At Kennedy Airport only one man, seeing them pass by, turned to his wife and said, "There's Luci Johnson."

Preceded by two Secret Service men, Pat and Luci were the last passengers to board the plane at Kennedy and the first to leave the Pan American flight when it touched down here. A waiting white limousine whisked them away to "Capricorn," the $250,000 home of Rebekah Harkness-Kean, socially prominent philanthropist.

On the 21/2 hour flight, the Nugents sat in the first-class section next to newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Larry Buczkowski of Pittsburgh. The Buczkowskis later said they did not recognize the Nugents. The five other couples rode in the economy section.

Luci wore a blue skirt, white blouse, and black ballerina slippers. Her husband of one day was attired in a light gray business suit.

They each had steak dinners on the plane. The 19-year-old bride, under drinking age, had a soft drink while Nugent, 23, ordered vodka, a stewardess said. After the couple were driven Ghettoes, White And Black City by city, neighborhood by neighborhood, the purely negative side of this country's struggle with its problem of races seems to have been makog terrible advances this summer. More and more frequently the movement and the action in the streets is motivated by the color of skin rather than by any specific consideration of who the individuals or groups may be or of what they may be doing.

The whites make forays into Negro Beware Chips And Bits sections, symbolizing their intention of beeping the racial ghetto as a permasent American institution. The Negroes come out of their own thettto and make symbolic march into the territory where the whites live in

If all or any of this says anything to any of us anywhere, it surely must be a message not to let the violence of negativism take full control of the national scene and the national problem. It has to be a message to be sure and get something positive going, in as many places and as many ways as we possibly can, so that this nation may conceivably develop some traction forward to balance the backward pull of these violences. We are, all of us in more ways than we are likely to realize in the fast pace of our living, engaged in a struggle to preserve our civilization. Every time we think a black thought, or a white thought, we make a black move, or a white move, or associate ourselves with a black judgment, or white judgment, or catch ourselves drawing any kind of a black line, or a white line, mentally or otherwise, we are contributing our own special gift of hopelessness to the general situation. We can't make ourselves or the instincts within us which prompt us into such attitudes-over in a day or even, perhaps, in a generation, although some miracles of change of mind and view are occurring, every day. We can't make ourselves over, but we can at least begin to watch ourselves, and perhaps learn to see ourselves in our relationship to our time and the prospects of our civilization. If we know how much It matters, we may be able to break ourselves and help each other out of both kind of ghettoes, the white and

They now allege, the Russians, that thousands" of West German military men are in South Vietnam under the terms of a "secret deal" between Bonn

This would, of course, be our neighsorly way of seeing that the German silitary establishment, which has now scome our ally, and which we now nok to for front line stance against the Russians, can get a real, practicali, dinical experience in modern war and he use of modern weapons. Whether we, the United States, are doing this with any elite selections from the West German army of the future, is soubtful. But it is not impossible. As a matter of fact, we have, ever since World War II, been doing essentially the same thing with German military science, finding it very useful to give German rocket and space experts the chance to use our laboratories and industries and help us in our conquest of space problems. And, although many of these German experfs have become American citizens, it doesn't take much imagination to see them back home some day, when that is permitted, leadng Germany into space.

How do the Russians get to be, as we said they are, special experts in such Well, for one thing, they got some of the German rocket scientists we didn't get, right after World War II. And for another thing, farther back in history, it was Communist Russia which, in the days after World War I when the Germans had once before beer placed under injunction not to rearm themselves beyond certain points, provided for selected German officers professional hospitality and experimental training grounds inside Russia. The Russians didn't happen to have a live war going for the benefit of their professional guests, such as we have in Vietnam. According to the Russians, we are giving German pilots regular combat training there. It could be so. These things have happened before. And our Defense Department at Washington has not seemed particularly willing to discuss the Russian propaganda charges. In any case, it does no harm to point out what happened to all the people who helped German militarism keep itself alive and proficient and expert after World War I. They all, Russia, and Britain, and France, each of whom played some part of the game in the hope of using Germany against each other, paid in blood and cities.

We are glad to read, in the Wall Street Journal, that notorious "payola" is making a comeback, because this at least provides a rational explanation of how and why some of the records we hear ever get played at all. Since payola is now illegal, the tech-

Moreover, the offense is so common and there are so many repeaters whom no amount of punishment can cure, that the police and the courts tend to regard intoxication cases as just a great But for the prosecutor to say that he will no longer prosecute cases of public intoxication is going too far. As ong as the law remains on the statute books, it has to be enforced, especially by an officer of the court who has taken an oath to enforce the laws. The chief prosecutor of the Circuit Court made this clear to Mr. Mancini, and sent a memorandum to prosecutors throughout the state pointing out that Section 53-246 of the Connecticut statutes defines being found intoxicated as an offense punishable by a fine or jail

"Until the legislature, the courts of Mr. Mancini, doubtless, would agre long as the law remains on the books, it must be prosecuted, as Mr.

Ended ... with an Electric Air Dryer Dehumidifier

Do you have to throw away shoes or clothes because of mildew damage, caused by summer "it's the humidity" that causes so much discomfort . . . and its responsible for mildew and dampness, so damaging to shoes, clothes, tools and books. A portable electric Air Dryer Dehumidifier dries out destructive moisture from your basement and other damp places. It guips up gallons of water each day, keeps the basement or store room moisture-free all summer long. An electric Air Dryer will plug in anywhere. See the many low cost models at your ap-

Here is how scientists hope the Lunar Orbiter spacecraft will help pick a land-

New Effort Being Made To End Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) -Negotiators for striking mechanics and five trunk airlines agreed today to make another effort at solving the dispute that has grounded about 50 per cent of the nation's airline capacity.

The parties, who met into Monday night without narrowing the gap between their post tions, vielded to urgent personal requests from the House Com merce Committee, which is considering a back-to-work bill already passed by the Senate. Rep. Samuel N. Friedel, D Md., presiding over today's hearing, asked first the presi-dent of the International Association of Machinists, P. L. Siemiller, and then the chief negotiator for the airlines, William J. Curtin, whether the were willing to meet this afternoon. Both said they were. Friedel then had them set he continued with the committee session. The meeting was set for 2:30 p.m. at the Labor Department However, nothing happened at today's committee hearing that gave any indication the negotia tors would do any better at reaching common ground than
