Big Oil Rig Collapses, 46 Missing

GRIMSBY, England (AP) — A giant oil rig collapsed and sank in the North Sea today. One of the 46 men believed aboard was reported killed and three others were seriously injured.

Royal Air Force helicopters and shipping in the area, alerted by a distress call from the platform called Sea Gem, rushed to the scene 40 miles off this east coast port and began picking up survivors.

There was no clear explanation of what happened and a spokesman for the British Petroleum Co., charterers of the rig, said: "For this to have happened seems unbelievable."

The platform, 247 feet long and 90 feet wide, stands on 10 hydraulic stilts sunk into the seabed. Apparently the hydraulic system failed and the platform sank.

The rig began drilling this summer and struck natural gas in September in what appeared to be commercial quantity. Tests were continuing to see how valuable the strike was.

Minister of Power Fred Lee told Parliament earlier this month that British Petroleum believed the quantities of gas available would justify piping it to land.

The rig weighed 5,600 tons and was capable of drilling to 12,000 feet. (See Page Twenty-Two)

Huge Hong Kong Party

HONG KONG (AP) — It came two days late but it was the biggest Christmas party in Hong Kong.

U.S. sailors and American medical missionaries today handed out 2,000 dolls, 2,000 others toys, slabs of chocolate and jambs cake to about 4,000 children of poor Chinese families.

The party was held on the floating clinic boats of Project Concern, a private American medical agency that treats hundreds of patients daily in Hong Kong's refugee-packed boat shanties.

The party created a huge waterways traffic jam. Scores of larger junks and hundreds of smaller sampans brought the children to the clinic boats. Y. O. and Ming Ling. A mass of youngsters flocked up the gang planks. Babies came strapped on the backs of their mothers or in their fathers' arms.

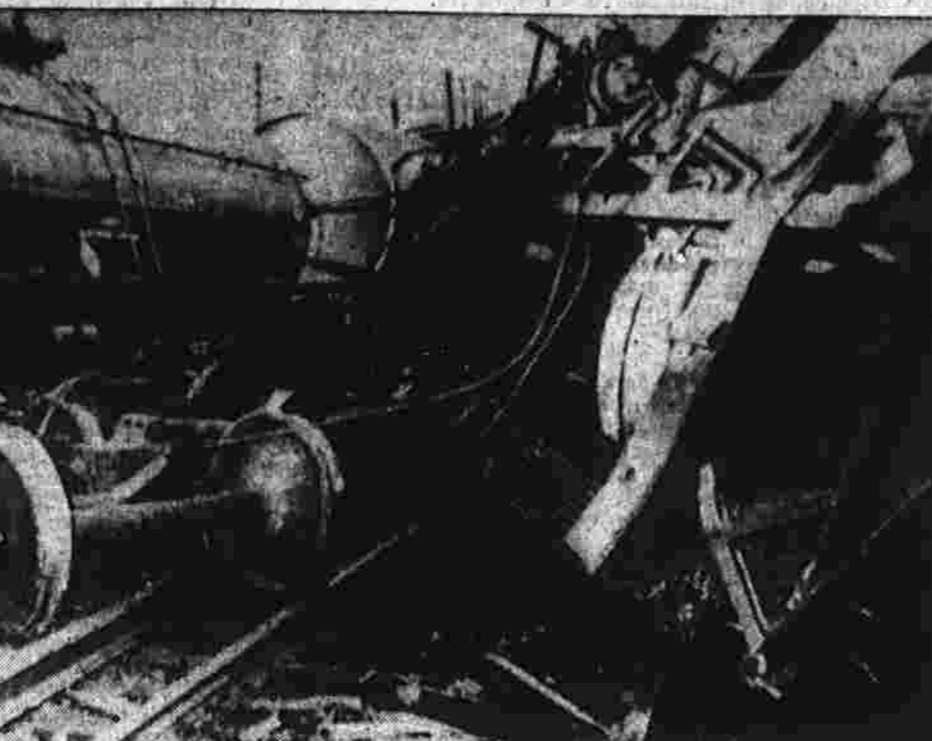

"No child went away empty-handed. Some dolls and toy packets were left after the children trooped away."

The project started its 1966 Christmas plans with 10,000 dolls given by the American toy firm Mattel. Three thousand were sent to South Vietnam last month. Gen. John S. Pomaroy, mountain tribespeople in the hill country north of Hanoi.

13 Freight Cars Slide Off Track

WATERFORD (AP)—Thirteen cars of a New Haven railroad freight train were derailed today. No one was injured.

The derailment occurred about four miles west of New London under the Great Neck Road overpass.

The train was en route from New Haven to Worcester, Mass. The cause was not determined immediately.

Several of the derailed cars were tankers containing propane gas, but officials said there were no leaks or fires.

The derailment occurred shortly after 7 a.m. A spokesman for the railroad said the derailed cars were part of a 100-car train.

The derailment, which occurred in a cut, blocked both ends of the line's tracks. Shoreline passenger service east of New Haven was disrupted.

Repair trains from Providence, R.I., and New Haven were dispatched to the scene. The forward part of the train still on the tracks was taken to New London and then to the destination in Worcester. The cars on the rear of the train were taken back to Old Saybrook.

Viet Peace Vigil Held Near Johnson's Ranch

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Almost 100 Texans — men, women and children — interrupted their Christmas weekend Sunday for a three-hour peace vigil near the LBJ ranch, urging President Johnson to use the power of his office to bring peace in Viet Nam.

They called on Johnson's administration to use the power of his office to bring peace in Viet Nam.

The demonstrators, many of whom had come more than 200 miles to take part in the vigil, stood silently on the grass alongside Ranch Road 1, which passes in front of the president's ranch about 3 miles away.

They left their posts late Sunday afternoon to return home after a letter was given to Secret Service agent Clarence Ketchum for delivery to the President who is at the ranch for the holidays.

Ketchum promised two spokesmen for the demonstrators to reply after they left or by letter later in the week. One spokesman, Houston chemical engineer Allen Clark, said that they had no word from the President.

The letter, drafted by the Houston Citizens for Action on Viet Nam, commended Johnson for the Christmas cease fire he urged further steps to halt the war.

These, as well as immediate destruction from blast heat and radiation, he said, "lead me to conclude that this nation, its people and its future are in jeopardy."

Scientists Clash over A-Defenses

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Two prominent scientists clashed today over the value — or danger — of proposals to spend billions on antimissile systems and fallout shelters.

"Reliance upon a defense system of such extraordinary complexity may bring more risk than safety," said Dr. Barry Commoner, head of the Department of Botany at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. Edward Teller, University of California physicist and one of the inventors of the atomic bomb, countered: "A strong civil defense is our best hope of preventing nuclear attack."

The two were scheduled speakers in a symposium on the civil defense at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science — the largest scientific convention of the year, attended by more than 6,000.

A difference of opinion came at a briefing prior to the symposium.

Commoner, an authority on the effects of radiation on man's environment, accused Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara of giving a "woefully inadequate picture of the immediate and eventual damage from nuclear war."

He predicted "epidemics of human and animal diseases, crop destruction by radiation, erosion and sterilization of the land resulting from massive destruction of vegetation, and the triggering of possibly catastrophic climatic changes."

These, as well as immediate destruction from blast heat and radiation, he said, "lead me to conclude that this nation, its people and its future are in jeopardy."

U.S. Planes Grounded Third Straight Day

Viet Truce Worked on By Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican diplomats were reported today working to encourage a possible New Year's truce for Viet Nam as a new step in the personal peace campaign of Pope Paul VI.

Vatican informants said that the Pope was disappointed that the Christmas truce had been short-lived, he was encouraged by a new step in the personal peace campaign of Pope Paul VI.

It was said that both the Pope and his corps of diplomatic advisers felt that the resumption of fighting did not in itself rule out further progress toward the start of negotiations.

Vatican diplomats were said to have been instructed to set up secret contacts with both sides in the Viet Nam war.

The first objective reportedly was another cease-fire — possibly for New Year's Eve and Day — that might be more effective than the Christmas truce.

The Pope was reported concerned about the renewal of Other aides said that Vatican diplomatic activity in Saigon, Viet Nam, would continue at all levels.

The Pope was reported disappointed over the renewed bloodshed, the Pope was understood to be tremendously encouraged that his appeal for a Christmas truce had been followed by at least a nominal cessation of hostilities.

During the truce the Pope sent a personal message to the Saigon government.

36 Cong Killed by Marines

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — For the third straight day, the United States kept its planes out of North Viet Nam's skies today, but U.S. Marines killed 63 Viet Cong in ground skirmishes after a short Christmas truce.

The Marines reported striking against the Communists during patrols around the big U.S. air base at Da Nang, 80 miles northeast of Saigon. The Americans reported taking light casualties.

A squad of Leathernecks pounced on about 40 Viet Cong, killing 15 in a battle called Quangta No. 1.

Two hours later a Marine platoon near Quang No. 2, about two miles southwest, was attacked by 70 Viet Cong armed with automatic weapons.

The Americans called in artillery support, tanks and armed helicopters. When the brief encounter was over, they counted the bodies of 41 Reds.

Marines, in other scattered actions against the Reds, reported killing seven Viet Cong during the day.

Air attacks were made only on suspected Viet Cong concentrations in South Viet Nam, U.S. officials said. Ground action also was limited to a few key areas for the past 24 hours.

Beyond confirming the success of the air strikes, U.S. officials in Saigon said they were not sure whether the Viet Cong were steadily being closed in by the Hue-Hoihinh industrial belt. Treasury's Bill Rising On Interest

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. Treasury is going to borrow $5 billion in coming weeks—and doubtless pay the lenders more than it did when it borrowed a year ago. Its annual bill for interest already is around $12 billion.

Consumers who buy on the installment plan are likely to pay more for that privilege, too, whether it be interest included in the monthly payments for a new car or a mortgage for a new house.

Businessmen who will be borrowing from their banks to carry inventories, meet payrolls, or buy new equipment are already on notice they'll be paying more interest.

Workers will see a lot more deducted from their paychecks because withholding for Social Security and medicare are at stiffer higher rates.

Price rises, either recently announced or believed to be inevitable, will take another big bite out of many personal incomes. These are expected to go on rising. If less slowly next year because of the Social Security tax hike. But many see much of the benefits of this too to higher prices for goods and services and higher interest rates on consumer borrowing.

The U.S. Treasury expects to take in more money next year from its other forms of taxes. Chief increases will come from the income levy on larger personal incomes and the income tax on continuing, if slower, rise in corporate profits.

But the Treasury is likely to be paying out at an even steeper clip. And that is why it must raise $5 billion in the investment markets in the first half of 1967. Spending on the Viet Nam war will be one additional drain on the Treasury. Cost of social programs already under way or scheduled to be started will be another.

So the Treasury must borrow while it waits for the tax receipts to roll in. It expects to raise $1.3 billion of new cash by increasing its weekly auction of three-month bills. It will also offer a billion in tax-anticipation bills to be turned in by corporations paying their taxes in June. It should will offer $1.5 billion short-term securities at a rate yet to be set. Later on additional borrowing will bring the total to $5 billion.

All of this outpouring of new government securities on the money markets would in itself tend to raise the interest costs to the Treasury. The search for the new $5 billion will be in competition with increased demands of business and consumers for loans.

But the interest charges also will be rising because of the recent move by the Federal Reserve Board. It hiked its charge to member banks who borrow from the Fed. And most of them quickly raised the interest rates they will charge their business and individual customers the next time they make a trip to the loan counters.

Mortgage rates already had started to rise, averaging 5.50 per cent in November against 4.75 per cent in October. Many think the general rise in interest rates will continue to push mortgage costs up next year. Some lenders have raised the interest on loans to auto dealers to finance inventories. And a few banks have moved up charges on installment loans to finance car purchases.

So whether it's Uncle Sam or the average citizen, the cost of borrowing seems likely to rise. The price of many things may, too. And the tax collector—federal, state or local—seems sure to be asking for more.

Rabbi Attends Lehman Parley

Rabbi Leon Wind of Temple Beth Shalom is attending the third annual Conference on Moral Problems, sponsored by the Lehman Institute of Ethics at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York. This year's conference is exploring the problems of the disadvantaged and the Rabbi's role in motivating social change.

Among the speakers at the conference will be Bayard Rustin, executive director of the A. Philip Randolph Institute and one of the organizers of the March on Washington, who will speak on "Some Civil Rights Aspects"; Dr. Frank Riessman, associate professor of psychiatry at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and Director of the Mental Health Program at Lincoln Hospital, who will speak on "The Significance of the Anti-Poverty Ideology"; and Dr. Norman Scotch, assistant professor of social anthropology at Harvard University, who will speak on "Sources of Stress in Society."

The Lehman Institute of Ethics was established several years ago to deal with the moral problems of our time and with the role that Judaism can play in their solution.

Chance Gives Providence Performing Arts Center

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Not too long ago Providence was wondering what it could do to encourage the performing arts. Build a theater complex... attract a resident repertory company... or should it just plod along as it has been doing for quite a few years?

All of a sudden something happened—a 47-year-old movie house called the Albee Theater announced Aug. 30 that it was closing its doors—an "unprofitable venture," the Radio-Keth-Orpheum people called it.

rice track announced he would purchase the theater. On Nov. 28 he guaranteed a $500,000 mortgage for the property because I want to do something for the people of Rhode Island.

Meanwhile, Mrs. John C. A. Walling, wife of the Journal-Bulletin president and publisher, said she would organize the Holiday Festival.

She did just that. The festival put on 11 days and nights of performances, attracted nearly 20,000 persons and was a financial success.

It isn't too easy to get top stars like John Raitt, Frank Guarrera, Frank Fontaine, Bud Hackett, Judy Dolan, Dave Brubeck and quite a few more on one month's notice. But they fit inside the theater which didn't and many more came. There was also the Broadway touring company of "Stop the Week, I want to Get Out" and a troupe from the off-Broadway "An Evening's Peace." Arthur Fiedler, who heads the Boston Pops Orchestra, was guest conductor for the Rhode Island Philharmonic's Holiday Festival Orchestra.

Then there were the local groups, about 40 of them, who willingly juggled schedules to appear. Even the city's rival ballet companies, the American Festival Ballet and the State Ballet of Rhode Island agreed to perform on the same program.

The local groups which didn't fit inside the theater performed outside—on a wooden stage which was donated by a building company for the city's $700,000 Westminster Mall. These shows were free and timed to catch the after-lunch crowd, homework-bound shoppers, and school children.

All but a few of the shows inside the somewhat ornate theater, which was partially refurbished, were presented at 50 cents and $1. Others, like the Brubeck-Collins jazz-folk program, "Stop the World" and a Rhode Island Philharmonic concert carried regular theater prices.

It was still a financial success, festival officials have agreed, partly because of more than a body estimated would cost $2,000,000 to duplicate.

only by business groups to support the venture. Vaudeville Night brought some old-time stars like the Boden-Boden band, Sam and Lewy Ross to what was originally a vaudeville house. There were even some March Bandet films for this show and a bit of slapstick with Charlie Chaplin and the Keystone Kops.

Every segment of Providence showed up at the Albee at one time or other.

Festival officials say they are planning more of the same although they are not quite ready to get into specifics.

Now, Providence has a performing arts center which somebody estimated would cost $2,000,000 to duplicate.

Army Charges Released POWs Aided Viet Cong

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—The U. S. Army announced Monday that two GIs released last month after two years in Viet Cong captivity have been charged with aiding the enemy during their imprisonment.

An Army spokesman said Sgt. George E. Smith of Chester, W. Va., and Spc. 4 Claude McClure of Chattanooga, Tenn., were charged with preparing, furnishing and delivering to the Viet Cong certain documents, statements and writings inimit-cal to the interest of the United States.

The spokesman said an investigation is continuing to determine whether Smith and McClure would be brought to trial before a court-martial. He said both men will remain on Okinawa until a final disposition is made of their cases.

Smith and McClure, both Special Forces men, were captured in November 1963 when the Viet Cong overran the Hiep Hoa camp northeast of Saigon.

Humphrey Opens Tour Of Far Eastern Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first H. Humphrey tour of the Far East today on his first major overseas trip as vice president.

The week-long Asian journey to the Philippines, Japan, South Korea and Nationalist China may be largely ceremonial. But the war in Viet Nam, Humphrey says, will be a prime topic in his private talks with leaders of the four friendly governments.

The foreign travel may also help strengthen Humphrey's Mutual Broadcasting System's Poros Base at mid-afternoon, stop off at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Anchorage, Alaska, to refuel, and then head straight out across the Pacific for Tokyo.

Humphrey arrives in Tokyo Tuesday night, has a luncheon meeting with Prime Minister Shibushta, and then leaves in the afternoon to fly to Manila for Thursday's inauguration of Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos. Friday he has a meeting with the Hartford firm of Coleman served as president of Standard Oil of New Jersey until his retirement in 1957. speeches within the United States.

Unofficially, or otherwise, the White House announced the plan for Humphrey's Asian trip before a public opinion poll whose findings apparently surprised Humphrey's staff. Johnson said he had selected Humphrey as his No. 2 man because he was equipped to be a good president. But the recent poll showed that the majority of people sampled was not so sold on Humphrey as Johnson said he was.

To accompany Humphrey to the Far East, Johnson is sending one of his own closest advisers, presidential aide Jack Valenti.

Humphrey said Sunday on the spot in order to compel it to submit to our 15 hour escalation.

There is, at the moment, one thing left alive from the Christmas truce experiment. As of this writing, we have still not resumed our own greatest escalation of the war in Vietnam—the bombing north of the border. So long as this lasts, it is obviously another informal experiment with the possibilities of some movement toward peace. But let us hope with the confused exuberance of the Christmas truce in mind, that it is not kept so informal it is never made to seem real, and that we persist in being open enough and long enough to escape any charge that the most we are seeking from it is some new propaganda advantage. Pope Paul, with his amazingly simple, nobody ever expects a desperate mobilization of his prestige and organization to the cause of peace in Vietnam is not seeking propaganda advantage, but the simple survival of civilization. He, with his full and unabashed dedication to peace and survival, and we, with our mixture of conscience for peace and our practical loyalty to the gods of war, are both dealing with a party which is perhaps even more hardened to war and less bothered by conscience, but those who make the claim to be civilized have no alternative but to continue to try to prove it.

The Wall A Failure Built

Contrary to the usual propaganda assumptions, the actual building of the Berlin wall was not any special villainy on the part of the Communists. Given the circumstances as they were, West Germany and its allies were actually a little relieved to have the wall built. It was a double kind of blessing for them. They could at once condemn it as a brutality and at the same time breathe more easily once the tide of escape and immigration from East Germany had been halted.

But the story the wall has been telling, ever since it has been in existence, has been one which points all the blame and shame one way—not for the wall itself, but for what lies behind it.

The regulation Christmas season visiting has illustrated this shame again. The traffic is permitted to go only from West to East. The reason is devastatingly simple. Nobody ever expects that a single West German would choose to stay in East Germany if he found an opportunity to do so. But no one expects an East German not to try to escape from a part of Germany if he were given the chance.

It has to be something about the life in East Germany which has created this one way traffic instinct. It is that something, whatever it is, that has been doing wrong, which has been compelling to build, as both a monument to and protection for its own shame, the wall.

Next Tennis Champion
The years during which, and they have been too long, Australia could have been the dominant power in the world, have definitely passed. That title was held by Roy Emerson of Australia, who won the Wimbledon championship of Pennsylvania. Next he was defeated in the tournament for the championship of the United States by Arthur Ashe, the clever young Negro from Richmond, Va. Ashe has now beaten Emerson twice in Australia, once for the Queensland Open and once for the Queensland Open and once for the Queensland Open.

In the hours after the arrival of the order, (prolonging the American ceasefire) the marines tried to puzzle out the answers to many questions, but they still had not been resolved tonight. Had the Vietcong been informed through official or unofficial channels? If not, marines asked, why extend the cease-fire one-sidedly and keep it a secret, thereby losing all the propaganda value of the decision?

"Word that the truce was ended, which reached Danang last night, raised more questions. What had happened, the marines were asking, to change the picture? Were the Vietcong actions last night any more violent than those of yesterday? Was it all a public relations ploy?

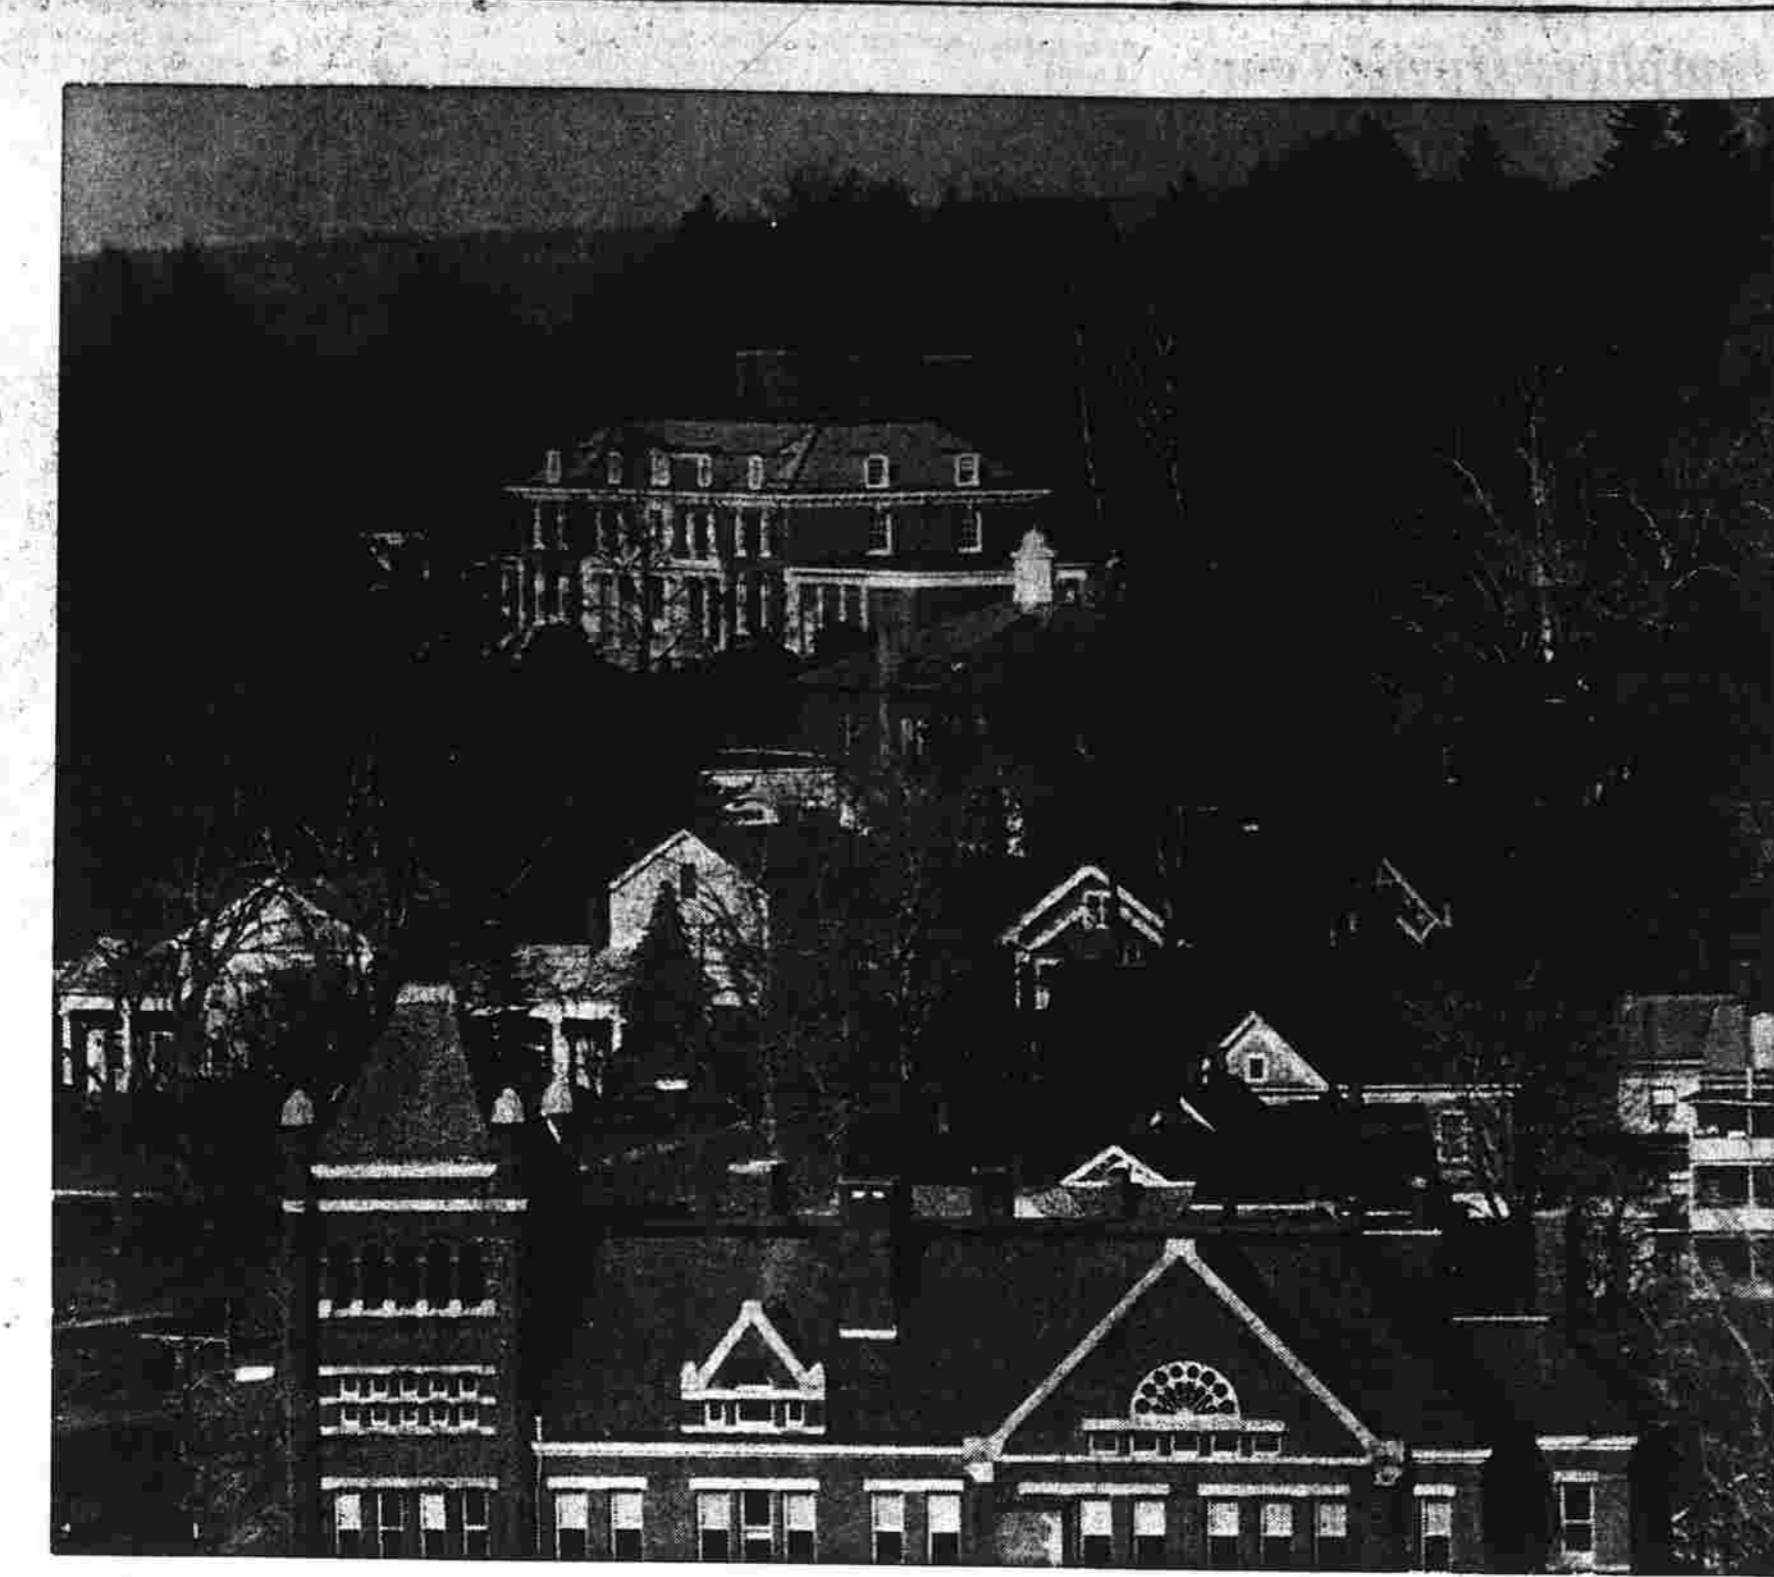

"One view held in Danang—by men who admitted that they did not know the whole story—was that the strategy was intended to cast the United States in the role of the wronged lover of peace but had been frustrated by the guerrillas.

"In fact," said an officer here, "we had no more justification for starting this morning than we had late yesterday afternoon when they ordered the extension."

"But—although incident and interpretation of individual policies may remain confused—the one total result from all this is negative and clear.

The fond hope that the war in Vietnam could, with the aid of celebration and observance of the Birthday of the Prince of Peace, stop itself just by stopping has proved a not reliable hope. It hasn't happened that way. Perhaps it came very close. But it was, the escalation of truce didn't work. We didn't succeed in giving our escalation of another 18 hours as much impulsion upon the Vietcong as the original Vietcong proposal of 12 hours had upon us.

And one reason for this inequality of impulsion is quite simple: on this side of the war we failed gloriously in terms of public presence. We mobilized our self and direct its pleas and urging to leadership. There was no equal way of putting Communist leadership on the

Jimmy Breslin Inside Report

Christmas '65 by Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—In the morning, the extension downstairs was being used by children who spoke in the language of the time in which they are being raised.

"Hobby-agress what I got?" "What a translator radio." "Yeah I got one too." "You did? How much did yours cost?" "I didn't get the cheap one. The cheap one costs only six dollars. Mine is better than that."

"Yeah so is mine. I didn't get the cheap one either." A little later, the holiday beauty still clasped a road which is called the Interstate Parkway. The cold sunlight gleamed on the roofs of the cars which lay in the folds of what had been a blue Corvair car but now was a box of tom metal sitting in the brown leaves on the side of the road. The motor, which was twisted across the front of the car. Pieces of the twisted, unbreakable windshield were sticking out between the lines of chrome.

At 12:30 Christmas morning, Ian Reid was driving the car. He had picked up two friends, Winston Lazama, 27, and his wife Sherry, 24, and was taking them from Brooklyn to Queens for the holiday. The location is meaningless because it stands for every place in the country. Reid drove the car around a turn. The car went out of control and went into a two-foot tapered cement wall that serves as a divider for the parking lot. The cement of the divider crumbled as the car came through it. The car bounced directly into a set of headlights coming the opposite way. The headlights came from a white Chevrolet Impala driven by Raymond Poulter, 36. The blue car fell in on every side and the metal and glass flew at Winston and Sherry Lazama. When the police came the Lazamas were two bodies which had to be put into bags and taken to the morgue. Reid, the driver of the blue car, was barely alive and was taken to the hospital. Poulter, who drove the white car, somehow was left alive. He was put in the same ambulance. Then the road was cleared and traffic resumed.

The police were from the 104th Precinct. Yesterday morning, they had what was left of Raymond Poulter's white Chevrolet on the quiet side street behind the precinct. People in the neighborhood inspected it. The front of the car was pushed in as an empty cigarette package. Inside the precinct, the lieutenant on duty had five red index cards with typewriting on them which told the police of the facts of the accident.

"That's a pretty bad spot on that road," he said. "Accidents like this, we get them all the time." He shrugged. A holiday car accident with two dead is commonplace in his precinct. Every place else, too. By 3 p. m. yesterday, the nation had passed its record of 607 auto deaths for a holiday. The NBC had it all day.

This year, the Chinese could not blame U.S. bombing. The single-track line from Kunning (one of only two rail lines from China into North Viet Nam) was in fair working condition. U.S. bombing didn't begin until February and didn't reach that close to the Chinese border until months later.

Still, once the supplies reached Red China, they were subjected to one delay after another. The Chinese could do nothing about the Russians that due to track conditions beyond their control, so sorry, no Soviet freight cars today.

The Russians publicly made their anger known. Doubtly so when Peking charged that Moscow had betrayed the world Communist revolution and was refusing to aid North Viet Nam. Several months later, this Chinese harassment suddenly changed. Russian equipment and supplies poured into Hanoi at a rapid pace.

The reason: The need for mobile SAM anti-aircraft missiles from Russia to protect Hanoi and the port of Haiphong for the North Vietnamese. These SAM missiles almost certainly came by rail, not by sea as originally thought.

Viet Nam Assessment

Failure of U.S. Strategy Leads to Steady Escalation

Editor's Note—The bomb- and battle strategy begun by President Johnson last Feb. 11 in Viet Nam is an expected, Red offensive months ago has failed to bring the Communists to the conference table. What's next for President Johnson? As the war roars on, difficult choices seem ahead. This is the first of four articles assessing America's role in Viet Nam.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The war in Viet Nam is entering a new phase of escalation which threatens to grow far more costly and dangerous before the next year of conflict is many months old.

Active fighting is likely to spread from the battle grounds of Viet Nam into strategic jungle areas of Cambodia and Laos. The expanding struggle will require more American troops and the level may rise toward half a million men.

North Viet Nam probably will lose its bomb-free sanctuary around Hanoi and Haiphong. Red China may send troops and planes to help the North, lead to a U.S.-Chinese Communist confrontation. The pressure on the Soviet Union to line up with China and North Viet Nam against the United States would then be very great.

This grim view of the possibilities of the conflict has arisen here following the failure of the bomb-and-battle strategy which the Johnson administration leaders began putting into effect 13 months ago.

The prospects can be overturned at any moment by an agreement between the United States and Viet Nam—which might be engineered by Britain or Russia or the United Nations or some other third party to stop the fighting and transfer the conflict to the conference table. No such agreement is in sight however.

The judgment of U.S. officials is that the war probably will have to get much worse before it gets better. No one can figure out a compromise between the Communist demand for terms giving them a decisive voice in South Viet Nam's future and the U.S. demand that the Communists abandon their conquest of the South.

The bombing strategy adopted by President Johnson last February was aimed at defeating Viet Nam in Viet Nam in an expected, Red offensive months ago has failed to bring the Communists to the conference table.

Program Given At Westhill

A Christmas program was held in the administration building of the Westhill Apartments last Monday. The evening events were arranged by Florence Stevenson and included an instrumental band and a group of instrumentalists under the leadership of Miss Gladys White. Both groups represented young people from the Salvation Army.

The program was led by Capt. Ernest V. Payton and featured the singing of "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel" and "The Christmas Carol" by the instrumental band. The program was a success and the young people from the Salvation Army were well received.

Almost without exception, even among the most seasoned veterans, the faces echo the horrors of battle and the days without a bath or a fresh canteen of water, how they hate being in this strange, fevered land, how tired they are of this hell and the havoc and the noise of battle and going for days without a bath or a fresh canteen of water, how they hate being in this strange, fevered land, how tired they are of this hell and the havoc and the noise of battle and going for days without a bath or a fresh canteen of water.

Combat Soldier's Face Mirrors Many Moods

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The American combat soldier in Viet Nam is a man of many moods and constantly changing expressions. In the inscrutable, faceless East, his face mirrors Western man's instant and instinctive reaction to pain and fear, humor and death.

Downtown Merchants Cite Lack of Department Store

The most frequently mentioned complaint of downtown Main St. in a survey taken of 111 of its businessmen, is that no large department store is located on the thoroughfare.

The survey was taken by Raymond and May Associates, consultants to the Manchester Redevelopment Agency, in an effort to determine the current status of downtown business activity, the types of businesses in the area, the businessmen's assessment of the present situation, and his ideas for necessary improvements.

The other major problems, listed in the frequency of mention, are, outdated buildings, lack of adequate parking, unattractive buildings and stores, inadequate variety of prices, inadequate customer conveniences.

Also, fear of overtime pay, story space, business area too spread out, inability to compete with downtown Hartford, need to convert buildings outside of the central business district will be considered for their possible inclusion.

The suggestions ranged from simple facelifts of existing buildings to the "need for a Constitution Plaza."

By a large margin, the survey revealed that the downtown merchants are anxious for redevelopment of the area.

Chorches Lowest In Cruiser Bids

Chorches Motors of Manchester is the apparent low bidder for supplying the police department with six new cruisers.

The six used cruisers, a 1964 Dodge with about 50,000 miles, will be retained, and will be assigned to incoming General Manager Robert B. Wells.

The only other bidder at today's bid opening was Eastwood Chrysler-Plymouth of Portland, which offered a net price of $10,350.80 for furnishing six 1966 Plymouths.

Chorches, in addition to his regular bid, offered a 20 per cent discount on all parts for the new vehicles.

5 Killed in House Fire

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A young mother and her four children died early today in a fire that swept their four-room home two miles east of Uniontown.

Firemen said Martha Garrison, about 22, and the children were asleep and had no chance to get out. Their bodies were found in two beds.

The father, Homer, about 26, first dashed from the house, then tried to get back in to rescue his family, police said.

He was unable to get into the house only a few minutes after the fire broke out.

The bodies of Mrs. Garrison and her youngest child, Steven, about a year old, were found in one bed. In the other bed were the bodies of Herky, about 7, Thomas, about 4, and Karen, about 2.

Firemen said the blaze apparently was started by the explosion of an oil stove in the living room.

A neighbor living close by said the club would be abandoned for the course entirely and seek a new location.

Renewal Notes Sold To New York Firm

The sale of $950,000 of preliminary loan notes for the North End Renewal Project has been awarded to Salmon Brothers and Hutzler of New York City at a 37 interest rate, plus a premium of $30.

The funds, which will be available by Jan. 20, will be used to carry out the execution activities of the project, mainly the acquisition of property.

The notes will be repaid with the periodic progress grants from the $1.8 million federal allocation set aside for the North End project.

The procedure of borrowing funds on the open market is followed because it has been found to be less costly, interest-wise.

The government has been paying a 12 per cent interest rate on its borrowing for renewal purposes.

Others who had presented prices at the Dec. 21 local bid openings were: The Hartford National Bank, 2.98 per cent; The Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., 3.01 per cent; First National City Bank of New York, City, 3.02 per cent; and the Manhattan Trust Co., also of New York City, 3.09 per cent.

Plane Lands Safely On New York Bridge

NEW YORK (AP)—Woodrow Leone, 47, driving his truck across the George Washington Bridge, looked in the mirror and saw an airplane.

A moment later the wingtip of the small plane, carrying two men, nicked Leone's truck and landed in the middle of the bridge.

The two occupants of the plane walked away with minor injuries. Leone, from Guttenberg, N.J., was unhurt.

The pilot, Phillip Ippolito, 19, of the Bronx, told police he was going to land the single-engine plane in the Hudson River after the engine failed. But his passenger, Joseph Brennan, 39, of Hackensack, N.J., told Ippolito he couldn't swim.

The damaged plane veered off the truck and came to rest in the two center lanes of the giant bridge, which connects New York City with New Jersey. The lanes were not being used by motorists at the light Sunday morning traffic.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE Major Francis Mahoney assured the club that the town's board of directors will be ready when the club is to renegotiate a lease extension.

A meeting with the town directors will have to be held soon after tonight's discussion, Warren said today.

One of the possibilities to be discussed tonight is redesigning the clubhouse which many club members feel is laid out badly. The alternative would be to restore the building to its original condition without any alteration.

Bay State Tax Battle Heads for Showdown

BOSTON (AP)—The year-long Massachusetts tax battle goes to the state supreme court today as Gov. John A. Volpe moves to drive to get a sales tax enacted in the final days of 1966.

It is the Republican governor's sixth sales tax package this year and Volpe seems to have his best chance of success.

Moved in with the $200 million tax program after House and Senate Democrats controlled the legislature by top heavy majorities, failed in their attempt to pass a tax bill.

The governor's new plan would make the 3 percent sales tax temporary, to run from Feb. 1, 1967 to Dec. 31, 1967 and terminate on that date unless extended by the legislature.

The measure's first test would be in the House and a similar measure early in November.

The mood of the House, under the leadership of Speaker John F. Davidson, is difficult to predict. But Davoren himself has indicated the bill probably will go through.

A chief reason given by those who think the bill will pass is the House is that members of the House are sure to continue into the long struggle would like to 1966.

Viet Mountain Tribesmen Sentenced After Coup Fails

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP)—Four Montagnard tribesmen were sentenced to death today for their part in an unsuccessful revolt 10 days ago to set up an autonomous tribal state in South Viet Nam's central highlands.

A South Vietnamese field court sentenced 16 other Montagnards to terms ranging from five years to hard labor followed by banishment for five years to life imprisonment. One tribesman was acquitted. The five-man court deliberated for 40 minutes.

Thirty-five Vietnamese soldiers and soldiers were killed in the revolt. It was the second in 15 months by activists among the nearly million mountain tribesmen who generally resent domination by the Vietnamese from the lowlands.

Two days ago a sandbag wall and five firing squad states were put up in Pleikui's main public square. The four men sentenced to death have the right to appeal.

The prosecution had asked for the death penalty for only one of the 20 defendants. Master Sgt. Nam Ray, who admitted

VIENT CLOSE SHAVE

WINDS, TENN. (AP)— A local soldier serving in Viet Nam has written his parents of a "close shave" at the hands of a native barber.

Jimmy Shepherd said he got a haircut from a Vietnamese barber and a short time later, an American officer entered the shop and was killed by the barber.

Shepherd wrote that the barber was a spy for the Viet Cong and later was slain by American troops.

LBJ Hopes Fighting Will Ease in Asia

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson reportedly still retained a glimmer of hope today that the fighting in Viet Nam will not return to pre-Christmas ferocity.

The fact that the United States had not resumed bombings of North Viet Nam, even two days after the end of the cease-fire, was seen as evidence that Johnson still was seeking a peaceful settlement.

When the United States and South Viet Nam were considering last week a 30-hour Christmas cease-fire, so long as their troops were not fired upon, Johnson kept aloof from the eventual announcement and, publicly, the decision-making.

"That's a matter to be decided in Saigon," said the Texas White House.

Johnson made no public comment on the cease-fire, even identify himself with good news.

In many quarters, his silence was interpreted as indicating reluctance to associate himself with a move that might go awry. And some observers were convinced after the cease-fire failed to hold, that this was his reasoning.

However, one source close to the President said Johnson's aloofness is a different light by saying: "He is silent because he is listening."

In short, according to this source, Johnson said nothing because he was most interested in Hanol's reaction. Reportedly, he did not want to cloud the atmosphere.

It was not happenstance either, it was said, that the State Department announced official-ly that American troops had been ordered not to fire except in self-defense, even after the end of the 30-hour cease-fire, and that the subsequent fighting that followed Park's 1961 coup.

$2 Trillion Fiscal Expert Retires from Senate Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate fiscal expert who has handled federal government appropriations totaling more than $2 trillion retires Thursday after 33 years of service at the Capitol.

Everard H. Smith, 73, is stepping down as chief clerk of the Senate Appropriations Committee, from what he calls "the most wonderful job in the world."

"You couldn't find a university any place where you could learn as many top people on as many different subjects as come before our committee every year," he said.

Smith went to work for the Senate committee April 1, 1933, at the outset of the Woodrow Wilson administration.

That first year the congressional appropriations to run the government totaled $1,000,000,000. In the 1965 session which ended in October the total was $119.3 billion, second highest in history. Only 1942, a World War II year, had a higher figure—$147 billion.

"I hope so," Smith said. "But over the 33 years of Smith's work with the committee, the appropriations totaled $2,191,000,000,000."

In his early years on the group, Smith was one of the three full time committee employees and he worked on all of the bills.

Now, with the federal government far greater in size and much more complex, the committee has 35 staff members including one or more experts for each of the separate departmental bills.

But Smith, as chief clerk since 1958, has kept his finger on all of the measures.

Smith was brought to the Capitol by Sen. Thomas S. Martin of Virginia who was chairman of the Appropriations Committee at the time.

He was hired partly because of his knowledge of shorthand and also told only, "We want you to do some little odds and ends around the office."

World War I, World War II and the Korean War put the greatest strain on the Appropriations Committee during Smith's career.

The evening almost ended in tragedy when an A4 Skyhawk many nights during World War II to get emergency money bills ready for quick action by senators on the committee the next morning.

In recent years he has been in the sea and explained.
