Mets Nip Maoney in 11th

CINCINNATI (AP)—"That's baseball I guess," Jim Maoney said softly. "I can't compare this game to any other. It's by far the best I've ever pitched."

Maoney was slumped in his chair. He couldn't recall exactly how it feels to lose after pitching 10 innings of no-hit baseball Monday night against the New York Mets.

The no-hitter came to a sudden halt in the top of the 11th when pitcher Roy McMillan, a 250-hitter, slipped a towering, 2-2 pitch to Mets' catcher John Lewis. Lewis cracked a single moment after the home run was hit.

"Lewis hit a fast ball," Maoney said quietly, the sweat pouring off his overworked body. "I was just trying to keep the ball in on him and he got out just a little bit."

"He hit the same kind of pitch for a homer off me the last time the Mets were here."

What was going through Maoney's mind as the game wore on?

"I knew I had a no-hitter going and I wanted to pitch a no-hitter," he explains in excitement. "That's what I try to do every time I start a game."

Maoney then lifted himself painfully from the chair, headed for the clubhouse.

"I'd just as soon win ball games as pitch a no-hitter," he said. "I've pitched 100 no-hitters. In his first start this year, April 19, against Milwaukee, he gave up just one hit, a home run on the eighth to Denis Menke."

Maoney, now 33, tied Warren Spahn's 1952 record of most no-hitters pitched in extra innings. The fastballer walked Ed Knapick in the second inning and allowed Charlie Smith to reach on a wild pitch third.

The Reds had a chance to score a run in the fourth inning, but Yada Pison was cut down before the first extra inning. Maoney pitched three no-hitters. In his first start this year, April 19, against Milwaukee, he gave up just one hit, a home run on the eighth to Denis Menke.

Last year, the Fresno, Calif., native pitched for the Cardinals against the Mets, and in 1963 he pitched a no-hitter against the Chicago Cubs.

These are the people who decide which recommendations to make to Hartford and Manchester clients

Shown in the top picture are some of the officers and analysts who select the stocks they believe have the best chance of making money for Shearson clients. 350,000 Miles A Year These men are professional skeptics who spend untold hours in critical study of company reports, trade magazines and financial statements. They also get off their seats and out where the news is... into executive suites, plants and laboratories. Last year they traveled more than 350,000 miles and held more than 5,400 interviews with company executives. But even when a research analyst knows his field in exhaustive detail and has traveled thousands of miles in his studies of specific companies, still he does not make final recommendations on his judgment alone. His analysis is subject to a searching review by other Shearson executives operating from different vantage points.

Could you possibly devote that much care to analyzing your securities? Where Do You Come In? Gathered in the larger picture are the registered representatives responsible for putting Shearson's intensive security research to work for you and other investors in this area. These men are in constant touch, by private wire and telephone, with the research group at 14 Wall Street in New York. Training and Experience Shearson selects its registered representatives on the basis of education, successful business experience and other qualifications. They include men who hold advanced degrees in just about every field from accounting to engineering. Several have taught economics or finance. A few are lawyers. All have received special training as stockbrokers and passed the New York Stock Exchange's rigorous qualifying examination in order to become registered. Throughout their careers they benefit from a continuous program of guidance by Shearson's specialists in many areas of stock-brokerage and investment banking. Reaching Your Objectives Each man has dealt with many types of investors, helping solve many different investment problems. Each is qualified to make an objective appraisal of your financial situation and goals and assist you in building up a portfolio. Decide for Yourself Ask your manager which man he would consider best suited to work with you. Have a chat with the registered representative he recommends, take home some samples of our research reports and decide whether we offer the kind of investment services you want.

If you think we do, sit down with the registered representative again and establish a plan of action. And remember that he can do his best for you only if you are willing to confide the significant facts about your investment goals and finances. If you prefer, send for a copy of a full-color, 16-page booklet, "The Search For Profitable Investments", describing our research effort and services. You will also receive the latest edition of BUSINESS & SECURITIES, a monthly publication in which our Research Department surveys economic developments and the stock market picture and recommends specific stocks. Clues Lacking In Barkhamsted Woman's Murder

BARKHAMSTED (AP) — A suspect and a motive remain to be found today as State Police continue their investigation into the slaying of a young housewife. The bludgeoned body of Mrs. Dorothy B. Thompson, 30, was found on an electric appliance room on an unfinished porch at her home off Route 178 Tuesday night. The woman had been severely beaten about the head. The cord from an electric appliance room had been tightly wrapped around her throat. State Police said a trail of blood led from the kitchen to the edge of the porch, some 12 feet above the ground. The victim's husband, Arlin, 32, discovered the body after he returned home from his job as an accountant with a South Windsor brick company. Mrs. Thompson told State Police that during the afternoon she had heard thumps on stairs and had seen a man in work clothes in the back of the house. The victim's body was clothed and there was no indication that she had been sexually assaulted. An autopsy is to be performed today in Hagerford Hospital, Torrington.

Station Sale OK'd

NEW HAVEN RAILROAD NEW HAVEN (AP)—Federal court has granted the New Haven Railroad permission to sell its stations in Hartford and Stamford. The bankrupt carrier plans to sell the Hartford station to the Connecticut Co. for $280,000. The Stamford station would be sold to Transportation Plaza Inc. for $241,000. Approval of the proposals came Tuesday from U.S. Circuit Judge Robert F. Anderson, who is supervising the railroad's reorganization under the federal bankruptcy laws. The proposals must be approved by the State Public Utilities Commission.

Governor Signs Bills

HARTFORD (AP)—Of the approximately 80 bills passed by the recent session of the General Assembly, Gov. John G. Dempsey today signed 60 military bills. The governor signed 60 bills, among them one authorizing $500 bonuses for the 330 members of the legislature that assembled June 8. Another bill signed by Dempsey provides $1 million to the New Haven Railroad for the maintenance of rail crossings and bridges. Tuesday's output of signed bills exceeded by 10 the previous high for a single day signed by Dempsey. He has 145 days from the time bills reach his desk to act on them. A bill automatically becomes law if he fails to sign or veto it within the time limit.

Titan's Scheduled Launch Could Renew Old Rivalry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Watch for an old rivalry between the Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to flare anew if the upcoming first launch of a giant rocket called Titan 3C is successful. Titan 3C, most powerful yet tested, is standing on Pad 40 at Cape Kennedy, Fla., waiting for the launch, scheduled tomorrow. The 2½-million-pound thrust booster has been rejected by NASA as a manned vehicle. The Air Force, however, insists it will do military jobs much better than the Saturn vehicles being developed by NASA. Titan 3C could easily become the most controversial rocket in U.S. space history, especially if success gives Air Force friends in Congress and the Department of Defense new ammunition for undercover shabby shooting at the Saturn family of boosters scheduled to take men to the moon by 1970. National policy decisions so far have consistently relegated the Air Force to a secondary role in manned space plans—the

24 Americans Hurt In Dominican Fight

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Sharp explosions and gunfire echoed today in the heart of Santo Domingo, where a daylong battle Tuesday between rebels and U.S. troops left 21 Dominicans dead and 24 American paratroopers wounded.

Pope Names Archbishop For Chicago

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Pope Paul VI named a strong-willed priest with the build of a college football tackle to become archbishop of Chicago, the nation's largest Roman Catholic archdiocese. For John Patrick Cody, 57-year-old son of a farmer, his selection today was another honor in his rapid climb in the hierarchy of the Catholic Church. Less than four months ago Archbishop Cody was invested officially as metropolitan of the province of New Orleans, which has the largest per capita concentration of Roman Catholics in the country, when 85-year-old Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel died. Church sources here have long felt that the 5-foot-11, 220-pound archbishop was in line for the job had he not been a cardinal of the Church, and his selection as archbishop of Chicago increases that speculation. Archbishop Cody succeeds the late Albert Cardinal Cavanaugh, archbishop of Chicago, who has an estimated 2,200,000 Catholics.

Fit, Goldwater Throws His Hat Back into Ring

Speaking before an audience of 500, Goldwater appeared fit and energetic in a variety of questions. Growing his hat into the political arena Goldwater ended seven months of "just relaxing" in a motor tour of Europe. It was his first break from politics since he won a seat on the Phoenix City Council in 1948. He entered the race in 1964, and then sat back to see how badly he would be beaten. He not only won, but he led the "Barker Government" (Dick McFarland, the Senate majority leader, by 4,000 votes. He admitted riding on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's coat-tails. By January 1964, after spending four years traveling the country expressing his views, Goldwater announced he was a candidate for the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate. By early May, through

U.S. Issues Protest In Berlin Shooting

BERLIN (AP)—U.S. Ambassador George C. McGhee protested today the shooting of two West Berliners by East German border guards. He warned the Russians the United States will take measures to assure the protection of life and property in the U.S. sector. A German war veteran was shot and killed and his fiancée was critically wounded in the shooting Tuesday. McGhee said in a letter to Pyotr Abramov, Soviet ambassador in East Berlin, warning of U.S. measures. "We will hold the Soviet authorities responsible for whatever consequences may ensue from the actions of the East German authorities which give rise to such measures. There was no immediate word as to the nature of the strongest protests sent to the Russians in East Berlin by an American official in recent years. McGhee said would be taken. West Berlin officials expressed fears that rioting might break out Thursday at the Red wall as a result of the shootings. West Germany and West Berlin commemorated Tuesday the 12th anniversary of the anti-Communist revolt in East Germany. It will be a holiday and West Berlin officials have asked citizens to attend a rally at John F. Kennedy square in front of City Hall. McGhee called the shooting "senseless, cold-blooded brutality" resulting from a "concentration camp mentality" of the East German Communist regime. "The East German official news agency, ADN, said the couple were shot because they were trying to test the border security for the West Berlin underground organization. This version of the incident has been published in the Ullrich (East German party leader and head of state) regime, anxious always to cooperate by its inhumanity by reporting the 'big lie' technique of false. McGhee said, "Since it happened to be in Berlin on one of its periodic visits here, McGhee said he had investigated the matter fully. The facts are that this couple were on a harmless picnic on a pleasant June afternoon. Pretty Elke Martens, 22, was shot in the head and her fiancée, Herman Döber, 42, was killed while they were being on a picnic. (See Page Fourteen)

New Glitter For Capitol

HARTFORD (AP)—By next fall the dome at the State Capitol will have a new coat of gold glitter, worth $25,000 has been set aside for the job. To be done this summer, the Capitol dome will be repainted in the famous landmark. The dome was last gilded in 1942. This for the gilding job will be advertised within the next month. A spokesman for the Public Works Department said Tuesday. The East German official news agency, ADN, said the couple were shot because they were trying to test the border security for the West Berlin underground organization. This version of the incident has been published in the Ullrich (East German party leader and head of state) regime, anxious always to cooperate by its inhumanity by reporting the 'big lie' technique of false. UConn Victory; Bigger Budget, New Endeavors

STORRS (AP)—The trustees of the University of Connecticut were told today the university scored one of its most impressive triumphs in the state legislature this year. Dr. Homer D. Babbidge Jr., university president, said the UConn's operating budget for the next biennium by 20 percent, raising the 1965-66 general fund appropriation of $77.1 million to $93.8 million for 1967-68. Babbidge said he believed it was the biggest jump in operating budget in the state's history. (See Page Fourteen)

Apathetic Voters Decide On Convention Delegates

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Eighty-four delegates to the State Constitutional Convention July 1 after being elected Tuesday in a "phony" election were announced today. The election was apathetic: Only 7.16 per cent of eligible voters turned out in Hartford, 3.03 per cent in New Haven, 4.4 per cent in Waterbury and 2.2 per cent in Bridgeport. Critics of the election had predicted the turnout would be low. There was only one real choice in the election, they argued. A Hartford couple tried unsuccessfully to contest the GOP organization state in the First Congressional District. James F. Collins polled 1,210 votes, and his wife, Mrs. Christine Collins, received 3,660. The turnout held through the polls all pulled in the 10,000. The Collinses put up a genuine fight. Their names were on the ballot and they advertised their candidacy in newspapers. However, there was a flurry of written votes, particularly in Stamford, but no one did write-in names from Stamford, were covered to a depth of five feet by flood waters of the Danube. Saigon Bomb Just Misses U.S. Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A large Viet Cong force ambushed a government convoy of 15 miles southwest of Saigon today, apparently captured the American adviser with the unit and shot down a helicopter sent in to relieve the convoy, U.S. spokesmen announced. One of the American crewmen aboard the helicopter was killed and the other three were seriously wounded, the spokesman said. The helicopter reportedly exploded in the air and crashed. In another part of Viet Nam, two U.S. Air Force fighters collided and crashed, the spokesman announced. They said one pilot parachuted to safety and was picked up but may have been wounded. No one was seen parachuting from the other plane but it crashed in a field where the bomb went off. Two military jet transports they were to board landed a few minutes after the blast. In the convoy ambush southwest of Saigon, an estimated several hundred guerrillas attacked a unit of about 40 Viet-namite militia led by a district chief and his U.S. Army adviser. The district chief escaped during the fire fight, but the American was reported missing. The helicopter apparently was hit in a fuel tank by an incendiary bullet. Another helicopter evacuated surviving crewmen and the body of the dead American. In addition to the 34 Americans wounded in the airport blast, a Vietnamese 2nd Infantry and 1 French national were reported injured, a U.S. spokesman said. Other reports said two French citizens were hurt. Military spokesmen said 17 were Army personnel, 15 were Air Force men and two were Navy. The majority were released after treatment, the spokesman said, and the most seriously injured person appeared to be a Vietnamese who suffered a broken leg. (See Page Fourteen)
