US Stand Unchanged Despite Viet Shakeup

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor heads back to Saigon tonight with U.S. determination to the Vietnam Southeast Asia unshaken by rising political and military pressures. The latest word from Saigon Friday night was that Quattrone, chief of the Legation, will be resigning. Some sources said it was likely, however, the military men might ask the three to stay on a caretaker capacity until a new governing body could be formed. Taylor and other government leaders appeared far more concerned with the military test with the Viet Cong developing during the current rainy season. Taylor predicted sharp fighting over the next two weeks. Other officials predicted substantial casualties would be inflicted by both the Vietnamese and the Communist forces. While there are more than 50,000 American troops now in South Vietnam and the number will be rising, authorities said this includes only 13,000 American combat troops and about 7,000 Air Force combatants. This number was contrasted with the 500,000 Vietnamese regular army and paramilitary forces. The remainder of the American forces are in the north.

Naval School Will Be Led By Kauffman

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—An admiral who fought in the French army and British navy after the U. S. Navy refused to commission him because he was nearedged became superintendent of the U. S. Naval Academy today. Rear Adm. Draper L. Kauffman, 54, who won decorations from the French and British and returned to lead the U. S. Navy frigates in World War II, succeeded Rear Adm. Charles B. Minter Jr. as the 44th head of the service school. Minter, who at 80 completed a tour as one of the academy's youngest superintendents, will join the Paris staff of Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, supreme allied commander in Europe. He had been superintendent since January 1964, and for 2 1/2 years before that was commandant of the 4,000-man brigade of midshipmen. Kauffman, of San Diego, Calif., was graduated in the academy's class of 1938 but had to make it by an unauthorized route to flag rank in the regular Navy. Half of his class was not commissioned because of the Vietnam war. He was promoted to admiral in 1962. He was in the Pacific during the Vietnam war. He was in the Pacific during the Vietnam war.

Hectic Social Schedule Awaits White, McDivitt

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—McDivitt and White. They had been given a choice of receiving the presidential congratulations at the center of the LBJ Ranch. They chose Houston so fellow employees at the center could share the congratulations. Johnson's announcement of the on-the-spot promotions brought shocked expressions to the spacemen and their wives. The astronauts became major only last December. White speaking before 4,000 space center employees who gathered under a hot Texas sun. Johnson also promoted Air Force Capt. Harold Cooper and Virgil I. Grisson to lieutenant colonel. Grisson was command pilot of the first manned Gemini mission. Cooper is scheduled to command a seven-day mission in late August. The promotions came after McDivitt and White relived their space feats during a two-hour news conference televised and broadcast nationally. White said he had no sensation of falling when he stepped from the aped Gemini capsule for his walk 16 miles above the earth. "It will try to describe it as best I can to you," said White in answer to a newsmen's question. "The sensation of falling. There was very little sensation of speed other than the same type of sensation that we had in the capsule, and I would say it would be very similar to flying over the earth from about 20,000 feet. You can actually see the earth moving underneath you. I think I slipped out of my seat as close as I can give it to you. I am sorry I can't give you a feeling of falling or anything, because it just wasn't there." White got a glimpse view of the world because of the gold

Motorist Shot By Hitchhiker

HAMDEN (AP)—A young hitchhiker early today shot the driver who had given him a ride, police said. The driver, whose name was not disclosed, was hit in the arm. He was treated at a hospital and released. Police said the driver picked up the youth in New Haven. When they reached Hamden, the youth said, "Stop and let me out." He got out of the car, pulled a pistol and fired, hitting the driver. As the motorist sped off, the youth fired again and missed. The motive was unknown.

Only Indians Calmly Greet Lynda Bird

GRASSHOPPER, Ariz. (AP)—There has never been any fully rugged Apache country and the spirit of ancient Indian warriors probably are wondering what is going on. There are Secret Service men in Ivy League garb who gaze suspiciously at newsmen and photographers. There are college professors who peer suspiciously at every one. And there is Lynda Bird Johnson, the President's 21-year-old daughter, who is trying unobtrusively to be just another college student. She is Johnson and 20 others began today to pry into the mysteries of an Indian pueblo near the mouth of the Colorado River. Few of the 800 Apaches in the village were excited about the houses together, tumbled cars, uprooted trees and left railroad track laid yesterday. Thirteen are known dead in the tragedy. 13 Dead, 18 Missing After Texas Floods

SANDERSON, Tex. (AP)—Thirteen persons were swept to death Friday when a 15-foot wall of water roared through this small far West Texas town. Eighteen other persons were missing after the flood struck without warning. State police said the death toll was almost certain to mount. An 11-inch cloudburst sent water gushing 4 feet deep through sludge-like Sanderson Canyon, demolished 75 houses and a dozen business places, and isolated this far West Texas town for hours Friday. Ironically, the rainfall in this arid spot averages only 18 inches a year. As roads were slowly repaired, police officers from 18 counties gathered to hunt on horseback for the missing. The raging flood waters, although ebbs swiftly, confused efforts to locate the dead by washing at least two bodies from graves in the Sanderson cemetery. Three hundred homes were left as shanties in a grade school. Up to 200 others were taken 45 miles north to Fort Stockton over the first route cleared. The sun reappeared to start drying soaked ruins as quiet help began arriving in late afternoon. Two and three feet of mud silt in ruined homes and streets heaped 8 to 10 feet tall. Ripped up railroad tracks and mangled automobiles, railroad cars and all sorts of wreckage, cluttered the scene. The flood was 200 yards deep and carved along the course of a normal dry creek in a canyon. It was 200 yards deep and carved along the course of a normal dry creek in a canyon. Woman Plans Sail Solo Across Ocean

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sharon Sites says she is sailing to Hawaii today—alone. She hopes to cross one of the world's widest stretches of open sea in a 25-foot sloop. The instructor who taught her to sail tried vainly to talk her out of it. The U. S. Coast Guard advised her the intended voyage was extremely hazardous, and recommended she abandon the plan. Mrs. Sites, a 34-year-old divorcee, couldn't be awayed. She loaded the little sloop with enough food for 60 days and enough water for 90, and set sail for Hawaii. She isn't carrying any gasoline for her little inboard engine because it would take up too much room. She won't carry any kind of radio gear on the 2,300-mile voyage. "I don't really need a radio," she said. "I don't particularly want to talk to anyone. I just want to be alone on the ocean, just to two-thirds its original size." In 1850, when California gained statehood, the waters of the bay covered 675 square miles. Filling operations have reclaimed some 600 square miles of the original total. With the burgeoning population growth of the area around the bay, whose shoreline has been extended by levees and dikes, the bay's original size is being reclaimed. Just south of San Francisco, a new 3,000-acre city for 30,000 residents is nearing completion on what used to be water.

Liquor, Sports Bills Vetoed by Dempsey

HARTFORD (AP)—Two liquor bills and a bill that would have permitted sports events to be held Sunday mornings have become the first measures passed by the 1965 General Assembly to be vetoed by Gov. John Dempsey. Dempsey said Friday he signed the major fiscal bills that cleared the legislature during the final 24 hours of the session. Dempsey vetoed a bill that would have increased the present statutory provision prohibiting a minor from entering a tavern. At the same time, he said, the bill would increase the penalties for serving minors. "The people of Connecticut are deeply concerned about the critical problems which result from the use of alcoholic beverages by minors," Dempsey said. "Any bill which might tend to weaken the present restrictions on such a use, or which increase the exposure of minors to the risk of drinking, will have an unwholesome effect on the moral tone of our society."

Terrorists on Probation, Ordered into Social Work

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Three North Haven boys, who pleaded guilty to terrorizing a family they mistakenly believed was racially prejudiced, have been sentenced to probation. Superior Court Judge Louis Shapiro ordered the three—as a condition of their probation—to do social work. "I want each one to take part in some form of community activities—volunteer work, help out in some way," Shapiro said. "I want them to be a part of the community." Shapiro said he had taken into account the fact that none of the boys had a prior criminal record. He said he had also considered the use of community service. He had been older, he said, he probably would have sentenced them to prison. Shapiro said he hoped the three would be a part of the community. Danish Beer Flows Again, Strike Ending

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Danish brewery workers voted today to end a strike that has cost the government $300,000 in taxes a day for six weeks. The vote ended the longest walkout in the Danish beer industry. Work will be resumed Sunday but beer will not be available in stores or restaurants until Thursday. The workers struck to end a 1964-65 tax increase of 15 cents more an hour. The brewers agreed to an increase of 13 cents. Tired Suspect Surrenders, Ends Manhunt in Midwest

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — "I'm tired of running. I want to surrender."

Duane Pope, 22 years old and fresh out of college, said it twice Friday, first to the president of his college and then in a telephone call to police. By surrendering, Pope ended a nationwide manhunt that began a week earlier when the president and two employees of a Big Springs, Neb., bank were shot to death during a holdup.

The FBI took charge of Pope shortly after his surrender and within 90 minutes had him in a jail in Kansas City. He then was transferred to the St. Louis office where he was held in a $100,000 bond.

The FBI would not comment on the manhunt, but it said about the June 4 robbery of the Farmers' Bank, "Bank was taken over about the deaths of the three employees and serious wounding of a fourth."

Pope called Dr. D. W. Bittinger, president of McPherson (Kan.) College, shortly after checking in at the St. Louis office. He said he had heard the St. Louis appeal that he surrender.

"He was reacting to what he could do and I told him to surrender," Dr. Bittinger said. "He also asked me what he could do and I told him to surrender."

Minutes later, police dispatched to the St. Louis office to get Pope apparently had traveled extensively since he drove his 1959 Buick convertible to Wichita some time before Monday, he said. Pope had been in Dallas, Texas; Tijuana, Mex.; and Las Vegas since then. Pope was

BOY SCOUT Notes and News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democratic senators have urged creation of a national teachers corps to make experienced teachers available to schools in poverty-stricken rural and city areas.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Clifford P. Case, N.J., proposed inclusion of the corps in the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, which provides for a $200 million federal education fund.

The boys will attend a ceremony Saturday night at the Corey Street Boys' Club, east of the city.

The following were elected leaders for the coming year: Scoutmaster, John J. O'Connell; Assistant Scoutmaster, Jack P. O'Connell; Troop Leader, Robert J. O'Connell; Scoutmaster, John J. O'Connell; Assistant Scoutmaster, Jack P. O'Connell; Troop Leader, Robert J. O'Connell.

Shainwold on Bridge

WASHINGTON (AP) — A two-week-long examination of financial records of the Shainwold family was completed Friday.

West opens the deuce of spades, and the king of spades. The bridge player takes a dummy's Jack. This is wrong because the spade finesse has no real bearing on South's best play.

Both right the spade fines, he is dead. East wins with the king of spades and promptly cashes the ace of clubs to defeat the contract.

Even if West had the king of spades, South would still have to take the ace of clubs to make the contract.

The correct play is to first the ace of spades to play the king and return a heart to the ace of spades. This would allow South to take the ace of spades and the king of hearts, and then the ace of clubs to make the contract.

Town Seeks to Aid Business Affected by Road Widening

Businessmen along the Wilbur Cross Highway who may be affected by the forthcoming highway widening project have been invited to discuss their problems with town officials.

In a letter to about a dozen commercial and industrial enterprises, Mayor Francis J. Mahoney says:

"We appreciate the problems that the widening of the highway will cause you. We are planning to have a meeting with you to discuss this matter at your convenience."

It is our thought that we would have at such a meeting a representative of the Chamber of Commerce, the Town Planning Commission, and any other town official who might see to it.

Turner, leader of the Chamber of Commerce, the Town Planning Commission, and any other town official who might see to it.

Turnpike Open

Although construction is still under way, W. Middle Turnpike between Main and Riverside has been reopened to traffic.

Town police reported that detour signs are down and that there is sufficient room for traffic to move both ways on the street.

Construction will continue part way into next week, according to the public works department estimate, but the turnpike will probably remain open.

Mahoney has pledged a major effort by the town to retain existing businesses here and to attract new industry.

The town was caught by surprise last Dec. when it learned that the Pioneer Parachute Co. was considering a move from an old Cheney Mill building to a new site — perhaps out of town.

Pioneer has now settled on a Wilbur Cross Highway site in Manchester that will not be affected by the highway widening project.

Town officials meeting to discuss the widening of the highway with business leaders have agreed informally that the town should approach existing highway business and industry with a view to their needs and problems.

One Hurdle Remains for Mars Flight

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Mars-bound spacecraft Mariner 4 has only one technical hurdle to clear before its photographic fly-by July 14 is being guided on its 325-million-mile journey by the star Canopus. Monday at 8:50 a.m. EDT an electronic memory box aboard the 775-pound space vehicle will issue commands directed to give Mariner an improved fix on Canopus.

"All major systems are working fine so far," said a spokesman for the Jet Propulsion Laboratory. "If all goes well Monday, there may be no more scheduled events until the television camera is turned on July 14."

The space vehicle was launched last Nov. 28 from Cape Kennedy, Fla., on a mission to obtain the best pictures yet of the mysterious red planet. At noon Friday the laboratory reported that Mariner was 143,000 statute miles from earth and 8,022,303 miles from Mars.

"Because of its curving flight, the spacecraft has actually traveled approximately 290 million miles."

Quartet Steals Bars of Gold Worth $164,000

LARDER LAKE, Ont. (AP) — Four armed, masked men overpowered a railroad station agent in this remote northern Ontario community Friday and made off with five gold bars worth $164,000, police reported.

The bars were believed to have been hidden in a float-equipped plane that took off from Larder Lake, about three hours from the Ontario-Northland Railway station.

The bars were awaiting shipment to the Canadian mint in Ottawa, S.C. The bars were taken from a float-equipped plane that took off from Larder Lake, about three hours from the Ontario-Northland Railway station.

Drawing the Young, Sloughing Them Off

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Company, highly conscious that much of its current success is due to its large audience of young people, makes special efforts to attract them.

On June 28 it will completely overhaul — with a new name, new characters, new viewpoint, even new title — one of its daytime serials, "Flame in the Wind," specifically to attract more young housewives.

When its "12 O'clock High" returns next fall in an earlier time period it will have replaced its star — Robert Lansing playing a general — with Paul Burke playing a major. The switch was dictated by the network's theory that the added young viewers of the World War II drama would identify closer to a more boyish-looking officer of lesser rank.

On the other hand, NBC appears to be actively engaged in sloughing off some of its younger fans.

Next week, for instance, it moves its early evening rock 'n' roll hour, "Hullabaloo," to the end of its Tuesday night prime-time schedule, a late hour for kids on the East and West Coasts.

The most drastic switch comes next season when "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." is plucked from its popular early Monday evening spot and stuck in a 10 p.m. time period of Fridays.

Protest letters by the thousands are flooding the network and the MGM studios which produces the James Bondish series. Young viewers, particularly in the 7 to 12 age group, (the show's most avid fans) are complaining sadly that they are not allowed to stay up that late, even on Fridays.

Not all the protests come from the kiddy audience, however. Among the outpouring in one, signed by 2,000 "UNCLE" fans complaining that Friday is a popular bowling night. One college fraternity reported angrily that it had already changed its meeting night so members wouldn't miss the show, but couldn't do it again.

The series, incidentally, is this season's big rags to riches show. After it made its debut last September opposite Red Skelton and "McHale's Navy" — both popular with the kids — it was pronounced a failure as its ratings hit close to the bottom of Nielsen's list and its principal sponsor wanted out. It was shifted into a Monday night spot receiving the most dramatic boost in ratings since "Bonanza" several years ago was taken out of the shadow of "Perry Mason."

Addams Addition

NEW YORK (AP)—ABC's "Addams Family" will be enlarged over the summer and so, presumably, will be the take-home pay of Carolyn Jones. Miss Jones plays Morticia Addams, the vampire-type brunette housewife. Next season she will also take on the new role of Morticia's older spinster sister who has been named Ophelia Frump.

Terry-Thomas, the British comedian, explains his use of the hour-glass in gambling in a scene from ABC's "Everybody's Got a System," a light treatment of the gambling urge, Friday 8:30-9:30 p.m.

Secret Agent with Bad Memory

NEW YORK (NBA) — A man who said his name is Don Adams came to New York to talk about his NBC series, "Get Smart." Set for next season, it is predicted by those in the know to be the comedy hit of the year.

The only trouble is, the man admitted he can't remember anyone's name, so we only have his word for it that he is Don Adams.

He is easily recognizable to fans of "The Bill Dana Show," where he was known as the inept house detective, Byron Glick. In "Get Smart," he will be Maxwell Smart, a bumbling Bond-type secret agent.

"Byron was funny but unbelievable. There was absolutely no reason why he should have been kept in the employ of that hotel. He should have been fired in three seconds. Smart is a secret agent for the government, and while he is a bumbler, there are some things he does very well. He's a karate expert, he fights great, he's a sharpshooter, and he's physically capable of dealing with enemies."

The average man, Don feels, might identify with the tough, capable guy in the Sean Connery-Humphrey Bogart mold, but given his own chance to perform heroic deeds, "he's going to fall over the furniture and be a little clumsy."

Adams is a perfectly capable, bright human being, but, as an average man, he has a few problems. For instance, his wife is expecting their first child at the end of June, the same time Get Smart goes into production. Because she and Don are New Yorkers, temporarily residing in California and because she has family back East, it has been decided that she will stay in New York until after the baby is born.

So she preceded her husband to New York. "I don't like to fly and I can never sleep on a train. So, when I left Hollywood, I decided to take some sleeping pills along. In the medicine cabinet I saw a bottle of red pills and they looked right. So I boarded the train, had dinner, took a pill and never closed my eyes. So I took another one. My eyes popped open wider and my tongue got all dry and I got very thirsty. I never got any sleep.

"The next night I decided the pills didn't work one at a time, so I took two at once, and the symptoms were worse than ever. When I got to Chicago, I called Dorothy and told her I hadn't slept. 'You should take sleeping pills,' she said. 'I did,' I said. 'Where did you get them?' she asked. 'In the medicine cabinet,' I told her. 'Were they red?' 'Yes.' 'You were taking my pregnancy pills,' she said.

"Then I got on the train in Chicago to come to New York. Now, I like room to move around, so I take adjoining bedrooms. I got on at night, and the porter had made up beds for an army. Everywhere I looked, there was a bed and no room to move around."

A man from NBC came over to say hello to Don, who couldn't remember his name. When he left, Don said, "That wasn't my father, was it? Dad gets so upset when I don't remember him."

Serenity on Ponderosa As One Goes a-Teaching

By BOB THOMAS
Hollywood (AP)—All in serenity at old Ponderosa as "Bonanza" plunges into its seventh year of filming, without the services of Pernell Roberts.

Long the dissident member of the Cartright clan, Roberts pulled out when his contract ended last season. That left Lorne Greene, Dan Blocker and Michael Landon to mind the ranch. They're managing quite well, says Mike.

"It's a heavier work load for the three of us this season," said the actor, the handsome Little Joe of the series. "But it's worth it. There is harmony on the set now."

Mike, the youngster (age 28) of the Cartwrights, and his costars were awarded a raise for the new season—from $4,500 to $10,000 per show. Plus payments for replays.

The new contracts extend for another six years. If options extend "Bonanza" to a full dozen years, the surviving trio could well be millionaires.

"It's great for an actor to have that kind of security," Landon said. He had personal doubts that the series would go the full route, since NBC may one day become anxious to cash in on the lush syndication market. The economics of television are such that it sometimes pays to take a series off the network to profit from replays in the daytime or on local stations.

"But I think we're good for a little while more," Mike said. "This has been our biggest year in the ratings. Even if we lost 20 per cent of our audience, we'd still be No. 1."

What is being done to explain the absence of Roberts?

"We won't kill him off; that would be too hard on the kids in the audience," Mike said. "He'll just be off teaching school in the East somewhere. We'll manage."

Barry Goldwater in interviewed in NBC's "Meet the Press" tomorrow 6-6:30 p.m.

New Family

NEW YORK (AP)—When Shirley Booth and her comedy series go from NBC to CBS this fall, it may take a while to get accustomed to "Hazel's" new family situation.

She will be employed by another Baxter family—presumably the brother and sister-in-law of "Mr. B." But Don De Fore and Whitney Blake who played her family for so long will be missing. Bobby Bonbrack, who played their son, still will be around. It will be interesting to note how they explain the complete disappearance of his television parents.

'I Don't Know, but...'

NEW YORK (NEA)—Sketcher Henderson, composer, pianist, performer and sportsman decided he would also like to be a business man. So he formed Clef 10 Productions, to turn out music for radio and television commercials, a field he feels has retrogressed. "Cinematography is on an elegant plane, but the music is the last thing the producers think of. And when they do think of it, they want the kind of music that won't get in the way of the message."

Berkeley Rebels Studied by CBS

"The Berkeley Rebels," those University of California students who have focused national attention on the resurgence of political activism on campuses across the country, will be the subject of a CBS program Monday from 10-11 p.m.

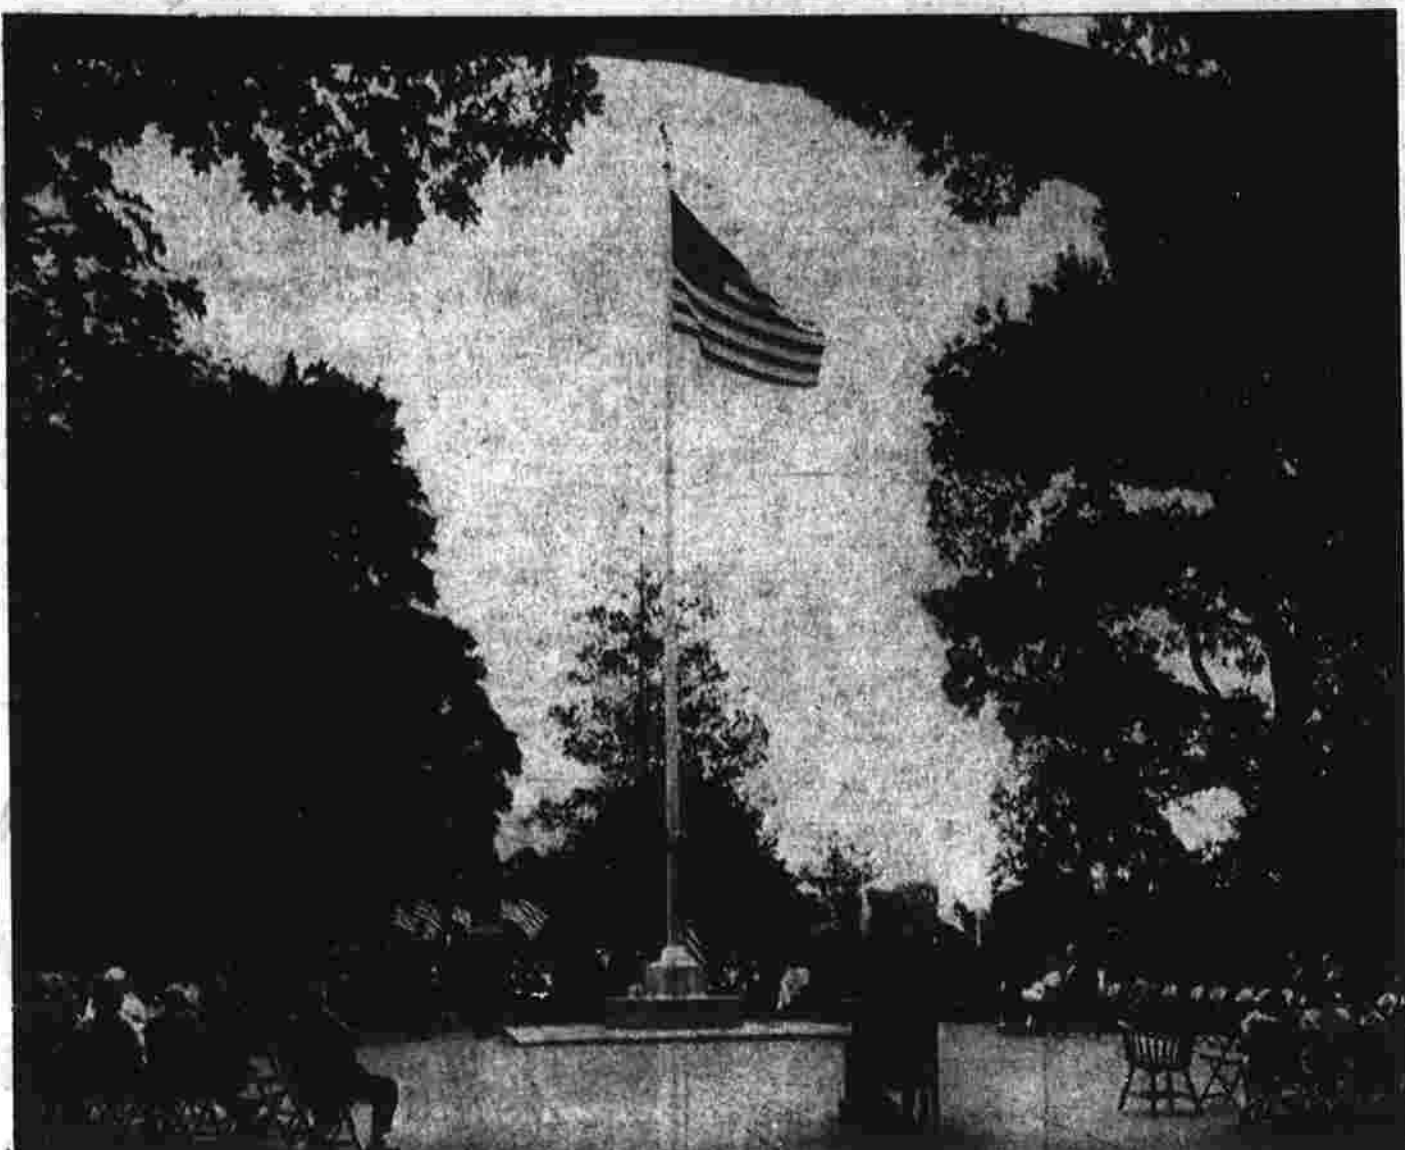

Harry Reasoner is the reporter for the broadcast, which examines the new breed of college student — restless, articulate, outspoken and militant — whose attitudes on politics, morality and society have created a new American controversy.

The story of "The Berkeley Rebels" will be told by focusing on the words of four members of the protest movement which has rocked the University of California campus at Berkeley for the past 10 months.

Viet Rangers Find Bodies of 100 Men

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese rangers combing a rubber plantation just north of the shattered town of Dong Xoai found the bodies of about 100 government troops today, the remains of the 7th Airborne Battalion, a U.S. military spokesman announced. Dong Xoai was reported quiet but braced for more trouble from the Viet Cong. As the rangers moved through the French-owned Michelin rubber plantation a few miles north of Dong Xoai they found an assortment of grim relics left behind by the Viet Cong, among them the wreckage of a U.S. Army helicopter and a U.S. Army man's identification tag. U.S. authorities announced "at the request of the Vietnamese government elements of the 173rd U.S. Airborne Brigade have moved to Phuoc Vinh to protect the airfield and aircraft there. Phuoc Vinh is the main airfield for the Dong Xoai area. The U.S. paratroopers had been expected to move from there into the Dong Xoai conflict but the Vietnamese commanders were reluctant to ask for them. The Viet Cong mounted a number of attacks and ambushes in various parts of Viet Nam today, all the way from the 17th Parallel to the southern tip of the nation. Ninety American and Vietnamese planes hammered targets in North Viet Nam in a series of separate raids. Twenty U.S. Air Force jet bombers escorted by 30 other jets attacked the Ban Xom Lam barracks 70 miles southwest of Hanoi. Five buildings were reported destroyed and 10 heavily damaged. Forty-two planes hit three areas of the Ba Bon army barracks 80 miles north of the demilitarized zone, U.S. spokesmen said. Vietnamese pilots claimed 70 per cent destruction of 38 buildings in one target area. American pilots reported at least one building destroyed and one damaged severely. Pilots of four U.S. Air Force Thunderchiefs reported cratering the approach to a bridge about 30 miles south of Hanoi and leaving another bridge sagging about 10 miles south of Vinh. U.S. Navy planes from the carrier Midway attacked a three-span steel bridge about 150 miles south of Hanoi. Pilots reported they destroyed the center support structure and the bridge collapsed. Wrong Answer

CANTON, Ill. (AP) — The owner of a service station may be short one regular customer today because he took time to give Sophronia a shower. Sophronia is a baby elephant. The 87-degree heat was making Sophronia unhappy, so her driver, an employe of Mills Brothers Circus, pulled into Al Turt's service station yesterday. "Would you give Sophronia a shower?" the driver asked. Turt was cooling off the circus star when his telephone rang. He asked an assistant to answer and have the caller wait. The aide returned to tell Turt: "She got huffy and hung up." "What did you say?" Turt asked. "I just said you were out watering the elephant."

Chicago Celebration Fetes U.S. Spacemen

CHICAGO (AP) — James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II, the Gemini 4 astronauts, came to Chicago today and were greeted by a tumultuous welcome. McDivitt, a native of Chicago, said he felt "very humble" and added: "We were just doing our jobs." The wives of the astronauts were handed large bouquets of red roses when they left the plane in which the party flew from Houston, Tex. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, making the official welcome talk at O'Hare International Airport, said: "No one is more deserving of plaudits than these two great Americans — astronauts, yes, but Americans first." They were whisked to the downtown lake front in open white cars. Waves of cheers from crowds five deep rolled along with them. "When I was a kid in Chicago," said McDivitt, "I never dreamed of a day like this. The last few days make me feel very humble. We were just doing our jobs." White, responding to greetings and handshakes at the airport, said: "We are very greatly honored to have the day with you. We are accepting it for the industry that created the spacecraft and the booster." There was no sign of a threatened demonstration by civil rights protesters as the official parade began on a section of Michigan Avenue north of the Chicago River known as "The Magnificent Mile." Sidewalks on both sides of the route were packed with people — thousands and thousands of youngsters of all ages. Thousands of flags fluttered from many points along the route, which included State Street and ended at City Hall after a home stretch up La Salle Street from Jackson Boulevard. The weather was perfect. The vice president, his wife, and their two sons flew in from Washington before the blue plane carrying the Gemini 4 crew arrived. Crowds gathered along the expressway route to the city, and on La Salle Street near City Hall, hours before the astronauts' cars were expected to pass. Many carried printed signs saying, "Chicago welcomes McDivitt and White." Flags and pennants festooned downtown streets on the parade route. After a special meeting of the City Council to confer honorary Chicago citizenship on McDivitt, White, and two officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Dr. George E. Mueller, associate director, and Charles W. Matthews, Gemini project manager, there was a luncheon for the boys. State Police estimates of the size of the search party ranged from 500 to 1,000 persons. The numbers dwindled to less than 50 after midnight. Shortly after midnight, State Police issued an appeal for volunteers to join the search when daylight arrived. "Any pair of eyes or any pair of legs is good," said Lt. Edward O'Brien. Stamford Begins Project to Stem Drug Addiction

STAMFORD (AP) — Mayor Thomas C. Mayers announced today that this city of 102,000 will launch a community-wide program for the prevention and treatment of drug addiction. Mayers said the program would be the first of its kind in the nation. He appointed a committee of 40 leading citizens to work on the program. The mayor said the program grew out of discussions with the staff of the Narcotics Addiction Service Center of Southwestern Fairfield County, which is located here, and with Members of KINAIID, a local organization comprised relatives of addicts, dicta. "Stamford has a growing narcotics problem," Mayers said. "The citywide experiment is an essential step we must take if we are ever going to stop the spread of drug use."

Congressional Ship Faces Rougher Sea

WASHINGTON (AP) — After more than six months of fairly smooth sailing, Congress is heading into shoal-infested waters that may wreck its plans to adjourn by Labor Day. Voting rights, union shops, foreign aid, health care for the elderly, minimum wages, closing of some military bases, legislative reapportionment, excise taxes, the antipoverty program and pay raises for military and civilian personnel are among the snags that lie ahead. Not even one of the dozen annual appropriation bills to finance the government for the fiscal year starting July 1 has been sent to the President, although most of them have cleared the House. Although publicly voicing confidence that all the necessary legislation can be disposed of by Labor Day, some congressional leaders already are considering a summer recess followed by a fall session. Such a recess is a distinct possibility for the House, which is legislatively in better shape than the Senate. Two of the major pending bills are on the Senate calendar this week. They are the foreign aid authorization bill and a measure which would cut or repeal emergency excise taxes. Both have passed the House, but Senate changes will require further House action. Only one major bill is on the House schedule this week. It calls for creation of a Cabinet level department of housing and urban development. The voting rights bill passed by the Senate after a curtailed filibuster has been approved with major changes by the House Judiciary Committee. It probably will be held up several more weeks in the House Rules Committee and is not expected to reach the floor before next month. The threat of another filibuster confronts it when it goes back to the Senate. A bill to prohibit state laws against union shops has been approved by the House Labor Committee but has not yet been considered by the Senate. It is being held up in the House pending action on separate legislation to protect Negroes' job rights. The whole subject may be dropped until next year. The health care bill, passed by the House more than two months ago, is bogged down in the Senate Finance Committee. The administration's bill to broaden application of the minimum wage law is in the hearing stage in the House Labor Committee. A package measure embodying President Johnson's anti-poverty program is gathering (See Page Two)

500 Seek Lost Boy In Oxford

OXFORD (AP) — Searchers picked their way through woods and over rocky slopes today, looking for a 2½-year-old Waterbury boy missing since early Sunday afternoon. Little James Damelio wandered away from his playmates at about 2 p.m. Sunday and hasn't been seen since. Two helicopters joined the search after daybreak but late in the morning the boy was still missing as a party of some 500 combed the area. "We're asking everyone who can to participate in the search," state police said today. Volunteers peared into the Jacks Hill section of Oxford Sunday night to augment a force of State and local police, civil defense workers and firemen in the hunt for the boy. State Police estimates of the size of the search party ranged from 500 to 1,000 persons. The numbers dwindled to less than 50 after midnight. Shortly after midnight, State Police issued an appeal for volunteers to join the search when daylight arrived. "Any pair of eyes or any pair of legs is good," said Lt. Edward O'Brien. Tired Commuter Buys Own Town

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) — In the sagebrush and jackrabbit country of lonely northeastern Nevada, Kenneth Krueger, a train-weary San Francisco Bay area commuter, found the little town of Currie — population 50 — for sale. It was just what he and his wife Jeanette had been looking for. So they bought it with their life savings of $85,000. Tuesday, Krueger and his wife will pull up stakes at their apartment here and point their station wagon east for Currie. The ex-suburbanites are assured of a cordial reception. Krueger, until last week motor vehicle inspector for Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. in San Francisco, automatically will become the town mayor, sheriff, fire chief, ranger, assessor and landlord. "That's because he not only bought the town's 75 acres but his few houses and businesses as well. Krueger and his wife will run the general store, the service station, a bar and a trailer park. Until 1900 Currie was a railroad for cattle and sheep growers. Now the livestock goes to market in trucks but Currie still caters to hunters and fishermen. It lies at the foot of the towering Goshute and Ruby mountains whose slopes abound in elk and deer and whose streams tumble with trout. A blink of the eye and you're past it on U.S. 93, 76 miles north of Ely. The Kruegers don't know exactly when they got the yen to flee suburbia. But, Krueger says, "five years ago, on our vacations, we began probing all the desolate areas of California. We were hunting for a spot where, if we wanted to make it as such, you could practically live the year 1859 all over again." For various reasons the land they saw in California didn't appeal. "Then we began going to Ne-

Artists Visit White House, Urge Caution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the art world gathered at a White House festival in their honor today, and right off there was public note of misgivings by some over President Johnson's foreign policy. Four poets and writers launched the day-long program by reading from their works in the historic East Room. The master of ceremonies, Mark Van Doren, himself a poet, noted with regret the absence of poet Robert Lowell, who declined an invitation because of his "dismay and distrust" of the administration's foreign policy. Van Doren said he had been troubled as to whether to mention the absence of Lowell, "who assumed that he could not enjoy public celebration without making subtle public commitments." But Van Doren said he decided to mention it "merely as honoring the scruple of a fine poet who, in his own terms, was 'conscience bound' to stay away." With Mrs. Johnson sitting in the audience of some 600, Van Doren said the honor the Johnsons were doing the arts is "what in our own fashion we propose to celebrate." He suggested that they get on (See Page Twelve)

Girl's Family Stunned Polio Victim Walks To Receive Degree

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Nancy Malinosky, 21, a polio victim confined to a wheelchair for 15 years, started practicing walking last January behind locked doors. Only a few close friends who helped her knew about it. My parents have done so much for me, I wanted to do it for them," she said. Her parents weren't told, she said, because she didn't want to build up their hopes. Nancy's determination paid off in a big way Sunday. She walked across the stage like the other 396 members of the Baldwin-Wallace College graduating class to get her diploma. "The stage is 33 feet wide — we measured it last February," said Nancy. "Last Tuesday I practiced on the stage. It was sort of uneven, but I was sure I could do it." Just to be on the safe side, she got word to Baldwin-Wallace President Alfred B. Bonds Jr. so that "if I got to him and he saw that I was shaky he would escort me the rest of the way." When her name was called as the top student in her class, Nancy rose and walked with measured steps. "I was so scared to remember much about it," she said later, but Dr. Bonds did meet her half way across and helped her the rest of the way. Then, while she rested on Dr. Bonds' arms, the auditorium gave her a five-minute standing ovation. Her mother, Mrs. Raymond Malinosky of Geneva, Ohio, cried for joy. "It was a real gift for us," said Mrs. Malinosky. She said Nancy was struck by polio when she was 6, had tried to walk a few steps then, but since had been confined to the wheelchair. Now that's she's walked this far, will Nancy keep trying? "I'm going to do as much as I can," she said happily. Nancy compiled a 3.8 average and plans to enter Drew University Theological Seminary in the fall to work for a bachelor of divinity degree. She is interested in a career in teaching and guidance counseling. (AP Photofax)

Graduations Today At Yale and Fairfield

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Commencement exercises at Yale and Fairfield Universities today wind up a busy weekend of college graduation ceremonies. Trinity College, the University of Hartford, Danbury State College, Southern Connecticut State College and Quinnipiac College held their year-end ceremonies Saturday and Sunday. The scheduled highlight of the Fairfield University program is the appearance of Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of Boston. Cardinal Cushing is to receive an honorary degree. Senator Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., Dr. William H. Conley, president of Sacred Heart University, and Dr. Henry W. Littlefield, president of the University of Bridgeport, are also scheduled to receive honorary degrees.
