Tolland's Annual Scramble

Parents Endure Long Wait For Rare Kindergarten Spots

By BETTE QUATRALE
Tolland's annual co-operative kindergarten registration scramble was held at 10 this morning at the United Congregational Church. Only 44 child drivers' licenses and registrations were available for the 240 eligible (18 per cent) could be accepted in today's session. A strategic plan, second only to a well mapped military campaign in required to win the prizes. The acceptance of your child in kindergarten at 10 a.m. by Mrs. Robert Noonan who arrived at the church at 1:10 a.m. with some neighbors. They parked their cars outside the door, and remained there until the doors opened at 3:30 a.m. and reported to their wives at home, who than drove up—and waited.

Military Shopping Up by Half-Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $4 billion to supply this fiscal year for resale to the military, compared with $3 billion last year. Pearson Orders Scandal Probe; Dares Opponents

OTTAWA (AP) — Liberal Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson has dared the Conservatives opposition to try to throw him out of power over the alleged security scandal involving a German beauty queen and former Conservative Cabinet member.

Over angry roars from the opposition in Parliament, Pearson said Friday night he had ordered a secret, full-scale judicial inquiry into the case, which threatens to explode into a scandal as big as the Profumo affair that rocked Britain. Pearson indicated that the inquiry will examine charges made last Thursday by his justice minister, Lucien Cardin, that Cabinet members under the Conservative regime of ex-Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker were linked with Gertrud Munsinger. Cardin said she was a former Communist spy. Pearson read into the record charges by Cardin that Diefenbaker had mismanaged the Munsinger case. UAC Asks New Vote By Union

EAST HARTFORD (AP) — United Aircraft Corp., which is having contract negotiation difficulties with the International Association of Machinists, has challenged the I.A.M.'s right to bargain for the workers. The company notified officials of I.A.M. Local 1746 and Local 748 Friday that it feels a National Labor Relations Board election should be held to see if the workers at the Pratt & Whitney Division plants in East Hartford and Manchester and the Hamilton Standard Division plant in Windsor Locks want the I.A.M. to represent them. The company will make the request to the NLRB if the union fails to do so. Martin F. Burke, UAC vice president for industrial relations, said. The I.A.M. contract at Pratt & Whitney is set to expire in June.

Army Chief In Control Of Country

SINGAPORE (AP) — Lt. Gen. Suharto, Indonesia's new strong man, dissolved and outlawed the Indonesian Communist party today in the name of President Sukarno, Jakarta radio announced.

At the same time informants in Singapore reported that Sukarno and First Deputy Premier Subandrio, his pro-Peking chief lieutenant, were not being allowed to leave the presidential palace in Jakarta.

These sources added that the shape of developments in Jakarta indicated Suharto, the Indonesian army chief, was firmly in control and that Sukarno, now apparently only a figurehead, had little chance of staging a comeback.

Jakarta radio broadcast excerpts of a meeting of high government officials at Sukarno's palace where Sukarno said he had ordered Suharto to take control of the country and maintain peace and order.

The Suharto spoke and said he had no intention of moving Indonesia's political outlook either to the right or extreme left. "It is already left," he said. That broadcast said Subandrio — chief target of anti-Communist students — was present at the meeting and he was referred to as deputy premier. But informants in Singapore, receiving independent reports from Indonesia, said Subandrio was out and was being held in a virtual prisoner in the presidential palace.

White House Hit by GOP On Budgets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Republican members of the House Appropriations Committee accused the Johnson administration today of underestimating defense needs in the 1968 and 1967 budgets. Commenting on a $13.1-billion emergency money bill approved Friday by the committee, they predicted that more money will be needed later this year or early next year to make up for deficiencies in the budget.

The three expressed their views in a joint statement. They are Reps. Glendon P. Lipscomb of California, Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin and William E. Mitchell of Ohio. All are members of a subcommittee which drafted the present one in Viet Nam.

"In a critical situation such as the present one in Viet Nam," they said, "there is a tendency on the part of the executive branch to devote the bulk of its time and attention to the problems of the moment. . . . We cannot discharge our responsibilities when any administration is reluctant to spell out those needs and anticipate future requirements because of budgetary considerations, whether those budgetary considerations are for fiscal or political reasons."

Scores 44 Points in 73-62 Tourney Win over East

Murphy Just Too Much

By RICH DYER

Phenomenal Calvin Murphy lived up to all advance press notices last night as he dumped in 44 points to lead top-ranked Norwich High to a 73-62 conquest over East Catholic High in the quarterfinal round of the CIAC Class I Tournament at Kennedy High in Waterbury.

The 5-10 Negro star, a likeable candidate for All-American honors, captivated a crowd of 1,900 with an exhibition of blistering speed and ultra-deadly shooting that repelled a valiant Eagle effort.

Murphy, a 21-1 record, the winners now look to the semifinals. East closes the season standing 16-4.

The Eagles kept things close for the greater portion of the contest, snapping an 18-16 first turn lead and trailing by two points at intermission.

Henry Murphy scored 18-13 in the second half, however, extending the down-state club's margin and insuring victory through the final canto.

Managing a 53 per cent clip of 11 foul shots. Also, we tried at this at the second half and the third half.

East started out great, pushing Norwich to four first period rebounds and clutching the lead midway through.

Teammate Willie Miller followed. Undaunted by 12 Murphy lalies, the Silk Town quintet attempted to topple Norwich's hand work. Murphy fashioned his own climax as he scored eight more points to render the gap insurmountable.

Scoring Ace Seeks Rival Star To Pass Along His Compliments

By PETE ZANARDI

Basketball is a game for gentlemen, at least it was last night.

After pacing Norwich High to a 73-62 victory over East Catholic with 44 points, Calvin Murphy edged his way through a sea of well-wishers from both sides, to find Ray LaCaze. The 5-10 shooting phenom found him, threw his arms around him.

For an all too brief moment, two of the best state has to offer stood together. One from battle but true to the higher score that should govern any game.

Murphy was nothing short of his press releases. He fired them from all angles, picked up his usual load of assists and proved his defensive hand as well with a number of steals. East Coach Don Burns commended Murphy's season total of 1,100 points, but he was not in front, it didn't work.

Norwalk's fans failed to duplicate the sportsmanship the representative showed on the hardwood. Notes with East stepped to the line spooled much of the game that could have been avoided.

"I couldn't ask more from my boys," Burns said of his crew. "They just got tired in the second half, just ran out of gas. We had to leave one man on the floor."

LaCaze stood in the locker room and rebuked the players. "You were supposed to be a team," he said. "You were supposed to be a team."

LaCaze scored 1,049 points. The Eagle career leader. Over the three years that LaCaze performed, East Catholic lost only 11 games.

Among the college coaches on hand were the college coaches on hand and proved his defensive hand as well with a number of steals.

A variance request from the Lutz Junior Museum, to permit it to erect a 24-by 50 foot shelter in the town-owned Oak Grove Nature Preserve, heads a seven-item agenda up for public hearings before the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) at its March 21 meeting.

With Band

Maj. E. Walter Lamie, former officer-in-charge of the Manchester Salvation Army Corps, will appear as vocalist, and trombone player with the Cadets' Band and Male Chorus of New York City tonight at 7:30 at Verplanck School Auditorium. The 55-member organization is from the Salvation Army School for Officers Training in New York City. The group will perform with the Manchester Citadel Band and Songsters.

An instructor at the school, Maj. Lamie has been a member of the group since 1964. He and his wife served in Manchester from 1958 to 1964. The concert is open to the public. Tickets may be obtained at the door. The Cadet Band and Chorus will present a service of music and song tomorrow at 4:30 p.m. at Trinity Covenant Church. The event is open to the public.

The other requests to be considered on March 21 are:
1. From William A. Oleksinski and Wallace J. Parciak, owners of Willie's Steak House, for a variance to use the premises at 85 W. Center St., in Residence Zone A, for parking of motor vehicles.
The site consists of two 50-foot lots. The applicants cite the parking ban on the south side of Center St. and the increased congestion in the area as the reasons for added parking space need.

Rear-end Crash Injures Driver

John F. Fitzgerald, 31, of 169 Loomis St., received eight stitches at Manchester Memorial Hospital last night to close a chin laceration he received in a two-car accident at Hilliard St. and W. Middle Tpke. And he also got a ticket from police charging him with failure to drive in the proper lane.

Police say Fitzgerald was eastbound and hit a car driven by Paul R. Cass, 16, of East Hartford, who was stopped, his lights signaling a left turn into the East Catholic High School entrance.

The Fitzgerald car was damaged in the front end and was towed away. Court date for Fitzgerald is March 21.

A northbound car driven by Roland H. Machia, 27, of East Hartford, was unable to stop in time and collided with a car driven by Linda A. Luond of Storrs as the Luond car slowed down in preparation to stopping for a signal light on Main St. south of Birch St. yesterday about 1:45 p.m., police report.

Machia was given a written warning for failure to drive a reasonable distance apart.

Hilltop Rd. north of Wetherell St. was the scene of a car-station wagon accident this morning about 12:15 a.m. when a southbound car driven by Daniel P. O'Sullivan, 19, of East Hartford, hit a northbound car driven by Samuel H. Stitham, 50, of Rt. 44A, Bolton, according to police.

The O'Sullivan car, police report, hit a tree on the right side of the road and then continued to roll at an angle to the left side of the roadway for a distance of about 145 feet before it hit the Stitham wagon. Both cars were towed away. The accident continues to be under investigation.

Good 'Aida' At Bushnell

By JOHN GRUBER

An "Aida" with great sense of style thoroughly delighted an SRO audience at the Bushnell last evening, so that it nearly shouted itself hoarse for the principals and displayed the utmost enthusiasm throughout the evening.

Actually, the production was not as great as the response it elicited. It was extremely good, but it was not sensational. Of course, the work is invariably a crowd pleaser and this crowd was particularly pleased to have Franco Corelli in the cast. Mr. Corelli is unquestionably the owner of a magnificent voice which he uses with assurance and verve. He is likewise tall, dark and handsome. He made a convincing Rhadames and his almost frenetic reception was a foregone conclusion.

Yet with everything in his favor, he chooses to remain a great Italian tenor, rather than the supremely fine artist he could be if he so chose. He has no need to resort to crowd-pleasing trickery, yet often he chose to entertain the audience at the expense of the composer's desires, as indicated in the score.

Elmore Ross sang opposite him in the title role and received nearly as much acclaim as the highly touted star. Heard here on one previous occasion, she failed to impress, but last night she did a thoroughly good job. She is slow to get started so her "Ritorna vincitor" in Act 1 was none too exciting. Her "O patria mia" in Act III, on the contrary, was excellent.

She displayed a voice of very wide dynamic range, with an excellent pianissimo and a fortissimo of great size. In the middle, however, she is somewhat at a loss, and the same may be said of the middle pitches of her voice. Given a moderately loud passage in what should be an easy range and she becomes reedy and vocally ill at ease. But in the extreme of range and dynamics she is something to hear.

Gladys Krise, substituting at the last minute for a suddenly ailing Grace Hoffman, was an adequate Amneris, with the failing of singing sharp in loud passages. Louis Sgarro, noted for his many excellent portrayals here in the past, just couldn't make it as Ramfis, high priest and villain. He sang very well, but he just couldn't get enough menace in his voice.

Chester Ludgin did well as Amonasso, a role apparently more suited to him than the one in which he was last heard here. Erwin Densen, Marshal Stone and Nancy Nicks were all satisfactory in minor parts.

The chorus sounded very well, augmented as it was by group of singers from MHS who sang just as well as anybody else and were impossible to distinguish from the remainder of the chorists.

Thomas Cannon staged some effective ballet scenes and the corps de ballet performed them to the delight of the audience. The chorus sounded very well, augmented as it was by group of singers from MHS who sang just as well as anybody else and were impossible to distinguish from the remainder of the chorists.

When you get right down to it, I think the most artistic job of the evening was turned in by Anton Guadagno, who conducted. His readings of the orchestral portions were excellently in keeping with the composer's demands.

Speaking of the orchestral portions, the production last night was sumptuous enough to enlist the services of performers on the "Verdi trumpet" a difficult instrument to play, and frequently omitted from performance. The musicians were impeccable from New York, and were one of the touches that tend to make Connecticut Opera a big league company.

Staging, under Riccardo Morosco, was effective, but sometimes clumsy in handling the extremely large cast. As in the only other opera he has staged here, lighting was imaginative, but the audience was forced to endure unconscionably long stage waits during the changes of scenery.

One other request, which had been scheduled for a public hearing, has been withdrawn.

It was from Arthur Scranton, for a one-year extension of permission to use his land at Tolland Tpke. and Taylor St. for the storage of gas-transmission equipment.

The H. C. Price Co. of Texas will pull its equipment from Manchester in about a month and will move it to Kentucky.

CLASSIC MUSICAL—Gordon MacRae and Shirley Jones star in the Hollywood version of Rodgers and Hammerstein's classical musical, "Carousel," tomorrow night at 9 on "The Sunday Night Movie" to be telecast on WNHC-TV, Channel 8.

Drums Beating For New Shows

NEW YORK (AP)—The three major television networks are now in the midst of setting up schedules for next fall. Already the publicists are beating their drums to excite us about all the delights in store—six months ahead.

Very little, by comparison, is being said about what has come to be known as "the summer rerun season," which starts sometime next month.

Under normal circumstances, television is very sensitive about utterances of members of the Federal Communications Commission, which controls the licensing of broadcasting.

It was last Sept. 24 when FCC chairman, E. William Henry, addressing the International Radio and Television Society, asked:

"I wonder how many regular television viewers are satisfied with their summer diet? How many are content with the steady stream of network repeats, reruns, and rejects? How many enjoy rehashing yesterday's cud? How many have developed tired television blood without realizing that it is simply a long, long time from May to September?"

Then he suggested that "the networks' summer siesta should become a summer workshop — seeking new sources, new directions, new concepts, new formats, new faces," and dedicated to program development and experimentation.

Maybe the networks were not listening attentively. Anyway, this summer's sleepy time looks pretty much like any other. Out of close to 100 evening programs, all but 11 will be repeating shows.

CBS' "What's My Line?" on Sundays will, as usual, stay with new shows all through the warm weather. On Monday night, singer John Davidson will star in a variety show to replace Andy Williams on NBC; Art Linkletter's "Hollywood Talent Scouts" will continue with new material, and ABC's "Ayers" — a British import that does not replace "Ben Casey" until the end of this month — will have fresh stories.

Red Skelton on CBS Tuesdays will have a substitute in "Hippodrome," a collection of circus acts. John Gary, the singer who has become almost a regular on "The Danny Kaye Show" will take over that CBS hour for the HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dum-de-dum-dum is back.

Dum-De-Dum-Dum; Dragnet's Back

If you don't know what dum-de-dum-dum is, you must be terribly young. That was the opening theme of "Dragnet," which was one of television's most notable series in the years from 1952 to 1959.

The saga of Los Angeles police operations made a millionaire of Jack Webb, who produced, directed and starred as Sgt. Joe Friday. Webb moved on to other enterprises including television series and most recently, a post as head of Warner Bros. Television.

He is now in the midst of filming "Dragnet 1966," an up-to-date, two-hour version of the show for broadcast by NBC. I dropped out to see the filming and it appeared that time had stood still for Joe Friday. He has the same stolid face, the same emotionless voice, and he's still a sergeant.

"But I'm exactly 10 pounds heavier than when I finished the series," confessed Webb. "Old whale-face they call me."

The poundage was not noticeable. It no doubt came from his tour of executive duty, a role in which he considered himself miscast.

"A lot of my friends, were upset when I was fired from Warners — much more upset than I was," said Webb, who enjoyed the balm of $8,000 weekly severance pay for a couple of years.

"I wasn't happy behind a desk. I'm much more in my element out here on the floor with the others."

Sgt. Friday has a new sidekick in the two-hour drama, which comprises three actual cases from Los Angeles police department films. The fresh partner is veteran character comedian Harry Morgan. He replaces Ben Alexander, the longtime Frank Smith of "Dragnet."

"We wanted Ben back," explained Webb, "but he had already signed for a pilot film at Fox. They wouldn't let him loose for ours."

"Dragnet 1966" is another of a

Como, Is Signed For 19th Year

Perry Como will start his 19th year of TV shows—and his eighth consecutive season for the same sponsor—when he presents seven special color productions of "Perry Como's Kraft Music Hall" on the NBC Television Network Mondays 9 to 10 p.m. EST during the 1966-67 season.

The Como specials will present programs of the newly announced "The Road West" drama series.

Two of the programs will be presented as Como's traditional holiday shows. The first, a pre-Thanksgiving Day program will be colorcast Monday, Nov. 21, followed by the Christmas show Monday, Dec. 19. The remaining five specials will be presented in 1967 on dates to be announced.

All Color

NBC Announced this week that its entire evening schedule for 1966-67 will be telecast in color.

In all, 28 programs will be shown, a total of 18 hours of programming each week. In addition, Connecticut viewers will get added color shows as Channel 30, WHNE-TV, has announced it is installing equipment to allow transmission of locally originated color films and slides.

Zero Ahead Of Everyone

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Zero's back in town.

Who's Zero? Mostel, of course — the mad, mountainous comic artist of Broadway's "Fiddler On The Roof." He is here to appear on a Carol Burnett CBS special which also co-stars Lucille Ball. The theory, no doubt, is that two such formidable comedienesses require a comic who can keep up with them.

That's Zero. He seems to be ahead of everyone, improvising comic bits at all times, even over a lunch table. When someone at the table ordered wine, he slipped into a glib fantasy.

"Why can't Picasso paint people the way they really are?" he muttered. With glasses askew, eyes averted and face askance, he did indeed look like one of those wild Picasso portraits.

Zero talked about his earlier encounter with Hollywood.

"I came out here in 1950 for a contract with 19th Century-Fox," remarked Mostel, who had departed from comedy to play a heavy in "Panic In The Streets." "I am basically a New Yorker, but my memories of this town were pleasant ones."

"My wife feels the same way. The other day when we passed the pony ride where our kids used to go, she cried. When we passed our old market, she cried. When we passed the diaper laundry, she cried. She has

Long-Legged Nina Is Hit at Caprice

Nina Wayne can touch the floor with her hands flat and her knees straight even though she may own the longest legs of any girl regularly seen on TV.

The 5-foot, 9-inch brunette has, in fact, such remarkable measurements that she once lost a job as a showgirl at a Las Vegas hotel because she was told that her figure put the other girls at a disadvantage.

Nina brings her limber frame and statistics (which she doesn't release because "I never bothered to check them") to "Camp Runamuck" Fridays at 7:30 p.m. on channels 22 and 30.

Nina plays Caprice Yeudleman, a girls' camp counselor who seems oblivious to her impact on the men counselors at Runamuck, the neighboring boys' camp.

Nina won the role through her first TV exposure as a guest on NBC-TV's "Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson."

Even before Nina could zip back to her regular job as a showgirl at New York's Latin Quarter that same night, Nina's phone rang with an offer to test for the "Camp Runamuck" pilot.

Normally a quiet, whispery-voiced girl, Nina stood almost mute around the Runamuck set during the pilot production but wore an unflagging smile.

Asked why she was always smiling, Nina—quick to reflect and quick to respond—replied, "because I'm so happy to be working fully dressed at last."

It was a new experience for Nina who was never in danger of being overdressed during her three years as a Las Vegas showgirl and at the Latin Quarter.

NINA WAYNE

A student of ballet and ice skating since the age of three (at 15 she spent a year with "The Icecapades") Nina not only achieved the limberness to touch her palms to the floor but became such an accomplished dancer that she usually headed the "line" as both a chorus girl and showgirl in Las Vegas.

Nina made $200 a week and more in Las Vegas but didn't spend her wages at the gambling tables.

"I tried gambling once, lost $500, went home and cried, and never gambled again."

Nina, 22, was born and raised in Chicago. Presently she lives in Malibu, Calif., in an apartment at the beach.

very loose lacrymal glands." He was dropped by Fox—"They ran out of menace roles"—and returned to New York.

"There is a providence that looks out for fat actors," he observed, "because I went into the theater and did things like Mollere and Joyce's Ulysses."

That led to his classic portrait of the title role in "Rhinoceros" and then to modernized Plautus in "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum." Mostel recently completed the film version of the latter in Spain. It was directed by Richard Lester, the man who made the Beetle pictures and "The Knack."

Mostel explained why he was able to come here for the Burnett special, which appears March 22. "My analyst was taking a vacation," he said.

He will return to his native city, there to repeat with his pal Burgess Meredith the "Ulysses in Nighttown" which stirred considerable interest off-Broadway several seasons ago.

CONNIE TOWERS will be among the soloists on "The Bell Telephone Hour," tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. on channels 22 and 30.

Dragnet

series of feature-length films made especially for television, with the added potential of a release in theaters overseas. It is a forerunner of the operation which the networks may need to face when they run out of old movies.

The show has another purpose: as a pilot for the return of the half-hour "Dragnet" to television.

"I'm definitely aiming at a return," Webb emphasized. "NBC has first option on a new series; if they don't exercise it, we'll go to CBS and ABC."
