Hearing Scheduled On Dodd-Klein Link

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Ethics Committee announced today it will conduct public hearings on "the alleged relationship" between Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and Julius Klein, owner of a Chicago public relations firm.

The bipartisan committee said the date for starting the hearings will be announced later, adding it desired to allow Dodd "sufficient time to prepare his defense."

Dodd said in a statement that he was pleased by the committee's announcement that it will hold public hearings.

"These hearings will demonstrate to my own constituents and to the American public not only the malicious intrusiveness of the charges against me, but also the systematic theft of documents from my office and the motivations of those who conspired in that theft," he said.

He noted that he had requested the committee to look into the allegations made against him in a series of syndicated columns and had offered his full cooperation.

The hearings will be the first held by the Senate Ethics Committee on Standards and Conduct. They will go into only one phase of the committee's investigation into misconduct charges against Dodd.

Dodd's use of funds raised at testimonial dinners in his honor also has been questioned. He has denied any improper conduct.

Klein, a retired Army major general who is a registered agent for West German interests, issued a statement in New York Thursday saying he has made campaign contributions to Dodd and others but had never asked for anything in return.

The investigation by the six-member committee, set up to police senatorial ethics after the horror over the Bobby Baker case, was requested by Dodd. He said he had nothing to conceal.

The committee's statement said its public hearings will be preceded by closed-door hearings to determine which activities of Dodd's relationship with Klein fall within its jurisdiction.

"Upon completion of the hearings into this phase of Sen. Dodd's conduct, the committee will decide what further hearings to hold," the statement said.

The committee's statement said it would be held in New York, but it would be held in Hartford on "all matters pertaining to the New Haven Railroad," whose operations will be absorbed in a merger of the two big lines.

The job outlook for New Haven Railroad employees will be a top priority topic at the talks, Dempsey said.

The governor's announcement came after William Beebe, legislative representative for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, expressed fears that 5,000 jobs would be lost in the merger.

The job situation on the New Haven line has been one of this state's foremost concerns, Dempsey said. He told his regular morning news conference that his first appointment to the Connecticut Transportation Authority was George Cahill, a representative of the rail brotherhood.

4,000 Fresh Troops Landed in Viet Nam

U.S. Buildup Is Boosted To 250,000

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The United States landed more than 4,000 fresh combat troops in Viet Nam today, boosting the American buildup to nearly 250,000 men, but the ground war continued at a low ebb.

Jungle-trained infantrymen of the 26th "Tropic Lightning" Division from Hawaii came ashore at Vung Tau, 45 miles southeast of Saigon. Their arrival completed a 20 per cent increase in American forces since the start of the year.

Half a dozen major U.S. ground operations in the jungled countryside failed to prod the Viet Cong into a fight. But a U.S. spokesman said determinedly: "We know the Viet Cong are there. We'll find them."

U.S. planes rained over North and South Viet Nam again carrying the war to the Communists. The Viet Cong confined their activity to a few small attacks and terrorism, their pattern in the last few weeks.

Three Vietnamese women were killed and seven persons were wounded when a small bus roared over a mine in the Mekong Delta. A military truck struck a mine in the same area later, causing an undisclosed number of casualties.

The Viet Cong also fired mortar at a village in Hoi An, Quang Province, west of Saigon, made a grenade attack on an outpost in the night, and shot at the capital.

Knibbling Becomes Top College 'Sport'

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—side, N.J., proudly claimed all emerging as a popular pastime at Johns Hopkins University and the College of Notre Dame for Women is the sport of knibbling.

Henry M. Hookerman, a 19-year-old sophomore from Hillsdale, N.J., said he had been doing it since he was a child.

"We've had huge crowds in our dormitories," he said. "It's like Grand Central Station when the kids knibble."

Knibbling with a hard "K" is done with a wire coat hanger and a coin, usually a penny.

The hanger is bent into a square by pulling down on the middle of the crossbar to form a new angle. At this angle it is bent suspended from a forerunner and the coin is balanced on the tip of the hanger hook.

Hooked back and forth a few times for momentum, the hanger is then twisted so as to keep the coin in place with centrifugal force.

Hookerman said he himself set one world record by knibbling with three intertwined hangers.

Other records claimed by Hopkins students are knibbling with eight pennies at once and reversing the direction of the coin seven times without dropping the coin.

Many Children Develop Ulcers, Doctor Reports

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—A psychologist says many elementary school children throughout the country are on tranquilizers and "an astounding number" also are developing ulcers.

Dr. H. Gerbun Morgan, director of the University of Maryland's Institute of Child Psychology, said Thursday night that more and more pediatricians are prescribing tranquilizers for academically talented children.

He said many of the brighter pupils become quite upset by pressure to attain academic skills and knowledge and often have nightmares because of them. Some even develop ulcers, he said.

The keynote speaker at a two-day conference sponsored by the Maryland State Department of Education said the pressures come from the children themselves, from their family, the community or even from teachers.

He said the problem could be solved by teachers who value the achievements of children as individuals and not in comparison with others.

He suggested that before administrators hire teachers they should consider their "love life."

Dr. Morgan explained that what he meant by "love life" was how a person felt about his wife and his children and how considerate he is of their needs.

He said that if Mariani indicates that he wants the nomination, a special meeting will be held to take action on the tabbed endorsement.

Early Reply Is Promised By Mariani

GROTON (AP)—State Sen. Peter P. Mariani said today that he would try to give an answer soon for those persons urging him to make a fight for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Mariani made the statement when asked to comment on the action of the New Haven Republican Town Committee Thursday night.

The New Haven organization tabled a resolution calling for the endorsement of Mariani for the nomination. But he said Mariani could have it just for the asking.

Earlier this week, Greenwich Republicans urged Mariani publicly to become a candidate, and an organization working to produce a draft movement had been organized in Hamden.

State Republican Chairman Joseph Searis Finney and other top leaders have thrown their support for the nomination to E. Clayton George of West Hartford.

Mariani acknowledged the interest of his supporters in a more "definitive" indication of his plans.

He said he hoped to make a response very soon.

"It will make it known to them as soon as possible what I can offer as a vehicle for victory in November," he said.

He said he expected to be more explicit and more definitive about his role "in the whole thing."

But Mariani, in making his comments today, again stressed the need for "harmony and unity" in the party if success is to be achieved.

In New Haven, GOP Town Chairman George J. Montano said that sentiment at Thursday night's meeting was "100 per cent for Mariani."

He said that if Mariani indicates that he wants the nomination, a special meeting will be held to take action on the tabbed endorsement.

In Mexico City Student Revolt Plot Uncovered

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The striking students, the report Mexican attorney general's office says, planned to use the university student strike as the springboard for overthrow of the government.

The attorney general's office said Thursday night that an investigation after the arrest of three Argentines and five Mexicans had uncovered a plot to set up a "Communist-type" government by provoking a crisis among the students and subverting other groups.

Arrests of the eight persons was announced Tuesday after student rioting which resulted in the forced resignation of the national university's rector.

The plot "called for a strike to begin at the university's law school and then spread to other schools in the university," the attorney general's report said.

"Later on they would seek support from labor and other social groups."

The eight under arrest have confessed agreeing at several secret meetings to give moral and financial support to the Others arrested were identified as Teresa Contreras de Fernandez, Ramon Vargas Salguero, Marta Elena Vargas Salguero, Sergio Garcia Estrada and Leonardo Francisco Zapata de Murguía.

They are being held on charges of conspiracy and illegal association. The three Argentines also are charged with document forgery and violation of immigration laws.

Francisco Galindo Ochoa, the presidential press secretary, on Wednesday denied reports published in the United States that the university had come under Communist control.

Attacks Birchers

NEW HAVEN (AP)—The Republican party's Platform Research Committee has been urged to recommend a plank in the party's platform this year repudiating the John Birch Society.

State Rep. John W. Boyd of Westport, the committee chairman, said after a public hearing here Thursday night that he personally favored such a proposal and would urge the committee to recommend it.

"I would favor without any question the repudiation of the Birch Society," Boyd said.

The action was advocated by Arthur Spiegel, regional director of the Birch Society.

Domingo Demonstrators Wounded by U.S. Soldiers

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—U.S. troops fired on demonstrators attacking them Thursday night and wounded six of the Dominicans.

The clash came after a day of anti-American demonstrations by Leftists celebrating the anniversary of the revolution last April and demanding that U.S. forces leave the Dominican Republic.

A U.S. military spokesman gave this account of the shooting incident:

Durazo suburb, on the eastern edge of the capital, marched toward a U.S. 82nd Airborne observation post near a bridge. The crowd chanted anti-American slogans and burned U.S. flags, then began throwing rocks. Three pistol shots were fired at the GI's.

The U.S. troops, under strict orders not to shoot unless authorized, fired 14 rounds at the demonstrators.

One report said that a 2-year-old child was among those wounded.

Later Thursday night an explosion rocked the area near the bridge, but the national police said it was a noise bomb hurled from a passing vehicle.

Witnesses said the demonstrators at the observation post were members of the Dominican Popular movement and the Castro 14th of June movement. Those groups were involved in an earlier demonstration in front of the U.S. Embassy, where Communist-led demonstrators burned three American flags they had brought with them.

During the 90-minute rally, several thousand persons shouted anti-U.S. slogans and carried placards demanding the immediate withdrawal of American troops. They did not attempt to enter the embassy grounds.

New Hearing Granted To N.Y. 'Mad Bomber'

NEW YORK (AP)—"Mad Bomber" George F. Metesky, accused of planting at least 32 bombs in public places around New York City, and causing explosion injuries to 15 persons, has been granted a new hearing in his efforts to gain release from a state mental hospital.

If he succeeds, he would face trial on a multiple-count indictment charging attempted murder and assault, among other things.

Metesky, now in his early 60s, won the right to a new hearing when the Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court ruled he was not given a fair deal in a 1964 hearing in which he sought release from Mott Haven State Hospital, Beacon, N.Y.

"In our opinion," the appellate court said Thursday, "Metesky was not given an opportunity to present evidence in support of his petition or to cross-examine a medical witness against him."

The appellate division reversed the ruling by a State Supreme Court justice in Dutchess County Supreme Court dismissing Metesky's handwritten petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

The appellate court ordered the lower court to hold a further hearing on the petition.

Metesky was arrested at his home in Waterbury, Conn., home Jan. 22, 1957. He was accused of having planted pipe-bombs in phone booths, theaters, bus and railroad terminals during a 15-year period starting in November 1940.

In six of 22 explosions that resulted, 15 persons were injured. Ten bombs were found before they exploded.

Lodge Due Home For Viet Review

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The most embattled American ambassador in the world heads home Saturday for a major review of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Henry Cabot Lodge leaves behind his fortress-like embassy in Saigon and the largest American military and civilian force in any foreign country.

He also leaves tough problems that include political turmoil in South Viet Nam as well as the bitter war against the Communists.

He has promised to return in two to three weeks. Rumors that he plans to resign have been denied.

Adopted Child Of American GI Becomes Citizen

FORT HUEACHECKA, Ariz. (AP)—It isn't easy for a bachelor to get permission to adopt a child. And when the bachelor is an American, and in the Army to boot, and the child is Vietnamese, it gets even tougher.

Today, the American GI, Spec. 4 William H. Nevens, 46, of Brockton, Mass., still a bachelor, watches his adopted daughter, 10-year-old The Thi Thu Thuan, become an American citizen. She now has the name of Diane Elizabeth Nevens, and she speaks English as well as Vietnamese.

Nevens first saw her in a Saigon orphanage three years ago.

She and her "adopted" father plan to move to Brockton after Nevens retires this year and leaves his southern Arizona Army post. Says Diane: "I am happier than I have ever been."

Familiar Area Landmark Is Replaced

John Barbeau, an employee of the Harman Steel Co., Holyoke, Mass., rides a crane high in the air to erect installation of a new steeple at First Congregational Church of Vernon. A bell presented to the church by the U.S. Envelope Co., has also been installed. The old bell was badly damaged in the Jan. 23, 1966 fire which destroyed the church building. It will be melted down and cast into tea bells for mementoes. The new steeple is of structural steel with redwood sheathing and sheetmetal skin, and the weathervane is cut from bronze plate. Inside Report

Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON—While the headlines are filled with the political crisis in Saigon, President Johnson has moved quietly and surely to give unprecedented support to the vital mission in South Viet Nam of Robert Komer.

Komer, a well-respected former intelligence specialist on the White House staff the past five years, now has the backing of a highly classified National Security Council (NSC) memorandum to proceed with the essential work of planning peaceful reconstruction in South Viet Nam.

When President Johnson a month ago named Komer a special assistant to oversee the reconstruction program, there were signs of some uneasiness in the State Department.

Mr. Johnson cut across this minor trouble in a direct fashion. He instructed the State Department, the Defense Department and every other agency having a hand in the reconstruction program that Komer was the boss.

What this means is that Komer now has something close to outright legislative power over scarce materials and scarce manpower essential to the economic side of the war.

Mr. Johnson's intensive personal involvement in the vast complex job of reconstruction isn't generally known. Following his trip to Honolulu to impress on the Saigon government the importance with which the U.S. views reconstruction, the President returned here all but decided to set up an emergency agency to handle the job.

He was thinking in terms of an agency with the prestige and power, for example, of the World War II mobilization office, headed by James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, then one of the country's most influential politicians.

Inside Report

(Continued from Page 6) Vietnamese cadres for work in the field. But at least the program has now been brought under one master, Presidential Assistant Komer, who has been named as the man to command scarce resources for that all-important part of the war in Viet Nam.

Unemployment compensation claims filed in Manchester last week dropped by 35, or seven per cent, below the total for the previous week.

But with all this, the task is an awesome one, quite apart from the political instability and the coming elections in South Viet Nam.

A comparison of claims filed locally for the corresponding week of the past three years shows 726 for 1963, 596 for 1964, but by South Vietnamese.

Claims filed throughout the state last week declined by 1.7 per cent, to 2,717, from 2,767, a total of 16,444.

Followed by Hartford with 2,234, Bridgeport with 2,185, and Worcester with 1,985.

Other American experts too must be found to help train them.

Another useful quote from a recent news item is: "Boston is again vied to ban busing as a way to end racial imbalances in public schools, and the action costs the city $18 million in state education funds."

On Wednesday, April 20th, another bit of news from Albany, New York: "The State Senate voted overwhelmingly Tuesday to prohibit the education Commissioner from ordering the closing of public schools to achieve racial balance."

Evidently somebody has already tried what we are being asked to try, and seemingly somebody already knows something about this kind of experiment.

Very truly yours, Dr. J. Gerstmann, D.D. Demands Right to Vote

To the Editor, I have attended various meetings in this town and surrounding areas in connection with the public committee to learn and ask questions of the Education Department on this plan to disperse pupils of some of Hartford's schools into these Town's schools.

Four questions seem to always crop up at some point in every meeting: 1. Exactly how much will the State of Connecticut pay to the host town?

2. How much will Hartford guarantee to pay to each town for each pupil's education? 3. How much will the Federal Government pay to the host town on a per pupil basis?

4. What is done at the end of the initial two year experiment with these children? Without exception these questions are usually answered with considerable evasive copyness by the Department of Education officials who are on the rostrum.

This type of approach certainly is bound to foster an atmosphere of doubt, suspicion, and even mistrust of the ultimate objectives of very people who are in charge of said programs.

Before any plan of such far reaching scope and vital concern to the people of the towns involved can ever be sincerely accepted, all the town's citizens must have the freest, straight-forward answers to these very questions.

Then, in the spirit of democratic fair play the State Department of Education should meet on the taking of a formal vote at the town voting places of this total package.

The trust of the Connecticut Department of Education will indeed be strained and indeed if the Department's officials deny to Connecticut's eligible voters the most cherished and sacred Civil Right—the Right to Vote—on this issue.

Thank you very much, Yours truly, Oliver Jarvis

Waste Treatment Needed To Clean Water—Martin

NORTH BRANFORD (AP) — The only way to clean up Connecticut's waterways is through waste treatment equipment paid for by the state, communities and private industry, a conservation conference was told Thursday.

The director of Connecticut's Clean Water Task Force, Richard Martin, told the 15th annual conference of the Natural Resources Council of Connecticut, that the task force has discarded the idea of sea water desalination as a permanent cure for the state's water problems.

Martin said that in the task force report to Gov. John Dempsey, in about three weeks, the group will recommend a seven-year program of municipal and industrial waste treatment as the "only way to combat the state's water crisis on a large-scale basis."

"Neither an end to the drought, nor desalination, will solve the problem," he said, "desalination is too costly and complex, because water from sea-side plants must be transported to inland urban areas."

TPC to Decide Fate Of 16 Town Parcels

The Town Planning Commission (TPC) has been supplied with a list of properties owned by the town and has been asked by General Manager Robert Weiss for recommendations on whether to sell any part of them or whether to retain all.

The list, compiled by Director of Public Works Walter P. Fuchs, lists the location of 16 parcels and their estimated values, adding up to a total of $248,200.

Weiss, in his tentative budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year, has included a $100,000 item under estimated revenue, as income from sale of town properties.

The list and estimated values follows: 1. Northeast corner of School and Autumn St. — $7,000. 2. The old Keeney St. School Annex on the east side of Keeney St. — $40,000.

3. House and outbuildings at 1082 Middle Tpke. — $12,800. 4. Single-family dwelling at 49 School St. and two-family dwelling at 51-53 School St. — $80,000. 5. Olcott St., west of Verplanck School — $15,000.

Site of the old Pine St. firehouse site appears to be voided, since the TPC has already recommended that it be retained for the possible future alignment of Pine and Prospect Sts.

The land to the east of Buckland School may be needed for future school expansion, and the land to the west of Verplanck School was purchased originally for possible school expansion. The dwellings on School St. and on E. Middle Tpke. are now being rented.
