These are the people who decide which recommendations to make to Hartford and Manchester clients

Shown in the top picture are some of the officers and analysts who select the stocks they believe have the best chance of making money for Shearson clients. 350,000 Miles A Year These men are professional skeptics who spend untold hours in critical study of company reports, trade magazines and financial statements. They also get off their seats and out where the news is... into executive suites, plants and laboratories. Last year they traveled more than 350,000 miles and held more than 5,400 interviews with company executives. But even when a research analyst knows his field in exhaustive detail and has travelled thousands of miles in his studies of specific companies, still he does not make final recommendations on his judgment alone. His analysis is subject to a searching review by other Shearson executives operating from different vantage points.

Could you possibly devote that much care to analyzing your securities? Where Do You Come In? Gathered in the larger picture are the registered representatives responsible for putting Shearson's intensive security research to work for you and other investors in this area. These men are in constant touch, by private wire and telephone, with the research group at 14 Wall Street in New York. Training and Experience Shearson selects its registered representatives on the basis of education, successful business experience and other qualifications. They include men who hold advanced degrees in just about every field from accounting to engineering. Several have taught economics or finance. A few are lawyers. All have received special training as stockbrokers and passed the New York Stock Exchange's rigorous qualifying examination in order to become registered. Throughout their careers they benefit from a continuous program of guidance by Shearson's specialists in many areas of stock-brokerage and investment banking. Reaching Your Objectives Each man has dealt with many types of investors, helping solve many different investment problems. Each is qualified to make an objective appraisal of your financial situation and goals and assist you in building up a portfolio. Decide for Yourself Ask your manager which man he would consider best suited to work with you. Have a chat with the registered representative he recommends, take home some samples of our research reports and decide whether we offer the kind of investment services you want.

If you think we do, sit down with the registered representative again and establish a plan of action. And remember that he can do his best for you only if you are willing to confide the significant facts about your investment goals and finances. If you prefer, send for a copy of a full-color, 16-page booklet, "The Search For Profitable Investments", describing our research effort and services. You will also receive the latest edition of BUSINESS & SECURITIES, a monthly publication in which our Research Department surveys economic developments and the stock market picture and recommends specific stocks. Clues Lacking In Barkhamsted Woman's Murder

BARKHAMSTED (AP) — A suspect and a motive remain to be found today as State Police continue their investigation into the slaying of a young housewife. The bludgeoned body of Mrs. Dorothy B. Thompson, 31, was found on an electric appliance room on an unfinished porch at her home off Route 178 Tuesday night. The woman had been severely beaten about the head. The cord from an electric appliance room had been tightly wrapped around her throat. State Police said a trail of blood led from the kitchen to the edge of the porch, some 12 feet above the ground. The victim's husband, Arlin, 32, discovered the body after he returned home from his job as an accountant with a South Windsor brick company. Mrs. Thompson told State Police that during the afternoon she had heard thumps on stairs and had seen a man in work clothes in the back of the house. The victim's body was clothed and there was no indication that she had been sexually assaulted. An autopsy is to be performed today in Hagerford Hospital, Torrington.

Saigon Bomb Just Misses U.S. Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A large Viet Cong force ambushed a government convoy, 15 miles southwest of Saigon today, apparently captured the American adviser with the unit and shot down a helicopter sent in to relieve the convoy, U.S. spokesmen announced.

Saigon Bomb Just Misses U.S. Troops

One of the American crewmen aboard the helicopter was killed and the other three were seriously wounded, the spokesman said. The helicopter reportedly exploded in the air and crashed. In another part of Viet Nam, two U.S. Air Force fighters collided and crashed, the spokesman announced. They said one pilot parachuted to safety and was picked up but may have been wounded.

Saigon Bomb Just Misses U.S. Troops

No one was seen parachuting from the other plane but it crashed in a field where the spokesman reported. Both planes were A1 propeller-driven fighters, which normally carry two persons. A terrorist bomb exploded in the civilian terminal building of the Saigon airport, injuring 24 Americans and at least 12 other persons, but 120 U.S. troops waiting a short distance away to board two jet transports for the United States were not harmed. None of the Americans were reported seriously injured.

Saigon Bomb Just Misses U.S. Troops

The troops, waiting to return to the United States, were a short distance away from the civilian terminal where the bomb went off. Two military jet transports they were to board landed a few minutes after the blast. In the convoy ambush southwest of Saigon, an estimated several hundred guerrillas attacked a unit of about 40 Viet Nam militia led by a district chief and his U.S. Army adviser.

The district chief escaped during the fire fight, but the American was reported missing. The helicopter apparently was hit in a fuel tank by an incendiary bullet. Another helicopter evacuated surviving crewmen and the body of the dead American.

In addition to the 34 Americans wounded in the airport blast, a Vietnamese 2 Indians and 1 French national were reported injured, a U.S. spokesman said. Other reports said two French citizens were hurt. Military spokesmen said 17 were Army personnel, 15 were Air Force men and two were Navy.

The majority were released after treatment, the spokesman said, and the most seriously injured person appeared to be a Vietnamese who suffered a broken leg.

Firmen Hurt

BRIDGEPORT (AP) — Two firmen were injured today during a blaze of undetermined origin which destroyed a section of the wooden understructure and deck of a bridge connecting Peasack Beach Island with Peasack Avenue.

The fire reported at 11:13 a.m., was brought under control shortly after 11:30.

Officials said a bridge tender discovered the fire after opening the roadway. The fire allowed troopers finished it off with 100mm recolliter rifles.

During most of the day's action American naval craft steamed close to shore and once appeared to be just outside the breaker at the mouth of the Ozama River. This gave rise to rumors that a fire in a customs house was started by shells from American ships.

Rebel soldiers said the fire were ignited by bazooka and mortar fire from the other side of the Ozama River where American paratroopers are entrenched.

The OAS mediation team said it had reports that armed civilians in the rebel zone "were setting fire to warehouses on the waterfront."

The U.N. Security Council scheduled a meeting on the Dominican situation this afternoon. The OAS mediation team was to meet with rebel leaders this morning.

Members of the OAS team are Ambassadors Ellsworth Bunker of the United States, Hilaro P. de Marinho of Brazil and Ramon de Clairmont Duenas of El Salvador.

DON'T FORCE OPPONENT TO MAKE WINNING PLAY

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Human nature being what it is, you produce a certain effect on your opponents. You bring out the best in some, the worst in others. Just don't go out of your way to make your opponent play well.

Opening lead—Two of Hearts. When this hand was played the South made a fatal mistake at the first trick. Hoping to conceal the location of the queen of hearts, declarer played the king of hearts from dummy. This compelled East to play the ace of hearts at the first trick. Deciding that he needed at least one diamond trick, East returned the deuce of diamonds at the second trick.

Now South was on the slide. East got in with the ace of clubs to cash two diamond tricks, thus defeating the contract. It was very accurate. Declarer and South had only himself to blame for it.

Better First Play

South had a better chance for his contract if he makes the right play at the first trick. When you want to win the trump, don't force your opponent to win the trick. Instead, South wins the first trick with the queen of hearts, draws trumps and leads the queen of clubs to force out the ace. South can then discard two diamonds on dummy's good clubs, limiting the diamond loss to one trick.

Answer: Bid one heart. You have only 11 points in high cards, but should count 2 points for the singleton. With 13 points you have an optimal opening bid, and can afford to bid since

Election Results

In the Constitutional Convention election yesterday 32 residents voted.

Senators received the most votes, at 91, among the Republican delegates. Jordan polled 57, Loran 56, Folsom 56, Patterson 56, Watson 54 and Wagner 53.

Thatcher received the most Democratic votes, with 44. McGaughlin polled 40, Sattii 39, Snow 33, Turpinian 33, Sullivan 40 and Woodhouse 42.

There were no write-ins.

According to election officials this was a heavier vote than expected and could probably be attributed to the fact that lower taxes were being collected at the same time. Residents stopped to vote at the Community Hall after paying their taxes in the Town Office.

How Johnson Became Veep Recalled in Fresh Account

NEW YORK (AP) — A version of how John F. Kennedy offered the 1960 vice-presidential nomination to Lyndon B. Johnson, and the role played in it by Robert F. Kennedy, has been published in a magazine in the version of a go-between.

The account was by the late Philip Graham, publisher of the Washington Post and chairman of the board of Newsweek magazine. It is in the current issue of Life, which reached the newsstands Monday.

Graham wrote that the late speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Robert Kennedy indicated that Johnson should withdraw from consideration as a second man on the ticket because there was opposition to him.

Graham relates how a series of phone calls between himself and John F. Kennedy, starting at about 2:30 p.m., culminated after an hour and a half in the definite offer by Kennedy to Johnson to be his running mate.

Graham also said Rayburn's original opposition to Johnson faded during the course of his telephone talks with John Kennedy.

He was chosen as go-between, Graham writes, because of his close friendship with both Johnson and John Kennedy.

Graham also included an account of Robert Kennedy's original offer to Johnson camp, which he said was related to him by Rayburn.

Graham wrote:

"Rayburn told me the details of Bobby's visit to offer the V.P. job. He said Bobby came in late in the afternoon and I had dinner with Rayburn (and I believe Connally) (Gov. John Connally of Texas), and yes, yes, yes, and then, 'Okay, here's what for the obvious.

"Bobby said he wondered if Johnson would like to be national chairman.

"...I answered 'Rayburn, that nomination to Lyndon B. Johnson, and the role played in it by Robert F. Kennedy, has been published in a magazine in the version of a go-between.

Younger Duchin Continues Father's Romantic Melodies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If they can make their way through the graduation celebrations these night, middle-aged musicians can enjoy a nostalgic experience at the Coconut Grove.

Playing melodic piano on the bandstand, just as his daddy did before him, is young Peter Duchin. As he hits through Chopin's nocturne in E flat, long-remembered listeners can close their eyes and picture the tall, patrician-looking Rocky Duchin, star of a gentler era in popular music.

Unlike some second-generation performers, Peter Duchin makes no effort to escape from the image of his famous sire. Some of his arrangements are the same that the elder Duchin played for young romancers who are now grandparents.

But Peter aims to please the young crowd too, and his band convert the dance floor into a swinging mass. A graduate of Yale and the U.S. Army, he has supplied modern music (2.5 million) long-selling band business, and he just might be able to help bring it back to health.

Duchin, 27 and with dashing good looks, explained how his enterprise has grown since his father's death less than three years ago.

"I found I was getting more bookings than I could handle, and many of them would be for me at a long distance away. It wouldn't have been economical to transport the orchestra that far for a one-night engagement.

"In the old days, MCA would book most of the orchestra, and this arrangement took them to Texas, and yes, yes, yes, and then, 'Okay, here's what for the obvious.

SANDERSON, Tex. (AP) — Workers uncovered the body of a 17th victim of Friday's flash flood, a small boy in an isolated yard Tuesday.

Authorities said he presumably was one of 16 persons listed as missing and presumed dead, but they had been unable to identify the child.

Nearly a foot of rain in Sanderson Canyon sent the flood hurtling through this far west Texas town, causing an estimated $2 million damage.

Rockville-Vernon Chamber of Commerce Expects to Meet Debts

The Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce met last night to discuss the financial development of the rural sections: develop and promote community-wide events to bring more people to the area; program to beautify the city and make the entire community more attractive to visitors and investors; develop a good government committee to review legislation, taxation and other governmental matters; create a revision committee to protect the resident and further the development of outlying districts, including Tolland and Billington. The chamber serves these towns in addition to Rockville and Vernon.

Aims of the project will be to promote the entire area as an economic community for industry, retail, professional and residential development. The project has been under investigation for several months. One chamber member, Carl Hewitt, owner of the Carousel Shop at Tri-City, resigned. His resignation was accepted and Hewitt will be contacted by members of the chamber's membership committee.

Hewitt formerly owned Blue's Music Shop at Main St., Rockville. He moved to the Vernon office area several months ago. Hewitt participated in chamber activities, and donated his mobile phone and facilities for chamber activities.

Rockville-Vernon Special Town Meeting Set Tonight on Funds Transfer

A special town meeting will be held tonight at 8 at town hall, and the meeting will probably be the last under Vernon's present government. A consolidated government will take over July 1, and town meetings will be held only to consider the annual budget.

At tonight's meeting, voters will be asked to authorize agreement to transfer $4,000 from the regional fund to the Rockville Public Library.

The funds, left over from the town's observance of the 250th anniversary, has remained in a special fund since 1959.

The late Judge Harry H. Jurg was chairman of the celebration, and he was also chairman of the library's organization efforts. The funds transfer is approved, will be sent to the library in his memory.

Also on the call of the meeting is a request for the town to accept $3,000 from business boys and Christians.

The money will be put into a special fund to defray future expenses of the correction of drainage problems.

Election will be asked to appropriate the sum of $3,000 to the town's question fund, and to accept the following roads: Frederic Rd., Meadowlark Rd., Evergreen Rd. and Winkler Rd.

$60 Million Road Complex Replaces Park in Waterbury

By SHERMAN LONDON
Waterbury American Writer
For The Associated Press

WATERBURY (AP) — Chase Park, just west of downtown Waterbury, has been transformed from a grassy hillside, with a swimming pool, tennis courts, playground and park house, into part of a huge highway program.

Close to $60 million is being poured into a massive interchange between Interstate 84 and Route 8 at what was formerly Chase Park. Another $20 million or so is going for construction immediately adjoining the interchange area.

By the end of 1966, or early in 1967, the East-West (Interstate 84) and North-South (Route 8) Expressways will speed traffic into and out of the city, making Waterbury a major crossroads of Western Connecticut. The interchange will be directly beneath it, and below that will be northbound traffic on Route 8 with a local street running along the ground beneath the three, southbound Route 8 traffic is slightly to the west, also on the ground, but along a hillside.

About half the concrete for the piers has been poured and the contractors are just starting to haul steel beams to the site.

U.S. Actions in Dominica May Bolster Latin Regimes

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Mexico City (AP) — The United States raised its good neighbor image by its military action in the Dominican Republic. The image now is tarnished in many Latin-American eyes.

But even so the Dominican crisis drags on, threatening to sour the long and hot war when it began, the end results for some Latin American are expected to be better than had been anticipated at the outset.

That depends on Latin American. Some cooperation for what ever loss of prestige the United States may have suffered from the Dominican intervention can come from a few unexpected results in Latin-American countries.

It all could be nullified, however, at any moment by one more crisis like the Dominican Republic on the next time a mainland country, such as Guatemala, for example, where such a crisis would hit with explosive force.

Barring such an explosion, however, some Latin-American governments seem to have been strengthened, to have more confidence than before in the face of extremist threats. Some have lately back-slanted Uncle Sam to the extent that noticeably more foreign policy independence may be developed.

One well-informed U.S. source says that would be all the good. The U.S. aim, he says, should be development of Latin American policies independent of United States and Communist groups. He contended that would help Latin politics on the road to more internal stability.

Feelings in Hispanic America were bruised by the U.S. military action in the Caribbean. Even in countries which supported U.S. efforts to raise anti-inter-American force the U.S. troop landings were condemned by some leaders. Some said it would give a new handle to extremists and a new point of attack from which to launch violence, ripple of fear ran through government and business circles.

What would happen now? Where turn would be next? If there were an explosion elsewhere, would the Yankees land troops? Surely there would be

Few Baseball Trades Made before Deadline

Yanks Tab Jake Gibbs To Return

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league baseball's trading deadline passed at midnight last night Tuesday with a flurry of minor player transactions and a raft of rumors, but no major deals.

The New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians, Los Angeles Angels and New York Mets are the teams making last-minute changes.

The Yankees brought up left-handed hitting catcher Jake Gibbs from Toledo of the International League and sent Bob Schmidt, a right-handed hitting catcher to the club.

Gibbs, who signed a $100,000 contract with the Yankees in 1964, had been with New York in 49 games, Schmidt, 32, had 20 in 20 games for New York.

Cleveland optioned two players and called up one from their farm club of the Pacific Coast League, professional catcher Phil Roof from the Mets. Roof had scored two homers and scored runners on veteran pitcher Dick Drott.

Outlooked for Portland were pitcher Billy Moran, the Indians recalled catcher Phil Roof from the Mets. Roof had scored two homers and scored runners on veteran pitcher Dick Drott.

Donovan, a 37-year-old right-hander, has been with the Yankees since 1949. He won 20 and lost 10. He was named to the team to make room on the Cleveland roster for right-hander Jack Spring, who was purchased from Seattle Monday.

Carson came to the Yankees in a three-team trade last winter. He had batted .281 in 1964 for the Mets while hitting .305 at Fort Rucker.

Roof, who was acquired for cash and a player to be named later, had played in only nine games for the Angels, before .186. Moran, a five-year veteran, had been with the Yankees since 1959.

Today's games: New York (Jackson 2-8) at Cincinnati (Trotter 0-8), night; Houston (Quast 4-3), night; Philadelphia (Pineda 2-5) at St. Louis (Lush 4-4), night; Philadelphia (Pineda 2-5) at St. Louis (Lush 4-4), night; Philadelphia (Pineda 2-5) at St. Louis (Lush 4-4), night.

Indians Lacked Punch As Final Marks Show

By PETE ZARANDI

Eyes are looking forward to the future as far as Manchester High baseball is concerned. The Indians struggled through a 4-8 baseball season, finished second in the Eastern League, but with a batting average of .216.

The Indians' struggles were due to a lack of power hitting. They had only one home run in the entire season. The team's batting average was .216, which is well below the league average of .260.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees are hurting badly and Mickey Mantle, the team's leader, is hurting most of all.

The proud slugger, in the worst hitting slump of his 15-year career, went hitless again Tuesday night and the Yankees dropped another 2-1 in 10 innings to the Baltimore Orioles. It was the opening game of a two-week home stand.

Mantle's batting average hit a new low—.230—and even worse, he hit only nine home runs with just 20 runs batted in in 52 games.

The 32-year-old star was good for a hit Tuesday night, but he couldn't finish the season hitting another 200. Mantle's slump has hurt the Yankees' chances of winning the American League East.

Two weeks ago, Mantle was hitting .300 and had 20 home runs and 20 RBIs. Now he is hitting .230 and has 10 home runs and 10 RBIs.

"I just can't understand it," Mantle said. "I've got to get better. I've got to get better. I've got to get better."

Mantle has collected only 12 hits in his last 64 at bats. He has only two home runs and has driven in two runs in his last 15 games.

COME FLY WITH ME—Third baseman Clete Boyer of the Yankees found himself with some time to kill during a 10-minute rihurabur.
