Many Volunteers Help Midwest Recover from Tornadoes' Punch

KOKOMO, Ind. (AP) — Thousands of volunteers from Midwest, with a lot of outside help, has demonstrated it can bounce back from disaster. It will take years to restore the Palm Sunday tornado belts to something near normal but a good start was made in the first four weeks after one of the nation's most destructive storms.

Thousands of volunteers, from Boy Scouts to convicts, have cleared streets and highways and made some progress toward cleaning debris from private property.

Replacing demolished buildings by the thousands is a long-range job but it's moving.

Less than a month after the storm, insurance companies had returned more than half of the claims.

"I'm very proud of the insurance industries in this disaster," said John H. Sturtevant of New York, assistant to the general adjuster of the American Insurance Association. "There have been others where I want to be proud."

He and Red Cross officials agreed that an unusually high proportion of houses and industries carried adequate insurance. Estimates on destroyed or damaged houses covered by inclusive homeowners' policies range from 80 to 95 per cent. These policies even cover living expenses while new homes are built.

Some religious sects such as the Amish, who don't approve of insurance, are helping one another rebuild smashed buildings and also are working on non-members' homes.

Figures aren't firm yet, but property damage estimates in Indiana alone range upward from $20 million from 11 twisters that slashed across the state in three distinct belts, killing at least 217 persons and injuring hundreds.

But not everyone had adequate insurance. Some had none, and that's where the Red Cross stepped in. There was the case for example of the Campbell-Garver family, who lived on an unpaved road near the north-central Indiana town of Busa, Ind., which was virtually demolished.

Bachelor Arthur Garver, 35, went to church on Palm Sunday evening. His sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Campbell and their family, went to their favorite fishing camp on the Mississippi River, about 60 miles away, to check whether it would be covered by a new reservoir.

While the family was gone, a twister smashed the barn and house into splinters. It lifted the old, score-boarded frame house off its foundations and chucked the contents into rubble.

"It seemed like one of the worst things," said 85-year-old Mrs. Campbell, "was that we couldn't even get a drink of water. The tornado took the pitcher pump and a section of pipe right along with the well house."

"It was pretty bad, digging out from under that was left out from under," Garver recalled. "Funny thing, only three were dead. Another funny thing, we had three chickens and the two hens were all right but the rooster was missing. He came back next day from the way the better went."

After the shock the men discovered a crucial loss. Garver and his wife, Mrs. Campbell, and 80-year-old Leroy Campbell produce a substantial amount of the family's revenue by shearing sheep. Their shearing equipment was largely destroyed in the collapsed barn.

After recouping the sheep, the family slept in its three cars — only one of them operative — that night.

"It was pretty grim for a few days there," Mrs. Campbell said. "We didn't have any money for food, and worse, we didn't have any gasoline money so the men could go to sleep, shearing jobs. We heard the Red Cross was helping people and we figured we needed help as much as anybody."

The Red Cross provided money for food, tools and gasoline. Daniel W. Buchanan, assistant director of Red Cross disaster service for the eastern area, has recommended an $8,000 grant to build a house and barn. A farm, 10 miles away, is letting the family use a small tourist house.

So well-insured were most Indiana tornado victims that the Red Cross estimates it will spend half or less of the million dollars it expects to give them.

Buchanan, who was rushed here from California floods and hasn't been home in Alexandria, Va., since Dec. 25, explained that the money — grants, not loans — is distributed to meet needs, not losses.

"For example," he said, "an attic full of old clothes could be sold but not needed. This is a businesslike proposition, not a charitable one. It's the people of the United States helping themselves."

A Red Cross worker sits down with a family asking help and works out a budget after issuing a voucher for temporary needs. The budget includes all necessities and the amount of money that can be borrowed from local banks or other agencies as the Small Business Administration, Federal Housing Authority, Federal Home and Housing Administration and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The total is compared with the family's financial needs and if it falls short, the Red Cross makes up the difference.

Because of the good insurance situation, the Palm Sunday disaster will make a shallower bite

Several Apply To Be Nurse For Kennedy

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy is looking for a new nurse — English or French-to look after John F. Jr. and Caroline. She has received a number of applications since she placed an advertisement in the "Times" of London.

The ad in the personal column of the Times gave two telephone numbers but omitted the name of the president's widow.

The ad read: "New York—extremely reliable and competent young woman, 25-35, needed to look after girl of 7 and boy of 4 in New York City; English or French native language."

Mrs. Shaw, the English nurse who has been the children's nurse, is retiring. "I look forward when she was 11 days old. It will be a big wrench leaving her and John," said Miss Shaw. "I've just told them I'm going away for the summer. They'll be too upset if I said I wasn't coming back."

Miss Shaw wants to settle down with her sister, Betty, near Sherborn, on the Thames south of London.

Miss Shaw will not try to keep in touch with the youngsters in their young minds, it'll be time for me to fade away, too," she said.

Mrs. Kennedy came here last week for the dedication of a memorial to the late president. She is staying at the London home of her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill.

Couple Wed 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Phillips, both at home, and Mrs. Nicholas Diferio of Manchester, both at home, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary party given by their family and friends, at Piano's Restaurant, Bolton. Those attending the 25th wedding anniversary event were: Mr. Phillips, formerly of Rockville, married the former Miss Norma Spinlin of Koppel, Tex., on April 29, 1940 in Haskell, Tex. They have three daughters, Miss Nancy Phillips and Miss Marilyn Phillips, both at home; and Mrs. Nicholas Diferio of Manchester, who was recently appointed to the town building committee, in a number of other capacities. Mr. Phillips is a member of the Campbell Council, Knights of Columbus; and Manchester Lodge of Elks. His wife is a member of the Ladies of St. James. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips are members of St. James' Church.

Lady Bird Heads Potomac River Inspection Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson leads a boat inspection tour of the polluted Potomac River today to see what can be done to beautify it.

On a four-hour excursion, the First Lady and members of her Committee for a More Beautiful Capital will ride the river by yacht and motorboat to see its problems close up.

A White House announcement today said "the trip will highlight one of President Johnson's major conservation goals — to make the Potomac a model for the nation's rivers."

In his message to Congress early in February on natural beauty, the President asked Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall to work on a program to clean up the Potomac for boating, swimming and fishing.

Udall is going along to brief the First Lady and her guests on the river from its early history to the causes of its pollution and hopes for its cure.

Most of the trip, including a buffet luncheon, will be aboard the Sequoia, the 104-foot yacht assigned to the secretary of the Navy and frequently used for official Cabinet excursions.

But, to get under the low-lying 16th Street Bridge and up river a bit to look at Roosevelt Island and the area of Three Sisters Islands, the party will have to transfer to a smaller boat.

These rivers, the President added, "are potentially the greatest single source of pleasure for those who live in most of our metropolitan areas."

Cash Isn't All, Claims Eve Arden

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Money isn't everything," says Eve Arden with such conviction that you find yourself wanting to believe her.

The lanky, wry-voiced comedienne was explaining how she happened to turn her back on a thriving career to live with her family in Europe for two years.

"Eve is back at her old profession of teaching comedy class with the same skill and accuracy Sandy Koufax displays with a baseball. She is making her film return after a five-year absence to play a WAF lieutenant in "Sergeant Deadhead."

The film has afforded her a sentimental reunion with Gale Gordon, her principal in "Our Miss Brooks." It seems incredible that it has been eight years since the television series ended — maybe the continual reruns make it seem more recent.

Eve looks her same handsome self, and she admitted that she never felt better. The two-year sabbatical had a lot to do with it. How did it come about?

"Well, we always talked about how nice it would be to show the children 'Europe.' So one day we just decided to do it."

She and husband Brooks West packed up the four children, closed the ranch and flew to Rome. They stayed in a hotel until they discovered it was too noisy, then rented a villa outside the city.

"It sat upon a hill, with nothing nearby but a farmhouse in each direction," she recalled. "We had a tutor for the children and every day or so we would take expeditions to the Vatican and other points of interest. It was a marvelous education for the kids, and for Brooks and me, too."

After six months at the villa, she and Brooks set up residence in London for a year. The older daughter, Lisa, went to Switzerland while Connie attended a dramatic academy in London. The younger boys, James and Douglas, were enrolled at school within walking distance from home.

"Eve did no performing, except for a television pilot film produced by Walter Shenson, the man who makes the Beatle pictures."

"Everyone liked it, but all three of the networks decided not to buy a series that would be filmed abroad," she said. "I must confess I wasn't sorry."

The West family took a tour of the Continent before coming home. Now all of them are willing to return at any time. "It was a marvelous experience for us as a family," said Eve. "I highly recommend it."

When I mentioned that having residuals from a television project would help such a scheme, she replied: "But I don't get residuals. I sold out my interest in 'Our Miss Brooks,' and it wasn't an enormous amount of money, either."

"Sure, I didn't work for two years, but money isn't everything. An experience like that is something you will never forget."

Lebanese Probe Vanishing Cats

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Lebanese police department is investigating a catastrophe — the disappearance of 49 cats.

George Matar, a feline fancier who kept 138 cats in an old building in downtown Beirut, reported 40 of his pets missing. As police began combing the neighborhood for catsnapers, Matar checked again and discovered nine more cats had vanished.

"This sort of thing can give Lebanon a bad name as a country where people abuse animals," said Matar, a retired civil servant.

Matar suspected his pets were being stolen to feed the lions of a circus stranded in Beirut. The lion tamer, however, assured Matar that a cat was barely a snack for his lion. Now Matar thinks someone is skinning the cats and selling them to housewives as rabbits.

Furthermore, he complained, "the thief leaves me with 24 kittens, and I am feeding them all with eye-drops."

As a reward for information on the thieves, Matar offered 100 pounds — $25 — and a killing.

Hal Boyle Viet Runway Is Tagged LBJ Ranch

GIA VUC, South Viet Nam (AP) — As you land on the runway in plain that contains native soldiers, some chickens and ducks, five squealing pigs and three small steers, the first thing you see is a sign saying "The LBJ Ranch."

That sign is the way a U.S. Army Special Forces team has chosen to say that America is here to stay for the duration.

"The LBJ Ranch" is engaged in a bitter fight against enemy forces.

It is typical of many Special Forces outposts throughout South Viet Nam which seek to protect villagers from the Viet Cong.

Gia Vuc lies in a valley bordered by rugged and lovely hills 25 miles south of the second largest city. It is across the famous Ho Chi Minh trail, the chief north and south pathway for infiltrators.

It centers around old French-built fortifications and remains in some ways an American 19th century fort against the Indians on the Wyoming or Montana frontier.

The "ranch" covers some 80 square miles in which 3,000 Montagnards or mountain tribespeople, till their farms and dwell in a dozen closely grouped hamlets. The LBJ Ranch is the last of a dozen American outposts in the area, with a strike force of 375 native troops who make up a miniature U.S. Army. They consist of the hillbilly Montagnards and Vietnamese and 20 Nung, who are Chinese minority soldiers.

The Nung get roughly $40 a month each, paid for by Uncle Sam. That is about three times what the other native troops earn. But they win high praise from the Americans here.

"They are real good troops — about the best you could ask for," said Lt. Charles A. Carroll, commander of the Army Detachment (ADT) at Waterloo, N.Y., which is the main supply and mail center for the area. The first thought of the Nung is to cover the American.

Under Hicks, no American has been killed, but a number of Viet Cong have.

"We run continuous local patrols. Air strikes have been a real help to us in these hills," Hicks said.

"We estimate that there are two companies of enemy in the area, and we feel that our presence here has forced them to retreat. We are using the Ho Chi Minh trail."

The U.S. Army Special Forces teams work almost as hard helping the villagers as in fighting the enemy. Sgt. Chuck Bartley of Fayetteville, N.C., a medical adviser, has set up a clinic.

When I visited his clinic, a native woman was moaning softly from the pain of a bullet wound in her calf.

"As no bone was broken I can take care of it here," said Bartley. "These people haven't had much done for them in their lives. They appreciate any help you give them."

Horace is a crossed Poland China and Hampshire boar improved at great effort to improve the local breed of pig.

Daisy Now 'In' Spot For Stars

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — On Academy Award night, Rex Harrison, choosing his best actor Oscar, came to the Governor's Ball at the Beverly Hilton.

He dutifully posed for all the photographers and then grabbed his wife, Welsh actress Rachel Roberts, and hurried off to the Daisy. There he met most of the other Oscar winners along with most of the top names in town.

The Daisy is the movie colony's new "in" spot — a discotheque where movie stars frolic, swim and waltz.

There's one difference between the Daisy and such Sunset Strip waltz palaces as the Whiskey a-Go-Go and Crows. It takes a $500 membership fee to get inside unless you know someone who is a member.

Jack Hanson, a sportswear manufacturer, founded the Daisy some months ago. The original Romanoff restaurant, in the heart of Beverly Hills, was vacant.

Hanson reasoned the movie crowd would appreciate a place where they could let their hair down and get away from the glare of autograph seekers. He stepped up with a membership major premiere turnout.

On a given night after 10 p.m. you can see Eddie Fisher, Dean Martin, Frank Sinatra, George Hamilton, Tony Quinn — and all the British crowd — dancing with such lovelies as Natalie Wood, Jane Fonda, Tuesday Weld, Arlene Dahl and Stella Stevens.

For those who don't dance, there's a pool room. But beware of Peter Falk. He's the town hound. So is Lee Remick, who no longer does his waltz on the Las Vegas strip, but has a third-base coaching job.

Phony Murder Proves Costly To Pranksters ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An elaborate prank in which they staged a fake murder scene with a plot of human blood turned into a nightmare for three Emory University students who found themselves the object of a police manhunt.

Police diagnosed the grisly scene found last Wednesday in an Emory dormitory television lounge as a hoax, but conducted an extensive investigation anyway. They were hot on the trail of the three students when the culprits decided to confide Tuesday.

The latest proposal for sewer work on Kenney St. area without charging present residents of the area for the project has hit upon a technical snag — it may be unconstitutional.

Board Hears Debate On Yules' Dismissal

All three Republican town directors expressed concern last night over whether the Housing Authority was acting in the best interests of the town when it dismissed Atty. Herman Yules as its director of development last month.

Their criticism ranged from Harold A. Turkington's charge that the dismissal was "a purely political decision" to Brian Taylor's stated fear that the authority's action is damaging to the town's image and would make it more difficult to get responsible people to work town commissions.

HRC Seeks New Quarters For Senior Citizens' Use

The town board of directors will meet on June 1 to consider a recommendation by the Human Relations Commission (HRC) that the town purchase or lease more suitable quarters for the town's senior citizens.

The HRC last night approved reports from its subcommittee on race relations, pending the receipt of statistics from the Connecticut State Civil Rights Commission on the incidence of local housing complaints received in the past several years.

When the figures are known, the HRC, with the assistance of the Manchester Interfaith Social Action Committee, will propose for a healthy climate in Manchester, in providing housing for Negroes.

The HRC agreed last night to schedule a future meeting with representatives of the student council of Manchester High, East Catholic High and Cheney Tech.

Indians Are No-Hit As Conard Wins, 7-0

By PETE ZANARDI
Perfection was only a few innings away for Conard High's Skip Renison yesterday afternoon in West Hartford. The senior right-hander faced only 28 batters, issuing a pass to Mark Heller in the fifth, to defeat Manchester High 7-0. The Chiefs are now 2-2 in CCHL play while Manchester drops to 1-4. Renison carried the drama to the end for the favorite crowd that waited in anticipation. He struck out four in the fifth before getting him to ground out on the "shortstop. Seldom falling behind the hitter, Renison relied on a fast ball and shrewd curve to outdistance the strike out on the side in the third on 13 pitches. He is now 1-1 in this season and boasts a 0.88 ERA. It marks the third time this season the slumping Indians have been shut out. In their past two outings they have managed only one hit.

Pitchers held firm control over the first four and half innings. Manchester starter Duke Hutchinsom pitched the fourth when, with one out, two walks and an error led the bases. Another walk to Gerry Margolis forced in Conard's first tally.

Clinch at Least Tie for HCC Championship Ouhit 1-5, Eagles Win, 7-5 With Sheckley Star in Relief

By JOHN GOLDEN
Once again Coach Don Burns had to go to his bullpen and once again Barry Sheckley responded with a brilliant performance as East Catholic High defeated Plainfield High in New Britain yesterday, 7-5. The triumph, 10th in 11 starts for the Eagles, gave the locals no worse than a tie for first place in the final Hartford County Conference standings.

Sheckley came on in relief for starter Frank Kline in the seventh frame when the Genesis pitched for four runs and put out the fire. With four runs and one runner on second and third, the right-hander chalked up a strike out and got the win on a ground out.

It was Kline's fourth win against no losses. He fanned three and walked one. Skip Rustic whitened eight and passed off before being replaced in the sixth by Nick Maglio who walked one and struck out two.

The Eagles' first score in the second inning when Dennis Lynch walked, went to second on a passed ball, to three runs and scored on a bad throw. Two more runs came in the third as Co-Captain Mike Maglio opened the upper lip and consecutive walks to Tom Boyer and Ray LaCrosse led to bases. A fielder's choice then caught LaCrosse at second but scored Lynch and moved Boyer to second.

Kline opened the final inning by gaining first on an error by the third baseman and went to second on a fielder's choice. Rustic whitened eight and passed off before being replaced in the sixth by Nick Maglio who walked one and struck out two.

Red Sox Year Book Tops

Although the Boston Red Sox are not making any great advances as a solid contender for the American League championship, Publicist Bill Crowley has managed to pull out the finest club Year Book seen on the market. The 1965 Red Sox Year Book is a must for every Boston supporter and, there are still many in this area who have never seen it.

One of the writer's favorite ones he joined the organization as a publicist in 1964. When a change in managers was due, owner Tom Yawkey looked no further than Herman as his choice to lead the club.

The former brilliant second baseman with the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, has been around professional ball nearly 40 years as a player, coach and manager. For 10 years he was considered the best second baseman in the National League.

Once previously—in 1947—he has an opportunity to run a major league club, Philadelphia, but he has declined the offer.

The Red Sox Year Book is a must for Boston fans. It is a must for Boston fans. It is a must for Boston fans.

Radatz Looks Like Monster and Mouse Reliever Loses Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Mays' relief troubles with Hal Radatz riddling up the real Dick Radatz please stand up.

The Red Sox relief ace looked like the monster and the mouse at different stages of Tuesday night's series opener at New York and, unfortunately, the mouse won out and the Yankees triumphed 4-3.

Radatz, who was 5-0 lifetime against the Yankees, was called on to relieve a starter Dave Morehead in the ninth after Ray Barker hammered to make the score 3-3 Boston.

Radatz, then a surrendered series single that led the score and forced the game into extra innings.

The monster came to the fore in the 10th and 11th with the big relief troubles with Hal Radatz riddling up the real Dick Radatz please stand up.

Fireman Fisher Paces Hot W Sox

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Fisher is saving every game in the sixth inning except Hoyt Wilhelm's job. Fisher, quickly becoming one of the American League's best relief pitchers, appeared in another game Tuesday night and pitched the Chicago White Sox to their winning start at Kansas City.

The 28-year-old right-hander who pitched in the fifth inning with the help of three straight walks by Orlando Pena and Mike Drabowski's wild pitch, Ron Hansen capped the rally with a two-run single.

WHITE SOX-A's—The White Sox scored all of their runs in the fifth inning with the help of three straight walks by Orlando Pena and Mike Drabowski's wild pitch, Ron Hansen capped the rally with a two-run single.

Win, School Mark Set by Trackmen

Victory has arrived for the Manchester High track team. Annual dual meet and school records set by both squads, Manchester beat Windham High, 68-54, yesterday afternoon at Memorial Field in a CCHL meet.

New school record belongs to the 800-yard relay team of Bob Dumas, Dave Bottorson, Dick Frothingham and Les Dowd. They marked the distance in 1:32.9, bettering the former record set in 1961 by half second.

Manchester's Bob Knight in the two-mile and Bob Nathan in the high jump, both Windham's victory in the triple jump was also a meet record.

Chuck Fless won all three weights and all three events. William and Dumas were also double winners.

Alumni League Outfield Boys Tryout Tonight

Alumni League tryouts for 15-year-old outfielders get underway at the West Side Oval tonight at 6. There is still a need for at least one more coach and anyone interested should report tonight.

Plans are being made to field an eight league team this year and all new teams must be chosen by coaches bidding on players.

All boys interested in playing must make every effort to attend at least one of the remaining tryouts. The final session will be Friday.

Streaks Snapped in Bobcat Win, Rockville and Coventry Victors

Bobcats needed to end a three-game losing streak. Stan Blominskiy made his first start for the Bobcats, leading the visitors to three wins in five games. His record is now 1-1.

Rockville High added some security to its perch atop the Central Valley Conference with a 7-0 win over Windsor and Coventry High defeated Portland 2-1.

SOUTH WINDSOR — Bob Hill's run producing double in the seventh inning was all the difference.

Dodgers Building Reputation Late Inning Terrors, Break Up No-Hitters

NEW YORK (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers are building a reputation as late-inning terrors. That's when they break up no-hitters.

Dodgers probably stand a better chance of holding the National League lead than Houston's Ken Johnson does of breaking even on no-hitters.

Johnson, who already has eight no-hitters, was broken up by a pinch runner in the eighth inning. He was hit by a pinch runner in the eighth inning.

Tebbets Gets New Contract And Security with Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—George Robert (Birdie) Tebbets, a baseball manager with a philosophy degree, has a fringe benefit of his contract with the Cleveland Indians' General Manager.

Manager Tebbets said he was signed to a new contract through 1966 and that he will give additional security to himself and his family.

"I believe that giving him my security as possible," said Tebbets, "is a healthy thing to do for the Indians."
