock Worker Strike Seems Almost Certain

NEW YORK (AP)—A new strike by 60,000 dock workers in ports from Maine to Texas at midnight Sunday appeared almost certain Saturday in the wake of a contract rejection vote by longshoremen here.

The uneasy peace was shattered along the waterfronts of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts in a surprising development Friday night.

Thomas W. Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, said he was "little disappointed" by the New York vote of 8,354 to 7,792 to reject a four-year contract recommended by union leaders.

The New York longshoremen always have set the pattern for dock workers in other ports and there is an unbroken tradition that if one local strikes, all locals go out.

Gleason scheduled a meeting today of the 23-man executive council of the union "to decide what my position will be" and prepared to formally notify the shipping association of the rejection vote.

The federal government has exhausted strike-delaying machinery, such as an 80-day cooling off period as provided in the Taft-Hartley Act. That was used when the union struck East and Gulf coast ports Oct. 1 during negotiations.

James J. Reynolds, assistant secretary of labor who has been working as a mediator for several months, termed the New York rejection "unfortunate."

He said the situation is "extremely serious" and that a strike is "distinctly possible."

Reynolds, who was in Galveston, Tex., working on longshoremen's negotiations there, quickly packed up Friday night and headed back to Washington to confer with Secretary W. Willard Wirtz.

Ralph A. Massey, I.L.A. president in Galveston, after the New
