Wonders of the Universe Artificial Meteors Planned To Reveal Space Hazards

By DR. I. M. LEVITT,
Director
The Franklin Institute
Experiments to be undertaken shortly may resolve one of the more serious problems scientists have encountered in taking a census of the particles in space. These particles can form cosmic bullets to wreck spacecraft traveling through interplanetary space. For this reason, scientists would very much like to know the physical characteristics of these particles which may assess the dangers.

The Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. has been awarded a contract by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to undertake a meteor simulation program. The objective will be to develop advanced shaped charges that will accelerate to sizes comparable to velocities in excess of 30,000 miles per hour. These can be used as artificial meteors or "shooting stars" to determine the characteristics of these particles in space. This work will be but a part of an extensive program in this area of research.

Andrew R. Wineman, head of the Meteor Physics Section of NASA's Langley Research Center, indicates that in this type of research, meteor scientists will be able to measure the size, shape and composition of the particles. These meteors will be made of a material which is known to be of the same composition as the natural meteorites. The artificial meteor will be designed to simulate the size and shape of the natural meteorite. The artificial meteor
will be made of a material
which is known to be of the same composition as the natural meteorites. The artificial meteor will be designed to simulate the size and shape of the natural meteorite.

Defining Public Purpose
To the Editor:
One of the pleasures of living in Manchester is that of being able to observe at close range the maneuvering that can be and usually is done by the town Board of Directors. During the last couple of months we have been treated to a very entertaining if not a very amusing show of politics. We have been afforded the pleasure of observing the actions of the various members of the Board in their handling of the Keeney Street sewer project. The way in which they started out to solve it by the use of a sewer line which had been followed when other sewer lines were laid. However, the sewer line was put upon the Keeney Street project and the sewer line was put upon the Keeney Street project and the sewer line was put upon the Keeney Street project.

Rep. Rhodes Top Choice For GOP Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless there is a sudden change of mood and plot, House Republicans appear ready on Tuesday to fill the seat opening in the congressional leadership with conservative Rep. John J. Rhodes of Arizona.

Chairman of the policy committee — has been left dangling for weeks neither ready to accept the nomination nor to decline it. He is waiting to see what happens. He is waiting to see what happens. He is waiting to see what happens.

Man Charged With Setting Many Fires

A report developed in the Northeast Refuse Disposal District (NRDD), when four of Manchester's five representatives last night voted "aye" to a resolution that a special enabling act be submitted to the State Legislature.

The proposal carried six to four, however, and the bill will be introduced to Steve Cavanaugh, one of Manchester's two state representatives.

Town Director Francis DeLara voted with the majority. The other three towns, Vernon, South Windsor and Bolton) combined.

They had proposed a plan of representation based on population. The bill would give Manchester only five of the 12 representatives on the district board.

NRDD Group Not in Accord On Clauses of Enabling Act

A report developed in the Northeast Refuse Disposal District (NRDD), when four of Manchester's five representatives last night voted "aye" to a resolution that a special enabling act be submitted to the State Legislature.

The proposal carried six to four, however, and the bill will be introduced to Steve Cavanaugh, one of Manchester's two state representatives.

Town Director Francis DeLara voted with the majority. The other three towns, Vernon, South Windsor and Bolton) combined.

This is a hard and proud industry: it's made up of men willing to work hard and who aren't afraid to get their hands dirty. Sometimes, even sons of most dealers themselves want nothing to do with this business — they don't see any glamor in it. These were some feelings expressed about their chosen field of meat packing and retailing by the owners of the recently opened Western Beef Mart at 61 Tolland Pike (Route 83). Frank S. Bugnacki Jr. (right) and Thomas H. Bugnacki, brothers, and both residents of Manchester, started the wholesale meat business five years ago in Manchester, now operating the Silk City Packing Co. on Birch Mt. Rd. as well as their retail outlet, The Beef Mart, which imports meat directly from the West, is still in expansion to handle a growing freezer business. (Herald photo by Oflara.)

TV Notebook

By JOAN CROSBY
NEW YORK (NEA)—Hey, there, John Donne, who said "no man is an island." Meet Peter Lind Hayes, who is trying to be one.

Peter, host of CBS-TV's Sunday afternoon Alumni Fun, is undoubtedly the only man in history to buy his island from his boss.

Peter's Pebble, as he calls his island in Long Island Sound, was originally called Little Pea Island, perhaps because when the tide is in the acre of land is reduced to only 125 square feet. It was purchased by CBS, where for years it housed a radio tower and provided a landmark for navigators.

"When you saw that CBS tower on a boat trip down from New England," Peter said, "you knew you were home."

Great for Webbed Feet
When CBS moved its radio tower to City Island, Peter bought Little Pea. Besides one barren island that is "great if you have webbed feet and is a seagull's paradise," he got a building with living quarters, a 28-foot cabin cruiser, 60 feet of waterfront property and a 17-ton tugboat that draws six feet of water.

Peter's lovely wife, Mary Healy, who has been sailing unceasingly with him for the 24 years they have been married, feels secure on the water for the first time in that tug, Peter says. "We are the Ms and Mr Kettle of Westchester in that thing."

What Peter's Pebble will look like in the future is dreamland stuff.

"This could be the most beautiful thing anywhere near New York City. I can just see our Alumni Fun sponsor (American Cyanamid) building a Formica house on the island, with a roaring fireplace and picture windows that look West." Whether the sponsor shares this insular dream is uncertain.

Drawbridge Planned
There is a beautifully constructed basement on the island, and four cement blocks that do not fill any urgent need in Hayes' life. Each consists of a quarter-million tons of cement. They were used to hold the radio tower.

If Peter should decide to secede from the union and form his own country, the blocks could hold the machine gun towers.

"We don't have a moat, but I do plan a drawbridge, which will be raised at all times."

"And I might revive a most dangerous game," Peter said, warning to the dream, "of short-circuiting Execution Light and having ships pile on the rocks where my friends and I could plunder them."

"I also plan to knight people and sell titles. When all my friends have been invested, then I will call a Pebbleite."

ON BROADWAY
William Shatner, star of "For the People," starred on Broadway with Julie Harris in the long-running play, "A Shot in the Dark."

IN VAUDEVILLE
Peter Lind Hayes, host of "Alumni Fun," began working in vaudeville at the age of nine with his mother, Grace Hayes, a variety headliner.

Dancers revel in a scene from Monday's telecast of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella."

Cinderella Story—Set to Music

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cinderella story is a journalistic cliché beloved by generations of reporters and, particularly, press agents: The understudy who finally went on and wowed the audience; the singer in the chorus who took on "Lucia di Lammermoor" on five minutes notice and had the critics standing and yelling.

In this context, the story of Lesley Ann Warren is the classic. She is the Cinderella-girl of "Cinderella" itself, a really unknown young dancer-singer who almost a year ago was chosen by Richard Rodgers to play the title role in the new, rewritten production of the old fairy tale. It will be seen on CBS next Monday night.

In one way, Lesley Ann's recent history has been more that of "The Sleeping Princess" than "Cinderella." Rodgers' 90-minute musical was taped way back last October. Since then the young New Yorker has been patiently awaiting discovery — by playing in the national company of "110 in the Shade."

In fact, on the night television audiences will be seeing the young woman for the first time, she will be playing her featured part in a Toronto theater, presumably with her fingers crossed.

The slender, graceful performer was auditioned by Rodgers twice. The first time she tried to sing "My Funny Valentine," but was so tense that the gentle Rodgers suggested she read lines instead. Called back,

TV Housewives

No Place for Housework In Mary Tyler Moore's Life

By DICK KLEINER

Hollywood —(NEA)— Most of the actresses who play television's glamorous housewives claim to be partial, in varying degrees, to the life of a typical American homemaker. But not Mary Tyler Moore.

"I couldn't be happy living Laura's life," says Mary. Laura is the wife of Rob Petrie on the Dick Van Dyke Show.

"There really is not much similarity between me and Laura. She's just a housewife. I work. If I wasn't an actress, I'd have to be doing something else—I'd go to school or I'd be a nurse, but I'd do something."

Mary, who is Mrs. Grant Tinker when she isn't Mrs. Rob Petrie, isn't against marriage, just housework for herself.

"I don't like housework," she says, making an ugly face, which is difficult when you start out with a gorgeous one like she has.

"The repetition makes it so deadly, although for therapy there's nothing better than getting down on your hands and knees and scrubbing a floor. You forget all your troubles and everything, except getting that floor clean."

Cooking?
"I don't like that, either," she says. "But I do make the very best breakfasts in the world—I make the greatest fried eggs—and I am a whiz with melted cheese sandwiches. And I have a main dish I call Poor Man's Beef Stroganoff (see box) which I like because it's quick and easy. That's what I make when I have to make something."

There are at least two other areas of dissimilarity between the actress and her television self.

"Rob, the character Dick Van Dyke plays," she says, "is a nice, pliable man. My Grant isn't. It's not that he's a tyrant but he has the last word. Another thing—the Petries have a regular household. I mean Rob gets home at the same time each night and the family eats dinner together. The Tinkers are lucky if we eat together three times a week."

No one can answer for Laura Petrie, of course, but Mary admits to complete bliss with her lot.

"Everything I want I have," she says. "I am a career girl—I'm not one of those accidental actresses. I always wanted this kind of a career and this kind of a life."

"And, actually, I feel that this kind of life is better for everyone, including my children. When I get home at night, I want to see my son. I want to spend some time with him, to play with him and be with him. I haven't been knocking myself out all day, picking up after him."

"I think we're all happier and better adjusted because I work."

Mary Tyler Moore certainly looks happier and better adjusted than many a housewife. Whatever it is, something agrees with her.

Evening Soap, Daytime Change

NEW YORK—CBS reportedly will follow ABC's "Peyton Place" lead by starting an evening soap opera within the next three or four months. Plans are to take the character of Lisa Hughes from "As the World Turns," the most popular show in daytime television and build a new twice weekly evening show around her.

Before this trend for nighttime serials is over, we may be wishing television had stuck to Westerns and cops and robbers. At least they had a climax to each story.

NBC will be rejuggling its day-time schedules around a bit on March 29. "Say When," a panel show, will disappear, but another panel show, "Call My Bluff," will replace it.

Rudy Vallee is again host for CBS' "On Broadway Tonight" on Thursdays 9-10 p.m.

Cinderella— Set to Music

she felt more secure and, out of all the hundreds of applicants was chosen.

"Cinderella" was originally produced and broadcast several years ago for CBS and for a time held the all-time record for the estimated size of its audience. But Rodgers was not happy with his work, and changed it from broad farce to the delicate mood of a classic fairy tale.

The 90-minute special will include plenty of Rodgers music, including one song written for "South Pacific" but cut out when the show ran too long.

Lesley Ann, in her early 20s, has her eye on a film career. She has been offered several contracts, but thinks she would rather wait until just the right part comes along. The right part, obviously, will be one also suited to Audrey Hepburn, whom Lesley Ann resembles in face, figure and voice.

LUCY RETURNS

NEW YORK (AP) — Lucille Ball, to nobody's surprise, will return to CBS for another season. The big question is who will play her comedy partner now that Vivian Vance wants to take life easier. She works well with Ann Sothern, but Miss Sothern is sewed up to play the voice of an ancient auto in an NBC comedy series, "My Mother, the Car," which seems to be a sort of joint spin-off of "Bewitched" and "Mr. Ed."

College of Cardinals At Record High 103

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI created 27 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church today, bringing the membership of the College of Cardinals to an all-time high of 103.

Creation of the new cardinals— including three from Communist nations, three Middle East patriarchs and prelates from the Americas, Africa and Asia— gave the college its widest international representation. Forty-one countries are now represented.

For the formal creation of the 27 new cardinals, Pope Paul and 26 members of the college met in the Apostolic Palace's Consistorial Hall. The Pope announced nomination of the 27 on Jan. 25, but approval of the other cardinals was required.

The 27 were the first cardinals he has named in his 20-month-old reign. He has said he will name more after the Vatican Ecumenical Council ends later this year.

After the secret consistory, papal messengers fanned out across Rome to give formal notification to 26 of the new prelates waiting at four Catholic establishments in the city.

One group, at the North American Pontifical College, included two new cardinals from North America— Archbishop Lawrence Shehan of Baltimore and Maurice Roy of Quebec.

The three cardinals from Communist lands are Archbishop Franjo Šeper of Zagreb, Yugoslavia, and Josef Bernan of Prague, Czechoslovakia, and Josef Šlipý, primate of Ukrainian Catholics.

Archbishop Beran came to Rome last Friday after 16 years of confinement in Czechoslovakia. He will remain in Rome. Archbishop Šlipý has been living in Rome since he was released from confinement in Siberia two years ago.

They were the first prelates from Communist lands to be made cardinals since 1853. The 27th new cardinal, Bishop Angel Herrera y Oria of Malaga, Spain, was not in Rome. In accordance with the tradition for Catholic countries, he will receive his insignia from the Spanish chief of state, Generalissimo Franco.

Also among the new cardinals were three Middle East patriarchs and the second Negro elevated to the college, Archbishop Paul Zoungnan of Upper Volta. The patriarchs are Maximus IV Saigh, Melchite Patriarch of Antioch; Paul Pierre Meouchi, Maronite Patriarch of Antioch; and Stephanos I Sidarous, Coptic patriarch of Alexandria.

The wide geography of the Pope's choices emphasized his expressed desire to internationalize the highest bodies of the world's largest Christian church.

For the creation of his first cardinal, Pope Paul also decreed a series of changes that broke with precedent.

The traditional week-long round of ceremonies and pomp was drastically reduced and streamlined.

One of the chief ceremonies of the consistory, the conferring of the broad-brimmed red galero hat which cardinals never wear, was eliminated entirely.

Alabama's Racial Fight In 6th Week

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Alabama's racial conflict, described by a Negro leader as the last stand for white supremacy, moved into its sixth week today after another plea for racial talks.

Returning to join the drive aimed at registering Negro voters was Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner who triggered the massive campaign last Jan. 18.

Arrests have mounted to more than 3,000 in Selma and nearby Marion where a Thursday night march by Negroes brought violence, leaving eight persons injured— including a Negro man wounded by gunfire.

"This is it," grimly warned a Ku Klux Klansman, Hosea Williams of Savannah, Ga., at a news conference during a church meeting Sunday night. "This is the last stand for white supremacy."

Williams said applications for a parade permit had been mailed to the City Council. Mayor Joseph T. Smithman said earlier, however, he had received no request and would not grant a permit for any type of procession.

Williams said more federal legislation was needed to assure Negroes the right to vote. He

Police Fear Revenge For Malcolm X Death

NEW YORK (AP)—Police in New York and Chicago kept wary guard today against any effort to avenge the assassination of Malcolm X, fiery counselor of violence in the Negro civil rights movement.

The rebel Black Muslim, who broke from the parent group to form his own sect, was shot down by conspirators here Sunday as he stepped forward to address a meeting of his followers.

Police seized a young Negro man, wounded in the leg during the disorder caused by the slaying, and charged him with homicide.

The FBI identified the man as Thomas Hayer, 22, alias known address was 347 Marshall St., Patterson, N.J.

Other persons were sought in the plot police described as an apparent outgrowth of the 15-month feud between Malcolm X and the Black Muslims headed by Elijah Muhammad in Chicago.

Police, however, did not report any evidence of a link between the assassins and Muhammad's faithful.

In Chicago, special police details were posted outside Muhammad's three-story house and Mosque of Islam No. 2 in the wake of unconfirmed reports that six members of Malcolm's Afro-American Union had departed from New York on separate missions of revenge.

In Harlem, extra uniformed officers walked the streets on guard against any new violence.

The murder came exactly a week after Malcolm X and his family were driven from their residence in Queens by fire bombs. He was being evicted from the dwelling which was purchased by Black Muslim donations before his break with Muhammad.

For months, Malcolm had spoken of a conspiracy against his life and he reportedly planned to name his assassins at the meeting Sunday. But the blast from shotguns and pistols cut him down after three words: "Brothers and sisters."

The man who advised Negroes to form rifle clubs to fight the "devil white man" for civil rights, to use "ballots or bullets" apparently was dead before his body hit the floor.

It was he who had spoken of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy as a case of the "chickens coming home to roost."

Washington's New 'Image' Seen Warmer

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Pa. (AP)—That widely held impression of George Washington as a cold fish is at last giving way to a more human and appealing image, a historian said today.

Ann Hawkes Hutton, author of several books and a play about Washington, and chairman of the Washington Crossing Park Commission, said that more and more Americans are finding unexpected warmth in the personality of the father of his country.

For a long time, she said in an interview, Washington has been overshadowed in the popular imagination by the heart and humor of Abraham Lincoln, the dash of Andrew Jackson, the sophistication of Thomas Jefferson.

"The usual thing," Mrs. Hutton continued, "was to call Washington a great man and let it go at that. Great, but touching no sympathetic chord."

"Now, however, Americans finally are discarding those time-worn ideas of Washington as forbiddingly aloof, coldly remote, a legendary figure rather than one of life and blood, who suffered a cuttely, who knew what it meant to be hard up and in debt, who was as sensitive as most men to criticism, who was fond of children and grieved that he had none of his own, and had his share of faults."

"Every year we welcome thousands of visitors to this shrine," she said. "They come from all the states and dozens of other countries. They have been telling us the last few years how much more they appreciate the character of Washington, and that they feel he has been misunderstood."

"This is true even among grade school children. Many of these ask keen questions, far removed from that 'Father, I cannot tell a lie' tale, which probably has alienated more people than it has pleased."

Mrs. Hutton said she had studied attendance records at this and other favorite Washington shrines at Verano, Virginia, Valley Forge, Pa., and the Washington Monument in the nation's capital—and found increases up to about six per

Richard Leche Dies, Was Huey Long Aide

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Richard W. Leche, who was governor at the time of the Louisiana scandals in the late 1930s and early 40s died today.

A lieutenant of the late Sen. Huey P. Long, D-La., Leche was elected governor by a landslide in 1938. He resigned the office three years later and went to federal prison for mail fraud.

Leche was pardoned in 1963 by then President Harry S. Truman and returned to New Orleans to practice law.

He told an interviewer recently, "I have no animosities whatsoever. I'm thoroughly enjoying watching the parade."

Services will be held Tuesday at the House of Bultman Funeral Home with burial in Melairie Cemetery.

Survivors include the widow; two sons, Richard W. Leche Jr. of Houston, Tex., and Charles

British Slash Surcharge From 15 to 10 Per Cent

LONDON (AP)—The British government today cut from 15 to 10 per cent its controversial import surcharge, effective April 27.

The announcement was made in the House of Commons by Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan. A similar announcement was made in Geneva by Economic Minister George Brown to Britain's trading partners in the European Free Trade Area.

"We have now decided that enough progress is being made to enable us to reduce the charge after it has been in operation for six months," Callaghan said.

The members of the association—Europe's "Outer Seven"—have complained about the surcharge, installed by the Labor government last fall to cut imports and reduce the trade deficit.

Edward Heath, Conservative spokesman on financial affairs, asked why the reduction was being delayed until April. He said it gave a clear indication to importers that if they held up shipments for two months, their duties would be lower—and a rush of imports would follow. The reduction, he said, is "an unhappy compromise."

Callaghan replied that exports had risen 2.3 per cent and this indicates the way the economy is moving. He said it will also "enable us to say to our trading allies that we shall be in a position in April to put reduction into effect without adverse effect on the balance of payments."

But he added it would be a "long haul" before the country overcomes the deficit of $2 billion amassed last year.

In Geneva, Britain's EFTA partners warmly welcomed the announcement.

Trade Minister Gunnar Lange of Sweden said the cut was a "sign of success" for the British economy. Others said the announcement meant the trade group could proceed once again in unity.

'Colonial Militiamen' Return to Valley Forge

Well, it's not really Colonial Militia, but this troop of hardy warriors tramped over the Valley Forge parade ground this weekend just as the men of Washington did in the winter of 1777-78. They are really Boy Scouts participating in the 52nd annual Winter Encampment and Pilgrimage of Valley Forge Council, BSA, in tribute to George Washington and his Continental Army.

Man Lives 79 Hours Under Ice

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP)—Einar Myllyla is partly frozen—but alive.

He lived for 79 hours under an avalanche of snow and crushed buildings at the devastated Granduc mining camp in northwest British Columbia.

A Finnish construction worker in his 30s Myllyla is one of 130 miners who survived Thursday's giant slide off Le Duc Glacier near the Canadian-Alaska border. He was pulled from the ruins of a bunkhouse by rescuers Sunday afternoon, then hospitalized at Ketchikan. He was reported partly frozen and in serious condition.

Searchers continued to probe acres of ice and snow on the precarious mountainside for more men. So far 14 bodies have been recovered. At least 13 are missing.

Continuing heavy snowfall, darkness and threat of more slides hampered tired rescue crews. The finding of Myllyla renewed hopes that still more might be found alive.

Long Distance Talks New Viet Nam Junta Seeks Khanh Ouster

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam's new junta negotiated long distance with Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh today as it tried to carry through its ouster of the armed forces chief and get him out of the country.

Three members of the Armed Forces Council were reported back from Dalat where they have been dickered with the former strong man. There was speculation that they offered Khanh a post abroad to get him to agree to leave South Viet Nam.

Military leaders in Saigon had announced that Khanh had agreed to step down but said later he had asked to meet with a full session of the Armed Forces Council to discuss his future.

One report said Brig. Gen. Nguyen Khanh Thi, impatient with Khanh's stalling, had threatened to drop paratroops in the Dalat area 200 miles northwest of Saigon.

New military activity around Saigon Airport kept tension up. Unconfirmed reports circulated that the "Young Turk" generals who toppled Khanh had already begun squabbling. One report said the 1st Corps commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, and the air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, were contending for power.

The military leaders conferred throughout the night behind barricades at the Saigon airport. The airport was reopened to traffic at dawn, but at noon troops loaded anti-aircraft guns around the airport headquarters building and drew up recoilless rifles at entrances to the field, indicating that the crisis was not over.

An unconfirmed report said the 8th Cavalry unit of about 40 tanks might still be loyal to Khanh.

Despite all the alarms and threats, there had been no shooting since the latest upheaval began Friday.

The generals of the Armed Forces Council decided to oust Khanh after crushing an attempted coup against him Friday. Sunday they stripped him of his title of commander in chief, named Maj. Gen. Tran Van Minh "temporary acting chairman" of the council, or chief of the armed forces, and voted to send Khanh into exile.

Khanh, who had held power for 13 months, flew to Dalat Saturday to try to muster support but his plane ran out of gas there. Apparently fearing an attack by Khanh's followers, the members of the council barricaded themselves inside the airport and conferred among themselves and with American advisers.

Ky, the air force commander, ordered fighter-bombers to circle the area in search of partisans of Khanh who were reported readying a tank attack on the airport.

U.S. Air Force Brig. Gen. Robert Rowland, who has mediated previous disputes, persuaded Ky to refrain from any bombing.

So far the civilian government of Premier Phan Huy Quat did not appear to be affected by the military maneuvering.

Gen. Minh, the new armed forces commander, is known as Little Minh to distinguish him from Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, or Big Minh, who led the coup that overthrew President

MOSCOW PROTEST—The Soviet Union protested to the United States today against what it called "impermissible and dangerous actions of U.S. warships and aircraft against Soviet ships on the high seas." A protest note was delivered to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow demanding that the U.S. government "take the necessary steps to prevent any such actions in the future."

AIR AGREEMENT—A preliminary agreement on commercial flights between Rome and Moscow was signed here today by a Soviet delegation headed by Pavel Kuznetsov and an Italian civil aviation delegation headed by Gen. Felice Santali. The agreement, which must be ratified by the two governments, provides for regular flights between Rome and Moscow by the Soviet Aeroflot company and Italy's Alitalia line.

TROY, N. Y. (AP)—A 67-year-old man in an oxygen tent at St. Mary's Hospital lit a match to smoke today. The tent exploded, and the patient, George Kennedy of Troy, suffered burns. The head nurse, Catherine Duster, and an aide, Anna Bills, pulled Kennedy from his bed. They and others on the hospital staff extinguished the flames. Two other patients in the room were taken elsewhere. The flames were confined to the one bed.

Duke of Windsor In London Clinic

LONDON (AP)—The Duke of Windsor flew unexpectedly to London from Paris today and was admitted to the fashionable London Clinic. A spokesman said the duke had some trouble with his left eye.

The Duchess of Windsor accompanied him on the flight. Britain's former King, 70, declined the offer of a chair-type stretcher at London Airport, but was helped down the steps from his plane by a uniformed nurse. The duke underwent surgery for an arterial complaint at the Methodist Hospital, Houston, Tex., last Dec. 16. After some weeks convalescing in the United States, he returned to his home near Paris a few weeks ago.

Today's arrival of the duke and duchess took London Airport crowds by surprise. The duke and duchess do not like flying and previously have made their rare visits to Britain by steamer and boat-train.
