Events of Inauguration Solemn, Folksy, Lively

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson's inauguration day turned out to be a remarkable melange of solemnity, folksiness and fractured security.

The security was broken by the President himself. The inaugural parade in Washington, D.C., proceeded to the band of his alma mater, Southwest Texas State College, and shook the hands of four burly bearers.

The 66-year-old President, in his great happiness, proved to be an iron man physically. Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, who was deposed by colleagues as House Republican leader, called the speech "excellent."

During the afternoon, the President had the time of his life watching the big inaugural parade pass his reviewing stand in front of the White House.

Many Bands Sought Place in Parade

By J. W. DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP) — One hundred and fifty bands and marching units from all over the country asked to get in the inaugural parade.

Forty-two bands and 33 marching units made the grade. So it was not so much a question of "How do they get so many bands to come?" as it was, "How do we get so many bands to come?"

A partial answer: It would help if the state Democratic party chairman had a good opinion of the outfit wanting to make the trip.

The inaugural parade committee has the job of settling on one band, one float and one marching unit from each state. Some states distant from Washington elected to stay out, but new rules forbade their being represented by organizations from other states closing in on the capital.

A band with connections represented Illinois. Manned by city brasses, it has for its mascot leader a 160-pound St. Bernard dog named Oscar, who stands in well with Illinois politicians.

The Sacred Heart High School girl kiltie band of Bloom, Minn., had a kiltie in high place.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. It played for the "Lady Bird Special" train on which Mrs. Johnson campaigned through the country.

There was no problem Virginia — the Eighty Tenth band of Virginia Tech stood out from the record of having won three consecutive Grand National awards in previous inaugurations. (No award are made for the first time.) The Eighty Tenth band took its name from an early drum major who was called "that — meaning 'show-off'."

Some other parade notes:

The drum major of the United States Military Academy band, Lt. Col. C. E. Conklin, is in a class by himself. He is the only drum major in the army authorized to marry the band.

The Longhorn band of the University of Texas, which has been in 1900 with 16 members whose instruments came from a pawn shop.

The honor guard representing Connecticut dates back to 1771 and claims to be the oldest military organization in continuous service in the United States. Scores in its great age. It long ago overcame the fact that its drum major was named Benedict Arnold.

Police Uncover Plot to Murder For Insurance

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Detective Chief Floyd Hanson said today two men tried to induce a third man to kill the ex-wife of one of them.

Hanson said Garth McGrew, 31, and Robert Fuller, 28, offered Gerard Rodriguez $2,000 to break the neck of McGrew's ex-wife, Barbara, 30.

The detective chief said McGrew holds a $10,000 insurance policy on his former wife and had hoped to collect the principal and get out of paying support for the couple's six children, aged 8 to 11.

Rodriguez, 44, stationed here with the Air Force, is regarded as an expert in karate, an Oriental science of attack in which the edge of the open hand is used to split a brick.

McGrew said he split a two-inch board of a brick.

Rodriguez went to the police and told them of the offer. Hanson said the attempt was made though he was going through the plan.

Detectives arrested McGrew and Fuller Tuesday as they sat with Rodriguez and Mrs. McGrew in an automobile. McGrew and Fuller were charged with attempted murder. McGrew made $2,000 bond, Fuller $5,000 in lieu of $8,000 bond.

Hanson said the two men proposed for Rodriguez to kill Mrs. McGrew, then they would take an automobile and with a special rig, tow it at high speed and release it to crash as if the driver had lost control.

The detective said officers watched the men go through a dry run of the whole plan — without the victim — last Tuesday night.

SOME FOODS, NONDETERMINED CAUSE GAS IN THE INTESTINES
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q— I have a lot of gas in my intestines. What foods cause this condition?
A— Any food that contains sugar or starch will ferment and produce gas if it is not completely digested by the time it reaches the large intestine. This means that if you hurry your food through your digestive tract with laxatives or too much roughage, it will not have time to digest completely and you will have gas. There are, however, certain starchy foods that are made up of microscopic starch granules each of which is enclosed in a fibrous capsule. These granules in this form are more slowly digested than other forms.

Italy Switching To Ready-Made Men's Clothing

ROME — A dozen years ago the ready-made men's clothing industry was nonexistent in Italy. Men and even boys went to tailors or had their suits made at home. Except for work clothes and sportswear, ready-to-wear clothing was all imported.

Today this is a $400 million a-year industry in Italy and some forecasters say it will reach a billion dollars a year by 1970.

But still only about 60 per cent of Italian men buy ready-to-wear suits — compared with about 90 per cent in the United States and West Germany.

Mile Deep Shallow?

DALLAS — Forty years ago if an oil driller bit went a mile into the earth, that was considered a "deep hole." Now a well must be more than 15,000 feet deep to be classed as "deep." The petroleum industry standard.

A— Histoplasmosis was once thought to be invariably fatal, but now we know that it can be cured if it is recognized early with the antibiotic, amphotericin B. It acts very much like fungus that is found in the soil, especially soil that has been contaminated with the droppings of chickens, pigeons and other birds.

Q— Our baby died at 13 months of malignant hepatitis. What is it and could it occur twice in the same family?
A— Malignant hepatitis is a type of cancer of the liver. Although the cause is not known, it is not a contagious or hereditary disease. It would be most unlikely that it would occur twice in the same family.

'New' Sprouts UConn Sees Space Limits Barring Qualified Students

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
STORRS, Conn. (AP) — Some sprouts, the oldest young state in California, have passed their 150th birthday in quiet solitude on the rocky Pacific Coast 50 miles northwest of San Francisco.

They are 200-foot redwoods that sprouted from stumps of giant trees cut down by Russian colonists between 1812 and 1814 to construct Ft. Ross and nine buildings. Most of the "sprouts" bear 150 growth rings today.

The first building to be erected by Russian and Alut workers is believed to be the oldest wooden structure west of the Rockies, its rugged timbers still admitted by visitors to the Ft. Ross State Historical Monument.

Some stumps sent up shoots of scores from each. Several of the shoots are 200 feet tall today, rivaling some of their parents in height. They generally are not thick, but are relatively less heart-shaped than their parents.

Four flags have flown over the area — Russian, American, Mexican, the California Republic and the United States.

The area was technically Spanish when the Russians set foot there, but the colonists flew the imperial Russian flag above their buildings.

When they sold out to Capt. John Sutter in 1841, the land came under Mexican jurisdiction. In 1848, the Bear flag of California was raised over the fort. California became U.S. territory in 1850 and the 21st state in 1850. Historians credit the Ft. Ross Russians with notable "firsts" — the earliest known prefabricated houses manufactured in America, French explorers, the first gold miner who visited the area in 1827, reported that the Russian colonists were building completely new houses of redwood, then dismantling them for transport to Russia in the holds of sailing ships.

The grove from which the timber was cut is in an area high Carlos A. Call, 80, and several other descendants of George W. Call, who acquired the fort and surrounding land in the 1870's.

A man by the late publisher, William Randolph Hearst largely financed the state's acquisition of the fort in 1916.

California redwoods — Sequoia sempervirens — grow taller than any other trees, and they are among the oldest. The tallest known — found last year growing on a lumber company's tree farm near Orick, Calif. — measures 387.8 feet high. The oldest of record has lived about 2,200 years, less than half the age of California's oldest living trees, bristlecone pines, and younger than some Sierra redwoods and Western junipers.

Woman Charged In Son's Death

WATERTOWN (AP) — A warrant charging Mrs. Dominie Hinkald of Watertown with manslaughter in the death of her 15-year-old son was issued today by Police Chief Frank Minoc.

The boy, Richard, was found dead in the Hinkald's Norway street home. Mrs. Hinkald and her mother, a former mental patient, the chief said, was committed to the Connecticut State Hospital for observation.

Police said they received a call Thursday from Mrs. Hinkald that her son had been taken to a hospital. She was taken to the hospital to be with her son in an emergency.

The body of the child was found by police on a bed. Mrs. Hinkald said her son was found with a list of names of death pending completion of an autopsy.

Inaugural Day

What one imaginative headline called the "tidal wave of pomp" seemed to yesterday to be very grand and very precious. In fact, we would think it very fine if all those politicians who are continually agitating to have some minor date on the calendar turned into an official holiday would concentrate their efforts on having Inaugural Day made such a holiday so that as many as possible might have an opportunity to witness the pageantry and the proceedings.

We Like Muriel

The best human part of the Inaugural was the way the wives showed their pride in their husbands. We confess to a slight degree of partiality as between the two wives. Perhaps it is merely that Muriel Humphrey is a little newer to the limelight. But mainly we think it is because she is just a shade more Mrs. All America in a sort of routine way—not too beautiful, not too ostentatiously sharp, but comfortable and maternal and motherly. And as for that vast pride in her husband, on such an occasion, at such a climax to his dreams and aspirations, it was such a great pride it could hold itself back, and cry a little over the grandeur, but never really step forward to take its own share of either the limelight or the public honors.

One Nation, One Vote

Admission this year of three members of the United Nations, bringing the total to 113 as compared to 51 charter members in San Francisco almost 20 years ago re-emphasized the inequitable and impractical organization of the General Assembly. Malta, Malawi, and Zambia—all former British colonies newly independent—will have one vote each in the Assembly, although they are not by any other measure, qualified for equal standing with the great nations of the United States.

That Single Vote Election Again

Of all the editorialists in the nation who originally expounded on the "importance of a single vote" sermon preached by the election day results in the presidential contest down on Long Island, we suspect we are the only one to stick with the story through its various subsequent changes.

to another, back and forth, with a new winner being indicated with each new count and each new decision, we have been forced toward the cynical conclusion that, far from being something to cheer about, any election which gets so close a single vote may have anything to do with the outcome is a disaster for democracy.

The latest news from Long Island is, at any rate, that the latest ruling from the State Supreme Court has ruled the actual result of the election a flat tie between the two candidates, with each receiving exactly 53,713 votes.

This result was achieved, as all previous results were, by a process of selection among several hundred absentee ballots which were challenged for one reason or another. The latest judgment decided to count two ballots previous counts had discarded, and that created the tie.

One can suspect that the court was glad to be able to find a tie, and thus refrain from trying to pick the final winner.

What happens next? With nobody a winner, it may be possible for the country to elect a Democrat, to name the Democratic candidate to the judgeship—to "fill a vacancy." But this was to be a new judgment. How can there be a vacancy in an office which has never been?

So it's back to another court, for another series of possible rulings and possible appeals. And so far, toward the end of January, we have not heard of an election which was held Nov. 2.

LONDON—Most of them in this city do not live that well at all yet. The pay is bad and they live in the rain in cold houses where walls smell of rot and there is not one of them who does not shake his head and mention somebody in the family who did not come back. The red-haired woman looks up from the hotel steps she is scrubbing at 6:30 in the morning and talks for them all. "You too pretty to be scrubbing?" she says. "What would you have me do? I've no husband."

By A.H.O.

We have an innumerable capacity to be naive in our understanding of great complex issues. This what is to become of the New Haven Railroad.

Being as naive as we can be to a point, it is, for instance, much easier than trying to understand the real complexities of the situation, a process which severely makes the observer feel unintelligent and inadequate.

Another touchingly naive block to clear realistic thinking in this small local of ours has been a wistful assumption that the granting of a public franchise involves an acceptance of responsibility and obligation as well as a privilege and an opportunity.

A Thought for Today

Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches
"A Christmas Is Different" "Are you behaving like ordinary men?" I don't know. Our Christian standards should make a difference in the way we live. Before a follower of Christ ought to show in the decisions we make and in the way we come to grips with our problems. In our business and professional life, we should be the Christian from the person who makes no claim of being Christian. Our business and professional life should be the square with the teachings of Jesus.

Coventry School Board Advisory Unit Will Begin Meeting Feb. 1

The board of education's advisory committee plans to meet each Monday at 7:30 p.m., starting Feb. 1, at Coventry High School until its study is completed.

Supr. of Schools Wilson L. Tilly announced the date so that prospective members will be aware of any conflicts. The number of weeks involved will depend upon the detail which the committee itself feels is necessary.

An established by the board, the duty of the advisory committee will be to consider all phases of the local educational problem. This group, to comprise representatives from all local groups and organizations, will have access to all information needed to evaluate the problem. Upon completion of the study, the committee's findings will be reported to the board of education.

In establishing the committee, the communication advised, "We hope this will provide maximum communication to the citizens of the town while the study is in progress."

The school board meeting at the corner of Main St. and School St. will be held at public session at 8 p.m. on Jan. 20 at the site of the Board of Education. The agenda will be the right to refuse all bids.

Nursing Meeting Set

The Public Health Nursing Association will have its annual meeting at 8 p.m. today in the town office building. Guest speaker will be Dr. Joseph Shaw, former chief member of the Institute of Living in Hartford. His topic will be "The New Mental Health Movement". A question and answer period will follow. The public is invited. The business meeting will be held prior to the speaker. Refreshments will be served.

School Board Meets

The board of education at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. today will hear communications from the board of finance interim report of its (finance) advisory committee, the Education Association of Coventry, and from the department of education. Bills to be passed will also be acted upon.

Supr. of Schools Wilson L. Tilly will report to the board on policy on former president of the school year 1964-65. The Robertson School Grounds contract, educational specifications, proposed operational procedure for the board's Advisory Committee, and the Education Association of Coventry Building Needs and school nursing service for the school year 1964-65 will also be discussed. The agenda under new business calls for "School Psychologist Services."

Auditors Merge

If Wilbur Stevens, C.P.A., of South St., who has been auditor for the Town of Coventry for about 20 years, and Andrew J. Masses, C.P.A. of Glastonbury, have announced the merger of their respective practices.

The new firm will be known as Masses & Stevens, Certified Public Accountants, and will maintain offices at First St. and Hartford; 63 East Center St., Manchester, and 20 North Street, Willimantic.

Stevens has been in practice in the area for more than 20 years with offices in Manchester and Willimantic.

Masses has been a member of the adjunct faculty of the University of Hartford with the rank of assistant professor and has offices at 36 Pearl St., Hartford.

Both partners are fellows of the Connecticut Society of Certified Public Accountants and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Pastor Accepts New Post

The Rev. James R. MacArthur, pastor of the First Congregational Church, has accepted a call to be pastor of the Valley City and Danbury, N. D., Congregational Churches. His resignation from the local church is effective March 31.

The Rev. Mr. MacArthur has served the local parish since 1950, coming here from Lowell, Mass.

The annual meeting of the church on Jan. 31 will take action on the resignation and appoint a pastoral committee to seek a replacement.

Rotary Speaker Set

Charles E. Edmondson, program chairman for the Rotary Club dinner meeting at 6:45 p.m. today will have as speaker Leo Vignault, director of pupil personnel at Coventry High School. Vignault's topic will be "Guidance in the Public Schools."

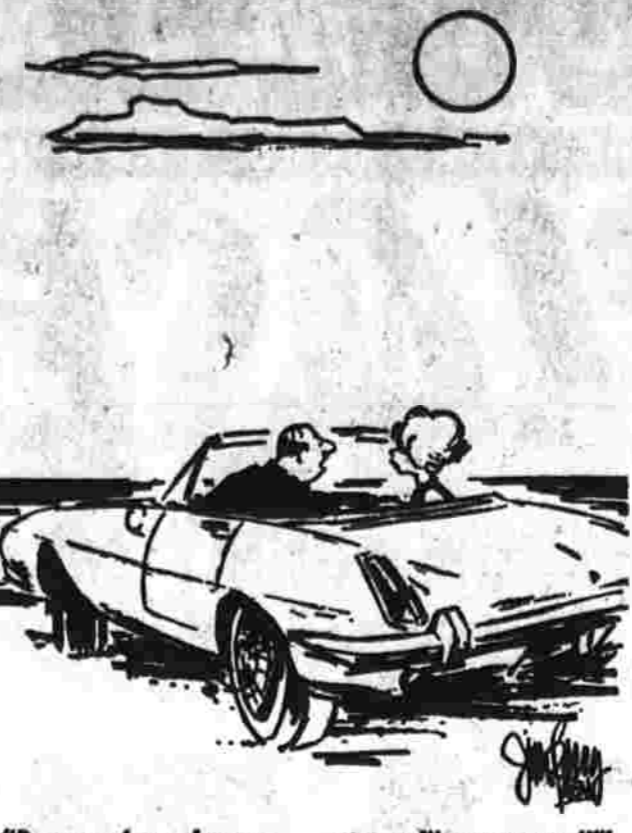

The club, through its president, Winthrop Kerlan, received a certificate from Rhode Island recognizing the Coventry Rotary Club as a 500 per cent foundation donor. It was noted that to become a 500 per cent club, the local group had only to contribute $10 more, which it promptly voted and accepted.

The book circulation at the South-Dimock Memorial Library during the past year has increased to 17 per cent over the previous year, a report of Mrs. Leon Labrie, librarian, shows.

The total circulation for 1964 is 45,800 and previous year 39,187, an increase of 17 per cent. The categories and comparison follow: 1964 and 1963 at 11,284 or an increase of 1,584; adult non-fiction for 1964 at 11,207 and 1963 at 10,009 or an increase of 1,198; juvenile fiction for 1964 at 11,283, increase of 9,832; and juvenile non-fiction for 1964 at 4,610 and 1963 of 4,757, increase of 137.

PRESERVE US FROM 'BEAUTY PILL' THAT WORKS!

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It's a woman's world, and it's a woman's world that's being developed more rapidly than ever before. But if a youth pill will someday keep a pretty girl pretty until age 60 or 70 (which is what the scientist is hoping it will do when perfected), the plain girl will have to compete with beauty most of her days. And that is a bit discouraging to contemplate.

But until a youth pill has actually proved to work, plain Janes still have the comfort of knowing that beauty is not only skin-deep—it's fleeting.

They can carry on, hopefully preparing for the day when they will come into their own. And if they hope there will "never" be a successful youth pill—who can blame them?

Selma Negroes Turn Toward New Protests

They were told they could not go to the court house Wednesday afternoon in still another unsuccessful effort to register.

They were told they could not go to the court house in one of the two main entrances to the court house but not in the other. Father than he told which door to use, the Negroes turned around and went back to the church where the mass meeting was held. The church was made to arrest them until they approached the church.

A bomb scare brought a flurry of uneasiness during the afternoon at the same church. Broderick and Clark followed searched the building after an anonymous tip that a bomb would explode at 4:15 p.m. None was found, and Negro boys and girls attending a youth meeting went on with their work.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who had been invited to Selma Tuesday night for an out-of-state speaking tour but cleared to return Friday and take command again.

Approach Differs

By REK THOMAS

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — As individuals, Wilson Baker and James H. Bevel, the top law enforcement officers in Selma, have an unshakable belief in segregation.

But they have little in common in applying that philosophy to the handling of racial unrest.

The sheriff, Clark follows the hardline line of white supremacy, meeting Negro civil rights demands with a massive show of force and arresting those who disobey him. More than 200 have gone to jail this week.

Baker, the city's new public safety director, has told his officers to put their personal feelings aside and face the changing conditions brought about by passage of the civil rights law.

Clark has become a symbol of "white man's law." His heavily armed deputies, with their clubs and electric prod poles, have traveled into other counties to help put down Negro demonstrations.

The sheriff is the chief law enforcement officer in the county and Clark follows the approach. He took with the approval of the city administration then in power.

Rockville Political Parties Offered Space

The two political parties are being offered space for campaign headquarters in the redevelopment area.

Charles McCarthy, executive secretary of the Rockville Redevelopment Agency, said today he had received clearance for the move from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The two parties, who are getting ready for the council election in March, will be offered space in an empty building on the boardwalk on E. Main St.

McCarthy said the parties will be expected to meet certain conditions if they accept the offer.

Car Hits House, Driver Arrested

A 29-year-old Manchester motorist was arrested last night when his car glanced off the side of a house after a collision with another vehicle.

Enn V. Abel of 19 Lindenman St. has been ordered to appear in court 12 sessions on Feb. 8 to obey a traffic control signal at the intersection of Main St. and Spruce St.

Abel's vehicle struck ahead of a car, bouncing against a tree trunk, finally coming to rest against a house on Oak St., tearing off some shingles. Neither vehicle was damaged.

A 29-year-old Poquonock motorist was arrested yesterday morning after he was involved in an accident with New State Rd. and Adams St.

Police say that Christopher A. Morgan, northbound on State Rd., made a left turn into the path of an oncoming vehicle. Morgan's car was struck by a car from the north, which was struck by a car from the south. Morgan, charged with failure to grant the right of way, has been ordered to appear in court on Feb. 8.

A teen-ager, reportedly dashing across the street into the path of an oncoming vehicle, was struck but only slightly injured yesterday afternoon.

Thomas Schuster, 14, of 15 Thomas Dr., was one of a group of about 100 teenagers who gathered on the sidewalk near St. John St. when the automobile, operated by John H. Morgan, drove into the street, striking the group.

The car, belonging to Robert E. Wurtler, 23 of Windsor Knolls, was parked on Center St. near McKee St.

Strange Things Found in Sewer

Have you ever wondered what happens to discarded television antennas? Some of them wind up in and around the sewer mains in the North End, according to Carter Thomas, a District sewer department superintendent.

Thomas recently informed the district's directors that among the objects he and his men have fished out of the mains, were antennas and old license markers.

He said that he doesn't know how they enter the sewer system, and doesn't really care. What he does care about is that the practice should cease.

Kiwanis International 50, Town Club Sets Celebration

Kiwanis clubs throughout the world are today celebrating the 50th anniversary of the organization's birth. The Manchester Kiwanis club will mark the event at its 51st annual meeting, the 51st anniversary of the local club.

"A proclamation honoring the group, Mayor Francis Mahoney said. 'The men of Kiwanis have contributed unselfishly to the good of the community, aided in their work by the citizens and I therefore call upon the citizens to join me in honoring the Kiwanians of Manchester as they have honored us in countless ways throughout the years, and I declare this to be Kiwanis Golden Anniversary Week in Manchester.'

Kiwanis was formed Jan. 31, 1915, in Detroit, Mich. by a group of men gathered to found a service organization dedicated to serving the community. The name was chosen from an Indian phrase, "muk-we-wan-nis," meaning, "freely to serve."

"We have in this time this was more literally translated and became, 'We Build.'

The first Kiwanis Club in England were organized a little more than a year after the first individual Kiwanian in Detroit. The Manchester club's charter is dated March 22, 1915. Its charter night and existence began on April 2, 1915, in Cheney Hall. Ten of its 23 remaining charter members are residents of the Manchester.

Special projects of the Manchester Kiwanians have been, and still are, supplying underprivileged children with food and clothing; sending boys and girls to camp; supporting Boy Scouts; Girl Scouts; and carrying Field Service, Latin Junior Mu-

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Members of the Hiram College student senate are petitioning over what they call a curtailment of individual freedoms there in Hiram, Ohio.

The seven-member student senate is petitioning the village trustee to Village Solicitor Chester Knicker, stating that legal counsel will be sought and that a special election may be required.

Martin Favors Autonomy For Boards of Education

Bills proposing fiscal independence for the town school board and a new method of distributing state aid to education were proposed last night by General Manager Richard Martin.

Speaking at an open house conducted by Manchester's two state representatives, Martin also proposed a bill permitting town firemen to transfer from a state financed pension plan if they are now under the town plan.

And he suggested that the state legislation permitting towns to establish community colleges be amended to permit larger tuition charges to out-of-town students.

Rep. Atty. Paul Grobert and State Representative also discussed with the use of no persons who attended, details of the bills that they are proposing individually or together.

Martin's proposal for fiscal independence for the town board of education would make the board responsible for setting its own budget, establishing a separate rate for education, accepting directly state and federal aid funds, and allocating and spending its income.

At present the board of education approves a school plan which must be turned to the general manager and the board of directors before being finally approved.

Once the budget has been set, however, the board of education has sole responsibility for allocating and spending its funds.

The result, Martin says, is a division of responsibility for the education budget and program. Fiscal independence would bring advantages for the state and the town government, he said.

The bill Martin suggested would permit towns to vote fiscal independence for their school boards by the same process as adopting a new charter. No town would have to do so, however.

The board of education would be responsible not only for operating costs—for which $8.6 million is being asked by School Super. William Curtis for the 1965-66 fiscal year—but for capital improvements, bond principal and interest, pension insurance and pension costs, and all related educational expenses.

Martin left it to Atty. Grobert and Cavagnaro to decide whether to submit a general bill applying throughout the state or a special act referring only to Manchester.

In answer to questions from Atty. Grobert, he said that he believed in the long run that fiscal independence would serve to bring down educational expenses.

"There are more run-away school expenditures here under divided responsibility" than there would be if the school board were fiscally independent, he said. "It's done in most other sections of the country outside of New England," he said.

According to Martin, Curtis worked under a fiscally independent board of education in a Long Island community before coming here, and prefers such a method of financing.

According to Rep. Cavagnaro, who sat on the General Assembly education committee during the 1963 session, a fiscal independence bill was before the legislature but was quickly defeated in committee. Curtis detailed in committee his association, a teachers' organization, has come out in favor of such a bill in its 1963 legislative session.

Representatives of both political parties said before the open house that they favored the bills. Martin's proposal for an additional state aid plan would base payments to individual towns on the increase in the per pupil cost of education over a five-year period.

In Manchester's case it would work this way: Over the last five years the cost of education per pupil has risen $166, from about $341 to about $477 each. There are about 10,000 students in all town schools.

Martin would have the state distribute aid equal to the per pupil increase times the total number of pupils—in this case, 136 times 10,000 or about $1,360,000.

"On the aid could be based on the percentage of the increase instead of its full value. At 50 per cent the town would get about $680,000."

According to Martin, this would be payable to the equalized Grand List basis for distributing aid, which has also been suggested to the General Assembly.

The equalized Grand List plan, the state tax commissioner could evaluate local property assessment practices to establish a list based on current values, not inflated values. This would serve as a more realistic basis for computing a town's ability to pay for education.

The choice of switching or not being left up to the vote of the voters, Martin said, was not policed them to find out if the voters would support it.

The bill would also have to require that the state transfer some of the pension payments that have been made by the five-year period to the state to fund the town fund.

Rep. Atty. Grobert and Cavagnaro have already prepared a bill, at the request of the town board, to transfer the pension plan to obtain survivorship benefits under the state pension plan.

Stocks in Brief

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to a point as profits were taken on the market's continued rise. The Dow Jones industrial average closed at 338.5 with industrials off 1.5, rails off 1 and utilities up .8.

Utilities were ahead on balance, but these gains were irregular. Building materials and mail orders were mixed.

Many analysts said a "rest period" for the market was in order following a string of 11 sessions prior to Wednesday when big stock gains were felt.

The Associated Press average of 40 stocks at noon was off 2.3 at 338.5 with industrials off 1.5, rails off 1 and utilities up .8.

Some silver mining stocks were easy following a prediction that the Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 4.01 at 338.5.

Prices were generally higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged.

Democrats Pick Committee for Merger Election

Campan committees for Democrats participating in the coming consolidation election, to be held March 7, have been announced by Thomas McCusker, candidate for mayor for the Democratic party.

Campan co-chairman are Peter and Ann Humphrey, both of whom are running for office, and Edward and Kathryn Dean, district attorney.

Area chairmen for the city are Stanley Orzowski, Abner Brooks, Joseph Resnikoff, John J. Woron, John Kelly, Atty. Robert Dubois and John T. Orzowski.

Transportation chairman are Joseph Kozlowski for the city and Joseph Adams and Richard C. Deane for the district.

McCusker said today he will conduct an extensive drive to achieve a large vote, and said he expects a vigorous campaign.

"The people selected to conduct the campaign are determined to see that every voter is contacted so that all the people of the town will have an opportunity to participate in the decision of the forthcoming election," McCusker said.

Law Would Set Terms of Office

The board of directors will hold a public hearing on Feb. 2, 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room on a proposed ordinance pertaining to terms of office on town boards, agencies and commissions.

The ordinance, drawn up by Town Counsel Irving Aronson, would designate two-year terms, commencing on the second Tuesday of November of each seven numbered year, for appointment or reappointment fixed by the town charter.

Atty. Aronson said today that the ordinance would embrace five or six agencies, whose terms of office would be limited to not more than one year, and would eliminate the need for an ordinance in each instance.

Town Reviews Plans On Sewer Assessing

Alternate plans for assessing property owners for a sanitary trunk sewer in the Kenney St. area are being developed by the town public works department.

According to public works director Walter Foss, his department is undertaking a detailed review of various methods of assessing for sewer projects and preparing specific cost estimates for each.

The estimates will include a breakdown of the cost for bringing sewers directly to individual lots of various sizes under each of six alternate methods of assessment.

The review will be submitted to General Manager Richard Martin when it is completed.

The town directors are scheduled to consider alternate assessment methods at an informal meeting on the sewer proposal on Feb. 1. At that time, each property owner will be asked to register a proposal, as is demonstrated by a letter appearing elsewhere in the Herald today.

As a result of the review, the wrong Diels has been receiving calls from persons interested in signing one of the petitions. We apologize for our error.

Ambrose Dielh's three petitions propose:

1. That the town construct the entire sewer project including sub-lines, laterals and house connections, at one time so that service will become available immediately upon the project's completion.
2. That the town construct the trunk line but assess all property owners the same amount per acre.
3. That the trunk line be installed as the sewer improves, but be put up for referendum.

The whole issue will be aired once again when the directors reconvene their formal public hearing on the trunk sewer proposal on Feb. 1. At that time, each property owner will be asked to register a proposal, as is demonstrated by a letter appearing elsewhere in the Herald today.

RRR Approval Given Contract For Demolition

The Rockville Redevelopment Agency last night approved a contract with the Raymont Construction Corp. of Hartford for the demolition of four buildings and the covering of a portion of the Hockanum River in the renewal area.

Demolition of the buildings is expected to begin next week, according to Robert H. Butler, president of the construction firm. Leveling of the buildings may take three to four weeks.

The river covering project will be delayed, according to redevelopment officials, because original estimates made several years ago were found to be too low.

Since more money is needed for the project, an amendment to the contract was approved by the Home Housing Finance Agency in New York and Washington, D.C. The Rockville city council earlier this week approved its share of the additional cost.

Included in the initial phase of the work will be the clearing of land in the demolition area, at Market and Brooklyn Sts. Raymond Construction Corp. has a bid of $290,000. Seven bids were received by the redevelopment agency at the bid opening held last night.

Siblings Vote on Name for 16th Child

TOWACO, N.J. (AP) — While the new-born baby lay in a maternity ward crib, most of his brothers and sisters were debating an issue that would affect him for a lifetime.

They were holding an election to choose his name — pursuant to tradition in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Spada.

The name of Dominick was bestowed Tuesday night on the Spada's ninth son.

Two of the 15 Spada offspring favored the name John, but Anthony put a damper on the pro-Dominick faction.

"I guess the scholars won out," said Spada. "They got the name from a priest. Father Dominick, who is a friend of the family."

Spada, 44, has no say in the naming, which may or may not account for the fact that it wasn't until the 16th child was born that a son was named after him.

"We leave it entirely up to them," he said. "I need to be able to sway the election, but I guess I'm too old now politically to carry much weight."

Spada's blonde wife, Ann, 39, gave birth to the 16th child Sunday. Both were reported in good condition today.

Two of the Spada children didn't have their say in the election. Joseph, 17, is a senior at the University of California at Berkeley, where he is majoring in psychology.

Spada, a moving van company representative, said the last half dozen children have been named through the election system.

Who's Who Lists Former Resident

Stanley Smith, formerly of Manchester and now of San Diego, Calif., has been nominated for placement on the national listing of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Smith attended the University of Hartford when he lived here and is now president of the senior class at California Western Reserve, where he is majoring in psychology.

Blaze Kills Two

Two workmen were killed as a gas line exploded and flames shot up while they were repairing a leak near here Wednesday.

Police Chief A. L. Wilcox said Charles C. Carson, 61, of Fort Lake, Tex., was working in a six-foot hole when a spark from his tools apparently set off the blast.

Carson, the contractor on the job for Gulf Oil Corp., and E. Craven Martin, 61, of Williams, Tex., were killed.

FOOLED THEM ALL

Frank C. Youngerman, celebrated his 77th birthday here with a reminiscent chuckle over the doctors who told him 77 years ago that he had tuberculosis and had only 30 days to live.

"They said I was doomed," he laughed. "But I'm still here. It turned out to be only a bad chest cold, and that's the sickness I have ever had."

RAF Will Shoot if Indonesians Fly over Line

LABUAN, Malaysia (AP) — "If Indonesian aircraft cross the border and we are near them, we will shoot them down," said the commander of the Royal Air Force in eastern Malaysia.

"It is no secret what we will do," went on Wing Cmdr. Arthur Harper of Britain's Royal Air Force, who has been in Labuan since he was posted here in 1954.

He pointed to a line across the border, fitted with a homing device and along beneath the wings of his Jetstream fighters that do better than 500 miles an hour.

"My boys know their instructions and will not hesitate," said Harper. "Nobody has yet fired one of these weapons in anger in any place and we could be the first."

Once the Indonesians flew across the border a few times but only for a mile or two. "They quickly got back again before we could engage them," said Harper.

The RAF at this stage has orders not to follow them across the border.

Labuan Island, which has a good port, is just off the coast about midway between the eastern and western tips of Malaysia.

Papers Win Awards

BOSTON (AP) — The Vermont, Maine, Star won the top award for general excellence at the 18th annual winter meeting of the New England Press Association, it was announced today.

Other winners in contests among the weekly newspapers were: Dartmouth Review for makeup and typography; Bangor, Maine, Tribune and Adirondack for advertising; and Bystander for layout.

Fill Tests Well

PORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The F-111, a combat plane being built for the Air Force and the Navy, made its fourth test hop Wednesday, general Dynamics, the builder, called the 26-minute flight a success.

A spokesman said the plane did not attain supersonic speed because of a cloud cover that obscured a good view of the flight from the ground.

The maiden flight last Dec. 21 was curtailed after the wing flap failed to retract. But it was flown successfully Jan. 6.

Great Society No Wild Idea For America

By HAL BOYLE
Circumstances of a President's...
Man has always yearned for a Utopia on earth — whether he deserves one or not.

The inauguration of Lyndon Baines Johnson as 36th President of the United States puts into motion one of the greatest drives in history in this direction — the achievement of what he has called the "Great Society."

But it is hard to see why becoming a "Great Society" should be less than the American goal. Surely it is the best dark narrative of the human race, no other major power has been in a better position to make a better human society, a more livable environment.

We have the resources and the skills to better our people satisfactorily, to feed them well, to improve their health and to educate them to a higher level. We have the ability to do all this if we but have the will.

Some 2,000 years ago a Chinese philosopher named Lao-tse reached, "The journey of a thousand miles begins with the first step."

The United States already has made many steps toward the achievement of a "Great Society." It also has taken a few backward steps, too — along the way. But from the time of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers, the splendid promise of the American dream has led us through wilderness toward the creation of a more durable and a more humane existence.

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

MRS. GEORGE G. WALKER
By DONIS BELLEVILLE
Children are plentiful at this time, moderately priced, and a boom in budgets that have been leached by lavish holiday spending.

There are hopeful promises that the goal of a "Great Society" is attainable. While we live in the most modern country of all, we also live in the most humanitarian country of all. Probably never have we been so plain each other than in the 20th century.

We've made more widows than any past generation. But we have also done more to cure disease, to ease the pain of the aged, and to improve knowledge, and distribute the fruits of our labor more equitably.

We haven't stood still. We have come a long way. Perhaps we have not come far enough to realize that no one land, no matter how strong, can easily remain forever as an island of prosperity in a vast sea of suffering poverty.

Our quest for the "Great Society" is not simple. It is a many-faceted quest by many people in many nations.

The trouble is that, as our capacity to make "Great Society" increases, so does our capacity to destroy them — through that very combination of acid and steel of the space age.

Three from New Record

This magic number doesn't refer to winning the Eastern Division championship. It refers to the Celtics' record in their first three games of the season. They have won all three.

The Celtics go after their 100th win tonight against the San Francisco Warriors in the second half of a National Basketball Association game and a half behind Chicago in the Eastern Division.

The Celtics scored 40 points in the first period to overwhelm the Bulls. Sam Jones scored 20 points, scored 10 in the second period, and finished with 35 points in the final 45 minutes.

Bill Russell got a big ovation for his performance although he had only 18 points. The Celtics scored on seven of his 14 shots during the first half of the season, hitting on three 12 to 20 from the foul line.

Carl Hohlen leads Manchester for scoring with 134 points for 14.8 per game average. Shooting from the corner with an on-again-off-again jumper, he had 10 points in the first half of the season, dropping his shooting percentage to 33.3 from the 41.7 of his first 10 games.
