Eight Nurses Slain, Police Question Man

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight student nurses were strangled and knifed to death in their dormitory early today in what one official called "The Crime of the Century."

One girl escaped to tell the horror.

A man answering the description of the man sought was captured a few hours later in downtown Chicago.

The man, wearing a bloodstained white shirt, reportedly had fled from the Delta Air Lines office where he had tried to buy a ticket to New Orleans.

In what FBI officials termed the worst crime within their recollection, the victims, aged 21 to 23, were killed singly during a 2 1/2-hour slaughter binge.

One young woman was strangled in a downstairs living room of the two-story brick town house at 2319 E. 190th St. used by South Chicago Hospital as a dormitory. The scene is a mid-die-class neighborhood in the city's Far Southeast section.

The survivor, Miss Carazo Amurao, 23, an exchange student from the Philippines, said she escaped death by hiding under a bed. Her story to police was semihysterical, but she described a lone killer with blond hair, 6 feet 1, and weighing about 170 pounds.

Miss Amurao said she was one of several girls penned in an upstairs bedroom—one of three bedrooms on the second floor. She said she was upstairs in the house when Miss Gloria Davy, 23, Dyer, Ind., first encountered the killer.

It was first believed that she opened the door to him, but Edward Sheehy, South Chicago police commander, said that it appeared he had entered through a rear kitchen window of the first floor.

Miss Amurao was quoted as saying she overheard him say that "he only wanted money to go to New Orleans and that he would not hurt us."

As far as police could reconstruct the crime immediately, the intruder strangled Miss Davy and then went upstairs where five of the girls were in bed or ready to retire. This was at about 12:30 a.m.

The killer bound the wrists of the five with stockings and locked them in the bedroom. Within an hour, three other student nurses returned to the dormitory after having finished their night shift duties at the hospital a few blocks away.

The next killing possibly came during a struggle by one of the girls and the marauder.

Besides Miss Davy, those killed were Meritta Gargallo, 21, an exchange nurse from the Philippines; Valentina Facion, 23, of the Philippines; Pamela Wilkening, 22, Lansing, Ill.; Susan Ferris, 22, Chicago; Patricia Matusek, 21, Roseland, Ill.; Marianne Jordan, 22, Chicago.

Senate Shuts Door For CIA Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate closed its doors, cleared the spectator galleries and went into an unusual locked-door session today in its wrangle over supervision of the Central Intelligence Agency—the nation's spy system.

The closed session began at 12:26 p.m. after some crackling debate.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana decided to clear the galleries after the opening debate so that nothing said in heated exchanges could damage the big intelligence agency or the national security.

At issue is the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's attempt to pass a resolution to put three of its members on the Senate's special seven-man CIA panel headed by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga.

Much of the public debate hinged on the jurisdictional argument between the CIA committee and the Foreign Relations Committee, headed by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

As the preliminary debate neared its end, Fulbright insisted his committee was entitled to a part in supervising the CIA and asked Russell:

"Why do you seek to monopolize it?"

Russell broke in: "I'm not trying to monopolize it on the Senate's committee, I'm trying to keep him from muscling in on my committee."

Mansfield said statements by Fulbright and Russell would be made at a public session before he could move for the closed session.

Mansfield had been in consultation with Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, on the plan to bar press and public from the debate.

The last such executive session was April 11, 1965, when the Senate discussed funds for an antiballistic missile system, and gaged them.

Still later, another girl returned from a date, and then

Brigitte Wed To Playboy In Nevada

By RICHARD E. MEYER
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Brigitte Bardot, France's international sex symbol, married wealthy German playboy Gumbert Sachs here today.

She said her marriage was an appropriate way to mark July 14—Bastille Day—France's equivalent of Independence Day.

Miss Bardot repeated her marriage vows in French-accented English before Nevada District Court Judge John Mowbray in the home of a prominent Las Vegas lawyer.

Sachs turned and kissed her. She gave him a big hug.

Mowbray saluted them with French champagne and a toast from his Irish forehead.

"May the road rise to meet you," he said, "and may the wind be ever at your backs."

The 31-year-old film actress then turned to kiss each of the four male witnesses to the ceremony. With Gallic gallantry, the men kissed one another on the cheek in turn.

The eight-minute ceremony was performed shortly after midnight before a handful of guests. Most of them flew from France with the wedding couple.

As the judge turned to leave, Miss Bardot stopped him at the door and said:

Elders Oust Minister In March

McAllen, Tex. (AP)—Wendell Scott's protest march is over, and he is packing to get out of the Church of Christ school building he was ordered to vacate.

Scott joined a Fourth of July march of striking Mexican-American farm workers in the Rio Grande Valley to dramatize demands for union recognition and a $1.25 an hour minimum wage for field hands who now earn 80 cents to $1 an hour.

Scott was asked by elders of the Church of Christ to quit the march. When he refused, he was told to move out of the church-owned building he used for a school to train students for the ministry.

The students, nine in all, are having to pack, too. The building doubled as a dormitory.

"If we can rent a large house or if someone will supply us with a large place, we'll move there," said Scott. "Falling that, we'll move into my house, which is too small even for my own family."

He and his wife, Marie, have five children.

An elder of the church, E. L. Crawford, said that because of Scott's participation in the march "we (the elders) felt that his influence as a Gospel preacher and teacher of students had been ruined."

Crawford said Scott originally was given until July 12 to move but the deadline was extended to July 28 because Scott said he needed more time to pack 1,100 books and get his office equipment and furniture out.

Fashion Report Nothing Dowdy About These

By BESSA STEWART
Special Herald Correspondent
NEW YORK—Women who once feasted on the sight of a man in a tuxedo described as being "on the sunny side of 16" can thank the current vogue for lookiness for this one blessing: it has knocked out any tendency to be inconspicuous.

Another commentator noted that his cocktail dress were "guaranteed not to fade into the woodwork."

Fashion editors attending the American Designers Series week of New York's fall fashions were the guests of Ship 'n' Shore blouses at the bit musical "Mame" and there is a girl who never faded into the woodwork.

Angela Lansbury, who plays Auntie Mame, wore a Miami-type flowing dress of shocking pink and a Mame-type enormous floppy hat when she called on the editors at lunch.

Some of the exuberance of Mame's 27 changes of costume will show up this season wherever chic women gather.

Take feathers, for instance. Mame-loved feathers. And she would have loved the quiver-salver effect of the feathery blouse which their designer, Pauline Trigere, calls "one of those bits of calculated cruelty."

House speech today.

The issue was first raised yesterday by House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford. He told a news conference "disturbing rumors" were circulating that the Johnson administration may have dropped antitrust suits against companies whose executives contributed to the Democratic fund-raising drive.

A check of government records showed that on May 24 the August A. Busch family and two company executives made contributions totaling $10,000 to the President's Club, composed of persons who contribute at least $1,000 to the Democratic Party.

Records showed that on June 17, records showed that the Justice Department dropped a civil antitrust suit seeking to force the company to divest itself of a making plant in Wisconsin without prejudice.

The suit was dismissed without prejudice at that time.

But he was quick to add that "my sights were set at a much lower level."

Eberharting asked the change board of directors Wednesday to accept his resignation, effective next February.

CL&P Hit In Ignoring PUC Role

HARTFORD (AP)—The State Public Utilities Commission approved today the application of the Connecticut Light & Power Co. for high tension wires overhead between Middletown, Portland and East Hampton, Conn.

The PUC said that CL&P's act of constructing the wires "was a knife in the back of the PUC decision to bury the wires underground."

Jet Blast MIG21s Over North Viet Nam

BAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—American jet fighters blasted two MIG21s out of the skies over North Viet Nam with three minutes today after downing a slower MIG21.

All three MIGs were brought down by heat-seeking Sidewinder missiles.

As U.S. Air Force F-4 Phantom II fighters were blasting the MIG21s, U.S. B-52 bombers pounded an area just south of the 17th Parallel frontier where an estimated 5,000 infiltrating Communist troops were believed to be massing.

The Air Force said the first MIG kill today was scored at 2:10 p.m. in the Red River Valley about 22 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Three minutes later the second MIG was shot down 50 miles northwest of North Vietnam. Another is believed to be a probable kill. Three MIG21s have been reported shot down.

The Air Force made no mention of any U.S. losses in the latest encounter with the MIGs.

Quit Stock Exchange To Head Wesleyan

NEW YORK (AP)—After 14 years, Edwin D. Eberharting is returning to his first love—education.

The field of education has always been a central interest of Eberharting's, said the president of the American Stock Exchange.

"And I guess that interest has never really strayed too far," Eberharting, 41, admitted that to leave the stock exchange post to become president of his alma mater—Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn.—he would have to take a cut in pay from the $100,000 a year he now gets.

"Although universities don't usually make public the salaries of their officials," he said, "I would say you are correct to assume that it will be something below my present salary."

"I started as a teacher and assistant dean at the university," he noted. "And I had my sights set on an educational post at that time."

But he was quick to add that "my sights were set at a much lower level."

Eberharting asked the change board of directors Wednesday to accept his resignation, effective next February.

Negro Youths Rebel, Race War Goes On

CHICAGO (AP)—Mobs of Negro youths, throwing fire bombs and bricks, stampeded through two Chicago neighborhoods Wednesday night.

It was the second successive night of violence on Chicago's West Side.

Here is the night's scorecard: Twenty Negro youths were arrested and charged with arson, striking arrest or disorderly conduct.

Dozens more were seized by police but later released.

More than a dozen policemen were hit by bricks, rocks and bottles but none suffered serious injuries.

At least two neighborhood residents were hit by stray bullets and hospitalized.

Scores of other persons were treated for injuries or hospitalized with wounds ranging from cuts to possible skull fractures.

Police turned off the hydrant, which had been turned on illegally—although it is a summer tradition in Chicago to cool off with gushing fire hydrants.

Temperatures were in the 80s. Tuesday's disturbances had started the same way.

The onlooking Negroes shouted "police brutality!" and claimed that police hit children with swinging nightsticks. Soon rocks and bottles began to crash in the police ranks.

Many of the rock throwers were adults and some were only 10 or 11 years old.

Blue-helmeted police charged the ragged lines of rock throwers, firing warning shots into the air.

Nobody was wounded during the exchange of gunfire.

Earlier, two Negroes received gunshot wounds in separate incidents. Both victims told hospital officials they had been standing in their apartments when bullets whizzed through windows, wounding them.

When darkness fell, fire bombs again began to arc down.

FBI Bugged Hotel Room

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON—The Justice Department says FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, acting on general authority from the attorney general in 1963, directed agents to "bug" a Washington, D.C. room.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was attorney general at the time the agents savored the room of Fred B. Black Jr., a former associate of Bobby Baker. But the department declined to make clear whether Kennedy personally was involved.

Asked later for clarification, a department spokesman indicated that the FBI had acted under authority delegated by the attorney general. The spokesman said that Kennedy, who served as attorney general from Jan. 21, 1961 to Sept. 1, 1964, was not available for comment. An aide said that the senator "has nothing to say beyond what Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall said in his original memorandum filed in the Black case, which was that Atty. Gen. Kennedy had not been aware of the existence or use of these devices."

Kennedy's predecessor was Republican William F. Rogers, who served in the Eisenhower administration from Nov. 6, 1961 to January 1961.

Rogers was not available immediately for comment.

In his unprecedented memorandum May 24, Marshall indicated the FBI had overstepped its authority by bugging Black but for reasons unrelated to Black's then-pending appeal on an income tax conviction.

Black, a Washington public relations man, was convicted in 1964 on the tax charges and

She's First Medicare Patient

By BOB COLBY
Mrs. Annie Behrend of 41 Walnut St., an 83-year-old great-grandmother of two was accepted July 13 as the first Medicare patient of Manchester Homekeeper Service Inc.

Mrs. Behrend, now home after a two-week stay in Manchester Memorial Hospital, is being cared for eight hours a day by 74-year-old Mrs. Frank Sheldon.

Mrs. Sheldon, who has been with the Homekeeper Service since its start in the fall of 1964, is qualified as a home-maker-home help aid.

Under the Medicare program, Mrs. Behrend is entitled to 100 home visits within a year by a visiting nurse, therapist, social worker, Homekeeper, or any combination of these.

To be qualified for this Medicare aid, a patient must be 65 or older, must have spent three or more days in a hospital and be under a physician's care.

The physician decides whether the patient needs home-help aid after being discharged from the hospital. If so, he requests it from the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association in the certified agency.

This post-hospital care is included under a Medicare hospital insurance plan, financed by payroll taxes on employees, self-employed and employer.

Each town agency offering post-hospital care financed by Medicare must be certified by Medicare. In Manchester, the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association is the certified agency.

The Homekeepers have agreed a contract with the MEDICA to be an "auxiliary service" to the association and provide them with properly qualified and professionally trained home-help aid.

Mrs. Behrend, who has received 20 hours of patient care training, has been given an additional 3 1/2 hours of bedside care training to enable them to meet demands set up under the new law.

Cooperating with a physician or nurse, they perform such household tasks as marketing, cooking, cleaning, and taking care of children or elderly.

This service, the 20th of its kind in the state, was established under the sponsorship of various Manchester agencies.

It is not a welfare or charitable agency. Residents accepted by the service pay an hourly fee of $2, adjustable in hardship cases.

GOP Probing Suit Dropped On Beer Firm

By BOB COLBY

Wednesday, was a civil suit charging several paper producers with conspiring to hold down prices they paid for pulp wood, Katzenbach said. He added his authorized dismissal of the cases upon recommendation of Asst. Atty. Gen. Donald F. Turner, head of the antitrust division, and members of his staff.

"Reviews of the cases after all evidence had been accumulated indicated that further prosecution was not warranted," Katzenbach said in a statement.

Records filed with the House $2,000 contributions to the President's Club each from A.A. Busch Jr. and his wife, and $1,000 each from Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Busch III. In addition there were contributions of $1,000 each from the executive vice president, Richard A. Meyer and his wife, and Alfred Fleishman, who is in charge of the firm's public relations, and Fleishman's wife.

In St. Louis, Fleishman said "the whole thing is preposterous. Anybody who thinks it can buy the Justice Department for a political contribution is crazy."

He added that "the fact is August Busch is a 30-year friend of President Johnson's. He'd contribute to anything Lyndon Johnson was for."

Katzenbach said the case involving the paper producers was dismissed at Grand Rapids, Mich., after a court ruled that government evidence in a companion criminal case, based on the same facts, was insufficient.

Defendants in this case were listed as Scott Paper Co., Philadelphia; S.D. Warren Co., Boston; Alford Corp., Alpena, Mich.; Menasha Corp., Menasha, Wis.; American Excelsior Corp., Chicago, and Hammermill Paper Co., Erie, Pa.

"I have no idea whether execution of any of these companies contribute to the Democratic, Republican, or any other party," Katzenbach said.

Before the attorney general issued his statement, Robert H. Fleming, deputy White House press secretary, said in answer to questions that he had nothing to say except that "President Johnson says there are only rumors which he hasn't verified."

Both Socha and Miss Bardot returned "very soon" when she left with Quatier Socha for Las Vegas, where they were married today.

"I entirely approve of my daughter, and I hope to see her soon again with her husband," Mrs. Bardot said.

"We had to be married here because in Europe it's not possible without all the photographers. We came here to make it fast and good," he said.

The couple met at the French Riviera resort of St. Tropez, where the actress has a villa.

Miss Bardot has a 6-year-old son, Nicolas, by her marriage to actor Jacques Charrier in 1960. They were divorced in 1965 in Paris and Charrier got custody of the child.

She is a well-known member of the international set and spends much of his time in St. Moritz, the fashionable Swiss winter resort. He is a keen sportsman and was a European polo-playing champion a few years ago.

After a Mexico honeymoon, Socha said, without mentioning the location, "I have to get back to Europe and Brigitte starts a movie in Scotland."

The couple took out their license at the Clark County Courthouse moments before the ceremony at the home of William Outhard.

Three Warnings Flashing

There are three warning developments on the Communist side of the world, with regard to the Vietnam conflict, both of which are probably intended to seem ominous to us. Perhaps, indeed, they are intended to convey to us a warning that we cannot escalate forever unopposed by reaction and retaliation.

Along with these two developments from the Communist side of things, there is the speech delivered to the American Alumni Council meeting the other night—a speech labeled and described as one which offers eventual "friendship" to Communist China.

Perhaps the question is whether the two symbolic warnings from the Communist side of the world are in any sense timely, answered, or dealt with in a hopeful way, by the President's speech.

Hanoi is talking more and more about war crimes trials to the American armistice who have fallen into its hands as a result of American bombing operations over North Vietnam.

There haven't been spells of real summer weather like this since we were all children, and what we remember from our various childhoods in reality is deeply, it can be taken almost for granted, that all of us will head on through all these red lights.

The joys of real summer. The first thing wrong with a fine blast of real summer weather, such as we had no profanity contrast of estimate, prolonged sub-zero cold last winter to remember now in the days of our humidity.

The second thing is that we aren't used to anything like it, or prepared for it.

There aren't been spells of real summer weather like this since we were all children, and what we remember from our various childhoods in reality is deeply, it can be taken almost for granted, that all of us will head on through all these red lights.

As for sleep, dream not of it, but bid it adieu for the duration. It is, in such weather, a blessing never to be found by seeking it. But abandon hope thereof, and resign yourself to cruelties of elemental wakefulness and you soon discover it is too hot to think the thoughts that can keep you awake, and something that in lower reaches of the thermometer would be called sleep will engulf you after all.

Above all, talk about it. Weather is one of the few things in this existence everybody is really interested in, and one of the very few things on which all kinds of people can agree. It is, therefore, in any degree which renders it a subject for conversation, and the biasings offered to our terrestrial sojourn. Behind the heat, behind the cold, there are always human beings, surprisingly nice, just like us.

A Productive Idea. As he opened his campaign, GOP gubernatorial candidate Clayton Geogras advanced the concept of having the state establish a Municipal Affairs Department to help towns and cities secure federal grants.

Geogras said one of his first acts would be to assign a full-time state representative to each town and city and mayors and first selectmen could find out where and when federal grants are available to them.

In suggesting this new role for state government, Geogras has not only proposed a productive idea, but he has also continued to project a program of progressive Republicanism. In addition to the help that cities and towns would receive from this department, mayors and selectmen would also be better able to estimate the amount of their communities receiving aid because the state office would know how much financial aid was available.

This was given, by the President, as the first essential for a peaceful Asia. To Asian readers, it takes us into Asia to stay, as a permanent superior and regulator of conditions there. Furthermore, it takes us into Asia not as a member of the United Nations, not as a dog-good idealistic power, but to use the President's own firmly selected words, "as a Pacific power."

"As a Pacific power we must help achieve that outcome." This again, provided the naked power-politics base for a Presidential promise that we would do our utmost to help build a "truly world civilization in the Pacific."

"For lasting peace can never come to Asia as long as the 700 million people of mainland China are isolated by their rulers from the outside world."

This sentence is the President's preface to a string of claims of how we have, he says, tried to open new and cultural doors with China. The President cites some relatively recent propositions of this sort from us, but, naturally enough, finds no reason to discuss the military and diplomatic "contaminations" China has visited upon the United States has worked so hard to set up and enforce ever since the Communists came to power there.

Hanoi, with its threat to put our armistice on trial, and Moscow, with its cancellation of the coexistence symbol of a sports program, are both waving signals of points of no return to us. And it is difficult to see how the Communist world, reading the way the President plants the American presence in Asia, can see anything other than a third portent of a point of no return in the President's speech.

Along with these two developments from the Communist side of things, there is the speech delivered to the American Alumni Council meeting the other night—a speech labeled and described as one which offers eventual "friendship" to Communist China.

In short, Geogras has come up with a campaign pledge that could clearly benefit the state. — MIDDLETOWN PRESS

Connecticut Yankee

By A.H.O.

We do not diminish the quality of the performance given by the Connecticut Yankee in the two recent state conventions was also the distinction between the two conventions as a whole.

One convention represented the development of a fresh kind of Republican challenge in Connecticut—a new brand of party leadership approaching its own showdown campaign with a new kind of candidate holding the banner out in front.

The other convention represented the development of a fresh kind of Republican challenge in Connecticut—a new brand of party leadership approaching its own showdown campaign with a new kind of candidate holding the banner out in front.

The legislation follows President Johnson's proposal for cleaning up the nation's rivers by a massive approach. Under the federal government could meet up to 50 per cent of the costs of sewage disposal and treatment costs, with states supplying 30 per cent and local communities and industries the rest.

Moore, who spent 2½ years in Viet Nam and now is in Washington to brief top officials, said the bombing strikes against oil storage depots near Hanoi and Haiphong have been the most dramatic recent developments in the air war.

Urge Sea Probe. WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has urged the world's maritime nations to unite in a cooperative effort to probe the secrets of the deep sea—our last frontier here on earth.

He placed specific emphasis in requesting the Soviet Union to join in the endeavor. "Under no circumstances must we allow the prospects of rich harvest and mineral wealth to go unexplored by the nations of the world," he said.

"We must have a race to grab and to hold the lands under the sea," Johnson said. "The deep sea and the ocean bottoms, are, and remain, the legacy of all human beings."

Johnson announced that one of the vessel's first long voyages would be a six-month global expedition in which scientists from several maritime nations would be invited to participate.

HELCO Cuts Rates Aug. 1

Residential customers of the Hartford Electric Light Co. who use electrical power or water heating will save an average of $2.07 each year starting Aug. 1.

The saving is part of an annual $2 million rate reduction which will save 7,400 industrial and commercial customers more than $1.7 million and its $1,000 residential customers $1,072,000.

A HELCO spokesman said increased electrical use by their customers is the most important factor in reducing the rate.

Residential customers benefited from two rate reductions totaling $3.5 million in 1964.

Two teen-age girls were injured yesterday afternoon when their car ran off Lane St. and crashed into a utility pole.

Both girls were reported in satisfactory condition today at the Manchester Memorial Hospital. Police said the girls were traveling east on Lane St. when the driver of the car, Winfred R. Pettig, 18, of 94 Lenox St., suffered knee-cuts.

Susan Marston, 17, of 215 Oak St. received multiple cuts. The girls who were given first aid at the scene by Patrolman Curtis Gaskell and Robert Love, were brought to the hospital by ambulance.

The impact snapped the pole at its base. The car's front end was heavily damaged and the passenger's side of the windshield was cracked. The vehicle was towed away by a tow truck.

BY DOBIS BILDING

Mrs. Robert Visney of South River Rd., Coventry, likes to cook and collect recipes. Three of her favorite dishes for this season are Italian Style Eggplant, Lima Salad and Seasoned Cotelet.

Italian Style Eggplant

1 medium eggplant
1 egg beaten
seasoned bread crumbs shortening or oil for frying spaghetti sauce

Slice eggplant thin. Dip each slice in beaten egg, then shake or roll in seasoned bread crumbs. Deep fry until golden brown. Do not drain but place fried slices immediately in casserole dish. Pour spaghetti sauce over browned eggplant. Bake in 350-degree oven 15 to 20 minutes.

Lima Salad

1/2 cups hot water
3-ounce package lima gelatin
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 package cream cheese
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 cup chopped celery

Mix water and gelatin together and stir until gelatin dissolves. While hot, add other ingredients. Mix and place in mold or dish. Chill until firm. If ring mold is used, center salad may be filled with cottage cheese and fruit.

Seasoned Cotelet

1 cabbage, medium
2 carrots, medium large mayonnaise

Shred cabbage and grate carrots and mix. Season with celery salt, garlic salt, onion salt and add salad herbs if desired. Mix lightly with enough mayonnaise to moisten. Chill thoroughly. Mrs. Visney says that when living in France for more than a year, while her husband was in the service, vegetables were sometimes scarce but cabbage and carrots were always available and she made this cotelet often. Because it is so simple, she added, it is a good addition to summer menus.

A graduate of Pines School of Dental Hygiene, Bridgeport, Mrs. Visney works part-time for Dr. Morris Fancher of Manchester, and part-time as a substitute teacher in the Coventry Grammar School. Her husband is a teacher in Washington School, Manchester. The couple are members of Second Congregational Church, Coventry. They have two children, Steve and Marlene.

Vernon Elderly Housing Proposed In Rockville Renewal Area

Plans for a possible new elderly housing project to be located within the Rockville development area were disclosed at a meeting last night of the Vernon Housing Authority (VHA).

In a letter to the agency, Francis Pitkat, executive director of the Vernon Housing Authority, says his agency is interested in obtaining a site in the renewal area.

"The local housing authority has to have the approval for both the site and the price of land before final acquisition," Pitkat says.

"We would like to start negotiations as soon as possible," Pitkat added.

VHA members agreed to meet with Pitkat and members of the housing authority to discuss the matter further.

If approved, the project would be the third elderly housing project in town. The first is located on Franklin St. and a second is planned for Grove St. on land already acquired from the town.

The newly proposed project would be financed with federal funds. Work is scheduled to begin today on the site improvements for the 16-acre redevelopment tract in downtown Rockville, Thomas C. DeLuca, Co. of Willimantic was low bidder for the work, at $425,311. Contracts were signed with DeLuca last night, who said he will begin work today. Under the terms of the contract, he has a total of 240 days for the work.

The site improvements will be done in two stages: The first stage will require about 150 days, and the second stage, including filling, grading and drainage system construction, will take about 90 days, with cost about $14,000, and is for road and sidewalk construction.

Lester Baum, VHA chairman, notes that the filling of the land is "a minor consideration in the project," designed to turn the area into more saleable propositions as soon as possible.

Everett Crosby, Bing's Brother, Dead at 70

SHARON, Conn. (AP) Everett Crosby, who managed the singing career of his brother Bing for many years, died Wednesday night at Sharon Hospital. He was 70.

He had been confined to a wheelchair since both legs were amputated in 1964 because of a circulatory ailment. Last year he was treated for cancer of the throat and it was hoped he had recovered.

Everett Crosby moved to this rural town in northwestern Connecticut four years ago and had been raising prize Morgan and Arabian horses.

Everett, the second of seven children of Harry L. and Catharine Crosby, served as an artillery sergeant in World War I after studying at Gonzaga University in Spokane, Wash.

He began managing his brother's career in 1928 when Bing came to Los Angeles looking for work as a singer.

"I figured I could sing better than he could," Everett said. "But I said, 'Listen, if you're going to live with me, you're going to work.'"

Everett looked Bing into the Funches & Marco stage shows, the Coconut Grove, and got his brother a job with Paul White man's band. He also arranged for Bing's first film appearance in "The Big Broadcast of 1932." Everett also claimed as his discoverer such stars as Robert Preston, Rod Cameron, Mary Healy and Kith Andes.

Mrs. Visney is a member of the Choraleas, a group of women who sing for their own pleasure and make occasional public appearances; Wunnee Chapter of the Quilters, and a past president of the group; Regional Church, Coventry. They are members of the Pines School of Dental Hygiene, Bridgeport, Mrs. Visney works part-time for Dr. Morris Fancher of Manchester, and part-time as a substitute teacher in the Coventry Grammar School. Her husband is a teacher in Washington School, Manchester. The couple are members of Second Congregational Church, Coventry. They have two children, Steve and Marlene.

Mayor Hits GOP's Vote On Generator

Mayor Francis J. Mahoney said today that he is "completely annoyed" with a Tuesday night action of the Republican minority on the board of directors, in blocking the acceptance of a federal grant for local Civil Defense activities, and accused it of irresponsibility.

The $3,650 grant would pay half the cost of a new generator for the Municipal Building, plus half the cost of reoviding CD quarters in the basement of the same building. Except for $500, the town's share for the two items is already provided in the current budget.

The motion to accept the $3,650 and to appropriate the $500 lost by a 3 to 3 tie vote, with Democrats voting "yes" and Republicans "no." Although the Democrats have the five votes needed for passage of motions, two of its directors are on vacation, and were not on hand Tuesday night.

The Democrats will move the question again on July 26, at a special meeting.

Mahoney said that the generator is sorely needed in the Municipal Building, since it has no emergency power, and because it is the operational center for all town activities. He said that last November's blackout, "which clearly indicated the need, not only for emergency generators, but also for better communications, apparently left no impression on the three Republican minority members."

He charged, "The good reasoning by three certainly responsible men has been lost in their efforts to cause embarrassment to the Democratic majority. In this specific case, their actions were irresponsible and certainly not in the best interests of the town."

"It is the board of directors' responsibility," Mahoney said, "to tackle the spatch of the public toward Civil Defense, and to take steps for safeguarding the health and safety of the people of Manchester."

"I intend to carry out this responsibility as long as I am a member of the board of directors," Mahoney pledged.

"I hope," he said, "that after more careful consideration on their part, the three Republican directors will change their votes to 'yes' when the matter is considered again by the full board of directors."

you'll get a lot of credit

This card carries a lot of weight. It opens the door and lets you say, "charge it" in hundreds of stores and service establishments all over Connecticut.

You can buy just about anything you could ever wish for... clothing, furniture, appliances, sporting goods, drugs and a host of services.

You make this one credit application. Use one card. Get one bill. Pay with one check.

Payment terms are flexible. You can stretch payments out for a small service fee. Or send the full amount within 30 days and pay nothing to be a member of the Connecticut Charge Plan.

Show you're someone to be reckoned with. Apply now.
