Fire Destroys Landmark in Vernon Center

Herald Photographer Joseph Saternis was at the scene Saturday when fire destroyed the First Congregational Church of Vernon. He took the above shot as the steeple of the structure fell. The 139-year-old building burned to the ground but plans are already under way for the construction of a new church. (Story on page five.)

Pope Names 27 Cardinals; 103 Total Highest in History

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI named 27 new Roman Catholic cardinals today, including three from Communist lands and one from the United States. This raised the membership of the Sacred College to 108, the largest in history. Archbishop Lawrence Joseph Shehan of Baltimore, Md., was the only U.S. prelate among the new cardinals, the first named by Pope Paul since he became pontiff in June 1963. They will formally be elevated to the purple at a consistory Feb. 22. Pope Paul's nominations were in line with policies that have become evident in his reign. He has opened a dialogue with Communist countries while continuing to denounce Marxist ideology. Today he named the first three Roman Catholic cardinals from Communist countries since a 1953 consistory held by Pope Pius XII. One of the nominations was of Josef Beran of Prague, Czechoslovakia — a clear challenge to red officials who have restricted his activities. Other new cardinals are: Maurice Roy, archbishop of Quebec, Canada; Owen McCann, archbishop of Cape Town, South Africa; Lorenz Jaeger, of Rouen of Paderborn, Germany; Joseph Marie Martin, archbishop of Rouen, France; Franjo Saper, archbishop of Zagreb, Yugoslavia; John Heenan, archbishop of Westminster, England. Jean Villot, archbishop of

Lyon, France; William Conway, archbishop of Armagh, Ireland; Agnelo Rossi, archbishop of Sao Paulo, Brazil; Maximus IV Saigh, Melchite patriarch of Antioch; Paul Pierre Meouchi, Maronite patriarch of Antioch; Stephanos I Sidarous, Coptic patriarch of Alexandria; Josef Slipyi, archbishop of Lvov, Poland, and primate of Ukrainian Catholics; Thomas B. Cooray, archbishop of Colombo, Ceylon; Leon-Etienne Duval, archbishop of Algiers; archbishop Giovanni Colombo of Milan, Italy; Archbishop Ermesegildo Florit of Florence, Italy. Paul Zougrana, archbishop of Ouagadougou, Upper Volta; Enrico Dante, archbishop prelate of Salerno, Italy. (See Page Two)

Rioters Burn Home in Hue, Police Silent

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Rioting students in Hue were burning down houses of persons they described as "anti-nationalist" today. Among the first set ablaze was that of a regional police chief. Police and troops in the city 400 miles north of Saigon were not interfering. Demonstrations against the government of Premier Tran Van Huong were also reported in four other central Vietnamese cities. Saigon was an armed camp in preparation for threatened Buddhist suicides by fire. Buddhist youths and monks scuffled briefly with police and

troops. (See Page Four)

N.H. Trustees Delay Comment

HARTFORD (AP)—Trustees of the New Haven Railroad had no immediate comment today on criticisms made that their actions were "totally unmindful of the public interest."

The criticism, linked specifically to the trustees' announced plan to cut commuter service and eventually abandon all passenger service, was made in the Connecticut Transportation Authority's annual report to Gov. John Dempsey.

The report was written before Dempsey and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller announced their $20 million plan to save the railroad's commuter service.

The CTA said that while the trustees of the New Haven "are men of reputation, character and responsibility," they have been unable to reduce the operation deficits or the cash attrition of the railroad.

"Furthermore, the trustees have advanced no plan or program to the CTA which would solve all or part of the problems of the New Haven Railroad," the report said.

Henry W. Dorian, one of the trustees, said of the CTA report, "I do not want to make any comment at all concerning it at this time."

Richard J. Smith, another trustee, said he had not yet seen the report. "I wouldn't want to say anything about it until I've studied it," he said.

Borge Fund

STORRS (AP)—The Victor Borge Scholarship Fund at the University of Connecticut is being increased to $100,000 through a recent gift by the comic pianist, it was announced Sunday.

Borge offered his Southbury estate to UConn last fall but the university said it "could not commit itself in perpetuity to the use of the land."

Borge's latest gift makes the scholarship fund the largest in the state. (See Page Ten)

LBJ Much Improved, May Attend Funeral

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's physicians reported today that his condition has improved a great deal, a White House spokesman said late this morning.

But there was still no indication whether he would be able to carry out his stated desire to attend Sir Winston Churchill's funeral in London Saturday.

Nor was there any new information on how long the President would remain at Bethesda Naval Hospital fighting the remnants of a cold that hit Friday afternoon and put him in the hospital early Saturday.

David Waters, an assistant White House press secretary, said that since a 3 a.m. temperature reading of 99.2, subsequent checks of the President have shown normal readings. Waters, reporting on Johnson's condition, said that the doctors characterize his condition as having improved "a great deal."

Two and a half hours before the word was that the President's condition was quite good and that temperature readings during the night were below 100 but above normal.

Waters said a series of routine tests were made between 8 and 10 p.m. (See Page Seventeen)

Parliament Meets with Empty Seat

LONDON (AP)—Parliament met today — leaving Sir Winston Churchill's old seat empty — and approved Queen Elizabeth's request that the nation give the beloved elder statesman all the magnificence of a state funeral he planned for himself.

The empty green leather seat which Sir Winston occupied in the last session of Parliament was the only vacant place in the packed House of Commons.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson stood on the spot where Churchill stood for so many years as prime minister and said:

"As Parliament succeeded Parliament he stood at this box at one time or another holding almost every one of the great offices of state."

Wilson referred to the battered dispatch box that always sits on the table before prime ministers.

"And he stood at the box opposite," Wilson said, "thundering denunciation of government after government."

That reference was to another dispatch box which sits on the other side of the table before leaders of the opposition.

Wilson heads Britain's governing Labor party. Churchill was one of the Conservative party's greatest leaders.

"Sir Winston, following the steps of the most honored of his predecessors, derived his greatness from and through this House," Wilson said.

The House and the galleries — with most members in black ties, the women in dark somber clothes — hung on his words.

Churchill "added his unique contribution to the greatness of our centuries-old parliamentary institution," Wilson said.

To the hushed House of Lords, the Earl of Longford, leader of that house, said:

"Sir Winston was a House of Commons man, and it was his desire to spend his whole parliamentary life in that House."

"We in the House of Lords have, nonetheless, the duty and privilege of paying tribute to Sir Winston Churchill as a national leader and world statesman — and may I add — illustrious leader of the Conservative party."

It was a generous tribute from an old Laborite opponent. (See Page Ten)

Johnson Asks $99.7 Billion

(figures in billions)
Spending	$97,481,899,867
Income	91,200,94,400

Debt at year-end	316,000,322,500

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson told Congress today the first year of his "Great Society" will cost the nation a record $99.7 billion.

The President's budget message for fiscal 1966 — which he hinted may be the last U.S. budget below $100 billion — called for:

— A $1.75-billion cut in excise taxes, without naming those to be reduced or repealed.

— A $2.1-billion increase in all Social Security cash benefits this year, amounting to 7 per cent on the average, but followed by a steep rise in the payroll tax next year.

— Hospital care for aged persons — perhaps 19 million citizens — with the taxpayers footing the bill for those not covered by Social Security. This would start in mid-1966.

— Quadrupled spending in the war on poverty.

and the principal tool for building a Great Society.

He estimated that government revenues would total $94.4 billion, also a record. This would mean a $3.2-billion rise in tax collections from 1964 to 1965, generated by an unprecedented fifth consecutive year of strong business expansion.

The President predicted a record prosperity for this calendar year — a prosperity with these dimensions:

— National output at $60 billion, a gain of nearly $33 billion; corporation profits at $61 billion, up nearly $4 billion; personal incomes rising to $50 billion, up 8 per cent.

The word "frugal," used repeatedly in last year's budget message, did not appear in this one. The new budget, said Johnson, is one of "both opportunity and sacrifice"; he went on:

"It begins to grasp the opportunities of the Great Society. It is restrained by the sacrifices we must continue to make to keep our defenses strong and flexible."

"This budget provides reasonably for our needs. It is not extravagant. Neither is it miserly."

But the cost-cutting and pay-roll-paring emphasis of a year ago was diluted, in today's message, by what Johnson called "the rising need for more public and private services" resulting from an increasing population, growing incomes and changing ways of life.

The budget provides, in fact, for a 1 per cent increase in the number of civilian employees.

"It is evident," Johnson conceded, "that unless defenses needs should dole out substantially, government expenditures will continue to rise over the long run."

But the costs will rise less rapidly than the nation's ability to meet them, Johnson said.

Despite the 1966 increase, he said, federal spending will decline in relation to the Gross National Product — "to less than 15 per cent, the lowest ratio achieved in 15 years."

Nevertheless the federal debt will stand at an historic peak of $322.5 billion when the fiscal year has closed. Johnson served notice he will ask another increase in the debt ceiling fixed by Congress.

These were among the highlights of the message:

— Spending would be reduced to $49 billion from $49.3 billion. Yet Americans, he said, can be sure they will have "a massive defense establishment of steadily growing power, within reduced outlays."

— Total administrative budget expenditures are being held to $9.7 billion in 1966. Although expenditures will rise they will decline as a per cent of the Gross National Product — "to less than 15 per cent, the lowest ratio achieved in 15 years."

— Our international and space programs are being advanced at a satisfactory rate, but with smaller increases than in earlier years.

— A large part of the funds for needed program expansion has come from savings, reductions and economies in other parts of the budget.

— On a consolidated cash basis, total payments to the public are estimated at $174 billion in 1966. Total receipts are estimated at $123.5 billion, resulting in

40 More Cadets May Be Leaving U.S. Air Academy

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP)—It was reported that 40 more cadets were leaving the U.S. Air Force Academy today as a result of the widening cheating scandal.

The report came from a responsible source although it was confirmed by the Public Information Office.

The Air Force has said more than 100 cadets may be involved before the investigation is ended.

A special investigative board called to the academy interviewed cadets in streams today, with reports 700 of the more than 2,500 in the wing may be questioned.

Col. Richard Haney, chief of public information, was closeted much of the morning with Maj. Gen. Robert H. Warren, academy superintendent. Haney said

CHURCHILL ESTATE
LONDON (AP)—A friend of Sir Winston Churchill said today the size of his estate might come as a surprise. He is reported to have made at least a million pounds—$2.5 million—from his writings. A film of his life and recordings of his speeches brought additional money. The friend said that nearly all the big money he made from his books went to a trust fund for his grandchildren.

HIGH GREETED
TUSCON, Ariz. (AP)—Hundreds gathered today to tell the Johnson administration's "war on poverty" leaders of the need for federal aid to raise "living standards in the Southwest. A cheering crowd welcomed Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey at the airport, and up to 50 were expected to hear his address tonight.

The Nonpareil

The terrific power and majesty of Winston Churchill seem larger than ever, now that the obstinate flesh is still the imperious will to quest, the questioning, adventurous mind at rest, the somewhat awkward and wrong-gaited shambles of a man, nursed in a combination of democratic political institutions and the traditions of a monarch, the concept of public service, became the most imperial figure of his time.

With his political traditions, and his obligations as a member of the ruling class, and the rhetoric he inherited and parlayed from all the civilized resources of human speech, before him, he sustained himself as the messenger and weapon of the gods, the instrument of epiphanies.

It was the man to defy Hitler, to lead, to fire the souls and the muscles of the common people of his country, and of much of the free world, to play all the roles which seemed to him necessary in order to accomplish the defeat of a power which challenged Britain. The fact that the power challenge Britain also represented a modern barbarian made his task more urgent, and a little easier.

But Sir Winston was never in much doubt as to what he was doing. He was fighting on the continent for Britain, as his ancestor Duke of Marlborough had done before him.

To win such a battle, to preside with and masterful, over the strange business of a man who was a battle to bring all the guns finally to bear on a battered enemy—this was magnificent accomplishment enough for one man.

It is impossible, when evaluating the life contribution of such a man, to escape wondering whether he was not really some kind of wonder, not some easily comprehensible, man, like his slightly younger but contemporary in France, President de Gaulle, one cannot touch for nation and history, and one could have done, but who subsequently proved disappointing and inadequate in his ideas of how the world should be rebuilt, to save it from the need for future Churchill and de Gaulles.

But if the world remains such an imperfect world it seems days another help who combines will and fearlessness with heart and tongue and a necessary gift of romanticism, that there can be no greater model for a future human answer to such a need than that of Winston Spencer Churchill, the nonpareil.

Unplanned Storms Are Best

The weekend just past demonstrated how nice it can be to have unplanned storms. The weather was just what was needed to bring the winter back to life.

It seemed to us that this inverse ratio—the amount of prediction and alarm and the amount of snow had been almost precisely interchanged between the two weekends—worked itself out peacefully through the whole duration of the storm. People stayed off the roads just as much as they could.

And when people woke up, on the first morning of the storm, they found themselves in a world of snow. They were much more cheerful over having some common problem to face and overcome, like children, than they were when they had been, the week before, over discovering the storm hadn't done anything to them after all.

It was all a demonstration of how nice it can be, what fun it can be, when it happens to us instead of trying to anticipate and react to its very fury before it even begins to arrive. It was a fine snowstorm, beautifully predicted, and now that the perfect proportion of snow and prediction has finally been achieved, perhaps we can have one clear weekend this winter?

Weatherman Against Sunday Golf
Sunday golfers for a long time have known that if it rains on Sunday, it always rains on the week ends. Millions of plinkers, week-end sailors, and mountain climbers are disappointed. However, there hasn't been any scientific data to support their claims. It just seemed that way.

U.S. Weather Bureau, retired chief of the service, says that San Diego, Calif., has come up with figures to support the golfer's claim. In San Diego, it rains on Sunday 18.6 per cent of the time, and on the week ends 18.6 per cent of the time. Mr. Dierke's study of the San Diego area, which receives around 30 inches of rain annually.

Records of the Weather Bureau during the five years, 1959-1963, indicate that the probability of rain on the weekend than on any other days of the week. Mr. Dierke's study of the San Diego area, which receives around 30 inches of rain annually.

The task of seeing to it that Churchill had help in the House of Commons. Churchill was old and gone and he tripped down the gangway, gathering up his coat and hat. He walked with him and all of the people to get back and leave him alone and Langford-Holt Commons looked away. They did not want to see it and Winston Churchill ever fall down in their presence.

"I hated it," Langford-Holt was saying. "Here we are, in significant people who never led or could hope to lead his life, and we were being patronized to him. It simply was not right. Now this is no eulogy to the man. He was a great man, a human being, but he was wrong many times and he was obstinate and temperful, but he was great and we are grateful."

Inside Report

Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak
WASHINGTON — The bitter-to-undisturbed story of one company's troubles in collecting an unpaid bill from the Republican party is a cloud over the entire, crazy - quite financing of the Goldwater campaign.

A full audit of the Goldwater campaign (demanded earlier by Pennsylvania's Sen. Hugh Scott) may be in order. But with the campaign's bookkeepers now scattered to the four winds, a full accounting may be impossible.

Based on conversations with several Goldwater campaign officials, however, we can report the bizarre details of how the Republican National Committee handled one of its biggest stumbles. Like the Goldwater campaign itself, the story begins in extravagant optimism, devolves into chastened realism, and ends in utter confusion.

In its euphoric mood after Sen. Goldwater's election, the committee had a three-man group working on details for Churchill's death for some time now. Yesterday, with the death a fact, there was more to do. The U.S. is to show its respect, as it never has shown them for a foreigner before, at the funeral of Sir Winston Churchill on Saturday.

In a big wood-paneled living room at the apartment on Eaton Place St. John Langford-Holt heard the news on the radio and looked down at a moment and then he told his wife he wanted to go to church immediately.

"I'm almost thankful it is over for him," Langford-Holt said. For the last two years, Langford-Holt, a Tory MP, was assigned, by silent agreement, to see John Novak.

Well, replied the National Committee, how about 80 cents on the dollar? Apparently to avoid long, expensive litigation, McGraw-Hill accepted.

Manuscript Editor: The National Committee asked McGraw-Hill to submit a completely new bill for $20,000 (plus some $100 in shipping costs).

At long last in December McGraw-Hill got its money—five months late and $10,000 light. Although political organizations have never been glittering credit risks, the Republican National Committee had hit a new low.

Budget Includes Area Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—These appropriations for navigation, flood control, power, reclamation, water storage and beach erosion projects were asked today by President Johnson for the year starting July 1.

Planning: Anolis, Derby, $22,000; Mytic, $60,000; New London, $170,000. Surveys: Coastal rivers, Conn., Mass., N.H., R.I. and Maine, $50,000; Connecticut River, Hartford to Holyoke, $27,000; New London, $110,000; Thames River, $15,000. Operation and maintenance, $1,000,000.

As a result, anyone earning $30,000 or more would pay $23 in Social Security tax instead of the $17 he now pays. The risk would be reduced to about 10 percent for many people it could nullify the savings on income tax.

The Language Of The Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here's a quick course in the language of the budget, with fiscal terms translated into plain English.

Appropriation — Authority for a federal agency to spend or lend, for a stated purpose and up to a stated amount.

Authorization, or contract authorization — Authority for an agency to sign a contract to buy goods or services. A later appropriation must be passed before the money actually can be paid.

Expenditures — Checks actually written and cash actually paid. Expenditures not authorized by Congress for a federal agency to spend or lend, for a stated purpose and up to a stated amount.

Foot of Snow Falls, Many Crashes Result

Except for the closing of schools, it was "business as usual" for Manchester residents today after a weekend of snow, freezing rain and sleet that resulted in an accumulation of 12 inches of snow and one inch of rain in a 48-hour period.

It was the fourth weekend in a row, and the sixth since Dec. 6, on which four or more inches of snow have fallen locally. On the intervening weekends, it had rained, snowed, or sleeted.

Snow accumulation since Dec. 19 amounts to approximately 7 1/2 inches, still far to go to reach the 12 inches that fell during all of last winter.

The town highway department utilized the services of about 50 men and 25 vehicles on the snow removal operation. The snow was piled up to a maximum of 12 inches, still far to go to reach the 12 inches that fell during all of last winter.

Exams Schedule

One of the fondest dreams of a student came true today when mid-year exams at the high school had to be postponed because of the storm this weekend.

Today was to have been the first day of the four-day exam stretch, but there is no school today. However the respite is only brief.

A. Raymond Rogers, principal of the high school, announced today that the complete exam schedule for Manchester High and Manchester Vocational schools will be postponed one day.

The schedule now reads: Monday's exams on Wednesday, Tuesday's exams on Thursday, and Thursday's exams on Friday.

12th Circuit Court Cases

MANCHESTER SESSION

Judge Eileen Cohen opened this morning's session with a brief review to the members of the late Winston Churchill, reciting the British leader's epitaph as he presided over the trial of a man charged with making his way through the snow-covered streets and highways, covering the ground and sidewalks with a depth of up to an inch and a half.

The judge praised the 30 man snow crew and their equipment as well as the snow removal trucks that were working hard to clear the streets and highways, covering the ground and sidewalks with a depth of up to an inch and a half.
