Sight-Seeing Trip Through Wall St.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The title of CBS, Tuesday night public affairs special is "Wall Street: Where the Money Is." But viewers looking for a hot tip on a penny stock, or an explanation of selling short or a prediction about the end of the current bear market should not bother to tune in.

The hour show by an independent packager and produced by Mel Stuart will be more of a sight-seeing trip through the strange world of stocks and bonds that a cram course in turning a quick buck.

Stuart, who also produced both "Making of a President" specials, said that "nobody has ever been able to do anything about Wall Street on television—probably because so much of its activity is cerebral, without much apparent glamor."

His own viewpoint, he said, crystallized when he ran across an apt quotation from an unlikely source, Gertrude Stein: "The money is always there; it's only the pockets that change."

Thus he will show money changing in the hectic but orderly confusion of the exchange floor, talk with some of the big brokers and shrewd traders, follow the birth of a $50 million bond issue.

The producer who moves between motion picture and television shows, says that he is often disappointed by reaction to his TV documentary efforts.

"When I made 'The Revolution of the Three R's,' the whole focus of the program was on the new teaching equipment—computers and other aides—that are changing the character of education today," he said. "Then I was criticized because I didn't devote the whole program to one fine, talented, dedicated teacher."

A lot of critics, including this one, found his "Making of a President, '64" disappointing when compared to the earlier one.

"And I, on the other hand, thought it was far better," Stuart said. "I had time to plan for it and was able to break the production into five geographical parts covering the whole country. Then, as a film-maker—not a journalist—I reworked it into what was essentially a five-part fugue leading up to a coda in the election of Johnson."

He paused. "But not one person, not one critic, recognized it as a fugue. But perhaps it was shown too soon after the election when people were still tired of it. Maybe if it were seen now it would seem different."

The education television station in New York, Channel 13, Thursday night presented the American premiere of a real-life horror story. It was a report, in film and still pictures of the nightmare that was the Warsaw ghetto, scene of Nazi brutality, Wanton murder, disease, starvation and desperate heroism.

The documentary was made for the British Broadcasting Company by a survivor, Alexander Bernes, the narrator who has spent 20 years collecting the shocking record. It will be broadcast on other stations of the National Educational Television network in the near future, and if you can stand it, it should have some attention.

In a slightly surrealistic scene, Jim Backus plays the piano on a hillside near Munich on CBS' "Continental Showcase," a European-based variety series starting tonight 7:30-8:30 p.m.

'Old Sourpuss' Is Out, Vincent Edwards Is In

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Vincent Edwards glanced at the trade-paper headlines over breakfast coffee at the Brown Derby. The news: TV writers vote to strike.

The actor grinned wryly and commented, "Thank God I don't have to worry about things like that; I'm finished with old sourpuss."

For the first time in five years, Edwards was not faced with a long season of portraying the sullen surgeon, Ben Casey. He has performed his last lobotomy, and he's glad of it.

I mentioned that he never referred to Dr. Casey as old sourpuss while he was making the series.

"That's true," he admitted. "I spoke of him more respectfully."

But, I can't be derogatory about old Ben, even if he was a sourpuss. He did all right by me.

"We chose at the outset to play him somber, figuring it would give the character more depth. It seemed to work. But I'm happy to be smiling again."

And why not? Already enriched by "Ben Casey," he'll be collecting on reruns here and abroad for a long time hence. Now he's branching out in other directions. He hopes to start his Columbia Picture contract soon; he'd like the first film to be "In Cold Blood," as what actor wouldn't?

Edwards was opening this week in New York with a new act.

"I work with four girls and I give the folks some songs and some talk," he remarked. "No dancing, although I do dance 'em with fancy movement."

"It's the first time I've appeared in my own home town, except for playing a bit in 'High Boston Shoes.' I did play the morocht circuit up in the Catskills; that's where I got my start."

"Playing New York is a big thrill. In New York you gotta be good."

LOOK AT FUTURE

CBS has announced a new half-hour series in the fall that will explore the world of the future. The series, titled "The 21st Century," will look into the future of various fields including medicine, the arts and communications.

David Niven, Tycoon—Sort of LONDON (AP)—David Niven was never cut out to be a television tycoon.

Heaven knows he tried. He had an office and a secretary and he tried to play the executive, as his partner Dick Powell did so well. Together with Charles Boyer and Ida Lupino they comprised the thriving concern of Four Star Productions.

Niven's nadir as an executive came one day at the studio when he was attending to business before leaving to make "The Pink Panther" on location in Europe. The role called for him to masquerade in a gorilla suit, and he had been making film tests of the costume in the morning.

He was expecting a luncheon interview with an old newspaper chum, so he decided as a gag to keep the monkey suit on until the interviewer arrived.

Niven was seated behind his desk awaiting the arrival. As the door swung open, he rose in the furry suit, drinking glass in hand, and uttered a jungle-like roar. He was greeted not by the reporter, but by a Four Star sponsor, his wife and daughter. The staid manufacturer had just dropped in to say hello.

"I had a bit of trouble getting out of that one," Niven confessed in his dressing room at Pinewood Studio. He now is playing Sir James Bond in "Casino Royale" for Columbia.

Despite his absence, Niven keeps track of activities back at Four Star, in which he remains a partner. Last season he starred with Boyer and Gig Young in "The Rogues," which started with great promise but failed to survive.

"Lucky for us it didn't," commented Niven. "We couldn't afford it any more. The show was costing us $30,000 more per segment than we were getting for it. Another season might have proved a financial disaster."

"Something must be done about television economics. It is becoming increasingly difficult for an independent producer to survive in today's market. Only the major studios can afford to lose so much on series, hoping to make it up in re-runs and syndication."

LANSING IN SERIES

"The Man Who Never Was" is the title of a series ABC will start this fall starring Robert Lansing and Dana Wynter. Lansing plays an American agent who escapes East German police by assuming the identity of a dead stranger who, it turns out, is one of the richest men in the world. Lansing was in ABC's "12 O'Clock High" series.

Clamorous Following Worries McCallum

PORTOFINO, Italy (AP) — David McCallum was experiencing a rare moment of repose over dinner at an open-air restaurant in this jewel-like Mediterranean village.

"I have never been more tired in my life than I am at this very moment," he announced.

At 8 that evening he had finished a day's shooting on his new movie, "Three Bites of the Apple." It is a spy chase which has had him racing over Italian scenery from here to Venice to the Alps, where he performed a strenuous fight with singer Domenico Modugno at 8,000-foot altitude.

But it seemed to be not merely physical fatigue that was affecting him. He is pursued everywhere by his alter ego, Ilya Kuryakin, television's U.N.C.L.E. agent.

"Just before I went into the last scene tonight, an American tourist asked if I would pose for a photograph 'For the children back home,'" he sighed.

He remains grateful for Ilya, who rocketed him to stardom in two television seasons. But he isn't quite sure how to cope with the clamorous following that he has attracted.

"After my last appearance at Macy's in New York, I decided I would do no more personal appearances in America," he reported. "Such things simply can't be controlled any more. Why should I continue to run the risk of seeing people maimed and injured, including me?"

Then he went to England two months ago before starting "Three Bites of the Apple." His reception? "A hundred times worse than Macy's!"

He is still unknown to Italians, but that doesn't mean his privacy is preserved here. There are generally enough American and English tourists around to start a clamor.

As soon as McCallum finishes the film, he returns to MGM in Hollywood to commence 10 months of shooting "U.N.C.L.E." The prospect of resuming the grind gave him a slight shudder.

"I seriously considered quitting," he admitted. "But if I quit the series, I would have given up acting altogether. There are other things I can do besides acting." He is a musician as well, and his album of orchestral numbers has been well-reviewed and purchased.

He finally decided against such a drastic course, and he will be returning to the rigors of portraying Ilya. But he hopes to bring more sanity into his life.

"I have decided that all outside activities must be eliminated — everything," he said. "That includes such offers as one to appear at Yankee Stadium in June. It was to be the whole bit — arrive by helicopter, conduct an orchestra, leave by helicopter."

"My salary was to be something astronomical. But I had to turn it down. No one has a healthier respect for money than I do, but there comes a time when I have to draw the line. It is a matter of survival."

Shows Same, Names Changed

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC, having announced its fall schedule, is now changing the names of some of the new shows, further compounding a viewer's September confusion.

"Them Monroes," a Western, has been re-christened "Wild Country" before the nation's teachers could complain. It is to be hoped the show will not be confused with NBC's "Wild Kingdom" a nature series, or CBS' "Wild West," a spoof about the old wide open spaces. "Men Against Evil," detective drama, is now "The Heavy Squad," which sounds more like a show about diets than cops.

Daytime Series Being Replaced

NEW YORK (AP) — After only 15 weeks, ABC's Confidential for Women dramatic series will end a day July 8. It will be replaced by another audience participation program called The Newlywed Game on July 11.

The daytime series presented complete dramas. Mostly about emotional problems, in five installments over a week's time, a departure from the routine soap opera format. It also had a staff psychiatrist discussing the problems at the end of each program. But the series failed to make a dent in the popularity ticularly Password.

GUEST VILLAIN
Otta Freminger, the Hollywood producer and director, will be a guest villain on an ABC segment of "Batman" next season. He will play Mr. Freeze, Batman's icy evil foe.

Determination Pays, Barbara to Graduate

WESTBROOK, Maine (AP) — Barbara Mitchell, 17, has made it—she's going to graduate with her class from Westbrook High School tonight.

Last summer a motor scooter accident almost took Barbara's life, and it left her blind.

After months in a hospital, the attractive blonde picked up her studies again—first at home, then back in school with her classmates.

She was determined she'd walk down the aisle with the rest of the class. "I may trip," she said, "but graduating is my whole life."

Barbara won't have to worry about tripping. She'll take the hand of a close friend, Tabitha Hay, as they march up to the podium to get their diplomas.

Taking four courses—English, Economics, World History, and Problems of Democracy—Barbara just missed making the dean's list.

She had help—first of all from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Mitchell. And Mrs. Francis Boothby, school guidance counselor, said teachers and students alike considered it a privilege to read to Barbara and help her over rough spots.

Last Friday, at class day exercises, Barbara received an achievement award for courage and service to her school. The ovation was thunderous.

"If I have the ability I'd like to go on to college, she said. I think I'd like to teach braille to children."

Water Walker Fails in Boast

BOMBAY, India (AP)—L. S. Rao, famed exponent of yoga, tried Sunday to live up to an announcement that he'd walk on water without even getting his feet wet.

Some 600 spectators from as far as New Delhi, more than 600 miles away, paid $20 to $100 each to watch as he warmed up by swimming what he said were steel tacks and nitric acid and walking over hot embers.

Rao then walked up to a steel tank filled with water. He placed a foot on the surface of the water—and sank straight to the bottom.

As angry spectators demanded their money, Rao said he slipped Saturday and because of the injury, could not achieve a state of levitation. He invited them to come back and watch him try again.

100 Deaths Feared in Train Crash

BOMBAY (AP) — At least 100 Indians were feared killed today and 120 injured when two suburban trains jammed with commuters crashed together in a Bombay suburb.

Five hours after the early morning collision, railway officials announced 52 bodies had been counted and there were 106 injured so far.

Traffic on the city's railways, which carry two million persons daily, was disrupted while doctors, firemen and police struggled through the wreckage to rescue trapped commuters.

Each train reportedly carried more than 1,500 passengers.

Firemen used blow torches to cut their way into twisted aluminum coaches in which men, women and schoolchildren were trapped.

The accident was the worst in western India's rail history. It occurred near a grade crossing north of Matunga Station, nine miles from Victoria Station in downtown Bombay.

The collision occurred at the 7 a.m. rush hour. One train bound from Victoria to Thane Junction, 20 miles to the north, was being switched to another track. The other train was en route to the central terminal.

5,000 Graduated By State Colleges

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Starting as a trickle more than a week ago, the Connecticut commencement season reached full flood today as the state's two largest educational institutions, University of Connecticut and Yale University — held graduation exercises.

More than 5,000 young men and women, garbed in the traditional academic gowns and mortarboard hats, received degrees at the two schools.

Connecticut, which passed Yale in the number of degrees granted for the first time last year, led again this time, 2,800 to 2,400.

Yale conferred honorary degrees on a dozen men in varied fields, including composer-conductor Leonard Bernstein, publisher Henry R. Luce, Jesuit theologian John Courtney Murray, and James E. Allen, commissioner of education for the State of New York.

Other commencements during the weekend included:

- Southern Connecticut State, 600 degrees.
- Central Connecticut State, 696 degrees.
- University of Hartford, 749 degrees.
- Quinnipiac College, 186 degrees.
- Danbury State, 226 degrees.
- Mitchell College, 196 degrees.

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Yale University conducted its 265th commencement today, matching and probably surpassing the record year of 1960 in number of degrees conferred.

University officials said a precise total would be impossible until the last graduate's name had been read, but that there was every indication undergraduate and advanced degree recipients would total about 2,400, an all-time high.

Graduate students, as usual, outnumbered the bachelor's degree candidates.

Meredith March Fans Out, Boosts Voter Registration

MEMPHIS, Miss. (AP) — Teams of Negroes fan out from the Meredith march into cotton plantations today to push voter registration among Negro workers in the fields.

"I'm sure we will meet with some opposition in view of the publicity on the Meredith march," said Charles Horwitz, a white staff worker for the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party. "But we will go anyway."

He said he expects opposition to be minor.

The main body of marchers will be on U.S. 50 again with a goal of making 20 miles to Grenada by nightfall, the largest jump to date.

In Jackson, the crowd then retraced the 20-block route of Evers' funeral cortege. In 1963, the end of the funeral turned into a bloody affair as Negro youths turned on police. There were only isolated hecklers Sunday.

MMD dissension among civil rights leaders on some aspects of the Meredith march flared again.

James H. Meredith, 35, who started the walk from Memphis, Tenn., June 5 said in New York his biggest concern was that everyone understand its purpose. He said he told two civil rights leaders he did not want it "turned into a publicity stunt or fund-raising contest among civil rights organizations."

Meredith was wounded on the second day by two blasts of birdshot. Aubrey James Norvell, the 40-year-old Memphis white man charged with the shooting, has a hearing Tuesday on a petition to be freed until the trial.

Floyd McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said in an interview of WABC-TV's "Page One" in New York, that the Meredith shooting has enabled the civil rights movement to "come together again and renew common purposes."

"Many tensions are being relieved by the actions in Mississippi," McKissick said. "Mississippi is the worst of the worst."

Charles Evers, who took over his brother's job, had asked for assurances that those participating in the march would not drain Mississippi of funds for necessary work and leave after march publicity was over.

The campers at Enid had better facilities than their tents were pitched in a dusty cornfield. The Enid dam, a federal built earthen structure, contains a recreation reservoir and the campsite is lush, manicured grass.

Highway patrolmen and some of the marchers guarded the area during the night.

Some evidence of what was thought to be Ku Klux Klan surveillance emerged Sunday. Some cars passing the marchers bore little rosettes at the tip of their radio aerials and some people with walkie-talkie radios were in the area.

One white teen-ager, on the dam overlooking the campsite at the foot of the spillway, said: "We ought to get a crowd together and rout them out of there and burn those tents."

The marchers still were 40 miles from the start of the area considered Klan territory. The Negro field hands in the area the procession has passed are described as "lame," — that is, they are considered subservient to their white overseers.

State News

Police Urge Newer Laws On Gambling

HARTFORD (AP) — State Police Commissioner Leo J. Mulcahy called today for legislation to help further curb underworld gambling operations in Connecticut.

Mulcahy said the situation is "acute," and said gambling operations are pouring into the state.

Commenting on a large scale raid Sunday in Bridgeport and another last month in New Britain, Mulcahy said the addresses of some of those arrested indicate that Connecticut is attracting out of state gamblers.

Both raids produced arrests of persons from the New York area and many of those seized in the earlier New Britain raid were also included in the Bridgeport raid.

He said it is because of Connecticut's "antiquated laws" that gamblers conduct their activities here.

"It is next to impossible for the police to effectively raid and catch gamblers with the goods," he charged.

He said police, even if they are armed with a search warrant, must first announce themselves, before they can move into a suspected dice or card game.

Lineman Killed

NEW CANAAN (A.P.) — Edward M. Farrell of 5 Ledgewood Drive, Norwalk, was killed today while working on high tension power lines on Turtleback Road.

Police said Farrell, who was employed by the Granite Engineering Co., accidentally came in contact with a 4,800-volt line.

Granite, a New Hampshire firm, was under contract to the Connecticut Light and Power Co. to replace power lines in that area, police said.

Westmoreland Honors Viet Hero Silver Star for Carpenter

DAK TO, South Viet Nam (AP) — "You have shown stamina, courage and just plain guts." Gen. William C. Westmoreland told the battle-weary paratrooper. "For every casualty you suffered you inflicted more than 10 on the enemy."

As the commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam pinned a Silver Star Sunday on West Point's lone son, Capt. William C. Carpenter, a battery of 150mm howitzers opened up on the Communists in the hills.

In five days of fighting in the treacherous, sweltering jungles of South Viet Nam's central highlands, the men of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade took all the Communists could give and gave back more and better.

Westmoreland came into the hill country Sunday, as the fighting continued against the entrenched North Vietnamese, to pay tribute to the "Screaming Eagles" of the 101st.

Speaking to the troops as they rested on Jeeps, ammunition boxes or other makeshift platforms, Westmoreland told them: "This is difficult warfare here in Viet Nam. We must master it and prove to the enemy that he is second rate. You have done just that."

The men roared their motto "Always the Best." Westmoreland shouted back: "You took the words right out of my mouth."

Westmoreland pinned the Silver Star on Carpenter as an interim medal for the 29-year-old captain's heroism in calling a napalm strike on top of his company's position. Only this dangerous move saved Carpenter and his men from being wiped out by a North Vietnamese force three times their number.

Carpenter, a hero on the grid-iron six years ago, has been recommended for the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award for gallantry in action, for his heroism on the battlefield.

Westmoreland told the survivors of Carpenter's unit, C Company of the 502nd Battalion, that they had been up against North Vietnamese regulars and that more may be across the border in Laos.

He said the North Vietnamese regiment threw two battalions—perhaps 700 men—into the battle against the U.S. airborne men in apparent hope of repeating some of the Communist success.

Flames rise from overturned police car, set afire by an unruly Chicago mob. Disorder broke out in the city's Latin-America neighborhood last night after a man was shot in the leg while police were trying to break up a gang fight.

Navy Pilot Downs Another Viet MIG

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Navy pilot destroyed the 13th Communist MIG of the war in an air battle Sunday between the key North Vietnamese cities of Hanoi and Haiphong, and narrowly missed getting a second.

But two U.S. planes were lost in new air attacks on the Communist North today.

The political kettle boiled again in South Viet Nam when Buddhist demonstrators swept through the streets of Saigon and riot police responded with clouds of tear gas. The disorder ended two weeks of comparative calm in the capital and followed a day of giant pro-government, anti-Communist demonstrations by Roman Catholics.

Cmdr. Hal L. Marr, 40, of Roseburg, Ore., scored the hit on the MIG with his second heat-seeking Sidewinder in a numerically equal dogfight between four F4U Corsair jets from the carrier Hancock and four Soviet-designed MIGs.

A U.S. spokesman said the encounter occurred 31 miles northwest of Haiphong, North Viet Nam's main port, and 55 miles northeast of Hanoi, the capital.

A twin-jet U.S. Air Force B57 Canberra fighter-bomber vanished with its two crewmen east of the Mu Gia Pass today, while an Air Force F4C Phantom jet was shot down by ground fire northwest of coastal Dong Hoi City. Parachutes were seen but the two fliers were listed as missing.

They were the 261st and 262nd American planes reported lost over the Communist north.

In the jungled central highlands of South Viet Nam, U.S. paratroopers killed 25 Communists in a series of skirmishes as the "Screaming Eagles" of the 101st Airborne Division combed the jungled mountain air of a North Vietnamese regiment. They have been battling since Tuesday.

Before the paratroopers moved into the area where the North Vietnamese were being encircled, high-flying B52s from Guam saturated it with bombs.

After seven bombing runs, helicopters lifted a company of

High Court Curbs Quiz of Suspects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today police may not question a suspect if he is alone and "indicates in any manner that he does not wish to be interrogated."

Chief Justice Earl Warren, writing the court's main opinion, said the prosecution may not use damaging statements unless it is shown that safeguards were taken "to secure the privileges against self-incrimination."

The ruling was given in four cases which grew out of the historic 1964 decision which extended the right to counsel to a suspect in a police station.

Justices John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron R. White dissented in all four cases. Justice Tom C. Clark dissented in three cases and concurred with the majority in the fourth.

Warren said a defendant may waive his rights to remain silent and to have an attorney with him, "provided, the waiver is made voluntarily, knowingly and intelligently."

"It, however, he indicates in any manner and at any stage of the questioning process that he wishes to consult with an attorney before speaking there can be no questioning," the chief justice declared. "Likewise if the individual is alone and indicates in any manner that he

10 Injured; 46 Arrested In Rioting

CHICAGO (AP)—Nineteen police cars patrolled today in a square mile area on the Northwest Side where mob violence erupted after a policeman shot a Puerto Rican youth who the officer said was trying to escape.

Police clashed repeatedly with members of an angry crowd of more than 1,000 persons who surged through the streets of the predominantly Latin-American neighborhood Sunday afternoon and night.

Ten persons, including two policemen and a fireman, were injured and 46 persons were arrested on various charges including burglary, interfering with police in the performance of their duty, damaging city property, disorderly conduct, assault or battery.

The melee left intersections in the neighborhood littered with broken glass, bricks, paper and signs ripped off stores but cleanup crews cleared away the litter today.

During the rioting, surging, rock throwing members of the mob tipped a police car on its side and set three others on fire. Windshields in other police cars were smashed by rocks or bottles.

"You can't kill Puerto Ricans and get away with it!" one woman screamed as police tried to push the crowds back.

Police were pelted with rocks, bottles and debris as they tried to disperse the crowds in a 10-square-block area.

Sporadic gunfire could be heard and looting was reported in several shops.

Patrolman Thomas Munyon, 25, the officer who shot the youth, described the incident:

"My partner and I went into this alley to break up a fight. This guy started to pull a gun from under his shirt and I shot him. There were about 10 or 15 persons in the alley. So my partner and I put the wounded man into a car and got out of there."

The wounded man was identified as Cruz Arcelis, 20.

Munyon, married and the father of two, said he fired four times and didn't know how many shots hit Arcelis.

After the incident aroused crowds poured into the streets and police canine squads were sent into the area.

A police dog bit Juan Melan, 20, and the crowd shouted disapproval. Melan was hoisted to the shoulders of friends and displayed to the crowd, then taken to a nearby hospital.

The crowd moved one block south to the corner of Damen

RUBY TRIAL BEGINS
DALLAS (AP) — Judge Louis H. Sweeney prepared to impound a hostile jury for Jack Ruby today over the objections of Ruby's lawyers. A throng of prospective jurors crowded hallways outside the courtroom as the judge overruled defense motions for a delay. After first ordering Ruby to stay outside the courtroom until a jury could be seated, Judge Holland, without explanation, changed the ruling. Ruby was then brought into the room for a conference with his lawyers.

Big Brush Fire Perils Condors

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Fifteen hundred fire fighters were in virtual hand-to-hand combat today against a 20,000-acre brush and pine fire which threatened the bathing area of the nearly extinct California condors in Los Padres National Forest.

"It is strictly a hand-to-hand show," said U.S. Forest Service officer Ray Dalton. "There are steep bluffs, big canyons. The wind is coming from the east, which makes it dangerous."

Police Use Clubs, Disperse Negroes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Clubwielding highway patrolmen broke up two crowds of Negroes—numbering about 300—and sheriff's deputies routed 100 jeering white Sunday as officers cleared the area around the Grenada County, Miss., jail.

One Negro man who fought back was clubbed to the ground and arrested.
Near dusk in the north-central Mississippi town of 7,914, about 20 steel helmeted patrolmen, armed with shotguns, carbines and tear gas grenades, marched into a group of about 200 Negroes who had refused to disperse.
When the crowd was scattered, the patrolmen turned on another group of about 100 Negro onlookers gathered across the street.
The patrolmen still were hitting them with billy clubs and the butts of their weapons when county officers moved on a crowd of whites which included men, women and children.
Unlike the Negroes, who did not move until officers were on them, no whites were struck by officers.

The order to disperse the crowd came after about 50 Negroes refused to move from the jail house lawn and then joined about 150 Negroes nearby.
The smaller group had appeared at the jail in a "sympathy march" for 43 civil rights workers arrested last week for a street sitdown. They refused a march permit on grounds it was "unconstitutional."
Also in the jail were two white men arrested earlier Sunday after a burst of shots was fired near a civil rights attorney and two others as they were about to enter a Negro church Saturday night.
No one was injured in the attack, a confiscated automatic weapon, described by one as a submachinegun.
Leon Hall of Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference said Negroes are asking to share in the profits.
"After all these years when they have accepted substandard conditions, airline employees are entitled to a better deal."

Ramsey handed out mimeographed copies of the statement but declined to elaborate on it, saying "we better get on with the job."
William J. Curtin, chief negotiator for the five struck airlines—Eastern, National, Northwest, Trans World and United—arrived in the hallway as Ramsey was speaking. He listened before entering the separate conference room for his group.
Asked for comment, Curtin said: "We have endorsed the emergency board recommendations which the President himself characterized as the framework for a just settlement of the dispute, and we have even improved upon it in our negotiations."
Curtin said evidence before the emergency board indicated clearly that airline employees were treated far better than most interns of working conditions.
Later, Ramsey and his fellow union negotiators emerged from a conference with the secretary of labor and said there had been no new proposals "at the present time."
"We reviewed our present positions. The carriers are holding firm and so are we, at the moment," Ramsey said.
During the weekend negotiations, officials of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists met in one conference room in the basement of the Labor Department building, airline officials in another.
Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds, who shuttled between the two rooms, arranged the joint meeting, telling reporters that 30 hours of talks Saturday and Sunday had brought no progress.
Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz was keeping President Johnson posted on negotiations, Reynolds said. Johnson returns to Washington from his Texas ranch today.
Wirtz, who was touring the Far East when the strike started, entered the strike negotiations Sunday. As talks moved into the night, he told reporters "I should say with all candor that there is no reasonable basis for expecting any major developments in the situation."
As talks recessed for the week, the Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said today "no progress" had been made at this morning's negotiations aimed at ending a Machinists Union strike against five major airlines.

Cock Fight Stopped

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—Just as a Tuscola County cockfight was getting good, an airplane swooped down and its loudspeaker blared at the 66 shouting fans: "You're all under arrest." It didn't help for the rooster-fight fans to run, police said.
Troopers dressed in camouflage uniforms had infiltrated the wooded area 30 miles east of Saginaw several hours before the fight fans arrived.

Firebug Hits During Night 53 Homeless

WATERBURY (AP)—Fire officials pressed a search today for a dangerous species of firebug—the type who sets fire to buildings filled with sleeping families.
Fifty-three men, women and children were left homeless by the blaze early Sunday at 187 N. Main St.
One woman living in the three-story frame building suffered a leg injury as she fell downstairs while escaping the fire. Two firemen suffered burns, cuts and other injuries. In all, 17 persons suffered from smoke inhalation.
The blaze began about 3 a.m. in a can of inflammable liquid on a back porch on the second floor and spread upward rapidly. The porch was beneath the bedroom window of Mrs. Irene Eggleston, who told police she was awakened when the flames flared up.
Fire Marshal Thomas Scadden said a fire in a building on Willow Street on June 27 also started in a can of burning liquid that had been set down on a porch by a suspected arsonist.
Mrs. Eggleston said the flaming can seemed to explode. When she tried to get to a telephone on the third floor, she said, she found the flames were there ahead of her.

Field Hands March To Protest Wages

SAN JUAN, Tex. (AP)—Eleven persons, including two clergymen and a union organizer, started a 400-mile march today to point up demands of farm workers for more pay.
The march began at the altar of Our Lady of San Juan Roman Catholic Church. Five men and three women on the march are field workers.
A priest wore a Star of David, which he said indicated support of the march by the Houston Jewish Community Council.
Eugene Nelson, a union organizer, said the group plans to go to Westaco, 10 miles from San Juan, for a rally tonight. They will return to San Juan by bus for the night, then resume the march Tuesday from Westaco, heading for Elisa, Tex.
The marchers carried the American flag and the banner of the National Farm Workers Association Union.
Henry Munoz, director of Latin-speaking affairs of the Texas AFL-CIO, virtually guaranteed the financing for the march.
Rabbi Jerome Sherman, president of the Houston Rabbinical Association, said he had asked all Houston rabbis to speak about the farm workers' movement last Friday and their coming Friday from their pulpits and to request the congregation to bring food to the temples for the marchers.
Sherman said the Community Relations Committee of Houston had voted last week to collect food for the workers and plans had been made for a truck to pick it up July 18 for shipment to the Rio Grande Valley.
The strikers want union recognition and a $1.25-an-hour minimum wage for Mexican-American seasonal field hands who do stoop labor in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Nurses Quit En Masse Over Pays

CASTRO VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—A mass resignation of Castro Valley's Eden Hospital registered nurses, seeking higher wages and better working conditions, has drastically reduced the hospital's services.
Surgeries have been canceled.
Ralph Hartley, a negotiator for the striking nurses, said "the patients will be truly abandoned" if negotiations fail to lift nurses from "the lowest paid professional group in the country."
Elmer Massmann, administrator of the 243-bed hospital, said, "We are not admitting any patients who might be termed critical or risk patients."

The nurses, 91 of the staff's 107, quit Sunday at 7 a.m. after rejecting pay proposals which they said were entirely inadequate.
The hospital called in its 18 supervisory nurses for emergency duty.
Nurses at 11 San Francisco hospitals and 19 hospitals in the East Bay area supported the Eden nurses and threatened to use the same resignation tactic in new contract negotiations.
"We had intent of resignation letters in a month ago," said Wilma McCarthy, chairman of the Eden Nurses association, "but the medical staff apparently did not feel we would actually resign."
The nurses are seeking a beginning salary of $644 a month and a minimum after 10 years of $710. They rejected proposals of $605 for beginners and $688 for 10-year nurses.

Air Strike Talks Reopen Amid New Note of Dissent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said today "no progress" had been made at this morning's negotiations aimed at ending a Machinists Union strike against five major airlines.
Wirtz spoke to newsmen when the negotiations recessed for lunch.
Asked whether he saw a possibility of White House intervention to end the strike that started last Friday, he said, "There is no consideration of direct presidential intervention at this point."
Today's session had opened on an acrimonious note.
Joseph Ramsey, vice president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and chief union negotiator, entered the conference room and said: "The public should know that there hasn't been five minutes of real negotiating since this strike started."
"These carriers are standing pat, protecting their profits, waiting for the President or Congress to help them out."
"Union members on the airlines are asking to share in the profits."
"After all these years when they have accepted substandard conditions, airline employees are entitled to a better deal."

Three Copters Lost: Trapped Cong Flee

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong shot down three American helicopters in South Viet Nam, killing four U.S. and nine South Vietnamese soldiers, while two more U.S. jets were lost in the air war against the Communist north, an American spokesman announced today.
A Navy fighter-bomber became the 286th plane lost in the 17-month air war against North Viet Nam early today. The bombing continued with an attack on another oil storage depot 130 miles west-northwest of Hanoi near the old French base of Dien Bien Phu. The pilots reported that two buildings were damaged.
Ground fighting in South Viet Nam died down, with both U.S. and Vietnamese headquarters reporting only light patrol contacts.
In the jungles northwest of Saigon, a battered Viet Cong regiment escaped toward the Cambodian border, leaving at least 238 dead after the U.S. 1st Infantry Division decimated the guerrillas in a furious fight.
All 18 helicopter deaths came when a U.S. UH-1H Iroquois was shot down 18 miles southeast of Ca Mau in southernmost An Xuyen Province, which has been relatively quiet in recent months. The U.S. spokesman had no further details.
The two other helicopters—both Marine CH-34 troop-cargo carriers—went down in the northern part of the country 12 miles northwest of the Marine base at Chu Lai. There were no casualties in either crash.
The Communists nailed a chopper as it ferried in Marines to protect another CH-34 which had gone down Sunday night with mechanical trouble. A second CH-34 was brought down by the Reds this morning in the same area. However, the original helicopter was repaired and

Fashion Report Swinging Clothes Fun for Young

(NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles on the current fashion showings in New York City by Rhea Stewart for The Herald.)
By RHEA STEWART
Special Herald Correspondent
NEW YORK—Fashion swings. The American Designer Series has scarcely begun its procession of the styles that will be offered to American women in the coming fall, but the fashion editors gathered here at Delmonico's Hotel already have the message. Hair swings and dresses swing from the shoulders and the models even walk with a new swing in their low-heeled shoes.
Shoes, even, that item of fashion which used to be as stable as the ground it walked on, has taken to the go-go mood like a granny in her second granny dress. At today's showing of the National Shoe Institute, the fashion story was summed up thus: "Fashion Is Fun."
"All very fine and fun, but I couldn't help remembering at that moment the mature and portly fashion editor who after watching a collection of blithe young dresses, turned to me and sighed, "When you're large, clothes just aren't any fun." And by the demands of today's fashions, the large lady is the one with two surplus ounces.
The young and beautiful are the "in" people today, and fashion tosses the elders the bone of opulent fabric at dress-up time.
Not only the foot but the entire leg is jazzed up, to a degree that we never expected when we drew on our first tentative stockings with the modest diamond pattern. Rudi Gernreich makes the stocking part of the dress in an outfit that combines orange wool knit shift, encircled by a double band of violet and red, and a pair of matching stockings with one leg plain (if you can call orange wool knit plain) and the other encircled with violet and red spirals that seem to be a continuation of the dress spirals. If you have survived the color scheme, let us inform you that the stockings cost $17.

China Purge Moves Four To Key Spot

TOKYO (AP)—Four men appear to have moved into key positions in Red China's Communist hierarchy as a result of the sweeping purge in the nation's leadership.
The four were spotlighted over the weekend when most of China's top leaders appeared at a reception for delegates to an Asian-African writers' conference in Peking.
The list of the leaders and their titles was reported in detail by Peking radio, the official New China News Agency and Peking newspapers. Foreign observers in Tokyo believe this may have been Communist party chief Mao Tse-tung's way of announcing the team with which he intends to push forward his "cultural revolution."
The four men given new prominence were:
—Marshall Yeh Chien-yin, who was raised to the Central Committee's important 12-man secretariat. He is considered a possible successor to Gen. Lo Jiching as army chief of the general staff.

Romanian History Spurs Nationalism

An AP News Analysis
By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)
—Nationalism, the powerful force that has often brought trouble to the Balkans, is stirring today in Romania.
The nation's Communist leaders are cultivating the national spirit to unite the nation in a determination to seek its own destiny without interference from the Soviet Union.
Romanian nationalism has proved a headache for the Kremlin, which has dominated this part of the Balkans for a generation.
In theory, Communists deplore nationalism, which runs counter to the Red credo that the workers of the world should unite and break down national barriers.
Romanian nationalism manifested itself several years ago in a rebellion against Moscow's economic plans. The Soviets wanted this land of rich wheat fields and oil wells to specialize in some products and import others, tying itself to Soviet economic needs.
Romania refused and made some pointed remarks about it being uncommunist for one country to try to exploit another.
With success on the economic front, Romania became more assertive, moving into the tricky, explosive field of territorial claims.
The extensive overlapping of linguistic groups in the Balkans—people speaking Romanian living among those speaking Hungarian, for instance—has been the cause of much bloodshed.
In 1964 Romania published some old writings of the Communist prophet, Karl Marx, saying that Bessarabia should be part of Romania. Before World War I Bessarabia was in

The report criticized what it called the decline of U.S. leadership in the United Nations as "but another measure of the opportunities thrown away by the present administration."
Saying the United Nations should have "the active support of the people and the government of the United States," the report added:

Shade Cools Battery of Lunar Probe

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The long, cool shadow of the lunar probe proved a tonic for America's aging surveyor 1 spacecraft, giving the spiderlike device another chance, perhaps, to photograph scenes from the moon.

The students at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the 60-pound craft's battery—thought to be on the verge of death Friday—had cooled enough to allow new sequences of photos, perhaps Tuesday.

The battery temperature soared to 140 degrees Friday night, but it cooled to 110 degrees, well within operating limits, said Tuesday director Robert J. Parks.

Still a puzzle is why the temperature rose to the normal range. Earlier, it was theorized that a short circuit caused the rise in temperature.

Present salaries at Eden fringe from $425 to $485.

When the nurses quit, the hospital had 114 adult patients and 14 infants. Twenty-three patients left Sunday and the hospital would not stay how many new patients had been admitted. A meeting among the hospital's dispute was scheduled today.

Three large nurses associations in the area plan meetings this week to consider the effectiveness of resignations in contract bargaining.

Nurses at a Marin County hospital, across the bay from San Francisco, have threatened to resign Thursday if they do not get substantial wage increases. Nurses at another hospital have submitted resignations that would become effective if contract negotiations fail.

There has been a lot of talk lately about our technological and economic progress. Our country is the most advanced in the world. It is possible to put a yardstick to the essentials of the good life. We can compute the gross national product; we cannot compute the national satisfaction nor good will.

Mr. Ford then confesses some of his troubled feelings in more than one place. He is troubled by the growth of violence in our national life and by "violent resistance to the laws guaranteeing the civil rights of all citizens." He is troubled by the growth of violence in our national life and by "violent resistance to the laws guaranteeing the civil rights of all citizens."

On the national political scene he is troubled most by the evident growth of the far right and by the extreme stands of the ultra-liberals on the other side. When political struggle settles at the extremes, compromise becomes impossible and moderates are squeezed out. The only alternatives are deadlock—if the parties are equal in strength—or crushing defeat for the weaker side. In either case the hypocrisies are stress and frustration.

And, in all the troubles he confesses, Mr. Ford thinks he sees a common theme.

"The common thread is a strong element of antagonism and misanthropy between the young and their elders, between the young and their parents and their government, between conservatives and liberals, between many people—especially young people—who demand the status quo for order and responsibility and tradition."

The board is expected to name Dr. Walter Schacht secretary to succeed Schaffer. All three are Democrats.

John Dempsey.

Dr. Schacht, an ophthalmologist with a local practice and a member of the Manchester Memorial Hospital's medical staff, is completing his first three-year term on the board and will stand for re-election in the fall. He resides at 31 Eastland Dr.

Mrs. Bourne, in her letter to the board announcing her resignation, cited her increasing responsibilities as chairman of the State Board of Regional Community Colleges as her main reason for resigning. She is also seeking a teaching position in Manchester High School's language department. She was chosen chairman of the state board last fall when the state system of regional two-year colleges was established.

In her letter she states in part, "Because she is in the

At the palace in Tokyo today on the eve of Preston's departure after three years of service in the Pacific, the Japanese Emperor received the Japanese Emperor's Order of the Sacred Treasure.

Preston will assume command of the 1st Air Force in Europe, with headquarters at Wiesbaden, West Germany, on Aug. 1, and is promoted to full general at that time.

Brandt Win Proves Costly For Erhardt

BORN, Germany (AP) — West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's political success today after his Socialist party scored big election gains in West Germany's richest and most populous state.

The outcome of the balloting in North Rhine-Westphalia dealt a sharp blow to the prestige of Chancellor Ludwig Erhardt, whose Christian Democrats lost 10 seats in the state Parliament.

The ruling coalition of Christian Democrats and Free Democrats emerged with the barest majority of 101 of the 200 seats.

The Socialists picked up nine seats from the Christian Democrats, while 34 Socialists took one Christian Democrat seat, winning 15, and the Christian Democrats dropped from 94 to 85 seats.

Brandt had been written off as a political has-been on the national scene following his second defeat as candidate for mayor in the state election. Many predicted that he would head the socialist ticket again in the West German election.

Brandt's victory was a surprise, and it was generally credited to his victory because of his anti-nuclear and anti-Americanism.

secretary and editor in chief of the party's theoretical journal Red Flag. He was identified as "leader of the group in charge of the cultural revolution under the party's Central Committee."

—Vice Premier Tao Chui, who replaces Vice Premier Liu Ting-tai party propaganda chief.

—Kang Shen, party theoretician and alternate member of the Politburo, who is considered a possible successor to Peking's disgraced Mayor Peng Chen.

Reports from Peking said invitations to the reception were changed at the last minute to include Kang Shen as joint host with Premier Chou En-lai, Tao Chui and Chen Po-ta.

The absence of Vice Premier Liu Ting-tai and Lu Jui-ching was seen as confirmation of their downfall. Peng Chen, who has been stripped of his post as first secretary of the Peking Communist party committee, was also absent.

The absence of a third vice premier — Chen Yun — was more difficult to explain. He has disappeared from public view from time to time since the disastrous "Great Leap Forward" of 1958 and at one time was believed in disgrace. But he was re-elected to the National People's Congress in September 1964 and was listed as No. 3 of the 16 vice premiers named in January 1965.

The list indicated that none of the highest echelon has been caught in the purge. Mao and Defense Minister Lin Biao were absent, but both were reported to be in Shanghai. Lin Biao is believed leading the purge.

Nearly everyone was reported to be at the reception including Premier Chou, President Liu Shao-chai, Vice Premier Chen Ching-ling — Mrs. Sun Yat Sen, and Tung Pao-wu, National People's Congress Chairman Chou Teh and party General Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping.

Reds Blamed For Rioting In Salonika

SALONIKA, Greece (AP) — The Greek government Monday blamed Communists for six hours of fighting between wheat farmers and police in Salonika in which 200 persons were injured.

A government statement said that the farmers' protest Sunday against wheat subsidy prices was unjustified and that Communists had exploited it "to achieve their aims."

Stones and broken sticks littered streets on the outskirts of the city of half a million. Nearly 200 tractors and other farm machines were left wrecked, burned or overturned.

But calm had returned, and people went about their business as usual. Police announced that 150 persons had been arrested.

More than 8,000 farmers with about 500 tractors gathered outside Salonika before dawn Sunday for a 12-hour "silent and peaceful" demonstration against the wheat subsidies.

The trouble started when the farmers tried to move their tractors into the city. Police fired warning shots and lobbed tear gas pellets; the farmers replied with a barrage of rocks. Soon club-wielding police were skirmishing with farmers armed with sticks.

In an effort to stop the advancing tractors, police began shooting at the tires and engines. Hospital authorities said 17 persons were injured by ricocheting bullets.

Finally the army was called, and armored half tracks moved in. Wheat farmers have been agitating for weeks against a new government support price of about four cents a pound. They are demanding five cents.

The government has kept the price lower to discourage a chronic wheat surplus. The growers say any other crop in their dry climate would mean less income.

Bundy Says Bombs Valid Years Ago

YOKO (AP) — The United States would have been justified in starting the bombing of North Vietnam four years before it did, U.S. Asst. Secretary of State William F. Bundy was quoted today as saying.

Bundy said bombing North Vietnam to try to "cut out down the supply lines" was not coming in there "did not start earlier because we didn't want to make the man fight or a less Vietnamese struggle than we could possibly help, and the South Vietnamese didn't want it."

Bundy was in Kyoto last week for the annual meeting of Japanese and U.S. Cabinet ministers and was interviewed by Kyoto University Prof. Masamichi Inoki. The newspaper Yomiuri published the interview today.

"Each step we Americans have taken has been taken because without it the cause would have been lost and because the South Vietnamese asked us to help," said the assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern Affairs.

Bundy said the United States fired warning shots and lobbed tear gas pellets; the farmers replied with a barrage of rocks. Soon club-wielding police were skirmishing with farmers armed with sticks.

secretary and editor in chief of the party's theoretical journal Red Flag. He was identified as "leader of the group in charge of the cultural revolution under the party's Central Committee."

—Vice Premier Tao Chui, who replaces Vice Premier Liu Ting-tai party propaganda chief.

—Kang Shen, party theoretician and alternate member of the Politburo, who is considered a possible successor to Peking's disgraced Mayor Peng Chen.

Reports from Peking said invitations to the reception were changed at the last minute to include Kang Shen as joint host with Premier Chou En-lai, Tao Chui and Chen Po-ta.

The absence of Vice Premier Liu Ting-tai and Lu Jui-ching was seen as confirmation of their downfall. Peng Chen, who has been stripped of his post as first secretary of the Peking Communist party committee, was also absent.

The absence of a third vice premier — Chen Yun — was more difficult to explain. He has disappeared from public view from time to time since the disastrous "Great Leap Forward" of 1958 and at one time was believed in disgrace. But he was re-elected to the National People's Congress in September 1964 and was listed as No. 3 of the 16 vice premiers named in January 1965.

The list indicated that none of the highest echelon has been caught in the purge. Mao and Defense Minister Lin Biao were absent, but both were reported to be in Shanghai. Lin Biao is believed leading the purge.

Nearly everyone was reported to be at the reception including Premier Chou, President Liu Shao-chai, Vice Premier Chen Ching-ling — Mrs. Sun Yat Sen, and Tung Pao-wu, National People's Congress Chairman Chou Teh and party General Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping.

Calls Play 'Bush Stuff' Buc Squeeze Irks Friend

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran pitcher Bob Friend knows about pressure. But that extra squeeze put on by the Pittsburgh Pirates was just too much.

Friend, an ex- Pirate, became anxious Sunday when the Pirates, leading by five runs in the eighth inning en route to a 9-4 victory over the New York Mets, tried to squeeze in another run. It backfired, but that didn't panic Friend.

As he was leaving the field, Friend glared at the Pittsburgh dugout and shouted, "That's bush stuff, trying a squeeze when you're five runs ahead."

Pirates Manager Harry Walker shouted back, and Friend started toward each other but were restrained.

After the game, Walker said, "Whenever the club I'm playing gives up and quits, that's when I intend to stop trying to score runs. Baseball is played to win, and that's all I have to say."

acid test by ending an 11-game losing streak with a 2-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

Following the victory, the 36-year-old Heffner chewed 20 tablets which absorbed stomach acid and said, "My stomach's been jumping for 45 years. But this (the slump) hasn't helped any."

The Cincinnati victory enabled second-place Pittsburgh to close within one game of the Giants in the National League.

Atlanta edged Los Angeles 2-1 in the Chicago Cubs' bludgeoned Philadelphia 10-2 and Houston topped St. Louis 6-0 in other National League games.

NO, NOT ON MY HEAD—Chicago Cubs' Ron Santo braces for possible "beaning" by an errant throw to Phillies catcher Bob Uecker. But the ball went the other way, behind Uecker, and Santo scored. Billy Williams, who preceded him across the plate on Ernie Banks' single, is at right. Cubs won, 10-2.

SENATORS-YANKS — Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, who had hoped to have the team at 5-0 by the All-Star break, watched the Yanks fall 12 games behind the mark and 20½ games behind the league-leading Orioles. Houkers by Ed Erickman and Bob Savarin gave Washington the victory margin in the first game, while the Yankees won the second game.

TWINS-TIGERS — Two-run homers by Harmon Killebrew and Don Minick gave the Twins past second-place spot. Left fielder Carl Yastrzemski homered in the 10th inning to beat the Red Sox in a 10-4 victory and a sweep of the Chicago White Sox.

Embarrassed A Set for Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The embarrassed American League, winner of only one of the last nine All-Star baseball games, is ready to go all out tomorrow against the favored National League's impressive array.

The National League has been taking blows for winning both the World Series and the All-Star Game in each of the last three years. Overcoming a 14-1 edge in the All-Star series, the majors' top pitcher with a 15-4 record, worked Saturday.

Sandy Kousser of the Dodgers, the majors' top pitcher with a 15-4 record, worked Saturday. Kousser, who has taken the Bell of Cleveland, Calf. Hunt, of the American League, pitched a three-hitter for the 14th victory Friday. Bob Veale of Pittsburgh has not pitched since Thursday.

Three American League starters worked Saturday. Gary Mottola of Detroit, the league's best pitcher with a 13-4 record, pitched for the Tigers. Jim Kaat of Minnesota and Mel Allen of New York were also starters.

Walter Alton of the Los Angeles Dodgers can be counted upon to give his sluggers a similar message.

In the old days it was common for most of the pitchers to work the Sunday previous to the game. That no longer is the case, Alton said, "I'm going to win."

The care and feeding of a Pussycat.

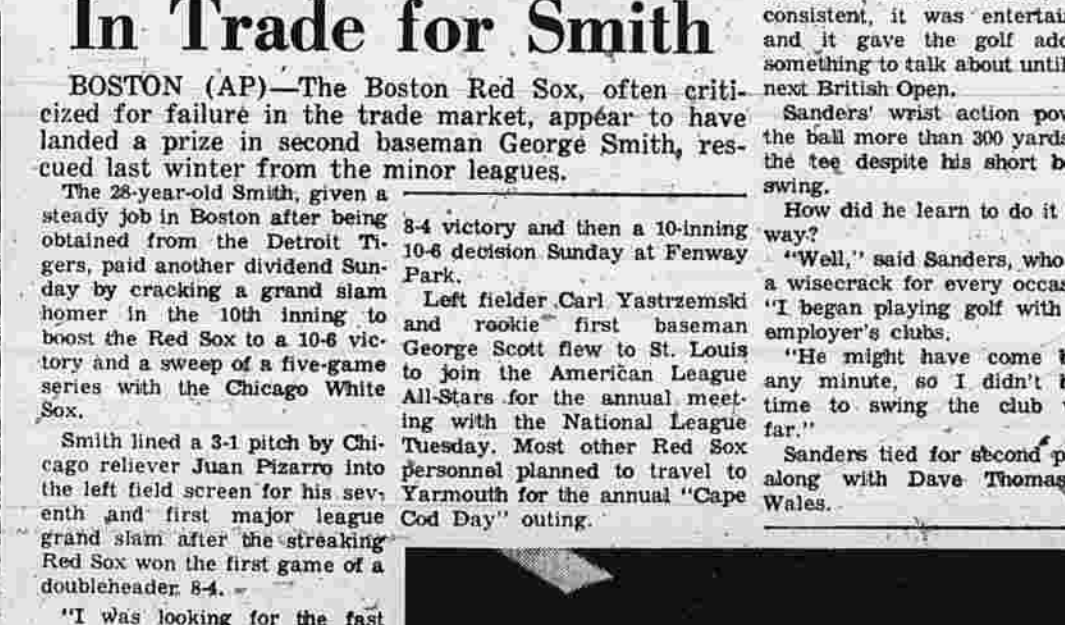

The Volkswagen Ghia only has the looks of a $5,000 car, not the price. It's a Pussycat. Sporty on top, economical underneath. You can keep one going for the same price you'd pay to keep a VW Sedan going. It's really these easy-to-maintain, low-stopping. When stopping for gas, no need to stop at a premium pump. A Pussycat runs great on regular gas. At 30c a gallon, $3 will stretch into about 300 miles. And at 30c, 50c a quart for oil, a Ghia won't cost more than $1.50, or only takes 2 1/2 quarts.

Keep water off your hood, and always forget to put in antifreeze. (The engine is also cooled; it can't boil or freeze.) An oil Pussycat is very easy on tires. 16,000 miles should last before you even have to think about new ones. You have to inspect when trouble comes up, but down to a Volkswagen dealer and get changed Volkswagen prices for repairs. It uses the same mechanical parts that a Beetle uses! That's our Pussycat. It costs less than $2,500, but it may cost the whole ritual of new car buying. The "good deal" comes after the sale.
