Shot in Chest, Girl Walks Into Hospital

NEW BRITAIN (AP)—A young woman walked into the New Britain General Hospital today with gunshot wounds of the chest and side.

She was listed in extremely critical condition.

Police identified the woman as Mrs. Elizabeth B. DeValle. The authorities could not establish an address for the woman immediately and were unable to provide details of the shooting.

Police said that the woman had been shot three times.

They said they were looking for a man they want to question about the case. He was not identified.

Back LeVine

NEW HAVEN (AP)—The New Haven Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO offered financial support to Robert T. LeVine today if he decides to take legal action against his ouster as principal of Hillhouse High School.

LeVine was removed last week as principal as the result of charges that some college-bound pupils were given a break on their grades.

The Board of Education, in notifying LeVine of his ouster, also offered him a position as an administrator in the school department.

The teachers' federation described the board's action today as "deplorable."

Convention Meets

HARTFORD (AP)—The state constitutional convention will convene at the Capitol tomorrow for its first plenary session since July.

The convention will meet at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday this week.

Convention sessions this week are expected to be brief, but committee sessions have been scheduled before and after the sessions.

Republican delegates will hold a caucus before the session begins tomorrow. Democrats will caucus afterward.

Transfer of Students Expanded in Boston

BOSTON (AP)—Negro parents expanded their transfer of their children from allegedly overcrowded neighborhood schools today, moving up to the junior high grades.

Using chartered buses, they sent several hundred children out to schools with predominantly white enrollments, adding three schools to the five in which they enrolled 243 children last week when school opened for the new term.

The Negro parents said they were taking advantage of the city's open enrollment policy which enables a child to enroll in any school in the system where there is a vacancy.

The Negro parents, who have been paying for their buses, kept up the pressure to have the city take over the transportation cost.

Louise Day Hicks, chairman of the Boston School Committee, denied there was overcrowding and said the program, called "Operation Exodus," was, in reality, another in the long series of protests against racial imbalance in the public schools.

Gertrude Rose, a leader of the parents group, replied, the main reason for "Operation Exodus" is to "send our children to schools that aren't crowded. Because they fall in districts with mostly white children is no fault of ours."

The Negro parents planned new fund drives and another appeal to the School Committee which met tonight.

Betty Johnson, another leader of the protest, said a leading Negro celebrity, whom she didn't name, would perform in Boston Wednesday to raise money.

A march is planned for next Sunday.

Mrs. Hicks contends the school committee is operating at a $800,000 budget deficit and cannot pay for the buses.

Mrs. Hicks said she will call on the State Department of Education to study the dispute. She said such a study would prove her assertion that the schools in the Negro districts are not overcrowded.

Some Towns Wiped Out

Betsy Toll Near 400

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A million-dollar executive mansion at Baton Rouge, 85 miles up the Mississippi River, a barge loaded with chlorine was reported missing to the aftermath of Betsy and authorities said it posed a threat of poisonous gas should the barge be punctured.

The Navy destroyer Hyman sped upriver from New Orleans to take over the search operation. Navy divers were flown in. Army engineers said they had located an object below the water that might be the barge.

The damage toll left by Betsy's howling winds—190 m.p.h. near the coast, 125 m.p.h. in New Orleans and 94 m.p.h. at Baton Rouge—remained a matter of guesswork with estimates at about a billion dollars.

The Red Cross said its preliminary ground survey showed some towns in the marsh country south of New Orleans wiped out. It said 918 homes were destroyed, 25,000 with major damage and 131,000 with minor damage.

More than 670 trailer homes were believed destroyed, with 1,104 sustaining major damage. More than 2,000 small businesses were estimated heavily damaged or destroyed.

Water pours from the transfer tank as the first crew of Sealab 2 is brought to the surface after 15 days in the sea. The men will stay in the decompression chamber about 36 hours. (AP Photofax.)

Fish 'Torpedoes' Sealab Astronaut

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—M. Scott Carpenter—unscratched in three orbits of earth in 1962 as a tricycle transfer of crewmen of the Navy's Sealab 2 aquanauts in 205 feet of water.

Plans calling for Carpenter to stay another 15 days in the laboratory on the ocean bottom were almost scuttled as the 40-year-old astro-aquanaut, his left hand and arm swelling painfully, was brought back through Sealab's escape hatch.

Nine aquanauts who had been scheduled to ascend after 15 days underwater postponed their departure while one, a doctor, treated Carpenter with pain-killing drugs and cortisone. He said he wanted to stay.

When Carpenter responded to treatment the nine aquanauts, 75 minutes late, continued the complicated maneuver designed to bring them back to man's normal environment: Sea-level pressure and sea-level air.

They were raised to the surface Sunday afternoon in a capsule vessel Berkens on the surface and the pressure slowly decreased.

The nine must spend 36 hours in the decompression unit before they can step out—without suffering the diver's disease, bends, caused by bubbles in the bloodstream.

Nine new crewmen took the place of the men who ascended Sunday. The first three went down before Carpenter's accident. One of them, a Navy medical corpsman, attended Carpenter when the other aquanauts left.

The first group broke the surface late Sunday afternoon when a crane lifted their personnel transport capsule from the water after a 10-minute ride up from the ocean bottom.

When the 10-by-4-foot capsule rose dripping from the sea, newsmen saw the grinning faces of the aquanauts inside. They gave thumbs up waves as a crane lifted the pressurized unit and mated it to the air lock on the decompression chamber.

Most of their stay inside will be spent relaxing on bunks. There is no television set, as there was on Sealab 2.

After the first team leaves the decompression chamber they'll be taken to Balboa Naval Hospital in nearby San Diego for physical examinations.

India Claims Tank Victory In Big Battle Near Lahore

Barge Laden With Gas Perils City

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Two professional divers went down in the muddy Mississippi River today to look over an underwater object that may be a sunken barge loaded with deadly chlorine.

The object was located late Sunday by Army engineers about three-fourth miles south of this city of 160,000 persons. It was 25 feet beneath the surface and 500 feet out from the bank.

Mayor-President W.W. Dumas asked this state capital city's population to stay tuned to their radios for a possible evacuation order.

Col. Bruce J. Bowen, Army district engineer at New Orleans, issued an assurance at midmorning that the sunken barge and its 600 tons of chlorine posed no immediate threat.

A Navy destroyer and a team of Navy diving experts were expected to join in the search momentarily for the barge—sunk by Hurricane Betsy last Friday.

The barge, owned by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., had been shipped here from Lake Charles, La., via the Intracoastal Waterway.

The underwater object was found just before dark Sunday near the Mississippi River bridge under construction here.

A 40-mile stretch of the Mississippi at this busy port was closed to shipping. Dumas said 100,000 gas masks were being stockpiled.

"We don't anticipate that anything will happen but we want to be ready," he said Sunday night.

Pakistani Say Drive Is Halted

NEW DELHI, India, (AP)—India claimed today its tanks scored a victory over Pakistani forces in a major battle near the West Pakistani city of Lahore. Pakistan said it repelled the attack, inflicting heavy losses on Indian armor.

The Pakistani government radio claimed an entire Indian armored division was wiped out in the fighting near Sialkot and that two infantry divisions were routed. It said Pakistani planes then bombed the Indian forces to keep them from regrouping.

The broadcast called the fighting fierce and said the Indians had suffered their heaviest losses so far.

India's government radio claimed, however, that Indian forces made fresh gains in some sectors of the western front. It claimed two Pakistani positions were captured in the Sialkot sector.

A Pakistani spokesman said 45 Indian tanks were destroyed in the Sialkot fighting while Pakistani losses "have been substantially less."

Sialkot is just over the border from Indian Kashmir and Lahore, a city of 1.5 million, 40 miles inside West Pakistan.

Reports from Lahore said fighting raged 10 miles away and artillery fire could be heard inside the city.

Almost 700 American women and children were awaiting permission to leave Lahore. The Pakistani government has charged restrictions on entering and leaving the city but American officials were pressing for permission to start evacuation today or later in the week.

The Indian radio said reports from the front indicate the Lahore battle compares in intensity with tank clashes fought in the North African desert by German and Allied armies in World War II.

Since Sept. 1, Indian forces have "immobilized" 246 Pakistani tanks, destroying or damaging 21 and capturing 34, the broadcast said.

There was no independent confirmation of the Indian claims. However, diplomatic sources in New Delhi said it appeared Pakistani forces had been hard hit.

India claimed Pakistani planes raided the Sikh holy city of Amritsar in Punjab State and the city of Jhokpur in Rajasthan a State late Sunday.

One of three B-27 bombers making the raid on Amritsar was shot down, according to Indian announcements which said the planes were escorted by four F-86 Sabre jets.

New Delhi newspapers splashed government claims on their front pages, highlighting an official announcement that Indian forces had gone over to the attack in the Wagah-Kasur area, about 40 miles southwest of Lahore.

Minutemen Too Late!

NEW YORK (AP)—Massachusetts Day was observed at the New York World's Fair yesterday but the Minutemen (1965 version) were too late for the ceremonies.

Some 100 "Minutemen of Bedford" named after the Revolutionary War group who could "mobilize at a moment's notice" arrived two hours after the program at the New England Pavilion ended.

Unlike their namesakes who rode horses, the modern Minutemen were riding in three buses and were delayed, not by the British, but by heavy Sunday traffic.

U.S. Hits Guerrilla Force Trapped in Mekong Delta

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. war planes kept up round-the-clock bombings today of a Mekong Delta area where a Viet Cong regiment is believed encamped, a U.S. military spokesman said.

The planes were trying to hit canals which can be used as escape routes by the guerrillas in the region 80 miles west of Soc Trang.

U.S. officials said they believed the guerrillas were trapped by the bombings. Ground troops were not committed to the action because of heavy rains and the large size of the Viet Cong force. A communist regiment usually numbers 2,000 men.

The main part of the U.S. Army 1st Cavalry (air mobile) Division began landing at Qui Nhon today. Advance groups were already ashore.

The arrival of the 20,000 "Flying Horsemen" pushed U.S. troop strength in Viet Nam somewhat beyond 125,000. The exact figure was not disclosed.

As the troops came ashore from the ships Buckner and Darby, they were taken by helicopters to their secret base areas. The Buckner brought 2,150 men and the Darby 2,700.

The division, trained especially for guerrilla warfare, was expected to be deployed to South Viet Nam's central highlands. The unit's home base is Ft. Benning, Ga. Qui Nhon is 260 miles northeast of Saigon.

In air action Sunday, B-52 bombers of the Strategic Air Command carried out their 22nd announced strike of the war, hitting the Ho Bo woods 20 miles north of Saigon. The planes flew in from Guam.

Twenty-three U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs blasted the Yen Khoai military barracks 35 miles northwest of Hanoi for the third straight day Sunday. A U.S. military spokesman reported the planes knocked out an antiaircraft site and destroyed 23 buildings, damaging 16 others.

At the same time, 34 other U.S. planes hit various targets in North Viet Nam.

U.S. Marines killed three guerrillas Sunday when the Communists assaulted Marine positions near the Da Nang air base, 80 miles north of Saigon, a spokesman said.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, flew to Da Nang today for conferences with Vietnamese officials.

Lodge flew by helicopter to the village of Le My, where villagers received him warmly and presented him with a Vietnamese flag. The ambassador also visited the medical air center at Le My, the first Vietnamese village pacified by U.S. Marines.

He went to the beach here to greet newly arriving members of the 1st Cavalry Division, Air

Freckled Kansan Is Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—When Deborah Bryant was 12 years old, she was chubby and had freckles. The Kansas beauty still has the freckles but today she reigns as Miss America in slim loveliness.

"I work quite hard at keeping my figure," said Debbie, a 19-year-old resident of Overland Park, a Kansas suburb. "I just love hamburgers. Eat them all the time."

The 5-foot-7 beauty molds 115 pounds into a non-chubby 30-28-36 figure.

"I do exercises every morning, mostly for my legs and hips," she said.

Miss Bryant was selected Saturday night over 49 other girls. They had competed for three days in evening gowns, swimsuits and talent.

She won a $10,000 scholarship, an estimated $80,000 in personal appearance contracts and an opportunity to travel some 250,000 miles.

Miss Mississippi, Patricia Fickett, 20, of Columbus, came in second; Miss Indiana, Eileen Smith, 18, of Indianapolis, was third; Miss Florida, Carol Clum, 21, of Miami Beach, fourth; and Miss Wisconsin, Sharon Bingscock, 20, of Oshkosh, fifth.

Miss Bryant said at a news conference Sunday that after she completes her year's reign, she would enter Kansas University where she will be a junior. She has had two years of Christian College.

"I want to then go to K.U.'s Medical School and become a pediatrician," she said. "I have wanted to become a pediatrician since I was 12 years old. I just love children."

The new Miss America also said she would like to work with "Project Concern," the volunteer medical organization in Southeast Asia, sponsored by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Udall Begins River Tour

OLD SAYBROOK (AP)—State and federal officials, including Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, began a six-hour tour of the Connecticut River today under leaden skies.

Others in the group included Gov. John N. Dempsey, Congressman William St. Onge, and Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., who arranged the cruise.

Ribicoff has proposed legislation that would create a national parkway and recreation area along the river.

Also making the trip were Mayor William E. Glynn of Hartford, State Treasurer Gerry Lamb, LeRoy Jones, executive director of the State Development Commission, Joseph N. Gill, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Donald C. Mathews, State Director of Parks and Forests.

The Dolly Madison was obtained to carry the officials as far as Hartford.

Among the sights along the way are Gillette Castle in Bad-Lym, the Goodspeed Opera House in East Haddam, and the atomic generating plant being built at Haddam Neck.

Girl's Wish Granted Goes Up with Angels

EDITORS NOTE: Bernice Buresh, a young blonde reporter for the Milwaukee Sentinel, is a pilot who even has tried sky diving. After making a demonstration flight with a member of the Navy's precision jet flying team, the Blue Angels, she tells what it is like for a young woman suddenly to weigh more than 600 pounds.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., (AP)—Ever since I can remember I've wanted to fly with the Blue Angels.

That wish came true for almost a half hour this weekend as Lt. Cmdr. Bob Cowles of the Navy's crack demonstration flying team sent a F4J jet roaring down a runway with this reporter in the back seat.

I learned what it was like to fly 850 miles per hour, weigh six times my normal weight and then be completely weightless. "Like the sensation," I thought. Cowles threw the plane into a tight diving turn and the force of gravity started building up. I felt as though I were being pushed toward the bottom of the plane.

"Try to lift your legs," Cowles said. "I can't," I replied. My legs felt as though someone had strapped weights on them.

Cowles headed the jet toward Lake Michigan. The shore line slipped away behind us. He said I'd get another look at it, and I did—from an upside down position.

He talked of the new South which, he said, has a new air of unity, harmony and solidarity.

Summer Theaters

This is the last week of operation for any area summer theater and thus the final week of this column. Only one theater is still operating—the Storvinton Music Fair where Ann Corio is back for a repeat of "This Was Burlesque."

The cast is just about the same but the production is a new one, according to the producers. Miss Corio is reading her group for the first time. The new production is "This Was Burlesque" and will have "all new material" for its second West Springfield run.

Producer Wally Beach advises this is the first time in the theater's seven years that the theater has been brought back because of popular demand. Only 100 seats were available for the first week and the Saturday night group was described as one of the largest in the theater's history.

Conductor to Return
Don Corrier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Corrier, 26 Great Hill St., has been asked to return to the Flat Rock Playhouse, Flat Rock, N. C., for the 1966 summer season. He'll have the position of technical assistant.

Hidden Technicians Stars of Emmy Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dick Van Dyke, the award-winning star of "The Dick Van Dyke Show," was one of the hidden technicians who made the 17th annual Emmy award show possible.

The television Academy, in an announced effort to streamline the award presentation, dropped the number of categories from 28 to 6. Most of the winners are hidden technicians who work behind the scenes.

The show, presented over NBC-TV Sunday night, lasted more than two hours. There were only two major entertainment categories: Outstanding Achievement in Entertainment, and Outstanding Achievement in Technical Direction.

By John Gruber

A few weeks back I mentioned that the TVCA had approached me about giving awards to the winners of the TVCA award show. I was not interested at the time, but now I am.

The TVCA award show is a very interesting and important event. It is a chance for the winners to be recognized for their achievements in the field of television.

SUCCESS OF SPORT PLAY IS TRIUMPH FOR JUSTICE

Sometimes an expert goes through a series of steps to measure just to avoid taking a chance — when all the odds are against him.

The expert play turns out to be not only right but also a triumph for justice.

Opening lead—King of hearts. Nobody will argue if you think the bidding was ambitious. Sheinwold, the Santa Monica expert who held the South card, is no party-waiter. Besides, his team was trailing in the national team championships just a few weeks ago, and he was in no position to settle for a part score.

The Big Issue Submerged

A political campaign is being set in motion in Germany, as elsewhere, it takes in us. So it is that much of the sound and fury as between Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of the ruling Christian Democrats and Mayor Fritz Brandt of the Social Democrats has degenerated into the lowest common denominator of politics these days—bombs.

Such an election season impression is probably not very close to the real situation of either man, and therefore does justice neither to the candidate himself nor to either of his candidates.

The real difference between the two candidates is that observed when both of them are thus engaged in the crucial difference between the two German parties. West Germany has not yet voted for permanent unification of Germany, and as the head of the campaign in Germany which is allied with the United States, is slightly more tolerant of the present status of Europe.

This has, for a decade, been the crucial difference between the two German parties. West Germany has not yet voted for permanent unification of Germany, and as the head of the campaign in Germany which is allied with the United States, is slightly more tolerant of the present status of Europe.

And, secondly, it is never a sure thing to judge what party may follow an election by the policy remarks of campaign statements of the participants.

It is in this country, got a large dose of Goldwater in the White House, we elected Johnson, and might have been surprised, too, with some of the support Johnson moderation if we had elected Goldwater.

Mayor Brandt, if he got the chancellorship, might still regard the reunification of Germany as his number one problem, but might feel like making history while he consolidated his own political position. And Chancellor Adenauer, if he should be re-elected and able to feel the country solid under him again, might decide that the time had come for Germany to stop trying to be half in the world of the United States and half in the world of Russia.

It may be that the submerged, unspoken, undebated issue, that of Germany's real future, not that of which candidate can make the most chauvinistic campaign speeches, is going to score something of a forward move no matter which candidate wins.

Silenced For Once

Of all the pleasant little maneuvers in which President Johnson is such an expert, none has more come true than his use of Senator Morse in the steel strike—a use Senator Morse, for his own courteous part, repaid after it was all over with a fine speech praising President Johnson's steel strike leadership.

WASHINGTON—Though generally overlooked by India, Pakistan's decision to make war on its large, least-neighborly neighbor is a catalytic series of events with only one likely winner—Communist China.

Hard intelligence is scarce, but there is reason to suspect that an understanding of some sort may have been reached between Communist China and Pakistan last year, perhaps in April, when Chou En-lai, the Chinese Foreign Minister, went to Pakistan for secret talks.

That, as it turns out, after China's swift invasion of India in the fall of 1962, a military probe the number of Chinese and exposed the weakness of its armor. As a result of that brief exposure, India now has its best divisions poised along the northwest frontier facing China, and not a single soldier has been withdrawn from that position since the subcontinent against Pakistan.

The obvious first step of a possible Pakistan-China understanding is that India's best fighting forces, including the elite 1st Armored Division, are mobilized on the China border, hundreds of miles from the scene of the action.

BAIGON — Everybody says Don Martin was very good the other day. He was in the cockpit of a helicopter with his rifle in front of him and two men hanging from his back and the black mud round him going to the ground. Then, when he moved out and began firing, he still thinks he might have got one of them. There was one lying on top of a hill. The head was shot off. Don Martin isn't sure, but when he is alone he thinks that he might have done it.

"You can kill as well as you can," he was saying. "You shoot enough, you got to knock down somebody. You got to know somebody's head off. I sure as hell did enough about it."

Since this first operation, which was back in June, Martin has been out on six other operations with his company, which is part of the 112nd Airborne Brigade. Early in August, the outfit was pulled out of its camp in the dirt and mud and sent to an operation at Pleiku. When the company lined up at 4 a.m. on the iron-matted helicopter pad down from their tents, Don Martin was left behind. He was not allowed to go on any more operations, some officers told him. They were going to ship him home to America. There is no doubt that he knows how to kill and he is willing to do it. He is a young man, old. And the Defense Department, after Martin was under fire six times, ruled that he did not want anybody this young fighting in Viet Nam.

So the other day, while his outfit was in Pleiku to fight the Japanese cherry trees in the nation's capital. Some cities are known for certain. Peach Tree, Peachtree, Beacon Street, or Lake Shore Drive. Although we favor fans for Waterbury through promotion and expansion of Arts Festival, we also would like to see it become a more physical characteristic. We don't advocate that every house in Waterbury be painted white. There are many more individuals here who would walk and probably turn to red or purple and we could acquire flamboyant fans.

We would like to search for a small, conservative project for attractive conformity. How about a particular personality? It could be a mountain laurel, azalea, magnolia or rose. Perhaps it could be any variety of shrub or flower but always of the same selected color.

The idea of developing an attractive and unique new characteristic for all of the city intrigues us. It might cause a lot of fun and activity. It would bring in, in our many neighborhoods.

Vernon Carruthers, McCusker Scrap

Over Use of Burning Area

A political cross fire broke out today as charges and counter-charges, mostly over the burning area of Windsorville, were hurled at each other by Republican town chairman Thomas Carruthers and Mayor Thomas McCusker, a Democrat.

Yesterday, Carruthers charged that the mayor has been burning a secret and illegal private dump at Windsorville. Carruthers said that "Wednesday night a special team revealed that an area that had been used for the burning of the local merchant's waste, businesses (paper and cartons) is now being used for the disposal and burning of other than combustible, mostly from the redeveloped area."

The mayor answered the charges by saying that the burning area is a health hazard. Carruthers charged that the mayor is using the burning area as a health hazard. Carruthers charged that the mayor is using the burning area as a health hazard.

One Month Later Watts Leans on U.S. To Rebuild Center

By ANDREW JAFFE. LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Los Angeles attitude pervades the reconstruction of the Watts riot area. This time, George J. Ribbenack, a prominent insurance company executive, says that the insurance companies pay off the cost of rebuilding.

Watts is a 10-block area of Los Angeles that was almost completely destroyed by a riot in August. The riot was the result of a dispute over a new building, which was being built on the site of a former building.

The city of Los Angeles has issued orders that buildings that create health or safety hazards must be cleaned up immediately. Where owners delay, city engineers do the work and send them the bill.

Sam Ribbenack, 65, sits near the rear of his own shop. Most of the liquor store he owned is nothing but a few rows of shelves. He says he will not wait for the city to build a new store.

It all depends on the attitude of the community and what steps the government takes. One of the few white shopkeepers in Watts is a Negro. He says he will not wait for the city to build a new store.

James R. Arnhold of Grand Rapids served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Peter R. Maloney and Frank L. Maloney, both of Manchester, brothers of the bride; William Warner, also of Manchester; and Charles R. Olson of Glastonbury.

Mrs. Maloney wore a green gown of silk tulle, designed with scooped neckline, fitted bodice, Empire waistline and a detachable chapel-length train.

ONE HAPPY FELLA—Gary Player beams with delight and gets set to toss hat into the air when he putted 31 feet from 17th pin, downhill, up rise and up hill, and the ball rolled into the cup.

Player Grabs Check, Takes Off for Home

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Gary Player grabbed his $50,000 check for winning the World Series of Golf and then hustled off to a chartered jet for his South Africa home.

Player called his three-stroke victory Sunday over Masters champion Jack Nicklaus "the greatest year of my career" and then accused himself of having to rush off and make plane connections.

The South African tackled snappy 55-54-59, one under par for first-time demanding 180-foot course, in an opening round 70 in capturing golf's biggest jackpot.

The U.S. Open champion, never behind from start to finish in the final round, put the least beyond any doubt when he claimed a 66-foot birdie putt on the 17th green, ruining Nicklaus' hopes of a final charge.

Actually, it was all over when Nicklaus, who birdied two of the first three holes on the final nine, took back-to-back bogys on the 18th and 19th, and fell three strokes off the lead.

Player's brilliant golf was like shooting clay pigeons. He forced Dave Marr out of contention on the second hole when he carded a birdie four while Marr was taking a bogey. Australian Pelegrino became an also-ran when he took successive bogys on 17th and 18th holes.

Nicklaus was forced out of the picture with his second straight bogey, on 14.

Nicklaus shot a 26-28-71 for a 127 total and took down second money of $13,000. Thompson, British Open champion, had a 26-28-71 and 144 for third place and $7,000, while Marr, the PGA champion, had a disappointing 28-28-77 for 151 and fourth money of $3,000.

Pros Seek Cash At Country Club

Tempo picks up today in part two of the 18th annual Manchester Open Golf Tournament at the Manchester Country Club when low handicap amateurs and professionals try for the top prize of the $2,200 purse.

First day play Sunday, which was restricted to amateurs. Alex Scott, only amateur ever to win, fired a 75 Sunday as did Tom Prior of the host club.

Defending champ Ed Laporte in the past has been 68, a total nine of the previous 18 winners to tie off in today's play.

Meriden Posts Fourth Win

Halfback Paul Maskey of Meriden, Conn., scored two touchdowns and quarterback Larry March of Norwich University passed for two TD's Saturday night to lead the one-peat Meriden Shamrocks to their fourth New England Professional Football League conquest, 41-14 over the South Boston Clippers.

The contest attracted a crowd of over 4,000 under the lights at Coppa Field.

Placemaker Al Furbush converted on five of six extra points, missing his first of the season after the opening score. Furbush is now 14 for 15 in the PAT totals.

The elusive Maskey scored on runs of 22 and four yards. March threw a 14-yard scoring pass to ex-Oak Tom Kychlik and a seven-yard aerial to Bill Mead, flanker who performed with the Boston Patriots and the Westchester Crusaders.

Newly-acquired quarterback Jerry Johnson, formerly of the Oaks, scampered 10 yards on a rollout converted on five of six extra points, missing his first of the season after the opening score. Furbush is now 14 for 15 in the PAT totals.

Leaves Door Open for Return

Heinsohn Hangs Up Sneaks After Nine Celtic Years

BOSTON (AP)—Tommy Heinsohn, who helped the Boston Celtics to eight National Basketball Association titles in his nine years as a pro, concurred on duties as an insurance executive today as his old teammates launched training for the 1969-70 season.

The 31-year-old Heinsohn, a five-time NBA All-Star, announced his retirement Sunday night, but left the door open for a possible temporary return "if the league can be worked out."

"I would be doing myself and my family a disservice to pass up this business opportunity and continue playing basketball," Heinsohn said. "However, because of the loyalty I feel toward the Celtics, I am leaving the door open if really needed."

Biggest Lead in National League Since Aug. 14 in Row for Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—The San Francisco Giants are twice as well off as they have been in nearly two seasons while the Los Angeles Dodgers are in twice as much trouble as they've been this season.

The Giants' advantage and the Dodgers' adversity evolved from the action on the fourth-to-last Sunday of the season. San Francisco swept Chicago 4-3 and Los Angeles dropped a 2-3 decision to Houston.

The double victory, extending their winning streak to 10, shot the Giants into a two-game lead in the National League and loosed up the unprecedented five-game race.

Not since May 12, 1964, have the Giants enjoyed such a big margin. On that day when they led the league both last season and this season, they had no more than a one-game lead.

The Dodgers, on the other hand, had not trailed the leader by more than one game in the last 10 days of the season. In fact, they were within 2 1/2 games of each other.

Now Cincinnati is in third, 2 1/2 behind; Milwaukee is fourth, four games back, and Pittsburgh is fifth, 4 1/2 out.

In other NL action Sunday, New York edged Milwaukee 1-0 in 10 innings while Washington outpitched Cincinnati at Pittsburgh and St. Louis at Philadelphia.

ASTROS-DODGERS—The Astros led the Dodgers 2-1 in the eighth inning when Jim Wynn ramed home from second on Lee May's infield bloop.

They then won it in the ninth. Bob Lillis opened with a pinch hit double off Ron Perrano, who was sacrificed to third and scored on Joe Morgan's fly to center field.

GIANTS-CUBS—The Giants gained their longest winning streak of 10 years with the help of five Chicago errors in the eighth.

Walt Spahn scattered seven hits, including two home runs by John Boccabella, and gained his first complete game victory for the Giants since 1951.
