Marine Forces Land At Key Viet Air Base

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—The U.S. Marines landed by sea and air in South Viet Nam today to strengthen the defense of the key Da Nang air base against attack by the Communist Viet Cong.

One battalion of 1,400 Marines came ashore from four 7th Fleet transport ships standing half a mile off the coast, 280 miles north of Saigon.

A second battalion began arriving without fanfare aboard C-130 Air Force Transports from Okinawa.

About 3,500 in all were expected by Tuesday night, including a helicopter squadron. Landing of the helicopter group was reported delayed by heavy surf which also slowed the movement of tanks and artillery to the beach.

The landing brought a few nervous newspaper comments in Western Europe but failed to rouse the wrath of Moscow-oriented Communists to any great pitch.

The story of the landing was published in Moscow but only briefly and without immediate comment.

The Hungarian paper Hetfoi Hirez called the landing "a long stride ahead in the direction of extending the war."

The Italian Communist party paper L'Unita said the landing "exacerbates the indochinese crisis to the breaking point."

Most non-Communist papers gave the story big play but only a few carried immediate comment.

In France, the Gaullist paper Nation said the landing meant a new step in the "policy of escalation."

In Britain, the liberal Guardian suggested that the landing would provide propaganda for the Viet Cong while the conservative Daily Telegraph supported the move but with caution.

A detachment of 1,200 Marines was already at Da Nang manning Hawk anti-aircraft missile batteries.

At the beach 10 miles west of Da Nang, the Marines charged ashore in traditional fashion, some slipping and sliding on the wet sand.

At the air base the Leathernecks walked calmly off their planes and stood in files while they were assigned to bivouac areas.

Extra Protection in Washington Anti-Castro Cubans Splatter Red Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Extra police have been stationed around the Soviet Embassy after five anti-Castro Cubans splattered black liquid on it in a surprise bottle-hurling protest.

The Cubans were arrested promptly charged with interfering with the property of a foreign government and jailed overnight. They said they were protesting last week's violent demonstration against the U.S. Embassy in Moscow and also the continued presence of Soviet troops in Cuba.

The State Department reported that a telephone call of protest had been received from the Russians. The official who received the call expressed the department's regret at Sunday's incident.

It was understood that the subject of compensation had not been discussed in this initial exchange, said to have been at a relatively low diplomatic level.

Last Thursday hundreds of screaming Red Chinese, Vietnamese and African students stoned and splattered ink on the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. Red army reinforcements were required to quell the disorder after the demonstrators had beaten back police and scuffled with soldiers.

American diplomats, who have contended that the Soviet government provides insufficient protection for the U.S. building, filed a protest. The Soviet government apologized and promised compensation.

U.S. officials pointed out recently that no such demonstrations are permitted here. District of Columbia law forbids demonstrations within 500 feet of an embassy. A three-man detachment of police had been assigned to the Soviet Embassy here since last Thursday.

The five men arrested were members of a group of 78 anti-Castro Cubans who came here from the New York metropolitan area to picket the embassy. At the time of the bottle-hurling the rest of the picketers were parading a block and a half from the embassy.

The signs they carried read "There's 40,000 Russian Troops in Cuba," "Wake Up, America," and "Cuba, Yes, Russia, No."

U.S. officials estimated the number of Soviet troops in Cuba at from 2,000 to 3,000.

Policemen at the embassy were taken by surprise when the five Cubans suddenly hurled soft, sticky bottles. Black with black liquid at the embassy.

Before police could hustle them away, they scored four direct hits, splattering the walls on both sides of the entrance and hitting some shutters on a second-story window of the embassy station.

Four Monarchs To Attend Rites For Queen Louise

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Four reigning kings are expected to attend the state funeral at Saturday of Queen Louise of Sweden, great-granddaughter of Britain's Queen Victoria.

Together with the 73-year-old queen's husband, King Gustaf VI Adolf, 83, King Frederik IX of Denmark, Olav VI of Norway and Constantine II of Greece are to walk in the funeral procession through the streets of Stockholm.

There has been no word of who will represent Britain's royal family. But Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, will probably attend. He is a nephew of the deceased queen.

Queen Louise died in a Stockholm hospital Sunday, four days after emergency surgery for removal of a blood clot in her right leg. A change in her main artery, the aorta, caused her heart to falter.

Her husband, confined to bed with a severe cold, rushed to St. George's Hospital when told his wife was dying. The king's After securing the beach, the seaborne Marines moved on to the air base.

One of the C-130 transport planes was hit in the wing by a sniper's bullet as it was making its landing approach beneath low clouds. No one was hurt, and the plane made a normal landing.

Six casualties were reported among the Marines at the end of their first day in Viet Nam. None was a victim of Viet Cong action.

Two men suffered broken legs, one a crushed chest, one a head cut, one a cut on the knee, and one man was burned while refueling a vehicle.

The Viet Cong made no attempt to attack the Marines.

LBJ Asks Congress For Crime Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson asked Congress today to ban sale of mail order firearms, tighten controls over drugs, and strengthen safety in the streets as part of an attack on crime as a national problem.

"Crime will not wait while we pull it up by the roots," Johnson said in a special message to the House and Senate. "We must arrest and reverse the trend toward lawlessness."

Various bills will be submitted to carry out this idea, some of them still in a vague stage.

For example, the presidential message made no reference to legalizing wire tapping in some instances, although this could be wrapped into legislation the Justice Department will lay before the lawmakers.

But Johnson did say that he is proposing legislation to prohibit shipments of firearms in interstate commerce except among

Plan Under Way To Merge State Military Units

HARTFORD (AP)—The State Adjutant General's office is working on a plan to merge Army Reserve units in Connecticut into the Army National Guard and also to eliminate some Guard units.

A preliminary report was made this weekend to Gov. John Dempsey by Maj. Gen. E. Donald Walsh, state adjutant general.

The State Military Department will work out the details and a final recommendation will be made to the governor, who will be asked to notify the Defense Department of his approval or opposition to the plan within 15 days.

The plan, a result of the Pentagon's decision for personnel cutbacks, would put the authorized strength of the National Guard in Connecticut, with inclusion of reserve units, at 9,131 officers and men in 126 units.

The total represents a loss from the current combined strength of the Guard and the Army Reserve, which now stands at 10,462 in Connecticut.

Accused Spy Pleads Guilty Was 'Stupid'

NEW YORK (AP)—A 30-year-old former Air Force enlisted man, professing himself to have been "stupid" in his younger years, today pleaded guilty to charges of conspiring to spy for the Soviet Union.

He could receive a 30-year penalty, but that possibility is considered unlikely in view of his admission and the fact that the offense was committed in peacetime.

"I am guilty and I want to take what's coming to me and that's it," Robert Glenn Thompson told newsmen after entering his plea in federal court.

"I feel relieved it's practically all over. I made a bad mistake when I was 23 years old. I had a

Composer, Wife In Settlement

NEW YORK (AP)—The bitter separation battle between Broadway lyricist Alan Jay Lerner and his wife, Micheline, was discontinued in court today as the result of a private settlement reached over the weekend.

In cross-suits, each had sought custody of their son Michael, 6.

Terms of the private agreement were not immediately disclosed.

Mrs. Lerner has been receiving $1,500 a week temporary alimony.

Roy Cohn, lawyer for Mrs. Lerner, said later that she planned to return to her home in Beverly Hills, Calif., with the boy.

In suing for separation, Mrs. Lerner charged that her husband was "cruel and inhuman" and had deserted her.

Lerner, 46, in turn accused his wife of barring him from her bedroom 1 1/2 to 2 years after their 1957 marriage. He also said she had called him a "cheap musical comedy writer."

Great Society Bills Get Action on Hill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Out-step on the way to a House vote, which probably will come late this month.

The manpower training bill recommended by the Senate Labor Committee would extend the program for five years.

That falls short of the permanent program Johnson sought in the House. Powell's committee — with Republican support — has approved a two-year extension.

The Senate committee set a $480 million first-year spending ceiling on the extended program to train men for jobs.

The House Ways and Means Committee is nearing its crucial decision on medical care for the aged. A broadened version of the Johnson bill may be cleared in about a week by that committee, the graveyard of past medical care proposals.

Backing Withdrawn From Yale Professor

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Asked by the president of the university to make their position plainer, professors of the Yale University philosophy department have withdrawn their support of a young faculty member embroiled in a tenure battle.

New developments in the controversy came in rapid succession over the weekend.

The senior professors of the department had originally given the 32-year-old associate professor a unanimous recommendation for tenure — in effect, a permanent appointment to the faculty.

Despite this recommendation, a faculty tenure committee decided to deny Bernstein tenure.

This touched off peaceful but

Police Use Clubs, Gas; 40 Injured

SELMA, Ala., (AP)—An attempted 50-mile march to the Alabama Capitol at Montgomery by Negroes pleading for civil rights erupted into bloody racial violence in a clash with state police Sunday.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says he will lead another attempted march Tuesday.

King decided to remain in Atlanta and did not, as planned, lead Sunday's march attempt by about 400 Negroes, which was broken up by blue-helmeted troopers wielding night sticks, shotguns, tear gas grenades and wearing gas masks. About 40 Negroes were injured in the violent confrontation about a mile after the march began.

"If it has to be a path of blood, it is going to be established that Negroes have the right to walk on the highways of Alabama," said the Rev. James Bevel, a lieutenant in King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference. King was expected in Selma this evening.

The highway was cluttered with packs, bed rolls and other camping equipment when the march ended. They had been left behind by Negroes fleeing the tear gas and the club-swinging state troopers.

The troopers later were joined by about 60 members of Sheriff James G. Clark's Dallas County posse, some of them on horseback, who prodded and beat the Negroes back to the church from where the march started. The possemen shouted, "Get the Niggers off the streets!" as they charged.

Clark blamed King for Selma's racial troubles. He spoke in a Washington television interview Sunday, the ABC network program, "Issues and Answers," taped the day before.

The sheriff accused King of conducting a personal vendetta against him stemming from King's arrest in October 1963, in a rented car furnished by the civil rights division of the Justice Department.

Clark said his life has been threatened by Negroes. He said he has moved his family into quarters at the county jail where he keeps them under guard.

He said news media have distorted his law enforcement activities in Selma. And he contended that prospective Negro voters were being processed "about fast as they could qualify" before King began his voter registration drive several weeks ago.

The Justice Department announced in Washington that the FBI agents in Selma have been ordered to make a complete investigation to determine "whether unnecessary force was used by law officers and others" in halting the march. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said he was in touch with the situation.

Gov. George Wallace refused to comment.

The governor's press aide said the order from the governor to halt the march was made under the law providing for public welfare and protection of the people under the police powers of the state.

King said a motion would be filed in federal court at Montgomery today seeking an injunction to prevent Wallace and state troopers from halting Tuesday's march to emphasize the Negroes' plea for the right to vote in this stronghold of Southern tradition.

CHASE STRIKE
WATERBURY (AP)—A strike is set for Friday at the Chase Brass & Copper Co. in Manchester. The union has agreed to a new contract in agreement with management and is expected to resume work.

About 1,000 employees, members of United Auto Workers Local 1808, have been working without a contract since Nov. 18, when the old pact expired.

By PHINEAS FISKE
Although the town water department has adequate water capacity to meet local demands until about 1960, the town's water supply must be improved immediately to provide water "in sufficient quantity and at adequate pressure to meet demands during periods of peak use."

Improvements designed to meet this problem in the water department's two service areas could cost as much as $665,000. In addition, the town must be prepared to increase its overall water capacity to meet demands resulting from population growth and a probable higher rate of water use per person.

Town Water System, I

Supply Good to 1980, But Below Peak Use. (Editor's note: At the request of the town board of directors, the town has undertaken an overall study of the quality and quantity of the town water system.)

The present town water system has an average of 4.6 million gallons per day during any given year. The sufficiency of the supply on hand depends largely on the amount of rain that has fallen on town water sheds and has run into the four major reservoirs.

Without taking into account the inevitable variations in the weather, the water quantity study reaches the following conclusions: The present town water system has the average of 4.6 million gallons per day during any given year.

Allowing for population increase and a higher per capita water consumption, that demand will not exceed the system until 1960.

And the water system will be capable of meeting the peak demand of 7.5 million gallons per day at the rate of 4.6 million gallons per day. The low area water system, capable of delivering water for a day at the rate of 4.6 million gallons per day, is still well within its capabilities.
