Two-Pronged Strike Launched by India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's army launched two new attacks today on West Pakistan today and claimed it had forced a Pakistani withdrawal on the Kashmir front. India reported that Pakistani bombers were driven off in an attempt to attack New Delhi. An air force spokesman in Pakistan said the report was "completely false."

Moves Toward Peace

GENEVA (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said today he will put his own peace proposals before the Indian and Pakistan governments. During a one-hour stopover at Geneva en route to Pakistan, Thant said he has certain suggestions to put to both sides. He declined to elaborate but added: "My primary objective is to comply with the two resolutions of the Security Council."

Miami's famous royal palm trees lining Biscayne Boulevard show the fury of Hurricane Betsy.

Betsy Lashes Miami With 105 mph Winds

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy puffed a six-foot wall of water across Florida's lower east coast today — the highest since the disastrous flood of 1926 — and battered the Florida Keys with savage, 140-mile-an-hour winds. The mighty tide, pushed by a raging east wind that followed the passage of the storm center, said the Miami River surging out of its banks for blocks on both sides and into numerous industrial plants.

Pope to Visit UN, May See President

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican press office announced today Pope Paul VI would go to New York to visit the United Nations on Oct. 4. The announcement did not say how long the Pope would spend in New York on the first papal trip to the United States. But the director of the Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, said he would be there only one day. The Vatican announcement: "We are informed that the Holy Father, accepting a cordial invitation of the secretary-general of the United Nations, U Thant, will visit the organization on Oct. 4."

Experts Give Views On Governor's Role

HARTFORD (AP) — Having given his views on the role of the governor in a convention heard Tuesday from a panel of experts on the subject. "We have very large stakes in the peace of the subcontinent," said Prof. Stephen K. Bailey of Wesleyan University, "how to make the governor and the legislature effectively responsive to the needs of the people."

Vineyardists Anxious Sun

PARIS (AP) — Western Europe's wine growers are holding their breath for a spell of prolonged sunshine as harvest time approaches. But even if they get it, the prospects of most will be only middling. Major wine growing areas had a late spring and the worst summer in decades. Almost everywhere the grapes are late, although generally sound. But they may not reach ripe fullness before the end of the harvest season.

Cure for 'Beetle Forehead' Found at Local 'Chop Shop'

By WILLIAM C. PATRICK, Medical Editor. SALT LAKE TRIBUNE. SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — A form of teenage acne, known as "beetle forehead," has been cured by a procedure that was first reported by a dermatologist in a local "chop shop."

Science Teaching Revolution Now It's 'New Chemistry'

EDITOR'S NOTE — You start reading a new chemistry text book and by the time you finish you are already out of date. That's why new concepts, such as outlined in the following, are being introduced in the new editions of our articles on the revolution in the science teaching developed for high school students.

Canada Vote Set Nov. 8

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson Tuesday night scheduled a general election Nov. 8 in an attempt to win a majority in the House of Commons for his Liberal party. It will be Canada's fifth general election in eight years.

50 Marchers Demonstrate At Schools

BRIDGEPORT (AP) — About 50 singing marchers demonstrated today in front of the Bridgeport Board of Education offices to protest racial imbalance in the city's schools. The demonstrators, many of them carrying placards, were orderly in their planned picketing against what the Bridgeport Stratford chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People called de facto segregation in the schools.

Cross Burned

WATERFORD (AP) — For the second time in three weeks, a burning cross was placed on the lawn of a Waterford home Tuesday night as a residential mob sought to intimidate a family. The demonstration was peaceful and orderly as the mob sang, "We Shall Overcome."

Vernon Olson and Carruthers Tangle With Etlinger on Cash Reports

A heated barrage of words from Republican members of the town's board of education, led by Vernon Olson and Thomas Carruthers, who are also Republican town chairman and town treasurer, respectively, erupted over a request by two GOP members of the board of education, James Etlinger, to have Olson and Carruthers submit monthly cash reports to the board.

Etlinger, who is also a member of the board of education, said he had written Olson and Carruthers on Sept. 2, asking them to submit monthly cash reports to the board. cabined meeting to set up relief stations. Physicians and police stood by to fly out to stricken areas as quickly as weather permitted. The United States government sent an offer to Betsy Hill deans of big and small Florida cities on a 400-mile stretch of coastline, but took the high toll in the metropolitan area of the lower eastern Florida coast.

Then it rained across the swampy lower half of the state to the smaller communities of the west side, and toward the Gulf of Mexico.

Forecasters couldn't tell immediately what conditions the storm would meet in the Gulf, but how much longer it would rage, or what other coastlines it might cross.

But they felt sure that it would strike the Gulf of Mexico coast as ever, and over the warm-subtropical waters which feed dry hurricanes, it could grow even more.

Blasting May Be Solution To Rock Ledge at Westhill

The rock ledge that has been holding up construction of one of the 15 buildings being added to the elderly housing at Westhill Gardens still awaits a decision as to how to remove it. The Manchester Housing Authority (MHA) had asked the architect for a recommendation two weeks ago. Last night at a meeting the MHA signed the contract. He said holding up construction of one of the 15 buildings being added to the elderly housing at Westhill Gardens still awaits a decision as to how to remove it.

program that will make the next big difference," he said. "Strong replied, "But you must remember, even the conventional courses have changed in the past 20 years."

Strong said the percentage of high school pupils who study chemistry has remained fairly constant in recent years, although the actual number has gone up as school populations have increased. In biology the percentage has been rising and in physics it has been dropping.

"Chemistry today," he said, "is the key to going into biology and all fields allied with medicine, rocket propulsion, plastics, solid state problems, and antibiotics."

Strong said the National Science Foundation wasn't particularly interested in the idea of a new chemistry course when it was first suggested to it in 1967. Two years after, however, the foundation sponsored a writing conference at which 10 high school and college chemistry teachers got together to write the first draft of the Ochem-Bond materials.

These materials were tried out in the schools and revised several times before commercial publication started in January this year.

"Unfortunately," Strong said, "some high schools are still using our earlier materials."

"How is it working out?"

"We've followed some of our pupils from the trial period into college chemistry," Strong replied. "They seemed to do a little better; there were fewer that failed, more who got high grades."

Strong voiced an opinion shared by many scientists in different disciplines:

"If the elementary school science programs make a real difference in what the pupils bring to the high schools, then the high school science programs must be re-thought and revised."

"It's the elementary science

Frames for Saddles Firm's Only Product

DEMAREST, Ga. (AP) — Just left things the way they were with the automobile, but in this small north Georgia town, the word is still "a horse."

It is here that the production of saddles, or frames, continues as an art handed down from generation to generation.

The Edward Flor Co., which says it is the largest firm of its type in the world, has been operating 82 years. It reports that business is better than ever.

From rough pine and poplar lumber, 33 skilled craftsmen in a tin-roofed building turn out 1,200 to 1,400 ready-to-leave saddle frames every week. In any style, shape or size a horse rider wants.

"The operation is mostly wood, glue and nails, and with bandsaws and rough files,"

Foreman Lester Palmer, who has been with the company 28 years, says the business has changed little since it began in 1883.

"I went to work there in 1939," Palmer said. "I started in the same job my father had, and he worked with the company for 50 years."

"We used an old undershot water wheel to pull two lines of machinery. When the old place burned down, there was just one electric motor used, and it ran a drill press."

"We tried to modernize once or twice, but it didn't seem to work out," Palmer said. "We

Engaged

The engagement of Miss Nancy Jean McNeill of Manchester to Robert Charles Radle of West Hartford has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blakely McNeill of 171 S. Main St.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Radle of West Hartford.

Miss McNeill is a 1962 graduate of Manchester High School and a 1965 graduate of Hartford Hospital School of Nursing. She is employed on the nursing staff at the Institute of Living, Hartford.

Mr. Radle is a 1960 graduate of Conard High School, West Hartford, and is employed at Weymouth Co., Elmwood.

An October wedding is planned.

three weeks of September are as cold and wet as the first.

In the champagne country, growers nurture their plants back after some violent early storms, only to see continued low temperatures threaten to wreck the grapes before maturing.

Spain's winter storms cut deeply into the potential of Castile and Leon Province.

Much of Italy's crop was saved from the disastrous floods last week because most vines grow on the hillsides. But there was major damage on the coastal flat west of Rome where government vineyards produce the dry pale macarone. The broad Po Valley around Verona, where prized dries are produced, was also harmed.

Chianti was fortunate because it is on the hillsides of Tuscany, where the vineyards were devastated.

In Germany, growing conditions for Rhine wines have been the most unfavorable since 1887. But volume was expected to be only slightly below the 1964 bumper crop.

CASALE, GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI said today he would do everything in his power to bring a quick end to the grave armed conflict between India and Pakistan.

"I disagree with the physicalists and the biologists who are trying to keep their own programs going. We all have our pet ideas, but we're not always going to be here. It would be best to try someone else's ideas."

YALE GETS GRANT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Yale University has been granted $4,800 from the National Science Foundation for projects on glacial drifts and the Antarctic Ocean.

The grant, which is the largest ever received by the university, will be used to study the Antarctic Ocean.

The grant was awarded to a team of scientists led by Dr. Robert Denton, who will receive $28,000 to study glaciers and Dr. Earl Tuzo, who will receive $19,200 to study the Antarctic Ocean.

Wilkie-Johndrow

Miss Judith Kathleen Johndrow of Ellington became the bride of John C. Wilkie of Vernon Saturday at the Church of St. Luke, Ellington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Johndrow Jr. of Mountain Rd. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll D. Wilkie of Kelly Rd.

The Rev. Maurice Sullivan, pastor of the Church of St. Luke, performed the double ring ceremony. Bouquets of white gladioli were on the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of silk organza, trimmed with appliques of alien-con lace.

The gown was designed with elbow-length sleeves, accented neckline and chapel-length train. Her veil of imported silk illusion was arranged from a crown of seed pearls and iridescent. She carried a cascade bouquet of white pompons and ivy.

Mr. John Boyle of Ellington, a cousin of the bride, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Johndrow of Ellington, sister of the bride; and Mrs. Richard Santoro of Rockville.

The attendants were identically dressed in floor-length gowns of gold brocade with matching headpieces. The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of pink pompons and ivy while the bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of deep pink pompons.

Terrance Laue of Tolland served as best man. Ushers were Richard Johndrow of Ellington, brother of the bride; and Richard Santoro of Rockville.

Mrs. Johndrow received in an aqua sheath of silk organza with white accents. The bride wore a pink brocade sheath with matching jacket and pink accessories. Both mothers wore coronages of pink sweethearts roses.

A reception for 115 was held at Clarke Rd., Tolland, after Sept. 18.

Mr. Wilkie attended Albert L. Prince Vocational Technical School, Hartford. He is employed by Unas Grinding Co.

A Pragmatic Success?

The Dominican Republic has slipped off the front page. What news there is tells how, with smart from the rightist military potentates of the Republic, the provisional regime of President Hector Garcia-Godoy is moving first one small step and then another down the slick path of trying to promote something like normalcy in the life of the nation.

The provisional regime is supposed to be provisional because the achievement of a truly democratic Dominica, based on free elections, but it was hardly in office for 48 hours, on such a lofty mission, when it found itself compelled to resort to censorship, and to ban from the air the military radio station over which the redoubtable General Wessin was still broadcasting a tirade against the fact that the provisional regime was in office.

But since the provisional regime of President Garcia-Godoy has come into office with the blessing of the organization of American States, which still retains enough military force, clearly United States personnel in the country to halt any resumption of fighting, the assumption is that the new regime can be pronounced secure for the time being, when it found itself compelled to attempt to hold elections and install a new permanent regime in place, also draw the fangs of the military factionalist.

It is to be hoped that the provisional regime will have equal luck in drawing from their hiding place all the weapons that found their way into the hands of ordinary Dominicans during the April revolution, so that the danger of some new uprising from the extreme left can be dismissed too.

Depending on how well this difficult business of transition goes in Dominica, and on its success in negotiating an armistice for a valid regime, which is secure enough to stand without the aid of the scene backing of outside military force, the United States has a good chance of claiming at least some pragmatic righteousness for its act of armed intervention last April. Not even a preliminary practical result, however, will wipe out the rest of the hemisphere's bitter memory that, when we landed Marines, we violated our own treaty pledges never to do such a thing. Nor will any of our good neighbors be able soon to forget the ease with which we made our own summary determination of the character of a revolution inside another sovereign country. All the old clichés arguments about intervention—K intervention is bad non-intervention might be still more cautious—are now set reverberating for a few more hemisphere years. In this argument, the alternative is, of course, never available for actual analysis.

One must believe as a general principle, however, that there is no hope for the world so long as big powers, no matter how benevolent, consider themselves above the law and show their own agreements. The pragmatic success which involves a breach of principle is never, unfortunately, allowed to become a closed, one-chapter story. The game of consequence is a long, long game.

AMA Picks A Right Fight

It is double good news that the American Medical Association has opened a nationwide attack on the alarming increase in venereal diseases among the American people.

The first part of the good news is elemental. As the Association cites, venereal diseases seem on the rise almost everywhere, attaining "epidemic proportions" in some of the larger cities, and, in the judgment of the Association, "a complacency, ignorance, and a free-and-easy attitude toward moral standards" among too many Americans. As for the medical part of the problem, it can be handled and solved, if the people involved can be taught to have sense enough to believe themselves, or when they do not believe some and when they do not seek help, that the medical attention which is available is efficient.

more important, although it may be a shade more subtle and complicated. The good news is that the American Medical Association has gone to such organized effort to wage a war against a disease instead of some war against some political administration, or some act of Congress.

We believe that this AMA crusade against venereal diseases was initiated by designed and timed to make a splash in the nation's headlines soon after the passage of Medicare by Congress.

And we would not applaud that design. For it means that the American Medical Association has finally begun to behave the way an organization of intelligent professional men should behave.

Why should any other concept of the doctor ever have been permitted to attain prominence? The natural role of the doctor is to take charge in time of trouble.

How could it ever have come about that people could think of doctors as individuals who might make trouble about the good sense and good spirit of the ordinary doctor has begun to penetrate the thinking and policy of his national organization.

Fighting disease is what doctors are for. And for the AMA to remember this, and to practice it, will do more to swing the American public to consideration of the profession's point of view and proper place in the future life of this country than any amount of negative propaganda.

When Three Gallons Was Enough

Live long enough, and at least some of your questions get answered. Have you ever, aside from question of comfort, taste, and speed, wondered about the comparative water consumption involved in taking a bath or taking a shower?

According to the water-saving propaganda, it takes between 20 to 40 gallons of water to take a bath.

But it takes only from 8 to 10 gallons of water to take a shower.

The amount of water used in the shower is, then, unless one gets involved in some extra long aria, fairly standard, not varying much from shower to shower.

Quite naturally, the water conservationists recommend the shower over the bath.

That's the question that, when we landed Marines, we violated our own treaty pledges never to do such a thing. Nor will any of our good neighbors be able soon to forget the ease with which we made our own summary determination of the character of a revolution inside another sovereign country.

Thanks to Mr. Hoover the uncompromising anti-Communist clique has succeeded in putting off a vote to ratify a consular treaty signed last year with the Soviet Union. The treaty would provide for Soviet consulates in several cities in the United States and for American consulates in the Soviet Union. Employees would be granted the immunities customarily reserved for diplomatic envoys.

J. Edgar Hoover vehemently opposed the treaty in Senate hearings, arguing that it would help the Russians in their intelligence work. Secretary of State Dean Rusk aptly replied that U.S. security could best be protected by making the nation's secrets, and not by closing its society.

But Rusk's buddies in the Senate, including his former associate, Connecticut Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, decided to support the FBI's foreign policy rather than the State Department's. The act and began flooding the Senate with letters of protest. Forecasts of doom and threats of political retaliation up for action during this session, a congressional election campaign, it probably won't be put to a vote then.

Why Viet Rails Rust

PHAN THIET, Viet Nam—The railroad which runs beside the sea from Phan Thiet to Nha Trang is a long, rusting strip of one-meter-gauge track. Green and yellow painted 500 horsepower diesel engines pull trains along these tracks whenever the Viet Cong sit down on top of a mine. The other Viet Cong would stand off to the side and push down hard on the plunger that makes the mine go off.

That's a beautiful idea. Dinh Van De was told recently, "Thank you," he said, "it's very necessary."

"Why is this?" he said. "Because then you could make them kneel down on the tracks and stick their tongues out on the third rail."

"I see," Dinh Van De said. His eyes gleamed. After this exchange of ideas, Dinh Van De picked up an attitude case and said he had to go to Nha Trang. A railroad train was scheduled to depart in the afternoon. Dinh Van De went out to the landing strip and waited for a plane.

The railroad station was at the end of a row of alyce sand which run between long rows of yellow cement butts where women at end sell black market cokes while they nurse babies.

The engineer of the train was standing alongside the diesel. His name was Lal Chong Duong. He wore black pajamas. His assistant, Chu Van Chich, wore gray pajamas. Another man, probably the conductor, stood with them. All three were stooped with their heads bowed.

The train consisted of an engine, two flat cars loaded with lumber poles and crates of moccasin. Moccasin is a sauce made of dried fish and it is the most popular thing in all of Viet Nam, which is why you never should invite a Vietnamese car and then three cabbages loaded with Vietnamese soldiers who already had their runs sticking out the windows. The train had not moved an inch yet, but they were ready to fight for their lives. The war is going very well in this district.

The passengers clustered about the one car. They were women in brown shirts and black pants who carried long poles with live ducks and chickens hanging by their feet from the poles. And old men carrying padding cases which were so heavy the men staggered as they walked.

Finally, Lal Chong Duong went up the initial steps to the engineer's seat. He went up the steps like he was going to jail. Chu Van Chich, his assistant, followed him. Chu Van Chich followed because his policemen stood behind him and made him go. The conductor said he was sick and wanted to go home.

The policeman took him and strapped him onto the train. With a loud sob, Lal Chong Duong started the train. The train moved along the tracks and the diesel engine. The train passed through a wall of rice fields. The train passed through a wall of rice fields. The train passed through a wall of rice fields.

When the shooting started, it was tremendous. Nobody knew who shot first, the Vietnamese soldiers in Phan Thiet, or the Viet Cong in the hills. But everybody certainly fired a gun. Now it could be seen that Lal Chong Duong was not afraid after all. He was smart and he was stretched out on his stomach. Chu Van Chich was behind him, braced up and down so quickly the sweat poured off him.

Finally, on one leap, Chu Van Chich ran in place. Up ahead, where the Viet Cong were crossing a wooden bridge, he could see that the bridge had been tampered with and that tonight, the Viet Cong's great 60 mm mortar, supported by a gun crew, would come with two water buffalo and 10 old ladies and moved the mortar tracks and the bridge three feet to the right. It would take the government's tanks and a million dollars worth of equipment to fix it.

A great noise came on Lal Chong Duong's face when he got off the train and saw the Viet Cong on the tracks. He quickly placed his railroad train into reverse and, with a minimum of gunshots, he backed it through the hills and into Phan Thiet again. In a week or so, when the Viet Cong would be fixed, the train would be ready to run again. Two weeks after that, when the search party finally catches up with Lal Chong Duong and Chu Van Chich, they could schedule a trip.

So there was no train ride in Nha Trang this time. And there is no train ride to any place in Viet Nam. The fighting has been so well that a railroad train, even an armored train, can't go more than six miles out of Saigon. The last time a train tried it, the Viet Cong stole the engine, turned it around, and ran it back to the Saigon station at top speed.

When the shooting started, it was tremendous. Nobody knew who shot first, the Vietnamese soldiers in Phan Thiet, or the Viet Cong in the hills. But everybody certainly fired a gun. Inside Report

Jimmy Breslin

WASHINGTON—If President Johnson's last nationally televised press conference from Washington, Aug. 25, seemed a trifling and just a little staged, there was no accident.

The art of planting questions calculated so that the President could make a particular point in a new high in the news conference. From the general public support it to be given, the President was very nearly as carefully staged as a Broadway play.

This concludes the last-minute revision of the Presidential news conference, which began as an informal cluster of reporters crowding around the President's desk in a search of questions. As the news conference moved over to radio and television, radio coverage was permitted, it became less and more gathering devices and mops of a showcase for President Johnson.

Although aides of President Johnson and Kennedy frequently tried to stem a question or two before a news conference, the President's House press room can't remember anything like the activity that took place in the White House press room on Aug. 25 conference.

The President's highly confidential New Press Secretary, and Joseph Lattin, Mayor's chief of staff, were sitting about among correspondents openly planting questions and vouching under the President's own orders.

The President's House Republican "White Paper" attacking Mr. Johnson's position on Viet Nam had been passed out earlier. Some question about it was being asked, but the Presidential aides planted a question that put the Republicans in a difficult position.

The White House aides then went to another correspondent, who also balked at the question. After much cajoling and convincing, he was asked to agree to play the game and ask the question.

For instance, the Mayor's Lattin team engaged in the operation of the press conference planting technique. They tried to pump habitual question asked by the press, but in mind so that the "President" would be asked the question.

One veteran correspondent, known for tough, aggressive writing, declined to reveal his question for the reason because Lattin's correspondent represents a wire service and the wire service reporters he acknowledged would be asked his question anyway.

The train consisted of an engine, two flat cars loaded with lumber poles and crates of moccasin. Moccasin is a sauce made of dried fish and it is the most popular thing in all of Viet Nam, which is why you never should invite a Vietnamese car and then three cabbages loaded with Vietnamese soldiers who already had their runs sticking out the windows. The train had not moved an inch yet, but they were ready to fight for their lives. The war is going very well in this district.

The passengers clustered about the one car. They were women in brown shirts and black pants who carried long poles with live ducks and chickens hanging by their feet from the poles. And old men carrying padding cases which were so heavy the men staggered as they walked.

Finally, Lal Chong Duong went up the initial steps to the engineer's seat. He went up the steps like he was going to jail. Chu Van Chich, his assistant, followed him. Chu Van Chich followed because his policemen stood behind him and made him go. The conductor said he was sick and wanted to go home.

The policeman took him and strapped him onto the train. With a loud sob, Lal Chong Duong started the train. The train moved along the tracks and the diesel engine. The train passed through a wall of rice fields. The train passed through a wall of rice fields. The train passed through a wall of rice fields.

When the shooting started, it was tremendous. Nobody knew who shot first, the Vietnamese soldiers in Phan Thiet, or the Viet Cong in the hills. But everybody certainly fired a gun. Now it could be seen that Lal Chong Duong was not afraid after all. He was smart and he was stretched out on his stomach. Chu Van Chich was behind him, braced up and down so quickly the sweat poured off him.

Finally, on one leap, Chu Van Chich ran in place. Up ahead, where the Viet Cong were crossing a wooden bridge, he could see that the bridge had been tampered with and that tonight, the Viet Cong's great 60 mm mortar, supported by a gun crew, would come with two water buffalo and 10 old ladies and moved the mortar tracks and the bridge three feet to the right. It would take the government's tanks and a million dollars worth of equipment to fix it.

A great noise came on Lal Chong Duong's face when he got off the train and saw the Viet Cong on the tracks. He quickly placed his railroad train into reverse and, with a minimum of gunshots, he backed it through the hills and into Phan Thiet again. In a week or so, when the Viet Cong would be fixed, the train would be ready to run again. Two weeks after that, when the search party finally catches up with Lal Chong Duong and Chu Van Chich, they could schedule a trip.

So there was no train ride in Nha Trang this time. And there is no train ride to any place in Viet Nam. The fighting has been so well that a railroad train, even an armored train, can't go more than six miles out of Saigon. The last time a train tried it, the Viet Cong stole the engine, turned it around, and ran it back to the Saigon station at top speed.

When the shooting started, it was tremendous. Nobody knew who shot first, the Vietnamese soldiers in Phan Thiet, or the Viet Cong in the hills. But everybody certainly fired a gun. Now it could be seen that Lal Chong Duong was not afraid after all. He was smart and he was stretched out on his stomach. Chu Van Chich was behind him, braced up and down so quickly the sweat poured off him.

Why Viet Rails Rust

PHAN THIET, Viet Nam—The railroad which runs beside the sea from Phan Thiet to Nha Trang is a long, rusting strip of one-meter-gauge track. Green and yellow painted 500 horsepower diesel engines pull trains along these tracks whenever the Viet Cong sit down on top of a mine. The other Viet Cong would stand off to the

Godoy Gives Protection to Rebel Allies

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Pro-Communist President Hector Godoy indicated Tuesday night he will prevent army violence against civilians who support the Dominican rebels.

Rebel leaders have complained that civilians sympathetic to them have been beaten up and arrested by troops from the armed forces training center.

In his first speech in the rebel sector, Garcia-Godoy assured a big cheering crowd that the country would be free.

Observers said this meant he would withdraw troops from the northern part of Santo Domingo, where severe repression of civilians has been reported.

Garcia-Godoy conferred for nearly an hour with Gen. Felix Chantano Domo and other rebel leaders.

A crowd gathered outside rebel headquarters and asked the president to speak.

From a second-floor window glass of which was shattered in the June 18 shelling of the rebel area by U.S. troops, Garcia-Godoy told the crowd "I can assure you that the guarantees you desire will be yours today."

The president said he would guarantee that "your lives will not be harmed, that you'll be able to return to your homes and that prisoners will be released."

He was greeted with cheers when he indicated important announcements were forthcoming. It was believed the government would announce orders for troops to withdraw from the northern sector of the city.

French Cows Dwindle — Among West Europe's leading milk-producing countries, France last year had the sharpest cut in cow numbers—down 8.7 million in 1963 to 8.9 million in 1964, a drop of more than 8 per cent.

But production per cow jumped from 5,761 pounds to 6,196 and total milk output was down less than 2 per cent—from 50.8 billion pounds to 48.1.

Country Club Asks For Longer Lease

The Manchester Country Club, faced with competition from many area golf courses, has asked the town to extend its lease for another 15 years, so that it could make an immediate expenditure of $100,000 for improvements.

Club President Ray Warren told the board of directors last night that, "unless our lease, which still has five years to run, is extended to 20 years, we will be unable to negotiate a long-term loan for the improvements and, consequently, our membership, which has been dropping in the past few years, will fall to alarming proportions."

Warren said that the club proposes to spend about $20,000 for a new pro shop and about $75,000 for installing a watering system for the golf course fairways.

He painted a dim picture of the club's future unless the improvements were made. Under a seven-year lease, negotiated in 1953, the club is required to spend $100,000 for capital improvements during that period.

Warren's plea followed a report by N. Charles Boggetti who, since 1962, has been the town's representative on the Country Club's Board of Governors.

Boggetti will soon be replaced in the position, since he is now a member of the board of education and the town charter limits his service to that board only.

The board of directors agreed to place the item on its agenda for the October meeting.

Barau's Mark Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Barau of Stowe, Vt., formerly of Manchester, were wedded at an open house Labor Day weekend in Stowe in honor of their silver wedding anniversary.

About 70 relatives and friends attended the celebration which was given by the couple's three children at the Stowe-Plake Inn and Motel. Guests from Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Pennsylvania, participated in the weekend activities which included golfing and swimming.

The formal open house and buffet took place on Saturday afternoon at the inn. The Baraus were presented with silver and monetary gifts at this time.

Mr. Barau married the former Beatrice Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Collins of 14 Barry Rd., on Aug. 31, 1940 in Brookline, Mass. They lived in Manchester at 54 Parkers St. for 19 years before building the Stowe-Plake ski resort. Mr. Barau is vice president of the Process Engineering Co., Methuen, Mass.

The couple has two sons and a daughter. Stuart Barau Jr. is manager of the Stowe-Plake Motel. Charles Barau is associated with the National Fire and Gas Co. at King of Prussia, Pa. and Miss Donna Barau is a student at the University of Vermont.

Congress Meets
On School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Separate bills passed by the Senate and House to finance a new assistance program for grade and high schools are going before congressional conferees for a compromise.

The measure passed by the Senate Tuesday granted $1.15 billion to carry out the program. This is $214 million more than the House bill but $144 million less than President Johnson asked.

In one instance the President, the Senate and the House were in agreement — that $128 million be allotted to extend the Manpower Training program.

Other provisions of the bill cover health research, a new program of aid for older Americans and vocational rehabilitation.

BUS CRASH KILLS 30

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A passenger bus careened off a rural road Monday and burst into flames, killing 30 persons, press reports reaching here today said.

The accident occurred near Toluca, in an isolated area of southern Mexico's Queretaro state. Several persons were reported injured.

The reports said the bus plunged down an embankment and caught fire.

Directors Approve
Many Fund Issues

The board of directors, in record time last night, approved several appropriations and allocations, some of which involve only a bookkeeping transaction.

They included:

1. An $184,400 appropriation to the Library Fund for the purchase of reference books. The sum has already been received in the form of a federal grant.
2. A $100 appropriation to the Dog License Fund for payment to the state, to compensate for the increase in the dog license fee. Half of the fee goes to the state and the other half remains in Manchester.
3. Transfers to their respective Capital Improvement Funds: $20,000 for the Town Water Department, $17,000 for the Sewer Department, and $16,700 for the Town Fire Department. The sums are for the sewer department, for the sewer department, for the sewer department, for the sewer department.
4. A $27,000 allocation from the Fire District Capital Improvement Fund to the Fire Department, to purchase a new fire engine.
5. An allocation of $500 to compensate Town Counsel Irving Aronson for the seven weeks he kept in reserve at the School St. Firehouse. The new pump will be used at the Central Firehouse.
6. An authorization to the Manchester Redevelopment Agency (MRA), as required by state regulations, to apply for State Finance and Development Board (SFD) North End Renewal, in amount not to exceed $228,471. Town and federal financial involvement is already on record.
7. An authorization to the Rybeck, executive director of the MRA, to purchase the North End Renewal within three years. He said that the property acquisition would take 12 to 18 months and that, at this time, the buildings should be under way.
8. He promised to call the directors in October on plans for Downtown Renewal.
9. An authorization to the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., trustee of the town's Cemetery Fund, to designate the fund's assets to the purchase of a new cemetery in July. The meeting was scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 5.

Brandeis Bid
TPC's Topic

The Town Planning Commission (TPC), when it meets in its regular session Tuesday, Sept. 14, at 8 in the Municipal Building, will vote on a July 12 request for some changes which would help clear the way for construction of a 200-unit complex of apartments and town houses opposite Wickham Park, on the former Tread Farm, off W. Middle Type.

The Brandeis Corp. of Hartford had asked for a change to Residence Zone B for about 25.5 acres of land adjacent to a 300-foot wide strip of land. The property is now Residence Zone A, and Rural Residence Zone.

The corporation, if granted the zone change, will still have another obstacle to overcome before it can begin construction. It will have to ask the TPC for a special permit to build, since the proposed buildings are not permitted group dwellings in Residence Zone B.

The permitted uses are one- and two-family dwellings, a public and private hospital, convalescent homes and room-tenants.

The regulation requiring a special permit for group dwellings is now being tested in the case of the Wilbur Cross Highway, and a decision is expected soon.

The corporation, to build what it calls a "mini-village," will have to build water and sewer lines for the area.

The TPC, on Tuesday night, will consider a request from William B. and Alice F. Thornton, that it remove a requirement that the property at Parker and Taylor Sts., on July 12, when it is granted a special permit for about 38.5 acres of land.

The change, from Rural Residence Zone to Industrial Residence Zone, is a result of a 75-foot-wide buffer strip being erected around all boundaries of a school on Parker and Taylor Sts. and at the railroad. In fact, the corporation is asking for a 200-foot-wide buffer strip to be erected south of and parallel to Taylor St. The corporation has complaints of several Vernon residents.

Town Planning Director Joseph Tansky warned the TPC at the time that, in creating the buffer zone, which would remain Rural Residence Zone, it was in reality "confiscating small portions of land."

Alvin Brock, representing the Thorntons, will urge the TPC to reconsider its ruling.

Work of Retired Teachers
'This Is Manchester'
Ready for Class Use

Who were the first settlers of Manchester? What tribe of Indians did they meet here? What happened here like during the Ice Age?

These are some of the questions answered by a 48-page book, "This Is Manchester," prepared for the third grade class of the town's schools by a group of twelve former educators. The book, which was contributed by Miss Lutz, Mrs. Margaret, Ruth Ostrom, and Reginald Baker.

Members of the writing group included, besides Miss Lutz, Arthur Illing, former superintendent of schools; Patricia Buckley, former member of the Manchester board of education; and Mrs. Florence Anderson, former teacher.

The photographs were furnished by the Manchester Herald.

The book is, however, only a beginning for the group of twelve. Further ambitions include preparing a teachers' resource folder which will contain much more information about the town's past and which will contain some of the original manuscripts used for the book.

Following this contribution will be a film strip of places and events in Manchester's career and complete tape recordings of interviews with various persons whose memories supplied the

On Liquor Ordinance

Passage of a town ordinance, banning the possession of alcoholic beverages on town or school property, will have to wait until the Oct. 5 meeting of the board of directors. Action last night on it was tabled until its implementation.

Director Robert Stone, who asked for the postponement, said, "I have mixed feelings on the proposal and I would prefer a delay to give us time to talk with the chief of police and the town council concerning its enforcement."

The "mixed feelings" were the ones expressed concerning the ordinance. Stone said he was not interested in people who take a short cut through Center Park, with its proximity to Mary Cheney Library.

He added, "We need this ordinance to keep the habit of drinking out of the town. The legislation now on the books, which does not arrest persons 21 years or over with liquor in their possession, unless we have a warrant, is not a deterrent."

The "only" area in question, as he said, is "Center Park, for nobody takes a short cut through it. Other parks, nor through any other property, are subject to arrest after a liquor purchase."

The meeting, between the board and the town council, will be held Thursday, Sept. 9, since Reardon will be leaving on vacation shortly.

Public Utilities

Public Utilities will provide for a $50 fine for any person found to possess or have consumed alcoholic beverages on any town or school property. It specifically exempts the Army-Navy and the American Legion, and both of which leased town-owned property as well as town-owned and maintained town streets.

The board also tabled a public hearing and action on a proposed ordinance to amend the town's rules. It would provide for increased penalties for persons and nature persons, and would require the town to raise its municipal contribution.

Actually, this item did not come on the agenda for Town Council Aronson had not yet drafted the ordinance and there was nothing to discuss. It will be placed on the agenda for the board's October meeting.

Other items tabled to the October meeting were:

1. Approval for the payment of cash awards to town employees who make winning suggestions for improving town government operations.
2. Approval for the payment of cash awards to town employees who make winning suggestions for improving town government operations.

Martin was instructed to present a more complete report and to make a schedule of awards.

BEALE STREET

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drive to dedicate Beale Street, Memphis cradle of blues music, as a national landmark is under way.

Rep. George W. Grider, D-Tenn., says "Beale Street is the place where W. C. Handy wrote the blues, the only street in the world that can be called 'the birthplace of music.'" Grider's office said he has written Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall asking a study to determine if the street is eligible for designation as a national landmark.

PIONEER FLYERS

CHATHAM, Mass. (AP) — H. Roy White, 82, started flying in 1914 and taught Amelia Earhart to fly.

Both live in Massachusetts but have spent much of their lives together for some talk about pioneer flying.

HONOR WOOD BEACH

CLEWOOD BEACH, N.J. (AP) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. is to be the guest of honor next month at dedication ceremonies marking the completion of the town's $4-million school complex.

William Rice, president of the Board of Education, says the township is the first in the nation to honor all the country's first manned space flight program, Project Mercury. Three existing schools and three new schools have been named in his honor.

ON DUTY

KENNEDVILLE, Maine (AP) — Police Chief Frank Stevens told his summer patrolmen that they were to enforce no parking and overtime parking hours.

Stevens recently parked his cruiser partially in a no parking zone. The car was tagged and he paid a 50-cent fine.

BUS CRASH KILLS 30

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A passenger bus careened off a rural road Monday and burst into flames, killing 30 persons, press reports reaching here today said.

The accident occurred near Toluca, in an isolated area of southern Mexico's Queretaro state. Several persons were reported injured.

The reports said the bus plunged down an embankment and caught fire.

Directors Approve
Many Fund Issues

The board of directors, in record time last night, approved several appropriations and allocations, some of which involve only a bookkeeping transaction.

They included:

1. An $184,400 appropriation to the Library Fund for the purchase of reference books. The sum has already been received in the form of a federal grant.
2. A $100 appropriation to the Dog License Fund for payment to the state, to compensate for the increase in the dog license fee. Half of the fee goes to the state and the other half remains in Manchester.
3. Transfers to their respective Capital Improvement Funds: $20,000 for the Town Water Department, $17,000 for the Sewer Department, and $16,700 for the Town Fire Department. The sums are for the sewer department, for the sewer department, for the sewer department, for the sewer department.
4. A $27,000 allocation from the Fire District Capital Improvement Fund to the Fire Department, to purchase a new fire engine.
5. An allocation of $500 to compensate Town Counsel Irving Aronson for the seven weeks he kept in reserve at the School St. Firehouse. The new pump will be used at the Central Firehouse.
6. An authorization to the Manchester Redevelopment Agency (MRA), as required by state regulations, to apply for State Finance and Development Board (SFD) North End Renewal, in amount not to exceed $228,471. Town and federal financial involvement is already on record.
7. An authorization to the Rybeck, executive director of the MRA, to purchase the North End Renewal within three years. He said that the property acquisition would take 12 to 18 months and that, at this time, the buildings should be under way.
8. He promised to call the directors in October on plans for Downtown Renewal.
9. An authorization to the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., trustee of the town's Cemetery Fund, to designate the fund's assets to the purchase of a new cemetery in July. The meeting was scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 5.

'This Is Manchester'
Ready for Class Use

Who were the first settlers of Manchester? What tribe of Indians did they meet here? What happened here like during the Ice Age?

These are some of the questions answered by a 48-page book, "This Is Manchester," prepared for the third grade class of the town's schools by a group of twelve former educators. The book, which was contributed by Miss Lutz, Mrs. Margaret, Ruth Ostrom, and Reginald Baker.

Members of the writing group included, besides Miss Lutz, Arthur Illing, former superintendent of schools; Patricia Buckley, former member of the Manchester board of education; and Mrs. Florence Anderson, former teacher.

The photographs were furnished by the Manchester Herald.

The book is, however, only a beginning for the group of twelve. Further ambitions include preparing a teachers' resource folder which will contain much more information about the town's past and which will contain some of the original manuscripts used for the book.

Following this contribution will be a film strip of places and events in Manchester's career and complete tape recordings of interviews with various persons whose memories supplied the

Body Recovered

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — The body of William J. Chalmers, 42, of West Haven, Conn., one of 20 victims of the crash of a United Air Lines 727 jet in Lake Michigan Aug. 14, was recovered Tuesday in 240 feet of water 21 miles off Lake Forest.

Identification was made by means of a dental chart. The body was the seventh recovered, with six found a few days after the crash. Chalmers' body was recovered by dragging after it had been sighted by underwater television cameras operated from the search craft "Talon Queen," chartered by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Last of Hikers Safe, Wade Out of Flood

Zion National Park, Utah—(AP)—Crested by flood, the water rushing through the canyon sounded like jet airplanes today for 42 wilderness hikers trapped almost three days by rains which swelled the Virgin River in Zion National Park's deep Zion Narrows.

The last of the hikers waded out, sometimes in water up to their armpits, late Tuesday. The last were a party of nine led by Iron County Sheriff Otto Fife of nearby Cedar City. He led a party of 21 which began the hike Saturday, when weather forecasts indicated it would probably not rain.

It did rain early Sunday before dawn, and some hikers said the water rushing through the canyon sounded like jet airplanes.

Some of Fife's party left the canyon before he and the last eight came out late Tuesday. Fife, 64, said he had kept the last eight because he was worried about their physical condition, and was afraid to tackle the canyon until he was sure the water wouldn't rise further.

The canyon has sheer walls, rising in places 1,500 feet. A man can stretch out both arms and touch either side in places, hikers have to wade the river most of the way because there are no banks.

For three days people had been saying about Fife: "Otto will bring them through. He'll round them all up and make them stay put until it's safe to move."

"I'm glad to be here," Fife said. "But this didn't cure me. I'm taking another party through Sept. 28 — if they aren't too scared."

"The children were worried about missing school and one of them asked me for an excuse for his teachers. But I'm going home now — I'm a couple of days late myself. I hope they don't fire me."

Before Fife and his party came out, five Californians who had been feared missing walked to safety.

They were preceded by two 16-year-old boys who told park rangers the Californians had left before they did. How they passed the Californians remained a mystery.

The Californians told a story of clinging to ledges and trees, and crouching behind a waterfall when water poured through the gorge Monday.

Los Frazin of Los Angeles said, "If there was anybody up there who didn't believe in God, he does now."

Only one person was injured, Alan Keller of Orem, Utah, whose leg was hit by a log during the height of the flood. He limped out Tuesday and was flown to a Salt Lake City hospital for treatment.

The 42 trapped in the canyon were mostly from Utah, and included several children.

"Our spirits went up and down with the rain," said Mrs. Walter Anderson, wife of an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Salt Lake City. At the dedication, Dec. 8, 1962, Combs jokingly said, "If you really love me, you'll guard this plaque."

The 100-pound plaque was returned Tuesday to its position next to the floral clock at the state capitol.

It was found Monday in the lap of a statue in front of the Louisville Free Public Library, about 50 miles away.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. I am old enough to retire. I would like to do so and collect Social Security checks during the winter but work during the summer. Can I do this?

A. Yes.

Know what you've got coming from Medicare and Social Security. The above question and many others are answered in the 80-page book "What You've Got Coming from Medicare and Social Security" offered as a public service of this newspaper. To get your copy send $1 plus your name, address and Zip Code to Medicare, c/o The Manchester Herald, Box 409, Dept. 00042, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y., 10010. Events In World

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — More than 4,000 Communist demonstrators did "minor damage" to the American consulate at Surabaya, East Java, Tuesday and demanded that it be closed, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said. None of the five Americans at the consulate was injured, the spokesman said, but staff members' cars were damaged. The spokesman said the demonstrators milled about the consulate yard while six representatives were admitted to the consulate with a petition. It also demanded the expulsion of Consul Allan McLean. The demonstrators plastered the outside of the consulate with "Americans go home" signs. They proclaimed U.S. policies in Viet Nam, the Congo and the Dominican Republic.

Bangkok, Thailand, (AP) — France failed to join the other seven partners in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today in congratulating the anti-Communist alliance on its 11th anniversary — unprecedented in SEATO's history — was interpreted as another move by French President Charles de Gaulle to disassociate his government from SEATO support of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

CAIRO (AP) — The United Arab Republic government has accused the Egyptian Muslim Brotherhood of plotting to overthrow the regime of President Gamal Abdel Nasser through a campaign of terrorism and murder. Details of the alleged plot was disclosed following the arrest of more than 1,000 supporters of the fanatical brotherhood, which has forced underground since it broke with Nasser in 1952. The announcement said some of those arrested confessed that the brotherhood had ordered certain followers to assassinate Nasser and other national leaders and then commit suicide.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The full strength of the Vatican's Swiss Guard has been cut from 100 to 75, and the guard is down to 48 men because of recruiting difficulties. Vatican sources said the reduced number was due to the original strength of the Swiss Guard in the striped tunics and halberds had been cut to 100 for several centuries. Pope John XXIII cut it to 100 in 1959.

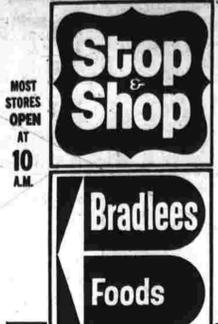

MOBOW (AP) — A blistering attack by Soviet Communist party leaders on former Premier Nikita Khrushchev is on sale in Moscow bookstores. Khrushchev was capricious and ignorant and led the Soviet Union to agricultural disaster, top Communists said in speeches to a meeting of the Party Central committee last March. A report of the meeting, published Tuesday, contained the harshest public criticism of the deposed premier since he was ousted last October.

Lawyer, Family Move to Ireland

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I feel fine and have no regrets," says a Philadelphia lawyer of his decision to move his family to Ireland. Michael von Moschicki, an attorney for 17 years, said he believes his wife and three daughters, aged 6 to 11, feel the same way he does about the plan. Von Moschicki flew to Ireland Tuesday night to meet the family next week. The others sailed from New York last week. Von Moschicki says he thought about moving to Ireland after suffering a mild heart attack in January 1964. Why Ireland? "It has great charm," said von Moschicki. "And it's on the way up economically." "Then he added: "Because it's better for my family and myself to be exposed to more than one first-class country."

Train Tours Cheap COOPERHAGEN — Sightseeing by train? You can in Copenhagen, where some inexpensive tours are available for low-budget travelers. One is a special bus that runs between Town Hall Square and Lange. This Pavilion next to the famous Little Mermaid statue (15 cents each way). Donors Asked To Give Blood For Townsman

The Columbia chapter of the American Red Cross has suggested that Andover people who plan to donate blood when the bloodmobile visits Andover next Monday may want to give it in the name of John Halobour...

Halobour has been a patient at Woodham Memorial Hospital for some time, and recently underwent surgery which required about 20 pints of blood in transfusion. In accordance with the policy of the Connecticut blood program, no charge was made for the blood supplied. Replacements must come from volunteer contributions.

The bloodmobile will be at the Congregational Church from 1:45 to 3:30 p.m. on Monday. "Operation Zimara," a contest sponsored by the Andover Garden Club to promote the growing of bigger and better zinnias by sixth graders in the elementary school will reach its climax from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturday at the home of Mrs. Betty White...

Packets of giant zinnia seeds were given to each boy and girl who entered the contest last May. Now all contestants are asked to bring at least three specimens of the flowers grown for judgment. The judges will be Mrs. Richard Adams, Miss Dorothy Raymond, and Miss Vera Stanley. Prizes will be awarded, and the public is welcome to view the display.

The Andover Mothers Club will hold its first fall meeting tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. Arnold Miller on Wales Rd. After taking care of the business on the agenda, including setting plans for the Oct. 12 fashion show, refreshments will be served by Mrs. Raymond Gardner, Mrs. Leon Palmer, and Mrs. Edward LaVigne.

The Andover Public Library has received a number of new books recently. 21 of them adult fiction books and 11 children's books. Employer Fined NEW HEAVEN (AP) — A federal judge levied fines totaling $22,800 Tuesday on a Waterbury banana wholesaler and its officers convicted of violating the Child Labor Law.

James George & Sons, according to the indictment, employed eight boys 12 to 18 years old and paid them substantial wages. One had worked six days a week, nine hours a day and received some ranging from $12 to $20 a week, the indictment says.

The firm was also convicted of violating the Fair Labor Standards Act. U.S. District Judge William H. Timmerling fined the firm $7,600 and levied fines of $2,000 each on Robert, William and Fred George.

The defendants at first pleaded innocent but changed their pleas Tuesday to no contest, which led to the automatic judgment of guilty by Judge Timmerling.

Jamie holds the basket she learned how to weave in British Guiana. She also brought back samples of Guianese woodcraft and hand-wrought silver jewelry (Herald photo by Pinto).

By BOB KILPATRICK — When her English professor at Springfield College asks for the usual essay, "What I Did This Summer," Jamie Gipson of Bolton will have more than the usual answer. This summer she went to British Guiana (pronounced "Guy-anna") by independence-minded natives. Guiana is about the size of Minnesota and has many people as well as employed eight boys 12 to 18 years old and paid them substantial wages. One had worked six days a week, nine hours a day and received some ranging from $12 to $20 a week, the indictment says.

Summer in British Guiana Described by Miss Gipson

Jamie attributes this article to the fact that there are no TV sets in Guiana. Even the underprivileged speak intelligently, she said. She found a survey of youth's opinion on independence for Guiana and found that many didn't follow the party line of their parents. The reasons she heard against independence seemed to be better than those opposing it.

Her contacts with youth came in a variety of ways. The first week, the group stayed in a tent in the heart of Guiana (about 20 youth organizations) and the second and third weeks at a Catholic camp to which came leaders of about 20 youth organizations. Part of Jamie's mission to Guiana was to bring together the youth of the various races to show them that they could live, work and learn as a unit.

Guiana's racial problems are compounded by a number of races, not just two, trying to live together on a small strip of coastal area in northern South America. East Indians, brought over as cheap labor, make up 40 per cent of the population. Africans, former slaves, add another 20 per cent while the rest are Portuguese, Chinese, European, English and American Indians.

At the reform school, she said, foreign visitors are such a rarity that the kids were more excited to see the American than the other way around. "They were eager to learn about America, especially why it splits the two major parties along racial lines.

With a background and a future that promises complete independence for the small country, now, the boys and girls, trained in baking, tailoring, carpentry, shoemaking and farming skills. "They were eager to learn about America, especially why it splits the two major parties along racial lines.

Many Groups as Camp The youth leadership conference at the Catholic camp was attended by representatives from such youth groups as the Catholic Youth Organization, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Sugar Producers Association, the Young Socialist Movement, the Juvenile Control Division of the Guiana Police, the Abolysier.

San Francisco on Top for First Time This Season in National Giants Lead...by Percentage Point

NEW YORK (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers with the Giants lead for the first time this season. They had to leave Jim Marshall there, but they brought Jim Hart with them and as a result, the Dodgers are out of first place in the National League for only the 18th day this season.

Start drove in all of the runs with a single and a homer Tuesday night as the Giants jumped into the lead for the first time by trimming Los Angeles 3-1.

The victory, their fourth straight, put the Giants two percentage points ahead of the Dodgers, one-half game ahead of Cincinnati, one in front of Milwaukee and four ahead of Pittsburgh.

The triumph also gave them a sweep of the two-game series, a sweep accomplished without the help of 20-game winner Jim Marshall, who was banned from Los Angeles because of his hitting incident with Dodger catcher John Roseboro.

The two-day ban in effect, extended Marshall's eight-day suspension over the incident to 10, which puts him nine days ahead of Hart.

The third baseman-lead fielder was hit with a one-day suspension July 20 by Giants' manager Herman Franke for breaking training regulations. Franke at first said the suspension was indefinite but reinstated Hart after he went to the manager the next day and apologized.

Since then Hart has been greatly responsible for putting the Giants to the top, in 90 games before the suspension, he batted .281 with nine homers and 47 runs batted in. But in just 44 games since, he has batted .325 while slamming 12 homers and driving in 36 runs.

The Dodgers also felt Hart's bat Monday as he hit a two-run homer that tied the game 2-2. The Giants went on to win 7-1 in 12 innings.

In the only other NL game Tuesday, Cincinnati whipped Pittsburgh 5-0.

GIANTS DODGERS— Los Angeles is idle today while the Giants play Houston. Hart's first-inning single, followed by Jim Marshall's homer, put the Giants ahead 1-0. The Dodgers tied it swinging incident with Dodger catcher John Roseboro.

REDS-PIRATES— Sammy Ellis gained his 18th victory against eight defeats, limiting the Pirates to three hits while pitching out of the box for the game away with four runs in the fourth inning, two on the last on Jim Edwards' homer. The Pirates won 4-2 in 10 innings.

Edwards, who has been all but out of the eighth and set down the rest of the way.

World Series of Golf Choice English Bookmakers Like Jack Nicklaus

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The English bookmakers are quoting even money on Jack Nicklaus to win the World Series of Golf this weekend. If he does, it'll be a great comeback on a par 70 course that stymied him last month.

Clyde Stein, managing director of Ladbrooks, largest bookmaking house in England, was quoted as saying that Nicklaus is the best bet.

Behind him are 1-10 on Open champ Gary Player of South Africa at 6 to 4, British Open champ Peter Thomson of Australia at 8 to 1 and Texan Dave Marr, PGA champ, at 10 to 1.

The $7,000 World Series is for only the third time in its 10-year history.

The quarter will host 18 holes each Saturday and Sunday. The final six holes of each round will be televised in color from 4 to 8:30 p.m., EST.

Magic Number

NEW YORK (AP)—The magic number is one for the New York Yankees to win the first time in six years, they would like to forget all about it.

The extension of a seven-game losing streak — their longest since 1951 — against Washington tonight or a Minnesota victory at Chicago will mathematically end the Yankees' fabled pennant.

Now 20½ games behind the first-place Yankees, the club would need to win 19½ games to catch the Yankees.

MacCall plans to send a squad consisting of Frank Froehling, Mervyn Rose, Clark Graebner and Arthur Ashe to Australia for the grass court circuit and the Australian Championships entered the quarterfinals at the West Side Tennis Club.

"I'd like for Pasarell to be included, but he is still in school," MacCall said. "Ralston is a good player, but he is not a Davis Cup player."

Pasarell, upset winner Sunday over second-seeded Fred Bollie of Australia, plays Keith Carpenter of Canada in the round of 16 today. His next strong opponent would be Rafael Osuna of Mexico possibly in the semifinal. Osuna, ranked Tuesday to beat Herb Fluhgibson of Garden City, N.Y., 7-6, 6-2, 12-10.

Pitching Fatigue in Sox Defeat

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox let the big one get away from them Tuesday night in a display of pitching fatigue which is rare for Al Lopez's corps.

The White Sox, who face the league-leading Minnesota Twins for the final time this season in a two-game set beginning tonight, scored four runs in the first inning but before the game was over the Cleveland Indians had carved out a 4-2 triumph.

The loss dropped the Sox five games behind the Twins.

Ordinarily, the White Sox can win a pair of games with four runs and usually Lopez would be doing a slow burn over blowing such a lead.

"Sure it was a big game for me and Lopez," Lopez said. "They're all taking. But we simply didn't have the pitching in the end."

"I used seven pitchers in the game for him, but the 29-year-old right-hander weakened and gave up single runs in the seventh and eighth. Bill Herman said 'Monbo deserves better than getting a bad press' because anything — he's pitched better than anything against Chicago four times in the last two weeks."

The Red Sox, who had hoped for a sweep of the Twins, collected 11 hits, including three by Steve Nison and two each by Dalton Jones and Lee Thomas. However, they were held to only two by the Tigers.

Don Wert beat out an infield fly, stole second and went on to score on a sacrifice bunt. Al Kraline singled for one run and then scored on Norm Cash hit his 23rd homer.

The Red Sox picked up an unearned run in the third and fourth innings on an attempted steal. He knocked the ball out of Jerry Loe's hand and hit home.

With two out in the seventh, the Tigers broke the deadlock on Roy Oler's double. Detroit led two out in the Detroit lead, Don Wert beat out an infield fly, stole second and went on to score on a sacrifice bunt. Al Kraline singled for one run and then scored on Norm Cash hit his 23rd homer.

Copped 20 Pitching Decisions Two Years Ago Bill Monbouquette on Way To 20-Game Losing Season

DETROIT (AP)—Bill Monbouquette, the Boston Red Sox's former ace pitcher, who made good, is on the verge of becoming a 20-game loser just two years after getting a 20 first-inning no-hitters.

Monbo continued his slide toward a fate feared by every pitcher as he suffered his 18th defeat in the Red Sox's loss to the Detroit Tigers Tuesday night before a crowd of 5,019.

The defeat snapped Boston's four-game winning streak and left the club with a 7-8 record with two out of the four in the last two games.

Monbouquette, who has won only eight games, allowed only seven hits, including three by Steve Nison and two each by Dalton Jones and Lee Thomas. However, they were held to only two by the Tigers.

Don Wert beat out an infield fly, stole second and went on to score on a sacrifice bunt. Al Kraline singled for one run and then scored on Norm Cash hit his 23rd homer.

Fullmer Named Fighter of Month

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Middleweight Don Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, was named fighter of the month for August by the World Boxing Association Tuesday.

Fullmer, 27, defeated world welterweight champion Tony Danza in a 10-round decision at the Las Vegas Coliseum.

Fullmer, younger brother of former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, is ranked first in the WBA's world list.

Manix Defeat

MANIX has come at the expense of the White Sox.

It looked as if the Sox were going to pull within four games of Minnesota when they scored four times in the first inning as Moose Skowron broke an 0-2 tie to put Chicago ahead 5-1.

Manix, however, lashed out 17 hits — four by Rocky Colavito and three each by Chuck Hinton and Len Wagner.

The Yankees' double loss to Baltimore extended their losing streak to seven, their longest since 1953 and put them one game behind Sam Bowen's two-run homer and taking the nightcap as Charley Leitz drove in three runs with a double and a single and Boop Powell clouted a two-run homer.

Help May Be on Way for Red Sox

Spirit High

Opening day a little over two weeks away, Manchester High and East Catholic High returned to the practice fields yesterday after a two-day layoff over the holiday weekend. The Eagles more than satisfied their coach, Dave Wiggins.

Positions are still open with the Indians, especially in the line, and Wiggins emphasizes that those students who are just ending summer employment or vacations should not hesitate in coming out.

A number of sophomores have been impressive over the first week's work, led by guard candidate Jim Sproul. Also catching the eye of those attending practices have been a quartet of backs: Bryce Carpenter, Steve Hemmings, Mike Belcher and Dave Turner. All show promise of breaking into the varsity lineup.

Practices times switch from 3 to 5 o'clock now that school is back in session, with this week devoted to defense, punting and the introduction of a new offensive series. "We can receive some depth, we'll do all right," Wiggins said.

Although nothing is definite, Saturday, if it doesn't materialize in West Hartford, there will be Tuesday, East John Northwest Catholic, East Catholic High and Middletown High in a jamboree at Northwest Sept. 13.

Wallner Quits Oaks In Surprise Decision

Two pro football coaches left their jobs in Connecticut Tuesday.

In Hartford, Fred Wallner quit as coach of the Charter Oaks of the Continental Football League. He was replaced temporarily by quarterback Lee Grosscup.

In Meriden, Phil Vece was released by the Shamrocks of the New England Football League and was succeeded by defensive captain Bob Kotick.

Wallner complained of relations with the management and of "team problems over which I have no control." The former coach of the Charter Oaks of the Continental Football League, he was replaced temporarily by quarterback Lee Grosscup.

Giant Linemen Put on Waivers

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants put on waivers six players from the NFL roster Tuesday night. It included the two National Football League veterans who will be placed on the disabled list.

Walker, injured his knee in last Saturday's exhibition loss to Detroit and Lovelady, a top fullback for the world's richest team, was injured after being cut by the Giants' next-to-last squad reduction.

Lane, a 18-year pro, was released by the Detroit Lions after being cut by the Giants' next-to-last squad reduction.

Among the other Jets cut were reserve list players including tackle Jim Davidson and linebacker Al Atkinson, their Nos. 1 and 3 draft picks. The Jets immediately claimed Davidson and placed on the reserve list.

Do you want a CAREER...or just a job?

Let us assume that you are looking for a career and not just a "top-gup" job that you intend to stay with only until something better comes along. If this is true, there are several things that you should consider very carefully when you are choosing the company with which you are to build your career. You should want to know:

WILL YOU HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO LEARN?

To qualified applicants and employees, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft offers a wide variety of training opportunities, including on-the-job training in Machining, Sheet Metal, Welding and Inspection, formal training of 26 weeks to 72 weeks duration in Machining, Sheet Metal and Tool & Die Making; three-year apprentice courses in Electronics, Machining and Sheet Metal. During these training periods you will earn good wages at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft.

HOW GOOD ARE YOUR CHANCES FOR ADVANCEMENT?

Pratt & Whitney Aircraft is an acknowledged leader in a constantly growing industry. Opportunities for advancement are continually arising for those with the necessary skills and initiative. Ambitious, career-minded people "get-ahead" at P&WA.

WILL YOU BE HAPPY WORKING FOR THIS COMPANY?

Pratt & Whitney Aircraft is a big company — one of the largest employers in all of New England. But it is made up of relatively small groups of people who work together very closely. You will make many friends of work and through enjoyable activities such as softball, golf and bowling leagues. You will also have the opportunity to be sponsored by the "Aircraft Club." P&WA employees soon develop a strong sense of belonging. This combines with a valuable program of company benefits including liberal life, medical and hospitalization insurance, an excellent retirement plan and the nation's largest credit union. These are some of the advantages that make Pratt & Whitney Aircraft a good place to work.

These are the important questions you should ask when you are considering a career, and we feel that Pratt & Whitney Aircraft offers the right answer to each of them. If you would like to investigate further, longer resumes available at P&WA, we invite you to talk with one of our employment officers.

If available, bring your Military Discharge Papers (DD-214), Birth Certificate and Social Security Card when you apply.
