Thursday, May 13

There were, all around, the soft sounds and scents and pastel vistas of the perfect day of May. The birds were courting and building. The many-petalled lilacs, purple and white, loosed their fragrance into an air already fragrant with the luscious sweetness of apple blossoms.

The heavy, oppressive, summer mugginess of the day before had disappeared. The sky was cobalt blue, and the air was from the west, and it was cool and clear, fit companion for a daily warmer sun, creating a bewitching temperature.

In this bewitching temperature, there approached, unheard and unseen, one more of the additional and traditional accompaniments of spring.

Unheard and unseen, but guided by its own unerring wisdom and instinct, it came on wings of gossamer and with landing lighter than touch to the favorite first of the season location.

There, on the inset, just below and in front of the knob on the ankle, it came, as well, and all human attention focused on more distant enchantments.

Then delicately, precisely with all the tenacity of the veteran R.N., the latest spring cozier introduced into the flesh and the vein its tender siphon, and was transported into its version of spring delight.

Gradually, nerve communication by communication, awareness and disengagement together toward the sense remotely attached to the ankle. It could not be, it was much too early in the season. It was too perfect a day in May for it, as well, the day of the first mosquito.

Ah, spring!

Not With Us

The foreign minister of the sovereign nation of Japan explained to members of the Japanese Parliament the other day that their objection to the idea of the United States sending forces based in Japan in fighting in Vietnam had some merit.

But, he pointed out, the United States could escape any possible conflict with the technical terms of its treaty with Japan if it had such forces based in Okinawa on their way to Vietnam. Then it could be assumed that they had received their orders to fight in Vietnam in Okinawa rather than in Japan, and the Japanese government would not be involved.

The reason the Japanese government would not be involved would be that, although Okinawa was regained to be Japanese territory some day, it is now occupied and administered and controlled by the U.S. military, which has turned it into a great bastion from which much of the operation down in Vietnam is now being based and conducted.

So there was, in the Japanese Parliament the other day, this quaint legislative solution of the problem of Japan's possible involvement in the Vietnam war.

Presumably, while the Japanese government is relying upon such legalisms, and while the United States is employing its own military facilities on Okinawa so importantly, the Japanese foreign minister is not raising the question of when Japan may be going to get its islands back.

Underneath all this legalism, however, there is something more serious. The foreign minister's resort to such argument was required, according to dispatches from Tokyo, by the general desire of the Communist Party of Japan, of officials, in Japan, of United States policies in Vietnam. These critics, it is reported, include not only leaders of the Communist party but "all the leading newspapers and many prominent intellectual community and the major labor unions."

Without other disparaging or endorsing such Japanese points of view, one possible thing seems clear. The tion we would like to depend upon to be the main bulwark of our policies and positions in Asia is not with us.

Cultural Exchange?

We shudder for the poor people of Spain, but our sorrow is alleviated by the prospect that what they lose, we in the new world may inherit and re-establish as a pattern of living.

There is no doubt about the sad trend of affairs in Spain. Bureaucrats there, but not only bureaucrats, unfortunately, keep talking up the abolition of the alcazars. In a recent television program in Madrid, both labor and management expressed opinions in favor of having everybody work right through the day, with only an American-style snack-stop for lunch.

This is not entirely because the instincts of the people of Spain are changing. It is also because more of them live mainly on the plain outside the city, so that there is a terrible daily transportation crush as they try to get home and have their siesta.

It seems, for Spain, almost an inexorable trend of the times, decreed by the laws of economic, and of transportation logistics.

But the same laws, in another and more advanced stage of development, are also operating for us and on here in America. The biggest single whip they hold over us is that we must, some how, before very many years have passed, to limit ourselves to something like 20 hours of work a week. This may ultimately require us to work sporadically only four days a week, a kind of schedule which would inevitably suggest and invite a nice siesta period before we get busy getting into trouble in our leisure time.

In a decade or two, then, American tourists will go to Spain to see what the hustle and bustle and eternal drive of American life used to be like, and Spanish tourists will come over here to recapture the languorous glory of civilization based on the siesta.

Smaller: Not Necessarily Better

The busy activities of Early Bird are giving the old cliché about the world getting smaller a new twist. Unfortunately, technology's shrinking of time and space suggests to some minds that the world is bound to be better as a result. A corollary is that certain national actions which were tolerated are no longer admissible.

Thus the U.S. is accused of reverting to 19th century subterfuge diplomacy in its Dominican intervention, supposedly unthinkable in the world of modern weapons and instant communications.

Just what should have intervened, passed for a second, and now that the data is not exactly clear to us, but it revolution has any relevance to countries certainly it has not made Communist agitators any more favorable to the cause of a fellow Senator.

At this point, it is to be reiterated that contrary to stories appearing in the press and statements by Sen. John Williams, "This point" is on page 1 of the report he filed.

Here is precedent shattering language, indeed, a Senate Committee flatly contradicting the majority of a fellow Senator.

For some 100 pages of tortured, meandering prose, the report goes on as if it were a brief in a trial case with Republican Williams, the partisanious tenacious an-seeker from Delaware, as defendant.

This secret report almost certainly will provoke one of the Rules Committee's typically unpropitious closed-door sessions (scheduled for tomorrow if a quorum can be summoned that day) on the subject.

Power politics, in a word, has not gone out of style in most of the world. The world has shrunk, if anything, by the use of a far number of the world's leaders; to show how little respect for an unseemly command.

We suspect that future communications breakthroughs, enabling everyone to peer still more closely into the mind of the other, will not produce a more clearly and immediately than in the past, the greed, vanity and ill will of the world's leaders; to show how little respect for an unseemly command.

They have been under heavy mounting White House pressure to dampen certain aspects of it as probes. For their part, Republicans have been outrageously partisan in trying to divert the investigation into anti-LBJ, obscenity.

Such a result would be a serious setback for the vital Senate investigative process. Little has been learned as a result of the Senate Ethics Committee work. Neither Republicans nor Democrats have tried seriously to come to grips with conflict-of-interest problems. Accordingly, conditions which appeared the better case remain basically unchanged.

The rain tire

You never know when it's going to rain.

You never know when a friendly road is going to turn into something wet and slick and treacherous.

That's the whole idea behind the rain tire. You're ready for it whenever and wherever it happens.

On a wet, slippery road: 30% shorter stops.

With a set of rain tires on your car, you'll be able to stop 30% shorter on a rain-slicked road than you could when your car was brand new.

(That's how much difference there is, on a wet road, between the rain tire and the tires that originally came with the '64, '65 or '62 car. If you own a '61 or earlier car, the improvement will be even more dramatic.)

You'll have even better control in passing or in cornering than you had when your car was brand new.

Other side benefits: Less wander and slick and treacherous.

That's the whole idea behind the rain tire. You're ready for it whenever and wherever it happens.

On a dry road: surer control when you pass or corner.

If this tire sounds just too good to be true, and you expect to have to pay the price in a rough or noisy ride (or in money), you're wrong.

It comes as Original Equipment on some of the most prestigious 1965 cars. Which means that it has to be quiet and smooth-riding, because there's nobody with a more sensitive bottom than the test drivers who evaluate the new models in Detroit.

On a wet curve, you'll hold the road 50% better than you could when your car was brand new.

On a wet curve: 50% more skid resistance.

And when you accelerate on a wet road, you'll have 20% better traction than you had when your car was brand new.

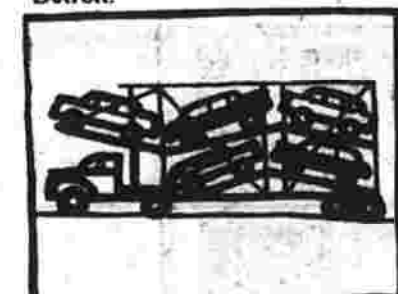

Figures can't tell you, though, what it feels like to drive on rain tires.

Your car will handle in the rain like it never handled before. Sooner of itself. More responsive. Making contact with a good, solid bank of road that each rain tire has squeezed dry.

But what's it like when the sun comes out?

We know you'd ask that. And we're glad you did. Because

4 Requests Will Be Heard By Zoning Appeals Board

The zoning board of appeals will hold a public hearing next Thursday to consider four applications for rezoning. The hearing will be held at the Wapping Community School at 8 p.m.

The applications are:

Town of South Windsor, 824 Main St. requests a variance to allow a lot with less than the required footage and lot area in C1 zone, to allow a building to be constructed with less than 5,000 square feet in a C1 zone and to allow a freestone in a C1 zone on Sullivan Ave.

The property is bounded on the north and east by Martin F. McCrahan, south by Sullivan Ave. and west by Amelia M. and Edith S. Watson. This is a C1 zone.

Dorothy Station, 142 Porters Brook Ave., East Hartford, a variance to allow the storage of antiques in an existing barn and the sale of antiques by appointment only at 387 Main St. This is an R-40 zone.

Benjamin Potter, 60 Diane Dr. requests an appeal from the building inspector's decision involving the parking of a camping trailer at the same address. This is an A-20 zone.

John J. Woodcock Jr., 1734 Ellington Rd. a variance to allow a building closer to the front and rear than then permitted at 67 Kennedy Rd. This is an I zone.

GOV Meeting Set

The Republican Town Committee will meet tonight at 8 at the South Windsor Bank and Trust Co. Community Room, John Pike Blvd.

Tapo Recorder Given

The South Windsor Women's Club has presented a tape recorder and tapes to the South Windsor Committee for Retarded Children for use in special classes.

Every second year the club selects a community project and spends those two years providing funds through ways and means efforts. The community project for 1964-65 is the installation of a tape recorder in a school building. The choice of a tape recorder and tapes was made by the teachers of the special classes.

Recreation Employees

The recreation department has completed hiring employees to assist in the summer program. Hired are: playground aides are: Peter Zamulka, sophomore, University of Hartford; Miriam Burgess, a junior, Southern Connecticut State College; and Cynthia Shepley, freshman, University of New Hampshire.

Miss Sleeper, Miss Burgess and Zamulka worked with the recreation department last year in the same capacity.

New to the playground are Elaine Yalode, junior, at Joseph's College; Judith Longo, freshman, Central Connecticut State College; and Paul Botticelli, sophomore, University of Connecticut. All are South Windsor residents.

These people will participate in a two-day workshop sponsored by the Connecticut Recreation Society, which is designated to instruct playground personnel in methods and community playground operation.

Spring Pond Hire 2

The town has also hired 2 persons to work at Spring Pond Park, five as lifeguards. They are:

Edward Dalton, instructor for the United States Army for two years and currently teaching the University of Hartford; Lynn Schwert, lifeguard at Spring Pond last year and currently attending Hartford College in Virginia; Rosemary Holley, freshman at Southern Connecticut State College, where she is majoring in physical education; Franklin Welles, a graduating senior at South Windsor High School; and Donald Bell, a graduating senior at East Hartford High School and a lifeguard at Spring Pond last year.

Dalton, Miss Schwert and Miss Welles are American Red Cross swimming instructors, as well as certified lifeguards.

The second annual softball league will open Monday. There are nine teams entered, showing an increase of three over last year.

There are representatives from Temple Beth El, Our Savior, Lutheran Church, St. Margaret, Mary's Church, St. Peter's Episcopal Church and the South Windsor Volunteer Fire Department.

Also entered as independent teams are the Lozars, the Arcs, the Rabala, and Birch Hill. Last year St. Margaret, Mary's and the winner.

A Pleasant Darby has been scheduled for Cub Scout Pack 84 and 228 for May 21. Pack 228 will be the guest of Pack 158 at the Avery Ice School.

The small car derby will determine who has the fastest race. The boys have built their cars with their fathers as one of the Cub activities.

Most of the cars were built from kits which required nothing to do except to assemble, smooth finish, painting and attaching wheels. The maximum weight is five pounds.

It is anticipated that 150 boys will participate on a four-lane, 20-foot track with an electronic control signaling the winner.

MEA Gives Two Grants, Honors Retiring Teacher

The annual banquet of the Manchester Education Association (MEA) at the Bolton Public Library last night honored retiring teachers and awarded two grants.

Mrs. Julia D. Faulkner, a 36-year veteran of the profession, was honored as a "work of strength" for her long and successful career. She is retiring from the Bolton Public School after 36 years of teaching.

Also retiring is Miss Ellen Beth M. Day, a mathematics teacher at Bolton Junior High School, who has taught in Manchester since 1921, a period of 44 years.

Eileen Packard, 17, received one of the $400 scholarships that the MEA annually awards to students who plan to become teachers. Eileen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Packard of 69 Durant St., will attend the University of Connecticut preparatory to becoming an art teacher.

Susan Waterman, 18, received the other scholarship. She is the daughter of Charles Waterman, of 10 Elm Ter. Susan expects to attend Williams State College this fall and study for an elementary school teaching profession.

Both are honor students and both took part in the Junior Year Teachers' Training Program. Susan teaches at church school and Eileen teaches at the Lutz Junior Museum.

The MEA usually awards three $300 scholarships but this year, in view of rising educational costs, it decided that $400 awards would be more helpful. Because Miss Day did not attend, the spotlight was on Mrs. Faulkner alone—quite a contrast, remarked Arthur Dillon (MEA) at Fiano's last night marked the retirement of two teachers and the awarding of scholarships to two Manchester High School seniors.

Mrs. Julia D. Faulkner, a fifth grade teacher of the Washington School, retired after 36 years of teaching at the Manchester school system.

Also retiring is Miss Ellen Beth M. Day, a mathematics teacher at Bolton Junior High School, who has taught in Manchester since 1921, a period of 44 years.

Eileen Packard, 17, received one of the $400 scholarships that the MEA annually awards to students who plan to become teachers. Eileen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Packard of 69 Durant St., will attend the University of Connecticut preparatory to becoming an art teacher.

Susan Waterman, 18, received the other scholarship. She is the daughter of Charles Waterman, of 10 Elm Ter. Susan expects to attend Williams State College this fall and study for an elementary school teaching profession.

Both are honor students and both took part in the Junior Year Teachers' Training Program. Susan teaches at church school and Eileen teaches at the Lutz Junior Museum.

Police Arrests

Elmer Martin, 55, of 30 Down St., was charged with throwing offensive articles on the highway and was summoned to appear at the Manchester session of Circuit Court 12 on June 7.

Susan Waterman, 18, received the other scholarship. She is the daughter of Charles Waterman, of 10 Elm Ter. Susan expects to attend Williams State College this fall and study for an elementary school teaching profession.

Both are honor students and both took part in the Junior Year Teachers' Training Program. Susan teaches at church school and Eileen teaches at the Lutz Junior Museum.

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

By DORIS BELMONT

On Tuesday, May 11, Mrs. Mary E. Murphy of 300 Broadway St. has the pleasure of presenting to you an easy yet elegant company dinner, including the pleasure of a delicious dinner with two of her favorite recipes, and I have found it to be a favorite of both men and women. Mrs. Murphy has a slightly oriental flavor and is perfect for a party lunch or dinner.

Green Pepper Pie Crust
1 1/2 cups chocolate wafers, crushed, about 2 1/2
1/2 cup soft butter
Combine crumbs and butter and press into an eight-inch pie plate and chill.

Filling
1/2 cup milk
2 macaroni shells
1 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons cream de menthe
3 tablespoons white cream de cacao

Heat milk and add macaroni shells until cooked. Cool thoroughly. Whip cream and combine it with the largest and add into cooked macaroni shell mixture. Pour into crust and chill. Garnish with shavings of dark, semi-sweet, chocolate.

Tuna Casserole
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon soy sauce
1 cup tuna, flaked
1 cup water chestnuts, thinly sliced

Combine mayonnaise, onion, lemon juice, soy sauce and curry powder. Blend well and add tuna and chestnuts. Toss gently. Spread on English muffins, sprinkle with paprika and broil from six to eight minutes.

A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Mrs. Murphy is married to a Mr. Murphy who is a member of the Manchester Club of Manchester, the town committee of the Manchester YWCA, and is secretary of Rockland School PTA.

In her spare time, which, she says, is rare, she enjoys reading, playing cards or contemporary non-fiction, political books.

Her husband is a sales representative with Central Supply Co., Pittsburg, Mass. The couple has three children, Frank, 6, Carol, 4, and Monica, 2.

The Murphys are communicants of St. Francis of Assisi Church, South Windsor.

WATER NOT WASTED
LONDON (AP) — Britain's biggest makers of bathroom equipment, designed with Prince Philip today after he complained that the nation's toilets waste water.

Visiting London's design center earlier this week, the queen's husband stopped at a display of bathroom hardware.

"This is the biggest waste of water in the country," said Philip. "You flush away two gallons."

A spokesman for Twyford's, Ltd., replied today: "Anything below the two gallons would be considered by most health authorities to be unsanitary."

Idle Claims

At Low Mark

The total of unemployed last week in Manchester and in the state reached its lowest figure since 1907, according to the State Labor Department.

The unemployed labor market in the state and in Manchester, stands at 3.8 per cent and the insured unemployed labor market at 2.6 per cent, for the lowest percentage totals since 1909.

Labor Department spokesmen report that the state is in the midst of an unparalleled five-year period of prosperity, with the turning point not yet in sight.

Unemployment compensation claims filed in Manchester last week dropped by 80, or 13.3 per cent below the totals for the week ending May 1, with 677 claimants filing during the week ending May 8, and 677 during the previous week.

Of the total, 131 were from the Rockville-Vermon-Ellington area. The remaining 456 claimants were from Manchester and surrounding towns, including a part of East Hartford.

The Bridgeport office ranked first last week for total claims filed with 3,316, followed by Hartford with 3,172, New Haven with 2,746 and Waterbury with 1,860.

Manchester retained its 14th spot among the state's 20 offices.

MHA to Ask for New Bids On Addition at Westhill

The Manchester Housing Authority is hoping to put a $1.5 million addition to the Westhill Gardens housing project out to bid again by May 20.

Whether it can do so will depend on whether the Federal Public Housing Administration allows the authority about $215,000 more than was originally allocated for the project.

The authority last night authorized modifications to the plan that will cut about $100,000 from the cost of the project.

This leaves an additional $115,000 that must come from the Federal government.

The modifications that were adopted include some proposed by the architect, the firm of Pedersen & Tibney of New Haven, and others suggested last week by authority member John Hutchinson.

The housing administration originally budgeted about $1,450,000 for the project; the lowest bid received at an opening March 17 was for $1,515,000.

The authority last night authorized modifications to the plan that will cut about $100,000 from the cost of the project.

Census Planned On Dual Jobs

Some Manchester area householders will be asked next week to participate in a Census Bureau survey of "moonlighting"—the practice of holding down more than one job.

Three census interviewers will visit selected homes in the area to find out what percentage of the population are dual job holders.

They will also ask questions about overtime pay for a month's survey on employment for the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Antennas Topic Of Radio Club

Lewis McCoy, technical editor of the American Radio Relay League, will present an illustrated lecture on "Improving Antenna Installation" at the spring meeting of the Manchester Radio Club, anyone interested in radio is welcome to attend the meeting which will be held at the Manchester police station on Monday evening at 7:30.

This is another community service project of the club which furnishes radio communications as a hobby and as a means of emergency communication.

Monbo Gets Rhythm And Yanks Lose Again

BOSTON (AP)—Monbo's got rhythm and couldn't ask for anything more.

Bill Monboquette, the Boston righthander, blanked New York 2-0 on a six-hitter Wednesday night, which brought his record to 4-2 and marked his fourth complete game—the entire total for the staff.

Ed Bressant hit a home run over the left field corner in the fifth inning and Lee Thomas had an RBI single in the sixth for the Boston run.

A year ago, Monboquette had a 3-4 record at the mid-season all star game but didn't gain his fourth victory until August, although he came fast to finish 13-14.

"I haven't done anything differently," Monboquette says, "I'm just growing different pitches. It's just that I've been pitching in normal, regular routine and I haven't lost my rhythm, which I feel I did last year because of the schedule and postponements.

"Things worked out so badly last year I twice had to wait six days between starts. Then when I came in I didn't have my control and got myself knocked up."

"In 1963, when I won 20 games, everything went just as I needed. I pitched every fourth day and didn't miss a turn. As a result, I won my first nine decisions."

"This year the schedule's been only once so far I've had to wait an extra day. I've had pretty much on the schedule of work I had the year '63. Monboquette said he threw 101 pitches in the game compared to 89 in '63. He threw in a nine-hitter at Detroit, adding an RBI single in the sixth for the Boston run.

"I kept pitching like this, I can't help but win 20," said Manager Billy Herman. "It's all this opening day I had better stuff than tonight."

Outfielder Carl Yastrzemski said he looked the best he's seen him since his no-hitter (1963 in Chicago).

"I still think opening day I had better stuff than tonight," said Monboquette referring to his 7-2 triumph in the President's opener at Washington. "I hung two pitches to Mickey Mantle and one to Joe Pepitone with men on base. I got away with it because I was changing speeds enough and fooling him with the ball. He was changing but I was hitting him with the ball. He was changing but I was hitting him with the ball. He was changing but I was hitting him with the ball."

Rockville Bombs Glastonbury, Ellington Triumphs

Tardiness on reporting home for supper last night for members of Cheney Tech's baseball team can be pinned to the near three-hour marathon that saw the Rangers post their first victory of the season, a 1-0 decision over Prince Tech of Hartford. The locals dropped their first two starts.

There was a little bit of everything in the wild and woolly attraction at the Cheney diamond. Andy Tomko pitched the contest, scattering seven hits and six runs in the long and dry game.

Ellington—Timely hitting and a strong defensive performance paved the way for the team to win 1-0 over Glastonbury last night. Ellington's victory was the first since the team's 1-0 win over Bristol Eastern.

Slammed-Down Torre Braves' Big Hitter Boasts .347 Bat Average This Season

NEW YORK (AP)—A couple of years ago the only thing slim about Joe Torre was his chance of making the majors.

Now, however, the only thing fat about the Milwaukee catcher is his batting average and the other Joe Torre turned down for his services.

Torre lifted his average to .347 Wednesday night with a home run and a single, helping Milwaukee to a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh.

As a teenager with his eyes on the majors, Torre was in jeopardy of being overlooked by major league scouts, which he accomplished since he weighed the pounds and lacked speed.

Speed of foot still isn't Torre's main asset, but it's hard to fault a player who has hit .347 in 1965. Torre has 10 home runs and 35 singles in 100 at-bats.

Boxer Sonny Banks Dies After Beating

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Detroit heavyweight boxer Lucien (Sonny) Banks died today from a head injury. He was knocked out Monday night in the ninth round of a fight with Louis Martin of Philadelphia.

Banks, 28, regained consciousness after the fight, but then lapsed into unconsciousness and was rushed to Presbyterian Hospital.

Brain surgery was performed Tuesday morning to remove a blood clot and the 200-pound fighter had been in a coma ever since.

Banks' younger brother Jimmy had come to Philadelphia from Detroit. Two other brothers and his parents, who live in Tupelo, Miss., survive.

Dr. Robert A. Andre, a Philadelphia neurosurgeon who performed the operation, ruled out the possibility of a direct cause of the subdural hematoma or clot, in Banks' brain. He said the injury looked as though the boxer had been in an auto crash.

Banks had no record of previous head injury through boxing, although he had suffered from a concussion in 27 fights. He had 18 wins in 27 fights with a record of 18-0-1.

Banks worked at a Ford Motor Co. plant in Detroit. He was married and had three children. He was a member of the American Boxing Association.

Baseball Attendance In Majors Increases

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league baseball attendance for the first month of the 1966 season was up 5.4 per cent over last year, an Associated Press survey disclosed today.

The survey through Tuesday's games also reflected continued spate in Milwaukee and Kansas City plus a resurgence in Houston where the Astros are playing in their new, enclosed stadium.

The Astros have attracted 288,000 fans for 13 appearances in the 65,000-seat Astrodome for an average attendance of 22,000. In its 25,000-seat Civic Stadium a year ago the Houston club averaged 10,000.

Twins Retain Slim First Place Lead Killebrew Hits Pair

NEW YORK (AP)—That was no pop-gun Harmon Killebrew used to the Angels the second time around.

The Minnesota slugger beat Los Angeles 4-3 Wednesday night with his second home run of the game, a 400-foot, two-run shot in the eighth inning.

The night before he had hit a two-run homer in the eighth inning of a 2-1 victory over the Angels. Killebrew led the majors with 11 home runs and 10 RBIs in the league's three straight series.

Los Angeles built a 3-2 edge going into the eighth on Albin Pearson's first-inning home run. Killebrew's three-inning sacrifice fly and a drive off pitcher Dean Chance's leg in the ninth to send home the winning run.

The victory, fifth straight for the Twins and 10th in 22 starts, kept them in the first place in the young American League race, one-half game ahead of the Chicago White Sox, who swept a two-night doubleheader from Kansas City 7-4 and 4-0. Boston blanked the New York Yankees 2-0. Detroit topped Washington 3-2. Baltimore beat Cleveland 4-2 in their night action.

Twins-ANGELS—Killebrew's decisive home run Angel reliever Bob Lee cleared the center-field fence, scored Killebrew and hit his eighth homer in the eighth. Killebrew had ripped a left-circuit shot of rock.

Sun Shines for Fisher After Early Dark Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The world of Jack Fisher collapsed around his ears May 2 when he lost two ball games in one afternoon at Cincinnati. It even was a new low for the New York Mets, the losingest losers of all time.

Fisher, who had a 1-0 record, was hit by a pair of home runs in the first inning of the first game. He was hit by a pair of home runs in the first inning of the first game. He was hit by a pair of home runs in the first inning of the first game.
