Cabinet Resignations Trouble Greek Leaders

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greece's six-month-old government was left badly shaken today following the resignations of two cabinet members. Premier George Papandreu called for "immediate elections" as the only way to survive.

Within 24 hours Stephanopoulos had left his foreign and social welfare ministers quit in a bid to force a change in the government's Cyprus policy, and his slim parliamentary majority was swept away.

But after a conference with King Constantine Tuesday night, the premier said he felt sure the government would win a confidence vote in parliament if opposition forces asked for one. Parliament is scheduled to convene April 19.

Stephanopoulos had back majority of three seats in the government would resign. Premier George Papandreu called for "immediate elections" as the only way to survive.

Today the government held only 150 seats, but there were unconfirmed reports that at least three deputies from the opposition Center Union party would back Stephanopoulos in a showdown.

Stamps In the Verdi Opera Success as Season Ends

BY JOHN OUBREK
Hartford's opera season closed last night with a resounding success as the production of Verdi's "Il Trovatore" at the Bushnell. SRO was the rule and the jammed audience shouted and cheered a remarkably fine cast throughout the evening.

Nearly all the cast was new to Hartford; only Cesare Bardelli of the four principal singers had been heard here before. So fresh interest was injected into this production of the rather tired old opera, which still pleases fans throughout the world.

Headed by the list of newcomers was Montserrat Caballe, Spanish soprano, who has received rave notices in her native land. She lived up to every expectation, and her performance was a real gem. Her aria, "Viva viva il re," was particularly fine. Her performance was a real gem.

Sheinwold on Bridge

FEDERAL LAW FORBIDS
DREGGING OPPONENTS
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD
It's against Federal law to drug your opponent, but nobody has pointed this out to Dan Sheinwold, the bridge expert. If you promise not to tell the Feds you can see how he put an opponent to sleep during the recent Open Pair Championship in Louisville.

Opening lead—King of Hearts. West opened the king of hearts against the optimistic slam. Morse took the ace of hearts and cashed the top diamonds to discard dummy's losing heart.

It was at this stage that Morse must have served the sleeping pills in the air. He led the ten of spades in the hope of persuading a gullible West to play out the east in excellent low.

West felt for his ancient wheeze. He played his low trump, apparently hoping that his partner would turn up with a high trump of some description. He was wrong. He had held the queen or jack of clubs. South would have known enough to enter dummy and try trump finesse.

After West had played his low trump since your side holds 22 to 24 points in high cards. Since this is not enough for game, you should not bid. Sit tight and take a small profit.

Novice Leigh Austin Star Among Viet GIs

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Much has been written about the visits to Viet Nam of Bob Hope, Marsha Mason, and other celebrities. What about the less celebrated entertainers who tour the battle zones?

Leigh Ann Austin is a self-admitted novice, although she has great many GIs in Viet Nam who may not agree with her. She has just returned from six weeks of singing before service audiences over there. Her dates included everything from recreation balls to sand chimes, and she paid her own way.

She is a Texas girl, born in Beville and educated at the University of Texas. "I was Miss Austin so many times I got used to the name," she said. "I was Miss Austin so many times I got used to the name," she said.

Leigh was enjoying fair success, appearing in such places as Binbo's in San Francisco and the Coconut Grove here. Then she married agent Jack Salvesen and retired to become the mother of a baby boy, now 10 months.

Salvesen books acts for the Orient, and he planned a tour for his wife through Japan, Korea and Formosa. She insisted that Viet Nam be included.

"It was Philip Crosby who persuaded me to go," she said. "I had heard that the GIs were certainly better off than we are here, and I decided to see for myself."

Leigh said she paid her own fare and managed to arrange some paying engagements to help defray her expenses. "But living expenses are so high in Saigon and the cost of musicians is so much that I didn't make anything," she said.

HOME GARDENER'S Notebook

Sticks, stones and other trash must be removed before starting garden.

Early Beauty, Fragrance

BY ALLAN AND SHEILA SWENSON NREA Garden Specialists Sticks and stones not only break your back when you're trying to start a new garden. They must be removed. Usually it has to be done manually with a good rake. Clay or sand or rubbish in the soil frequently are problems. They also must be eliminated. The best way is to add good topsoil. If you can't you still can improve a light sandy or clay soil with the addition of some kind of humus material. Peat moss or other organic matter will lighten up the soil. The whole process may take a few years but it will be worth it. For new gardens here are some plants easy to grow and quick to give beauty. Alizarin is early and fragrant and ideal for a border. Petunias are colorful because they are colorful all season. Marigolds are colorful, mostly in shades of orange and yellow and primrose. Zinnias grow fast almost anywhere and are good for cutting. Consider pinks or celosia. Celosia is excellent because it has foliage color; you don't have to wait for the bloom. You get your ornamental color or cut of the leaves. Burning bush grows into a very ornamental plant in a season. A lot of people plant the seeds and throw away the package. If you do, you lose the information but all the research that has gone into developing the seed. The seed packet will give you the height of the plant, whether it's an annual, bi-annual or perennial, the color or the color changes, when to plant, suggestions on thinning, depth to plant seed, how to care for it during the season.

Revolution in Prisons

Once Grim Navy Brig Like School Room

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Well-pretty law-abiding bunch, high-ups aboard!" is the cheery title of an information booklet handed to visitors at a modern, castle-type building at Portsmouth, N.H. That booklet is a symbol of a revolution in thinking about the treatment of gobs and GIs who go astray and commit acts classified as criminal. It means, the Navy explains, that it has nothing to hide in the way it treats prisoners. "The castle," as it is not-so-fondly remembered by generations of past inmates, was formerly known as the U.S. Naval Prison and — as a sign of the times — is now officially dubbed the "U.S. Disciplinary Command." "Going there nowadays," says a man who's been there, is almost like going to school. "What with the schoolrooms, the library, the manual training shops, the psychologists to shape a lad up, it's a far cry from the old days, even from some fairly recent days. To be sure, the practice of stringing a man up by his thumbs went out of fashion long ago, with the old sailing men-of-war. So did 'hogging the fellow through the fleet,' and keel hauling — dragging a man under a vessel, either at wharves or from bow to stern, by means of a rope. But men now alive can remember more refined punishments such as confinement in a black box, or being forced to push-ups over a naked bayonet. In 1966, there was scandal over beatings and other cruelty to prisoners at a Navy brig in Sasebo, Japan. Now there is no denying that here and there a superior officer may still inflict the old tricks of punishment. But that is not official policy, and it reports the officer is in trouble. The disciplinary officers of Army, Navy and Air Force go to college classes on the modern treatment and rehabilitation of prisoners. One such course is held here at American University. To take the Navy as an example, an aide to Vice Adm. Benedict J. Semmes Jr., chief of naval personnel, says: "In the treatment of prisoners, the accent is on salvage and retraining." Translated into civilian lingo, that means changing a chap's attitude and working him back into active duty wherever possible. An officer in the Bureau of Personnel here tried a psychological experiment. He wrote to several big corporations and asked them how they would greet a job applicant with a B.C.D. (bad conduct discharge) on his record. Without exception, they replied that their attitude would have to be negative — for one thing such a man could never get security clearance to work on government contracts. So, the results of the poll were communicated to guests in brig. "It worked wonders with some of them," the officer said. "It made them realize the importance of getting back on duty and working a B.C.D." Anyway, the Navy is a

Computer Seen As Court Aid In Sentencing

LONDON (AP) — A computer may be used in British courts to achieve more consistent sentences. The lord chancellor has appointed a special committee to study proposals by Stanley Gramham, a computer consultant. The experiment — if approved — would be carried out in magistrates' courts, which are usually presided over by laymen and deal with minor offenses. There has been widespread criticism of the variation in sentences imposed by different magistrates. A drunken driver may get off with a fine from one magistrate and another be sentenced to jail in a similar case before another magistrate. Sentences for all types of crimes would be stored in a central computer, based on records of sentences given in the last 10 years by all magistrates' courts. Fresh information would be fed in, giving the offender's previous record, his financial circumstances and other information. When the magistrates reach a verdict, they could get a recommendation of the sentence from the computer. The magistrates would not be bound by the computer.

The Blackest Day?

Perhaps on no single day has the American situation in Vietnam seemed worse, more damnable, frustrating, more hopeless than it seems today.

Part of today's bottom of the pit feeling derives from the dramatic emotional impact of the success of the Vietnam guerrillas in conducting a highly successful night attack against the main civilian and military airport of the city of Saigon.

The sharp insult of this attack within three miles of the center of Saigon imports its venom into an already existing American feeling of helplessness and hopelessness in the face of the political unrest which is paralyzing the country.

The authors of "Inside Report" have a high rating for the accuracy of the information. For a full awareness of the almost total insanity being offered at Washington as an answer to our present predicament in Vietnam we suggest that the reader turn then to the "Inside Report" on this page today, and notice that at least one big block of advice being pushed toward the President is to stop fighting.

The Paper Flood

Computers and copying machines have made office paper work easy to do and to produce. All kinds of American offices are, therefore, producing more paperwork.

The amount of paperwork which is made part of the functioning of one office tends to require more paper work from other offices or make possible the dispatch of more paper to them.

Springtime Is Death For Trees

Now, in the springtime, with the singing of the birds, the rising of the sap, the swelling and the bursting of the buds--now is the celebrated time of year when, in a normal civilization, trees come to life for another year.

But in recent years, spring has come to be the season of death for trees. Very few of them are permitted a natural death.

They die by the saw when somebody sees in them slightly more rot than hollows which could mean that they are going to die some year soon of natural causes.

They die by the saw when they have the effrontery to raise their branches in the direction of some utility line.

There are some occasions when a tree is, technically speaking, spared. Perhaps because it has taken some residential street a half century to grow such a tree, the decision can be not to saw the whole tree down, but merely to saw a great gap out of it.

But whether it is merely the cutting of gaps, or the taking of the whole tree, the result is the same: a tree is such butchery, and it has been going on all over Manchester this spring.

Eventually, there won't be an old tree left in town. Eventually there won't be left in town a single tree which stands on the same side of the street with the utility wires.

One blessed dividend from this will be fewer branches falling on traffic, and an almost complete end to the old problem of public utility services being interrupted by broken branches.

Inside Report

by Rowland Evans Jr. Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON—Fresh arguments for U.S. bombing of oil-storage depots in North Vietnam, stimulated by the political crisis in Saigon, are now on President Johnson's desk.

Some U.S. officials at a high level are convinced a major escalation in the air war is essential to demonstrate that political chaos in Saigon will not interfere with the war.

President Johnson, who is keeping in close touch with latest developments from his ranch in Texas, has made no final decision. Early this year he ruled against bombing the depots, viewing it as a dangerous escalation.

But the argument to bomb the vital oil supplies has reached a new intensity. Those advocating it give two reasons.

In the first place, the U.S. cannot permit the political of Saigon to interfere with the war against the Viet Cong in the South or against the Viet Cong's main supply source in North Vietnam.

Appearances are highly important. Thus, given its deep commitment to turning back aggression from the North, the United States should now demonstrate its will by taking the one action long urged by the Joint Chiefs of Staff: Bombing of the oil storage depots in Hanoi and Haiphong.

The second argument is more complex. The original purpose of bombing the North was to force Ho Chi Minh to the negotiating table and to force a military settlement.

"They'd steal the Cross from behind Jesus' back and leave him hanging in midair." The ones who take their words into a vocation get help and harm from what they are. There's the trick. The dreaming can be terrible, too. They dream their lives away casually here. But at the same time the dreaming is what makes them. Dreaming of sex comes out so far better than sex. Anyway, the Irish are too lazy to chase girls. They also have their official attitude to see: The other morning at a little church out in the suburbs, twelve grandmothers and three men too old to see sat in the pews while the parish priest warned them about sins of the flesh. But the dreaming and illusions contrast very hold down. And beyond the religion, there are the little men in the trenches. You'll find sophisticated Irishmen who will not totally believe they don't exist.

The people here are great for writers to be around. The people love words. And they have so much natural spite for anybody's success that it is exhilarating to succeed around them.

Many of the writers never make it through this. Flann O'Brien, a fine comic writer, just died of the drink without getting much done. Behan had so much further to go. Now the poet Paddy Kavanagh sits in McAdams' and it is up to him in front of him.

Now if this time a new energy arises, the worship of the car and the machine has started in Dublin. The narrow streets are becoming clogged with cars and the fumes rise in the air with the noise and more it to come.

If there is anything that can kill the romance and the lift of a place it is a good auto salesman with a full showroom. In America, Detroit announces proudly that it is turning out three million cars this year. The place is becoming a metal inn with all these cars.

This purpose has never been tested in the opinion of those now pressing for escalation. Until North Vietnam is face to face with severe losses—the loss of oil supplies, its electric generating plants and other key elements of its industry.

Given the current political capability that it will end disastrously, the option of bombing is not a serious one. It may soon disappear. If the political objective for which the bombing was originally designed is ever to be achieved, the time is now. Next month could be too late.

Mu Gia Bomb Drop Heaviest of War

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fleet of B-52 bombers dropped nearly 1.4 million pounds of bombs—probably their heaviest load of the war—on a strategic mountain pass on the North Vietnamese-Laos border, it was learned today.

Source said a major aim of that first B-52 strike into North Vietnam Tuesday was to cause landslides that would block infiltration routes running through Mu Gia Pass.

Officials awaited word on the effectiveness of the attack. Overcast weather inhibited damage assessment from the air after the B-52s left the scene.

The raid was a maximum effort. Exact number of planes in the bombing fleet were withheld, but it was understood that virtually the full force of Guam-based B-52s was used.

It is along the Ho Chi Minh trail that most of the men and supplies flow from North Vietnam to the Communist forces in South Vietnam.

U.S. fighter-bombers have been raking the Mu Gia and Nape passes for about a year. Their bombardments, while substantial, are considerably smaller than the B-52s can haul.

The B-52s that struck at Mu Gia Tuesday dropped a total of nearly 1,400 bombs. About half were 700-pounders and half were high explosive bombs weighing more than 1,000 pounds apiece.

One ultimate solution would be, of course, to plant one on the other, the wires or the trees, underground.

We begin to think there ought also to be an organization and a movement to do something to try to preserve some of the trees we already have.

A Thought for Today Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

One He Be True?

Were Christ who died in Calvary in loneliness and shame And Christ who rose in glory On Easter morn the same?

Could one who suffered mocking And death by cruel men Have power to burst asunder Death's bars and rise again?

Can it be true that Calvary, Where such dread fears were born, Could foretell such deliverance From fears on Easter morn?

Yes, Calvary, with its suffering, Its darkness, blood, and pain, Has made the way for Easter, Where Christ came forth again.

Previously, the charges against another of the young men were dropped. The state was bound over to Superior Court.

Computer Share Interests Towns

A preliminary meeting of officials from Manchester and 10 area towns regarding the possibility of joining together to do data processing by sharing the use of a high-speed computer has resulted in considerable interest, School Supt. William Curtis told the school board last night.

Curtis said he and General Manager Robert Weiss recently met with the officials to explore the possibility of regional cooperation. The idea was favorably received, he said, and a committee was formed to hold further meetings in May.

Representatives of the following towns were present at the first session: Farmington, Ellington, Vernon, Waterbury, Rocky Hill, Newington, South Windsor, East Windsor, and Windor.

Nine of the ten towns said they would favor handling together, Curtis said. Some had previously considered a regional computer but had been discouraged because of high cost involved in the use of sophisticated machines.

The meeting was called by Curtis and Weiss at the request of a suggestion by Prof. Marvin Wolner, who has been conducting a feasibility study of Manchester's projected data processing expansion.

Many Hurt In Attack On Airport

Nam was at a minimum. A combined Air Force-Navy strike on a mangrove swamp in the Mekong Delta, 80 miles south of Hanoi, caught several platoons of Viet Cong in the open and a spot report reported 25 killed by rocket and cannon fire.

U.S. and Vietnamese officials in Saigon studied new security procedures to guard against another attack on the capital's sprawling Tan Son Nhut airport, the nerve center of allied air operations and one of the world's busiest airfields in the world.

The mortar attack shortly after midnight also knocked out the main control tower, but an emergency tower was put into operation immediately.

Two Vietnamese C-47 transports and two American C-130s called "Magic Dragons" were destroyed, and five other aircraft were damaged, including one of the two four-engine super Constellation used as relay stations for the new U.S.-Vietnamese television system.

The Viet Cong fired a total of 40 rounds, with some of the shells hitting troop billets. Vietnamese rangers found the base's barbed-wire perimeter well-maintained, and the base's barbed-wire perimeter was found to be well-maintained.

There was evidence the Communists used an M-16 automatic rifle and possibly an M-16 automatic rifle and possibly an M-16 automatic rifle.

U.S. spokesmen said the Viet Cong actually had down the base's barbed-wire perimeter in an area from north to south of the base, "walking the carpet" technique.

In addition, the Communists patched two hits on the main runway, a U.S. spokesman said.

Armed U.S. helicopters took off within minutes after the attack began about 12:30 a.m. but there was no indication that they scored any hits on the attackers.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who also commands the Vietnamese Air Force, went aloft in his own helicopter to join the aerial hunt for the raiders. He lives at the heavily guarded installation, and some of the mortar shells exploded within pistol range of his residence.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, said after an inspection of the damage that was almost impossible to put an accurate defense around an installation of this size.

He said the base's defenses, primarily the responsibility of the Vietnamese, have been in the process of being strengthened and because of this the attack probably fell short of its goal. He did not elaborate.

School Board Okays State Aid Program

At a special meeting devoted largely to consideration of federal and state aid-to-education programs, the board of education last night gave final acceptance to one, and endorsed preliminary plans for two others.

The approved program for the board was to receive a "wrap-up" fund to receive the monies.

In order to qualify for reimbursement, all equipment must be put out to bid and purchased prior to June 30, the grant cutoff date.

Two other proposed projects, discussed before the board last night, received preliminary approval. If finally put into effect, they would begin next fall.

The first, also explained by Cohen, would provide a basic adult education program for Manchester and area residents over 18 years of age with less than an 8th grade education.

The program would be funded under Title III of the Economic Opportunity Act and would provide full expenses for teaching, recruiting and counseling of participants and for teaching supplies. Space would be supplied by the local school system.

Preliminary plans call for beginning four evening classes next fall at the high school with a 15 maximum in each class. Instruction would be given from 7 to 9 two nights per week for 30 weeks.

Coursework would include basic reading, writing, arithmetic, economics and speaking skills. In support of the proposal, Cohen said that 3,900 low-income residents, according to the 1960 U. S. census, with less than an 8th grade education are currently receiving instruction in the city.

He said his preliminary inquiries have indicated that "we could start courses today with a guarantee of enough participation to fill at least four classes." Participants, he said, would be recruited from school dropouts, military educational requirements, parents on welfare, elderly, and so forth.

A total of 19 Connecticut towns are currently receiving 100 per cent reimbursement for similar programs, he said, adding that the state would be required to reimburse 300 towns.

The board after accepting the grant, voted to request the town directors to establish a special Allen Chatterton, director of building and confiscated equipment.

After the telephone Avenue demonstrators marched to blocks to the Berkeley City Hall for a rally.

Some demonstrators tried to enter the building to attend a City Council meeting that session. About 30 Berkeley police barred their way and prevented all but officials and newsmen from going by Baker said the VDC had been offered the chance to send a committee in to the council but had refused.

Another police-demonstrator conflict erupted after 10 p.m. when the rally, at which VDC leaders spoke from a sound truck, started breaking up.

To Cost $143,000 McCarthy Gets Job Rebuilding Clubhouse

A $143,000 contract to renovate the fire-ravaged clubhouse of the Manchester Country Club was approved last night by the club's board of directors.

The contract will be awarded to James McCarthy, the lowest of three bidders. Other bidders were Vancouver Construction Co. asking $150,000, and John Wenzel, asking $142,500. All are of Manchester.

The $143,000 figure is for the major part of two on which bids were taken. The other plan, which provided less space, would have cost $114,000 under the McCarthy bid.

The $143,000 bid is somewhat higher than the club hoped for, according to Ray Warren, club president, but Warren said he does not feel there will be any difficulty in financing the renovation.

The club is scheduled tomorrow to sign a 25-year lease with the Town of Manchester for use of the golf course it has been occupying. The lease was under negotiation on Dec. 21 when a serious fire gutted the clubhouse.

The lease provides for payment of $24,000 per year rent to the town which acquired the land as part of a purchase from the former Cheney Bros. textile installation.

In addition to the building renovation, the club will make improvements to the course. In Hartford, where the town is under negotiation on Dec. 21 when a serious fire gutted the clubhouse.

Battered Liner Heading Home

ble damage" to the quarterdeck in the storm, the company said.

The Michelangelo left Genoa, Italy, April 8 with 775 passengers and stopped at Naples and Gibraltar. She had been due to New York Thursday, but Italian line officials said she would arrive 24 hours late.

The company said the damage would be repaired in New York and a thorough overhaul would be carried out after the ship returned to Genoa, its home port.

The Michelangelo's sister ship, the Raffaello, also suffered misfortune in the Atlantic last October in her way to New York. A fire in the engine room knocked out a turbine and the skipper returned to Genoa. Fifteen passengers were injured when the liner reversed course in heavy seas.

The British seaman lost in the storm Tuesday was washed overboard from the 6,320-ton British freighter Chaucal 800 miles southeast of the ordinance and who will not just brush it off.

He said, "It is times that this man (Police Chief James Reardon) is required to carry out the duties of his office. He gave us a song and a dance last summer with his statement that he didn't want to rock the boat."

Lupien last night charged the police department with neglect in enforcing another ordinance, that of ice and snow removal. He said that when he (Lupien) pointed out an icy trouble spot to a policeman, nothing was done about it.

Weiss said last night that he agrees with Lupien that the ice and snow removal ordinance should be enforced, but that because of many defects in its wording, it is difficult to do so.

He said that he has instructed Lupien to make a memorandum of the ordinance and to have an amended sidewalk ordinance.

Lupien's sidewalk ordinance remarks were made in a discussion of the payment of the ordinance.

He urged the directors to authorize liability coverage "instead of paying large sums to those who sue or who threaten to sue."

He said that "most lawyers are having a field day, because

This Reader Is Mistaken to the Editor, It is my opinion that the Herald is not reporting all the news to the people. I am referring to the public meeting held on April 6, 1966. As you will recall, the headline read, 'Hearing on Budget at Buckley Tonight.'

Editor's Note: The budget proposal was in no way an issue on the agenda at the meeting of hearing on the town budget. There will be a formal public hearing on the budget at the State House in Hartford, Conn., on April 14, 1966.

Macross Budget To the Editor: In his tentative budget message, General Manager Weiss told us (1) that the town budget for 1966 is $4,911,185, a 2.8 per cent increase over the 1965 budget of $4,781,200.

On page VI of his budget message he listed the following increases for town departments other than the Dept. of Education: (1) General Government $129,770 - 3.4 per cent; (2) Public Works $41,088 - 2.8 per cent; (3) Protection $44,094 - 2.5 per cent; (4) Health and Welfare $12,038 - 12.3 per cent; (5) Recreation and Parks $19,465 - 4.7 per cent; and (6) Library $13,308 - 7.4 per cent.

The "decreases" are listed as follows: (1) Manchester Community College $183,827; (2) Capital Improvement Fund $171,217; and (3) Debt Service $20,944. They total $337,018, just $89,688 more than the increase.

In his summary of increases and "decreases" the General Manager made it abundantly clear that the "decreases" did not come because of actual decreases in the costs of operating the various departments of our local government, but that they did come because of (1) the State of Connecticut's decision to pay the costs of operating the Manchester Community College; (2) his failure to recommend an appropriation to our Capital Improvement Fund; and (3) a normal decrease in our Debt Service.

In his bonding program the General Manager provided the sum of $170,000 for the purchase by the town of 273 acres of the Case or "Lookout" Mountain properties for "open space" purposes. These properties, which according to our official town records, consist of 263 acres, are assessed for tax purposes at just about $28,000, the kind of assessment which should put their market value at about $39,000, about $107.44 per acre.

That should put the market value of the kind and the amount of land the town is thinking of buying at a little over $29,230.

Trial Date Set In Drugs' Case

HARTFORD (AP)—May 3 has been set for U.S. District Court trial of James J. Miller of Orange, a hairdresser accused in connection with an international narcotics smuggling ring.

Miller's defense attorney, Percy Foreman, said Tuesday that a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling outlawing the poll tax may be used in an attempt to free Miller.

Foreman, who defended Charles Mosler and Melvin Levine Powers in a recent Miami murder trial, said the grand jury submitted to the California Legislature shows that the average California taxpayer gets the trial six to nine times a year.

Almost ready for human habitation are the two jail cells which are being installed in the lower level of Coventry's town office building. The cells are surplus property of the police department at no charge from the old State Prison in Wethersfield; they are typical of the kind in which inmates there were quarantined. All the work installing the cells in the town office building is being done by town employees; only the plumbing remains to be completed. Coventry recently formed its own, full-time police department. (Herald photo by Pinto.)

The Dept. of Education dumped into our General Fund the cost of education will be the same regardless of the account, where it can be, and the same regardless of the taxpayer. I have no quarrel with that, but I am in no way surprised at the Commission's recommendation simply because I believe that few if any of its members have any accurate knowledge of land values. I am however very much surprised at the manager's readiness to accept and to use any figure which was used by the commission.

On page VI of his budget message he listed the following increases for town departments other than the Dept. of Education: (1) General Government $129,770 - 3.4 per cent; (2) Public Works $41,088 - 2.8 per cent; (3) Protection $44,094 - 2.5 per cent; (4) Health and Welfare $12,038 - 12.3 per cent; (5) Recreation and Parks $19,465 - 4.7 per cent; and (6) Library $13,308 - 7.4 per cent.

Rosedale Residents Ask Road Improvements, Again

Residents of the Rosedale area of Vernon, on the shores of Bolton Lake, are again asking the town to do something about the road that serves their homes.

A petition, signed by 44 residents, requesting that eleven details in Rosedale be accepted by the town and a second document, a letter from Thomas W. Rothwell, president of the Bolton Lake Shore Association, asking "immediate relief from hazardous road conditions caused by excessive water running off Cubes Dr.," have been sent to Mayor McCusker, who has turned them over to Town Council Robert Baum for study.

This is not the first Vernon has heard from residents of Rosedale, on behalf of their roads. Several years ago, they asked that the town accept the road so that it would maintain and plow them and provide police and fire protection and other services.

The town declined, so the residents took their request to court. In 1967, the late Judge Harry Lane ruled that the town could not legally bring acceptance of the roads before a town meeting because of their (narrow) width.

Residents requested consideration again in 1968 and 1969, but with no luck. In 1962, the residents organized and a new petition was submitted, but again no action was taken. The organization was 1962, the residents organized and a new petition was submitted, but again no action was taken.

Prison Officials Seek Riot Cause Head Start for Deprived Okayed by School Board

BRIMFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Light security has been clamped on the Maryland Correctional Institution today as officials sought the cause of rioting in which three prisoners, four guards and two state troopers were injured.

Commissioner of Correction Vernon L. Peperack said work details and recreation breaks were curtailed in the medium security prison taken Tuesday, by gunfire and violence.

Peperack, apparently still smoldering from two Monday night incidents in which guards were attacked, noted in the dining hall during the breakfast period Tuesday, metal pitchers and labware, were charged through recreation rooms, hallways and dormitory, smashing furniture, windows and light fixtures.

The two other projects, a reading improvement class and a science day camp, are to be staffed by teachers chosen by the school administration. Some teachers complained about the way the staff was picked.

The program has already been approved by the board of education, but a review of the contents of the project was requested by board members.

The rate of pay for the participating staff members are about the same as offered in the two other projects. All the projects are financed, for the most part, by the federal government. Teachers will work five hours a day for six weeks, for a salary of $100, or $3 per hour.

When specialists in the field are needed, various agencies will be contacted. Parents of participating children will be invited to participate in study groups to discuss subjects such as child care, nutrition and child management.

Speech and hearing therapy will be available through a speech or hearing problem will be evaluated during the program. The psychological examiner will administer individual tests to each child, to determine his readiness for school.

Each child will be the subject of a written dental report, prepared by the dental hygienist. She is expected to identify the dental needs of each child and report to parents, administrator and dentist. The dentist will institute a follow-up program, and educate the parents in proper dental health practices.

There was an accident between two westbound cars on W. Middle Tpke. This morning about 8:45. One of the cars was driven by James McGane, 53, of 21 Deepwood Dr., and the other car was driven by Clarence E. Lambert of Hebron Rd., Andover. The Lambert car received front end damage and was towed away, police report. The accident is still under investigation.

A two-car accident on Hartford Rd. west of Fairfield 86, yesterday about 5 p.m. resulted in one car being forced onto the sidewalk and both cars being towed away, according to police.

An eastbound car driven by Patricia Armentano of 36 Trebble Dr. hit the left rear of an unoccupied parked car owned by David B. and Lillian S. Rubin of 108 Weaver Rd. and the impact pushed the Rubin car onto the sidewalk. There were no injuries, police say.

Singer Injured

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Jan Berry was reported in serious condition at the UCLA Medical Center with head injuries today following an automobile accident.

A spokesman said Berry, 25, half of the Jan and Dean singing team, was semiconscious as a result of the accident Tuesday. Officers said Berry apparently lost control of his sports car and crashed into a parked truck. His car was demolished.

Several months ago, Berry broke his leg when he fell from a railroad car while shooting a movie.

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaflets issued by anti-Viet Nam demonstrators on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange suspended trading for a brief time.

Some 2,500 brokers and exchange employees were on the ground floor 20 feet below the balcony from which the green and white leaflets were tossed Tuesday.

The demonstrators said they belonged to Youth Against War and Fascism, a college group. Within a few minutes, 11 demonstrators were taken to the hospital for minor injuries.

Walking Truck May Aid In Exploring the Moon

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—A walking truck and a five-mile an hour with a payload of 500 pounds. The pilot helps man explore the moon or other planets.

The walking truck is a master and slave linkage, ground on earth.

Both vehicles, now in the model stage at General Electric Co., will be operated as though they are extensions of the man who operates them.

General Electric has been awarded Army and Navy contracts to build prototypes of the machines at a cost exceeding a million dollars.

"The walking machines may represent a solution for the problem of moving across rough terrain," says Ralph W. Mosher, project engineer at GE's research and development center here.

The principles involved could well be adapted to extraterrestrial exploration, such as the moon, Mosher said in an interview.

The vehicles will be powered by internal combustion engines and will have self-regulating systems of hydraulics, similar to your automobile's power steering.

Using the power of the operator's own arms and legs, application of the machine, the steel man will plod through swamps, up and down steep embankments, and carry heavy burdens up mountains. Or the abdomen may pull up slings up by their ends.

"The machines' arms and legs will mimic essential movements of the easily trained man in puppet-like fashion," Mosher explained.

"When the man moves a foot forward, the machine will do likewise. As the man raises his foot slightly to step over a fallen tree, so will the vehicle. If the man leans over, the machine will tilt.

"If the operator wants something lifted, he will go through grasping-lifting motions with his own hands and arms."

The operator will feel only a small proportion of the force exerted. If an object is to be lifted weights 500 pounds, the man could adjust the force ratio so that he would feel the weight of only 50 pounds.

Every movement of the machines will be reflected back to the operator. This is called "force feedback."

"Thus, the man would know the general contour of the ground beneath the metal feet or the heft of the load he is ordering lifted by the steel arms."

The 500-pound steel skeleton, called Hardi-man—its official name is Powered Exo-skeleton—will be five feet tall and the operator will be strapped to it.

This Army-Navy item is designed to handle materials. It will walk as fast or as slowly as man and take whatever strides man may take.

The 1,000-pound Army truck will take up to a six-foot stride. It will have no brakes, wheels, shock absorbers, transmission or gear pedal. The truck will be 10 feet tall 10 feet long, 3 1/2 feet long.

Bus Plan Held Peril Cancer Goal At $11,625

The proposal to bus about 75 Hartford children to Manchester schools was cited last night as a threat to the construction of a new school, when speaker after speaker at the board of directors' meeting warned that a loss of the school-construction proposal at a referendum vote.

The board, following the discussion, voted unanimously to allocate $10,000 for architect's fees for a proposed new 12-room school in the Gardner-Spring Hill area.

In addition, the board instructed General Manager Robert W. Welch to inform the school board and School Superintendent William Curtis that the bus plan would jeopardize the school referendum vote.

The architect who, under the town's charter, will be chosen by the board of education, Walter Foss, will draw preliminary plans and specifications.

The school board has not increased its school-age concern were mainly parents of children who would attend the proposed school in the city, and almost everyone urged approval of the $16,000 allocation.

The school board is now studying a proposal to join in a two-year plan of busing about 75 disadvantaged children from Hartford's North End to Manchester schools, with the cost to be borne by Hartford and the state.

The plan provides for dispersing the children among several local schools, with no more than three in any one classroom.

Ellis Herbert Phelan Jr. was the first to support the American Cancer Society's battle against cancer. Sixty per cent of the funds raised in the crusade are for cancer control in Connecticut, Garman reported.

Divided, but United

The board of directors, for the first time in several years, was split evenly last night, as far as party affiliation is concerned.

The six who showed up for the meeting were Democrat Francis Mahoney, Frank Stamer and Raymond Ellis; and Republican Harold A. Turkington, John Garande and Robert Stavitsky.

Despite the split, every action was decided by a unanimous vote.

Soviets Awaiting Reforms, Pricing Problems Expected

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet people heard their leaders make broad promises at a party congress last week to increase the quality and quantity of food, clothing and other consumer goods.

They have yet to see the concrete plan for 1966-70 that will put these promises into effect and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said it will be another four or five months before they do. The plan sets production tasks for every Soviet factory and farm.

Some specialists here see the delay on the plan as a sign of possible divisions among top Soviet leaders.

Divisions are believed certain over how Kosygin's economic reforms will take shape.

The reforms retain the traditional Soviet system of central planning but give the individual factory manager more say in setting his own production plan, based on local demand for his goods.

The factory manager has only a limited say, but the planners no longer have absolute power to set production goals. The result could be dissatisfaction of both sides.

Profits are the key word in the new system.

Success used to depend on whether the required amount of goods was produced, regardless of it being sold. Workers often plan bonuses for meeting the quota even though it wasted millions in state funds.

Under the new system, workers will get bonuses if the factory makes more sales and profits. The profits in turn are based on the quality and quantity of goods. Soviet prices, often set arbitrarily in the past, are being revised into line with the value of goods.

The new prices are not expected to go into effect before 1968, the third year of the plan. Planners need to know how the new prices will be set so they can chart reasonable profit margins in drawing up the plan.

Kosygin has been expected to provide some guidance on new pricing formulas at the congress. He did not.

This and some Westerners here to conclude that divisions over the pricing question may be the greatest obstacle to the plan's economic activity.

The pricing system gets to the heart of the Communist economic system. Should prices be set by supply and demand, by the dictates of central planners or by a mixture of both?

The Soviets have already reacted, tentatively to assertions in the West and in Communist China that they are borrowing economic ideas from capitalism. They may be facing the same problem in deciding how far to go in letting market factors dictate the required amount of goods to be produced.

While waiting for the details of it being sold, workers often plan bonuses for meeting the quota even though it wasted millions in state funds.

Men's Fashion Affected By Carnaby St., London

BY SALLY EVAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There was a time when all Dad got for Easter was the hills. But not this year.

If he gets a tie, it may be a Paisley print and three inches wide. And he may be wearing a new iridescent jacket and a polka-dotted shirt.

"The Carnaby Street, London, influence is coming on like gangbusters," said R. E. Elstein, vice president of J. L. Brandeis & Sons, Omaha, Neb. "It's a whole new approach to young men's clothing, the most significant change since the Ivy look."

Elstein was one of the merchants contacted by The Associated Press in a nationwide check of department stores and discount houses.

This year, stores across the nation report increased business in their men's departments.

Last year, retail sales of men's wear were an estimated $13.5 billion. This year, the forecast is for $14.5 billion. Boys' wear is expected to be up 10 percent from last year's $6-billion mark.

"Men have awakened to fashion, more than ever before," said Rita Waters of Strawbridge & Clothier, Jenkintown, Pa.

And color it is this spring — gun barrel blue coordinated outfits in Detroit; Burgundy jackets in Dallas, Tex., and Memphis, N.Y.; iridescent suits in Boise, Idaho swim trunks splashed with plaids and polka dots in Portland, Maine; pink

News Strike Helped Celtics

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — To hear Coach Red Auerbach and Big Bill Russell tell it, the Boston Celtics won the National Basketball Association's Eastern playoff finals over the Philadelphia 76ers because the 76ers talk too much.

Auerbach, smoking his famed victory cigar, and Russell, who after Boston beat Philadelphia 120-110 Tuesday night to close out the best four-of-seven game Eastern series 4-1, and on the loser's home court.

Auerbach, who admitted he never expected to win in five games, said "I don't want to rub it in but I seem to recall that Irv Klotoff (owner of the team) and his team would win the entire playoffs in eight games. Now he can't win anything."

Russell, the Celtics 6-foot-9 star, said he and his teammates felt the 76ers talked them too lightly because Philadelphia won the regular season Eastern title by a game over Boston and held a 6-4 edge in the season play.

"We didn't have any newspapers in Boston because of the strike," said Russell. "So, we read New York and Philadelphia papers. We got the impression from these papers that the 76ers were adding the words of confidence to us as we went on."

Fassell, who scored 22 points and took down 11 rebounds in the latest Boston victory, said the 76ers didn't waste up until after Boston had a 2-0 lead. He said Philadelphia "came out like lions in the third game, and even though the 76ers won the fact that we cut 23 points off a 24 point lead, helped us. This was the point of the game."

The talk theories of Russell and Auerbach made interesting reading, but the Celtics won the right to meet the Western champion and shoot for their eighth straight NBA title the hard way, beating a tough team in the 76ers. John Havlicek, who became a regular in the playoffs after serving season-long as a sixth man, scored 32 points and Sam Jones led the team to Boston scoring.

Philadelphia actually lost the game at the four line where it managed only 26 of 63 attempts. Will Chamberlain, who scored 6 points and grabbed 14 rebounds, made only eight of 26 at the free throw line. When you add that Boston scored only 23 more field goals than Philadelphia, it doesn't take much to figure where the game was lost.

Chamberlain, the NBA's most valuable player, holder of almost every offensive record in the league, said he was "not sure the objective he has left — winning an NBA title. His only comment was that "you can't measure the difference in disappointment from any other game. It's a heavy disappointment when you lose."

Coach Dolph Schayes of the 76ers may have lost the playoffs, but he may have won the war. A playoff series, it could mean his job, although he was voted NBA Coach of the Year and led his team to the Eastern title. Strong rumors indicate that coach of his past season, Schayes refused to attend several practice sessions, which reportedly led other players on the team. Klotoff reportedly was on the verge of firing Schayes several times during the season, but winning streak cooled off the owner's ire.

The atmosphere was one of calm in the Boston dressing room. No champagne, no back slapping or other excitement. Auerbach set the pace as he called for a practice session in Boston Thursday to get ready to meet the winners of the final series between Los Angeles and St. Louis.

Rockville Beats Ellington

Familiar faces from last year's most successful squad at Rockville High have departed but Coach Ron Kozuch unveiled a new ace in senior right-hander Joe Kayan yesterday and the second frame and runs in the sixth inning of New Britain at home Coach Don Burns' Eagles were felled in the opener Monday.

It was a pitcher's battle all the way. Kayan, batting 1st again this week. The Rams beat the Yankees 4-1 in a game that was a pitcher's battle all the way. Kayan, batting 1st again this week. The Rams beat the Yankees 4-1 in a game that was a pitcher's battle all the way.

South Still Has Score to Settle

EARLY SUPPORT—Part of the crowd—estimated by police at 250,000—surges forward to shake hands with Braves' outfielder Rico Carty as the city officially welcomed the baseball team to Atlanta. Other Braves are Phil Niekro and Denis Menke.

Life Pretty Much the Same For Robinson After Switch

BOSTON (AP)—The day after a chilled opening ceremony and personnel are different, but Baltimore's Frank Robinson finds things pretty much the same in the switch from the National to the American League.

The 30-year-old slugger, one of baseball's most feared bats in 10 years with the Cincinnati Reds, still is getting hit by pitches—and cracking home runs.

BASEBALL HEROES

PITCHING—Juan Marchal, Giants, hurled six perfect innings and wound up with three-hits, 8-1 victory over Chicago, striking out eight and walking none.

BATTING—Tom McCraw, White Sox, collected three hits, including a 14th inning single that drove in the winning run in Chicago's marathon 12-1 victory over California.

Pittsburgh Bucs Spoil Dixie Day

ATLANTA (AP)—Baseball's Milton-Dixon barrier has been breached, but the South still has some scores to settle with those pesky Northerners.

The invading Pittsburgh Pirates ruined a perfect day for the South by nipping Atlanta's newly adopted Braves 3-2 in 13 innings Tuesday night.

The Braves lost despite the backing of a crowd of 50,471, biggest home turnout ever for the club which started in Boston, moved to Milwaukee and then swept into Dixie.

"The South small rise again," the electric scoreboard repeated—and repeated and repeated—and the game dragged into extra innings because of fans headed for home.

Joe Torre, the Brave with the Brooklyn record, did his best to help Atlanta live up to its slogan, but his two home runs weren't enough to get successfully the South's romance with big league baseball.

Fans Pick Up and Leave Early Atlanta Park Buzzes

NOBODY HOME—Milwaukee County Stadium's lone occupant on opening day of the 1966 National League baseball season, Eugene Sabinash, a county employe, listened to radio broadcast and looked out over an expanse of vacant seats Tuesday.

But there wasn't much going on. "It was lonely," he admitted. At Atlanta Stadium deep in Dixie, 24-year-old Willie Landers, another baseball fan, took his seat in Aisle 346, Row 23, waving his can of beer and howling as the Braves made their debut in the Deep South.

There was plenty going on. But Landers was getting lonely.

"Too many ties here for those people to be real baseball fans," said Landers, who watched the crowd begin to sift out of the new $18 million dollar arena when the game went into extra innings.

And by the time Willie Starbuck slugged a two-run homer in the 13th inning, giving Pittsburgh a 3-2 victory and ruining the Braves' Dixie debut, half of the crowd of 50,471 had left.

Part of the Braves' problems were caused by fractiousing Bob Veale, who limited Atlanta to only five hits before he tired in the sixth and walked in the ninth. Elio Face came in and got the Pirates out of that jam, he said. "I hold the bat straight, and I think I can hit the curve Tuesday to confer with Col. Raymond F. Murphy, director of athletics at Army."

"Ya'll come back, reah now!" the scoreboard said, repeating Southerners that the Braves will try again tonight.

Detrick Honored By Calverley With N.E. Writers

NEWTON, MASS. (AP)—Bill Detrick of Central Connecticut has been named co-recipient of the 1966 coach of the year award by the New England Basketball Writers Association.

Detrick and Ernie Calverley of the University of Rhode Island, the other award recipient were honored at a meeting of the association Tuesday.

New Haven's Gary Liberto, who finished Southerners that the Braves will try again tonight.

Notes from the Little Black Book

Specialists figure that the chances of a baseball expert picking the exact order of finish in the two major leagues are one in 13,168,189,440,000.

Off the Cuff

Five years ago when the New York Mets were born, following expansion in the National League from eight to 10 teams, there were 22 original players.

Pewee Reese has been signed to provide the expert commentary on NBC's Saturday afternoon major league baseball games with Curt Gowdy.

Shoggy Stuff

No surprise that Bill Russell and the Boston Celtics was designated as the second all-star team in the NBA for the current season.

Braves Drew Opening High

The Atlanta Braves drew an opening day high of 50,471 for the 1966 season.

The attendance figure to be higher but was batted down by a southerly exhibition trip.

Yale Nine Bows to Brown, Central in Shutout Win

Scoring two runs without a base hit, Yale took a brief lead before bowing to Brown 8-4 in an Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League opener at Providence, R.I.

The two teams shared the league earlier a year ago and played the sixth inning Tuesday as if they might repeat that finish.

Yale went ahead 4-3 as Brown hurler Art DeMartino issued three walks, hit a batter and threw a wild pitch.

Brown's half of the inning was more of the same courtesy of Yale starter and later Bob Kenney, who left after the winner's Tom Niederger knocked in two runs with a triple.

Downright Embarrassing for Yanks' Ford

Hand Warmer Out Following Protest

NEW YORK (AP)—Downright embarrassing. That's what it was.

The Chairman of the Board had just got the proceedings underway when this little guy interrupted and points fingers and brings in some other guys in blue suits and right in front of 40,000 people makes the Chairman of the Board get rid of his hip flask.

He also gave up—even more grudgingly—a run-scoring single to Norm Cash in the ninth that sent the Tigers to an opening day 2-1 victory Tuesday before the largest Yankee Stadium first day crowd in 14 years.

TOBES-YANKES—There is something about him (Dressen) that aggravates you and makes them try a little harder," Ford said after the hot water bottle incident.

Baltimore Clips Red Sox on Costly Balk

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Manager Billy Herman held his head high in defeat.

The whole team played very well," Herman said. "He feels Boston starter Don Wilson hit bad enough. I think he probably became a little confused over the sign and stepped off the mound after starting his wind-up. It hurts particularly because he was just one pitch away from getting out of the jam."

Herman Satisfied in Defeat
